How to Use the ESV Global Study Bible, ePub Edition

Thank you for purchasing the ESV Global Study Bible, ePub Edition. This edition is designed to provide all of the contents of the print edition of the ESV Global Study Bible, in an ePub format.

This Foreword highlights the differences between the print edition and the ePub edition. For more information about the contents of the ESV Global Study Bible, please read the article Introduction: A User’s Guide to the Global Study Bible.

Accessing Study Notes, Cross-References, and Footnotes

All study notes, cross-references, and footnotes in the ESV Global Study Bible, ePub Edition, are represented as links. The dagger icon ([†]) links to a study note or notes for that verse or group of verses. The caret symbol ([^]) links to a “History of Salvation” note or notes for that verse or group of verses. Cross-references are represented as superscript letters (a). Footnotes are represented as a number within brackets ([1]).

iBooks version 4 or later (included with iOS 8)
Tapping on a cross-reference will display a pop-up window of the cross-reference text. Tapping on a verse reference within the pop-up window will close the window and display the page of the ebook corresponding to the chosen verse. To close the cross-reference window, tap on “[x] close” at the bottom of the pop-up window or wait 20 seconds and the window will close automatically. Tapping on a footnote will display a pop-up window with the text of the footnote. To close the footnote window, tap on “[x] close” at the bottom of the pop-up window or wait 20 seconds and the window will close automatically.

Tapping on a cross-reference will display a pop-up window of the cross-reference text. Tapping on a verse reference within the pop-up window will close the window and display the page of the ebook corresponding to the chosen verse. To close the cross-reference window, tap anywhere on the page outside of the pop-up window or wait 20 seconds and the window will close automatically. Tapping on a footnote will display a pop-up window with the text of the footnote. To close the footnote window, tap anywhere on the page outside of the pop-up window or wait 20 seconds and the window will close automatically.

Footnote and cross-reference functions may be slow while iBooks is indexing the Bible. Indexing occurs when you first open the Bible or when you change fonts or font sizes.

iBooks on the Mac
Clicking on a cross-reference or footnote will open a page which will include the desired cross-reference or footnote text. To return to the Bible text, you may click on the chapter-verse combination at the beginning of the cross-reference or footnote text or you can use the "back-to-page" function of iBooks.

Images

You can zoom large images to full-screen size by double-tapping them. Some larger illustrations have several insets included with them, making it easier to read the text within the image and allowing for more detail. The insets follow the main image and are vertically separated from it with two bullets ("• •").

Navigation

iBooks version 4 or later (included with iOS 8)
Tapping on the name of the book at the beginning of any chapter will bring up a navigation pop-up window allowing you to quickly jump to a different chapter within the book (fig. 1). You may also jump to a chapter within a different book by tapping on "ESV" to choose from any book of the Bible, or tap on "The Old Testament" or "The New Testament" to choose from any book within the Testament you chose. If you decide you don't wish to navigate to a different chapter, tapping on “[x] close” at the bottom of the navigation pop-up window will close it.

iBooks for Mac
At this time, iBooks for the Mac is not compatible with the pop-up window navigation described above. To choose a different chapter in the current book, click on the name of book at the beginning of the chapter and a page will be displayed with the list of chapters for that book. Clicking on a footnote or cross-reference will display the page with the desired footnote or cross-reference text.

Preferences

You may choose to show the words of Christ in Red by tapping on the word “Red” on the Preferences page. Tapping on the word “Black” will revert the words of Christ back to black.

You may choose to turn off the display of cross-references, footnotes, or verse numbers. Tap on [Yes] next to any item you would like displayed. Tap on [No] next to any item you would like to have hidden.

You may turn pop-up window navigation off by selecting “No” next to that line. When pop-up navigation is off the device or app will use the navigation for iBooks for the Mac as described above.

Any changes will be shown immediately on the sample paragraph below the settings.

Foreword

Global Purpose

The ESV Global Study Bible was created to help people know and understand the Bible—that is, to help people everywhere around the globe encounter the timeless truth of the Bible and experience its life-changing meaning.

Global Audience

The Global Study Bible was created for every English-speaking person in the world who wants to know more about the Bible. In the coming years, Crossway also plans to provide the Global Study Bible in many more languages. But until these editions become available, the Global Study Bible seeks to serve the following two primary groups of English-speaking Christians.

First, "Global Christians" throughout North America and the Western world—people who have a passion to live out the teaching of the Bible and the gospel in their own communities and around the globe.

Second, "Global Christians" in every corner of the world where English is read or spoken either as a first or a second language—especially in places where few Bible study resources are available. To reach this global audience at the lowest possible cost, the Global Study Bible is being produced in Asia and other parts of the world—wherever the lowest manufacturing costs can be obtained.

The Global Study Bible is also being provided free online to everyone who purchases a print edition, and free online to a million people worldwide—wherever the demand and need for Bible study resources is greatest.

Global Content and Features

The ESV Global Study Bible uses the highly regarded English Standard Version Bible as its starting point. Building on the 768,000 words of the ESV Bible text, the Global Study Bible provides notes, articles, and other study material comprising an additional 759,000 words of explanation and teaching. The result is a comprehensive resource equivalent in scope to a 12-volume Bible study library, all in one volume.

The Global Study Bible features include 12,000 study notes, 900 highlighted Bible facts, 80,000 cross-references, 120 Bible character profiles, 120 duotone maps, charts, and illustrations, an extensive concordance, and a glossary of key terms. In addition to this, each book of the Bible includes a "Global Message" introduction, indicating the global significance of each book for the story line of the Bible and the message of the gospel, culminating in Jesus Christ, the Savior of the world.

The result is an exceptional resource, with more than 1950 pages of highly accessible Bible text and study resources—to enable people everywhere to encounter the Bible and discover for themselves its relevance for time and eternity.

Global Team of Contributors

To accomplish this purpose, the ESV Global Study Bible was seven years in the making. The editorial team included more than 120 outstanding Bible scholars, teachers, and pastors. The team of contributors came from more than a dozen countries, more than 20 denominations, and more than 50 colleges, universities, and seminaries around the globe.

Given the international vision of this Study Bible, supplemental articles by key Christian scholars and leaders from around the world have been included, with Dr. Ajith Fernando of Sri Lanka serving as the Global Editor. See below for a list of those contributors.

Free Global Access

The ESV Global Study Bible is available free online to at least one million people worldwide. First, everyone who purchases a print edition will receive free online access to the Online Global Study Bible. But in addition to this, Crossway will also make a second copy available free online to another global Christian, wherever the demand and need is greatest, anywhere in the world.

Every free Online Global Study Bible is integrated with the ESVBible.org website and is available anywhere that there is an Internet connection—online, on tablets, and on mobile devices everywhere. The ESVBible.org platform also gives users access to the full ESV Bible text, along with the ability to personally manage notes, highlight and share text, and obtain additional Bible resource modules.

Global Vision

The goal of the ESV Global Study Bible is, above all, to honor the Lord—in terms of its excellence, beauty, and value; in terms of helping people everywhere to understand and know the Bible, the gospel, and Jesus Christ; and in terms of addressing the life-and-death issues facing churches and people everywhere. Our urgent prayer, as the publisher of the Global Study Bible, is that many millions would come to know and love the gracious, merciful God of the Bible, through Jesus Christ his only Son, the Creator of all things and the Savior of the world.

To God alone be the glory,

Introduction: A User's Guide to the Global Study Bible

Purpose

The ESV Global Study Bible is based on the highly acclaimed original ESV Study Bible, first published in 2008. Study notes have been condensed and new supplementary features have been added to provide a concise but nonetheless extensive resource for people everywhere in the world, who want to know and understand the Bible.

The ESV Global Study Bible was created to help people understand the Bible in a deeper way—that is, to encounter the timeless truth of God's Word as a powerful, compelling, life-changing reality. It combines the best and most recent evangelical scholarship with the ESV Bible text, which, as an "essentially literal" translation, is especially suited for Bible study.

The purpose of the ESV Global Study Bible is first and foremost to honor the Lord: (1) in terms of the excellence, beauty, and accuracy of its content and design, and (2) in terms of helping people come to a fuller understanding of the Bible, of the gospel, and of Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior. (For a complete list of contributors to the ESV Global Study Bible, see Contributors to The ESV Global Study Bible.)

Divine Words and Merely Human Words

The ESV Global Study Bible contains two kinds of words. First, there are the actual words of the Bible—the very words of God to us. These are printed in the larger font at the top of each page. Second, there are the study notes—merely human words. These are printed in the smaller font at the bottom of each page. The difference in font sizes serves to remind readers that the words of the Bible itself are infinitely more valuable than the words of the notes. The words of the Bible are the words of our Creator speaking to us. They are completely truthful (Ps. 119:160; Prov. 30:5; Titus 1:2; Heb. 6:18); they are pure (Ps. 12:6); they are powerful (Jer. 23:29; Heb. 4:12; 1 Pet. 1:23); and they are wise and righteous (Ps. 19:7–11). God's people should read these words with reverence and awe (Deut. 28:58; Ps. 119:74; Isa. 66:2), and with joy and delight (Ps. 19:7–11; 119:14, 97, 103; Jer. 15:16). Through these words God gives us eternal life (John 6:68; 1 Pet. 1:23) and daily nourishes our spiritual lives in this present world (Deut. 32:46; Matt. 4:4). The words of the study notes are useful because they help to explain the words of the Bible, but they must never become a substitute for the Bible itself.

The best way to use a study Bible, therefore, is always to begin and end with the words of the Bible. We should always begin by reading the Bible's actual words, seeking with our hearts and our minds to understand these words and apply them to our lives. Then, after starting with the words of the Bible itself, we can turn to the study notes and many other Bible study resources for information about the background to the text, for the meaning of puzzling words or phrases, and for connections to other parts of the Bible. These notes and resources have been prepared by godly teachers of the Bible and can be of great value as an aid to understanding the truth of God's Word to us as revealed in the words of Scripture. Finally, we should return again to the Bible itself, reading it with a new and deeper understanding, asking God to speak through his Word to our lives and to draw us near to himself.

The Understanding and Teaching of God's Word

The ESV Global Study Bible carries forward a centuries-old tradition of "explaining," "expounding," or "teaching" the Word of God. This process of teaching God's Word is found even within the Bible itself. For example, when Moses spoke the words of Deuteronomy to the people of Israel, he told them, "You shall teach them diligently to your children, and shall talk of them when you sit in your house, and when you walk by the way, and when you lie down, and when you rise" (Deut. 6:7). Similarly, when Ezra and the Levites read the Book of the Law to the exiles who had returned from Babylon, they "helped the people to understand . . . and they gave the sense, so that the people understood . . ." (Neh. 8:7–8). In the early church, Philip was sent to the Ethiopian eunuch to help him understand what he was reading from Isaiah (Acts 8:26–40). And the apostle Paul, in city after city, spent his time "teaching the word of God" (Acts 18:11; compare 15:35; 20:20, 27). Likewise, throughout the history of the church, God has raised up people to teach the Word (see 1 Cor. 12:28; Eph. 4:11).

The ESV Global Study Bible stands within this tradition and was created specifically to provide explanation and teaching—to help people come to a better understanding of God's Word and the gospel, and to provide a resource for the edification and strengthening of God's people.

Doctrinal Perspective

The doctrinal perspective of the ESV Global Study Bible is that of classic evangelical orthodoxy, in the historic stream of the Reformation. The notes are written from the perspective of confidence in the complete truthfulness of the Bible. In passages where errors or contradictions have been alleged, possible solutions to these challenges have been proposed. At times the notes also summarize interpretations that are inconsistent with classic evangelical orthodoxy, indicating how and why such views are in conflict with Scripture. Within that broad tradition of evangelical orthodoxy, the notes have sought to represent fairly the various evangelical positions on disputed topics such as baptism, the Lord's Supper, spiritual gifts, the future of ethnic Israel, and questions concerning the millennium and other events connected with the time of Christ's return.

Special Features of the ESV Global Study Bible

As mentioned, the ESV Global Study Bible is built upon study notes carefully condensed from the 2008 original ESV Study Bible. More specifically, the notes have been reduced to about half their original length to highlight the core insights in each text and to provide a concise survey of the Bible. Other features of this new Global Study Bible include:

An essential theological "Overview of the Bible," supplemented by more specific theological introductions to the Old and New Testaments.

Timelines of the Old and New Testaments as well as "snapshot" timelines for each Bible book.

Brief introductions and basic outlines for each Bible book, along with a "Global Message" applying the teachings of that book to the church around the world today.

Nine hundred "FACT" boxes offering helpful insights into Bible truths and interesting observations about life in ancient times.

Profiles of key people in the story of the Bible.

Charts and diagrams giving visual summaries of important concepts.

Carefully researched illustrations, created specifically for the original ESV Study Bible, showing important biblical structures, cities, and objects in precise, accurate detail.

More than 100 maps highlighting key events and placing each Bible book in its geographical and historical setting.

Articles on topics such as the plan of salvation, the nature of the church, and the key issues of biblical doctrine and ethical teachings, written for readers of all ages.

A glossary of more than 300 important words and phrases.

Finally, a special supplement of 15 full-color maps. All maps were created with the latest satellite imagery, digital technology, and cartographic techniques.

Cross-Reference System and Concordance

The ESV Global Study Bible includes 80,000 cross-references and an extensive concordance, which together encourage easy location of important words, passages, and biblical themes. There are several kinds of cross-references. References to specific words or phrases appear as, e.g., “ver. 7” (within the same chapter), “ch. 9:6” (within the same book), or “Heb. 4:2.” Brackets (e.g., “[ch. 9:6]”) denote passages with a similar theme. “See” denotes less direct references (e.g., “See Jn. 8:26”). “Cited” denotes passages quoted in or from other parts of Scripture. “(Heb.)” or “(Gk.)” indicates that the similarity of a cross-referenced passage is clearer in the original Hebrew or Greek than in English.

The ESV Online Study Bible

The ESV Global Study Bible is being published simultaneously in print form and online. The online edition is available free to all who purchase a copy of the print edition. The online edition includes additional features, such as the ability (1) to create personal online notes; (2) to search and follow interactive links between notes, maps, articles, charts, timelines, illustrations, and cross-references; (3) to listen to audio recordings of the ESV; (4) as well as additional resources not included in the print edition. (For information on accessing the online edition, go to www.ESVBible.org.)

The ESV Bible and the ESV Global Study Bible

Lastly, as noted above, the ESV Global Study Bible uses the "essentially literal" ESV (English Standard Version) Bible translation as the foundational text for creating the study Bible notes and other features. Emphasizing word-for-word accuracy, literary excellence, and depth of meaning, the ESV Bible is especially suited to be the basic text for a study Bible. First published in 2001, the ESV Bible translation work involved more than 100 Bible scholars and advisors, including: (1) the 14-member Translation Oversight Committee; (2) more than 50 leading Bible Scholars; and (3) a 50-plus-member Advisory Council—all of whom are committed to historic Christian orthodoxy. Many of the ESV translation team also participated in the creation of the original ESV Study Bible on which this Global Study Bible is based. The ESV Bible is available worldwide in more than 150 editions and bindings. (For more information, go to www.ESVBible.org.)

Goal and Vision

As stated above, the goal and vision of the ESV Global Study Bible is to honor the Lord and his Word in terms of the excellence, beauty, and accuracy of its content and design, and in terms of helping people come to a deeper understanding of the Bible, of the gospel, and of Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior. Because Crossway is a not-for-profit publishing ministry, all receipts from the ESV Global Study Bible are used to further the support of this goal and vision.

We are very aware, however, that anything we do will always be less than perfect and subject to error. Yet we know that God still uses imperfect and inadequate things to his honor and praise. And so to our triune God (Father, Son, and Holy Spirit), and to his people, we offer our work of creating and publishing the ESV Global Study Bible—with the prayer that our Lord would guard and protect from any error or deficiency that may unintentionally be in these pages; and with the prayer that by God's grace the ESV Global Study Bible may prove useful in bringing many to Christ and for the building up of his church worldwide, for this generation, for generations to come, and for eternity.

Preface

To the English Standard Version

The Bible

“This Book [is] the most valuable thing that this world affords. Here is Wisdom; this is the royal Law; these are the lively Oracles of God.” With these words the Moderator of the Church of Scotland hands a Bible to the new monarch in Britain’s coronation service. These words echo the King James Bible translators, who wrote in 1611: “God’s sacred Word . . . is that inestimable treasure that excelleth all the riches of the earth.” This assessment of the Bible is the motivating force behind the publication of the English Standard Version.

Translation Legacy

The English Standard Version (ESV) stands in the classic mainstream of English Bible translations over the past half-millennium. The fountainhead of that stream was William Tyndale’s New Testament of 1526; marking its course were the King James Version of 1611 (KJV), the English Revised Version of 1885 (RV), the American Standard Version of 1901 (ASV), and the Revised Standard Version of 1952 and 1971 (RSV). In that stream, faithfulness to the text and vigorous pursuit of accuracy were combined with simplicity, beauty, and dignity of expression. Our goal has been to carry forward this legacy for a new century.

To this end each word and phrase in the ESV has been carefully weighed against the original Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek, to ensure the fullest accuracy and clarity and to avoid under-translating or overlooking any nuance of the original text. The words and phrases themselves grow out of the Tyndale–King James legacy, and most recently out of the RSV, with the 1971 RSV text providing the starting point for our work. Archaic language has been brought to current usage and significant corrections have been made in the translation of key texts. But throughout, our goal has been to retain the depth of meaning and enduring language that have made their indelible mark on the English-speaking world and have defined the life and doctrine of the church over the last four centuries.

Translation Philosophy

The ESV is an “essentially literal” translation that seeks as far as possible to capture the precise wording of the original text and the personal style of each Bible writer. As such, its emphasis is on “word-for-word” correspondence, at the same time taking into account differences of grammar, syntax, and idiom between current literary English and the original languages. Thus it seeks to be transparent to the original text, letting the reader see as directly as possible the structure and meaning of the original.

In contrast to the ESV, some Bible versions have followed a “thought-for-thought” rather than “word-for-word” translation philosophy, emphasizing “dynamic equivalence” rather than the “essentially literal” meaning of the original. A “thought-for-thought” translation is of necessity more inclined to reflect the interpretive opinions of the translator and the influences of contemporary culture.

Every translation is at many points a trade-off between literal precision and readability, between “formal equivalence” in expression and “functional equivalence” in communication, and the ESV is no exception. Within this framework we have sought to be “as literal as possible” while maintaining clarity of expression and literary excellence. Therefore, to the extent that plain English permits and the meaning in each case allows, we have sought to use the same English word for important recurring words in the original; and, as far as grammar and syntax allow, we have rendered Old Testament passages cited in the New in ways that show their correspondence. Thus in each of these areas, as well as throughout the Bible as a whole, we have sought to capture the echoes and overtones of meaning that are so abundantly present in the original texts.

As an essentially literal translation, then, the ESV seeks to carry over every possible nuance of meaning in the original words of Scripture into our own language. As such, the ESV is ideally suited for in-depth study of the Bible. Indeed, with its emphasis on literary excellence, the ESV is equally suited for public reading and preaching, for private reading and reflection, for both academic and devotional study, and for Scripture memorization.

Translation Principles and Style

The ESV also carries forward classic translation principles in its literary style. Accordingly it retains theological terminology—words such as grace, faith, justification, sanctification, redemption, regeneration, reconciliation, propitiation—because of their central importance for Christian doctrine and also because the underlying Greek words were already becoming key words and technical terms in New Testament times.

The ESV lets the stylistic variety of the biblical writers fully express itself—from the exalted prose that opens Genesis, to the flowing narratives of the historical books, to the rich metaphors and dramatic imagery of the poetic books, to the ringing rhetorical indictments in the prophetic books, to the smooth elegance of Luke, to the profound simplicities of John, and the closely reasoned logic of Paul.

In punctuating, paragraphing, dividing long sentences, and rendering connectives, the ESV follows the path that seems to make the ongoing flow of thought clearest in English. The biblical languages regularly connect sentences by frequent repetition of words such as “and,” “but,” and “for,” in a way that goes beyond the conventions of literary English. Effective translation, however, requires that these links in the original be reproduced so that the flow of the argument will be transparent to the reader. We have therefore normally translated these connectives, though occasionally we have varied the rendering by using alternatives (such as “also,” “however,” “now,” “so,” “then,” or “thus”) when they better capture the sense in specific instances.

In the area of gender language, the goal of the ESV is to render literally what is in the original. For example, “anyone” replaces “any man” where there is no word corresponding to “man” in the original languages, and “people” rather than “men” is regularly used where the original languages refer to both men and women. But the words “man” and “men” are retained where a male meaning component is part of the original Greek or Hebrew. Likewise, the word “man” has been retained where the original text intends to convey a clear contrast between “God” on the one hand and “man” on the other hand, with “man” being used in the collective sense of the whole human race (see Luke 2:52). Similarly, the English word “brothers” (translating the Greek word adelphoi) is retained as an important familial form of address between fellow-Jews and fellow-Christians in the first century. A recurring note is included to indicate that the term “brothers” (adelphoi) was often used in Greek to refer to both men and women, and to indicate the specific instances in the text where this is the case. In addition, the English word “sons” (translating the Greek word huioi) is retained in specific instances because the underlying Greek term usually includes a male meaning component and it was used as a legal term in the adoption and inheritance laws of first-century Rome. As used by the apostle Paul, this term refers to the status of all Christians, both men and women, who, having been adopted into God’s family, now enjoy all the privileges, obligations, and inheritance rights of God’s children.

The inclusive use of the generic “he” has also regularly been retained, because this is consistent with similar usage in the original languages and because an essentially literal translation would be impossible without it.

In each case the objective has been transparency to the original text, allowing the reader to understand the original on its own terms rather than on the terms of our present-day culture.

The Translation of Specialized Terms

In the translation of biblical terms referring to God, the ESV takes great care to convey the specific nuances of meaning of the original Hebrew and Greek terms. First, concerning terms that refer to God in the Old Testament: God, the Maker of heaven and earth, introduced himself to the people of Israel with a special personal name, the consonants for which are YHWH (see Exodus 3:14–15). Scholars call this the “Tetragrammaton,” a Greek term referring to the four Hebrew letters YHWH. The exact pronunciation of YHWH is uncertain, because the Jewish people considered the personal name of God to be so holy that it should never be spoken aloud. Instead of reading the word YHWH, they would normally read the Hebrew word ’adonay (“Lord”), and the ancient translations into Greek, Syriac, and Aramaic also followed this practice. When the vowels of the word ’adonay are placed with the consonants of YHWH, this results in the familiar word Jehovah that was used in some earlier English Bible translations. As is common among English translations today, the ESV usually renders the personal name of God (YHWH) with the word Lord (printed in small capitals). An exception to this is when the Hebrew word ’adonay appears together with YHWH, in which case the two words are rendered together as “the Lord [in lower case] God [in small capitals].” In contrast to the personal name for God (YHWH), the more general name for God in Old Testament Hebrew is 'elohim and its related forms of 'el or 'eloah, all of which are normally translated "God" (in lower case letters). The use of these different ways to translate the Hebrew words for God is especially beneficial to the English reader, enabling the reader to see and understand the different ways that the personal name and the general name for God are both used to refer to the One True God of the Old Testament.

Second, in the New Testament, the Greek word Christos has been translated consistently as "Christ." Although the term originally meant "anointed," among Jews in New Testament times the term came to designate the Messiah, the great Savior that God had promised to raise up. In other New Testament contexts, however, especially among Gentiles, Christos ("Christ") was on its way to becoming a proper name. It is important, therefore, to keep the context in mind in understanding the various ways that Christos ("Christ") is used in the New Testament. At the same time, in accord with its "essentially literal" translation philosophy, the ESV has retained consistency and concordance in the translation of Christos ("Christ") throughout the New Testament.

Third, a particular difficulty is presented when words in biblical Hebrew and Greek refer to ancient practices and institutions that do not correspond directly to those in the modern world. Such is the case in the translation of 'ebed (Hebrew) and doulos (Greek), terms which are often rendered "slave." These terms, however, actually cover a range of relationships that require a range of renderings — either "slave," "bondservant," or "servant" — depending on the context. Further, the word "slave" currently carries associations with the often brutal and dehumanizing institution of slavery in nineteenth-century America. For this reason, the ESV translation of the words 'ebed and doulos has been undertaken with particular attention to their meaning in each specific context. Thus in Old Testament times, one might enter slavery either voluntarily (e.g., to escape poverty or to pay off a debt) or involuntarily (e.g., by birth, by being captured in battle, or by judicial sentence). Protection for all in servitude in ancient Israel was provided by the Mosaic Law. In New Testament times, a doulos is often best described as a "bondservant" — that is, as someone bound to serve his master for a specific (usually lengthy) period of time, but also as someone who might nevertheless own property, achieve social advancement, and even be released or purchase his freedom. The ESV usage thus seeks to express the nuance of meaning in each context. Where absolute ownership by a master is in view (as in Romans 6), “slave” is used; where a more limited form of servitude is in view, “bondservant” is used (as in 1 Corinthians 7:21–24); where the context indicates a wide range of freedom (as in John 4:51), “servant” is preferred. Footnotes are generally provided to identify the Hebrew or Greek and the range of meaning that these terms may carry in each case.

Fourth, it is sometimes suggested that Bible translations should capitalize pronouns referring to deity. It has seemed best not to capitalize deity pronouns in the ESV, however, for the following reasons: first, there is nothing in the original Hebrew and Greek manuscripts that corresponds to such capitalization; second, the practice of capitalizing deity pronouns in English Bible translations is a recent innovation, which began only in the mid-twentieth century; and, third, such capitalization is absent from the KJV Bible and the whole stream of Bible translations that the ESV seeks to carry forward.

A fifth specialized term, the word “behold,” usually has been retained as the most common translation for the Hebrew word hinneh and the Greek word idou. Both of these words mean something like “Pay careful attention to what follows! This is important!” Other than the word “behold,” there is no single word in English that fits well in most contexts. Although “Look!” and “See!” and “Listen!” would be workable in some contexts, in many others these words lack sufficient weight and dignity. Given the principles of “essentially literal” translation, it is important not to leave hinneh and idou completely untranslated, and so to lose the intended emphasis in the original languages. The older and more formal word “behold” has usually been retained, therefore, as the best available option for conveying the original sense of meaning.

Textual Basis and Resources

The ESV is based on the Masoretic text of the Hebrew Bible as found in Biblia Hebraica Stuttgartensia (2nd ed., 1983), and on the Greek text in the 1993 editions of the Greek New Testament (4th corrected ed.), published by the United Bible Societies (UBS), and Novum Testamentum Graece (27th ed.), edited by Nestle and Aland. The currently renewed respect among Old Testament scholars for the Masoretic text is reflected in the ESV’s attempt, wherever possible, to translate difficult Hebrew passages as they stand in the Masoretic text rather than resorting to emendations or to finding an alternative reading in the ancient versions. In exceptional, difficult cases, the Dead Sea Scrolls, the Septuagint, the Samaritan Pentateuch, the Syriac Peshitta, the Latin Vulgate, and other sources were consulted to shed possible light on the text, or, if necessary, to support a divergence from the Masoretic text. Similarly, in a few difficult cases in the New Testament, the ESV has followed a Greek text different from the text given preference in the UBS/Nestle-Aland 27th edition. Throughout, the translation team has benefited greatly from the massive textual resources that have become readily available recently, from new insights into biblical laws and culture, and from current advances in Hebrew and Greek lexicography and grammatical understanding.

Textual Footnotes

The footnotes that accompany the ESV text are an integral part of the ESV translation, informing the reader of textual variations and difficulties and showing how these have been resolved by the ESV translation team. In addition to this, the footnotes indicate significant alternative readings and occasionally provide an explanation for technical terms or for a difficult reading in the text.

Publishing Team

The ESV publishing team includes more than a hundred people. The fourteen-member Translation Oversight Committee has benefited from the work of more than fifty biblical experts serving as Translation Review Scholars and from the comments of the more than fifty members of the Advisory Council, all of which has been carried out under the auspices of the Crossway Board of Directors. This hundred-plus-member team shares a common commitment to the truth of God’s Word and to historic Christian orthodoxy and is international in scope, including leaders in many denominations.

To God’s Honor and Praise

We know that no Bible translation is perfect or final; but we also know that God uses imperfect and inadequate things to his honor and praise. So to our triune God and to his people we offer what we have done, with our prayers that it may prove useful, with gratitude for much help given, and with ongoing wonder that our God should ever have entrusted to us so momentous a task.

Soli Deo Gloria!—To God alone be the glory!

Overview of the Bible

How does the Bible as a whole fit together? The events recorded in the Bible took place over a span of thousands of years and in several different cultural settings. What is their unifying thread?

One unifying thread in the Bible is its divine authorship. Every book of the Bible is God's word. The events recorded in the Bible are there because God wanted them to be recorded, and he had them recorded with his people and their instruction in mind: "For whatever was written in former days was written for our instruction, that through endurance and through the encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope" (Rom. 15:4).

God's Plan for History

God also has a unified plan for history (Eph. 1:10, 12). The work of Christ on earth, especially his crucifixion and resurrection, is the climax of history. It is the great turning point. The present era looks back on Christ's completed work but also forward to the consummation of his work when he will come again in the new heavens and earth.

God's Promises and Predictions

The Old Testament directly points forward to Christ through promises of God's salvation. God gave some specific promises in the Old Testament relating to the coming of Christ as the Messiah, the Savior in the line of David. But God often gives more general promises concerning a future great day of salvation, without spelling out all the details of how he will accomplish it. Sometimes the promises take explicit form (e.g., the coming of the Messiah), and sometimes they take symbolic form (e.g., the animal sacrifices). All of the Old Testament promises find their "yes" in Jesus (2 Cor. 1:20).

God's Warnings and Curses

God's relation to people also includes warnings, threatenings, and cursings, which anticipate and point forward to Christ in two distinct ways. First, Christ is the Lamb of God who bore the curse of sin on the cross (John 1:29; 2 Cor. 5:21; Gal. 3:13; 1 Pet. 2:24). Every instance of the wrath of God against sin, and his punishment of sin, looks forward to the wrath that was poured out on Christ on the cross. Second, Christ will wage war against sin and exterminate it at his second coming. All earlier judgments against sin anticipate the final judgment.

God's Covenant Commitment and Instruction

The promises of God in the Old Testament come in the context not only of God's commitment to his people but also of instruction about the people's commitment and obligations to God. When God makes a covenant with man, God is the sovereign, so he specifies the obligations on both sides. "I will be their God" is the fundamental obligation on God's side, while "they shall be my people" is the fundamental obligation on the human side.

For example, in the first call of Abram (Gen. 12:1-2) God's commitment takes the form of promises, blessings, and curses. The promises and blessings point forward to Christ, who is the fulfillment of the promises and the source of final blessings. The curses point forward to Christ both in his bearing the curse and in his execution of judgment and curse against sin, especially at the second coming.

Christ fulfilled the obligations of God's covenants through perfect obedience (Heb. 5:8), receiving the reward of obedience in his resurrection and ascension (Phil. 2:9–10). By dealing with God's wrath against sin, Christ reconciled believers to God, bringing about the intimacy with God that all of the Old Testament covenants anticipated.

Christ Is the Offspring of Abraham and the Last Adam

God's promises to Abraham were the foundation for the nation of Israel. Abraham was obligated to walk blamelessly before God (Gen. 17:1). But only Christ is without sin (Heb. 4:15), making him the ultimate offspring to whom the other offspring all point (Gal. 3:16). Through Christ, believers are united to him and thereby themselves become "Abraham's offspring" (Gal. 3:29). Believers, Jews and Gentiles alike, become heirs to the promises of God made to Abraham and his offspring (Gal. 3:28–29).

Christ is not only the offspring of Abraham, but—reaching back farther in time to an earlier promise of God—the offspring of the woman: "I will put enmity between you [the serpent] and the woman, and between your offspring and her offspring; he shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel" (Gen. 3:15). The conquest over the serpent, and therefore the conquest of evil and the reversal of its effects, is to take place through the offspring of the woman. One can trace this offspring down from Eve through Seth and his godly descendants, through Noah, and down to Abraham, where God's promise takes the specific form of offspring for Abraham. Thus Christ is not only the offspring of Abraham but the last Adam (1 Cor. 15:45–49). Like Adam, he represents all who belong to him. And he reverses the effects of Adam's fall.

Shadows, Prefigures, and "Types" of Christ

The Old Testament anticipates Christ the Savior by "shadows" and "types"—examples, symbols, pictures—of the things that were to come (see 1 Cor. 10:6, 11; Heb. 8:5). Animal sacrifices in the Old Testament prefigure the final sacrifice of Christ. The temple, as a dwelling place for God, prefigured Christ, who is the final "dwelling place" of God, and through whom God is with his people (Matt. 1:23; John 2:21). The Old Testament priests were types of Christ, the final high priest (Heb. 7:11–8:7).

The fulfillment of all these Old Testament shadows and types takes place preeminently in Christ (2 Cor. 1:20; Eph. 1:10). But in the New Testament those people who are "in Christ," who place their trust in him and experience fellowship with his person and his blessings, receive the benefits of what he has accomplished. Therefore one can also find anticipations or "types" in the Old Testament that point forward to the New Testament church, the people in the New Testament who belong to Christ.

Some Old Testament symbols also may point forward especially to the consummation of salvation that takes place in the new heaven and the new earth yet to come (2 Pet. 3:13; Rev. 21:1–22:5). Old Testament Jerusalem prefigured the new Jerusalem that will come "down out of heaven from God" (Rev. 21:2).

Christ Is the Mediator

Sinful man needs a mediator who will approach God on his behalf. Jesus Christ, who is both God and man, and who is innocent of sin, is the only one who can mediate (1 Tim. 2:5–6) and the only one who can save (Acts 4:12).

All the instances of salvation and mediation in the Old Testament prefigure Christ. Prophets bring God's word to his people. Godly kings bring God's rule to bear on the people. Priests represent the people in coming before God’s presence. Christ is the prophet, king, and priest who fulfills all three functions in a final way (Heb. 1:1–3).

We can also look at wise men, who bring God’s wisdom to others; warriors, who bring God’s deliverance from enemies; and singers, who bring praise to God on behalf of the people and speak of God to the people. Covenants bring God’s word to the people. The temple brings God’s presence to the people. Animal sacrifices bring God’s forgiveness to the people. In reading the Bible, we should look for ways in which God brings his word and his presence to people through the means he establishes. All these means perform a mediatorial role, and because there is only one mediator, clearly they all point to Christ.

Old Testament

Theology and Key Dates

The Essential Components of the Old Testament Story

The Old Testament can be understood as an unfolding story with a number of basic components:

(1) Monotheism. There is only one true God, who made and rules heaven and earth and all mankind. The Old Testament invites Israel to commit themselves to him in exclusive loyalty and love (Deut. 6:4–9).

(2) Creation and fall. The one Creator God made Adam and Eve with dignity and purpose, calling them to live faithfully to God and to spread the blessings of Eden throughout the earth. Because they betrayed God's purpose, all people since the fall are beset with sins and weaknesses that only God's grace can redeem and heal.

(3) Election and covenant. The one true God chose a people for himself and bound himself to them by his covenant (Ex. 19:4–6; Deut. 7:6–11). This covenant expressed God's intention to save the people, and through them to bring light to the rest of the world, in order to restore all things to their proper functioning in the world God made. The land of Israel was to be a kind of reconstituted Eden, which would flourish as the people's faithfulness flourished (or languish if the people were unfaithful). God's covenants generally involve one person who represents the whole people (e.g., Adam, Noah, Abraham, David); the rest of the people experience the covenant by virtue of their inclusion in the community represented. The covenant representative was required to embody the ideal of covenant faithfulness as a model for those on whose behalf he had acted.

(4) Covenant membership. In his covenant, God offers his grace to his people: the forgiveness of their sins, the shaping of their lives in this world to reflect his own glory, and a part to play in bringing light to the Gentiles. The faithful are those covenant members who lay hold of this grace from the heart, enjoying the full benefits of God's love. Judgments upon the whole people often come because too many of them have been unfaithful;

these judgments do not bring the story of God’s people to an end but serve rather to purify and chasten that people (often by removing unbelieving members).

(5) Eschatology. The story of God’s people is headed toward a glorious future in which all kinds of people will come to know the Lord and join his people. The promise of a lasting dynasty for David (2 Sam. 7:16) becomes the expectation that a final heir of his line will one day arise, take his Davidic throne, and lead his people in the great task of bringing light to the Gentiles.

The Parts of the Old Testament in Relation to the Story

The Old Testament is thus the story of the one true Creator God, who called the family of Abraham to be his remedy for the defilement that came into the world through the sin of Adam and Eve. God rescued Israel from slavery in Egypt in fulfillment of this plan, and established them as a theocracy for the sake of displaying his existence and character to the rest of the world. God sent his blessings and curses upon Israel in order to pursue that purpose. God never abandoned that purpose, even in the face of the most grievous unfaithfulness in Israel.

This overarching story serves as a grand narrative or worldview story for Israel: each member of the people was to see himself or herself as an heir of this story, with all its glory and shame; as a steward of the story, responsible to pass it on to the next generation; and as a participant, whose faithfulness could play a role, by God’s mysterious wisdom, in the story’s progress.

Some would say that we should read the entire Old Testament as a story. This does not help the reader, for the very obvious reason that not everything in the Old Testament is narrative or “story.” For example, there are laws (in the Pentateuch), whose purpose was to maintain order by guiding judges in what penalties to impose and by specifying the minimum standard of behavior necessary to preserve the theocracy; there is wisdom (in the books of Job, Proverbs, and Ecclesiastes, as well as in the Psalms), which helps God’s people live well daily; there are songs (especially the Psalms) that the people of God should sing in corporate worship; there are poems (especially the Song of Solomon; compare Prov. 5:15–20) celebrating such wonders as romantic love; and lots more. Therefore it is better to speak of reading the parts of the Old Testament in relation to its overarching story. That is, we can see the parts in relation to the “Big Story” that unifies the whole. The Proverbs help people to live their little stories in such a way as to contribute to the Big Story. The Psalms—many of which explicitly recount parts of the Big Story—help people live as faithful members of the worshiping people of God. The Prophets keep recalling the Big Story, calling their audiences to live faithfully in its light. The Big Story tells us that God's purpose is to restore our humanity to its proper function, and thus it reminds each person of the human nature he shares with every other human being, and of the duty and benefit of seeking the good of others. For example, enjoying the love of a faithful spouse is a way of experiencing renewed humanity—a way that displays God's goodness to the rest of the world (as in the Song of Solomon).

All of these factors explain why it is possible for the New Testament authors both to say that the Sinai covenant is done away with and at the same time to affirm that this covenant includes principles that cannot pass away, because they are part of the larger story of which the Sinai covenant is one chapter.

The Old Testament as Christian Scripture

The Old Testament presents itself, then, as a story that is headed toward fulfillment. The Old Testament closes with both anxiety and hope under Persian rule (see Malachi). The New Testament authors, most of whom were Jewish Christians, saw themselves as heirs of the Old Testament story, and as authorized to describe its proper completion in the death and resurrection of Jesus and the messianic era that this ushered in. These authors viewed and used the Old Testament as Christian Scripture, and they urged their audiences (many of whom were Gentile Christians) to do the same. They saw the Old Testament as constituting the earlier chapters of the story in which Christians are now participating.

By understanding that there are earlier and later chapters in the story of God's work for his people, we can see how the Old Testament era and the Christian era exhibit both continuity and discontinuity. The Old Testament had looked forward to an internationalized people of God, without explaining exactly how that would connect to the theocracy of Israel. The theocracy defined the people of God as predominantly coming from a particular ethnic group in a particular land; Gentile converts ("sojourners") were protected (Ex. 12:49; 20:10; 22:21; Lev. 19:10) but could not be full-status members of the theocratic community. The New Testament abolishes the distinction (Eph. 2:19), because the theocracy as such is no longer in existence and many of its provisions are done away with (see Acts 10:34–35; Heb. 9:11–14). At the same time, the character of the one Creator God, and his interest in restoring the image of God in human beings, transcends the specific arrangements of the theocracy: hence the moral commands of God apply to Christians as they did to the faithful in Israel (see Rom. 13:8–10).

Old Testament Timeline and Calendar: An Overview of Key Dates

The following page provides a concise Old Testament timeline and overview. The dates (all B.C.) are either the exact year or a close approximation thereof, determined by correlating dates in the Bible with ancient Near Eastern sources (such as Assyrian accession lists, Babylonian king-lists, and Egyptian historical sources). Often dates can be further confirmed by ancient Assyrian and Babylonian documents which give narrative accounts of the same historical events, as recorded by those two countries. All of this adds great confidence and credibility to the truth and historicity of the Bible text itself.

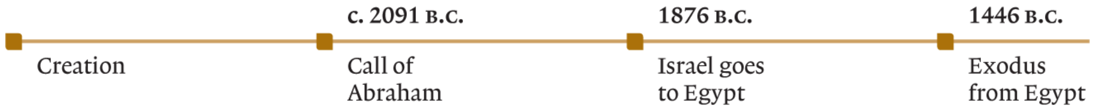
Introduction to Genesis

Introduction to Genesis

Timeline



Author, Date, and Recipients

Traditionally, Moses is considered to have been the author of Genesis and the rest of the Pentateuch (see Num. 33:2; Deut. 31:24; John 5:46). Of course, Moses lived much later than the events of Genesis. Presumably, stories were passed down about those earlier events, and Moses brought them all together.

The first audience would have been the Israelites Moses led through the wilderness. For readers today, Genesis is an essential introduction to the rest of the Bible. It is rightly called the book of beginnings.

Theme

The theme of Genesis is creation, sin, and re-creation. God made the world very good, but first cursed it and then destroyed it in the flood because of man's disobedience. The new world after the flood was also spoiled by human sin (ch. 11). God chose Abraham for a special purpose. Through his family, all nations would be blessed (12:1–3). God's purpose will eventually be fulfilled through Abraham's descendants (ch. 49).

Key Themes

1. The Lord God commissions human beings to be his representatives on earth. They are to take care of the earth and govern the other creatures (1:1–2:25).

2. Instead of acting as God’s representatives on earth, the first man and woman—Adam and Eve—listen to the serpent and follow his advice. Their disobedience has devastating results for all mankind and for the entire created world (3:1–24; 6:5–6).
3. God graciously announces that Eve’s offspring will free humanity from the serpent’s control (3:15). Genesis then begins tracing the history of one family that will become the people of Israel. This family has a special relationship with God and will become a source of blessing to fallen humanity (12:1–3).
4. As a result of Adam’s disobedience, his unique relationship with the ground degenerates, resulting in hard work and later in flood and famine. But the special family descending from Adam also brings relief from the difficulties (3:17–19; 5:29; 50:19–21).
5. While Eve’s punishment centers on pain in bearing children (3:16), women play an essential role in continuing the unique family line. With God’s help, even barrenness is overcome (11:30; 21:1–7; 25:21; 38:1–30).
6. The corruption of human nature causes families to be torn apart (4:1–16; 13:5–8; 25:22–23; 27:41–45; 37:2–35). Although Genesis shows the reality of family conflicts, individual members of the chosen family can also help resolve those conflicts (13:8–11; 33:1–11; 45:1–28; 50:15–21).
7. The wicked are exiled from Eden and scattered throughout the earth (3:22–24; 4:12–16; 11:9), but God is kind to his chosen people and promises them a land of their own (12:1–2, 7; 15:7–21; 28:13–14; 50:24).
8. God is prepared to destroy almost the entire human race because of its corruption (6:7, 11–12; 18:17–33), but he still wants his world to be populated by righteous people (1:28; 9:1; 15:1–5; 35:11).

The Near East at the Time of Genesis

c. 2000 B.C.

The book of Genesis describes events in the ancient Near East from the beginnings of civilization to the relocation of Jacob’s (Israel’s) family in Egypt. The stories of Genesis are set among some of the oldest nations in the world, including Egypt, Assyria, Babylonia, and Elam.

The Global Message of Genesis

The Beginning of the Redemptive Story

The book of Genesis begins the story of God's relationship with mankind, tells the sad story of how that relationship went very wrong, and outlines God's promised solution to that crisis—a solution that would reach its glorious conclusion in Jesus Christ.

Genesis 1 introduces the central person of the biblical story line: God is the Creator-Father-King. God created the human race in his own image, as his royal sons and daughters to establish his kingdom on earth (Gen. 1:26–28). As humanity multiplied upon the earth, they were to establish it as God's kingdom, in which the will of God was done on earth as it was in heaven. The intended outcome was that the Creator-King would dwell among a flourishing human community in a kind of paradise-kingdom. Heaven and earth would intersect, and God would be all in all.

Despite the disastrous rebellion of the human race, this original intention for creation remains the goal of God's cosmic restoration accomplished in Jesus Christ. The rest of redemptive history after the rebellion narrates and explains the unfolding of this cosmic restoration.

Mankind's Rebellion

Genesis 3 recounts the crisis of redemptive history, consisting in mankind's rebellion against God. Discontent with the role of ruling under God, Adam and Eve—enticed by Satan in the form of a serpent—grasp for equality with God. The outcome is disastrous. For their act of high treason, Adam and Eve are exiled from perfect fellowship with God in the garden of Eden and are barred from the tree of life. Sin and death enter the world. All of creation becomes enslaved to futility and corruption. Satan has successfully usurped mankind's throne as ruler of the world (see Luke 4:5–6; John 12:31; 2 Cor. 4:4; Eph. 2:2).

God’s Judgment

Genesis 6 reports how mankind, created to fill the earth with the rule of God, fills it instead with violence (Gen. 6:11, 13). Originally created as “very good,” the earth now lies ruined because of sin (1:31; 6:12). God’s patience runs out and, in grief, he determines to destroy humanity together with the ruined earth (6:13). God reverses the creation process of Genesis 1 by opening creation’s floodgates above and below—to deluge the earth and return it to its pre-creation state of dark chaos (1:2).

All life is extinguished, with the exception of a single family. Because of Noah’s righteousness, God preserves him and his family and a remnant of the animal world in a large boat. Then, the floods subside and Noah disembarks into a washed and clean new world. This is a new beginning. Although Noah subsequently fails, as Adam did before him, the redemptive pattern is set. God intends to fulfill his original creation intentions through a humanity led by a righteous head. Unlike Adam and Noah, however, the ultimate Adam, Jesus Christ, does in fact deliver a remnant by his righteousness, so that he and they together might rule over a holy, restored world (see Rom. 5:12–21, 8:18–30; 1 Cor. 15:20–28, 42–57).

The Promise

Genesis 12:1–3 is God’s answer to the problem of mankind’s rebellion narrated in the book’s first eleven chapters. God promises Abraham a land, countless descendants, and that all the families of the earth will be blessed in him. Through Abraham’s descendants—Israel, and ultimately Israel’s royal king, Jesus—the Creator-King will reclaim his world. Blessing and life will overcome and swallow up the curse of Genesis 3. God is determined, by his grace, to restore humanity and the entire cosmos to the paradise it was in Eden.

Universal Themes in Genesis

The image of God. Genesis teaches that everyone on earth is created in the image of God (Gen. 1:26–27; 9:6). This means that we are created like God in certain ways—for example, in our ability to love, speak, create, and reason, as well as in our ability to form relationships with our fellow humans. The image of God is also seen in the way humans are to rule the earth, under God, who rules over all. Because every person is made in God’s image, every person is inherently valuable to God and is to be treated with dignity regardless of ethnicity, age, class status, or gender.

Sin and the problem of the human heart. Genesis shows clearly that the fallen human heart is filled with sin. The reason God determined to destroy mankind in the flood was that “every intention of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually” (Gen. 6:5). Despite experiencing God’s judgment in the flood, however, mankind fell again into sin (8:21). The flood, then, did not solve the problem of humanity’s sin and rebellion. Noah and his family passed the infection of sin on to their offspring and thus to all the nations of the earth. The world’s many expressions of rebellion against their Creator stem from the deeper, more fundamental problem of the fallen heart with its wayward desires. To fulfill his original intention for creation, God must find a way to forgive sin and to transform hard hearts with new desires. This divine mission would ultimately be fulfilled in the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The Global Message of Genesis for Today

Marriage and sexuality. The original intention for marriage was, and still is, a permanent marriage relationship between a man and a woman, with the gift of sexuality being expressed within the freedom of this exclusive relationship. This divine ideal, set forth in Genesis 2:18–24, still stands, despite the sordid stories that Genesis records of how far short humans fall from God’s plan. We read of Lamech’s bigamy (4:19–24), Sodom’s homosexual brutality (19:1–29), Jacob’s polygamy (chs. 29–30), Shechem’s rape (34:2), Reuben’s incest (35:22; 49:4), Judah’s prostitution (38:15–18), and the adulterous desires of Potiphar’s wife (39:6–12). Jesus Christ reaffirmed the Genesis 2 ideal in his teaching, providing instruction concerning divorce in the process (Mark 10:2–12).

Ethnicity and genocide. The “table of nations” in Genesis 10 traces all of the ethnic groups and peoples of the world to their common ancestors preserved on the ark (Noah and his family). It tells of the original genealogy of the entire world. The narrator’s use of a genealogy to describe humanity’s diverse ethnic, linguistic, and geographical complexity reveals that the human race is one massive extended family. Therefore ethnic arrogance, tribal wars, racism, and the atrocity of genocide—the murder of one group by another because of ethnic difference—are incomprehensible evils, since every person is related as family to every other person upon the earth. Because of humanity’s evil heart, however, only in Christ can such ethnic strife and racial injustice find their ultimate solution.

Environment. God commissioned humanity to manage the world as his stewards and not as selfish tyrants. Humanity must represent God and his character and his will, because God ultimately rules over the created order. The Creator-King is wise, loving, holy, compassionate, good, and just, and we must reflect his character in our attitude to environmental issues. We may harness and use the resources of the earth, but must not waste, abuse, or exploit them. Creation exists for God’s glory, and its beautiful interlocking ecosystems must be protected to fulfill this purpose. Moreover, humanity is utterly dependent upon the earth and its resources for life. For all these reasons, the preservation and stewardship of creation should be an urgent and significant priority for twenty-first century global Christians.

GENESIS 1 [†]In the [a]beginning, God created the heavens and the earth.
[2][†]The earth was [b]without form and void, and darkness was over the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God was hovering over the face of the waters.

[3][†]And God said, [c]"Let there be light," and there was light. [4]And God saw that the light was good. And God separated the light from the darkness.
[5]God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And there was evening and there was morning, the first day.

[6][†]And God said, [d]"Let there be an expanse [1] in the midst of the waters, and let it separate the waters from the waters." [7]And God made [2] the expanse and [e]separated the waters that were under the expanse from the waters that were [f]above the expanse. And it was so. [8]And God called the expanse Heaven. [3] And there was evening and there was morning, the second day.

[9][†]And God said, [g]"Let the waters under the heavens be gathered together into one place, and let the dry land appear." And it was so. [10]God called the dry land Earth, [4] and the waters that were gathered together he called Seas. And God saw that it was good.

[11]And God said, [h]"Let the earth sprout vegetation, plants [5] yielding seed, and fruit trees bearing fruit in which is their seed, each according to its kind, on the earth." And it was so. [12]The earth brought forth vegetation, plants yielding seed according to their own kinds, and trees bearing fruit in which is their seed, each according to its kind. And God saw that it was good. [13]And there was evening and there was morning, the third day.

[14][†]And God said, "Let there be lights in the expanse of the heavens to separate the day from the night. And let them be for [i]signs and for [j]seasons, [6] and for days and years, [15]and let them be lights in the expanse of the heavens to give light upon the earth." And it was so. [16][†]And God [k]made the two great lights—the greater light to rule the day and the lesser light to rule the night—and the stars. [17]And God set them in the expanse of the heavens to give light on the earth, [18]to [l]rule over the day and over the night, and to separate the light from the darkness. And God saw that it was good. [19]And there was evening and there was morning, the fourth day.

[20][†]And God said, “Let the waters swarm with swarms of living creatures, and let birds [7] fly above the earth across the expanse of the heavens.” [21][†]So [m] God created the great sea creatures and every living creature that moves, with which the waters swarm, according to their kinds, and every winged bird according to its kind. And God saw that it was good. [22]And God blessed them, saying, [n] “Be fruitful and multiply and fill the waters in the seas, and let birds multiply on the earth.” [23]And there was evening and there was morning, the fifth day.

[24][†]And God said, “Let the earth bring forth living creatures according to their kinds—livestock and creeping things and beasts of the earth according to their kinds.” And it was so. [25]And God made the beasts of the earth according to their kinds and the livestock according to their kinds, and everything that creeps on the ground according to its kind. And God saw that it was good.

[26][†]Then God said, [o] “Let us make man [8] in our image, [p] after our likeness. And [q] let them have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the birds of the heavens and over the livestock and over all the earth and over every creeping thing that creeps on the earth.”

[27][†] So God created man in his own image, in the image of God he created him;
[r] male and female he created them.

[28][†]And God blessed them. And God said to them, [s] “Be fruitful and multiply and fill the earth and subdue it, and have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the birds of the heavens and over every living thing that moves on the earth.” [29]And God said, “Behold, I have given you every plant yielding seed that is on the face of all the earth, and every tree with seed in its fruit. [t] You shall have them for food. [30]And [u] to every beast of the earth and to every bird of the heavens and to everything that creeps on the earth, everything that has the breath of life, I have given every green plant for food.” And it was so. [31][†] [v] And God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good. And there was evening and there was morning, the sixth day.

The Seventh Day, God Rests

GENESIS 2 [†]Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and [w]all the host of them. [2]And [x]on the seventh day God finished his work that he had done, and he rested on the seventh day from all his work that he had done. [3]So God blessed the seventh day and made it holy, because on it God rested from all his work that he had done in creation.

The Creation of Man and Woman

[4][†] [y]These are the generations of the heavens and the earth when they were created, in the day that the LORD God made the earth and the heavens.

[5]When no [z]bush of the field [1] was yet in the land [2] and no small plant of the field had yet sprung up—for the LORD God had not caused it to rain on the land, and there was no man [a]to work the ground, [6]and a mist [3] was going up from the land and was watering the whole face of the ground—[7][†]then the LORD God formed the man of [b]dust from the ground and [c]breathed into his [d]nostrils the breath of life, and [e]the man became a living creature. [8][†]And the LORD God planted a [f]garden in Eden, in the east, and there he put the man whom he had formed. [9]And out of the ground the LORD God made to spring up every tree that is pleasant to the sight and good for food. [g]The tree of life was in the midst of the garden, [h]and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil.

[10][†]A river flowed out of Eden to water the garden, and there it divided and became four rivers. [11]The name of the first is the Pishon. It is the one that flowed around the whole land of [i]Havilah, where there is gold. [12]And the gold of that land is good; bdellium and onyx stone are there. [13]The name of the second river is the Gihon. It is the one that flowed around the whole land of Cush. [14]And the name of the third river is the [j]Tigris, which flows east of Assyria. And the fourth river is the Euphrates.

[15][†]The LORD God took the man [k]and put him in the garden of Eden to work it and keep it. [16]And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, “You may surely eat of every tree of the garden, [17][†]but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil [l] you shall not eat, for in the day that you eat [4] of it you [m] shall surely die.”

[18][†]Then the LORD God said, “It is not good that the man should be alone; [n] I will make him a helper fit for [5] him.” [19] [o] Now out of the ground the LORD God had formed [6] every beast of the field and every bird of the heavens and [p] brought them to the man to see what he would call them. And whatever the man called every living creature, that was its name. [20][†]The man gave names to all livestock and to the birds of the heavens and to every beast of the field. But for Adam [7] there was not found a helper fit for him. [21]So the LORD God caused a [q] deep sleep to fall upon the man, and while he slept took one of his ribs and closed up its place with flesh. [22]And the rib that the LORD God had taken from the man he made [8] into a woman and brought her to the man. [23][†]Then the man said,

    and flesh of my flesh;
she shall be called Woman, because she was [s] taken out of Man.” [9]

[24] [t] Therefore a man shall leave his father and his mother and hold fast to his wife, and they shall become one flesh. [25][†]And the man and his wife were both naked and were not ashamed.

The Fall

GENESIS 3 [†]Now [u] the serpent was more crafty than any other beast of the field that the LORD God had made.

He said to the woman, “Did God actually say, ‘You [1] shall not eat of any tree in the garden’?” [2][†]And the woman said to the serpent, “We may eat of the fruit of the trees in the garden, [3]but God said, [v] ‘You shall not eat of the fruit of the tree that is in the midst of the garden, neither shall you touch it, lest you die.’” [4][†] [w] But the serpent said to the woman, “You will not surely die. [5]For God knows that when you eat of it your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God, knowing good and evil.” [6][†]So when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was a delight to the eyes, and that the tree was to be desired to make one wise, [2] she took of its fruit [x] and ate, and she also gave some to her husband who was with her, [y] and he ate. [7] [z] Then the eyes of both were opened, [a] and they knew that they were naked. And they sewed fig leaves together and made themselves loincloths.

[8]And they heard the sound of the LORD God walking in the garden in the cool [3] of the day, and the man and his wife [b] hid themselves from the presence of the LORD God among the trees of the garden. [9][†]But the LORD God called to the man and said to him, “Where are you?” [4] [10]And he said, “I heard the sound of you in the garden, and I was afraid, [c] because I was naked, and I hid myself.” [11]He said, “Who told you that you were naked? Have you eaten of the tree of which I commanded you not to eat?” [12]The man said, [d] “The woman whom you gave to be with me, she gave me fruit of the tree, and I ate.” [13]Then the LORD God said to the woman, “What is this that you have done?” The woman said, [e] “The serpent deceived me, and I ate.”

[14][†]The LORD God said to the serpent,

“Because you have done this, cursed are you above all livestock and above all beasts of the field;
on your belly you shall go, and [f] dust you shall eat
all the days of your life.
[15][†] I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring [5] and [g] her offspring;
[h] he shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel.”

[16][†]To the woman he said,

“I will surely multiply your pain in childbearing;
[i] in pain you shall bring forth children.
[j] Your desire shall be for [6] your husband, and he shall [k] rule over you.”

[17][†]And to Adam he said,

“Because you have listened to the voice of your wife and have eaten of the tree [l] of which I commanded you,
‘You shall not eat of it,’
[m] cursed is the ground because of you;
[n] in pain you shall eat of it all the days of your life;
[18] thorns and thistles it shall bring forth for you;
and you shall eat the plants of the field.
[19][†] By the sweat of your face you shall eat bread, till you return to the ground, for out of it you were taken;
[o] for you are dust,
and [p] to dust you shall return.”

[20][†]The man called his wife’s name Eve, because she was the mother of all living. [7] [21]And the LORD God made for Adam and for his wife garments of skins and clothed them.

[22][†]Then the LORD God said, [q] “Behold, the man has become like one of us in knowing good and evil. Now, lest he reach out his hand [r] and take also of the tree of life and eat, and live forever—” [23]therefore the LORD God sent him out from the garden of Eden [s] to work the ground from which he was taken. [24]He drove out the man, and at the east of the garden of Eden he placed the [t] cherubim and a flaming sword that turned every way to guard the way to the tree of life.

Cain and Abel

GENESIS 4 Now Adam knew Eve his wife, and she conceived and bore Cain, saying, “I have gotten [1] a man with the help of the LORD.” [2][†]And again, she bore his brother Abel. Now Abel was a keeper of sheep, and Cain a worker of the ground. [3]In the course of time Cain brought to the LORD an offering of [u] the fruit of the ground, [4]and Abel also brought of [v] the firstborn of his flock and of their fat portions. And the LORD [w]had regard for Abel and his offering, 5but [x]for Cain and his offering he had no regard. So Cain was very angry, and his face fell. 6[†]The LORD said to Cain, “Why are you angry, and why has your face fallen? 7 [y]If you do well, will you not be accepted? [2] And if you do not do well, sin is crouching at the door. [z]Its desire is for [3] you, but you must rule over it.”

8Cain spoke to Abel his brother. [4] And when they were in the field, Cain rose up against his brother Abel and [a]killed him. 9[†]Then the LORD said to Cain, “Where is Abel your brother?” He said, [b]“I do not know; am I my brother’s keeper?” 10[†]And the LORD said, “What have you done? The voice of your brother’s blood [c]is crying to me from the ground. 11And now [d]you are cursed from the ground, which has opened its mouth to receive your brother’s blood from your hand. 12When you work the ground, it shall no longer yield to you its strength. You shall be a fugitive and a wanderer on the earth.” 13[†]Cain said to the LORD, “My [e]punishment is greater than I can bear. [5] 14Behold, [f]you have driven me today away from the ground, and [g]from your face I shall be hidden. I shall be a fugitive and a wanderer on the earth, [h]and whoever finds me will kill me.” 15Then the LORD said to him, “Not so! If anyone kills Cain, vengeance shall be taken on him [i]sevenfold.” And the LORD [j]put a mark on Cain, lest any who found him should attack him. 16Then Cain went away from the presence of the LORD and settled in the land of Nod, [6] east of Eden.

17[†]Cain knew his wife, and she conceived and bore Enoch. When he built a city, he called the name of the city after the name of his son, Enoch. 18[†]To Enoch was born Irad, and Irad fathered Mehujael, and Mehujael fathered Methushael, and Methushael fathered Lamech. 19And Lamech took two wives. The name of the one was Adah, and the name of the other Zillah. 20Adah bore Jabal; he was the father of those who dwell in tents and have livestock. 21His brother’s name was Jubal; he was the father of all those who play the lyre and pipe. 22Zillah also bore Tubal-cain; he was the forger of all instruments of bronze and iron. The sister of Tubal-cain was Naamah.

23[†]Lamech said to his wives:

“Adah and Zillah, hear my voice;

you wives of Lamech, listen to what I say:
I have killed a man for wounding me,
a young man for striking me.
24 [k] If Cain's revenge is sevenfold, then Lamech's is seventy-sevenfold."

25[†]And Adam knew his wife again, and she bore a son and called his name Seth, for she said, "God has appointed [7] for me another offspring instead of Abel, for Cain killed him." 26To [l] Seth also a son was born, and he called his name [m] Enosh. At that time people began [n] to call upon the name of the LORD.

Adam's Descendants to Noah

GENESIS 5 [†]This is the book of the generations of Adam. When God created man, [o] he made him in the likeness of God. 2Male and female he created them, and he blessed them and named them Man [1] when they were created. 3[†]When Adam had lived 130 years, he fathered a son in his own likeness, after his image, and [p] named him Seth. 4 [q] The days of Adam after he fathered Seth were 800 years; and he had other sons and daughters. 5Thus all the days that Adam lived were 930 years, [r] and he died.

6When Seth had lived 105 years, [s] he fathered Enosh. 7Seth lived after he fathered Enosh 807 years and had other sons and daughters. 8Thus all the days of Seth were 912 years, and he died.

9When Enosh had lived 90 years, he fathered Kenan. 10Enosh lived after he fathered Kenan 815 years and had other sons and daughters. 11Thus all the days of Enosh were 905 years, and he died.

12When Kenan had lived 70 years, he fathered Mahalalel. 13Kenan lived after he fathered Mahalalel 840 years and had other sons and daughters. 14Thus all the days of Kenan were 910 years, and he died.

15When Mahalalel had lived 65 years, he fathered Jared. 16Mahalalel lived after he fathered Jared 830 years and had other sons and daughters. 17Thus all the days of Mahalalel were 895 years, and he died.

18When Jared had lived 162 years he fathered [t] Enoch. 19Jared lived after he fathered Enoch 800 years and had other sons and daughters. 20Thus all the days of Jared were 962 years, and he died.

[21]When Enoch had lived 65 years, he fathered Methuselah. [22][†]Enoch [u]walked with God [2] after he fathered Methuselah 300 years and had other sons and daughters. [23]Thus all the days of Enoch were 365 years. [24]Enoch [u]walked with God, and he was not, [3] [v]for God took him.

[25]When Methuselah had lived 187 years, he fathered Lamech. [26]Methuselah lived after he fathered Lamech 782 years and had other sons and daughters. [27]Thus all the days of Methuselah were 969 years, and he died.

[28][†]When Lamech had lived 182 years, he fathered a son [29]and called his name Noah, saying, "Out of the ground [w]that the Lord has cursed, this one shall bring us relief [4] from our work and from the painful toil of our hands." [30]Lamech lived after he fathered Noah 595 years and had other sons and daughters. [31]Thus all the days of Lamech were 777 years, and he died.

[32]After Noah was 500 years old, Noah fathered [x]Shem, Ham, and [y]Japheth.

Increasing Corruption on Earth

GENESIS 6 [†]When man began to multiply on the face of the land and daughters were born to them, [2]the sons of God saw that the daughters of man were attractive. And they took as their wives any they chose. [3][†]Then the Lord said, [z]"My Spirit shall not abide in [1] man forever, [a]for he is flesh: his days shall be 120 years." [4][†]The Nephilim [2] were on the earth in those days, and also afterward, when the sons of God came in to the daughters of man and they bore children to them. These were the mighty men who were of old, the men of renown.

[5] [b]The Lord saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every [c]intention of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. [6][†]And [d]the Lord regretted that he had made man on the earth, and it [e]grieved him to his heart. [7]So the Lord said, "I will blot out man whom I have created from the face of the land, man and animals and creeping things and birds of the heavens, for I am sorry that I have made them.” [8]But Noah [f]found favor in the eyes of the LORD.

Noah and the Flood

[9][†]These are the generations of Noah. [g]Noah was a righteous man, [h]blameless in his generation. Noah [i]walked with God. [10]And Noah had three sons, Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

[11][†]Now the earth was corrupt in God’s sight, and the earth was filled with violence. [12]And God [j]saw the earth, and behold, it was corrupt, [k]for all flesh had corrupted their way on the earth. [13]And God said to Noah, [l]“I have determined to make an end of all flesh, [3] for the earth is filled with violence through them. Behold, I will destroy them with the earth. [14]Make yourself an ark of gopher wood. [4] Make rooms in the ark, and cover it inside and out with pitch. [15][†]This is how you are to make it: the length of the ark 300 cubits, [5] its breadth 50 cubits, and its height 30 cubits. [16]Make a roof [6] for the ark, and finish it to a cubit above, and set the door of the ark in its side. Make it with lower, second, and third decks. [17][†] [m]For behold, I will bring a flood of waters upon the earth to destroy all flesh in which is the breath of life under heaven. Everything that is on the earth shall die. [18][†]But [n]I will establish my covenant with you, and you shall come into the ark, you, your sons, your wife, and your sons’ wives with you. [19]And of every living thing of all flesh, you shall bring two of every sort into the ark to keep them alive with you. They shall be male and female. [20]Of the birds according to their kinds, and of the animals according to their kinds, of every creeping thing of the ground, according to its kind, two of every sort shall come in to you to keep them alive. [21]Also take with you every sort of food that is eaten, and store it up. It shall serve as food for you and for them.” [22] [o]Noah did this; he did all that God commanded him.

GENESIS 7 [†]Then the LORD said to Noah, [p]“Go into the ark, you and all your household, for I have seen that [q]you are righteous before me in this generation. [2]Take with you seven pairs of all [r]clean animals, [1] the male and his mate, and a pair of the animals that are not clean, the male and his mate, [3]and seven pairs [2] of the birds of the heavens also, male and female, to keep their offspring alive on the face of all the earth. [4]For in seven days

[s] I will send rain on the earth forty days and forty nights, [t] and every living thing [3] that I have made I will blot out from the face of the ground.”
5 [u] And Noah did all that the LORD had commanded him.

6Noah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters came upon the earth. 7And Noah and his sons and his wife and his sons’ wives with him went into the ark to escape the waters of the flood. 8Of clean animals, and of animals that are not clean, and of birds, and of everything that creeps on the ground, 9two and two, male and female, went into the ark with Noah, as God had commanded Noah. 10And after seven days the waters of the flood came upon the earth.

11[†]In the six hundredth year of Noah’s life, in the second month, on the seventeenth day of the month, on that day all the [v] fountains of the great deep burst forth, and [w] the windows of the heavens were opened. 12And rain fell upon the earth forty days and forty nights. 13On the very same day Noah and his sons, Shem and Ham and Japheth, and Noah’s wife and the three wives of his sons with them entered the ark, 14they and every beast, according to its kind, and all the livestock according to their kinds, and every creeping thing that creeps on the earth, according to its kind, and every bird, according to its kind, every winged creature. 15They [x] went into the ark with Noah, two and two of all flesh in which there was the breath of life. 16[†]And those that entered, male and female of all flesh, went in [y] as God had commanded him. And the LORD shut him in.

17[†]The flood [z] continued forty days on the earth. The waters increased and bore up the ark, and it rose high above the earth. 18The waters prevailed and increased greatly on the earth, and the ark floated on the face of the waters. 19And the waters prevailed so mightily on the earth that all the high mountains under the whole heaven were covered. 20The waters prevailed above the mountains, covering them fifteen cubits [4] deep. 21And [a] all flesh died that moved on the earth, birds, livestock, beasts, all swarming creatures that swarm on the earth, and all mankind. 22Everything on the dry land [b] in whose nostrils was the breath of life died. 23He blotted out every living thing that was on the face of the ground, man and animals and creeping things and birds of the heavens. They were blotted out from the earth. Only

[c] Noah was left, and those who were with him in the ark. [24]And the waters prevailed on the earth 150 days.

The Flood Subsides

GENESIS 8 [†]But God [d] remembered Noah and all the beasts and all the livestock that were with him in the ark. And [e] God made a wind blow over the earth, and the waters subsided. [2][†][f] The fountains of the deep and [f] the windows of the heavens were closed, the rain from the heavens was restrained, [3]and the waters receded from the earth continually. At the end [g] of 150 days the waters had abated, [4]and in the seventh month, on the seventeenth day of the month, the ark came to rest on the mountains of [h] Ararat. [5]And the waters continued to abate until the tenth month; in the tenth month, on the first day of the month, the tops of the mountains were seen.

[6]At the end of forty days Noah opened the window of the ark that he had made [7]and sent forth a raven. It went to and fro until the waters were dried up from the earth. [8]Then he sent forth a dove from him, to see if the waters had subsided from the face of the ground. [9]But the dove found no place to set her foot, and she returned to him to the ark, for the waters were still on the face of the whole earth. So he put out his hand and took her and brought her into the ark with him. [10]He waited another seven days, and again he sent forth the dove out of the ark. [11]And the dove came back to him in the evening, and behold, in her mouth was a freshly plucked olive leaf. So Noah knew that the waters had subsided from the earth. [12]Then he waited another seven days and sent forth the dove, and she did not return to him anymore.

[13]In the six hundred and first year, in the first month, the first day of the month, the waters were dried from off the earth. And Noah removed the covering of the ark and looked, and behold, the face of the ground was dry. [14]In the second month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, the earth had dried out. [15]Then God said to Noah, [16]“Go out from the ark, [i] you and your wife, and your sons and your sons’ wives with you. [17]Bring out with you every living thing that is with you of all flesh—birds and animals and every creeping thing that creeps on the earth—that they may swarm on the earth, and [j] be fruitful and multiply on the earth.” 18So Noah went out, and his sons and his wife and his sons’ wives with him. 19Every beast, every creeping thing, and every bird, everything that moves on the earth, went out by families from the ark.

God’s Covenant with Noah

20[†]Then Noah built an altar to the LORD and took some of every clean animal and some of every clean bird and offered burnt offerings on the altar. 21And when the LORD smelled [k] the pleasing aroma, the LORD said in his heart, “I will never again [l] curse [1] the ground because of man, for [m] the intention of man’s heart is evil from his youth. [n] Neither will I ever again strike down every living creature as I have done. 22 [o] While the earth remains, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, [p] day and night, shall not cease.”

GENESIS 9 [†]And God blessed Noah and his sons and said to them, [q] “Be fruitful and multiply and fill the earth. 2 [r] The fear of you and the dread of you shall be upon every beast of the earth and upon every bird of the heavens, upon everything that creeps on the ground and all the fish of the sea. Into your hand they are delivered. 3 [s] Every moving thing that lives shall be food for you. And [t] as I gave you the green plants, I give you everything. 4But you shall not eat flesh with its [u] life, that is, its blood. 5[†]And for your lifeblood I will require a reckoning: [v] from every beast I will require it and [w] from man. From his fellow man I will require a reckoning for the life of man.

6 [x] “Whoever sheds the blood of man,
by man shall his blood be shed,

7And you, [1] be fruitful and multiply, increase greatly on the earth and multiply in it.”

8Then God said to Noah and to his sons with him, 9[†]“Behold, [z] I establish my covenant with you and your offspring after you, 10and with every living creature that is with you, the birds, the livestock, and every beast of the earth with you, as many as came out of the ark; it is for every beast of the earth. 11 [a] I establish my covenant with you, that never again shall all flesh be cut off by the waters of the flood, and never again shall there be a flood to destroy the earth.” 12[†]And God said, [b] “This is the sign of the covenant that I make between me and you and every living creature that is with you, for all future generations: 13I have set [c] my bow in the cloud, and it shall be a sign of the covenant between me and the earth. 14When I bring clouds over the earth and the bow is seen in the clouds, 15 [d] I will remember my covenant that is between me and you and every living creature of all flesh. And the waters shall never again become a flood to destroy all flesh. 16When the bow is in the clouds, I will see it and remember [e] the everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of all flesh that is on the earth.” 17God said to Noah, “This is the sign of the covenant that I have established between me and all flesh that is on the earth.”

Noah’s Descendants

18The sons of Noah who went forth from the ark were [f] Shem, Ham, and Japheth. (Ham was the father of Canaan.) 19These three were the sons of Noah, and [g] from these the people of the whole earth were dispersed. [2]

20[†]Noah began to be a man of the soil, and he planted a vineyard. [3] 21[†]He drank of the wine and became drunk and lay uncovered in his tent. 22And Ham, the father of Canaan, saw the nakedness of his father and told his two brothers outside. 23Then Shem and Japheth took a garment, laid it on both their shoulders, and walked backward and covered the nakedness of their father. Their faces were turned backward, and they did not see their father’s nakedness. 24[†]When Noah awoke from his wine [h] and knew what his youngest son had done to him, 25he said,

[i] “Cursed be Canaan;
[j] a servant of servants shall he be to his brothers.”

26He also said,

“Blessed be the LORD, the God of Shem;

and let Canaan be his servant.
[27] May God enlarge Japheth, [4] and let him dwell in the tents of Shem, and let Canaan be his servant.”

[28]After the flood Noah lived 350 years. [29]All the days of Noah were 950 years, and he died.

Nations Descended from Noah

GENESIS 10 [†]These are the generations of the sons of Noah, Shem, Ham, and Japheth. Sons were born to them after the flood.

[2][†] [k]The sons of Japheth: Gomer, Magog, Madai, Javan, Tubal, Meshech, and Tiras. [3]The sons of Gomer: Ashkenaz, Riphath, and Togarmah. [4]The sons of Javan: Elishah, [l]Tarshish, [m]Kittim, and Dodanim. [5]From these [n]the coastland peoples spread in their lands, each with his own language, by their clans, in their nations.

[6][†] [o]The sons of Ham: Cush, Egypt, Put, and Canaan. [7]The sons of Cush: Seba, Havilah, Sabtah, Raamah, and Sabteca. The sons of Raamah: Sheba and Dedan. [8]Cush fathered Nimrod; he was the first on earth to be a mighty man. [1] [9]He was a mighty hunter before the LORD. Therefore it is said, “Like Nimrod a mighty hunter before the LORD.” [10]The beginning of his kingdom was [p]Babel, Erech, Accad, and Calneh, in [q]the land of Shinar. [11]From that land he went into Assyria and built Nineveh, Rehoboth-Ir, Calah, and [12]Resen between Nineveh and Calah; that is the great city. [13] [r]Egypt fathered Ludim, Anamim, Lehabim, Naphtuhim, [14]Pathrusim, Casluhim (from whom [2] the Philistines came), and [s]Caphtorim.

[15] [t]Canaan fathered Sidon his firstborn and Heth, [16]and the Jebusites, the Amorites, the Girgashites, [17]the Hivites, the Arkites, the Sinites, [18]the Arvadites, the Zemarites, and the Hamathites. Afterward the clans of the Canaanites dispersed. [19]And the territory of the Canaanites extended from Sidon in the direction of Gerar as far as Gaza, and in the direction of Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah, and Zeboiim, as far as Lasha. [20]These are the sons of Ham, by their clans, their languages, their lands, and their nations.

[21][†]To Shem also, the father of all the children of Eber, the elder brother of Japheth, children were born. [22]The [u]sons of Shem: Elam, Asshur, Arpachshad, Lud, and Aram. [23]The sons of Aram: Uz, Hul, Gether, and Mash. [24]Arpachshad fathered [v]Shelah; and Shelah fathered Eber. [25][w]To Eber were born two sons: the name of the one was Peleg, [3] for in his days the earth was divided, and his brother's name was Joktan. [26]Joktan fathered Almodad, Sheleph, Hazarmaveth, Jerah, [27]Hadoram, Uzal, Diklah, [28]Obal, Abimael, Sheba, [29][x]Ophir, Havilah, and Jobab; all these were the sons of Joktan. [30]The territory in which they lived extended from Mesha in the direction of Sephar to the hill country of the east. [31]These are the sons of Shem, by their clans, their languages, their lands, and their nations.

[32]These are the clans of the sons of Noah, according to their genealogies, in their nations, [y]and from these the nations spread abroad on the earth after the flood.

The Tower of Babel

GENESIS 11 [†]Now the whole earth had one language and the same words. [2][†]And as people migrated from the east, they found a plain in [z]the land of Shinar and settled there. [3]And they said to one another, "Come, let us make bricks, and burn them thoroughly." And they had brick for stone, [a]and bitumen for mortar. [4]Then they said, "Come, let us build ourselves a city and a tower [b]with its top in the heavens, and let us make a name for ourselves, lest we be dispersed over the face of the whole earth." [5]And [c]the LORD came down to see the city and the tower, which the children of man had built. [6]And the LORD said, "Behold, they are one people, and they have all one language, and this is only the beginning of what they will do. And nothing that they propose to do will now be impossible for them. [7]Come, [d]let us go down and there confuse their language, so that they may not understand one another's speech." [8]So [e]the LORD dispersed them from there over the face of all the earth, and they left off building the city. [9][†]Therefore its name was called [f]Babel, because there the LORD confused [1] the language of all the earth. And from there the LORD dispersed them over the face of all the earth.

Shem’s Descendants

[10][†] [g]These are the generations of Shem. When Shem was 100 years old, he fathered Arpachshad two years after the flood. [11]And Shem lived after he fathered Arpachshad 500 years and had other sons and daughters.

[12]When Arpachshad had lived 35 years, he fathered Shelah. [13]And Arpachshad lived after he fathered Shelah 403 years and had other sons and daughters.

[14]When Shelah had lived 30 years, he fathered Eber. [15]And Shelah lived after he fathered Eber 403 years and had other sons and daughters.

[16]When Eber had lived 34 years, he fathered Peleg. [17]And Eber lived after he fathered Peleg 430 years and had other sons and daughters.

[18]When Peleg had lived 30 years, he fathered Reu. [19]And Peleg lived after he fathered Reu 209 years and had other sons and daughters.

[20]When Reu had lived 32 years, he fathered Serug. [21]And Reu lived after he fathered Serug 207 years and had other sons and daughters.

[22]When Serug had lived 30 years, he fathered Nahor. [23]And Serug lived after he fathered Nahor 200 years and had other sons and daughters.

[24]When [h]Nahor had lived 29 years, he fathered Terah. [25]And Nahor lived after he fathered Terah 119 years and had other sons and daughters.

[26]When [h]Terah had lived 70 years, he fathered Abram, Nahor, and Haran.

Terah’s Descendants

[27][†]Now these are the generations of Terah. Terah fathered Abram, Nahor, and Haran; and Haran fathered Lot. [28][†]Haran died in the presence of his father Terah in the land of his kindred, in Ur of the Chaldeans. [29][†]And Abram and Nahor took wives. The name of Abram’s wife was [i]Sarai, and the name of Nahor’s wife, [j]Milcah, the daughter of Haran the father of Milcah and Iscah. [30]Now Sarai was barren; she had no child.

[31][†]Terah [k]took Abram his son and Lot the son of Haran, his grandson, and Sarai his daughter-in-law, his son Abram’s wife, and they went forth together [l]from Ur of the Chaldeans to go into the land of Canaan, but when they came to Haran, they settled there. [32]The days of Terah were 205 years, and Terah died in Haran.

The Call of Abram

GENESIS 12 [†]Now [m]the LORD said [1] to Abram, “Go from your country [2] and your kindred and your father’s house to the land that I will show you. [2][†] [n]And I will make of you a great nation, and I will bless you and make your name great, so that you will be a blessing. [3][†] [o]I will bless those who bless you, and him who dishonors you I will curse, and [p]in you all the families of the earth shall be blessed.” [3] [4][†]So Abram went, as the LORD had told him, and Lot went with him. Abram was seventy-five years old when he departed from [q]Haran. [5][†]And Abram took Sarai his wife, and Lot his brother’s son, and all their possessions that they had gathered, and the people that they had acquired in Haran, and they set out to go to the land of Canaan. When they came to the land of Canaan, [6][†]Abram [r]passed through the land to the place at Shechem, to [s]the oak [4] of [t]Moreh. At that time [u]the Canaanites were in the land. [7][†]Then the LORD appeared to Abram and said, [v]“To your offspring I will give this land.” So he built there an altar to the LORD, who had appeared to him. [8][†]From there he moved to the hill country on the east of [w]Bethel and pitched his tent, with Bethel on the west and Ai on the east. And there he built an altar to the LORD and called upon the name of the LORD. [9][†]And Abram journeyed on, still going toward the Negeb.

Abram and Sarai in Egypt

[10][†]Now [x]there was a famine in the land. So Abram went down to Egypt to sojourn there, for the famine was severe in the land. [11][†]When he was about to enter Egypt, he said to Sarai his wife, “I know that you are a woman beautiful in appearance, [12]and when the Egyptians see you, they will say, ‘This is his wife.’ Then they [y]will kill me, but they will let you live. [13]Say you are my sister, that it may go well with me because of you, and that my life may be spared for your sake.” [14]When Abram entered Egypt, the Egyptians saw that the woman was very beautiful. [15][†]And when the princes of Pharaoh saw her, they praised her to Pharaoh. And the woman was taken into Pharaoh’s house. [16][†]And for her sake he dealt well with Abram; and he had sheep, oxen, male donkeys, male servants, female servants, female donkeys, and camels.

17 [†]But the LORD [z] afflicted Pharaoh and his house with great plagues because of Sarai, Abram's wife. 18 So Pharaoh called Abram and said, "What is this you have done to me? Why did you not tell me that she was your wife? 19 Why did you say, 'She is my sister,' so that I took her for my wife? Now then, here is your wife; take her, and go." 20 And Pharaoh gave men orders concerning him, and they sent him away with his wife and all that he had.

Abram and Lot Separate

GENESIS 13 [†]So Abram went up from Egypt, he and his wife and all that he had, and Lot with him, [a] into the Negeb.

2 [b] Now Abram was very rich in livestock, in silver, and in gold. 3 And he journeyed on from the Negeb as far as Bethel to the place where his tent had been at the beginning, between Bethel and Ai, 4 to [c] the place where he had made an altar at the first. And there Abram called upon the name of the LORD. 5 And Lot, who went with Abram, also had flocks and herds and tents, 6 so that [d] the land could not support both of them dwelling together; for their possessions were so great that they could not dwell together, 7 [†] [e] and there was strife between the herdsmen of Abram's livestock and the herdsmen of Lot's livestock. At that time [f] the Canaanites and the Perizzites were dwelling in the land.

8 Then Abram said to Lot, [g] "Let there be no strife between you and me, and between your herdsmen and my herdsmen, [h] for we are kinsmen. [1] 9 [i] Is not the whole land before you? Separate yourself from me. If you take the left hand, then I will go to the right, or if you take the right hand, then I will go to the left." 10 [†]And Lot lifted up his eyes and saw that the [j] Jordan Valley was well watered everywhere like [k] the garden of the LORD, like the land of Egypt, in the direction of [l] Zoar. (This was before the LORD [m] destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah.) 11 [†]So Lot chose for himself all the Jordan Valley, and Lot journeyed east. Thus they separated from each other. 12 Abram settled in the land of Canaan, while Lot settled among the cities of the valley and moved his tent as far as Sodom. [13]Now the men of Sodom [n]were wicked, great sinners against the LORD.

[14][†]The LORD said to Abram, after Lot had separated from him, “Lift up your eyes and look from the place where you are, [o]northward and southward and eastward and westward, [15]for all the land that you see I will give [p]to you and [q]to your offspring forever. [16][r]I will make your offspring as the dust of the earth, so that if one can count the dust of the earth, your offspring also can be counted. [17]Arise, walk through the length and the breadth of the land, for I will give it to you.” [18][†]So Abram moved his tent and came and [s]settled by the [t]oaks [2] of Mamre, which [u]are at Hebron, and there he built an altar to the LORD.

Abram Rescues Lot

GENESIS 14 [†]In the days of Amraphel king of [v]Shinar, Arioch king of Ellasar, Chedorlaomer king of [w]Elam, and Tidal king of Goiim, [2]these kings made war with [x]Bera king of Sodom, Birsha king of Gomorrah, Shinab king of [y]Admah, Shemeber king of [y]Zeboiim, and the king of Bela (that is, Zoar). [3][†]And all these joined forces in the Valley of Siddim ([z]that is, the Salt Sea). [4][†]Twelve years they had served Chedorlaomer, but in the thirteenth year they rebelled. [5][†]In the fourteenth year Chedorlaomer and the kings who were with him came and defeated the [a]Rephaim in [b]Ashteroth-karnaim, the [c]Zuzim in Ham, the [d]Emim in Shaveh-kiriathaim, [6]and the [e]Horites in their hill country of Seir as far as [f]El-paran on the border of the wilderness. [7]Then they turned back and came to En-mishpat (that is, [g]Kadesh) and defeated all the country of the Amalekites, and also the Amorites who were dwelling [h]in Hazazon-tamar.

[8]Then the king of Sodom, the king of Gomorrah, the king of Admah, the king of Zeboiim, and the king of Bela (that is, Zoar) went out, and they joined battle in the Valley of Siddim [9]with Chedorlaomer king of Elam, Tidal king of Goiim, Amraphel king of Shinar, and Arioch king of Ellasar, four kings against five. [10]Now the Valley of Siddim was full of [i]bitumen pits, and as the kings of Sodom and Gomorrah fled, some fell into them, and the rest fled [j]to the hill country. [11]So the enemy took [k]all the possessions of Sodom and Gomorrah, and all their provisions, and went their way. [12]They also took Lot, [l]the son of Abram's brother, [m]who was dwelling in Sodom, and his possessions, and went their way.

[13][†]Then one who had escaped came and told Abram the Hebrew, [n]who was living by the [o]oaks [1] of Mamre the Amorite, brother of Eshcol and of Aner. These were allies of Abram. [14]When Abram heard that his kinsman had been taken captive, he led forth his trained men, [p]born in his house, 318 of them, and went in pursuit as far as [q]Dan. [15]And he divided his forces against them by night, he and his servants, and defeated them and pursued them to Hobah, north of Damascus. [16]Then he brought back all the possessions, and also brought back his kinsman Lot [r]with his possessions, and the women and the people.

Abram Blessed by Melchizedek

[17][†]After his return from the defeat of Chedorlaomer and the kings who were with him, the king of Sodom went out to meet him at the Valley of Shaveh (that is, the [s]King's Valley). [18][†]And [t]Melchizedek king of Salem brought out bread and wine. (He was [u]priest of [v]God Most High.) [19][†]And he blessed him and said,

[w]"Blessed be Abram by God Most High,
  [x]Possessor [2] of heaven and earth;
[20] and blessed be God Most High, who has delivered your enemies into your hand!"

And Abram gave him [y]a tenth of everything. [21]And the king of Sodom said to Abram, "Give me the persons, but take the goods for yourself." [22][†]But Abram said to the king of Sodom, [z]"I have lifted my hand [3] to the LORD, God Most High, Possessor of heaven and earth, [23]that [a]I would not take a thread or a sandal strap or anything that is yours, lest you should say, 'I have made Abram rich.' [24]I will take nothing but what the young men have eaten, and the share of the men who went with me. Let [b]Aner, Eshcol, and Mamre take their share."

God's Covenant with Abram

GENESIS 15 [†]After these things the word of the LORD came to Abram in a vision: [c]"Fear not, Abram, I am [d]your shield; your reward shall be very great." [2][†]But Abram said, "O Lord GOD, what will you give me, for I continue [1] childless, and the heir of my house is Eliezer of Damascus?" [3]And Abram said, "Behold, you have given me no offspring, and [e]a member of my household will be my heir." [4]And behold, the word of the LORD came to him: "This man shall not be your heir; [f]your very own son [2] shall be your heir." [5]And he brought him outside and said, "Look toward heaven, and [g]number the stars, if you are able to number them." Then he said to him, [h]"So shall your offspring be." [6][†]And [i]he believed the LORD, and [j]he counted it to him as righteousness.

[7]And he said to him, "I am the LORD who [k]brought you out from Ur of the Chaldeans [l]to give you this land to possess." [8]But he said, "O Lord GOD, [m]how am I to know that I shall possess it?" [9][†]He said to him, "Bring me a heifer three years old, a female goat three years old, a ram three years old, a turtledove, and a young pigeon." [10]And he brought him all these, [n]cut them in half, and laid each half over against the other. But [o]he did not cut the birds in half. [11]And when birds of prey came down on the carcasses, Abram drove them away.

[12]As the sun was going down, a [p]deep sleep fell on Abram. And behold, dreadful and great darkness fell upon him. [13][†]Then the LORD said to Abram, "Know for certain [q]that your offspring will be sojourners in a land that is not theirs and will be servants there, and [r]they will be afflicted for [s]four hundred years. [14]But [t]I will bring judgment on the nation that they serve, and afterward [u]they shall come out with great possessions. [15]As for you, you shall go to your fathers in peace; [v]you shall be buried in a good old age. [16]And they shall come back here in the fourth generation, for [w]the iniquity of the Amorites [x]is not yet complete."

[17][†]When the sun had gone down and it was dark, behold, a smoking fire pot and a flaming torch passed between these pieces. [18][†]On that day the LORD made a covenant with Abram, saying, [y]"To your offspring I give [3] this land, from [z]the river of Egypt to the great river, the river

Euphrates, [19]the land of the Kenites, the Kenizzites, the Kadmonites, [20]the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Rephaim, [21]the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Girgashites and the Jebusites.”

Sarai and Hagar

GENESIS 16 [†] [a]Now Sarai, Abram’s wife, had borne him no children. She had a female Egyptian servant whose name was [b]Hagar. [2][†]And Sarai said to Abram, “Behold now, the LORD has prevented me from bearing children. Go in to my servant; it may be that I shall obtain children [1] by her.” And Abram listened to the voice of Sarai. [3][†]So, after Abram [c]had lived ten years in the land of Canaan, Sarai, Abram’s wife, took Hagar the Egyptian, her servant, and gave her to Abram her husband as a wife. [4]And he went in to Hagar, and she conceived. And when she saw that she had conceived, [d]she looked with contempt on her mistress. [2] [5][†]And Sarai said to Abram, “May the wrong done to me be on you! I gave my servant to your embrace, and when she saw that she had conceived, she looked on me with contempt. May [e]the LORD judge between you and me!” [6]But Abram said to Sarai, “Behold, your servant is in your power; do to her as you please.” Then Sarai dealt harshly with her, and she fled from her.

[7][†]The angel of the LORD found her by a spring of water in the wilderness, the spring on the way to [f]Shur. [8]And he said, “Hagar, servant of Sarai, where have you come from and where are you going?” She said, “I am fleeing from my mistress Sarai.” [9][†]The angel of the LORD said to her, “Return to your mistress and submit to her.” [10]The angel of the LORD also said to her, [g]“I will surely multiply your offspring so that they cannot be numbered for multitude.” [11][†]And the angel of the LORD said to her, and shall bear a son.

You shall call his name Ishmael, [3]
    [h]because the LORD has listened to your affliction.
[12] He shall be [i]a wild donkey of a man, his hand against everyone and everyone’s hand against him, and he shall dwell [j] over against all his kinsmen.”

[13][†]So she called the name of the LORD who spoke to her, “You are a God of seeing,” [4] for she said, [k]“Truly here I have seen him who looks after me.” [5] [14][†]Therefore the well was called [l]Beer-lahai-roi; [6] it lies between [m]Kadesh and Bered.

[15][†]And Hagar bore Abram a son, and Abram called the name of his son, whom Hagar bore, Ishmael. [16][†]Abram was eighty-six years old when Hagar bore Ishmael to Abram.

Abraham and the Covenant of Circumcision

GENESIS 17 [†]When Abram was ninety-nine years old the LORD appeared to Abram and said to him, “I am God Almighty; [1] walk before me, and be [n]blameless, [2]that I may make my covenant between me and you, and [o]may multiply you greatly.” [3]Then Abram [p]fell on his face. And God said to him, [4][†]“Behold, my covenant is with you, and you shall be [q]the father of a multitude of nations. [5]No longer shall your name be called Abram, [2] but [r]your name shall be Abraham, [3] [s]for I have made you the father of a multitude of nations. [6][†]I will make you exceedingly fruitful, and I will make [t]you into nations, and [u]kings shall come from you. [7]And I will [v]establish my covenant between me and you and your offspring after you throughout their generations for an everlasting covenant, [w]to be God to you and to your offspring after you. [8]And [x]I will give to you and to your offspring after you the land of your sojournings, all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession, and [y]I will be their God.”

[9]And God said to Abraham, “As for you, you shall keep my covenant, you and your offspring after you throughout their generations. [10][†]This is my covenant, which you shall keep, between me and you and your offspring after you: Every male among you shall be circumcised. [11][†]You shall be circumcised in the flesh of your foreskins, and it shall be a [z]sign of the covenant between me and you. [12][†]He who is [a]eight days old among you shall be circumcised. Every male throughout your generations, whether born in your house or [b]bought with your money from any foreigner who is not of your offspring, [13]both he who is born in your house and he who is bought with your money, shall surely be circumcised. So shall my covenant be in your flesh an everlasting covenant. [14][†]Any uncircumcised male who is not circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin shall be cut off from his people; he has broken my covenant.”

Isaac’s Birth Promised

[15][†]And God said to Abraham, “As for Sarai your wife, you shall not call her name Sarai, but Sarah [4] shall be her name. [16]I will bless her, and moreover, I will [c] give [5] you a son by her. I will bless her, and [d] she shall become nations; kings of peoples shall come from her.” [17]Then Abraham [e] fell on his face [f] and laughed and said to himself, “Shall a child be born to a man who is a hundred years old? Shall Sarah, who is ninety years old, bear a child?” [18]And Abraham said to God, “Oh that Ishmael might live before you!” [19][†]God said, “No, but [g] Sarah your wife shall bear you a son, and you shall call his name [h] Isaac. [6] I will establish my covenant with him as an everlasting covenant for his offspring after him. [20][†]As for Ishmael, I have heard you; behold, I have blessed him and will make him fruitful and [i] multiply him greatly. He [j] shall father twelve princes, and [k] I will make him into a great nation. [21]But [l] I will establish my covenant with Isaac, [m] whom Sarah shall bear to you at this time next year.”

[22]When he had finished talking with him, [n] God went up from Abraham. [23]Then Abraham took Ishmael his son and all those born in his house or bought with his money, every male among the men of Abraham’s house, and he circumcised the flesh of their foreskins that very day, as God had said to him. [24]Abraham was ninety-nine years old when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin. [25]And Ishmael his son was thirteen years old when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin. [26]That very day Abraham and his son Ishmael were circumcised. [27]And all the men of his house, those born in the house and those bought with money from a foreigner, were circumcised with him.

GENESIS 18 [†]And the LORD appeared to him by the [o] oaks [1] of Mamre, as he sat at the door of his tent in the heat of the day. [2][†]He lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold, three men were standing in front of him.

[p] When he saw them, he ran from the tent door to meet them and bowed himself to the earth [3][†]and said, “O Lord, [2] if I have found favor in your sight, do not pass by your servant. [4][†]Let a [q] little water be brought, and wash your feet, and rest yourselves under the tree, [5]while I bring a morsel of bread, that [r] you may refresh yourselves, and after that you may pass on —[s] since you have come to your servant.” So they said, “Do as you have said.” [6]And Abraham went quickly into the tent to Sarah and said, “Quick! Three seahs [3] of fine flour! Knead it, and make cakes.” [7]And Abraham ran to the herd and took a calf, tender and good, and gave it to a young man, who prepared it quickly. [8]Then he took curds and milk and the calf that he had prepared, and set it before them. And he stood by them under the tree while they ate.

[9]They said to him, “Where is Sarah your wife?” And he said, “She is [t] in the tent.” [10]The LORD said, “I will surely return to you [u] about this time next year, and [v] Sarah your wife shall have a son.” And Sarah was listening at the tent door behind him. [11][†]Now [w] Abraham and Sarah were old, advanced in years. The way of women had ceased to be with Sarah. [12][†] [x] So Sarah laughed to herself, saying, [y] “After I am worn out, and [z] my lord is old, shall I have pleasure?” [13]The LORD said to Abraham, “Why did Sarah laugh and say, ‘Shall I indeed bear a child, now that I am old?’ [14] [a] Is anything too hard [4] for the LORD? [b] At the appointed time I will return to you, about this time next year, and Sarah shall have a son.” [15]But Sarah denied it, [5] saying, “I did not laugh,” for she was afraid. He said, “No, but you did laugh.”

[16][†]Then the men set out from there, and they looked down toward Sodom. And Abraham went with them to set them on their way. [17][†]The LORD said, [c] “Shall I hide from Abraham what I am about to do, [18]seeing that Abraham shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be [d] blessed in him? [19]For I have [e] chosen [6] him, that he may command his children and his household after him to keep the way of the LORD by doing righteousness and justice, so that the LORD may bring to Abraham what he has promised him.” [20]Then the LORD said, “Because [f] the outcry against Sodom and Gomorrah is great and their sin is very grave, [21][†] [g] I will go down to see whether they have done altogether [7] according to the outcry that has come to me. And if not, [h] I will know.”

Abraham Intercedes for Sodom

[22] [i] So the men turned from there and went toward Sodom, but Abraham [j] still stood before the LORD. [23][†]Then Abraham drew near and said, [k] “Will you indeed sweep away the righteous with the wicked? [24]Suppose there are fifty righteous within the city. Will you then sweep away the place and not spare it for the fifty righteous who are in it? [25]Far be it from you to do such a thing, to put the righteous to death with the wicked, [l] so that the righteous fare as the wicked! Far be that from you! [m] Shall not the Judge of all the earth do what is just?” [26][†]And the LORD said, [n] “If I find at Sodom fifty righteous in the city, I will spare the whole place for their sake.”

[27]Abraham answered and said, [o] “Behold, I have undertaken to speak to the Lord, I who am but dust and ashes. [28]Suppose five of the fifty righteous are lacking. Will you destroy the whole city for lack of five?” And he said, “I will not destroy it if I find forty-five there.” [29]Again he spoke to him and said, “Suppose forty are found there.” He answered, “For the sake of forty I will not do it.” [30]Then he said, “Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak. Suppose thirty are found there.” He answered, “I will not do it, if I find thirty there.” [31]He said, “Behold, I have undertaken to speak to the Lord. Suppose twenty are found there.” He answered, “For the sake of twenty I will not destroy it.” [32]Then he said, [p] “Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak again but this once. Suppose ten are found there.” He answered, “For the sake of ten I will not destroy it.” [33]And the LORD went his way, when he had finished speaking to Abraham, and Abraham returned to his place.

God Rescues Lot

GENESIS 19 [†]The [q] two angels came to Sodom in the evening, and Lot was sitting in the gate of Sodom. When Lot saw them, he rose to meet them and bowed himself with his face to the earth [2]and said, “My lords, [r] please turn aside to your servant’s house and spend the night [s] and wash your feet. Then you may rise up early and go on your way.” They said, [t] “No; we will spend the night in the town square." [3]But he pressed them strongly; so they turned aside to him and entered his house. And he made them a feast and baked unleavened bread, and they ate.

[4][†]But before they lay down, the men of the city, the men of Sodom, both young and old, all the people to the last man, surrounded the house. [5][†] [u]And they called to Lot, "Where are the men who came to you tonight? [v]Bring them out to us, that we [w]may know them." [6][†]Lot went out to the men at the entrance, shut the door after him, [7]and said, "I beg you, my brothers, do not act so wickedly. [8] [x]Behold, I have two daughters who have not known any man. Let me bring them out to you, and do to them as you please. Only do nothing to these men, for they have come under the shelter of my roof." [9][†]But they said, "Stand back!" And they said, "This fellow [y]came to sojourn, and [z]he has become the judge! Now we will deal worse with you than with them." Then they pressed hard against the man Lot, and drew near to break the door down. [10]But the men reached out their hands and brought Lot into the house with them and shut the door. [11]And they struck with [a]blindness the men who were at the entrance of the house, both small and great, so that they wore themselves out groping for the door.

[12]Then the men said to Lot, "Have you anyone else here? Sons-in-law, sons, daughters, or anyone you have in the city, [b]bring them out of the place. [13]For we are about to destroy this place, [c]because the outcry against its people has become great before the Lord, and the Lord has sent us to destroy it." [14]So Lot went out and said to his sons-in-law, who were to marry his daughters, [d]"Up! Get out of this place, for the Lord is about to destroy the city." But he seemed to his sons-in-law to be jesting.

[15]As morning dawned, the angels urged Lot, saying, "Up! Take your wife and your two daughters who are here, lest you be swept away in the punishment of the city." [16][†]But he lingered. So the men seized him and his wife and his two daughters by the hand, [e]the Lord being merciful to him, and they brought him out and set him outside the city. [17][†]And as they brought them out, one said, "Escape for your life. [f]Do not look back or stop anywhere in the [g]valley. Escape to the hills, lest you be swept away." [18]And Lot said to them, "Oh, no, my lords. [19]Behold, your servant has found favor in your sight, and you have shown me great kindness in saving my life. But I cannot escape to the hills, lest the disaster overtake me and I die. [20]Behold, this city is near enough to flee to, and it is a little one. Let me escape there—is it not a little one?—and my life will be saved!” [21]He said to him, “Behold, I grant you this favor also, that I will not overthrow the city of which you have spoken. [22]Escape there quickly, for I can do nothing till you arrive there.” Therefore the name of the city was called [h] Zoar. [1]

God Destroys Sodom

[23]The sun had risen on the earth when Lot came to Zoar. [24][†]Then [i] the LORD rained on Sodom and Gomorrah sulfur and fire from the LORD out of heaven. [25]And he overthrew those cities, and all the valley, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and what grew on the ground. [26][†]But Lot’s wife, behind him, looked back, and she became [j] a pillar of salt.

[27][†]And Abraham went early in the morning to the place where he had [k] stood before the LORD. [28]And he looked down toward Sodom and Gomorrah and toward all the land of the valley, and he looked and, behold, the smoke of the land went up like the smoke of a furnace.

[29]So it was that, when God destroyed the cities of the valley, God [l] remembered Abraham and sent Lot out of the midst of the overthrow when he overthrew the cities in which Lot had lived.

Lot and His Daughters

[30]Now Lot went up out of Zoar and [m] lived in the hills with his two daughters, for he was afraid to live in Zoar. So he lived in a cave with his two daughters. [31][†]And the firstborn said to the younger, “Our father is old, and there is not a man on earth to come in to us after the manner of all the earth. [32]Come, let us make our father drink wine, and we will lie with him, that we may preserve offspring from our father.” [33]So they made their father drink wine that night. And the firstborn went in and lay with her father. He did not know when she lay down or when she arose.

[34]The next day, the firstborn said to the younger, “Behold, I lay last night with my father. Let us make him drink wine tonight also. Then you go in and lie with him, that we may preserve offspring from our father.” [35]So they made their father drink wine that night also. And the younger arose and lay with him, and he did not know when she lay down or when she arose. 36Thus both the daughters of Lot became pregnant by their father. 37The firstborn bore a son and called his name Moab. [2] [n]He is the father of the Moabites to this day. 38The younger also bore a son and called his name Ben-ammi. [3] [o]He is the father of the Ammonites to this day.

GENESIS 20 [†]From there Abraham journeyed toward the territory of the Negeb and lived between [p]Kadesh and Shur; and he [q]sojourned in [r]Gerar. 2[†]And Abraham said of Sarah his wife, [s]“She is my sister.” And Abimelech king of Gerar sent and took Sarah. 3[†] [t]But God came to Abimelech [u]in a dream by night and said to him, “Behold, you are a dead man because of the woman whom you have taken, for she is a man’s wife.” 4Now Abimelech had not approached her. So he said, [v]“Lord, will you kill an innocent people? 5Did he not himself say to me, ‘She is my sister’? And she herself said, ‘He is my brother.’ In the integrity of my heart and the innocence of my hands I have done this.” 6Then God said to him in the dream, “Yes, I know that you have done this in the integrity of your heart, and it was I who kept you from sinning [w]against me. Therefore I did not let you touch her. 7[†]Now then, return the man’s wife, [x]for he is a prophet, so that he will pray for you, and you shall live. But if you do not return her, know that you shall surely die, you [y]and all who are yours.”

8So Abimelech rose early in the morning and called all his servants and told them all these things. And the men were very much afraid. 9[†]Then Abimelech called Abraham and said to him, “What have you done to us? And how have I sinned against you, that you have brought on me and my kingdom a great sin? You have done to me things that ought not to be done.” 10And Abimelech said to Abraham, “What did you see, that you did this thing?” 11[†]Abraham said, “I did it because I thought, [z]‘There is no fear of God at all in this place, and [a]they will kill me because of my wife.’ 12[†]Besides, [b]she is indeed my sister, the daughter of my father though not the daughter of my mother, and she became my wife. 13And when [c]God caused me to wander from my father’s house, I said to her, ‘This is the kindness you must do me: at every place to which we come, [d] say of me, "He is my brother.""'

[14][†]Then Abimelech [e] took sheep and oxen, and male servants and female servants, and gave them to Abraham, and returned Sarah his wife to him. [15]And Abimelech said, "Behold, [f] my land is before you; dwell where it pleases you." [16]To Sarah he said, "Behold, I have given [g] your brother a thousand pieces of silver. It is [h] a sign of your innocence in the eyes of all [1] who are with you, and before everyone you are vindicated." [17][†]Then [i] Abraham prayed to God, and God healed Abimelech, and also healed his wife and female slaves so that they bore children. [18]For the LORD [j] had closed all the wombs of the house of Abimelech because of Sarah, Abraham's wife.

The Birth of Isaac

GENESIS 21 [†]The LORD [k] visited Sarah as he had said, and the LORD did to Sarah [l] as he had promised. [2]And Sarah [m] conceived and bore Abraham a son in his old age [n] at the time of which God had spoken to him. [3][†]Abraham called the name of his son who was born to him, whom Sarah bore him, [o] Isaac. [1] [4][†]And Abraham [p] circumcised his son Isaac when he was eight days old, [q] as God had commanded him. [5] [r] Abraham was a hundred years old when his son Isaac was born to him. [6]And Sarah said, [s] "God has made laughter for me; everyone who hears will laugh over me." [7]And she said, "Who would have said to Abraham that Sarah would nurse children? [t] Yet I have borne him a son in his old age."

God Protects Hagar and Ishmael

[8][†]And the child grew and was weaned. And Abraham made a great feast on the day that Isaac was weaned. [9][†]But Sarah [u] saw the son of Hagar the Egyptian, whom she had borne to Abraham, [v] laughing. [2] [10]So she said to Abraham, [w] "Cast out this slave woman with her son, for the son of this slave woman shall not be heir with my son Isaac." [11]And the thing was very displeasing to Abraham on account of his son. [12][†]But God said to Abraham, "Be not displeased because of the boy and because of your slave woman. Whatever Sarah says to you, do as she tells you, for [x] through Isaac shall your offspring be named. [13]And I will make [y] a nation of the son of the slave woman also, because he is your offspring.” [14][†]So Abraham rose early in the morning and took bread and a skin of water and gave it to Hagar, putting it on her shoulder, along with the child, and sent her away. And she departed and wandered in the wilderness of [z] Beersheba.

[15]When the water in the skin was gone, she put the child under one of the bushes. [16]Then she went and sat down opposite him a good way off, about the distance of a bowshot, for she said, “Let me not look on the death of the child.” And as she sat opposite him, she lifted up her voice and wept. [17][†]And God heard the voice of the boy, and the angel of God called to Hagar from heaven and said to her, “What troubles you, Hagar? Fear not, for God has heard the voice of the boy where he is. [18]Up! Lift up the boy, and hold him fast with your hand, for I will make him into a great nation.” [19]Then [a] God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water. And she went and filled the skin with water and gave the boy a drink. [20]And God was with the boy, and he grew up. He lived in the wilderness [b] and became an expert with the bow. [21][†]He lived in the wilderness of Paran, and his mother took a wife for him from the land of Egypt.

A Treaty with Abimelech

[22][†]At that time [c] Abimelech and Phicol the commander of his army said to Abraham, [d] “God is with you in all that you do. [23]Now therefore swear to me here by God that you will not deal falsely with me or with my descendants or with my posterity, but [e] as I have dealt kindly with you, so you will deal with me and with the land where you have sojourned.” [24]And Abraham said, “I will swear.”

[25][†]When Abraham reproved Abimelech about a well of water that Abimelech’s servants [f] had seized, [26]Abimelech said, “I do not know who has done this thing; you did not tell me, and I have not heard of it until today.” [27]So Abraham took sheep and oxen and gave them to Abimelech, and the two men [g] made a covenant. [28]Abraham set seven ewe lambs of the flock apart. [29]And Abimelech said to Abraham, “What is the meaning of these seven ewe lambs that you have set apart?” [30]He said, “These seven ewe lambs you will take from my hand, that this [3] may be a witness for me that I dug this well.” [31][†]Therefore [h]that place was called Beersheba, [4] because there both of them swore an oath. [32][†]So they made a covenant at Beersheba. Then Abimelech and Phicol the commander of his army rose up and returned to the land of the Philistines. [33][†]Abraham planted a tamarisk tree in Beersheba and [i]called there on the name of the LORD, [j]the Everlasting God. [34]And Abraham sojourned many days in the land of the Philistines.

The Sacrifice of Isaac

GENESIS 22 [†]After these things [k]God tested Abraham and said to him, “Abraham!” And he said, “Here I am.” [2][†]He said, “Take your son, your only son Isaac, whom you love, and go to [l]the land of Moriah, and offer him there as a burnt offering on one of the mountains of which I shall tell you.” [3][†]So Abraham rose early in the morning, saddled his donkey, and took two of his young men with him, and his son Isaac. And he cut the wood for the burnt offering and arose and went to the place of which God had told him. [4][†]On the third day Abraham lifted up his eyes and saw the place from afar. [5][†]Then Abraham said to his young men, “Stay here with the donkey; I and the boy [1] will go over there and worship and come again to you.” [6]And Abraham took the wood of the burnt offering and [m]laid it on Isaac his son. And he took in his hand the fire and the knife. So they went both of them together. [7]And Isaac said to his father Abraham, “My father!” And he said, “Here I am, my son.” He said, “Behold, the fire and the wood, but where is the lamb for a burnt offering?” [8]Abraham said, [n]“God will provide for himself the lamb for a burnt offering, my son.” So they went both of them together.

[9]When they came to the place of which God had told him, Abraham built the altar there and laid the wood in order and bound Isaac his son and [o]laid him on the altar, on top of the wood. [10]Then Abraham reached out his hand and took the knife to slaughter his son. [11][†]But the angel of the LORD called to him from heaven and said, “Abraham, Abraham!” And he said, “Here I am.” [12][†]He said, [p]“Do not lay your hand on the boy or do anything to him, for [q]now I know that you fear God, seeing you have not withheld your son, your only son, from me.” [13][†]And Abraham lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold, behind him was a ram, caught in a thicket by his horns. And Abraham went and took the ram and offered it up as a burnt offering instead of his son. [14][†]So Abraham called the name of that place, [r]“The LORD will provide”; [2] as it is said to this day, “On the mount of the LORD it shall be provided.” [3]

[15][†]And the angel of the LORD called to Abraham a second time from heaven [16][†]and said, [s]“By myself I have sworn, declares the LORD, because you have done this and have not withheld your son, your only son, [17]I will surely bless you, and I will surely multiply your offspring [t]as the stars of heaven and [u]as the sand that is on the seashore. And your offspring shall possess [v]the gate of his [4] enemies, [18]and [w]in your offspring shall all the nations of the earth be blessed, [x]because you have obeyed my voice.” [19]So Abraham returned to his young men, and they arose and went together to [y]Beersheba. And Abraham lived at [y]Beersheba.

[20]Now after these things it was told to Abraham, “Behold, [z]Milcah also has borne children to your brother Nahor: [21] [a]Uz his firstborn, [b]Buz his brother, Kemuel the father of Aram, [22]Chesed, Hazo, Pildash, Jidlaph, and Bethuel.” [23]([c]Bethuel fathered Rebekah.) These eight Milcah bore to Nahor, Abraham’s brother. [24][†]Moreover, his concubine, whose name was Reumah, bore Tebah, Gaham, Tahash, and Maacah.

Sarah’s Death and Burial

GENESIS 23 [†]Sarah lived 127 years; these were the years of the life of Sarah. [2][†]And Sarah died at [d]Kiriath-arba (that is, [e]Hebron) in the land of Canaan, and Abraham went in to mourn for Sarah and to weep for her. [3]And Abraham rose up from before his dead and said to the Hittites, [1] [4][†][f]“I am a sojourner and foreigner among you; [g]give me property among you for a burying place, that I may bury my dead out of my sight.” [5]The Hittites answered Abraham, [6][†]“Hear us, my lord; you are a prince of God [2] among us. Bury your dead in the choicest of our tombs. None of us will withhold from you his tomb to hinder you from burying your dead.” [7]Abraham rose and bowed to the Hittites, the people of the land. [8]And he said to them, “If you are willing that I should bury my dead out of my sight, hear me and entreat for me Ephron the son of Zohar, [9]that he may give me the cave of Machpelah, which he owns; it is at the end of his field. For the full price let him give it to me in your presence as property for a burying place.”

[10][†]Now Ephron was sitting among the Hittites, and Ephron the Hittite answered Abraham in the hearing of the Hittites, of all who [h]went in at the gate of his city, [11][†]“No, my lord, hear me: I give you the field, and I give you the cave that is in it. In the sight of the sons of my people I give it to you. Bury your dead.” [12]Then Abraham bowed down before the people of the land. [13]And he said to Ephron in the hearing of the people of the land, “But if you will, hear me: I give the price of the field. Accept it from me, that I may bury my dead there.” [14]Ephron answered Abraham, [15]“My lord, listen to me: a piece of land worth four hundred [i]shekels [3] of silver, what is that between you and me? Bury your dead.” [16]Abraham listened to Ephron, and Abraham [j]weighed out for Ephron the silver that he had named in the hearing of the Hittites, four hundred shekels of silver, according to the weights current among the merchants.

[17][†]So [k]the field of Ephron in Machpelah, which was to the east of Mamre, the field with the cave that was in it and all the trees that were in the field, throughout its whole area, was made over [18]to Abraham as a possession in the presence of the Hittites, before all who went in at the gate of his city. [19]After this, Abraham buried Sarah his wife in the cave of the field of Machpelah east of Mamre (that is, Hebron) in the land of Canaan. [20][†]The field and the cave that is in it [l] were made over to Abraham as property for a burying place by the Hittites.

Isaac and Rebekah

GENESIS 24 [†]Now Abraham was old, well advanced in years. And the LORD [m] had blessed Abraham in all things. [2][†]And Abraham said to his servant, [n] the oldest of his household, who had charge of all that he had, [o] “Put your hand under my thigh, [3]that I may make you swear by the LORD, the God of heaven and God of the earth, that [p] you will not take a wife for my son from the daughters of the Canaanites, among whom I dwell, [4] [q] but will go to my country and to my kindred, and take a wife for my son Isaac.” [5]The servant said to him, “Perhaps the woman may not be willing to follow me to this land. Must I then take your son back to the land from which you came?” [6]Abraham said to him, “See to it that you do not take my son back there. [7]The LORD, the God of heaven, [r] who took me from my father’s house and from the land of my kindred, and who spoke to me and swore to me, [s] ‘To your offspring I will give this land,’ [t] he will send his angel before you, and you shall take a wife for my son from there. [8]But if the woman is not willing to follow you, then [u] you will be free from this oath of mine; only you must not take my son back there.” [9][†]So the servant [v] put his hand under the thigh of Abraham his master and swore to him concerning this matter.

[10][†]Then the servant took ten of his master’s camels and departed, taking all sorts of choice gifts from his master; and he arose and went to [w] Mesopotamia [1] to the city of Nahor. [11]And he made the camels kneel down outside the city by the well of water at the time of evening, the time when [x] women go out to draw water. [12][†]And he said, “O LORD, [y] God of my master Abraham, [z] please grant me success today and show steadfast love to my master Abraham. [13]Behold, [a] I am standing by the spring of water, and the daughters of the men of the city are coming out to draw water. [14]Let the young woman to whom I shall say, ‘Please let down your jar that I may drink,’ and who shall say, ‘Drink, and I will water your camels’—let her be the one whom you have appointed for your servant Isaac. [b]By this [2] I shall know that you have shown steadfast love to my master.”

[15]Before he had finished speaking, behold, Rebekah, who was born to Bethuel the son of [c]Milcah, the wife of Nahor, Abraham’s brother, came out with her water jar on her shoulder. [16][†]The young woman [d]was very attractive in appearance, a maiden [3] whom no man had known. She went down to the spring and filled her jar and came up. [17]Then the servant ran to meet her and said, “Please give me a little water to drink from your jar.” [18]She said, “Drink, my lord.” And she quickly let down her jar upon her hand and gave him a drink. [19]When she had finished giving him a drink, she said, “I will draw water for your camels also, until they have finished drinking.” [20]So she quickly emptied her jar into the trough and ran again to the well to draw water, and she drew for all his camels. [21]The man gazed at her in silence to learn whether the Lord had prospered his journey or not.

[22]When the camels had finished drinking, the man took a gold ring weighing a half shekel, [4] and two bracelets for her arms weighing ten gold shekels, [23]and said, “Please tell me whose daughter you are. Is there room in your father’s house for us to spend the night?” [24]She said to him, [e]“I am the daughter of Bethuel the son of Milcah, whom she bore to Nahor.” [25]She added, “We have plenty of both straw and fodder, and room to spend the night.” [26][f]The man bowed his head and worshiped the Lord [27][†]and said, “Blessed be the Lord, [g]the God of my master Abraham, who has not forsaken [h]his steadfast love and his faithfulness toward my master. As for me, the Lord [i]has led me in the way to the house of my master’s kinsmen.” [28]Then the young woman ran and told her mother’s household about these things.

[29]Rebekah had a brother whose name was [j]Laban. Laban ran out toward the man, to the spring. [30]As soon as he saw the ring and the bracelets on his sister’s arms, and heard the words of Rebekah his sister, “Thus the man spoke to me,” he went to the man. And behold, he was standing by the camels at the spring. [31]He said, “Come in, [k]O blessed of the Lord. Why do you stand outside? For I have prepared the house and a place for the

gave [l] straw and fodder to the camels, and there was [m] water to wash his feet and the feet of the men who were with him. 33Then food was set before him to eat. But he said, "I will not eat until I have said what I have to say." He said, "Speak on."

34So he said, "I am Abraham's servant. 35The LORD [n] has greatly blessed my master, and he has become great. He has given him flocks and herds, silver and gold, male servants and female servants, camels and donkeys. 36And Sarah my master's wife [o] bore a son to my master when she was old, and [p] to him he has given all that he has. 37 [q] My master made me swear, saying, 'You shall not take a wife for my son from the daughters of the Canaanites, in whose land I dwell, 38but you shall go to my father's house and to my clan and take a wife for my son.' 39I said to my master, 'Perhaps the woman will not follow me.' 40But he said to me, 'The LORD, [r] before whom I have walked, will send his angel with you and [s] prosper your way. You shall take a wife for my son from my clan and from my father's house. 41Then you will be free from my oath, when you come to my clan. And if they will not give her to you, you will be free from my oath.'

42"I came today to the spring and said, [t] 'O LORD, the God of my master Abraham, if now you [s] are prospering the way that I go, 43behold, I am standing [u] by the spring of water. Let the virgin who comes out to draw water, to whom I shall say, "Please give me a little water from your jar to drink," 44 [v] and who will say to me, "Drink, and I will draw for your camels also," let her be the woman whom the LORD has appointed for my master's son.'

45"Before I had finished [w] speaking in my heart, behold, Rebekah came out with her water jar on her shoulder, and she went down to the spring and drew water. I said to her, 'Please let me drink.' 46She quickly let down her jar from her shoulder and said, 'Drink, and I will give your camels drink also.' So I drank, and she gave the camels drink also. 47Then I asked her, 'Whose daughter are you?' She said, 'The daughter of Bethuel, Nahor's son, whom Milcah bore to him.' [x] So I put the ring on her nose and the bracelets on her arms. 48 [y] Then I bowed my head and worshiped the LORD and blessed the LORD, [t] the God of my master Abraham, who had led me by the right way [5] to take [z] the daughter of my master's kinsman for his son. 49Now then, if you are going to [a] show steadfast love and faithfulness to my master, tell me; and if not, tell me, that I may turn to the right hand or to the left.”

[50][†]Then Laban and Bethuel answered and said, “The thing has come from the LORD; we cannot [b]speak to you bad or good. [51]Behold, Rebekah is before you; take her and go, and let her be the wife of your master’s son, [c]as the LORD has spoken.”

[52]When Abraham’s servant heard their words, [y]he bowed himself to the earth before the LORD. [53][†]And the servant brought out jewelry of silver and of gold, and garments, and gave them to Rebekah. He also gave to her brother and to her mother costly ornaments. [54]And he and the men who were with him ate and drank, and they spent the night there. When they arose in the morning, he said, [d]“Send me away to my master.” [55]Her brother and her mother said, “Let the young woman remain with us a while, at least ten days; after that she may go.” [56]But he said to them, “Do not delay me, since the LORD has prospered my way. Send me away that I may go to my master.” [57]They said, “Let us call the young woman and ask her.” [58]And they called Rebekah and said to her, “Will you go with this man?” She said, “I will go.” [59]So they sent away Rebekah their sister and [e]her nurse, and Abraham’s servant and his men. [60]And they blessed Rebekah and said to her,

“Our sister, may you [f]become thousands of ten thousands, and [g]may your offspring possess the gate of those who hate him!” [6]

[61]Then Rebekah and her young women arose and rode on the camels and followed the man. Thus the servant took Rebekah and went his way.

[62]Now Isaac had returned from [h]Beer-lahai-roi and was dwelling in the Negeb. [63][†]And Isaac went out [i]to meditate in the field toward evening. And he lifted up his eyes and saw, and behold, there were camels coming. [64]And Rebekah lifted up her eyes, and when she saw Isaac, she dismounted from the camel [65][†]and said to the servant, “Who is that man, walking in the field to meet us?” The servant said, “It is my master.” So she took her veil and covered herself. [66]And the servant told Isaac all the things that he had done. 67Then Isaac brought her into the tent of Sarah his mother and took Rebekah, and she became his wife, and he loved her. So Isaac was [j]comforted after his mother's [k]death.

Abraham's Death and His Descendants

GENESIS 25 [†]Abraham took another wife, whose name was Keturah. 2 [l]She bore him Zimran, Jokshan, Medan, Midian, Ishbak, and Shuah. 3Jokshan fathered Sheba and Dedan. The sons of Dedan were Asshurim, Letushim, and Leummim. 4The sons of Midian were Ephah, Epher, Hanoch, Abida, and Eldaah. All these were the children of Keturah. 5[†] [m]Abraham gave all he had to Isaac. 6But to the sons of his concubines Abraham gave gifts, and while he was still living he [n]sent them away from his son Isaac, eastward [o]to the east country.

7These are the days of the years of Abraham's life, 175 years. 8Abraham [p]breathed his last and [q]died in a good old age, an old man and full of years, and was gathered to his people. 9[†]Isaac and Ishmael [r]his sons buried him in the cave of Machpelah, in the field of Ephron the son of Zohar the Hittite, east of Mamre, 10the field [s]that Abraham purchased from the Hittites. [t]There Abraham was buried, with Sarah his wife. 11After the death of Abraham, God blessed Isaac his son. And Isaac settled at [u]Beer-lahai-roi.

12[†]These are the generations of Ishmael, Abraham's son, [v]whom Hagar the Egyptian, Sarah's servant, bore to Abraham. 13 [w]These are the names of the sons of Ishmael, named in the order of their birth: [x]Nebaioth, the firstborn of Ishmael; and [x]Kedar, Adbeel, Mibsam, 14Mishma, Dumah, Massa, 15Hadad, [y]Tema, [z]Jetur, [z]Naphish, and Kedemah. 16These are the sons of Ishmael and these are their names, by their villages and by their encampments, [a]twelve princes according to their tribes. 17(These are the years of the life of Ishmael: 137 years. He [b]breathed his last and died, and was gathered to his people.) 18 [c]They settled from Havilah to [d]Shur, which is opposite Egypt in the direction of Assyria. He settled [1] over against all his kinsmen.

The Birth of Esau and Jacob

19[†]These are the generations of Isaac, Abraham’s son: [e] Abraham fathered Isaac, 20[†]and Isaac was forty years old when he took Rebekah, [f] the daughter of Bethuel the Aramean of [g] Paddan-aram, [h] the sister of Laban the Aramean, to be his wife. 21[†]And Isaac prayed to the LORD for his wife, because she was barren. And [i] the LORD granted his prayer, and Rebekah his wife conceived. 22[†]The children struggled together within her, and she said, “If it is thus, why is this happening to me?” [2] So she went [j] to inquire of the LORD. 23And the LORD said to her,

[k] “Two nations are in your womb, and two peoples from within you [3] shall be divided;
[l] the one shall be stronger than the other,
  [m] the older shall serve the younger.”

24When her days to give birth were completed, behold, there were twins in her womb. 25The first came out red, [n] all his body like a hairy cloak, so they called his name Esau. 26[†]Afterward his brother came out with [o] his hand holding Esau’s heel, so [p] his name was called Jacob. [4] Isaac was sixty years old when she bore them.

27[†]When the boys grew up, Esau was [q] a skillful hunter, a man of the field, while Jacob was a quiet man, [r] dwelling in tents. 28Isaac loved Esau because [s] he ate of his game, but Rebekah loved Jacob.

Esau Sells His Birthright

29Once when Jacob was cooking stew, Esau came in from the field, and he was exhausted. 30[†]And Esau said to Jacob, “Let me eat some of that red stew, for I am exhausted!” (Therefore his name was called Edom. [5]) 31Jacob said, “Sell me your birthright now.” 32Esau said, “I am about to die; of what use is a birthright to me?” 33Jacob said, “Swear to me now.” So he swore to him and [t] sold his birthright to Jacob. 34Then Jacob gave Esau bread and lentil stew, and he ate and drank and rose and went his way. Thus Esau despised his birthright.

God’s Promise to Isaac

GENESIS 26 [†]Now there was a famine in the land, besides [u]the former famine that was in the days of Abraham. And Isaac went to Gerar to [v]Abimelech king of the [w]Philistines. [2]And the LORD appeared to him and said, “Do not go down to Egypt; dwell [x]in the land of which I shall tell you. [3][†][y]Sojourn in this land, and [z]I will be with you and will bless you, for [a]to you and to your offspring I will give all these lands, and I will establish [b]the oath that I swore to Abraham your father. [4] [c]I will multiply your offspring as the stars of heaven and will give to your offspring all these lands. And [d]in your offspring all the nations of the earth shall be blessed, [5]because [e]Abraham obeyed my voice and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws.”

Isaac and Abimelech

[6][†]So Isaac settled in Gerar. [7]When the men of the place asked him about his wife, [f]he said, “She is my sister,” for [g]he feared to say, “My wife,” thinking, “lest the men of the place should kill me because of Rebekah,” because [h]she was attractive in appearance. [8][†]When he had been there a long time, Abimelech king of the Philistines looked out of a window and saw Isaac laughing with [1] Rebekah his wife. [9]So Abimelech called Isaac and said, “Behold, she is your wife. How then could you say, ‘She is my sister’?” Isaac said to him, “Because I thought, ‘Lest I die because of her.’” [10]Abimelech said, “What is this you have done to us? One of the people might easily have lain with your wife, and [i]you would have brought guilt upon us.” [11]So Abimelech warned all the people, saying, “Whoever touches this man or his wife shall surely be put to death.”

[12]And Isaac sowed in that land and reaped in the same year a hundredfold. The LORD [j]blessed him, [13]and the man became rich, and gained more and more until he became very wealthy. [14]He had possessions of flocks and herds and many servants, so that the Philistines [k]envied him. [15][†](Now the Philistines had stopped and filled with earth all the wells [l]that his father’s servants had dug in the days of Abraham his father.) [16]And Abimelech said to Isaac, “Go away from us, for you are much mightier than we.”

[17][†]So Isaac departed from there and encamped in the Valley of Gerar and settled there. [18]And Isaac dug again the wells of water that had been dug in the days of Abraham his father, which the Philistines had stopped after the death of Abraham. And [m]he gave them the names that his father had given them. [19][†]But when Isaac's servants dug in the valley and found there a well of spring water, [20]the herdsmen of Gerar [n]quarreled with Isaac's herdsmen, saying, "The water is ours." So he called the name of the well Esek, [2] because they contended with him. [21]Then they dug another well, and they quarreled over that also, so he called its name Sitnah. [3] [22]And he moved from there and dug another well, and they did not quarrel over it. So he called its name Rehoboth, [4] saying, "For now the LORD has made room for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land."

[23][†]From there he went up to Beersheba. [24]And the LORD appeared to him the same night and said, [o]"I am the God of Abraham your father. [p]Fear not, for [q]I am with you and will bless you and multiply your offspring for my servant Abraham's sake." [25]So he [r]built an altar there and called upon the name of the LORD and pitched his tent there. And there Isaac's servants dug a well.

[26][†]When Abimelech went to him from Gerar with Ahuzzath his adviser and [s]Phicol the commander of his army, [27]Isaac said to them, "Why have you come to me, seeing that you hate me and [t]have sent me away from you?" [28]They said, "We see plainly that the LORD has been with you. So we said, let there be a sworn pact between us, between you and us, and let us make a covenant with you, [29]that you will do us no harm, just as we have not touched you and have done to you nothing but good and have sent you away in peace. [u]You are now the blessed of the LORD." [30]So he made them a feast, and they ate and drank. [31]In the morning they rose early and [v]exchanged oaths. And Isaac sent them on their way, and they departed from him in peace. [32][†]That same day Isaac's servants came and told him about the well that they had dug and said to him, "We have found water." [33]He called it Shibah; [5] therefore the name of the city is [w]Beersheba to this day.

[34][†]When Esau was forty years old, he took [x]Judith the daughter of Beeri the Hittite to be his wife, and Basemath the daughter of Elon the Hittite, [35]and [y] they made life bitter [6] for Isaac and Rebekah.

Isaac Blesses Jacob

GENESIS 27 [†]When Isaac was old and [z] his eyes were dim so that he could not see, he called Esau his older son and said to him, "My son"; and he answered, "Here I am." [2]He said, "Behold, I am old; I do not know the day of my death. [3] [a] Now then, take your weapons, your quiver and your bow, and go out to the field and hunt game for me, [4][†]and prepare for me delicious food, such as I love, and bring it to me so that I may eat, that my soul [b] may bless you before I die."

[5][†]Now Rebekah was listening when Isaac spoke to his son Esau. So when Esau went to the field to hunt for game and bring it, [6]Rebekah said to her son Jacob, "I heard your father speak to your brother Esau, [7]'Bring me game and prepare for me delicious food, that I may eat it and bless you before the LORD before I die.' [8]Now therefore, my son, [c] obey my voice as I command you. [9]Go to the flock and bring me two good young goats, so that I may prepare from them delicious food for your father, such as he loves. [10]And you shall bring it to your father to eat, [d] so that he may bless you before he dies." [11][†]But Jacob said to Rebekah his mother, "Behold, [e] my brother Esau is a hairy man, and I am a smooth man. [12]Perhaps my father [f] will feel me, and I shall seem to be mocking him and bring [g] a curse upon myself and not a blessing." [13]His mother said to him, [h] "Let your curse be on me, my son; only obey my voice, and go, bring them to me."

[14]So he went and took them and brought them to his mother, and his mother prepared delicious food, such as his father loved. [15]Then Rebekah took the [i] best garments of Esau her older son, which were with her in the house, and put them on Jacob her younger son. [16]And the skins of the young goats she put on his hands and on the smooth part of his neck. [17]And she put the delicious food and the bread, which she had prepared, into the hand of her son Jacob.

[18]So he went in to his father and said, "My father." And he said, "Here I am. Who are you, my son?" [19]Jacob said to his father, "I am Esau your firstborn. I have done as you told me; now sit up and eat of my game, that your soul may bless me." [20]But Isaac said to his son, "How is it that you have found it so quickly, my son?" He answered, "Because the LORD your God granted me success." [21]Then Isaac said to Jacob, "Please come near, that I [j] may feel you, my son, to know whether you are really my son Esau or not." [22]So Jacob went near to Isaac his father, who felt him and said, "The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau." [23]And he did not recognize him, because [k] his hands were hairy like his brother Esau's hands. [l] So he blessed him. [24]He said, "Are you really my son Esau?" He answered, "I am." [25]Then he said, "Bring it near to me, [m] that I may eat of my son's game and bless you." So he brought it near to him, and he ate; and he brought him wine, and he drank.

[26]Then his father Isaac said to him, "Come near and kiss me, my son." [27]So he came near and kissed him. And Isaac smelled the smell of his garments [l] and blessed him and said,

"See, [n] the smell of my son is as the smell of a field that the LORD has blessed!
[28] May God give you of [o] the dew of heaven and of the fatness of the earth and [p] plenty of grain and wine.
[29][†] Let peoples serve you, and nations [q] bow down to you.
[r] Be lord over your brothers, and may your mother's sons bow down to you.
[s] Cursed be everyone who curses you, and blessed be everyone who blesses you!"

[30][†]As soon as Isaac had finished blessing Jacob, when Jacob had scarcely gone out from the presence of Isaac his father, Esau his brother came in from his hunting. [31]He also prepared delicious food and brought it to his father. And he said to his father, "Let my father arise and eat of his son's game, that you may bless me." [32]His father Isaac said to him, "Who are you?" He answered, "I am your son, your firstborn, Esau." [33]Then Isaac trembled very violently and said, "Who was it then that hunted game and brought it to me, and I ate it all before you came, and I have blessed him? Yes, and he shall be blessed." [34]As soon as Esau heard the words of his father, [t]he cried out with an exceedingly great and bitter cry and said to his father, “Bless me, even me also, O my father!” [35]But he said, “Your brother came deceitfully, and he has taken away your blessing.” [36]Esau said, [u]“Is he not rightly named Jacob? [1] For he has cheated me these two times. [v]He took away my birthright, and behold, now he has taken away my blessing.” Then he said, “Have you not reserved a blessing for me?” [37]Isaac answered and said to Esau, “Behold, [w]I have made him lord over you, and all his brothers I have given to him for servants, and [x]with grain and wine I have sustained him. What then can I do for you, my son?” [38]Esau said to his father, “Have you but one blessing, my father? Bless me, even me also, O my father.” And [t]Esau lifted up his voice and wept.

[39]Then Isaac his father answered and said to him:

“Behold, [y]away from [2] the fatness of the earth shall your dwelling be,
and away from [3] the dew of heaven on high.
[40][†] By your sword you shall live, and you [z]shall serve your brother;
but when you grow restless
[a]you shall break his yoke from your neck.”

[41][†]Now Esau [b]hated Jacob because of the blessing with which his father had blessed him, and Esau said to himself, [c]“The days of mourning for my father are approaching; [d]then I will kill my brother Jacob.” [42]But the words of Esau her older son were told to Rebekah. So she sent and called Jacob her younger son and said to him, “Behold, your brother Esau comforts himself about you by planning to kill you. [43]Now therefore, my son, obey my voice. Arise, flee to Laban my brother in Haran [44]and stay with him a while, until your brother’s fury turns away— [45]until your brother’s anger turns away from you, and he forgets what you have done to him. Then I will send and bring you from there. Why should I be bereft of you both in one day?”

[46][†]Then Rebekah said to Isaac, [e]“I loathe my life because of the Hittite women. [4] [f]If Jacob marries one of the Hittite women like these, one of the women of the land, what good will my life be to me?”

Jacob Sent to Laban

GENESIS 28 [†]Then Isaac called Jacob [g] and blessed him and directed him, [f] “You must not take a wife from the Canaanite women. 2 [h] Arise, go to Paddan-aram to the house of [i] Bethuel your mother’s father, and take as your wife from there one of the daughters of Laban your mother’s brother. 3[†] [j] God Almighty [1] bless you and make you fruitful and multiply you, that you may become a company of peoples. 4May he give [k] the blessing of Abraham to you and to your offspring with you, that you may take possession of [l] the land of your sojournings that God gave to Abraham!” 5Thus Isaac sent Jacob away. And he went to Paddan-aram, to Laban, the son of Bethuel the Aramean, the brother of Rebekah, Jacob’s and Esau’s mother.

Esau Marries an Ishmaelite

6[†]Now Esau saw that Isaac had blessed Jacob and sent him away to Paddan-aram to take a wife from there, and that as he blessed him he directed him, “You must not take a wife from the Canaanite women,” 7and that Jacob had obeyed his father and his mother and gone to Paddan-aram. 8So when Esau saw [m] that the Canaanite women did not please Isaac his father, 9Esau went to Ishmael and took as his wife, besides the wives he had, [n] Mahalath the daughter of Ishmael, Abraham’s son, the sister of [o] Nebaioth.

Jacob’s Dream

10[†]Jacob left [p] Beersheba and went toward [q] Haran. 11And he came to a certain place and stayed there that night, because the sun had set. Taking one of the stones of the place, he put it under his head and lay down in that place to sleep. 12[†]And he [r] dreamed, and behold, there was a ladder [2] set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven. And behold, [s] the angels of God were ascending and descending on it! 13[†]And behold, [t] the LORD stood above it [3] and said, [u] “I am the LORD, the God of Abraham your father and the God of Isaac. [v] The land on which you lie I will give to you and to your offspring. 14Your offspring shall be like [w] the dust of the earth, and you shall spread abroad to the west and to the east and to the north and to the south, and in you and [x]your offspring shall all the families of the earth be blessed. [15]Behold, [y]I am with you and will keep you wherever you go, and [z]will bring you back to this land. For I will [a]not leave you until I have done what I have promised you." [16][†]Then Jacob awoke from his sleep and said, "Surely the Lord is [b]in this place, and I did not know it." [17]And he was afraid and said, "How awesome is this place! This is none other than the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven."

[18][†]So early in the morning Jacob took the stone that he had put under his head and set it up [c]for a pillar [d]and poured oil on the top of it. [19][†]He called the name of that place [e]Bethel, [4] but the name of the city was Luz at the first. [20][†]Then Jacob [f]made a vow, saying, "If God will be with me and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat and clothing to wear, [21] [g]so that I come again to my father's house in peace, [h]then the Lord shall be my God, [22][†]and this stone, which I have set up for a pillar, [i]shall be God's house. And [j]of all that you give me I will give a full tenth to you."

Jacob Marries Leah and Rachel

GENESIS 29 [†]Then Jacob went on his journey and came to [k]the land of the people of the east. [2]As he looked, he saw a well in the field, and behold, three flocks of sheep lying beside it, for out of that well the flocks were watered. The stone on the well's mouth was large, [3]and when all the flocks were gathered there, the shepherds would roll the stone from the mouth of the well and water the sheep, and put the stone back in its place over the mouth of the well.

[4][†]Jacob said to them, "My brothers, where do you come from?" They said, [l]"We are from Haran." [5]He said to them, "Do you know Laban the son of Nahor?" They said, "We know him." [6][†]He said to them, "Is it well with him?" They said, "It is well; and see, Rachel his daughter is coming with the sheep!" [7]He said, "Behold, it is still high day; it is not time for the livestock to be gathered together. Water the sheep and go, pasture them." [8]But they said, "We cannot until all the flocks are gathered together and the stone is rolled from the mouth of the well; then we water the sheep."

[9]While he was still speaking with them, [m]Rachel came with her father’s sheep, for she was a shepherdess. [10][†]Now as soon as Jacob saw Rachel the daughter of Laban his mother’s brother, and the sheep of Laban his mother’s brother, Jacob came near and rolled the stone from the well’s mouth and watered the flock of Laban his mother’s brother. [11][†]Then Jacob kissed Rachel and wept aloud. [12]And Jacob told Rachel that he was [n]her father’s kinsman, and that he was Rebekah’s son, [o]and she ran and told her father.

[13]As soon as Laban heard the news about Jacob, his sister’s son, [o]he ran to meet him and embraced him and kissed him and brought him to his house. Jacob told Laban all these things, [14]and Laban said to him, [p]“Surely you are my bone and my flesh!” And he stayed with him a month.

[15]Then Laban said to Jacob, “Because you are my kinsman, should you therefore serve me for nothing? Tell me, what shall your wages be?” [16]Now Laban had two daughters. The name of the older was Leah, and the name of the younger was Rachel. [17]Leah’s eyes were weak, [1] but Rachel was beautiful in form and appearance. [18][†]Jacob loved Rachel. And he said, [q]“I will serve you seven years for your younger daughter Rachel.” [19]Laban said, “It is better that I give her to you than that I should give her to any other man; stay with me.” [20]So Jacob [q]served seven years for Rachel, and they seemed to him but a few days because of the love he had for her.

[21]Then Jacob said to Laban, “Give me my wife that I may go in to her, for my time is completed.” [22][†]So Laban gathered together all the people of the place and [r]made a feast. [23][†]But in the evening he took his daughter Leah and brought her to Jacob, and he went in to her. [24](Laban gave [2] [s]his female servant Zilpah to his daughter Leah to be her servant.) [25][†]And in the morning, behold, it was Leah! And Jacob said to Laban, “What is this you have done to me? Did I not serve with you for Rachel? Why then have you deceived me?” [26][†]Laban said, “It is not so done in our country, to give the younger before the firstborn. [27][†] [t]Complete the week of this one, and we will give you the other also in return for serving me another seven years.” [28]Jacob did so, and completed her week. Then Laban gave him his daughter Rachel to be his wife. [29](Laban gave [u]his female servant Bilhah to his daughter Rachel to be her servant.) [30]So Jacob went in to Rachel also, and he loved Rachel more than Leah, and served Laban [v] for another seven years.

Jacob’s Children

[31][†]When the LORD saw that Leah was [w] hated, [x] he opened her womb, but Rachel was barren. [32][†]And Leah conceived and bore a son, and she called his name Reuben, [3] for she said, “Because the LORD [y] has looked upon my affliction; for now my husband will love me.” [33]She conceived again and bore a son, and said, “Because the LORD has heard that I am hated, he has given me this son also.” And she called his name Simeon. [4] [34]Again she conceived and bore a son, and said, “Now this time my husband will be [z] attached to me, because I have borne him three sons.” Therefore his name was called Levi. [5] [35]And she conceived again and bore a son, and said, “This time I will praise the LORD.” Therefore she called his name [a] Judah. [6] Then she ceased bearing.

GENESIS 30 When Rachel saw that [b] she bore Jacob no children, she envied her sister. She said to Jacob, “Give me children, or I shall die!” [2]Jacob’s anger was kindled against Rachel, and he said, “Am I in the place of God, [c] who has withheld from you the fruit of the womb?” [3][†]Then she said, “Here is my servant [d] Bilhah; go in to her, so that she may give birth [e] on my behalf, [1] that even I may have children [2] through her.” [4]So she gave him her servant Bilhah as a wife, and Jacob went in to her. [5]And Bilhah conceived and bore Jacob a son. [6]Then Rachel said, “God has [f] judged me, and has also heard my voice and given me a son.” Therefore she called his name Dan. [3] [7]Rachel’s servant Bilhah conceived again and bore Jacob a second son. [8]Then Rachel said, “With mighty wrestlings [4] I have wrestled with my sister and have prevailed.” So she called his name [g] Naphtali. [5]

[9]When Leah saw that she had ceased bearing children, she took her servant Zilpah and [h] gave her to Jacob as a wife. [10]Then Leah’s servant Zilpah bore Jacob a son. [11]And Leah said, [i] “Good fortune has come!” so she called his name [i] Gad. [6] [12]Leah’s servant Zilpah bore Jacob a second son. [13]And Leah said, “Happy am I! For women [j]have called me happy.”

So she called his name Asher. [7]

[14][†]In the days of wheat harvest Reuben went and found [k]mandrakes in the field and brought them to his mother Leah. Then Rachel said to Leah, “Please give me some of your son’s mandrakes.” [15]But she said to her, “Is it a small matter that you have taken away my husband? Would you take away my son’s mandrakes also?” Rachel said, “Then he may lie with you tonight in exchange for your son’s mandrakes.” [16]When Jacob came from the field in the evening, Leah went out to meet him and said, “You must come in to me, for I have hired you with my son’s mandrakes.” So he lay with her that night. [17][†]And God listened to Leah, and she conceived and bore Jacob a fifth son. [18]Leah said, “God has given me my wages because I gave my servant to my husband.” So she called his name Issachar. [8]

[19]And Leah conceived again, and she bore Jacob a sixth son. [20]Then Leah said, “God has endowed me with a good endowment; now my husband will honor me, because I have borne him six sons.” So she called his name [l]Zebulun. [9] [21]Afterward she bore a daughter and called her name Dinah.

[22][†]Then God [m]remembered Rachel, and God listened to her and [n]opened her womb. [23]She conceived and bore a son and said, “God has taken away [o]my reproach.” [24]And she called his name Joseph, [10] saying, [p]“May the LORD add to me another son!”

Jacob’s Prosperity

[25][†]As soon as Rachel had borne Joseph, Jacob said to Laban, “Send me away, that I may go to my own home and country. [26]Give me my wives and my children [q]for whom I have served you, that I may go, for you know the service that I have given you.” [27][†]But Laban said to him, “If I have found favor in your sight, I have learned by divination that [11] the LORD has blessed me because of you. [28][r]Name your wages, and I will give it.” [29]Jacob said to him, [s]“You yourself know how I have served you, and how your livestock has fared with me. [30]For you had little before I came, [t]and it has increased abundantly, and the LORD has blessed you wherever I turned.
But now when shall I [u]provide for my own household also?” [31][†]He said,

“What shall I give you?” Jacob said, “You shall not give me anything. If you will do this for me, I will again pasture your flock and keep it: [32]let me pass through all your flock today, removing from it every speckled and spotted sheep and every black lamb, and the spotted and speckled among the goats, and [v]they shall be my wages. [33]So my honesty will answer for me later, when you come to look into my wages with you. Every one that is not speckled and spotted among the goats and black among the lambs, if found with me, shall be counted stolen.” [34]Laban said, “Good! Let it be as you have said.” [35][†]But that day Laban removed the male goats that were striped and spotted, and all the female goats that were speckled and spotted, every one that had white on it, and every lamb that was black, and put them in the charge of his sons. [36]And he set a distance of three days’ journey between himself and Jacob, and Jacob pastured the rest of Laban’s flock.

[37][†]Then [w]Jacob took fresh sticks of poplar and almond and plane trees, and peeled white streaks in them, exposing the white of the sticks. [38]He set the sticks that he had peeled in front of the flocks in the troughs, that is, the [x]watering places, where the flocks came to drink. And since they bred when they came to drink, [39]the flocks bred in front of the sticks and so the flocks brought forth striped, speckled, and spotted. [40]And Jacob separated the lambs and set the faces of the flocks toward the striped and all the black in the flock of Laban. He put his own droves apart and did not put them with Laban’s flock. [41][†]Whenever the stronger of the flock were breeding, Jacob would lay the sticks in the troughs before the eyes of the flock, that they might breed among the sticks, [42]but for the feebler of the flock he would not lay them there. So the feebler would be Laban’s, and the stronger Jacob’s. [43][†]Thus the man [y]increased greatly and [z]had large flocks, female servants and male servants, and camels and donkeys.

Jacob Flees from Laban

GENESIS 31 Now Jacob heard that the sons of Laban were saying, “Jacob has taken all that was our father’s, and from what was our father’s he has gained all this wealth.” [2]And Jacob saw [a]that Laban did not regard him with favor as before. [3]Then the LORD said to Jacob, [b]“Return to the land of your fathers and to your kindred, and I will be with you.”

[4][†]So Jacob sent and called Rachel and Leah into the field where his flock was [5]and said to them, [c]“I see that your father does not regard me with favor as he did before. But the God of my father [d]has been with me.
[6][e]You know that I have served your father with all my strength, [7]yet your father has cheated me and changed my wages [f]ten times. But God did not permit him to harm me. [8]If he said, [g]‘The spotted shall be your wages,’ then all the flock bore spotted; and if he said, ‘The striped shall be your wages,’ then all the flock bore striped. [9]Thus God has [h]taken away the livestock of your father and given them to me. [10]In the breeding season of the flock I lifted up my eyes and saw in a dream that the goats that mated with the flock were striped, spotted, and mottled. [11]Then the angel of God said to me in the dream, ‘Jacob,’ and I said, ‘Here I am!’ [12]And he said, ‘Lift up your eyes and see, all the goats that mate with the flock are striped, spotted, and mottled, for [i]I have seen all that Laban is doing to you. [13]I am the God of Bethel, [j]where you anointed a pillar and made a vow to me.
Now [k]arise, go out from this land and return to the land of your kindred.’” [14][†]Then Rachel and Leah answered and said to him, “Is there [l]any portion or inheritance left to us in our father’s house? [15]Are we not regarded by him as foreigners? For [m]he has sold us, and he has indeed devoured our money. [16]All the wealth that God has taken away from our father belongs to us and to our children. Now then, whatever God has said to you, do.”

[17]So Jacob arose and set his sons and his wives on camels. [18]He drove away all his livestock, all his property that he had gained, the livestock in his possession that he had acquired in [n]Paddan-aram, to go to the land of Canaan to his father Isaac. [19][†]Laban had gone to shear his sheep, and Rachel stole her father’s [o]household gods. [20][†]And Jacob tricked [1] Laban the Aramean, by not telling him that he intended to flee. [21][†]He fled with all that he had and arose and crossed the [p]Euphrates, [2] and [q]set his face toward the hill country of Gilead.

[22][†]When it was told Laban on the third day that Jacob had fled, [23]he took his kinsmen with him and pursued him for seven days and followed close after him into the hill country of Gilead. [24]But God came to Laban the Aramean [r]in a dream by night and said to him, “Be careful not to say anything to Jacob, [s]either good or bad.”

[25]And Laban overtook Jacob. Now Jacob had pitched his tent in the hill country, and Laban with his kinsmen pitched tents in the hill country of Gilead. [26][†]And Laban said to Jacob, “What have you done, that you have [t]tricked me and driven away my daughters like captives of the sword? [27]Why did you flee secretly [t]and trick me, and did not tell me, so that I might have sent you away with mirth and songs, with tambourine and lyre? [28]And why did you not permit me [u]to kiss my sons and my daughters farewell? Now you have done foolishly. [29]It is [v]in my power to do you harm. But the [w]God of your [3] father spoke to me last night, saying, ‘Be careful not to say anything to Jacob, [x]either good or bad.’ [30]And now you have gone away because you longed greatly for your father’s house, but why did you [y]steal my gods?” [31]Jacob answered and said to Laban, “Because I was afraid, for I thought that you would take your daughters from me by force. [32] [z]Anyone with whom you find your gods shall not live. In the presence of our kinsmen point out what I have that is yours, and take it.” Now Jacob did not know that Rachel had stolen them.

[33]So Laban went into Jacob’s tent and into Leah’s tent and into the tent of the two female servants, but he did not find them. And he went out of Leah’s tent and entered Rachel’s. [34]Now Rachel had taken the household gods and put them in the camel’s saddle and sat on them. Laban felt all about the tent, but did not find them. [35][†]And she said to her father, “Let not my lord be angry that I cannot [a]rise before you, for the way of women is upon me.” So he searched but did not find the household gods.

[36]Then Jacob became angry and berated Laban. Jacob said to Laban, “What is my offense? What is my sin, that you have hotly pursued me? [37]For you have felt through all my goods; what have you found of all your household goods? Set it here before my kinsmen and [b]your kinsmen, that they may decide between us two. [38]These twenty years I have been with you. Your ewes and your female goats have not miscarried, and I have not eaten the rams of your flocks. [39]What was torn by wild beasts I did not bring to you. I bore the loss of it myself. [c]From my hand you required it, whether stolen by day or stolen by night. [40]There I was: by day the heat consumed me, and the cold by night, and my sleep fled from my eyes. [41]These twenty years I have been in your house. [d]I served you fourteen years for your two daughters, and six years for your flock, and [e]you have changed my wages ten times. 42[†][f]If the God of my father, the God of Abraham and the [g]Fear of Isaac, had not been on my side, surely now you would have sent me away empty-handed. [h]God saw my affliction and the labor of my hands and [i]rebuked you last night."

43[†]Then Laban answered and said to Jacob, "The daughters are my daughters, the children are my children, the flocks are my flocks, and all that you see is mine. But what can I do this day for these my daughters or for their children whom they have borne? 44Come now, [j]let us make a covenant, you and I. [k]And let it be a witness between you and me." 45[†]So Jacob [l]took a stone and set it up as a pillar. 46And Jacob said to his kinsmen, "Gather stones." And they took stones and made a heap, and they ate there by the heap. 47[†]Laban called it Jegar-sahadutha, [4] but Jacob called it Galeed. [5] 48Laban said, [m]"This heap is a witness between you and me today." Therefore he named it Galeed, 49 [n]and Mizpah, [6] for he said, "The Lord watch between you and me, when we are out of one another's sight. 50If you oppress my daughters, or if you take wives besides my daughters, although no one is with us, see, [o]God is witness between you and me."

51Then Laban said to Jacob, "See this heap and the pillar, which I have set between you and me. 52 [p]This heap is a witness, and the pillar is a witness, that I will not pass over this heap to you, and you will not pass over this heap and this pillar to me, to do harm. 53The God of Abraham and the God of Nahor, the God of their father, judge between us." So Jacob swore by the [q]Fear of his father Isaac, 54and Jacob offered a sacrifice in the hill country and called [r]his kinsmen to eat bread. They ate bread and spent the night in the hill country.

55 [7] Early in the morning Laban arose and kissed [s]his grandchildren and his daughters and blessed them. Then Laban departed and returned home.

Jacob Fears Esau

GENESIS 32 [†]Jacob went on his way, and the angels of God met him. [2]And when Jacob saw them he said, “This is God’s [t]camp!” So he called the name of that place [u]Mahanaim. [1]

[3][†]And Jacob sent [2] messengers before him to Esau his brother in the land of [v]Seir, the country of Edom, [4]instructing them, “Thus you shall say to my lord Esau: Thus says your servant Jacob, ‘I have sojourned with Laban and stayed until now. [5]I have oxen, donkeys, flocks, male servants, and female servants. I have sent to tell my lord, in order that [w]I may find favor in your sight.’”

[6][†]And the messengers returned to Jacob, saying, “We came to your brother Esau, and [x]he is coming to meet you, and there are four hundred men with him.” [7][†]Then Jacob was [y]greatly afraid and distressed. He divided the people who were with him, and the flocks and herds and camels, into two camps, [8]thinking, “If Esau comes to the one camp and attacks it, then the camp that is left will escape.”

[9][†]And Jacob said, [z]“O God of my father Abraham and God of my father Isaac, O Lord who [a]said to me, ‘Return to your country and to your kindred, that I may do you good,’ [10] [b]I am not worthy of the least of all the deeds of steadfast love and all the faithfulness that you have shown to your servant, for with only my staff I crossed this Jordan, and now I have become two camps. [11]Please deliver me from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau, for [c]I fear him, that he may come and attack me, the mothers with the children. [12]But [d]you said, ‘I will surely do you good, and make your offspring as the sand of the sea, which cannot be numbered for multitude.’”

[13]So he stayed there that night, and from what he had with him he took [e]a present for his brother Esau, [14]two hundred female goats and twenty male goats, two hundred ewes and twenty rams, [15]thirty milking camels and their calves, forty cows and ten bulls, twenty female donkeys and ten male donkeys. [16]These he handed over to his servants, every drove by itself, and said to his servants, “Pass on ahead of me and put a space between drove and drove.” [17]He instructed the first, “When Esau my brother meets you and asks you, ‘To whom do you belong? Where are you going? And whose are these ahead of you?’ 18[†]then you shall say, ‘They belong to your servant Jacob. They are a present sent to my lord Esau. And moreover, he is behind us.’” 19He likewise instructed the second and the third and all who followed the droves, “You shall say the same thing to Esau when you find him, 20and you shall say, ‘Moreover, your servant Jacob is behind us.’” For he thought, “I may appease him [3] with the present that goes ahead of me, and afterward I shall see his face. Perhaps he will accept me.” [4] 21So the present passed on ahead of him, and he himself stayed that night in the camp.

Jacob Wrestles with God

22[†]The same night he arose and took his two wives, his two female servants, and his eleven children, [5] and crossed the ford of the [f] Jabbok. 23He took them and sent them across the stream, and everything else that he had. 24[†]And Jacob was left alone. And [g] a man wrestled with him until the breaking of the day. 25[†]When the man saw that he did not prevail against Jacob, he touched his hip socket, and Jacob’s hip was put out of joint as he wrestled with him. 26[†]Then he said, “Let me go, for the day has broken.” But Jacob said, [h] “I will not let you go unless you bless me.” 27And he said to him, “What is your name?” And he said, “Jacob.” 28[†]Then he said, [i] “Your name shall no longer be called Jacob, but Israel, [6] for [j] you have striven with God and [k] with men, and have prevailed.” 29Then Jacob asked him, “Please tell me your name.” But he said, [l] “Why is it that you ask my name?” And there he blessed him. 30[†]So Jacob called the name of the place Peniel, [7] saying, “For [m] I have seen God face to face, and yet my life has been delivered.” 31[†]The sun rose upon him as he passed [n] Penuel, limping because of his hip. 32Therefore to this day the people of Israel do not eat the sinew of the thigh that is on the hip socket, because he touched the socket of Jacob’s hip on the sinew of the thigh.

Jacob Meets Esau

GENESIS 33 [†]And Jacob lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold, [o]Esau was coming, and four hundred men with him. So he divided the children among Leah and Rachel and the two female servants. [2]And he put the servants with their children in front, then Leah with her children, and Rachel and Joseph last of all. [3][†]He himself went on before them, [p]bowing himself to the ground seven times, until he came near to his brother.

[4][†] [q]But Esau ran to meet him and embraced him [r]and fell on his neck and kissed him, and they wept. [5]And when Esau lifted up his eyes and saw the women and children, he said, “Who are these with you?” Jacob said, [s]“The children whom God has graciously given your servant.” [6]Then the servants drew near, they and their children, and bowed down. [7]Leah likewise and her children drew near and bowed down. And last Joseph and Rachel drew near, and they bowed down. [8][†]Esau said, “What do you mean by [t]all this company [1] that I met?” Jacob answered, [u]“To find favor in the sight of my lord.” [9]But Esau said, “I have enough, my brother; keep what you have for yourself.” [10][†]Jacob said, “No, please, if I have found favor in your sight, then accept my present from my hand. [v]For I have seen your face, which is like seeing the face of God, and you have accepted me. [11][†]Please accept my [w]blessing that is brought to you, because God has dealt graciously with me, and because I have enough.” Thus he [x]urged him, and he took it.

[12][†]Then Esau said, “Let us journey on our way, and I will go ahead of [2] you.” [13]But Jacob said to him, “My lord knows that the children are frail, and that the nursing flocks and herds are a care to me. If they are driven hard for one day, all the flocks will die. [14]Let my lord pass on ahead of his servant, and I will lead on slowly, at the pace of the livestock that are ahead of me and at the pace of the children, until I come to my lord [y]in Seir.”

[15]So Esau said, “Let me leave with you some of the people who are with me.” But he said, “What need is there? [z]Let me find favor in the sight of my lord.” [16]So Esau returned that day on his way to [a]Seir. [17][†]But Jacob journeyed to [b] Succoth, and built himself a house and made booths for his livestock. Therefore the name of the place is called Succoth. [3]

18And Jacob came safely [4] to the city of [c] Shechem, which is in the land of Canaan, on his way from Paddan-aram, and he camped before the city. 19[†]And from the sons of [d] Hamor, Shechem's father, [e] he bought for a hundred pieces of money [5] the piece of land on which he had pitched his tent. 20[†]There he erected an altar and called it El-Elohe-Israel. [6]

The Defiling of Dinah

GENESIS 34 [†]Now [f] Dinah the daughter of Leah, whom she had borne to Jacob, went out to see the women of the land. 2[†]And when Shechem the son of [g] Hamor the Hivite, the prince of the land, saw her, he seized her and lay with her and humiliated her. 3And his soul was drawn to Dinah the daughter of Jacob. He loved the young woman and spoke tenderly to her. 4So Shechem [h] spoke to his father Hamor, saying, "Get me this girl for my wife."

5Now Jacob heard that he had defiled his daughter Dinah. But his sons were with his livestock in the field, so Jacob held his peace until they came. 6And Hamor the father of Shechem went out to Jacob to speak with him. 7The sons of Jacob had come in from the field as soon as they heard of it, and the men were indignant and [i] very angry, because he [j] had done an outrageous thing in Israel by lying with Jacob's daughter, [k] for such a thing must not be done.

8[†]But Hamor spoke with them, saying, "The soul of my son Shechem longs for your [1] daughter. Please give her to him to be his wife. 9Make marriages with us. Give your daughters to us, and take our daughters for yourselves. 10You shall dwell with us, and [l] the land shall be open to you. Dwell and [m] trade in it, and [n] get property in it." 11[†]Shechem also said to her father and to her brothers, [o] "Let me find favor in your eyes, and whatever you say to me I will give. 12Ask me for as great a [p] bride price [2] and gift as you will, and I will give whatever you say to me. Only give me the young woman to be my wife."

13The sons of Jacob answered Shechem and his father Hamor deceitfully, because he had defiled their sister Dinah. 14[†]They said to them, "We cannot do this thing, to give our sister to one who is uncircumcised, for [q] that would be a disgrace to us. [15]Only on this condition will we agree with you—that you will become as we are by every male among you being circumcised. [16]Then we will give our daughters to you, and we will take your daughters to ourselves, and we will dwell with you and become one people. [17]But if you will not listen to us and be circumcised, then we will take our daughter, and we will be gone."

[18]Their words pleased Hamor and Hamor's son Shechem. [19]And the young man did not delay to do the thing, because he delighted in Jacob's daughter. Now [r] he was the most honored of all his father's house. [20]So Hamor and his son Shechem [s] came to the gate of their city and spoke to the men of their city, saying, [21][†]"These men are at peace with us; let them dwell in the land and [t] trade in it, for behold, the land is large enough for them. Let us take their daughters as wives, and let us give them our daughters. [22]Only on this condition will the men agree to dwell with us to become one people—when every male among us is circumcised as they are circumcised. [23]Will not their livestock, their property and all their beasts be ours? Only let us agree with them, and they will dwell with us." [24]And all who went out of the gate of his city listened to Hamor and his son Shechem, and every male was circumcised, all who [u] went out of the gate of his city.

[25][†]On the third day, when they were sore, two of the sons of Jacob, [v] Simeon and Levi, [w] Dinah's brothers, took their swords and came against the city while it felt secure and killed all the males. [26]They killed Hamor and his son Shechem with the sword and took Dinah out of Shechem's house and went away. [27]The sons of Jacob came upon the slain and plundered the city, because they had defiled their sister. [28]They took their flocks and their herds, their donkeys, and whatever was in the city and in the field. [29]All their wealth, all their little ones and their wives, all that was in the houses, they captured and plundered.

[30]Then Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, [x] "You have brought trouble on me [y] by making me stink to the inhabitants of the land, [z] the Canaanites and the Perizzites. [a] My numbers are few, and if they gather themselves against me and attack me, I shall be destroyed, both I and my household." [31]But they said, "Should he treat our sister like a prostitute?"

God Blesses and Renames Jacob

GENESIS 35 [†]God said to Jacob, “Arise, go up to [b]Bethel and dwell there. Make an altar there to the God who appeared to you [c]when you fled from your brother Esau.” [2][†]So Jacob said to his [d]household and to all who were with him, “Put away [e]the foreign gods that are among you and [f]purify yourselves and change your garments. [3]Then let us arise and go up to Bethel, so that I may make there an altar to the God [g]who answers me in the day of my distress and [h]has been with me wherever I have gone.” [4][†]So they gave to Jacob all the foreign gods that they had, and the rings that were in their ears. Jacob hid them under [i]the terebinth tree that was near Shechem.

[5][†]And as they journeyed, a terror from God fell upon the cities that were around them, so that they did not pursue the sons of Jacob. [6][†]And Jacob came to [j]Luz (that is, Bethel), which is in the land of Canaan, he and all the people who were with him, [7]and there he built an altar and called the place El-bethel, [1] because [k]there God had revealed himself to him when he fled from his brother. [8][†]And [l]Deborah, Rebekah’s nurse, died, and she was buried under an oak below Bethel. So he called its name Allon-bacuth. [2]

[9][†]God appeared [3] to Jacob again, when he came from Paddan-aram, and blessed him. [10][†]And God said to him, “Your name is Jacob; [m]no longer shall your name be called Jacob, but [n]Israel shall be your name.” So he called his name Israel. [11][†]And God said to him, [o]“I am God Almighty: [4] be [p]fruitful and multiply. [q]A nation and a company of nations shall come from you, and kings shall come from your own body. [5] [12] [r]The land that I gave to Abraham and Isaac I will give to you, and I will give the land to your offspring after you.” [13]Then God [s]went up from him in the place where he had spoken with him. [14][†]And Jacob [t]set up a pillar in the place where he had spoken with him, a pillar of stone. He poured out a drink offering on it and poured oil on it. [15]So Jacob called the name of the place where God had spoken with him [u]Bethel.

The Deaths of Rachel and Isaac

16[†]Then they journeyed from Bethel. When they were still some distance [6] from Ephrath, Rachel went into labor, and she had hard labor. 17And when her labor was at its hardest, the midwife said to her, “Do not fear, for [v] you have another son.” 18[†]And as her soul was departing (for she was dying), she called his name Ben-oni; [7] [w] but his father called him Benjamin. [8] 19So [x] Rachel died, and she was buried on the way to [y] Ephrath (that is, Bethlehem), 20and Jacob set up a pillar over her tomb. It is [z] the pillar of Rachel’s tomb, which is there to this day. 21Israel journeyed on and pitched his tent beyond the tower of Eder.

22[†]While Israel lived in that land, Reuben went and [a] lay with Bilhah his father’s concubine. And Israel heard of it.

Now the sons of Jacob were twelve. 23The sons of Leah: [b] Reuben (Jacob’s firstborn), Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, and Zebulun. 24The sons of Rachel: Joseph and Benjamin. 25The sons of Bilhah, Rachel’s servant: Dan and Naphtali. 26[†]The sons of Zilpah, Leah’s servant: Gad and Asher. These were the sons of Jacob who were born to him in Paddan-aram.

27[†]And Jacob came to his father Isaac at [c] Mamre, or [d] Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron), where Abraham and Isaac had sojourned. 28[†]Now the days of Isaac were 180 years. 29And Isaac breathed his last, and he died [e] and was gathered to his people, old and full of days. And [f] his sons Esau and Jacob buried him.

Esau’s Descendants

GENESIS 36 [†]These are the generations of Esau (that is, [g] Edom). 2Esau [h] took his wives from the Canaanites: Adah the daughter of Elon the Hittite, [i] Oholibamah the daughter of Anah the daughter [1] of Zibeon the Hivite, 3and [j] Basemath, Ishmael’s daughter, the sister of Nebaioth. 4And Adah bore to Esau, [k] Eliphaz; Basemath bore Reuel; 5and Oholibamah bore Jeush, Jalam, and Korah. These are the sons of Esau who were born to him in the land of Canaan.

6Then Esau took his wives, his sons, his daughters, and all the members of his household, his livestock, all his beasts, and all his property that he had acquired in the land of Canaan. He went into a land away from his brother Jacob. [7][l]For their possessions were too great for them to dwell together. [m]The land of their sojournings could not support them because of their livestock. [8]So Esau settled in [n]the hill country of Seir. ([o]Esau is Edom.)

[9]These are the generations of Esau the father of [p]the Edomites in the hill country of Seir. [10]These are the names of Esau’s sons: [q]Eliphaz the son of Adah the wife of Esau, Reuel the son of Basemath the wife of Esau. [11]The sons of Eliphaz were Teman, Omar, Zepho, Gatam, and Kenaz. [12][†](Timna was a concubine of Eliphaz, Esau’s son; she bore [r]Amalek to Eliphaz.)
These are the sons of Adah, Esau’s wife. [13]These are the sons of Reuel:
Nahath, Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah. These are the sons of Basemath, Esau’s wife. [14]These are the sons of [s]Oholibamah the daughter of Anah the daughter of Zibeon, Esau’s wife: she bore to Esau Jeush, Jalam, and Korah.

[15]These are [t]the chiefs of the sons of Esau. [u]The sons of Eliphaz the firstborn of Esau: the chiefs Teman, Omar, Zepho, Kenaz, [16]Korah, Gatam, and Amalek; these are the chiefs of Eliphaz in the land of Edom; these are the sons of Adah. [17]These are the sons of [v]Reuel, Esau’s son: the chiefs Nahath, Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah; these are the chiefs of Reuel in the land of Edom; these are the sons of Basemath, Esau’s wife. [18]These are the sons of [w]Oholibamah, Esau’s wife: the chiefs Jeush, Jalam, and Korah; these are the chiefs born of Oholibamah the daughter of Anah, Esau’s wife.
[19]These are the sons of Esau ([x]that is, Edom), and these are their chiefs.

[20][†][y]These are the sons of [z]Seir the Horite, the inhabitants of the land: Lotan, Shobal, Zibeon, Anah, [21]Dishon, Ezer, and Dishan; these are the chiefs of the Horites, the sons of Seir in the land of Edom. [22]The sons of Lotan were Hori and Hemam; and Lotan’s sister was Timna. [23]These are the sons of Shobal: Alvan, Manahath, Ebal, Shepho, and Onam. [24]These are the sons of Zibeon: Aiah and Anah; he is the Anah who found the hot springs in the wilderness, as he pastured the donkeys of Zibeon his father. [25]These are the children of Anah: Dishon and [a]Oholibamah the daughter of Anah.
[26]These are the sons of Dishon: Hemdan, Eshban, Ithran, and Cheran.
[27]These are the sons of Ezer: Bilhan, Zaavan, and Akan. [28]These are the sons of Dishan: Uz and Aran. [29]These are the chiefs of the Horites: the [b] chiefs Lotan, Shobal, Zibeon, Anah, [30]Dishon, Ezer, and Dishan; these are the chiefs of the Horites, chief by chief in the land of Seir.

[31] [c] These are the kings who reigned in the land of Edom, before any king reigned over the Israelites. [32]Bela the son of Beor reigned in Edom, the name of his city being Dinhabah. [33]Bela died, and Jobab the son of Zerah of Bozrah reigned in his place. [34]Jobab died, and Husham of the land of the Temanites reigned in his place. [35]Husham died, and Hadad the son of Bedad, who defeated Midian in the country of Moab, reigned in his place, the name of his city being Avith. [36]Hadad died, and Samlah of Masrekah reigned in his place. [37]Samlah died, and Shaul of [d] Rehoboth on the Euphrates [2] reigned in his place. [38]Shaul died, and Baal-hanan the son of Achbor reigned in his place. [39]Baal-hanan the son of Achbor died, and Hadar reigned in his place, the name of his city being Pau; his wife's name was Mehetabel, the daughter of Matred, daughter of Mezahab.

[40]These are the names of the chiefs of Esau, according to their clans and their dwelling places, by their names: the chiefs Timna, Alvah, Jetheth, [41]Oholibamah, Elah, [e] Pinon, [42]Kenaz, Teman, Mibzar, [43]Magdiel, and Iram; these are the chiefs of Edom (that is, Esau, the father of [f] Edom), according to their dwelling places in the land of their possession.

Joseph's Dreams

GENESIS 37 [†]Jacob lived in [g] the land of his father's sojournings, in the land of Canaan.

[2][†]These are the generations of Jacob.

Joseph, being seventeen years old, was pasturing the flock with his brothers. He was a boy with the sons of Bilhah and Zilpah, his father's wives. And Joseph brought [h] a bad report of them to their father. [3][†]Now Israel loved Joseph more than any other of his sons, because he was [i] the son of his old age. And he made him [j] a robe of many colors. [1] [4]But when his brothers saw that their father loved him more than all his brothers, they hated him and could not speak peacefully to him.

[5][†]Now Joseph had a dream, and when he told it to his brothers they hated him even more. [6]He said to them, "Hear this dream that I have dreamed: [7]Behold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and behold, [k] my sheaf arose and stood upright. And behold, your sheaves gathered around it and [l] bowed down to my sheaf.” [8][†]His brothers said to him, “Are you indeed to reign over us? Or are you indeed to rule over us?” So they hated him even more for his dreams and for his words.

[9][†]Then he dreamed another dream and told it to his brothers and said, “Behold, I have dreamed another dream. Behold, the sun, the moon, and eleven stars were bowing down to me.” [10]But when he told it to his father and to his brothers, his father rebuked him and said to him, “What is this dream that you have dreamed? Shall I and [m] your mother and your brothers indeed come [n] to bow ourselves to the ground before you?” [11]And [o] his brothers were jealous of him, [p] but his father kept the saying in mind.

Joseph Sold by His Brothers

[12][†]Now his brothers went to pasture their father’s flock near [q] Shechem. [13]And Israel said to Joseph, “Are not your brothers pasturing the flock at Shechem? Come, I will send you to them.” And he said to him, “Here I am.” [14]So he said to him, “Go now, see if it is well with your brothers and with the flock, and bring me word.” So he sent him from the Valley of [r] Hebron, and he came to Shechem. [15][†]And a man found him wandering in the fields. And the man asked him, “What are you seeking?” [16]“I am seeking my brothers,” he said. “Tell me, please, where they are pasturing the flock.” [17]And the man said, “They have gone away, for I heard them say, ‘Let us go to [s] Dothan.’” So Joseph went after his brothers and found them at [s] Dothan.

[18][†]They saw him from afar, and before he came near to them [t] they conspired against him to kill him. [19]They said to one another, “Here comes this dreamer. [20]Come now, [u] let us kill him and throw him into one of the pits. [2] Then we will say that a fierce animal has devoured him, and we will see what will become of his dreams.” [21][†]But when [v] Reuben heard it, he rescued him out of their hands, saying, “Let us not take his life.” [22]And Reuben said to them, “Shed no blood; throw him into this pit here in the wilderness, but do not lay a hand on him”—[w] that he might rescue him out of their hand to restore him to his father. [23]So when Joseph came to his brothers, they stripped him of his robe, [x] the robe of many colors that he wore. [24]And they took him and [y]threw him into a pit. The pit was empty; there was no water in it.

[25][†]Then they sat down to eat. And looking up they saw a [z]caravan of [a]Ishmaelites coming from Gilead, with their camels bearing [b]gum, balm, and myrrh, on their way to carry it down to Egypt. [26][†]Then Judah said to his brothers, “What profit is it [c]if we kill our brother and conceal his blood? [27]Come, let us sell him to the Ishmaelites, and [d]let not our hand be upon him, for he is our brother, our own flesh.” And his brothers listened to him. [28]Then [e]Midianite traders passed by. And they drew Joseph up and lifted him out of the pit, and [f]sold him to the Ishmaelites for twenty shekels [3] of silver. They took Joseph to Egypt.

[29][†]When Reuben returned to the pit and saw that Joseph was not in the pit, he [g]tore his clothes [30]and returned to his brothers and said, “The boy [h]is gone, and I, where shall I go?” [31]Then they took [i]Joseph’s robe and slaughtered a goat and dipped the robe in the blood. [32]And they sent the robe of many colors and brought it to their father and said, “This we have found; please identify whether it is your son’s robe or not.” [33]And he identified it and said, “It is my son’s robe. [j]A fierce animal has devoured him. Joseph is without doubt torn to pieces.” [34][†]Then Jacob tore his garments and put sackcloth on his loins and mourned for his son many days. [35][†]All his sons and all his daughters [k]rose up to comfort him, but he refused to be comforted and said, “No, [l]I shall go down to Sheol to my son, mourning.” Thus his father wept for him. [36]Meanwhile [m]the Midianites had sold him in Egypt to Potiphar, an officer of Pharaoh, [n]the captain of the guard.

Judah and Tamar

GENESIS 38 [†]It happened at that time that Judah went down from his brothers and [o]turned aside to a certain [p]Adullamite, whose name was Hirah. [2]There Judah saw the daughter of a certain Canaanite whose name was [q]Shua. He took her and went in to her, [3]and she conceived and bore a son, and he called his name [r]Er. [4]She conceived again and bore a son, and she called his name [r]Onan. [5]Yet again she bore a son, and she called his name [r]Shelah. Judah [1] was in Chezib when she bore him.

[6][†]And Judah took a wife for Er his firstborn, and her name was Tamar. [7]But Er, Judah's firstborn, [s]was wicked in the sight of the LORD, and the LORD put him to death. [8][†]Then Judah said to Onan, "Go in to [t]your brother's wife and [u]perform the duty of a brother-in-law to her, and raise up offspring for your brother." [9][†]But Onan knew that the offspring would not be his. So whenever he went in to his brother's wife he would waste the semen on the ground, so as not to give offspring to his brother. [10]And what he did was wicked in the sight of the LORD, and he put him to death also. [11][†]Then Judah said to Tamar his daughter-in-law, [v]"Remain a widow in your father's house, till Shelah my son grows up"—for he feared that he would die, like his brothers. So Tamar went and remained [w]in her father's house.

[12][†]In the course of time the wife of Judah, Shua's daughter, died. When Judah [x]was comforted, he went up to [y]Timnah to his sheepshearers, he and his friend Hirah the Adullamite. [13][†]And when Tamar was told, "Your father-in-law is going up to Timnah to shear his sheep," [14]she took off her widow's garments [z]and covered herself with a veil, wrapping herself up, and sat at the entrance to [a]Enaim, which is on the road to Timnah. For she saw that Shelah was grown up, [b]and she had not been given to him in marriage. [15][†]When Judah saw her, he thought she was a prostitute, for she had covered her face. [16][†]He turned to her at the roadside and said, "Come, let me come in to you," for he did not know that she was his daughter-in-law. She said, "What will you give me, that you may come in to me?" [17]He answered, "I will send you a young goat from the flock." And she said, "If you give me a pledge, until you send it—" [18]He said, "What pledge shall I give you?" She replied, [c]"Your signet and your cord and your staff that is in your hand." So he gave them to her and went in to her, and she conceived by him. [19]Then she arose and went away, and taking off [d]her veil she put on the garments of her widowhood.

[20]When Judah sent the young goat by his friend the Adullamite to take back the pledge from the woman's hand, he did not find her. [21][†]And he asked the men of the place, "Where is the cult prostitute [2] who was at

[e] Enaim at the roadside?" And they said, "No cult prostitute has been here." [22]So he returned to Judah and said, "I have not found her. Also, the men of the place said, 'No cult prostitute has been here.'" [23]And Judah replied, "Let her keep the things as her own, or we shall be laughed at. You see, I sent this young goat, and you did not find her."

[24][†]About three months later Judah was told, "Tamar your daughter-in-law [f] has been immoral. [3] Moreover, she is pregnant by immorality." [4] And Judah said, "Bring her out, and [g] let her be burned." [25]As she was being brought out, she sent word to her father-in-law, "By the man to whom these belong, I am pregnant." And she said, "Please identify whose these are, [h] the signet and the cord and the staff." [26]Then Judah identified them and said, [i] "She is more righteous than I, since [j] I did not give her to my son Shelah." And he did not know her again.

[27][†]When the time of her labor came, there were twins in her womb. [28]And when she was in labor, one put out a hand, and the midwife took and tied a scarlet thread on his hand, saying, "This one came out first." [29]But as he drew back his hand, behold, his brother came out. And she said, "What a breach you have made for yourself!" Therefore his name was called [k] Perez. [5] [30]Afterward his brother came out with the scarlet thread on his hand, and his name was called [k] Zerah.

Joseph and Potiphar's Wife

GENESIS 39 [†]Now Joseph had been brought down to Egypt, and [l] Potiphar, an officer of Pharaoh, the captain of the guard, an Egyptian, [m] had bought him from the [n] Ishmaelites who had brought him down there. [2][†] [o] The LORD was with Joseph, and he became a successful man, and he was in the house of his Egyptian master. [3]His master saw that the LORD was with him and that the LORD [p] caused all that he did to succeed in his hands. [4]So Joseph [q] found favor in his sight and attended him, and he made him overseer of his house [r] and put him in charge of all that he had. [5]From the time that he made him overseer in his house and over all that he had, the LORD blessed the Egyptian's house [s] for Joseph's sake; the blessing of the LORD was on all that he had, in house and field. [6][†]So he left all that he had in Joseph’s charge, and because of him he had no concern about anything but the food he ate.

Now Joseph was [t] handsome in form and appearance. [7]And after a time his master’s wife cast her eyes on Joseph and said, “Lie with me.” [8]But he refused and said to his master’s wife, “Behold, because of me my master has no concern about anything in the house, and [u] he has put everything that he has in my charge. [9]He is not greater in this house than I am, nor has he kept back anything from me except you, because you are his wife. How then can I do this great wickedness and [v] sin against God?” [10]And as she spoke to Joseph day after day, he [w] would not listen to her, to lie beside her or to be with her.

[11]But one day, when he went into the house to do his work and none of the men of the house was there in the house, [12] [x] she caught him by his garment, saying, “Lie with me.” But he left his garment in her hand and fled and got out of the house. [13][†]And as soon as she saw that he had left his garment in her hand and had fled out of the house, [14]she called to the men of her household and said to them, “See, he has brought among us a Hebrew to laugh at us. He came in to me to lie with me, and I cried out with a loud voice. [15]And as soon as he heard that I lifted up my voice and cried out, he left his garment beside me and fled and got out of the house.” [16]Then she laid up his garment by her until his master came home, [17]and she told him the same story, saying, “The Hebrew servant, whom you have brought among us, came in to me to laugh at me. [18]But as soon as I lifted up my voice and cried, he left his garment beside me and fled out of the house.”

[19]As soon as his master heard the words that his wife spoke to him, “This is the way your servant treated me,” his anger was kindled. [20][†]And Joseph’s master took him and [y] put him into the [z] prison, the place where the king’s prisoners were confined, and he was there in prison. [21]But [a] the LORD was with Joseph and showed him steadfast love [b] and gave him favor in the sight of the keeper of the prison. [22]And the keeper of the prison [c] put Joseph in charge of all the prisoners who were in the prison. Whatever was done there, he was the one who did it. [23]The keeper of the prison paid no attention to anything that was in Joseph’s charge, because [d] the LORD was with him. And whatever he did, the LORD made it succeed.

Joseph Interprets Two Prisoners' Dreams

GENESIS 40 [†]Some time after this, the [e] cupbearer of the king of Egypt and his baker committed an offense against their lord the king of Egypt. [2][†]And Pharaoh was angry with his two officers, the chief cupbearer and the chief baker, [3][f] and he put them in custody in the house of the captain of the guard, in the prison where Joseph was confined. [4][†]The captain of the guard appointed Joseph to be with them, and he attended them. They continued for some time in custody.

[5][†]And one night they both dreamed—the cupbearer and the baker of the king of Egypt, who were confined in the prison—each his own dream, and each dream with its own interpretation. [6]When Joseph came to them in the morning, he saw that they were troubled. [7]So he asked Pharaoh's officers who were with him in custody in his master's house, [g] "Why are your faces downcast today?" [8]They said to him, [h] "We have had dreams, and there is no one to interpret them." And Joseph said to them, [i] "Do not interpretations belong to God? Please tell them to me."

[9]So the chief cupbearer told his dream to Joseph and said to him, "In my dream there was a vine before me, [10]and on the vine there were three branches. As soon as it budded, its blossoms shot forth, and the clusters ripened into grapes. [11]Pharaoh's cup was in my hand, and I took the grapes and pressed them into Pharaoh's cup and placed the cup in Pharaoh's hand." [12]Then Joseph said to him, [j] "This is its interpretation: [k] the three branches are three days. [13]In three days Pharaoh will [l] lift up your head and restore you to your office, and you shall place Pharaoh's cup in his hand as formerly, when you were his cupbearer. [14][†]Only remember me, when it is well with you, and please do me the kindness to mention me to Pharaoh, and so get me out of this house. [15]For [m] I was indeed stolen out of the land of the Hebrews, and [n] here also I have done nothing that they should put me into the pit."

[16]When the chief baker saw that the interpretation was favorable, he said to Joseph, "I also had a dream: there were three cake baskets on my head, [17]and in the uppermost basket there were all sorts of baked food for Pharaoh, but the birds were eating it out of the basket on my head." [18][†]And Joseph answered and said, [o] "This is its interpretation: the three baskets are three days. [19] [p]In three days Pharaoh will lift up your head—from you!—and [q]hang you on a tree. And the birds will eat the flesh from you.”

[20][†]On the third day, which was Pharaoh’s [r]birthday, he made a feast for all his servants and [s]lifted up the head of the chief cupbearer and the head of the chief baker among his servants. [21] [t]He restored the chief cupbearer to his position, and [u]he placed the cup in Pharaoh’s hand. [22]But he [v]hanged the chief baker, as Joseph had interpreted to them. [23][†]Yet the chief cupbearer did not remember Joseph, but forgot him.

Joseph Interprets Pharaoh’s Dreams

GENESIS 41 [†]After two whole years, Pharaoh dreamed that he was standing by the Nile, [2]and behold, there came up out of the Nile seven cows attractive and plump, and they fed in the reed grass. [3]And behold, seven other cows, ugly and thin, came up out of the Nile after them, and stood by the other cows on the bank of the Nile. [4]And the ugly, thin cows ate up the seven attractive, plump cows. And Pharaoh awoke. [5]And he fell asleep and dreamed a second time. And behold, seven ears of grain, plump and good, were growing on one stalk. [6]And behold, after them sprouted seven ears, thin and [w]blighted by the east wind. [7]And the thin ears swallowed up the seven plump, full ears. And Pharaoh awoke, and behold, it was a dream. [8][†]So in the morning [x]his spirit was troubled, and he sent and called for all the [y]magicians of Egypt and all its wise men. Pharaoh told them his dreams, but there was none who could interpret them to Pharaoh.

[9]Then the chief cupbearer said to Pharaoh, “I remember my offenses today. [10]When Pharaoh was [z]angry with his servants [a]and put me and the chief baker in custody in the house of the captain of the guard, [11] [b]we dreamed on the same night, he and I, each having a dream with its own interpretation. [12][†]A young Hebrew was there with us, a servant of the captain of the guard. When we told him, [c]he interpreted our dreams to us, giving an interpretation to each man according to his dream. [13]And [d]as he interpreted to us, so it came about. I was restored to my office, and the baker was hanged.”

14[†] [e] Then Pharaoh sent and called Joseph, and they [f] quickly brought him [g] out of the pit. And when he had shaved himself and changed his clothes, he came in before Pharaoh. 15[†]And Pharaoh said to Joseph, “I have had a dream, and there is no one who can interpret it. [h] I have heard it said of you that when you hear a dream you can interpret it.” 16Joseph answered Pharaoh, [i] “It is not in me; [j] God will give Pharaoh a favorable answer.” [1] 17[†]Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, “Behold, [k] in my dream I was standing on the banks of the Nile. 18Seven cows, plump and attractive, came up out of the Nile and fed in the reed grass. 19Seven other cows came up after them, poor and very ugly and thin, such as I had never seen in all the land of Egypt. 20And the thin, ugly cows ate up the first seven plump cows, 21but when they had eaten them no one would have known that they had eaten them, for they were still as ugly as at the beginning. Then I awoke. 22I also saw in my dream seven ears growing on one stalk, full and good. 23Seven ears, withered, thin, and blighted by the east wind, sprouted after them, 24and the thin ears swallowed up the seven good ears. And [l] I told it to the magicians, but there was no one who could explain it to me.”

25[†]Then Joseph said to Pharaoh, “The dreams of Pharaoh are one; [m] God has revealed to Pharaoh what he is about to do. 26The seven good cows are seven years, and the seven good ears are seven years; the dreams are one. 27The seven lean and ugly cows that came up after them are seven years, and the seven empty ears blighted by the east wind are also [n] seven years of famine. 28It is as I told Pharaoh; [o] God has shown to Pharaoh what he is about to do. 29There will come [p] seven years of great plenty throughout all the land of Egypt, 30but after them there will arise [q] seven years of famine, and all the plenty will be forgotten in the land of Egypt. [r] The famine will consume the land, 31and the plenty will be unknown in the land by reason of the famine that will follow, for it will be very severe. 32And the doubling of Pharaoh’s dream means that the [s] thing is fixed by God, and God will shortly bring it about. 33Now therefore let Pharaoh select a discerning and wise man, and set him over the land of Egypt. 34Let Pharaoh proceed to appoint overseers over the land and take one-fifth of the produce of the land [2] of Egypt during the seven plentiful years. 35And [t] let them gather all the food of these good years that are coming and store up grain under the authority of Pharaoh for food in the cities, and let them keep it. [36]That food shall be a reserve for the land against the seven years of famine that are to occur in the land of Egypt, so that the land may not perish through the famine."

Joseph Rises to Power

[37]This proposal pleased Pharaoh and all his servants. [38][†]And Pharaoh said to his servants, "Can we find a man like this, [u] in whom is the Spirit of God?" [3] [39]Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, "Since God has shown you all this, there is none so discerning and wise as you are. [40][†] [v] You shall be over my house, and all my people shall order themselves as you command. [4] Only as regards the throne will I be greater than you." [41]And Pharaoh said to Joseph, "See, [w] I have set you over all the land of Egypt." [42][†]Then Pharaoh [x] took his signet ring from his hand and put it on Joseph's hand, and [y] clothed him in garments of fine linen [z] and put a gold chain about his neck. [43]And he made him ride in his second chariot. [a] And they called out before him, "Bow the knee!" [5] Thus he set him [b] over all the land of Egypt. [44]Moreover, Pharaoh said to Joseph, "I am Pharaoh, and [c] without your consent no one shall lift up hand or foot in all the land of Egypt." [45][†]And Pharaoh called Joseph's name Zaphenath-paneah. And he gave him in marriage Asenath, the daughter of Potiphera priest of On. So Joseph went out over the land of Egypt.

[46]Joseph was thirty years old when he [d] entered the service of Pharaoh king of Egypt. And Joseph went out from the presence of Pharaoh and went through all the land of Egypt. [47]During the seven plentiful years the earth produced abundantly, [48]and he gathered up all the food of these seven years, which occurred in the land of Egypt, and put the food in the cities. He put in every city the food from the fields around it. [49]And Joseph stored up grain in great abundance, [e] like the sand of the sea, until he ceased to measure it, for it could not be measured.

[50][†]Before the year of famine came, [f] two sons were born to Joseph. Asenath, the daughter of Potiphera priest of On, bore them to him. [51]Joseph called the name of the firstborn Manasseh. "For," he said, "God has made me forget all my hardship and all my father's house." [6] [52]The name of the second he called Ephraim, “For God has [g] made me fruitful in the land of my affliction.” [7]

[53]The seven years of plenty that occurred in the land of Egypt came to an end, [54][†]and [h] the seven years of famine began to come, [i] as Joseph had said. There was famine in all lands, but in all the land of Egypt there was bread. [55]When all the land of Egypt was famished, the people cried to Pharaoh for bread. Pharaoh said to all the Egyptians, “Go to Joseph. What he says to you, do.”

[56]So when the famine had spread over all the land, Joseph opened all the storehouses [8] and [j] sold to the Egyptians, for the famine was severe in the land of Egypt. [57]Moreover, all the earth came to Egypt to Joseph to buy grain, because the famine was severe [k] over all the earth.

Joseph’s Brothers Go to Egypt

GENESIS 42 [†]When [l] Jacob learned that there was grain for sale in Egypt, he said to his sons, “Why do you look at one another?” [2]And he said, “Behold, I have heard that there is grain for sale in Egypt. Go down and buy grain for us there, that we may [m] live and not die.” [3]So ten of Joseph’s brothers went down to buy grain in Egypt. [4]But Jacob did not send Benjamin, [n] Joseph’s brother, with his brothers, for [o] he feared that harm might happen to him. [5]Thus the sons of Israel came to buy among the others who came, for the famine was in the land of Canaan.

[6][†]Now Joseph was governor [p] over the land. He was the one who sold to all the people of the land. And Joseph’s brothers came and [q] bowed themselves before him with their faces to the ground. [7]Joseph saw his brothers and recognized them, but he treated them like strangers and [r] spoke roughly to them. “Where do you come from?” he said. They said, “From the land of Canaan, to buy food.” [8]And Joseph recognized his brothers, but they did not recognize him. [9]And Joseph [s] remembered the dreams that he had dreamed of them. [t] And he said to them, “You are spies; you have come to see the nakedness of the land.” [10][†]They said to him, “No, my lord, your servants have come to buy food. [11]We are all sons of one man. We are honest men. Your servants have never been spies.”

[12]He said to them, “No, it is the nakedness of the land that you have come to see.” [13]And they said, “We, your servants, are twelve brothers, the sons of one man in the land of Canaan, and behold, the youngest is this day with our father, and one [u] is no more.” [14]But Joseph said to them, “It is as I said to you. You are spies. [15]By this you shall be tested: by the life of Pharaoh, you shall not go from this place unless your youngest brother comes here. [16]Send one of you, and let him bring your brother, while you remain confined, that your words may be tested, whether there is truth in you. Or else, by the life of Pharaoh, surely you are spies.” [17]And he put them all together in custody for three days.

[18]On the third day Joseph said to them, “Do this and you will live, [v] for I fear God: [19]if you are honest men, let one of your brothers remain confined where you are in custody, and let the rest go and carry [w] grain for the famine of your households, [20]and [x]bring your youngest brother to me. So your words will be verified, and you shall not die.” And they did so. [21]Then they said to one another, [y]“In truth we are guilty concerning our brother, in that we saw the distress of his soul, when he begged us and we did not listen. That is why this distress has come upon us.” [22]And Reuben answered them, [z]“Did I not tell you not to sin against the boy? But you did not listen. So now [a]there comes a reckoning for his blood.” [23]They did not know that Joseph understood them, for there was an interpreter between them. [24]Then he turned away from them and [b]wept. And he returned to them and spoke to them. And he took Simeon from them and bound him before their eyes. [25][c]And Joseph gave orders to fill their bags with grain, and to replace every man’s money in his sack, and to give them provisions for the journey. This was done for them.

[29]When they came to Jacob their father in the land of Canaan, they told him all that had happened to them, saying, [30]“The man, the lord of the land, [f]spoke roughly to us and took us to be spies of the land. [31]But we said to him, ‘We are honest men; we have never been spies. [32]We are twelve brothers, sons of our father. One [g]is no more, and the youngest is this day with our father in the land of Canaan.’ [33]Then the man, the lord of the land, said to us, [h]‘By this I shall know that you are honest men: leave one of your brothers with me, and take [i]grain for the famine of your households, and go your way. [34]Bring your youngest brother to me. Then I shall know that you are not spies but honest men, and I will deliver your brother to you, and you shall [j]trade in the land.’”

[35][k]As they emptied their sacks, behold, every man’s bundle of money was in his sack. And when they and their father saw their bundles of money, they were afraid. [36][†]And Jacob their father said to them, “You have [l]bereaved me of my children: Joseph is no more, and Simeon is no more, and now you would take Benjamin. All this has come against me.” [37]Then Reuben said to his father, “Kill [m]my two sons if I do not bring him back to you. Put him in my hands, and I will bring him back to you.” [38][†]But he said, “My son shall not go down with you, for [n]his brother is dead, and he is the only one left. [o]If harm should happen to him on the journey that you are to make, [p]you would bring down my gray hairs with sorrow to Sheol.”

Joseph’s Brothers Return to Egypt

GENESIS 43 [†]Now the famine was [q]severe in the land. [2]And when they had eaten the grain that they had brought from Egypt, their father said to them, “Go again, buy us a little food.” [3]But Judah said to him, “The man solemnly warned us, saying, ‘You shall not see my face unless your [r]brother is with you.’ [4]If you will send our brother with us, we will go down and buy you food. [5]But if you will not send him, we will not go down, for the man said to us, ‘You shall not see my face, unless your brother is with you.’” [6]Israel said, “Why did you treat me so badly as to tell the man that you had another brother?” [7]They replied, “The man questioned us carefully about ourselves and our kindred, saying, ‘Is your father still alive? Do you have another brother?’ What we told him was in answer to these questions. Could we in any way know that he would say, ‘Bring your brother down’?” [8]And Judah said to Israel his father, “Send the boy with me, and we will arise and go, that we may [s]live and not die, both we and you and also our little ones. [9]I will be a pledge of his safety. From my hand you shall require him. [t]If I do not bring him back to you and set him before you, then let me bear the blame forever. [10]If we had not delayed, we would now have returned twice.”

[11]Then their father Israel said to them, “If it must be so, then do this: take some of the choice fruits of the land in your bags, and carry a present down to the man, a little [u]balm and a little honey, gum, myrrh, pistachio nuts, and almonds. [12]Take double the money with you. Carry back with you the money [v]that was returned in the mouth of your sacks. Perhaps it was an oversight. [13]Take also your brother, and arise, go again to the man. [14]May [w]God Almighty [1] [x]grant you mercy before the man, and may he send back your other brother and Benjamin. And as for me, [y] if I am bereaved of my children, I am bereaved.”

15 So the men took this present, and they took double the money with them, and Benjamin. They arose and went down to Egypt and stood before Joseph.

16 When Joseph saw Benjamin with them, he said to the [z] steward of his house, “Bring the men into the house, and slaughter an animal and make ready, for the men are to dine with me at noon.” 17 The man did as Joseph told him and brought the men to Joseph’s house. 18 And the men were afraid because they were brought to Joseph’s house, and they said, “It is because of the money, which was replaced in our sacks the first time, that we are brought in, so that he may assault us and fall upon us to make us servants and seize our donkeys.” 19 So they went up to the steward of Joseph’s house and spoke with him at the door of the house, 20 and said, [a] “Oh, my lord, [b] we came down the first time to buy food. 21 And [c] when we came to the lodging place we opened our sacks, and there was each man’s money in the mouth of his sack, our money in full weight. So we have brought it again with us, 22 and we have brought other money down with us to buy food. We do not know who put our money in our sacks.” 23 He replied, “Peace to you, do not be afraid. Your God and the God of your father has put treasure in your sacks for you. I received your money.” Then he brought Simeon out to them. 24 And when the man had brought the men into Joseph’s house and [d] given them water, and they had washed their feet, and when he had given their donkeys fodder, 25 they prepared [e] the present for Joseph’s coming at noon, for they heard that they should eat bread there.

26 When Joseph came home, they brought into the house to him the present that they had with them and [f] bowed down to him to the ground. 27 And he inquired about their welfare and said, “Is your father well, the old man [g] of whom you spoke? Is he still alive?” 28 They said, “Your servant our father is well; he is still alive.” And they [h] bowed their heads and prostrated themselves. 29 And he lifted up his eyes and saw his brother Benjamin, [i] his mother’s son, and said, “Is this your youngest brother, [g] of whom you spoke to me? God be gracious to you, my son!” 30 [†]Then Joseph hurried out, for [j] his compassion grew warm for his brother, and he sought a place to weep.

And he entered his chamber and [k] wept there. 31Then he washed his face and came out. And [l] controlling himself he said, “Serve the food.” 32[†]They served him by himself, and them by themselves, and the Egyptians who ate with him by themselves, because the Egyptians could not eat with the Hebrews, for that is [m] an abomination to the Egyptians. 33And they sat before him, the firstborn according to his birthright and the youngest according to his youth. And the men looked at one another in amazement. 34 [n] Portions were taken to them from Joseph’s table, but Benjamin’s portion was [o] five times as much as any of theirs. And they drank and were merry [2] with him.

Joseph Tests His Brothers

GENESIS 44 [†]Then he commanded [p] the steward of his house, [q] “Fill the men’s sacks with food, as much as they can carry, and put each man’s money in the mouth of his sack, 2and put my cup, the silver cup, in the mouth of the sack of the youngest, with his money for the grain.” And he did as Joseph told him.

3[†]As soon as the morning was light, the men were sent away with their donkeys. 4They had gone only a short distance from the city. Now Joseph said to his [r] steward, “Up, follow after the men, and when you overtake them, say to them, ‘Why have you repaid evil for good? [1] 5Is it not from this that my lord drinks, and [s] by this that he practices divination? You have done evil in doing this.’”

6When he overtook them, he spoke to them these words. 7They said to him, “Why does my lord speak such words as these? Far be it from your servants to do such a thing! 8Behold, [t] the money that we found in the mouths of our sacks we brought back to you from the land of Canaan. How then could we steal silver or gold from your lord’s house? 9 [u] Whichever of your servants is found with it shall die, and we also will be [v] my lord’s servants.” 10He said, “Let it be as you say: he who is found with it shall be my servant, and the rest of you shall be innocent.” 11[†]Then each man quickly lowered his sack to the ground, and each man opened his sack. 12And he searched, beginning with the eldest and ending with the youngest.

And the cup was found in Benjamin's sack. 13Then they [w] tore their clothes, and every man loaded his donkey, and they returned to the city.

14[†]When Judah and his brothers came to Joseph's house, he was still there. They [x] fell before him to the ground. 15Joseph said to them, "What deed is this that you have done? Do you not know that a man like me [y] can indeed practice divination?" 16And Judah said, "What shall we say to my lord? What shall we speak? Or how can we clear ourselves? God has found out [z] the guilt of your servants; behold, we are [a] my lord's servants, both we and he also in whose hand the cup has been found." 17But he said, "Far be it from me that I should do so! Only the man in whose hand the cup was found shall be my servant. But as for you, go up in peace to your father."

18[†]Then Judah went up to him and said, [b] "Oh, my lord, please let your servant speak a word in my lord's ears, and [c] let not your anger burn against your servant, for [d] you are like Pharaoh himself. 19My lord asked his servants, saying, 'Have you a father, or a brother?' 20And we said to my lord, 'We have a father, an old man, [e] and a young brother, [f] the child of his old age. His brother is dead, and he alone is left of his mother's children, and his father loves him.' 21Then you said to your servants, [g] 'Bring him down to me, that I may set my eyes on him.' 22We said to my lord, 'The boy cannot leave his father, for if he should leave his father, [h] his father would die.' 23Then you said to your servants, [i] 'Unless your youngest brother comes down with you, you shall not see my face again.'

24"When we went back to your servant my father, we told him the words of my lord. 25And when [j] our father said, 'Go again, buy us a little food,' 26we said, 'We cannot go down. If our youngest brother goes with us, then we will go down. For we cannot see the man's face unless our youngest brother is with us.' 27Then your servant my father said to us, 'You know that my wife bore me [k] two sons. 28One left me, and I said, [l] "Surely he has been torn to pieces," and I have never seen him since. 29[†]If you [m] take this one also from me, [n] and harm happens to him, you will bring down my gray hairs in evil to Sheol.'

30[†]"Now therefore, as soon as I come to your servant my father, and the boy is not with us, then, as his life is bound up in the boy's life, 31as soon as he sees that the boy is not with us, he will die, and your servants will bring down the gray hairs of your servant our father with sorrow to Sheol. [32]For your servant became a pledge of safety for the boy to my father, saying, [o]‘If I do not bring him back to you, then I shall bear the blame before my father all my life.’ [33]Now therefore, please let your servant remain instead of the boy as a servant to my lord, and let the boy go back with his brothers. [34]For how can I go back to my father if the boy is not with me? I fear to see the evil that would find my father.”

Joseph Provides for His Brothers and Family

GENESIS 45 [†]Then Joseph could not [p]control himself before all those who stood by him. He cried, “Make everyone go out from me.” So no one stayed with him when Joseph made himself known to his brothers. [2]And he wept aloud, so that the Egyptians heard it, and the household of Pharaoh heard it. [3]And Joseph said to his brothers, [q]“I am Joseph! Is my father still alive?” But his brothers could not answer him, for they were dismayed at his presence.

[4]So Joseph said to his brothers, “Come near to me, please.” And they came near. And he said, “I am your brother, Joseph, [r]whom you sold into Egypt. [5]And now do not be distressed or angry with yourselves because you sold me here, [s]for God sent me before you to preserve life. [6]For the famine has been in the land these two years, and there are [t]yet five years in which there will be neither [u]plowing nor harvest. [7]And God sent me before you to preserve for you a remnant on earth, and to keep alive for you many survivors. [8][†]So it was not you who sent me here, but God. He has made me a father to Pharaoh, and lord of all his house and [v]ruler over all the land of Egypt. [9]Hurry and go up to my father and say to him, ‘Thus says your son Joseph, God has made me lord of all Egypt. Come down to me; do not tarry. [10][†] [w]You shall dwell in the land of Goshen, and you shall be near me, you and your children and your children’s children, and your flocks, your herds, and all that you have. [11] [x]There I will provide for you, for there are yet five years of famine to come, so that you and your household, and all that you have, do not come to poverty.’ [12]And now your eyes see, and the eyes of my brother Benjamin see, that it is [y]my mouth that speaks to you. [13]You must tell my father of all my honor in Egypt, and of all that you have seen. Hurry and [z] bring my father down here.” [14]Then he fell upon his brother Benjamin’s neck and wept, and Benjamin wept upon his neck. [15]And he kissed all his brothers and wept upon them. After that his brothers talked with him.

[16]When the report was heard in Pharaoh’s house, “Joseph’s brothers have come,” it pleased Pharaoh and his servants. [17]And Pharaoh said to Joseph, “Say to your brothers, ‘Do this: load your beasts and go back to the land of Canaan, [18]and take your father and your households, and come to me, and [a] I will give you the best of the land of Egypt, and you shall eat the fat of the land.’ [19]And you, Joseph, are commanded to say, ‘Do this: take [b] wagons from the land of Egypt for your little ones and for your wives, and bring your father, and come. [20]Have no concern for [1] your goods, for the best of all the land of Egypt is yours.’”

[21]The sons of Israel did so: and Joseph gave them [b] wagons, according to the command of Pharaoh, and gave them provisions for the journey. [22]To each and all of them he gave [c] a change of clothes, but to Benjamin he gave three hundred shekels [2] of silver and [d] five changes of clothes. [23]To his father he sent as follows: ten donkeys loaded with the good things of Egypt, and ten female donkeys loaded with grain, bread, and provision for his father on the journey. [24]Then he sent his brothers away, and as they departed, he said to them, [e] “Do not quarrel on the way.”

[25]So they went up out of Egypt and came to the land of Canaan to their father Jacob. [26]And they told him, “Joseph is still alive, and he is ruler over all the land of Egypt.” And his heart became numb, for he did not believe them. [27]But when they told him all the words of Joseph, which he had said to them, and when he saw [f] the wagons that Joseph had sent to carry him, the spirit of their father Jacob revived. [28]And Israel said, “It is enough; Joseph my son is still alive. I will go and see him before I die.”

Joseph Brings His Family to Egypt

GENESIS 46 [†]So Israel took his journey with all that he had and came to [g] Beersheba, and offered sacrifices [h] to the God of his father Isaac. [2][†]And God spoke to Israel [i] in visions of the night and said, “Jacob, Jacob.” And he said, “Here I am.” [3]Then he said, “I am God, [j] the God of your father. Do not be afraid to go down to Egypt, for there I will [k] make you into a great nation. [4]I myself will go down with you to Egypt, and I will also [l] bring you up again, and [m] Joseph's hand shall close your eyes."

[5][†]Then Jacob set out from Beersheba. The sons of Israel carried Jacob their father, their little ones, and their wives, in the wagons [n] that Pharaoh had sent to carry him. [6]They also took their livestock and their goods, which they had gained in the land of Canaan, and [o] came into Egypt, Jacob and all his offspring with him, [7]his sons, and his sons' sons with him, his daughters, and his sons' daughters. All his offspring he brought with him into Egypt.

[8][†][p] Now [q] these are the names of the descendants of Israel, who came into Egypt, Jacob and his sons. [r] Reuben, Jacob's firstborn, [9]and the sons of Reuben: Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi. [10]The sons of Simeon: Jemuel, Jamin, Ohad, Jachin, Zohar, and Shaul, the son of a Canaanite woman. [11]The sons of [s] Levi: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari. [12]The sons of [t] Judah: Er, Onan, Shelah, Perez, and Zerah (but [u] Er and Onan died in the land of Canaan); and the sons of [v] Perez were Hezron and Hamul. [13] [w] The sons of Issachar: Tola, Puvah, Yob, and Shimron. [14]The sons of Zebulun: Sered, Elon, and Jahleel. [15]These are the sons of Leah, [x] whom she bore to Jacob in Paddan-aram, together with his daughter Dinah; altogether his sons and his daughters numbered thirty-three.

[16]The sons of Gad: Ziphion, Haggi, Shuni, Ezbon, Eri, Arodi, and Areli. [17] [y] The sons of Asher: Imnah, Ishvah, Ishvi, Beriah, with Serah their sister. And the sons of Beriah: Heber and Malchiel. [18] [z] These are the sons of Zilpah, [a] whom Laban gave to Leah his daughter; and these she bore to Jacob—sixteen persons.

[19]The sons of Rachel, Jacob's wife: Joseph and Benjamin. [20][†]And [b] to Joseph in the land of Egypt were born Manasseh and Ephraim, whom Asenath, the daughter of Potiphera the priest of [c] On, bore to him. [21]And [d] the sons of Benjamin: Bela, Becher, Ashbel, Gera, Naaman, Ehi, Rosh, Muppim, Huppim, and Ard. [22]These are the sons of Rachel, who were born to Jacob—fourteen persons in all.

[23]The son [1] of Dan: Hushim. [24] [e] The sons of Naphtali: Jahzeel, Guni, Jezer, and Shillem. [25] [f] These are the sons of Bilhah, [g] whom Laban gave to Rachel his daughter, and these she bore to Jacob—seven persons in all.

[26][†]All the persons belonging to Jacob who came into Egypt, who were his own descendants, not including Jacob's sons' wives, were sixty-six persons in all. [27]And the sons of Joseph, who were born to him in Egypt, were two. [h] All the persons of the house of Jacob who came into Egypt were seventy.

Jacob and Joseph Reunited

[28]He had sent Judah ahead of him to Joseph to show the way before him in Goshen, and they came [i] into the land of Goshen. [29]Then Joseph prepared his chariot and went up to meet Israel his father in Goshen. He presented himself to him and [j] fell on his neck and wept on his neck a good while. [30]Israel said to Joseph, [k] "Now let me die, since I have seen your face and know that you are still alive." [31][†]Joseph said to his brothers and to his father's household, [l] "I will go up and tell Pharaoh and will say to him, 'My brothers and my father's household, who were in the land of Canaan, have come to me. [32] [m] And the men are shepherds, for they have been keepers of livestock, and they have brought their flocks and their herds and all that they have.' [33]When Pharaoh calls you and says, [m] 'What is your occupation?' [34]you shall say, [m] 'Your servants have been keepers of livestock [n] from our youth even until now, both we and our fathers,' in order that you may dwell [o] in the land of Goshen, for every shepherd is [p] an abomination to the Egyptians."

Jacob's Family Settles in Goshen

GENESIS 47 [†]So Joseph [q] went in and told Pharaoh, "My father and my brothers, with their flocks and herds and all that they possess, have come from the land of Canaan. They are now in [r] the land of Goshen." [2]And from among his brothers he took five men and [s] presented them to Pharaoh. [3]Pharaoh said to his brothers, [t] "What is your occupation?" And they said to Pharaoh, [u] "Your servants are shepherds, as our fathers were." [4]They said to Pharaoh, [v] "We have come to sojourn in the land, for there is no pasture for your servants' flocks, for the famine is severe in the land of Canaan. And now, please let your servants dwell [w] in the land of Goshen." [5]Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, "Your father and your brothers have come to you. [6]The land of Egypt is before you. Settle your father and your brothers [x] in the best of the land. [y] Let them settle in the land of Goshen, and if you know any [z] able men among them, put them in charge of my livestock."

[7][†]Then Joseph brought in Jacob his father and stood him before Pharaoh, [a] and Jacob blessed Pharaoh. [8]And Pharaoh said to Jacob, "How many are the days of the years of your life?" [9]And Jacob said to Pharaoh, "The days of the years of my [b] sojourning are 130 years. [c] Few and evil have been the days of the years of my life, and [d] they have not attained to the days of the years of the life of my fathers in the days of their [b] sojourning." [10]And Jacob [e] blessed Pharaoh and went out from the presence of Pharaoh. [11][†]Then Joseph settled his father and his brothers and gave them a possession in the land of Egypt, in the best of the land, in the land of [f] Rameses, [g] as Pharaoh had commanded. [12]And Joseph [h] provided his father, his brothers, and all his father's household with food, according to the number of their dependents.

Joseph and the Famine

[13][†]Now there was no food in all the land, for the famine was very severe, so that the land of Egypt and the land of Canaan languished by reason of the famine. [14] [i] And Joseph gathered up all the money that was found in the land of Egypt and in the land of Canaan, in exchange for the grain that they bought. And Joseph brought the money into Pharaoh's house. [15][†]And when the money was all spent in the land of Egypt and in the land of Canaan, all the Egyptians came to Joseph and said, "Give us food. [j] Why should we die before your eyes? For our money is gone." [16]And Joseph answered, "Give your livestock, and I will give you food in exchange for your livestock, if your money is gone." [17]So they brought their livestock to Joseph, and Joseph gave them food in exchange for the horses, the flocks, the herds, and the donkeys. He supplied them with food in exchange for all their livestock that year. [18][†]And when that year was ended, they came to him the following year and said to him, "We will not hide from my lord that our money is all spent. The herds of livestock are my lord's. There is nothing left in the sight of my lord but our bodies and our land. [19]Why should we die before your eyes, both we and our land? [k]Buy us and our land for food, and we with our land will be servants to Pharaoh. And give us seed that we may live and not die, and that the land may not be desolate."

[20]So Joseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh, for all the Egyptians sold their fields, because the famine was severe on them. The land became Pharaoh's. [21]As for the people, he made servants of them [1] from one end of Egypt to the other. [22] [l]Only the land of the priests he did not buy, for the priests had a fixed allowance from Pharaoh and lived on the allowance that Pharaoh gave them; therefore they did not sell their land.

[23]Then Joseph said to the people, "Behold, I have this day bought you and your land for Pharaoh. Now here is seed for you, and you shall sow the land. [24]And at the harvests you shall give a [m]fifth to Pharaoh, and four fifths shall be your own, as seed for the field and as food for yourselves and your households, and as food for your little ones." [25]And they said, "You have saved our lives; [n]may it please my lord, we will be servants to Pharaoh." [26]So Joseph made it a statute concerning the land of Egypt, and it stands to this day, that Pharaoh should have the fifth; [o]the land of the priests alone did not become Pharaoh's.

[27][†]Thus Israel settled in the land of Egypt, [p]in the land of Goshen. [q]And they gained possessions in it, and were fruitful and multiplied greatly. [28][†]And Jacob lived in the land of Egypt seventeen years. [r]So the days of Jacob, the years of his life, were 147 years.

[29]And [s]when the time drew near that Israel must die, he called his son Joseph and said to him, "If now [t]I have found favor in your sight, [u]put your hand under my thigh and [v]promise to deal kindly and truly with me. [w]Do not bury me in Egypt, [30]but let me lie with my fathers. Carry me out of Egypt and [x]bury me in their burying place." He answered, "I will do as you have said." [31]And he said, "Swear to me"; and he swore to him. Then [y]Israel bowed himself upon the head of his bed. [2]

Jacob Blesses Ephraim and Manasseh

GENESIS 48 [†]After this, Joseph was told, "Behold, your father is ill." So he took with him his two sons, Manasseh and Ephraim. [2]And it was told to Jacob, “Your son Joseph has come to you.” Then Israel summoned his strength and sat up in bed. [3][†]And Jacob said to Joseph, [z]“God Almighty [1] appeared to me at [a]Luz in the land of Canaan and blessed me, [4]and said to me, ‘Behold, I will make you fruitful and multiply you, and I will make of you a company of peoples and will give this land to your offspring after you [b]for an everlasting possession.’ [5]And now your [c]two sons, who were born to you in the land of Egypt before I came to you in Egypt, [d]are mine; Ephraim and Manasseh shall be mine, as Reuben and Simeon are. [6]And the children that you fathered after them shall be yours. They shall be called by the name of their brothers in their inheritance. [7]As for me, when I came from Paddan, to my sorrow [e]Rachel died in the land of Canaan on the way, when there was still some distance [2] to go to Ephrath, and I buried her there on the way to Ephrath (that is, Bethlehem).”

[8][†]When Israel saw Joseph’s sons, he said, “Who are these?” [9]Joseph said to his father, [f]“They are my sons, whom God has given me here.” And he said, “Bring them to me, please, that [g]I may bless them.” [10]Now [h]the eyes of Israel were dim with age, so that he could not see. So Joseph brought them near him, [i]and he kissed them and embraced them. [11]And Israel said to Joseph, [j]“I never expected to see your face; and behold, God has let me see your offspring also.” [12]Then Joseph removed them from his knees, and he bowed himself with his face to the earth. [13][†]And Joseph took them both, Ephraim in his right hand toward Israel’s left hand, and Manasseh in his left hand toward Israel’s right hand, and brought them near him. [14][k]And Israel stretched out his right hand and laid it on the head of Ephraim, who was the younger, and his left hand on the head of Manasseh, [l]crossing his hands (for Manasseh was the firstborn). [15]And he blessed Joseph and said, the God who has been my shepherd all my life long to this day, [16] [n]the angel who has [o]redeemed me from all evil, bless the boys; and in them let [p]my name be carried on, and the name of my fathers Abraham and Isaac; and let them [q]grow into a multitude [3] in the midst of the earth.”

17When Joseph saw that his father [r] laid his right hand on the head of Ephraim, it displeased him, and he took his father's hand to move it from Ephraim's head to Manasseh's head. 18And Joseph said to his father, "Not this way, my father; since this one is the firstborn, put your right hand on his head." 19But his father refused and said, [r] "I know, my son, I know. He also shall become a people, and he also shall be great. Nevertheless, [s] his younger brother shall be greater than he, and his offspring shall become a multitude [4] of nations." 20So he blessed them that day, saying,

"By you Israel will pronounce blessings, saying, [t] 'God make you as Ephraim and as Manasseh.'"

Thus he put Ephraim before Manasseh. 21[†]Then Israel said to Joseph, "Behold, I am about to die, but [u] God will be with you and will bring you again to the land of your fathers. 22Moreover, I have given to [v] you rather than to your brothers one mountain slope [5] that I took from the hand of the Amorites with my sword and with my bow."

Jacob Blesses His Sons

GENESIS 49 [†] [w] Then Jacob called his sons and said, "Gather yourselves together, that I may tell you what shall happen to you [x] in days to come.

2 "Assemble and listen, O sons of Jacob, listen to Israel your father.

3[†] "Reuben, you are [y] my firstborn, my might, and the [z] firstfruits of my strength, preeminent in dignity and preeminent in power.
4 Unstable as water, you shall not have preeminence, because you [a] went up to your father's bed;
then you defiled it—he went up to my couch!

5[†] [b] "Simeon and Levi are brothers; weapons [c] of violence are their swords.
6 Let my soul come not into their council;

[d] O my glory, [e] be not joined to their company.
For in their anger they killed men, and in their willfulness they [f] hamstrung oxen.
7 Cursed be their anger, for it is fierce, and their wrath, for it is cruel!
I will [g] divide them in Jacob and scatter them in Israel.

8 [†] “Judah, [h] your brothers shall praise you;
[i] your hand shall be on the neck of your enemies;
[j] your father’s sons shall bow down before you.
9 Judah is [k] a lion’s cub;
from the prey, my son, you have gone up.
[l] He stooped down; he crouched as a lion and as a lioness; who dares rouse him?
10 The [m] scepter shall not depart from Judah, nor the ruler’s staff [n] from between his feet, until tribute comes to him; [1] and to him shall be the obedience of the peoples.
11 Binding his foal to the vine and his donkey’s colt to the choice vine, he has washed his garments in wine and his vesture in the blood of grapes.
12 His [o] eyes are darker than wine, and his teeth whiter than milk.

13 [†] [p] “Zebulun shall dwell at the [q] shore of the sea;
he shall become a haven for ships, and his border shall be at Sidon.

14 [†] [r] “Issachar is a strong donkey, crouching between the sheepfolds. [2] 15 He saw that a resting place was good, and that the land was pleasant,
so he bowed his shoulder to bear, and [s]became a servant at forced labor.

16 [†] [t]“Dan shall [u]judge his people as one of the tribes of Israel.
17 Dan [v]shall be a serpent in the way, a viper by the path,
that bites the horse’s heels
so that his rider falls backward.
18 I [w]wait for your salvation, O LORD.

19 [†] [x]“Raiders shall raid [y]Gad, [3] but he shall raid at their heels.

20 [†] [z]“Asher’s food shall be rich, and he shall yield royal delicacies.

21 [†] [a]“Naphtali is a doe let loose that bears beautiful fawns. [4]

22 [†] “Joseph is [b]a fruitful bough, a fruitful bough by a spring;
his branches run over the wall. [5] 23 The archers [c]bitterly attacked him, shot at him, and harassed him severely, 24 yet [d]his bow remained unmoved; his arms [6] were made agile
by the hands of the [e]Mighty One of Jacob (from there is [f]the Shepherd, [7] [g]the Stone of Israel), 25 [h]by the God of your father who will help you, by [i]the Almighty [8] [j]who will bless you with blessings of heaven above, blessings of the deep that crouches beneath, blessings of the breasts and of the womb.
26 The blessings of your father are mighty beyond the blessings of my parents, up to the bounties [k]of the everlasting hills. [9]

May they be [l] on the head of Joseph, and on the brow of him who was set apart from his brothers.

[27][†] [m] “Benjamin is a ravenous wolf, in the morning devouring the prey and at evening [n] dividing the spoil.”

Jacob’s Death and Burial

[28]All these are the twelve tribes of Israel. This is what their father said to them as he blessed them, blessing each with the blessing suitable to him. [29][†]Then he commanded them and said to them, “I am to be [o] gathered to my people; [p] bury me with my fathers [q] in the cave that is in the field of Ephron the Hittite, [30]in the cave that is in the field at Machpelah, to the east of Mamre, in the land of Canaan, [r] which Abraham bought with the field from Ephron the Hittite to possess as a burying place. [31] [s] There they buried Abraham and Sarah his wife. There [t] they buried Isaac and Rebekah his wife, and there I buried Leah— [32]the field and the cave that is in it were bought from the Hittites.” [33]When Jacob finished commanding his sons, he drew up his feet into the bed and breathed his last and [u] was gathered to his people.

GENESIS 50 [†]Then Joseph [v] fell on his father’s face and wept over him and kissed him. [2]And Joseph commanded his servants the physicians to [w] embalm his father. So the physicians embalmed Israel. [3]Forty days were required for it, for that is how many are required for embalming. And the Egyptians [x] wept for him seventy days.

[4]And when the days of weeping for him were past, Joseph spoke to the household of Pharaoh, saying, [y] “If now I have found favor in your eyes, please speak in the ears of Pharaoh, saying, [5]‘My father made me swear, saying, “I am about to die: in my tomb [z] that I hewed out for myself in the land of Canaan, there shall you bury me.” Now therefore, let me please go up and bury my father. Then I will return.’” [6]And Pharaoh answered, “Go up, and bury your father, as he made you swear.” [7][†]So Joseph went up to bury his father. With him went up all the servants of Pharaoh, the elders of his household, and all the elders of the land of Egypt, [8]as well as all the household of Joseph, his brothers, and his father’s household. Only their children, their flocks, and their herds were left [a] in the land of Goshen. [9]And there went up with him both chariots and horsemen. It was a very great company. [10][†]When they came to the threshing floor of Atad, which is beyond the Jordan, [b] they lamented there with a very great and grievous lamentation, and he [c] made a mourning for his father seven days. [11]When the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, saw the mourning on the threshing floor of Atad, they said, “This is a grievous mourning by the Egyptians.” Therefore the place was named Abel-mizraim; [1] it is beyond the Jordan. [12][†]Thus his sons did for him as he had commanded them, [13]for [d] his sons carried him to the land of Canaan and buried him in the cave of the field at Machpelah, to the east of Mamre, which Abraham [e] bought with the field from Ephron the Hittite to possess as a burying place. [14]After he had buried his father, Joseph returned to Egypt with his brothers and all who had gone up with him to bury his father.

God’s Good Purposes

[15][†]When Joseph’s brothers saw that their father was dead, they said, “It may be that Joseph will hate us and pay us back for all the evil that we did to him.” [16]So they sent a message to Joseph, saying, “Your father gave this command before he died: [17]‘Say to Joseph, “Please forgive the transgression of your brothers and their sin, because they did evil to you.”’ And now, please forgive the transgression of the servants of [f] the God of your father.” Joseph wept when they spoke to him. [18][†]His brothers also came and [g] fell down before him and said, “Behold, we are your servants.” [19]But Joseph said to them, “Do not fear, for [h] am I in the place of God? [20]As for you, you meant evil against me, but [i] God meant it for good, to bring it about that many people [2] should be kept alive, as they are today. [21]So do not fear; [j] I will provide for you and your little ones.” Thus he comforted them and spoke kindly to them.

The Death of Joseph

22[†]So Joseph remained in Egypt, he and his father's house. Joseph lived 110 years. 23And Joseph saw Ephraim's children [k]of the third generation. The [l]children also of Machir the son of Manasseh were [m]counted as Joseph's own. [3] 24[†]And Joseph said to his brothers, "I am about to die, but [n]God will visit you and bring you up out of this land to the land [o]that he swore to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob." 25Then [p]Joseph made the sons of Israel swear, saying, "God will surely visit you, and you shall carry up my bones from here." 26So Joseph died, being 110 years old. They [q]embalmed him, and he was put in a coffin in Egypt.

Study Notes for Genesis

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:1–11:26 Primeval History. Genesis 1–11 surveys the history of the world before Abraham, while chs. 12–50 focus on one main family. There are no real parallels to chs. 12–50 in the literature of other ancient civilizations. However, other ancient stories do exist about both creation and the flood. These stories stand in sharp contrast to the biblical account. Generally they depict creation as a great struggle, often involving conflict between the gods. For example, they claim that the flood was sent because the gods could not stand the noise made by human beings but were unable to control it in any other way. Genesis disproves such stories by its teachings. There is only one God, whose word is almighty. He spoke the world into being. The sun and moon are not gods in their own right but are created by the one God. It is human sin that prompts the flood. These principles in Genesis 1–11 run through the rest of Scripture.

FACT

In the Hebrew Bible, the title of Genesis is In the Beginning, the book's first words. The English title is related to the Greek word genesis, which means "beginning."

1:1–2:3 God's Creation and Ordering of Heaven and Earth. The book of Genesis opens with a majestic description of how God created the heavens and earth and then put everything in order so that it might become his dwelling place. God assigns humanity to govern the other creatures on his behalf, so that the whole earth should become the temple of God, the place of his presence, displaying his glory.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:1 In the beginning. The opening verse of the Genesis creation account can be taken as either (1) a summary of the entire process of creation or (2) a description of the first event in creation. This event would have occurred sometime before the first day (vv. 3–5), and would have included the creation of matter, space, and time. This second view emphasizes the fact that God created the universe from nothing (compare Heb. 11:3). God created. The Hebrew word for God, 'Elohim, is plural, possibly to express God's majesty, but the verb "created" is singular, indicating that God is one being. In contrast to other ancient Near Eastern accounts of creation, Genesis always emphasizes that there is only one God. Whenever the Hebrew verb for “create” occurs in the OT, God is the subject. Heavens and the earth here means “everything.” Thus, “in the beginning” refers to the beginning of everything. The text indicates that God created everything in the universe, which means that he created it out of nothing.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:2 Before the first actual day of creation (vv. 3–5), the earth was without form and void (compare Jer. 4:23), implying that it lacked order and content. The reference to darkness . . . over the face of the deep points to the absence of light. The Spirit of God was hovering suggests that something was about to happen. There is no reason to think that a long time elapsed between Gen. 1:1 and 1:2.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:3–5 And God said. God’s absolute power is seen in that he merely speaks and things are created. Each new section of ch. 1 is introduced by God’s speaking. Everything that God speaks into being is good (vv. 10, 12, 18, 21, 25, 31). These verses show how God has arranged time in a weekly cycle (Day . . . Night). God is pictured as working for six days and resting on the seventh, which is a model for human activity. Day 4 will develop this idea further: the lights are placed in the heavens for signs and seasons, for marking days and years and the times of the festivals, such as Passover. This sense of time having a structure is further emphasized as each stage of God’s creative work is separated into specific days. there was evening and there was morning, the first day. After each workday there is an evening and then a morning, implying that there is a nighttime (the worker’s daily time of rest) in between. Similar phrases divide ch. 1 into six distinctive workdays, with 2:1–3 being a seventh day, God’s Sabbath. On the first three days God creates the environment that the creatures of days 4–6 will inhabit. For example, the sea and sky (day 2) are occupied by the fish and birds (day 5). These days can be understood as days in the life of God, but how his days relate to human days is more difficult to determine (see 2 Pet. 3:8).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:6–8 As light was separated from darkness, so the waters are separated to form an expanse, which God calls Heaven. It is difficult to find a single English word that accurately translates the precise meaning of this Hebrew term (see ESV footnote). In this context, it refers to what humans see above them, that is, the region that contains both heavenly lights (vv. 14–17) and birds (v. 20).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:9–13 God organizes two further regions: the dry land, forming Earth; and the waters, forming Seas (vv. 9–10). God then instructs the earth to bring forth vegetation (vv. 11–12). The creation of distinctive locations in days 1–3, along with vegetation, prepares for the filling of these locations in days 4–6.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:14–19 These verses, describing the fourth day, correspond with the separating of light and darkness on the first day (vv. 3–5). Here is the creation of lights that will govern time, as well as provide light upon the earth (v. 15). By referring to them as the greater light and lesser light (v. 16), the author of Genesis avoids using terms that were also proper names for pagan gods linked to the sun and the moon. The term made may simply mean that God "fashioned" or "worked on" these greater and lesser lights. It does not necessarily mean that they did not exist in any form before this. On this day God made it possible that the sun and moon would define the passing of time. The references to seasons (v. 14) or "appointed times" (ESV footnote) and to days and years probably refer to appointed times for religious observances in the Hebrew calendar (see Ex. 13:10).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:16 and the stars. The immense universe that God created (see note on Isa. 40:25–26) is mentioned here only briefly, almost as an afterthought. The focus of Genesis 1 is on the earth.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:20–23 This section, on day 5, describes how the waters and the expanse of the heavens are filled with various kinds of creatures.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:21 The Hebrew term for great sea creatures can mean large serpents, dragons, or crocodiles, as well as whales or sharks. Some have suggested that this could also refer to extinct creatures such as dinosaurs.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:24–25 livestock and creeping things and beasts of the earth. These terms group the land-dwelling animals into three broad categories, probably reflecting the way nomadic shepherds would experience them. This list is not intended to be exhaustive, and it is hard to know in which category to put some animals.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:26 Let us make man in our image. Some have suggested that God may be addressing the members of his heavenly court, whom the OT elsewhere calls "sons of God" (e.g., Job 1:6) and the NT calls "angels." But man is not made in the image of angels (see Gen. 1:27), and the Bible never teaches that angels participated in the creation of human beings. Since God alone creates man (v. 27), many Christians believe that "let us" means God is speaking to himself. If so, this would be the first biblical mention of the "Trinity" (see note on John 1:1).

FACT

Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. God said, "Let us make man" (1:26). This phrase could be the Bible's earliest indication that God exists as three persons in one: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Christians around the world refer to this as the doctrine of the Trinity.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:27 The term image of God can be seen as describing the ways in which man is different from all other created beings. It describes how humans resemble God in their ability to think, to communicate, to understand right and wrong, to be creative, and to experience relationships with God and with one another. This allows men and women to represent God as they exercise authority over the rest of creation (see v. 26; and note on v. 28). The Hebrew word for man ('adam), is often a generic term for both male and female, though sometimes it refers to man in distinction from woman (e.g., 2:22, 23; 3:8). It can also be the proper name "Adam" (2:20; 3:17; 4:1; 5:1).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:28–30 Although the word "covenant" does not occur in the Bible until 6:18, many consider 1:28–30 along with 2:16–17 to be God's covenant with Adam. See Hos. 6:7 and note. Adam receives this covenant on behalf of the rest of mankind. Thus, in the NT, Paul views Adam as a representative head of the human race (1 Cor. 15:22).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:28 Be fruitful and multiply. From the time of creation, God's plan has been that the whole earth should be populated by those who know him and who serve wisely as his representatives. To subdue the earth and to have dominion over it probably means that humans are permitted to make the earth beneficial for themselves. They are to investigate and develop its resources. This command provides a basis for wise scientific and technological development. It does not mean that humans may exploit the earth and its creatures simply to satisfy their own greed.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 1:31 One final occurrence of behold, it was very good invites the reader to imagine seeing creation through God's eyes. Despite the invasion of sin (ch. 3), the material creation retains its basic goodness (see 1 Tim. 4:4).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 2:1–3 God has now completed the process of putting his creation in order (see note on 1:1–2:3). That God rested does not imply he was weary from labor. Rather, God's resting hints at the purpose of creation. God's purpose for the earth is that it should become his dwelling place, not simply a place for his creatures. God blessed the seventh day and made it holy (2:3). These words provide the basis for God's instructing the Israelites to rest from their normal labor on the Sabbath day (see Ex. 20:8–11).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 2:4–4:26 Earth's First People. Centered initially on the garden of Eden, the episodes in this part of Genesis recount how God's ordered creation is thrown into chaos by the human couple's disobedience. The subsequent story of Cain and Abel and then Lamech (ch. 4) shows human society spiraling downward into violence. These events are essential for understanding not only the rest of Genesis but the rest of the Bible as well.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 2:4 These are the generations of. This is the first of 11 such headings in Genesis (5:1; 6:9; 10:1; 11:10; 11:27; 25:12; 25:19; 36:1; 36:9; 37:2). LORD God. Throughout 1:1–2:3 the generic word "God" was used for the Creator. The reader is now introduced to God's personal name, "Yahweh," which is rendered in most English Bible translations as "LORD," using small capital letters. This practice comes from the ancient Jewish tradition of substituting for "Yahweh" the Hebrew term for "Lord" when reading the biblical text. The Septuagint (an ancient Greek translation of the OT) used the Greek word for "Lord" (Kyrios) to refer to God. That translation was then quoted many times by the NT authors, who also used Kyrios rather than Yahweh for God's name. See notes on Ex. 3:14; 3:15.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 2:7 then the LORD God formed the man of dust from the ground. The verb "formed" describes a potter fashioning clay into a particular shape. The close relationship between the man and the ground is reflected in the Hebrew words 'adam for man and 'adamah for the ground. living creature. The same Hebrew term is used in 1:20, 24 for sea and land creatures. (See Paul's quotation of this passage in 1 Cor. 15:45.)

The Garden of Eden

Genesis describes the location of Eden in relation to the convergence of four rivers. While two of the rivers are unknown (the Pishon and the Gihon), the nearly universal identification of the other two rivers as the Tigris and the Euphrates suggests a possible location for Eden at either their northern or southern extremes.

ADAM

Adam, whose name means “man,” was the first human being. Created out of dust, he was made in the image of God. Adam was given dominion over the rest of creation and was placed in the garden of Eden to care for it. God created Eve as a helper for Adam, and together they enjoyed perfect fellowship with their Creator. But Adam and Eve chose to disobey God, which brought sin and death into the world. Because of their sin, all humans are now born sinners and will someday die. The Bible tells the story of how God redeems his creation from the curse of Adam’s sin. “For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive” (1 Cor. 15:22). (Genesis 2:7)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 2:8–9 God provides a suitable environment for the man by planting a garden in Eden, in the east. The name “Eden” suggests luxury and pleasure. It probably refers to a region much greater than the garden itself. God formed the man in the “land” (see vv. 5–7), and then put him in the garden (compare v. 15). The earliest translation into Greek (the Septuagint) used the word paradeisos, from which comes the English term “paradise” (compare Luke 23:43), to translate the Hebrew term for “garden.” The abundance of the garden is suggested by the fact that it contained every tree that is pleasant to the sight and good for food (Gen. 2:9). This very abundance will later become a source of temptation (3:6). On the tree of life, see note on 3:22–24. On the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, see note on 2:17.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 2:10–14 The description of the river that flowed out of Eden dividing into four rivers implies that Eden occupied a central location in the ancient world. In spite of the very specific details provided, however, Eden’s location remains a mystery. While the names Tigris and Euphrates are associated with the two rivers that surround Mesopotamia, the rivers Pishon and Gihon, as well as the regions of Havilah and Cush, have not been satisfactorily identified. The reference to gold and onyx points to the land’s rich resources.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 2:15–16 The overall picture of Eden suggests that the park-like garden is part of a divine sanctuary. The man is put in the garden to work it and keep it. Since God commanded Adam to work before Adam had committed any sin, work did not come as a result of sin. Productive work is part of God’s good purpose for humans. The fact that God commanded the man implies that God gave the man a leadership role, including the responsibility to guard and care for all of creation (v. 15). This leadership role is related to Adam's relationship with Eve as his wife, who was given as "a helper fit for him" (v. 18). (On the NT understanding of the relationship between husband and wife, see Eph. 5:22–33.)

FACT

The Euphrates (2:14) is the longest and most important river in southwest Asia. Early settlers depended on the river for commerce and agriculture. The Euphrates and Tigris rivers form what is today the Shatt-al-Arab, a waterway that flows into the Persian Gulf.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 2:17 The fruit of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil has been variously understood as giving (1) sexual awareness, (2) moral discrimination, (3) moral responsibility, and (4) moral experience. Of these possibilities, the last is the most likely. If Adam disobeys God and eats the fruit of this tree, he will come to know evil by experience. you shall surely die. What kind of death does this threaten: physical, spiritual, or some combination of the two? The Hebrew word can be used for any of these ideas, and the only way to discover what "surely die" means in this case is to see what happens as the story unfolds (see note on 3:4–5). In the day that you eat of it does not mean that death will come on that very day. It means that once the forbidden fruit is eaten, death will become a certainty.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 2:18 Not good is a jarring contrast to 1:31. Helper is one who supplies strength in an area that is lacking in the one who is helped. Fit for him or "matching him" (see ESV footnote) is not the same as "like him." A wife is not to be just like her husband but is to complement him. I will make him can also be translated "I will make for him," which explains Paul's statement in 1 Cor. 11:9.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 2:20 The man gave names. By naming the animals, the man demonstrates his authority over all the other creatures. Adam. See note on 5:1–2.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 2:23–24 This at last is bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh. Compare 29:14. Marriage creates the closest of all human relationships. Heterosexual monogamy is the divine pattern for marriage that God established at creation. Therefore a man shall leave his father and his mother and hold fast to his wife. Marriage creates obligations that are more important than one’s duty to one’s parents. In ancient Israel, sons did not move away from home when they married. They lived near their parents and inherited their father’s land. But they “left” their parents in the sense of putting their wife’s welfare before that of their parents. The term “hold fast” is used elsewhere for practicing covenant faithfulness (e.g., Deut. 10:20). Thus, other Bible texts call marriage a “covenant” (e.g., Prov. 2:17; Mal. 2:14). Paul’s teaching on marriage in Eph. 5:25–32 is founded on this text. When a man leaves his parents and takes a wife, they shall become one flesh. That is, they become one unit, a union of man and woman. This oneness is consummated in sexual intercourse. Jesus appeals to this verse and to Gen. 1:27 when teaching about marriage (Matt. 19:4–5).

EVE

God created Eve, whose name means “life,” as a helper for Adam. Fashioned from one of Adam’s ribs, Eve became the mother (that is, the female ancestor) of all human beings. Though enjoying perfect fellowship with God, Eve was deceived by the serpent and disobeyed God by eating from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. Because of their sin, Adam and Eve were driven from the paradise of Eden and began to experience great hardship. For Eve, that included pain in childbearing. Yet, as promised in Genesis 3:15, one of her offspring would defeat the serpent and bring salvation and eternal life to all who put their trust in him. (Genesis 2:23)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 2:25 naked and . . . not ashamed. The man and woman are living in a state of innocent delight.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 3:1–24 The sudden arrival of a speaking serpent presents a challenge to the human couple. Their choice to disregard God’s instructions is an act of willful rebellion that has terrible consequences for all of creation. Nothing is said about where the serpent came from. The text does not indicate when or how the serpent became evil. It is clear, however, that evil entered the created world at some time after God’s “very good” work of creation was completed (1:31). Unlike the teachings of some other religions, the Bible never teaches that evil has always existed. See notes on Isa. 14:12–15; Ezek. 28:11–19.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 3:2–3 The woman's response echoes the divine instruction given in 2:16–17 (see note on 2:17), although she fails to identify the tree clearly, and she adds, "neither shall you touch it."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 3:4–5 The serpent directly contradicts what God has said. He presents the fruit of the tree as something worth having. By eating it, he says, Adam and Eve will be like God, knowing good and evil. The irony of the serpent's remarks is that Adam and Eve, unlike the serpent, were already made in the image of God (1:26–27). They are already "like God." This means they are expected to exercise authority over all the beasts of the field—including the serpent! By obeying the serpent, however, they betray the trust that God has placed in them. You will not surely die. It is sometimes claimed that the serpent is correct when he says this, for they do not immediately "die." Further, their eyes are in fact opened (3:7), and God acknowledges that "the man has become like one of us in knowing good and evil" (v. 22). Yet the serpent speaks only half-truths. What Adam and Eve will experience outside of Eden is not life as God intended. It is spiritual death.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 3:6 when the woman saw that the tree was good. Somehow the serpent has made the woman discontented with the permitted trees (2:16), and she desires instead the forbidden one. Apparently she is attracted to the tree's ability to make one wise (see note on 2:17). she also gave some to her husband who was with her, and he ate. As Adam ate what God had forbidden, he was deliberately rebelling against God. The fact that he was "with" Eve at the time meant that he had failed to carry out his God-given responsibility to guard and "keep" both the garden and his wife (see 2:15). The disastrous consequences of Adam's sin include the fall of mankind, the beginning of every kind of sin, suffering, and pain, along with spiritual and physical death for the entire human race.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 3:9 the LORD God called to the man . . . , "Where are you?" Both "man" and "you" are singular in Hebrew. God thus confronts Adam first, holding him primarily responsible for the sin committed by both Adam and Eve. Adam is thus treated as the representative or "head" of the husband-and-wife relationship, established before the fall (see note on Eph. 5:23–24).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 3:14–15 The serpent is punished for tempting the woman. It will live in ongoing hostility with the woman, which will be carried on by their respective offspring.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 3:15 This verse is usually understood as pointing forward to the defeat of the serpent by the offspring (that is, a descendant) of the woman. For this reason, it has been labeled the "Protoevangelium," that is, the first announcement of the gospel. While Genesis does not explicitly identify the serpent with Satan, that is clearly what the apostle John understood (see Rev. 12:9; 20:2). The idea of the woman's "offspring" is seen again in Gen. 4:25 in the birth of Seth. The rest of Genesis traces a single line of Seth's descendants (see diagram), which will eventually produce a king through whom all the nations of the earth will be blessed. he shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel. The use of the singular "he" and "his" suggests that one particular person ("offspring") is in view. The promise of this person comes to fulfillment in Jesus Christ, who is clearly presented in the NT as overcoming Satan (Heb. 2:14; 1 John 3:8; compare John 12:31). At the same time, he is "bruised" by Satan at the cross.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 3:16 Your desire shall be for your husband, and he shall rule over you. God originally intended that there would be a complementary relationship between husband and wife, with the husband in a leadership role (see note on 2:15–16). But that plan has now been distorted and damaged by sin. This takes the form of "desire" on the part of the wife and heavy-handed "rule" on the part of the husband. The Hebrew term here for "desire" appears again in 4:7, where the Lord says to Cain that sin's "desire is for you." Eve will have the sinful "desire" to oppose Adam and to assert leadership over him. But Adam will also abandon his God-given role of leading, guarding, and caring for Eve. Instead, he will have a sinful, distorted desire to "rule" over her. Thus one of the most tragic results of Adam and Eve's rebellion against God is ongoing conflict between husbands and wives, as they both rebel against their God-given roles and responsibilities in marriage. (See notes on Eph. 5:21–32 for the NT ideal for marriage.)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 3:17–19 Because he has eaten what was prohibited (v. 6), Adam will have to struggle to eat in the future. He will no longer enjoy the garden's abundance but will have to work the ground from which he was taken (v. 23; see note on 2:8–9). The punishment is not the work itself (see note on 2:15–16) but rather the hardship and frustration that it will involve. To say that the ground is cursed and will produce thorns and thistles means that it will no longer be as productive as it was in Eden.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 3:19 Because of his sin, the man's body will return to the ground, that is, he will die. Death was not a part of the original creation (see Rom. 5:12). The Bible looks forward to a time when nature will be set free from death and the other consequences of human sin (Rom. 8:19–22).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 3:20–21 God's words of judgment are immediately followed by two actions that offer hope. First, the man names his wife Eve, which means "life-giver" (see ESV footnote). Second, God makes clothing for Adam and Eve, which suggests that he still cares for them. Because the clothing requires the death of an animal, this can be seen as an anticipation of (1) the system of animal sacrifices that God would later institute to atone for sin, and (2) the death of Christ as the final atonement for sin.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 3:22–24 God begins a sentence in v. 22 and breaks off without finishing it. For the man to eat of the tree of life and thus live forever in his sinful condition is an unbearable thought, and God must waste no time in preventing it. therefore the LORD God sent him out from the garden. (On the “tree of life,” see Rev. 2:7; 22:2, 14, 19.) Outside the garden the man will have to work the ground, but the task of keeping or guarding the garden is now given to the cherubim (Gen. 3:24).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 4:2–5 The fact that God had regard for Abel and his offering, but not for Cain, does not mean that shepherds are better than farmers or that animal offerings are better than plant offerings. Both kinds of offerings will be part of the later Levitical system (for offerings of the fruit of the ground, see Deut. 26:2). This passage and others suggest that God’s acceptance of Abel and rejection of Cain had to do with the attitudes of their hearts. Cain’s fundamentally bad heart can be seen in his resentment toward his brother and in his unloving attitude in the rest of the passage (see also 1 John 3:12). As compared to Cain’s offering, Abel’s offering (from the firstborn of his flock) is more costly, perhaps expressing greater devotion (see also Heb. 11:4).

FACT

Cherubim (3:24) are angels who guard holy places. They appear in various places in the Bible. “Cherubim” is the Hebrew plural form of “cherub.”

GENESIS—NOTE ON 4:6–7 The Lord’s words challenge Cain to do better. He still has the possibility of pleasing God. To do so, however, he must overcome the power of sin, which is like a wild beast seeking to devour him.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 4:9 am I my brother’s keeper? Cain denies any knowledge about his brother and shows no sign of remorse.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 4:10–12 Because his brother’s blood cries out to God from the ground, Cain will no longer be able to cultivate the soil. As seen throughout Scripture, human sin has an impact on the fertility of the earth (compare 3:17–18).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 4:13–16 Cain will be alienated from both the ground and God. He will become a fugitive and a wanderer on the earth. He fears that others will have such a dread of him that anyone who sees him will kill him. The precise nature of the mark on Cain is not known, except that it must have been something visible.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 4:17 Cain knew his wife. Presumably, Cain married his sister, since the whole human race descends from Adam and Eve (see 5:4). The later laws forbidding this practice, such as Lev. 18:9, would not have been relevant yet.

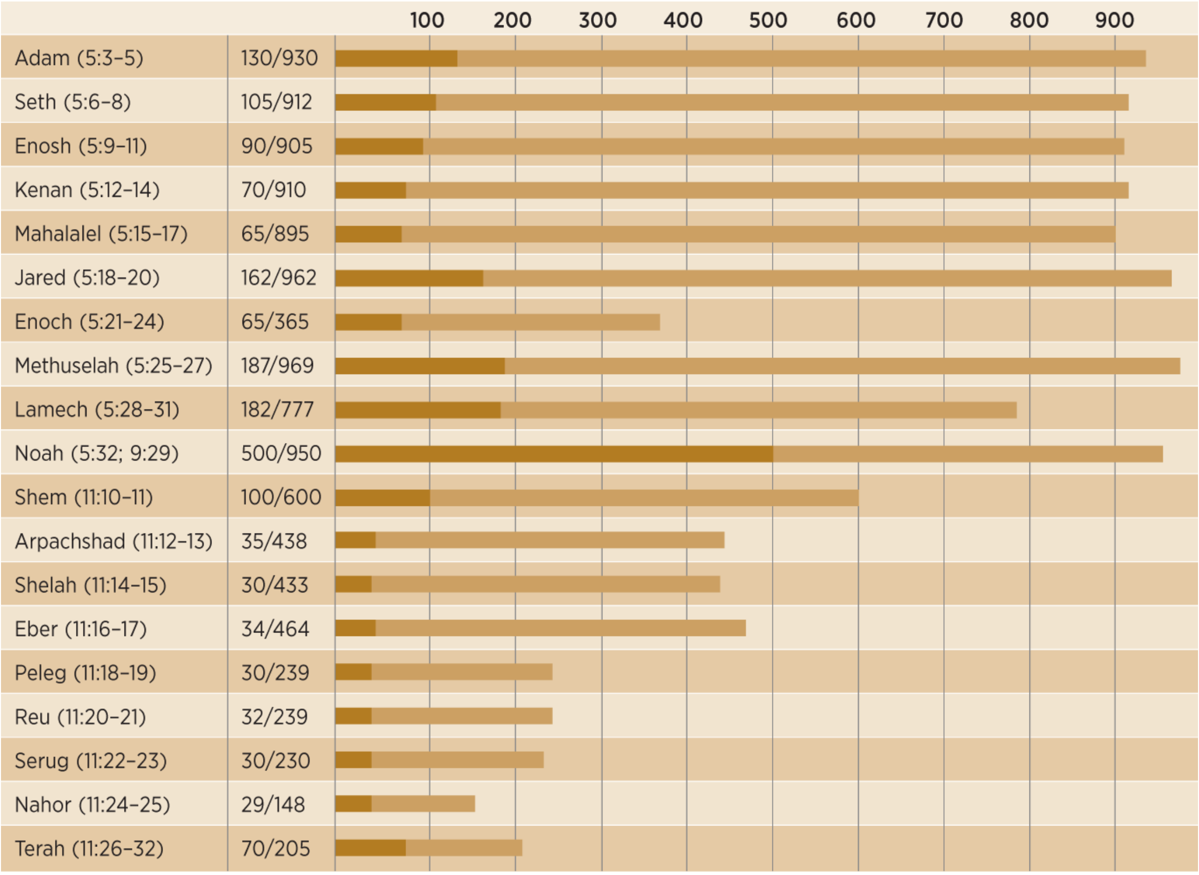
GENESIS—NOTE ON 4:18–22 Lamech's immediate descendants are associated with animal breeding, music, and metalwork. Whereas Abel is linked to sheep (v. 2), Jabal raised livestock, which probably included cattle and donkeys, and possibly camels.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 4:23–24 Lamech killed a man merely for wounding or striking him. His response is out of proportion to the injury. sevenfold . . . seventy-sevenfold. Lamech says that his vengeful response makes him safer than Cain, who had only God's protection (v. 15).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 4:25–26 another offspring. Compare "her offspring" (3:15). At that time people began to call upon the name of the LORD. This suggests that the birth of Seth marks a new beginning for humanity. It probably refers to public worship, initially within Adam's own family circle.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 5:1–6:8 Adam's Descendants. This section of Genesis falls into two parts: 5:1–32 traces a single line of descendants from Adam to Noah, naming only one person in each generation (see diagram); 6:1–8 provides a worldwide picture of increasing human wickedness.

Genealogies: Showing Age at Fatherhood and Age at Death



GENESIS—NOTE ON 5:1–32 Most people living after the flood (that is, after chs. 6–9) did not live nearly as long as the people of chs. 1–5 (see chart). This could have been due to some change in the structure of the earth or in the bodies of humans (or both) following the flood. Psalm 90:10 describes a normal life span as 70 or 80 years, which has more or less been the case throughout subsequent history.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 5:1–2 the book of the generations. This heading differs from the 10 others that provide the outline for Genesis (see note on 2:4) in that it refers to a "book." This was probably something like a clay tablet. The book is named after Adam. The same Hebrew word is also translated in 5:1 by man and in 5:2 by Man. The word may function as a proper name, a common noun referring to a male individual, or a generic noun meaning both males and females. the likeness of God. See note on 1:27.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 5:3–5 The genealogy of Adam's family through Seth contrasts with the seven generations linked to Cain (4:17–18). Instead of saying that Adam "fathered Seth," which would be the normal wording for such a genealogy, the text says that Adam fathered a son in his own likeness, after his image. This language echoes 1:26–27.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 5:22–24 Enoch walked with God . . . and he was not, for God took him. The Hebrew verb for "walked" conveys a close relationship with God (compare 3:8; 6:9; 17:1; 24:40). Remarkably, because of this special relationship, Enoch does not die (compare 2 Kings 2:1–12).

FACT

Two men who never died. Enoch and Elijah are the only people in the Bible who did not die a natural death. Instead, they were "taken by God."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 5:28–31 Lamech expects that Noah, whose name means "rest," will bring both rest and comfort from the painful toil of working the soil (see 3:17–19).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 6:1–2 Although God had commanded mankind to multiply (1:28), their increasing numbers led to increasing wickedness on the earth. The problem was worsened by the joining of the sons of God and the daughters of man. Scholars have proposed at least two interpretations of this passage: (1) fallen angels were marrying the daughters of man; (2) male descendants of Seth were marrying the ungodly female descendants of Cain. However one interprets the passage, it is clear that the relationships described here involved sexual sin, as men saw and took any women they wanted.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 6:3 God announces that because of the immoral nature of people, their days shall be 120 years. This could mean either that the lives of human beings will no longer exceed 120 years, or that the flood will come in 120 years.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 6:4 The meaning of Nephilim is not clear. The only other OT occurrence of the term is in Num. 13:33, where the Israelite spies use it to describe a group living in Canaan. The Nephilim were mighty men or warriors and, as such, may well have contributed to the violence that filled the earth (see Gen. 6:13).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 6:6–7 The Hebrew word for regretted is sometimes translated “repent” and sometimes as “feel sorrow” or “be grieved.” God is grieved over his creation, which he at first saw as very good (1:31) but which is now filled with sin (see note on 1 Sam. 15:29).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 6:9–9:29 Noah’s Descendants. Chapters 6–9 describe a flood that leads to a renewal of the earth—a reminder of the creation account of 1:1–2:3. But while the land is cleansed and God makes a new start possible, human nature has not changed. This is clearly seen in the final verses of these chapters (9:20–29).

FACT

Favor in the eyes of the Lord. “Favor” (6:8) is another word for God’s grace. Of all the people living at the time of the flood, only Noah and his family found favor in God’s sight.

NOAH

Noah was a righteous man who faithfully walked with God despite the wickedness of his generation. When God chose to destroy the earth because of its hopeless corruption, Noah alone found favor in his eyes. God instructed Noah to build an ark that would keep him and his family safe during the coming flood. Noah also took representative pairs of each kind of animal with him into the ark, to replenish the earth after the flood. God made a covenant with Noah, promising that he would never again destroy the earth with a flood. The NT calls Noah a “herald of righteousness” (2 Pet. 2:5). (Genesis 6:7–8)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 6:9 Noah’s personal righteousness explains why he is warned about the forthcoming deluge. Blameless conveys the idea of being without evident fault, though not necessarily sinless. walked with God. See note on 5:22–24.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 6:11–12 In contrast to Noah, the earth was corrupt in God’s sight. These verses confirm vv. 1–7. Here the emphasis is on the violence that fills the earth. Compare “bondage to corruption” (Rom. 8:21): the creation suffers because of mankind’s sin.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 6:15 In modern measurements, the ark would have been around 450 feet (140 m) long, 75 feet (23 m) wide, and 45 feet (14 m) high, displacing about 43,000 tons (about 39 million kg). The inside capacity would have been 1.4 million cubic feet (39,644 cubic m), with an approximate total deck area of 95,700 square feet (8,891 square m).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 6:17 Everything that is on the earth shall die. This does not necessarily mean that the flood had to cover the whole earth. Since the geographical perspective of ancient people was more limited, it is possible that the flood, while universal from their viewpoint, did not cover the entire globe. Genesis implies that prior to the Tower of Babel incident (see 11:1–9), people had not yet spread throughout the earth. Many interpreters argue that a huge regional flood may have been all that was necessary for God to destroy all humans. The expression "all the earth" (7:3; compare 8:9, "the whole earth") does not exclude such a possibility. Later, "all the earth" came to Joseph to buy grain (41:57); here, "all the earth" clearly refers to the eastern Mediterranean seaboard. To support the view that the flood did in fact cover the entire globe, other interpreters point out that the text says "all the high mountains under the whole heaven were covered" (7:19) and that the water was "fifteen cubits" above the tops of the mountains. If "the mountains of Ararat" (8:4) refers to the range that includes present-day Mount Ararat in Turkey (elevation 16,854 feet or 5,137 m), the amount of water necessary to cover it would be at least 16,854 feet above sea level.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 6:18–22 God indicates that he will establish a covenant with Noah (see note on 9:9–11).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 7:1–5 On the distinction between clean and not clean creatures, see Lev. 11:1–47 and Deut. 14:4–20. Since after the flood some clean animals will be offered as sacrifices (see Gen. 8:20) and some will be eaten as food (see 9:3), it was necessary to have more than one pair of each kind in the ark.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 7:11–12 The exact dates given for the flood (see 8:4–5, 13–14) show that it was a real event. all the fountains of the great deep burst forth, and the windows of the heavens were opened. From below and above, water poured out to cover the land.

FACT

Why did Noah take seven pairs of each clean animal but only one pair of each unclean animal? After the flood, some clean animals were needed for making sacrifices and for food. To ensure their survival, it was necessary to have more than one pair of each kind in the ark.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 7:16 The safety of those in the ark depended on both human and divine action. the LORD shut him in. The use of the personal name “Yahweh” (“LORD”; see note on 2:4) emphasizes God’s special relationship with Noah.

Chronology of Noah’s Time in the Ark

Dates are in the form of month, day, and Noah’s year, as given in the text. Hence, 2/10/600 means the tenth day of the second month in Noah’s 600th year. Months are calculated at 30 days each. Dates in parentheses are guesses based on dates given in the text.

	Reference	Event	Date	Day
	7:4, 10	Announcement of the flood 7 days in advance	(2/10/600)	Sunday
Waters prevail: 150-day period	7:11, 13	Flood begins; Noah and family enter the ark	2/17/600	Sunday
	7:12	Flood lasts 40 days and ends	(3/27/600)	Friday
	8:4	Ark rests on mountains of Ararat after waters prevail and abate for 150 days total	7/17/600	Friday
Waters abate: 150-day period	8:5	Mountaintops eventually become visible	10/1/600	Wednesday
	8:7	Raven sent out (after 40 days of mountaintop visibility)	(11/10/600)	Sunday
	8:8	Dove sent out	(11/17/600)	Sunday
	8:10	Dove’s second flight (7 days later); returns with olive leaf	(11/24/600)	Sunday
	8:12	Dove’s third flight (7 days later); does not return	(12/1/600)	Sunday
	8:3	Waters fully abated; end of second 150-day period	(12/17/600)	Wednesday
Earth dries: 70-day period	8:13	Noah eventually removes the covering of the ark	1/1/601	Wednesday
	8:14–19	Earth dried out; Noah leaves ark	2/27/601	Wednesday
Total time in ark: 370 days

GENESIS—NOTE ON 7:17–24 the waters prevailed on the earth 150 days (v. 24). The figure of 150 days, which includes the 40 days of rain mentioned in v. 12, is repeated in 8:3 (see chart). In both places it refers to the five-month period between the detailed chronology in 7:11 (at the very start of the flood, on the 17th day of the second month) and 8:4 (when the ark comes to rest on the 17th day of the seventh month). It will be an additional seven months before the land is sufficiently dry for those in the ark to leave it safely (see 8:13–14). On the depth of the flood (above the mountains), see note on 6:17.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 8:1 God remembered Noah. When the Bible says that God “remembers” someone or that he remembers his covenant with someone, it means he is about to act for that person’s welfare (see 9:15; 19:29; 30:22; Ex. 2:24; 32:13). God proceeds to renew everything, echoing what he did in Genesis 1. God made a wind blow over the earth. The Hebrew word for “wind” is also sometimes translated “Spirit” (e.g., 1:2; 6:3).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 8:2–4 In v. 2 God reverses the process started in 7:11. The waters both rose and fell during the period of 150 days (see note on 7:17–24). Mountains of Ararat indicates a range of mountains of which Mount Ararat (in modern Turkey) is the highest. The text does not name the specific mountain on which the ark came to rest.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 8:20–22 Noah’s burnt offering is intended to express gratitude for divine deliverance. It is also an act of atonement. Despite the human tendency to sin, atonement through sacrifice is possible, resulting in a peaceful relationship between the Lord and humanity. I will never again curse the ground means that God will not send another flood. He is not revoking the curse pronounced in 3:17, which continues (the words for “curse” in these two verses are different; see ESV footnote). These verses show the importance of sacrifice in the Bible’s plan of salvation.

FACT

Extending an olive branch. The universal symbol for peace—a dove with an olive branch—is based on the Bible story of the flood (8:11).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 9:1–4 The earlier positive instruction that humans should exercise authority over the other living creatures (1:28–30) is replaced by the negative comment that those creatures will fear and dread humans. God now permits the taking of animal life for food (in contrast to 1:30, where man and animals are given “every green plant” for food). However, the animal’s blood remains sacred and is not to be consumed; this is because the blood is the source of life, and all life is from God (see Lev. 17:12–14).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 9:5–6 From his fellow man I will require a reckoning for the life of man. Any animal or person that takes a human life will be held accountable by God (see Ex. 20:13; 21:28). Whoever sheds the blood of man, by man shall his blood be shed. Human life is to be valued so highly because God made man in his own image. To murder another human being is to murder what is most like God, and is thus like an attack on God himself. Many see this as permitting the death penalty for murder—with the understanding that the person's guilt has been established beyond any reasonable doubt (thus the requirement of two or three witnesses, Deut. 19:15). A further requirement is that such a death sentence must always be carried out by the established authorities (see Deut. 19:15–21; Rom. 13:1–5).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 9:9–11 This is the first covenant explicitly named in Genesis. A covenant formally binds two parties together in a relationship, with consequences for keeping or breaking the covenant. God makes this kind of covenant with a group of people through one person who represents the entire group. Everyone else then experiences the covenant by being included "in" the representative (see note on 12:3). Emphasizing that this particular covenant is for all living creatures, God states that there will never again be a flood to destroy the earth.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 9:12–17 The rainbow will be a reminder of God's everlasting covenant. This does not mean that rainbows did not exist till this time.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 9:20 The reference to Noah as a man of the soil and his success in growing vines points to a fresh start after the flood (see note on 5:28–31).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 9:21–23 became drunk. The brevity of the description of Noah's drunkenness indicates God's disapproval. Ham's actions of looking on the nakedness of his father in the tent and then reporting this to his brothers bring serious criticism. There is no indication that perverse sexual behavior was involved. Though the text does not explicitly state what happened, it is clear that Ham humiliated and dishonored his father, and apparently he involved his brothers in that humiliation.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 9:24–27 The designation of Ham as the youngest son is peculiar, since he is always listed after Shem and before Japheth. Possibly the traditional order of names does not reflect the birth sequence of the boys. Cursed be Canaan. Noah's reaction to Ham's action is to curse Canaan, Ham's son. a servant of servants shall he be. This passage was wrongly used in past centuries to justify the enslavement of African people, resulting in grievous abuse, injustice, and inhumanity to people created in the image of God. Noah's curse of Canaan, which focuses on his being a servant, anticipates the judgment that will later befall the Canaanites (compare Deut. 7:1–3 with Gen. 10:15–19). This, coupled with the fact that the curse falls on Canaan alone and not on Ham's other children (who settled in northern Africa), shows how illegitimate it was to use this text to justify enslaving African people. (For more about biblical teaching on slavery, see notes on 1 Cor. 7:21; Eph. 6:5; Col. 3:22–25; 1 Tim. 1:10.) Shem is highlighted in Noah's remark that Japheth will dwell in the tents of Shem (Gen. 9:27).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 10:1–11:9 The Descendants of Noah's Sons. The next main section of Genesis shows how humanity becomes divided into different nations.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 10:1–32 This passage shows how the descendants of Noah's three sons populated different regions of the earth, forming nations. This process covered a long time, as families migrated to particular regions.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 10:2–5 From these the coastland peoples spread. This places Japheth's descendants in the coastal regions and islands of the Mediterranean Sea.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 10:6–20 Many of Israel's enemies, such as the Egyptians, Babylonians, Philistines, and various Canaanite groups, descended from Ham. Cush and Put are regions south and west of Egypt, respectively. Cush fathered Nimrod (v. 8). This may seem unusual since Cush is linked geographically with Africa, and Nimrod with the great cities of Babel and Nineveh in Assyria. The military might of the Assyrians and Babylonians may account for the observations that Nimrod was a mighty man and a mighty hunter (vv. 8, 9). These descriptions are probably to be viewed negatively. Nimrod's aggression runs totally counter to God's intentions. Babel . . . in the land of Shinar (v. 10). These details link Nimrod with the Tower of Babel episode (11:2, 9). Nimrod's kingdom is the opposite of what God desired. The great city (10:12) probably refers to a region that included both Nineveh and Calah (see Jonah 3:3). "Canaanite" is sometimes used to cover all the different groups mentioned in Gen. 10:15–19 (e.g., 28:1).

Table of Nations

Many of the people groups mentioned in Genesis 10 can be identified with relative certainty. In general, the descendants of Ham settled in North Africa and the eastern Mediterranean coast, the descendants of Shem in Mesopotamia and Arabia, and the descendants of Japheth in Europe and the greater area of Asia Minor.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 10:21–32 Abraham was descended from Shem. Many of Shem’s descendants are Arabian tribes or kingdoms. Shem’s great-grandson Eber receives special attention (v. 21), being mentioned even before Shem’s own sons are named (v. 22). The designation “Hebrew” (see 14:13) is derived from “Eber.” He called one of his sons Peleg (which could mean “division”), for in his days the earth was divided (10:25). This is probably a reference to the Tower of Babel (11:1–9).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 11:1–9 The story of the Tower of Babel is more important than its length suggests. It tells of a unified humanity using all its resources to establish a city that is the antithesis of what God intended when he created the world. The city builders see themselves as establishing their own destiny without any reference to the Lord.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 11:1 The description of the whole earth having one language indicates that the present episode happens before the events in ch. 10, which specifically mentions nations and languages. It may have occurred during the period covered in ch. 10, especially if it is linked to the naming of Peleg in 10:25 (see note on 10:21–32).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 11:2–4 Come, . . . let us make a name for ourselves. Contrary to God’s plan that humanity should fill the earth (e.g., 1:22, 28; 9:1, 7), the builders of Babel want to prevent the population from being dispersed over . . . the whole earth (11:4).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 11:9 This verse links the name of the city, Babel, with the verb that means “to confuse, to mix, to mingle.” This is also the name used in the OT for the city of Babylon. Babylon symbolizes humanity’s ambition to dethrone God and make the earth its own (see Revelation 17–18).

FACT

Sinful pride and rebellion against God brought negative consequences to the builders of the Tower of Babel, introducing the many languages that now exist around the world.

FACT

What did the Tower of Babel look like? The Tower of Babel (11:1–9) probably resembled the ziggurats of ancient Mesopotamia. The most famous of these is the Great Ziggurat of Ur. Its remains can be seen today in southeastern Iraq.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 11:10–26 Shem's Descendants. Resembling the list of Adam's descendants in 5:3–31, this genealogy traces Noah's line through Shem down to Terah, the father of Abram, Nahor, and Haran (see diagram). The length of time these men live is much shorter than for men living before the flood (see 5:1–32; see chart).

The ancient city of Ur lies 186 miles (300 km) southeast of modern Baghdad on a bend of the original course of the Euphrates River. Major excavations took place at the site in 1922–1934 under the direction of Sir Leonard Woolley. Ur became an important city in Mesopotamia near the end of the third millennium B.C. The governor of Ur, a man named Ur-Nammu (c. 2113–2095 B.C.), brought the city to great prominence. He took the titles "King of Ur, King of Sumer and Akkad." Thus was founded the Third Dynasty of Ur (2113–2006 B.C.). This period was one of great peace and prosperity, the high point of the city's existence. This diagram of the city represents the Third Dynasty of Ur, and it includes a central palace and a temple complex. The latter has as its center the Ziggurat of Ur-Nammu that is dedicated to the moon god Nanna. Ur was the birthplace of the Hebrew patriarch Abraham (Gen. 11:27–32), and the plan below represents the city that he would have been familiar with.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 11:27–50:26 Patriarchal History. The story now moves from the general survey of humanity to the specific family from which Israel comes.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 11:27–25:18 Terah's Descendants. These chapters focus on the immediate family of Terah, paying special attention to Abram. Abram will later have his name changed to "Abraham" (see 17:5).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 11:28 Ur of the Chaldeans was a city in southern Babylonia, the remains of which are located in modern Iraq.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 11:29 The name Sarai is later changed to "Sarah" (see 17:15). The initial inability of the patriarchs' wives to have children is a recurring theme in Genesis (see 25:21; 29:31).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 11:31–32 Haran was an important crossroads and commercial center in the ancient Near East.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 11:31 Although Terah's ambition is to move his family from Ur to Canaan, they settle instead in northern Mesopotamia at Haran (in modern-day Turkey). The spelling of the town name "Haran" in Hebrew is quite distinct from the name of Terah's third son, also named Haran. This is the Bible's first reference to "the land of Canaan."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:1–3 Through Abram, all the families of the earth will be blessed. This marks an important turning point in Genesis, as it reverses the predominantly negative implications of chs. 3–11.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:1 said. In Acts 7:2–3, Stephen says that God called Abram before he lived in Haran; the ESV footnote, "had said," shows that the grammar allows for this interpretation.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:2 make your name great. This was the failed goal of the tower builders (11:4).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:3 Although Abram is called to be a blessing to others, much depends on how they will treat him. The text speaks of those who bless (plural) but of him who dishonors (singular), emphasizing that many more will be blessed than cursed. This promise that the nations will be blessed through Abraham is later reaffirmed to Isaac and Jacob (see 22:18; 26:4; 28:14). in you. This may simply indicate "by means of you," but more likely this expression designates Abram as the covenantal representative for a people. To be "in" some person is to be a member of the group that person represents (see 2 Sam. 20:1).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:4 So Abram went. Abram's response to God's call was immediate and unquestioning. Lot went with him. Abram may have been responsible for Lot after the death of Haran (11:27–28). By this time Lot was a wealthy adult (see 13:5–6).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:5 the people that they had acquired in Haran. Abram had under his authority a substantial number of men; many of them may have been herdsmen (see 13:7). Genesis 14:14 mentions 318 trained men "born in his household," and 17:12 refers to males whom Abram has bought with money from a foreigner. Abram migrates with everything he possesses from northern Mesopotamia to Canaan.

c. 2091 B.C.

Abram was born in Ur, a powerful city in southern Babylonia. Abram's father, Terah, eventually led the family toward the land of Canaan but decided to settle in Haran (see Gen. 11:27–31). After Terah's death, the Lord called Abram to go "to the land that I will show you" (Canaan), which he promises to give to Abram's descendants.

Abram travels to Canaan

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:6 Shechem is the first of a number of locations in Canaan associated with Abram. the oak of Moreh. As a seminomadic herdsman traveling with a large group, Abram probably camped away from urban areas; these locations are identified by distinctive natural features (e.g., trees; see 13:18). At that time the Canaanites were in the land. Other people already occupied the land when Abram arrived.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:7 the LORD appeared. This is the first of a number of times that God shows himself to the patriarchs. altar to the LORD. Altars were common places for worshiping God in the patriarchal period because no central sanctuary existed.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:8 From Shechem, Abram migrates southward to a location between Bethel and Ai, before going much farther in the direction of Egypt.

FACT

Altars were tables or platforms used for presenting sacrifices to God. They could be built of stone, mud-brick, or dirt mounds. The first altar mentioned in the Bible is the one Noah built after the flood (8:20; see also 12:8).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:9 The Negeb is the southern region of Canaan.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:10–20 A severe famine in Canaan forces Abram to seek refuge in Egypt. Because of the Nile River, Egypt was a more likely place than Canaan to find food during a drought. As is common in biblical stories, the narrator offers no moral evaluation of the participants' actions.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:11–13 Abram devises a plan, based on a half-truth (see 20:12), implying that he thinks God is unable to protect him. Yet when the plot backfires, the Lord rescues him (12:17).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:15 Pharaoh is the title of the king of Egypt, not a personal name.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:16 To own camels, Abram must have been wealthy, since they were scarce in this time and place.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 12:17 Plagues on Pharaoh and his house will be seen again in the exodus from Egypt, when God will punish another pharaoh for his mistreatment of Abram's descendants.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 13:1–18 Expelled from Egypt, Abram retraces his steps northward, through the Negeb, back to the hill country between Bethel and Ai where he had previously built an altar (12:8). Competition for pasture soon leads to strife between the herdsmen of Abram and Lot. When Abram offers Lot first choice of the land, Lot chooses the fertile Jordan Valley. Afterward, the Lord reaffirms that Abram’s descendants will possess all of Canaan.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 13:7 The scarcity of pastureland may have been related to the fact that the Canaanites and the Perizzites were dwelling in the land. Compare the similar statement in 12:6.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 13:10 the Jordan Valley was well watered everywhere. Lot’s experience with the effects of famine (12:10, probably from drought) makes his choice of the fertile Jordan Valley understandable. like the garden of the LORD. A reference to the garden of Eden, which was also well watered (see 2:10). This description of the Jordan Valley predates the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah (chs. 18–19), which may well have made this area less suitable for flocks and herds.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 13:11–13 Lot’s decision to settle among the cities of the valley brings him into the vicinity of Sodom.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 13:14–17 At this stage, Abram still has no children.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 13:18 Abram relocates near Hebron (also known as Kiriath-arba; see 23:2), setting up his tent by the oaks of Mamre. Since one of Abram’s allies is “Mamre the Amorite” (14:13), the oaks are probably named after him. altar. See note on 12:7. At this time, Hebron was a major settlement in the Judean hills, covering between six and seven acres.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 14:1–24 After separating from Abram and settling in Sodom, Lot is taken captive by an alliance of four kings who invade the Jordan Valley. Abram gathers a small army and recovers Lot, leading to an interesting encounter with the king of Salem.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 14:3 The Salt Sea is the Dead Sea.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 14:4 After twelve years of being ruled by others, the kings of the Jordan Valley gain independence for one year.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 14:5–7 Under the leadership of Chedorlaomer, the invading kings defeat several tribal groups. The six locations reveal that the invaders moved southward along the King’s Highway in Transjordan as far as the Gulf of Aqaba before turning northward. They eventually arrive at Hazazon-tamar, also known as Engedi (see 2 Chron. 20:2).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 14:13–16 Abram the Hebrew. This is the first occurrence of the term "Hebrew" in the Bible (see note on 10:21–32). The town of Laish in northern Canaan was later renamed Dan (14:14; see Judg. 18:29). The use of the name "Dan" here indicates that this account was edited sometime later. A nighttime assault allows Abram's forces to overcome their opponents, who flee northward.

FACT

Non-Levite Priests? Melchizedek (14:17–21) and Jesus Christ are the only approved priests in the Bible who were not Levites. The NT book of Hebrews explains why this is important.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 14:17–24 This passage emphasizes Abram's reliance on God rather than on military might to gain possession of Canaan.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 14:17 The Valley of Shaveh, also known as the King's Valley, lay to the east of Jerusalem (see 2 Sam. 18:18).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 14:18 Melchizedek (which means "king of righteousness"; see Heb. 7:2) generously provides a meal for the returning victors. Salem is possibly a shortened version of "Jerusalem" (see Ps. 76:2) and is related to shalom, the Hebrew word for "peace" (see Heb. 7:2). He was priest of God Most High. Although very little is known about Melchizedek, he provides an interesting example of a priest-king linked to Jerusalem. See Heb. 5:5–10; 6:20–7:17 for a study of Jesus Christ as belonging to the "order of Melchizedek."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 14:19–20 Melchizedek's blessing praises God for giving Abram victory. When Abram gives Melchizedek a tenth of everything (that is, a tithe), he shows that he believes what Melchizedek says.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 14:22 the LORD, God Most High. By combining the divine name "Yahweh" (translated "LORD"; see note on 2:4) with 'El 'Elyon, "God Most High," Abram indicates that Yahweh and 'El 'Elyon are one and the same deity.

MELCHIZEDEK

Melchizedek is among the most mysterious figures in Scripture. King of Salem, a city identified with Jerusalem, and “priest of God Most High,” Melchizedek’s name means “king of righteousness.” Following Abraham’s defeat of Chedorlaomer and his rescue of Lot, Melchizedek provided a meal of bread and wine for Abraham and his men. He then blessed Abraham, attributing Abraham’s victory over his enemies to God Most High. In response to Melchizedek’s blessing, Abraham gave the priest-king a tenth of everything he had. David mentions Melchizedek in the messianic Psalm 110, and the writer of Hebrews presents Melchizedek as a foreshadowing of Jesus Christ, who is both priest and king. (Genesis 14:18–20)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 15:1–21 Verses 1–6 of ch. 15 focus on Abram’s concern that he is still childless; vv. 7–21 focus on his desire for assurance that the land of Canaan will belong to his descendants. God’s conditional promise in 12:2 that Abram will become a “great nation” is now guaranteed by a covenant, although the fulfillment will not take place until several centuries after Abram’s death.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 15:1 In ch. 14 Abram rejected the victory spoils that the king of Sodom offered. In response (After these things), God states that Abram’s reward shall be very great.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 15:2 the heir of my house is Eliezer of Damascus. This individual is not named elsewhere. The context suggests he is a trusted member of Abram’s household, possibly a slave.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 15:6 This key verse in Genesis is quoted four times in the NT (Rom. 4:3, 22; Gal. 3:6; James 2:23). Faith in God requires trusting him (see notes on John 1:12–13; Heb. 11:1), based on the truthfulness of his words. Faith in God leads to obeying his commands. Abram believed God would give him a son despite many years of childlessness. counted . . . as righteousness. Before Abram has shown himself righteous by his deeds, God sees him as righteous because of his faith.

FACT

Abram believed the LORD, and that was the basis for God counting him as righteous. Such faith remains the basis for God’s justification of Christians in the NT (Gal. 2:16).

ABRAHAM

God called Abraham to leave his native country for a land that he would show him. When Abraham arrived in Canaan, God promised to give the land to him and his descendants, who would become the nation of Israel. The Lord promised that the whole world would be blessed through Abraham and his descendants. Abraham faced the ultimate test of faith when God commanded him to sacrifice his son Isaac. Because Abraham was willing to do so, God once again promised to bless him and to multiply his offspring. God spared Isaac from death by providing a substitute sacrifice, foreshadowing the substitutionary death of Christ on the cross. (Genesis 15:5–6)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 15:9–17 The ritual described here is possibly a type of oath. God is saying that he will become like the dead animals if he does not keep his word (see Jer. 34:18–20). Another interpretation is that the sacrificial animals symbolize Abram's descendants and the "birds of prey" (Gen. 15:11) signify their enemies (unclean nations).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 15:13–16 Four hundred years appears to be a round figure. and afterward they shall come out with great possessions. The Lord's promise to Abram was fulfilled 600 to 800 years later at the time of the exodus. for the iniquity of the Amorites is not yet complete. The Amorites are one of the main groups living in Canaan (vv. 19–21) and are descendants of Ham (see notes on ch. 10). God's comment implies that the Amorites' land will be taken as an act of punishment for their sin. See note on Josh. 6:17–18.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 15:17 The smoking fire pot and flaming torch symbolize God's presence, which is often associated with fire (e.g., Ex. 13:21–22).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 15:18–21 On that day the LORD made a covenant with Abram. This covenant differs from the one described in ch. 17. (On covenants, see note on 9:9–11.) God unconditionally pledges that Abram's offspring will possess this land, linking this covenant with the earlier conditional promise that Abram would become a great nation (12:2). from the river of Egypt to the great river, the river Euphrates. The designation "river of Egypt" is unclear. It could refer to the Wadi el Arish (midway between Israel and the Nile). Or, "river" could refer to the eastern branch of the Nile. This promise was probably fulfilled for a time in the reign of Solomon (see 1 Kings 4:21).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 16:1–16 Sarai seeks to resolve the problem of her barrenness by having her maidservant, Hagar, bear a child on her behalf.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 16:2 Abram listened to the voice of Sarai may mean that he gave in too readily to his wife's request (see v. 6).

FACT

Taking servants as wives. It was common in ancient cultures for a married man to take a servant as a wife (16:2). But this was contrary to God's original design for marriage (2:24).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 16:3 as a wife. Hagar's status within Abram's household is changed from servant to wife, although this does not place her on a par with Sarai (see note on 25:5–6). While the OT records occasions of polygamy, these relationships are usually difficult and are never encouraged in the Bible (see 2:24; Deut. 17:17).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 16:5–7 Sarai initially directs her anger at Abram, and he allows her to deal harshly with Hagar. The human solution to Sarai's childlessness creates new problems.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 16:7 The angel of the LORD. The Hebrew word for "angel" may also be translated "messenger." There is something mysterious about this figure. In 19:1 the "two angels" who arrive at Sodom resemble human beings (in 18:2 they are called "men"). When "the angel of the LORD" speaks, his words are perceived as being God's words, giving the impression that the angel is identical with God. On this basis, some Christians believe this is the preincarnate Christ. the spring on the way to Shur. Hagar's escape takes her toward Egypt, her homeland. The location of the spring/well is clarified in 16:14, when it is named "Beer-lahai-roi."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 16:9 God commands Hagar to have a better attitude toward her mistress, Sarai. Instead of despising her, she is to submit to her authority.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 16:11–12 Ishmael means "God hears." God has observed Hagar's suffering. The angel promises Hagar that her son will not need to serve others. However, he will live a life of hostility toward others.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 16:13 here I have seen him who looks after me. Although this could imply that Hagar actually saw God, it could also mean she understands that God sees or "looks after" her. He is the God of seeing.

ISHMAEL

Ishmael was Abraham's eldest son. His mother was Hagar, the maidservant of Abraham's wife Sarah. Ishmael was around 16 years old when his half-brother, Isaac, was born. Sarah overheard Ishmael mocking his younger brother, so she angrily expelled Hagar and Ishmael from her household and sent them to wander in the desert. God protected them, however, and promised that Ishmael would become a great nation. Ishmael grew to be strongly independent and, as the Lord had prophesied, he lived a life of hostility toward others. Ishmael settled in the wilderness of Paran, where he became an expert archer. Because Ishmael was Abraham's son, God blessed him. He had 12 sons, who became princes of 12 tribes. (Genesis 16:11–12)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 16:14 Beer-lahai-roi means "well of the Living One who sees me."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 16:15 By naming Ishmael, Abram publicly acknowledges him as his son and heir.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 16:16 eighty-six years old. Ishmael was born 11 years after Abram settled in Canaan.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 17:1–27 Thirteen years after the birth of Ishmael, the Lord appears to Abram and announces that he will establish an eternal covenant with Abram and his offspring. Abram will become the father of many nations. The sign of the covenant is circumcision. The covenant will be established with Isaac but not Ishmael (although Ishmael, by being circumcised, will enjoy some of the benefits of the covenant).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 17:1–2 God Almighty. Like many other names for God in Genesis, the common Semitic word for "God" is followed by a particular attribute of God. This name emphasizes God's power, which will enable Sarai to bear a son. that I may make my covenant. Unlike the unconditional covenant in ch. 15, here a condition is clear: walk before God and be blameless (see note on 17:19).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 17:4–5 the father of a multitude of nations. These words summarize the covenant being established by God. To underline their importance, the words are repeated at the end of v. 5: your name shall be Abraham, for I have made you the father of a multitude of nations.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 17:6 I will make you exceedingly fruitful. This promise echoes the divine blessing given at creation (1:28) and later repeated to Noah after the flood (9:1). kings shall come from you. Fruitfulness includes exercising authority over the earth on God's behalf (1:28; 9:1–7).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 17:10 Circumcision was not a Hebrew invention. For example, it was used in Egypt as an act of ritual purity.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 17:11 You shall be circumcised in the flesh of your foreskins. Circumcision, cutting off the foreskin of the penis, creates a mark that would not normally be visible to others.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 17:12–13 eight days old. To ensure that the covenant extends to the next generation, all newborn male children are to be circumcised eight days after they are born. The covenant is not about establishing racial purity, since males who are not Abraham's offspring are included.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 17:14 shall be cut off from his people. Uncircumcised males were excluded from the benefits of the covenant. Circumcision distinguished those who believed in the importance of God's promises to Abraham from those who did not. For the NT view on circumcision, see Rom. 2:25–29; 1 Cor. 7:18–19; and Gal. 6:15.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 17:15–16 The name Sarai is changed to Sarah; both forms mean "princess."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 17:19 Isaac means "he laughs." The theme of laughter occurs in several passages associated with the birth of Isaac. See v. 17; 18:12–15; 21:6, 9. I will establish my covenant with him. While Ishmael and the other male members of Abraham's household are also circumcised, the covenant will continue through Isaac (see 17:7, 20–21; and chart). This line eventually leads to Jesus Christ, through whom God's blessing comes to the nations.

SARAH

Sarah was Abraham’s wife and was also his half-sister. On two occasions, to save himself from possible danger, Abraham said that Sarah was his “sister,” failing to mention that she was also his wife. After many years of not being able to bear children, Sarah encouraged Abraham to start a family with her maidservant, Hagar. This plan backfired when, upon conceiving, Hagar became condescending toward Sarah. Later, God promised Abraham that he would give him a son through Sarah. Since she was 90 years old at the time, and Abraham himself was 100, Sarah’s initial response to the promise was laughter. However, one year later, Sarah gave birth to Isaac, the child of promise. She thus became an ancestor of Christ. (Genesis 17:15–16)

FACT

Isaac means “he laughs.” When Abraham and Sarah heard that they were going to have a son in their old age, they both laughed (17:17; 18:12). When Isaac was born, however, they and all their friends laughed with joy (21:6)!

Four Kinds of Abraham’s Offspring

Offspring	Explanation	Examples
Natural, physical offspring	Physical descendants of Abraham	Ishmael, Isaac, the sons of Keturah (and by extension Esau, Jacob, etc.)
Natural, yet special offspring	Physical descendants of Abraham especially tied to God’s elective and saving purposes	Isaac (by extension Jacob and the entire nation of Israel)
Promised offspring	The true, unique offspring of Abraham	A distinctive line of offspring, starting earlier with Seth and continuing through Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Israel, and David, culminating in Jesus Christ (Gal. 3:16)
Spiritual offspring	Those united with Christ (the promised offspring)	Jews and Gentiles who trust in the Messiah

GENESIS—NOTE ON 17:20 God blesses Ishmael with the promise that he will become a great nation (see 25:12–18), even though God favors the yet-to-be-born Isaac.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 18:1–15 The Lord appears to Abraham and announces that Sarah will bear a son, about this time next year.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 18:1 Although Abram settled at the oaks of Mamre many years earlier (13:18), he is still dwelling in a tent (see Heb. 11:9).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 18:2 Abraham's actions suggest that he viewed the three men as very important. he ran. In the Middle East, a socially prominent elderly man would not normally respond in this way. bowed himself to the earth. While this may have been a common greeting (see 19:1), it shows that Abraham regards the visitors as worthy of great respect.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 18:3 O Lord. The term here is a distinctive one for God in the OT (e.g., 20:4). The polite term of respect "my lord" (e.g., 23:6) has a slight difference of spelling in Hebrew. Clearly Abraham recognizes that one of his visitors is divine.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 18:4–8 Although Abraham speaks of a little water and a morsel of bread, he prepares a large meal. The writer of Hebrews was probably thinking of the events of vv. 2–8 and 19:1–3 when he wrote of people who had "entertained angels unawares" (Heb. 13:2).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 18:11 The way of women had ceased to be with Sarah. She has ceased to have menstrual cycles, indicating that her reproductive years have ended.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 18:12 Sarah honors Abraham with a title of dignity and respect: my lord. First Peter 3:6 notes this, indicating that she is submitting to and obeying her husband.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 18:16–19:29 The Lord reveals to Abraham his plan to destroy Sodom and then carries out that plan. Through Abraham's intercession, Lot and his two daughters escape. The city's destruction is fully justified because of its overwhelming wickedness (compare 13:13).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 18:17–19 God tells Abraham what he is about to do, since Abraham has a unique role to fulfill regarding his own descendants and all the nations of the earth.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 18:21 I will go down to see. This remark does not mean that God's knowledge is limited (compare 11:5). It simply means he is giving his direct attention to the matter.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 18:23–25 Abraham's response is probably prompted by his concern for Lot. Abraham wonders if God intends to destroy the righteous along with the wicked.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 18:26–33 God eventually affirms that for the sake of ten I will not destroy Sodom (v. 32). He assures Abraham that he will not punish the righteous along with the wicked.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 19:1–3 The two angels. These are the two men who accompanied the Lord in ch. 18 but then separated from him (see 18:22). Lot was sitting in the gate of Sodom. These verses parallel the opening verses of ch. 18. Like Abraham, Lot greets the two men by bowing before them, offering them hospitality. There is no report of his wife assisting him. Unleavened bread implies it was baked in haste. By resembling Abraham's earlier actions, Lot demonstrates that he is righteous, unlike the men of Sodom.

FACT

The city gate was a place where leaders made key decisions (Prov. 31:23; Lam. 5:14). Lot's presence at the city gate (Gen. 19:1) shows that he had a position of importance in Sodom.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 19:4 the men of the city. Every male in Sodom, it seems, both young and old, was involved in the attempted rape of the two visitors.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 19:5 that we may know them. In Hebrew the verb "to know" sometimes implies sexual intercourse (e.g., 4:1, 17, 25; 19:8; compare Judg. 19:22). The context suggests that the men of Sodom intend to have homosexual relations with the two visitors, hence the origin of the term "sodomy." By acting so wickedly against defenseless strangers, the entire community invites divine punishment.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 19:6–9 Lot's readiness to protect the two men from the mob is admirable. In desperation he offers his two unmarried daughters as substitutes—a shocking, cowardly, and inexcusable act, even if he intended this only as a bluff, or expected the offer to be rejected. The reaction of the crowd only confirms the truly evil nature of their intentions.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 19:9 While Lot addresses them as "brothers" (v. 7), the crowd resents him as a foreigner who has become the judge.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 19:16 he lingered. Even Lot is slow to grasp the seriousness of the situation.

LOT

Abraham’s nephew Lot traveled with him to the promised land of Canaan. When the combined wealth of Abraham and Lot proved too much for one place, Abraham generously offered his nephew first choice of the land. Lot chose the fertile Jordan Valley, settling in Sodom. Later, Abraham rescued Lot when he was taken captive by invaders. When the wicked city of Sodom was destroyed, God allowed Lot’s family to escape. Lot’s wife disobeyed by looking back, however, and was turned into a pillar of salt. Filled with fear, Lot and his daughters hid in a cave. Both daughters, desperate to have children, tricked Lot into fathering a son with them. Despite his shortcomings, Lot is described in 2 Pet. 2:7–10 as a righteous man. (Genesis 19:15–16)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 19:17–23 Since the entire valley will be destroyed, Lot is told to escape to the hills. Lot thinks this will be too difficult and therefore asks to be given refuge in a small city in the valley. The Lord grants this request, further showing his mercy to Lot amid the judgment on Sodom.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 19:24–25 the LORD rained on Sodom and Gomorrah sulfur and fire from the LORD out of heaven. This judgment on Sodom and Gomorrah, the flood of chs. 6–9, and the later destruction of the Canaanites (Deut. 20:16–18) all demonstrate God’s righteous wrath against sin, his mercy in rescuing the godly from destruction, and the certainty of the final judgment to come.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 19:26 The pillar of salt may have been composed of the fiery matter raining in molten lumps from the sky.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 19:27–29 The text now focuses briefly on Abraham, reminding the reader of his intercession for Lot and his family (18:20–33).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 19:31–38 Lot’s daughters had intercourse with him on consecutive nights, but he was unaware of it. This unseemly episode marked the origin of the Moabites and Ammonites.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 20:1–18 King Abimelech takes Sarah into his harem, which seems to put at risk God’s promise that Sarah will bear Abraham a son.

FACT

What is the Negeb? The Negeb (20:1) is a dry area of rolling hills in southern Israel. Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob lived there. Hagar sought refuge in the Negeb. Later, it provided refuge for Israelites fleeing from invading armies.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 20:1 No specific reason is given for Abraham's relocation to Gerar, in the northern Negeb. Abraham and Sarah are unknown to the inhabitants of the region.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 20:2 She is my sister. This comment assumes that the reader is familiar with 12:11–13, which explains the rationale behind Abraham's words. Abimelech king of Gerar. Abimelech, which means "my father is king," appears to have been a common royal name (compare 26:1–2).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 20:3–6 But God came to Abimelech. The text emphasizes that Sarah has not had intercourse with the king; otherwise, it could have appeared that Abimelech was the father of Isaac (21:1–3). in a dream by night. Throughout Genesis dreams often bring divine revelation (compare 28:12; 31:10–11; 37:5–9; 40:5–8; 41:1).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 20:7 Abraham is the first person in the Bible called a prophet. This context emphasizes his ability to intercede for others, one of the characteristics of a true prophet (Jer. 15:1); compare his actions in Gen. 18:22–33.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 20:9 Abimelech rightly criticizes Abraham for deceiving him about Sarah. The term great sin sometimes implies adultery.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 20:11 There is no fear of God at all in this place. Abraham's response betrays both his lack of faith in God and his misjudgment of the people of Gerar. The story shows clearly that the king and his servants were God-fearing (see vv. 5, 8, 16).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 20:12–13 Besides, she is indeed my sister. Abraham's half-truth does not excuse his behavior. at every place to which we come. Abraham regularly resorted to this wife-sister ruse for his own self-protection. Yet only God's intervention protects Abraham's relationship with Sarah.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 20:14–16 Abimelech’s generosity and innocence contrast sharply with Abraham’s deception. The king’s actions publicly affirm that he has not acted inappropriately toward Sarah.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 20:17–18 God has power over fertility. By praying, Abraham demonstrates that God’s blessing is being mediated through him (see 12:3).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:1–21 In fulfillment of God’s promise, Sarah bears Abraham a son, who is named Isaac. While Isaac takes priority over Ishmael, God does not abandon Hagar and her son.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:1–2 as he had promised. See 17:16, 19, 21. at the time of which God had spoken to him. See 18:10, 14.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:3 Isaac. God had announced the name to Abraham in 17:19 (see note).

ISAAC

God had promised Abraham that the world would be blessed through his descendants. When Isaac was born to Abraham and Sarah, it was the initial fulfillment of that promise. At God’s command, Isaac was almost sacrificed by his father, but his life was spared when God provided a ram to be sacrificed in his place. This prefigured the sacrifice of God’s own Son in the place of all who would believe in him. Isaac settled in Gerar, a Philistine city, where he became prosperous. He married Rebekah, who bore him twin sons, Jacob and Esau. Although Esau was his favorite son, Isaac was tricked by Jacob into giving him the blessing intended for his older brother. (Genesis 21:1–3)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:4 Isaac is circumcised by Abraham, fulfilling God’s instructions in 17:12.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:8 Isaac was probably two or three years old when he was weaned.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:9 The Hebrew verb translated laughing can mean either “mocking” or “playing.” Here, it probably means “mocking.”

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:12 through Isaac shall your offspring be named. Even though Ishmael is older than Isaac, God confirms that Isaac will take priority over Ishmael (see 17:19). The importance of this is explained in Rom. 9:7 and Heb. 11:18.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:14 putting it on her shoulder, along with the child. While these words might suggest that Ishmael was placed on Hagar's shoulder, this is hardly likely, since Ishmael is about 16 years old (see 16:16; 21:5, 8). Abraham gave Ishmael to Hagar, probably after putting the bread and water on Hagar's shoulder. The Hebrew term for "child" may mean an older teenager. wilderness of Beersheba. Water was difficult to find in this region. Man-made wells appear to have been the main source (see 21:30; 26:18–22).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:17–18 God's intervention saves Hagar and confirms to her that her son will become a great nation, echoing the promise given to Abraham in v. 13. God heard . . . the boy (v. 17). "Ishmael" means "God hears" (see 16:11).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:21 wilderness of Paran. The central region in northern Sinai.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:22–23 God is with you in all that you do. Abimelech attributes Abraham's success to God.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:25–30 Before sealing the treaty, Abraham raises the controversial issue of ownership of a well. The covenant or treaty was designed to prevent conflict between the two parties. The gift of seven ewe lambs to Abimelech confirms Abraham's ownership of the well.

FACT

Why fight over a well? Wells are of great importance in the hot, dry climates around the world. Because lack of water was a constant threat, both military generals and civilian travelers would often plan their routes according to the location of wells. (See 21:25–31.)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:31 In light of Abraham's gift to Abimelech, the name Beersheba probably means "well of seven." It could also mean "well of the oath," since the Hebrew words for "seven" and "oath" are similar. Perhaps the name was chosen because it embraced both concepts. When a permanent settlement was established in this area, it was named after the well (see 26:33). The town of Beersheba, in the northern Negeb, marked the southern boundary of Israel (e.g., Judg. 20:1).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:32 land of the Philistines. The term “Philistines” is normally associated with non-Canaanites from the Aegean region who inhabited southwest Canaan from about 1180 B.C. onward—nearly a thousand years after Abraham’s time. In light of this, the term may have been used here and elsewhere to replace an earlier, obscure term; Genesis contains various examples of such modernizations.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 21:33 Everlasting God. Here the common Semitic term for “God” is followed by the attribute of everlastingness.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:1–19 The conditional promises of 12:1–3 are now unconditionally guaranteed as a result of Abraham’s preparedness to sacrifice his son. Put to the test, Abraham displays remarkable trust in God. James 2:21–22 says that Abraham’s actions here “completed” the faith he had already expressed (see Gen. 15:6).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:1 God tested Abraham. While it is not unknown for God to test individuals, testing must be clearly distinguished from tempting. God does not tempt anyone to do evil (James 1:13). He does, however, test people’s commitment to him (e.g., Ex. 15:25; 16:4).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:2 your only son Isaac, whom you love. With Ishmael’s departure from Abraham’s household, Isaac had become Abraham’s cherished only son. land of Moriah. According to 2 Chron. 3:1, Solomon constructed the temple on Mount Moriah in Jerusalem. While Genesis 22 does not specify that the sacrifice of Isaac took place at or near Jerusalem, v. 14 may imply such a connection. A burnt offering involved the entire sacrifice being consumed by fire.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:3 Abraham rose early in the morning. Abraham promptly responds to the challenge placed before him.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:4 On the third day. It requires about two days to travel on foot from Beersheba to Jerusalem, a distance of about 45 miles (72 km). Elsewhere, two days represents the time set aside to prepare for a special encounter with God on the third day (see Ex. 19:11).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:5–8 I and the boy will . . . come again to you. While Abraham is committed to sacrificing Isaac, he believes that both of them will return (see Heb. 11:17–19). God will provide . . . the lamb. It is unclear whether Abraham is speaking ironically here (Isaac is the "lamb"), or whether he is expressing faith that somehow God will preserve his son.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:11 the angel of the LORD. See note on 16:7. The repetition of the name Abraham, Abraham underscores the urgency of the intervention (compare 22:1).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:12 now I know that you fear God. While Abraham's faith was the means by which God counted him as righteous (15:6), that faith is now "active along with his works" and is "completed by his works" (James 2:21–23). His faith resulted in obedience.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:13 God provides a ram to be sacrificed as a burnt offering. In Genesis such sacrifices are associated with solemn promises made by God (see 8:20–22). instead of his son. The fact that a ram died in the place of Isaac suggests the principle of substitutionary atonement, especially the substitutionary death of Christ on the cross, as "the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world" (John 1:29).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:14 The LORD will provide. The belief developed (as it is said to this day) that God would provide the sacrifice necessary to atone for sin. The mount of the LORD probably refers to the hill on which the temple was later built in Jerusalem.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:15–18 By myself I have sworn. The oath concentrates on a single descendant of Abraham who will overcome his enemies and bring blessing to all the nations of the earth (v. 18). This oath to Abraham comes to fulfillment in Jesus Christ (Acts 3:25–26; Gal. 3:16).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:16–17 because you . . . have not withheld your son, your only son. Abraham's actions prove his faith (see Rom. 4:3, 22–23; Gal. 3:6).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 22:24 concubine. See note on 25:5–6.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 23:1–20 Upon the death of Sarah, Abraham buys a cave in Hebron as a burial place. By acquiring this land, Abraham confirms that his descendants are to be associated with the land of Canaan, as God had already promised (12:7; 13:14–17; 15:18–21).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 23:2 Kiriath-arba means “town of four” (see Josh. 14:15). It was later known as Hebron (see Judg. 1:10).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 23:4 a sojourner and foreigner among you. Despite God’s repeated promises that Abraham’s descendants will possess all the land of Canaan, after 62 years in the land Abraham has no permanent location to call his own. The NT explains that Abraham chose to go on living in tents because he was looking for a city “whose designer and builder is God” (Heb. 11:9–10).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 23:6 The Hittites recognize Abraham’s special relationship with God and give him the title prince of God.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 23:10 Although Ephron is present, Abraham seeks permission from the Hittite population as a whole—either because Abraham himself was not a Hittite or because the transfer of property required the involvement of a third party.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 23:11–16 Although Ephron first offers the field and cave to Abraham for free, this may not have been his true intention. The second time he offers it, he casually mentions what he would consider a fair price (v. 15). It is important that Abraham buy the property because that ensures that he has full legal title to the burial plot. Comparisons with 1 Kings 16:24 and Jer. 32:9 suggest that four hundred shekels of silver was a high price, although this cannot be known for sure, since the weight of a shekel could vary according to the weights current among the merchants.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 23:20 Abraham’s purchase of the field and cave meant that his descendants would always own this land. Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Rebekah, and Leah would later be buried in this cave.

FACT

Two biblical firsts. The burial of Sarah (23:19) is the first biblical record of a burial. Abraham’s purchase of the burial plot is also the first biblical record of a business transaction.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 24:1–67 Abraham sends one of his servants to his homeland in Mesopotamia to find a wife for Isaac. The journey was about 550 miles (900 km) and would have taken the servant about 21 days.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 24:2–6 Abraham did not want Isaac to marry a Canaanite, fearing this would draw him away from the Lord. From ch. 9 onward, the Canaanites are frequently portrayed as wicked. put your hand under my thigh. See note on 24:9. In spite of having left Haran in northern Mesopotamia almost a hundred years earlier, Abraham refers to it as my country (v. 4). He emphasizes, however, that Isaac should not return there (v. 6); Isaac's future is in Canaan.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 24:9 the servant put his hand under the thigh of Abraham. Since striking one's thigh was possibly understood as a sign of remorse and submission (see Jer. 31:19; Ezek. 21:12), the placing of one's hand under the thigh of another may have indicated submission to that person's strength and authority.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 24:10 camels. See note on 12:16. Mesopotamia (literally, "between the rivers") was the Greek title for the region between the Euphrates and Tigris Rivers. Here it refers to only northwestern Mesopotamia. The city of Nahor, probably identified with Nakhur, was near Haran (see note on 11:31).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 24:12–14 The servant (like Abraham) has faith in the Lord and prays for guidance. The conditions he has set reveal that he seeks a wife who is generous and caring. The specific request in v. 14 is not the ordinary way to ask for guidance. Nevertheless, God graciously honors the request (compare Judg. 6:36–40).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 24:16 The description of Rebekah as a maiden whom no man had known confirms that she is a virgin, creating the expectation that she may well be the one God intends to be Isaac's wife.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 24:27–28 God's swift answer to the servant's prayer prompts worship and praise.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 24:50–51 Rebekah's brother and father acknowledge the providential nature of these events. God clearly intends that Rebekah should become Isaac's wife.

FACT

Family ties. Laban took responsibility for his sister Rebekah (24:29-51). Apparently their father, who was still alive, was unable to do so.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 24:53 The gifts confirm what the servant has earlier said about Abraham's wealth (see v. 35).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 24:63 Isaac went out. This is another divinely directed event, allowing Isaac to be the first to meet Rebekah when they arrive.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 24:65 she took her veil and covered herself. It was customary for a woman to cover her face with a veil during the period of betrothal, when she was committed to be married.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 25:1–4 Abraham took another wife. Like Hagar, Keturah has the status of a "concubine" (see 1 Chron. 1:32; also note on Gen. 25:5–6). This relationship possibly existed before Sarah's death. In the ancient Near East, wealthy men sometimes had "second" wives.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 25:5–6 These verses highlight Isaac's position as Abraham's main heir. "Concubines" probably refers to Hagar and Keturah, both of whom bore Abraham children. Neither woman shared the status of Sarah, Abraham's first wife (see also 1 Chron. 1:28–34).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 25:9–10 the cave of Machpelah . . . that Abraham purchased. See ch. 23.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 25:12–18 This short section names Ishmael's 12 sons, who became heads of tribes in Arabia, fulfilling God's promise in 17:20.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 25:12 These are the generations of. See note on 2:4.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 25:19–37:1 Isaac's Descendants. The familiar phrase "these are the generations of" introduces the next main section of Genesis (see note on 2:4). While these chapters focus on the family of Isaac, special attention is given to Jacob because the unique family line of Genesis will be continued through him (see diagram).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 25:20 The repeated use of the term Aramean and the designation of their dwelling place as Paddan-aram ("plain of Aram") indicate that Abraham's family was considered to be Aramean.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 25:21 Like Sarah, Rebekah is also barren.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 25:22–23 The observation that the children struggled together within her introduces one of the main themes of chs. 25–36. The relationship between the twin boys will often be hostile. The divine revelation that the older shall serve the younger indicates that Jacob will have a significant role in the family line.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 25:26 holding Esau's heel, so his name was called Jacob. The name "Jacob" resembles the Hebrew term for "heel" and has the connotation of "deceiver." To grasp someone by the heel was apparently a figure of speech meaning "to deceive." The idea of deception will be a repeated theme in the life of Jacob. Isaac was sixty years old. The twins are born 15 years before the death of Abraham, which is recorded in vv. 7–8. Occasionally in Genesis, events are narrated out of chronological order, as here.

REBEKAH

Because he did not want Isaac to marry a Canaanite, Abraham sent his servant to Mesopotamia to find a wife for his son. The servant prayed for a sign to help him recognize the woman God had appointed for this purpose. Rebekah's actions were the precise answer to the servant's prayer. She was beautiful and hospitable, and in an act of faith she left her country and her family so that she could journey to Canaan and marry Isaac. Like Sarah, Rebekah was barren. Isaac prayed on her behalf, and God heard his prayer. Rebekah gave birth to Jacob and Esau. Favoring Jacob above his brother, Rebekah instructed him to trick his father into giving him the blessing intended for Esau. (Genesis 25:23)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 25:27–34 These verses tell of Esau selling his birthright to Jacob. While Jacob may be criticized for exploiting his brother in a moment of weakness, Esau is indifferent toward his firstborn status. That is why Heb. 12:16 describes Esau as "unholy." He did not appreciate that his birthright was linked to God's plan of redemption.

FACT

Tents were temporary shelters made of cloth and were often woven from black goat's hair. The tent was held up by ropes and poles. Most tents were rectangular in shape. Because nomadic families moved often, they had little furniture. Tents still provide housing for nomadic peoples living in the Middle East today.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 25:30 In Hebrew, the name Edom is similar to the word red.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 26:1–35 The events in this chapter are difficult to date precisely but they probably took place after the death of Abraham (25:8), when Esau and Jacob were young men.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 26:1–2 besides the former famine that was in the days of Abraham. See 12:10. On that occasion, Abraham went down to Egypt. Isaac, however, is instructed to remain in Gerar. Abimelech. See note on 20:2. It is possible that this is the king mentioned in chs. 20–21. Perhaps more likely, he is his son or grandson. Philistines. See note on 21:32.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 26:3–5 I will establish the oath that I swore to Abraham. This refers to the oath in 22:16–18, the substance of which is repeated here (see note on 22:15–18). Isaac is the heir to the promises God made to Abraham.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 26:6–7 She is my sister. Isaac makes the same dishonest claim that Abraham earlier used in both Egypt (12:10–12) and Gerar (20:1–18).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 26:8 saw Isaac laughing with Rebekah. The Hebrew verb implies they were laughing while caressing affectionately.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 26:15 The Philistines may have closed up the wells to discourage herdsmen from grazing their livestock in this region.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 26:17 Isaac relocates from the city of Gerar to the Valley of Gerar, a region under the control of Gerar but not next to it.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 26:19–22 Since water was vital in this arid region, disputes over the ownership of wells were common (see 21:25). The names of the wells reflect the events associated with them.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 26:23–25 Isaac's servants dug a well. Years earlier Abraham dug a well at Beersheba (see 21:30), but the Philistines later filled it in (26:15).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 26:26–31 Abimelech comes to Isaac to establish a covenant (v. 28) or treaty with him, guaranteeing they will live together peacefully (compare 21:22–32). Phicol is possibly the same individual as in 21:22. Alternatively, "Phicol" could be a family name or a title.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 26:32–33 This treaty coincides with the discovery of water in a well being dug by Isaac's servants. Therefore the well is called Shibah, which resembles the Hebrew word for "oath." Beersheba. See note on 21:31.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 26:34–35 The emphasis on the Hittite origin of Esau's wives probably implies that Esau has not chosen them wisely. This is confirmed as they made life bitter for Isaac and Rebekah (v. 35).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 27:1–2 Isaac decides it is time to bless his firstborn son, Esau. Such blessings were seen as shaping the future of those blessed.

FACT

A father's blessing (ch. 27) was not just a symbolic gesture. It established the identity of the heir, granting him all the privileges of that position. The father's blessing was even seen as in some way shaping his future.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 27:4 that my soul may bless you before I die. Isaac intends that his blessing for Esau will establish the identity of the heir to the promises God had given to Abraham and Isaac.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 27:5–10 Rebekah was listening. Rebekah plans Jacob's deception, but Jacob is still responsible for the part he plays in this trick.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 27:11 From birth, Esau was clearly distinguished from Jacob by his hairy appearance (see 25:25).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 27:29 Let peoples serve you, and nations bow down to you. Isaac's blessing for his "firstborn" goes far beyond material prosperity (v. 28). Isaac asks for universal sovereignty over peoples and nations, building on God's promise to Abraham that kings will be among his descendants (17:6). Cursed be everyone who curses you, and blessed be everyone who blesses you! These words echo God's promise to Abraham, in 12:3, that he will be a blessing to all nations.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 27:30–36 Is he not rightly named Jacob? For he has cheated me these two times (v. 36). Esau refers here to the name "Jacob," which means "to deceive/cheat" (see note on 25:26). Esau believes that Jacob has cheated him out of both his birthright (see 25:29–34) and his blessing, although Esau willingly forfeited his birthright to Jacob (see 25:33).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 27:40 you shall break his yoke from your neck. Although Jacob has been given authority over his older twin brother, Esau will eventually free himself from his brother's control. Later, Esau's descendants will settle outside the Promised Land, to the east of the Jordan River (see note on 32:3–5). They will eventually control Seir, which is later named "Edom."

ESAU

Esau, whose name means "hairy," was the son of Isaac and Rebekah and the elder twin brother of Jacob. Esau was a skillful hunter and his father's favorite son, but he brought misery upon his parents by marrying two Hittite women. Esau carelessly sold his birthright to Jacob for a bowl of stew. Jacob then tricked Isaac into giving him the blessing intended for his brother. In response, Esau tried to kill Jacob. Years later, however, Jacob and Esau were reconciled. Esau founded the nation of Edom, which became an enemy of Israel. Jacob the chosen one and Esau the one not chosen typify the age-long struggle between the people of God and their adversaries. (Genesis 27:36)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 27:41–45 I will kill my brother Jacob (v. 41). When Rebekah learns of Esau's desire to murder Jacob, she encourages Jacob to go to her brother Laban in northwestern Mesopotamia (Haran).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 27:46 the Hittite women. Rebekah is probably referring to Esau's wives (see 26:34–35), although she could mean Hittite women in general. She may have raised this issue with Isaac as a reason for sending Jacob away.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 28:1–2 Abraham issued similar instructions in 24:3–4. Canaanite women is a broader designation that would have included the Hittites (see note on 10:6–20).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 28:3–4 Isaac anticipates that Jacob will return to Canaan to take possession of the land divinely given to Abraham. make you fruitful and multiply you. See note on 1:28. A company of peoples echoes the idea of Abraham as the father of many nations (see 17:4–6). It is repeated in 35:11.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 28:6–9 Esau seeks to make amends for having taken Canaanite wives by marrying one of Ishmael's daughters. However, he still retains his two Canaanite wives.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 28:10–22 The Lord uses an extraordinary dream to confirm that the divine promises to Abraham will be fulfilled through Jacob. A similar event will take place upon Jacob's return to Canaan (32:22–32).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 28:10 Jacob sets out to travel the 550 miles (900 km) to Haran (see note on 11:31).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 28:12 ladder set up on the earth. What matters most is not the exact shape of this structure but its purpose. It provides a bridge between heaven and earth, showing that God is still committed to making the earth his dwelling place. Jesus identifies himself as the ladder linking earth and heaven (John 1:51). While human beings want to ascend to heaven (as reflected in the Tower of Babel story, Genesis 11), God is interested in making the earth his temple-city.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 28:13–15 The LORD stood above it (v. 13) could also be translated "the LORD stood beside him" (ESV footnote). The Lord's words loudly echo his promises to Abraham (12:3, 7; 13:14–16; 17:7–8; 18:18; 22:17–18) and Isaac (26:4).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 28:16–17 Believing that the LORD is in this place, Jacob describes it as the house of God. The presence of God on earth is clearly central in Jacob's thinking.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 28:18 Jacob marks this special event at Bethel (see v. 19) by setting up a pillar and consecrating it with oil, but he does not build an altar. This indicates that he has not yet fully accepted the Lord as his God. While setting up pillars was common in Canaanite worship, Deut. 16:22 prohibits it. Years later, after his faith-transforming encounter with God at Penuel (Gen. 32:22–32), Jacob returns to Bethel to construct an altar (35:1–7).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 28:19 the name of the city was Luz at the first. The city's name continued to be "Luz" until the Israelites occupied Canaan many centuries later (see 35:6; 48:3; Judg. 1:23). The actual location called "Bethel" by Jacob probably lay outside the city of Luz (see Josh. 16:2).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 28:20–21 If God will be with me . . . , then the LORD shall be my God. The conditional nature of Jacob's vow reveals that he is still not fully committed to the Lord (see note on v. 18).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 28:22 I will give a full tenth to you. Centuries later, Israelite worshipers give a tenth of their income (a “tithe”) to God as an expression of their commitment to him.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:1–14 There are similarities between this passage and the earlier journey of Abraham’s servant to Paddan-aram to find a wife for Isaac (ch. 24). While both accounts involve providential encounters at a well, Abraham’s servant prayed for guidance, but the text says nothing about Jacob praying.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:1 The people of the east is an unusual way of referring to the inhabitants of Paddan-aram in northwest Mesopotamia. In Genesis, the “east” is often associated with those who are expelled or move away from God’s presence (3:23–24; 4:16; 21:14; 25:6). This brief description may indicate that Jacob’s relatives do not worship the Lord.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:4–6 When Jacob discovers that the shepherds are from Haran, he asks about his uncle, Laban the son of Nahor. Strictly speaking, Laban is Nahor’s grandson. The Hebrew term for “son” may indicate any male descendant.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:6 Providentially, Laban’s daughter Rachel is bringing her herd to the well. Rachel means “ewe,” an appropriate name for a shepherdess (v. 9).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:10 Jacob came near and rolled the stone from the well’s mouth. Jacob demonstrates great strength in being able to move the stone.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:11 Jacob kissed Rachel, probably showing family affection rather than feelings of romance (compare v. 13).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:18 I will serve you seven years for your younger daughter Rachel. In the ancient Near East it was customary for a prospective husband to give the bride’s father a substantial gift of money, known as the bride-price. Jacob offers to work for Laban to give the equivalent of seven years’ wages for Rachel.

RACHEL

Rachel was the daughter of Laban, uncle of Jacob. She became Jacob's wife. Since she was a shepherdess, it is fitting that Rachel's name means "ewe." Rachel was a beautiful woman, and the Bible says that Jacob loved her immediately. So deep was his love for her that after being deceived into marrying her older sister Leah, Jacob promised to work an additional seven years for Laban so that he could marry Rachel as well. There was constant strife between the sisters because Jacob favored Rachel, and because Rachel was envious of Leah's ability to have children. After many years of waiting, however, Rachel gave birth to Joseph and Benjamin. Ruth 4:11 says that Rachel and Leah "together built up the house of Israel." (Genesis 29:18, 20)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:22 made a feast. Feasting was an important element of ancient Near Eastern weddings.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:23 in the evening. It was dark or nearly dark when Leah was introduced to Jacob for the consummation of their marriage. In a world without artificial lighting, darkness can be pitch-black. Jacob did not realize that Leah was the bride. She may also have come to him wearing a veil, the sign of a betrothed woman (see 24:65).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:25 Only in the morning does Jacob realize he has been deceived.

FACT

Giving servants as gifts to the bride (29:24) was very common in OT times. Doing so provided the newly married woman the help she would need in running a household. Having servants also gave the wife a position of status within her community.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:26 to give the younger before the firstborn. Laban's remarks are highly ironic in light of Jacob's earlier deception of his father.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:27 Complete the week of this one. The wedding celebrations lasted for seven days. Laban persuades Jacob to complete this process with Leah, with the understanding that that he will then be able to marry Rachel. This would also give opportunity for Leah to conceive a child.

Jacob will have to work for another seven years to pay the bride-price for Rachel.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:31 When the LORD saw that Leah was hated. From the beginning, Jacob had loved Rachel (v. 18). He probably found it difficult to love Leah, given the events that had brought them together. Rachel probably loathed her sister for the same reason. Yet their treatment of Leah causes the Lord to favor her with children, while Rachel is barren. As Genesis frequently shows, the Lord is ultimately the One who creates human life.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 29:32–35 Leah bears Jacob four sons. As the ESV footnotes reveal, each son's name is a wordplay on Leah's comment after his birth.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 30:3–8 Because of her barrenness, Rachel offers Jacob her servant Bilhah as a substitute wife (v. 3). This was a common practice in ancient Near Eastern culture. Abraham and Sarah had also followed this custom (see 16:1–4). Children born to the second wife were regarded as belonging to the first wife, preserving the family line. Therefore, Rachel names the two boys born to Bilhah (30:6, 8).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 30:14–16 Leah buys from Rachel the right to lie with Jacob. Having agreed to this with her sister, she says to Jacob, I have hired you with my son's mandrakes. The context suggests Rachel may have viewed the plant as increasing fertility.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 30:17–21 Once more (see note on 29:32–35), the names of the sons reflect events surrounding their births.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 30:22–24 God remembered Rachel. On God's "remembering," see note on 8:1. God has taken away my reproach. A woman's inability to bear children could be interpreted as divine disapproval. Joseph's name is derived from a remark made by his mother; in Hebrew Joseph sounds like the verb "add to."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 30:25–31:18 Having completed 14 years of service to Laban, Jacob wants to return to his family in Canaan. Laban, however, is reluctant to lose Jacob's service, which has brought him considerable wealth.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 30:27–30 Laban's use of divination is sinful (see Deut. 18:10), even though the information obtained is accurate. the LORD has blessed me because of you. All the members of the special line descended from Abraham are portrayed as bringing God's blessing to others. Name your wages. For 14 years Jacob has served Laban to pay the bride-price for Leah and Rachel. Having fulfilled this obligation, which has brought great financial benefit to Laban, Jacob now wants to provide for his own household.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 30:31–34 As payment for his services, Jacob asks Laban to give him livestock with distinctive markings. Then it would be obvious which animals were Jacob's and which were Laban's.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 30:35 Having agreed on the wages, Laban secretly removes all the animals he had promised to Jacob and gives them to his sons.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 30:37–39 To produce more speckled and spotted sheep and goats, Jacob manipulates the breeding process. Scholars differ as to how Jacob is using sticks with peeled white streaks in them to do this.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 30:41–42 Jacob ensures that the striped, speckled, and spotted sheep and goats come from the best animals in Laban's flocks.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 30:43 Having arrived in Paddan-aram with only his staff (see 32:10), Jacob has become very rich. His possessions resemble earlier summaries of Abraham's wealth (see 12:16; 24:35).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:4–13 But the God of my father has been with me (v. 5). While Laban has taken advantage of Jacob, God has consistently worked against Laban's schemes. God of Bethel (v. 13). At Bethel, God had promised to be with Jacob (28:15). Some 20 years later, Jacob acknowledges God's faithfulness.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:14–16 In their response, Rachel and Leah also contrast their father's actions with God's (see note on vv. 4–13). While Laban has tried to take what is theirs (vv. 14–15), God has provided for them and their children (v. 16).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:19–55 Fearful that Laban will prevent him from leaving Paddan-aram, Jacob escapes when his father-in-law is away shearing sheep. When Laban discovers what has happened, he pursues Jacob, catching up with him in Gilead. They eventually make a treaty that guarantees protection to both parties.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:19 Rachel stole her father's household gods. Little is known about the nature of these objects. The term is often translated as "images/idols." They may have been small figurines depicting particular gods. The narrator does not explain why Rachel took them.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:20 Jacob tricked Laban. Although Jacob takes only what rightly belongs to him, Laban later accuses him of having stolen everything that is now in Jacob's possession (v. 43).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:21 hill country of Gilead. The region lies east of the Jordan River, several hundred miles south of Paddan-aram.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:22–24 Laban catches up with Jacob about 10 days after his initial departure. Jacob, with his family and livestock, has reached Gilead.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:26–30 the God of your father. Although Laban acknowledges that God has spoken to him (see v. 24), he refuses to acknowledge God as his own; he is the God of Isaac. To underline this point, Laban asks Jacob, why did you steal my gods?

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:26 Rachel and Leah had willingly agreed to go with Jacob (v. 16), despite what Laban says.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:35 Rachel tries to prevent Laban from finding his household gods by telling him that the way of women is upon her (that is, she is menstruating).

FACT

Why was Laban so upset when his household gods were stolen? Household gods (31:30) had a more practical use than just idol worship. They served as titles of ownership to one's property and inheritance.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:42 the God of Abraham and the Fear of Isaac. The term "Fear" is clearly a substitute for "God." Possibly, since Isaac treated God with reverential fear, God could be called the "One Feared" or the "Fear" of Isaac. Another possibility is the idea that Isaac's God caused fear in others (see, e.g., the reaction of Abimelech in 26:10–11, 28–29).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:43–44 In spite of Jacob's observations, Laban claims ownership of everything that Jacob has taken. Then, possibly to save face, Laban invites Jacob to make a covenant or treaty with him on the pretext of protecting his daughters and grandchildren (see v. 50).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:45–46 The creation of two "witnesses" may have been intended to emphasize the seriousness of the oath. More likely, the two witnesses reflect in some way the deities Jacob and Laban worship. Jacob's single stone (monotheism) contrasts with the heap of stones set up by Laban and his relatives (polytheism).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 31:47–49 Mizpah, meaning "watchtower," became the name of a settlement north of the Jabbok River. It was the hometown of Jephthah (Judg. 11:11). Mizpah was also the name of an important city on the boundary between Israel and Judah, 8 miles (13 km) northwest of Jerusalem (Judges 20).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:1–21 After separating peacefully from Laban, Jacob prepares to meet his estranged brother Esau. Jacob is naturally hesitant about how he will be received some 20 years after fleeing from Esau in order to avoid being killed by him. Jacob's preparations are intended to promote a peaceful reconciliation.

Jacob Returns to Canaan

c. 1976 B.C.

After acquiring wealth in Paddan-aram, Jacob returned to Canaan. He came to Mahanaim, where he sent his household ahead of him and crossed the Jabbok alone. There he wrestled with a mysterious man until morning and named the place Peniel (also called Penuel). Jacob then encountered his brother Esau, who had come from Edom to meet him. After the two were reconciled, Esau returned to Edom, while Jacob journeyed to Canaan.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:1–2 The reference to the angels of God brings to mind Jacob's dream at Bethel (28:12), the only other place in the OT where this expression is used. This is God's camp is also an unusual phrase. Since camps were mobile, unlike houses, Jacob's remark suggests that God has sent his angels to accompany Jacob safely back to the land of Canaan. Mahanaim means "two camps," possibly referring to God's camp and Jacob's camp.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:3–5 Jacob sent messengers before him. The Hebrew term for "messengers" implies "angels" in v. 1. The land of Seir, the country of Edom lies east of Canaan in Transjordan. Esau was living in this area before Jacob returned. He may have already separated himself from his father Isaac, who is living at Mamre, near Hebron (see 35:27). "Seir" means "hairy" in Hebrew, and "Edom" is similar to the word for "red" (see 25:25).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:6 four hundred men with him. A force of this size suggests that Esau plans to attack Jacob.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:7–8 two camps. Jacob's actions, while understandable, show that he is still unable to trust God fully for protection.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:9–13 Jacob prays, because of his fear of Esau. Because God has prospered him so greatly, Jacob is able to divide everything that he has into two camps. O LORD. This is the first time Jacob addresses God using his special name, "Yahweh" (see note on 2:4). make your offspring as the sand of the sea. Genesis does not specify when this divine promise was made to Jacob, as it was to Abraham (see 22:17).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:18 your servant Jacob . . . my lord Esau. Jacob's humility is noteworthy, in light of the earlier statements about the older serving the younger (see 25:23) and about Jacob being lord over his brothers (27:29).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:22–32 This passage records a nighttime encounter between God and Jacob. Jacob is transformed by this extraordinary meeting, and his name is changed from "Jacob" to "Israel."

FACT

The Jabbok River. The Hebrew word for “wrestle” is abbaq. This has led many scholars to believe that the Jabbok River (32:22) was named after Jacob’s famous wrestling match with God.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:22–23 ford of the Jabbok. The Jabbok River flows westward into the Jordan Valley about 24 miles (39 km) north of the Dead Sea.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:24 a man wrestled. By the time their contest ends, Jacob is convinced that his opponent is God himself (see v. 30). This is possible, since God had previously come to Abraham in human form (18:1–15).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:25 Jacob’s hip was put out of joint. Jacob’s injury shows the strength of his opponent and his own desire to win the fight.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:26 I will not let you go unless you bless me. Jacob is so determined to be blessed that he will not release his opponent, even when his thigh is dislocated.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:28 Your name shall no longer be called Jacob, but Israel. “Israel” probably means “he strives with God.” It could also mean “God strives” (see ESV footnote). Jacob’s new name marks the end of a lifetime of struggling with others (see 25:22). Jacob has finally come to realize the importance of being blessed by God. The God of his father has now become his God (32:9). See Hos. 12:3–4.

JACOB

Jacob was the son of Isaac and Rebekah. His name means “he grasps the heel” or “he cheats.” Jacob used deception to receive the blessing intended for his brother Esau. He then fled to the home of his uncle Laban. When Jacob asked permission to marry Laban’s daughter Rachel, Laban agreed but then tricked him into marrying her older sister Leah instead. However, Jacob was allowed to marry Rachel as well, and he eventually became the father of 12 sons and a daughter. As he was returning to Canaan, Jacob wrestled with an angel of the Lord. During this struggle he was given a new name, Israel, which means “struggles with God.” Jacob’s 12 sons became the 12 tribes of Israel. (Genesis 32:27–28)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 32:30 Jacob called the name of the place Peniel. “Peniel” means “face of God.” Jacob’s encounter with God fills him with awe. When later Moses asks to see God’s glory, he is told, “You cannot see my face, for man shall not see me and live” (Ex. 33:20). In light of this, either Jacob’s encounter is a remarkable exception or face to face is a figure of speech for closeness to God.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 33:1–20 Having met the Lord at Peniel, Jacob is reconciled with Esau.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 33:1–3 With Esau in sight, Jacob arranges his wives and children in order of importance, with priority being given to Rachel and Joseph.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 33:3 Jacob slowly approaches Esau, bowing himself to the ground seven times. Jacob’s actions are clearly intended to express his submission to Esau, despite the earlier divine revelation that the older would serve the younger (25:23).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 33:4 Esau ran to meet him. The unreserved manner in which Esau greets and embraces Jacob reveals that he is not angry with him.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 33:8 All this company that I met refers to the groups of animals that Jacob had sent ahead to Esau (see 32:13–21).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 33:10 For I have seen your face, which is like seeing the face of God, and you have accepted me. Jacob draws a remarkable parallel between his earlier encounter with God (32:30) and his meeting with Esau. Like God, Esau shows unmerited favor to Jacob.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 33:11 Please accept my blessing. Jacob’s blessing is his present of livestock. Previously, Jacob had taken Esau’s blessing as the firstborn. While Jacob cannot restore this to Esau, he wants to give him another blessing, which comes from God’s blessing of Jacob.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 33:12–14 While Esau wants his brother to return with him, Jacob politely refuses, using the travel-weariness of his children and livestock as an excuse. until I come to my lord in Seir. Apparently Jacob still does not fully trust Esau. He has no intention of following him to Seir (see v. 17). From where Esau and Jacob met, Seir was about 100 miles (161 km) to the south, while Succoth, on the border of Canaan, was only 4 miles (6.4 km) to the west.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 33:17–18 Succoth is in the Jordan Valley near where the Jabbok River joins the Jordan River. Shechem, about 20 miles (32 km) west of Succoth, was the first place named in connection with Abraham's arrival in Canaan (see 12:6).

FACT

The name Succoth (33:17) means "booths." A booth was a temporary dwelling resembling a tent or a hut. Most of the people around Succoth were nomads, and they probably lived in tents or booths.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 33:19 hundred pieces of money. The term translated as "money" is used rarely in the OT (see Josh. 24:32; Job 42:11). The precise value is uncertain.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 33:20 This is the first altar mentioned in connection with Jacob, and it signals his commitment to worship the Lord. This is seen by the name he gives the altar: El-Elohe-Israel means "God, the God of Israel." Jacob identifies the God worshiped at this altar as the One whom he had encountered at Peniel and who had changed his name.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 34:1–31 Almost as soon as Jacob returns to Canaan, an incident threatens the future security of his family. While the rape of Dinah by Shechem is inexcusable, the retribution by Simeon and Levi far exceeds the crime. Jacob is very conscious of how their actions have endangered his entire household.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 34:1 Dinah became friends with the women of the land. The only other occurrence of this expression in Genesis is in 27:46, when Rebekah speaks against Jacob's marrying "one of the women of the land."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 34:2–4 Hamor the Hivite, the prince of the land, was clearly a person of some importance in Shechem. While Hamor's son Shechem is initially attracted to Dinah by lust, he now desires to hold on to her as his wife.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 34:8–9 Although Hamor comes to speak to Jacob (v. 6), Jacob appears to be pushed aside by his sons. They are the ones who speak with Hamor and Shechem.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 34:11–12 In an attempt to win over Dinah's family, Shechem offers a generous bride price and gift. This was a normal part of marriage arrangements in the ancient Near East.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 34:14–17 In ch. 17, circumcision is introduced as the sign of God's covenant with Abraham. Those who are circumcised acknowledge Abraham as their father.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 34:21 These men are at peace with us. Hamor and Shechem are completely fooled by Jacob's sons.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 34:25 two of the sons of Jacob, Simeon and Levi. Although all of Jacob's sons were involved in the deception, only Simeon and Levi are involved in slaughtering all the males. This explains why both brothers are later passed over in favor of their younger brother Judah (49:5–7).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:1–29 Jacob moves by stages from Shechem to Bethel, eventually coming to Hebron, where his father Isaac is still alive. Transformed by the experiences of Bethel and Peniel, Jacob is now ready to assume his role as the one through whom God's promises to Abraham will be continued.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:1 Jacob had only set up a pillar at Bethel when God appeared to him (28:18). By returning to Bethel and building an altar there, Jacob acknowledges that God has been faithful to him (see 28:20–22).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:2–3 Jacob prepares his household for entering God's presence: Bethel is the "house of God." They must rid themselves of foreign gods, as emphasized in the first of the Ten Commandments (Ex. 20:3). Rachel's theft of her father's household gods suggests that polytheistic beliefs existed within Jacob's household. These must be abandoned. Jacob's household must purify themselves (Gen. 35:2). This may explain Jacob's final instruction to change garments (v. 2; see Ex. 19:10).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:4 It is not clear whether the rings that were in their ears were worn by the people or by the foreign gods. Some ancient Near Eastern evidence indicates that idols could have earrings. Jacob probably buried these cultic objects.

FACT

Terebinths are huge, spreading trees that grow to a height of 20–26 feet (6–8 m). They have reddish-green leaves and red berries that grow in clusters. A perfumed, oily resin flows out of the bark when it is cut. Terebinths grow in hot, dry places, and were thus a source of welcome shade to the people of the Bible (35:4; Hos. 4:13).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:5 a terror from God. While the nature of this terror is unknown, other passages in Genesis record how the fear of God is used to protect the patriarchs (e.g., 20:8; 26:28–29). Jacob's fears (34:30) are answered by God's protection, in spite of Simeon and Levi's excessive revenge (34:25).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:6 Luz (that is, Bethel). See note on 28:19.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:8 Deborah, Rebekah's nurse, was mentioned in 24:59, though not by name. Deborah's presence with Jacob may suggest that Rebekah had sent her to him in connection with her promise to bring Jacob back home (27:45).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:9 blessed him. This not only confirms the blessing of 32:29 but also makes Jacob equal to Abraham and Isaac (see 24:1; 25:11).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:10 On the change of Jacob's name to Israel, see note on 32:28.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:11–12 God's second statement emphasizes that Jacob is now heir to the divine promises given to Abraham and Isaac. kings shall come from your own body. The promise of royal descendants is first given to Abraham in 17:6. This theme will reappear in Joseph's dreams (37:6–10), showing that the ultimate fulfillment of the promise will come through Jacob's descendants. The land that I gave. The divine promise of the land is renewed to include Jacob and his descendants.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:14–15 pillar. See note on 28:18. drink offering. This is the only mention in Genesis of such an offering. Later references suggest that wine was used (e.g., Num. 15:1–10).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:16–20 Rachel dies while giving birth. The name that Rachel gives her newborn son, Ben-oni, is potentially ambiguous (see ESV footnote). Jacob changes the name to make its meaning certain. Benjamin means "son of my right hand."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:18 her soul was departing. This is one place in the OT where the Hebrew word translated "soul" refers to what gives life to the body.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:22–23 Reuben went and lay with Bilhah his father's concubine. While Reuben's action may have been prompted by lust, it challenged Jacob's position as head of the household. Jacob later denies Reuben the inheritance due him as the firstborn (49:3–4).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:26 These were the sons of Jacob who were born to him in Paddan-aram. Strictly speaking (see vv. 16–20), Benjamin was not born in Paddan-aram, but this is a general summary statement.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:27 Mamre, or Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron). See notes on 13:18; 23:2.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 35:28–29 In spite of hinting that he would soon die in 27:1–2, Isaac has remained alive during Jacob's 20 years of exile in Paddan-aram.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 36:1–8 These verses explain the summary description of Esau that comes in v. 9. These events occurred during Esau's time in Canaan, when five sons and some daughters were born to him. Esau then relocated in the hill country of Seir.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 36:1 These are the generations of. See note on 2:4. Esau (that is, Edom). On the origin of the name "Edom," see note on 25:30.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 36:12 concubine. See note on 25:5–6.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 36:20–30 This section lists five chiefs associated with the Horites, the original inhabitants of Seir. Eventually, Esau's descendants assume control of Seir, renaming it "Edom."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:1 Whereas Esau's descendants dwell in Seir (alongside the Horites), Jacob settles in Canaan (like his father Isaac).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:2–50:26 Jacob's Descendants. The last main section of Genesis further develops the theme of a royal line descended from Abraham. As governor of Egypt, Joseph brings divine blessing to many people. Genesis, however, looks forward to a time when the leadership of Israel will pass from the tribe of Joseph's son Ephraim to the tribe of Judah (see Ps. 78:67–68). This story would have shown its first readers how they came to be in Egypt, namely, through God's mysterious use of both evil and noble deeds to bring about his purpose (see Gen. 50:20).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:2–36 Joseph is the second youngest son of Jacob, but his father gives him privileges normally given to the firstborn. Joseph's dreams further antagonize his older brothers, who cannot accept that he will someday reign over them.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:2 These are the generations of. See note on 2:4. Joseph brought a bad report of them. Joseph's action brings him into conflict with his brothers.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:3 the son of his old age. Since Benjamin, not Joseph, was actually the last son born to Jacob, the unusual Hebrew expression "son of old age" could mean either (1) someone who displays exceptional maturity while still young or perhaps (2) the son closest to Jacob in his old age. robe of many colors. The actual design of the cloak is uncertain.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:5 Joseph had a dream. In Genesis, dreams are normally associated with divine revelations (see 20:3; 28:12; 31:10–11; 40:5–8; 41:1).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:8 Joseph's brothers understand Joseph's first dream to mean that he will reign over them.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:9–11 The second dream reinforces the expectation that Joseph will have authority over the rest of his family. Shall I and your mother. When Joseph had this dream, his mother Rachel was probably dead (see 35:16–19); "your mother" refers to Leah.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:12–14 Shechem. See note on 33:17–18.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:15–17 Since his brothers have moved farther north, Joseph travels from Shechem to Dothan, a journey of about 16 to 20 miles (26 to 32 km), to find them.

FACT

A long walk! Jacob sent Joseph to see how his brothers were doing, as they tended their sheep (37:14). Joseph headed northward, probably walking, and didn't find his brothers until he came to Dothan (v. 17). The journey would have been more than 50 miles (80 km)!

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:18–20 this dreamer. The brothers' comment is full of sarcasm. The expression implies "master/owner of the dreams."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:21–22 As the oldest, Reuben convinces his brothers not to kill Joseph. Reuben plans to rescue Joseph later and restore him to his father.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:25 caravan of Ishmaelites. These traders come from the Sinai Peninsula. Although initially identified as Ishmaelites (a broad category covering various people groups), in vv. 28 and 36 they are specifically called Midianites. coming from Gilead. See note on 31:21. camels. See note on 12:16.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:26–27 Judah said to his brothers. Although Judah shows compassion by not wanting to kill Joseph, he may have seen an opportunity to profit from selling his brother.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:29–30 tore his clothes. A visible sign of intense anguish and pain. where shall I go? Reuben's grief might not be about the loss of Joseph but about how upset his father will be with Reuben when he learns that Joseph is gone (see note on vv. 21–22).

FACT

A costly demonstration of grief. The Hebrew custom of tearing one's garments (37:29, 34) was an expression of grief, often after learning of the death of a loved one. It would surely have had great significance in a day when most people owned very few items of clothing.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:34 put sackcloth on his loins. A common mourning custom.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 37:35 I shall go down to Sheol. Jacob believes that his grief will continue through the afterlife. “Sheol” is the proper name for the place where people go after death, though specific knowledge about the afterlife was lacking at this time.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:1–30 The shocking account of Judah’s relationship with Tamar, which interrupts the story of Joseph in Egypt, fulfills an important role in Genesis by providing a record of Judah’s family line. The chapter concludes with a birth account in which a firstborn twin is pushed aside by his younger brother, Perez. The royal line of David—and therefore of Jesus Christ—will come from Perez. Although this chapter shows Judah at his worst, it also provides the background for the remarkable transformation in his life seen later in Genesis.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:1–2 A sense of danger is suggested through Judah’s separation from the rest of his family, his friendship with Hirah (a native of the Canaanite city of Adullam), and his marriage to a Canaanite woman. In Genesis, marriages to Canaanites are never viewed in a positive light (see 24:3; 26:34–35; 28:1).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:6–7 The nature of Er’s wickedness is unknown. No information on Tamar’s background is provided, although it is likely that she was a Canaanite.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:8 Judah instructs his second son Onan to fulfill the custom of “levirate marriage,” which required a brother to marry his brother’s childless widow and give her children. See Deut. 25:5–10. It plays an important role in the book of Ruth (Ruth 1:11–13; 4:1–12). Judah is eager that Tamar should have a son to continue the firstborn line of Er.

FACT

Levirate marriage is the practice of a man marrying the widow of his deceased brother, if she had no children (38:8). A child of this second marriage would provide security for the widow and would carry on the name of the deceased brother.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:9 Onan knew that the offspring would not be his. While publicly Onan appears to fulfill his father’s request, in private he refuses to father a child on behalf of Er. he would waste the semen on the ground. Onan avoided impregnating Tamar. He probably selfishly feared that a son born to Tamar would reduce the importance of his own family line and his share of Judah's inheritance.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:11 Judah protects his remaining son, Shelah, by sending Tamar back to her own family. He implies that one day she will marry Shelah. He treats Tamar as if she were dangerous, while it was actually the sons' evil actions that brought about their deaths.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:12 Sometime later Judah becomes a widower. After a period of mourning he travels to Timnah. Two locations are known by this name, but this one is probably in the southern hill country of Judah (see Josh. 15:57).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:13–14 Having waited for Judah to fulfill his promise regarding Shelah (v. 11), Tamar decides to take action. She puts off her widow's garments and covers herself with a veil, possibly intending to remind Judah that she is promised to Shelah. She goes to the entrance to Enaim, hoping to meet her father-in-law.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:15 When Judah sees Tamar, he assumes that she is a prostitute, for she had covered her face. Since engaged women also wore veils, Judah's belief that Tamar is a prostitute would not have been simply based on her covered face. Her being alone by the roadside possibly contributed to his assumption (Jer. 3:2 links "waysides" with prostitution).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:16–18 Tamar's request, What will you give me . . . ? recalls Judah's refusal to give her Shelah.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:21 Ironically, Hirah's description of Tamar as a cult prostitute introduces into the account a religious dimension linked to fertility rituals. The term used by Hirah is rarely used in the OT (see Deut. 23:17; Hos. 4:14).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:24–26 When Judah discovers that he was responsible for Tamar's pregnancy, he acknowledges her righteousness in contrast to his own failure. This marks an important turning point for Judah.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 38:27–30 With its focus on the identity of the firstborn, this birth account suggests that something significant will happen among the descendants of Perez.

Egypt at the Time of Joseph

c. 1900 B.C.

Joseph arrived in Egypt during the reign of the Twelfth Dynasty, arguably the zenith of Egypt's power. Shortly before this era, Upper and Lower Egypt had been unified under one ruler, and now Egyptian influence expanded south and east. The regular flooding of the Nile River provided a relatively stable supply of food and offered some degree of protection from the famines suffered by other lands of the ancient Near East.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 39:1–23 In Egypt, Joseph maintains his integrity by refusing to lie with Potiphar’s wife, which results in his being wrongfully imprisoned.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 39:1 This verse, which echoes 37:36, reintroduces Joseph as the main character of the story that follows.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 39:2–5 The LORD was with Joseph. Joseph’s life in Egypt is governed by God’s providential care (see 50:20). God’s blessing will come through Joseph (compare 12:3; 18:18; 22:17; 30:27).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 39:6–9 Handsome in form and appearance echoes 29:17, which describes Joseph’s mother Rachel. Joseph recognizes that to give in to Potiphar’s wife would be an offense against his master and against God (see Ps. 51:4).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 39:13–15 Concerning the term “Hebrew,” see note on 10:21–32.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 39:20 Joseph’s imprisonment where the king’s prisoners were confined will prove significant for future developments.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 40:1–41:57 Some time after Joseph was imprisoned (ch. 39), two royal attendants are imprisoned for offending Pharaoh. With God’s help, Joseph interprets their dreams. This prepares the way for Joseph to be later summoned from prison to interpret Pharaoh’s dreams.

FACT

Cupbearers (40:1) were high-ranking officials who served the kings of the ancient Near East. Their job was dangerous: before bringing any drink to the king, they tasted it to make sure that it had not been poisoned.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 40:1 committed an offense against. In 39:9 the same Hebrew verb is translated “sin against.” The cupbearer and baker have sinned against their lord, who enjoyed divine status as king of Egypt. The repetition of the rarely used expression “king of Egypt” emphasizes the seriousness of their offense. The cupbearer and baker provided the king with drink and food.

They had unique access to him and were trusted to keep him from being poisoned.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 40:2–3 captain of the guard. This same title is given to Potiphar (37:36; 39:1). Since Potiphar's name is not used in this context, however, the captain is probably another person.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 40:4 In prison, Joseph served a captain of the guard and managed the affairs of his house.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 40:5–8 In the ancient Near East, dreams were often viewed as a medium of divine revelation.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 40:14–15 remember me. See note on v. 23. that they should put me into the pit. While Joseph's remark relates to Egypt, his mention of "the pit" recalls what his brothers did to him in Canaan (see 37:18–28).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 40:18–19 In three days Pharaoh will lift up your head—from you! The baker's corpse was to be hung on a tree and possibly decapitated.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 40:20–22 Pharaoh's birthday may refer to his actual birthday or to the anniversary of his becoming ruler, when pardons were more often granted. As Joseph said, the heads of both men are lifted up.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 40:23 the chief cupbearer did not remember Joseph. The reader knows that God will "remember" Joseph, as he does other people (8:1; 19:29; 30:22).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:1 After two whole years. These events take place two years after the chief cupbearer has been released from prison. Joseph is now 30 years old (see v. 46) and has been in Egypt for about 12 or 13 years (see 37:2).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:8 the magicians of Egypt. These were probably cultic officials who interpreted omens and signs, not illusionists who performed to entertain.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:12 A young Hebrew emphasizes that Joseph is not Egyptian.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:14 Social customs required that Joseph be shaved and clothed before entering Pharaoh's presence. Out of the pit shows what it was like for Joseph to be in prison.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:15–16 God, not Joseph, will answer Pharaoh's request (see 40:8).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:17–24 Pharaoh's repetition of vv. 1–8 shows the importance of the dreams.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:25–36 Stressing that the dreams come from God, Joseph says that the similar content of the dreams means they will be fulfilled soon. Joseph's detailed instructions impress Pharaoh.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:38 the Spirit of God. While Pharaoh undoubtedly interpreted this according to his own religious outlook, on various occasions God empowered people for special service by giving them his Spirit (see, e.g., Ex. 31:3; Judg. 3:10).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:40–41 Joseph is appointed to govern all the people of Egypt, second only to Pharaoh himself.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:42–43 To show Joseph's special status, Pharaoh gives him his royal signet ring, dresses him appropriately, and provides royal transport.

FACT

Signets were seals that bore a unique mark representing their owner. Some signets were worn around the neck; others were worn as rings (41:42). The signet was pressed into soft clay to leave an impression of its mark. Signet impressions were used to certify important documents.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:45 called Joseph's name Zaphenath-paneah. Joseph is fully integrated into the royal court when Pharaoh gives him an Egyptian name and a wife. Marrying into a prominent priestly family gives Joseph additional acceptance.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:50–52 The name Manasseh sounds like the Hebrew word for "forget," suggesting that things have moved on for Joseph. Ironically, however, the name also reminds him of his father's household. Ephraim, which means "twice fruitful," recalls the theme of being fruitful (see note on 1:28).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 41:54–57 As predicted in Pharaoh's dreams, the seven years of plenty are followed by a famine that extends well beyond Egypt. Joseph's preparations ensure that food is available for the Egyptians and all the earth (v. 57; that is, all the eastern Mediterranean region; see note on 6:17).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 42:1–38 Shortage of food in Canaan forces Jacob to send his sons to Egypt, but Benjamin, Joseph's younger brother, remains at home, for Jacob fears losing him, too. When Joseph encounters his brothers again, he deliberately conceals his identity. After accusing them of being spies, he holds Simeon hostage, sending the others back to Canaan on the understanding that they will return with Benjamin. Naturally, Jacob is very reluctant to permit this.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 42:6–9 About 20 years have passed since his brothers last saw Joseph. While Joseph recognizes them, they do not know who he is. bowed themselves before him. Joseph interprets the brothers' action as fulfilling his earlier dreams (37:5–11). Speaking through an interpreter and without disclosing his true identity, Joseph accuses his brothers of being spies. the nakedness of the land. A figure of speech referring to locations where Egypt would be most vulnerable to attack.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 42:10–17 this day with our father (v. 13). Seizing on this reference to Benjamin, Joseph demands that the brothers prove their trustworthiness by sending for him (v. 16). Then, to show his power, Joseph has them placed in custody for three days (v. 17).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 42:36–38 Reuben's response (v. 37) does little to reassure his father. Jacob is unlikely to entrust Benjamin to someone who cares so little for the lives of his own sons.

FACT

Money in the form of coins did not come into use until around the sixth century B.C. In Joseph's time, in the nineteenth century B.C., items such as spices, gems, or precious metals were used as money.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 42:38 Sheol. See note on 37:35.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 43:1–34 The ongoing famine eventually forces Jacob to send his sons back to Egypt with Benjamin. When the brothers return, they are unexpectedly invited to dine at Joseph’s house.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 43:1–10 Judah tries to persuade his father in a different way (see 42:37). First, he repeats what the man said, emphasizing that Joseph will not see them unless their brother is with them (43:3–5). Second, Judah offers himself as a pledge for the safety of Benjamin (v. 9).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 43:30–31 his compassion grew warm for his brother. Seeing Benjamin for the first time in 20 years, Joseph leaves the room so he can weep.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 43:32 by himself. Joseph eats apart from his brothers to keep up his disguise since it was an abomination to the Egyptians to eat with these foreigners, the Hebrews.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 44:1–34 Still disguising his true identity from his brothers, Joseph sends them away after the meal. But he gives instructions that his silver cup should be placed in the sack of Benjamin in order to accuse him of theft. Later, when the cup is found in Benjamin’s sack, the brothers are forced to return and face Joseph once more. When Joseph threatens to hold on to Benjamin, Judah pleads that he should become Joseph’s slave in place of Benjamin.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 44:3–5 my lord . . . practices divination. Since the steward’s remarks are in the context of deliberate deception, it is impossible to know whether he was saying that Joseph actually practiced divination. However, Joseph clearly intends that his brothers believe that he has supernatural powers (see v. 15).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 44:11–13 they tore their clothes. See 37:29.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 44:14–17 Do you not know that a man like me can indeed practice divination? Building on what his steward had said earlier (see v. 5), Joseph pretends he is able to discover secrets, and Judah apparently believes him: God has found out the guilt of your servants. Judah probably has in mind the brothers' treatment of Joseph, for he knows that they are innocent of taking the silver cup.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 44:18 Judah wants to speak to Joseph in private to ask him for an important favor.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 44:29 Sheol. See note on 37:35.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 44:30–34 please let your servant remain instead of the boy. Judah's selfless attitude is very different from his previous behavior (see 37:26–27). Before, Judah cared little about the impact that Joseph's absence would have on his father.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 45:1–28 Moved by Judah's speech, Joseph is unable to restrain his emotions. He reveals his true identity to his amazed brothers. In a long speech he attempts to lessen their sense of guilt by stressing God's role in sending him to Egypt in order to preserve the lives of his family. With the famine set to continue for another five years, Joseph sends his brothers back to Canaan in order to bring the rest of his family to Egypt. The narrator makes no comment on whether Joseph's deception of his brothers was right. The emphasis is on the consequences: the brothers acknowledged their guilt for what they did to Joseph, and they were concerned for their father and their youngest brother. This allowed for forgiveness between Joseph and his brothers.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 45:8 Joseph probably calls himself a father to Pharaoh to express his commitment to Pharaoh's well-being.

FACT

Joseph's words "God sent me" reveal his faith in the providence of God who used his brothers' evil act for great good—the preservation of Joseph and all his family (45:7). That same preserving providence of God is at work today all around the world to govern the lives of God's people.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 45:10 The precise location of the land of Goshen is not known. It was probably a region in the eastern delta of the Nile, in the area of the Wadi Tumilat. Joseph chooses Goshen because it was good land for herdsmen and it was close to him. It was far enough away from Egypt, though, that the family would keep their ethnic and religious distinctiveness.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 46:1–27 Jacob brings his family to Egypt. Verses 1–7 describe the journey to Egypt. Verses 8–27 list the people who made the journey.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 46:1 Jacob travels south to Beersheba, where his father Isaac (see 26:23–33) and grandfather Abraham (21:22–34) lived for a time. For more on Beersheba, see note on 21:31.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 46:2–4 Before Jacob leaves for Egypt, God speaks to him in a vision at night (v. 2). Previously, God had forbidden Isaac to go to Egypt during a famine (26:1–5). I will also bring you up again is both a promise of the exodus from Egypt (like 15:13–16) and a reassurance that Jacob himself will be buried in the Promised Land.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 46:5–7 Jacob took everything he owned and his entire family with him to Egypt.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 46:8–15 Although Reuben (v. 8) was the first son born to Jacob, his official status as firstborn was transferred to Joseph (see 1 Chron. 5:1–2). his sons and his daughters numbered thirty-three. The reference to daughters here is puzzling, since only one daughter, Dinah, is mentioned in the preceding list. These verses actually list 34 people associated with Leah (Gen. 46:15). The total of 33 probably represents some other method of counting.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 46:20 On Joseph’s wife and sons, see notes on 41:45; 41:50–52.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 46:26–27 The relationship between the numbers sixty-six and seventy presents a difficulty. The four totals linked to Jacob’s wives in vv. 8–25 add up to 70, which is the figure recorded in v. 27 (compare Deut. 10:22). Yet Gen. 46:26 mentions 66 persons as belonging to Jacob, excluding his sons’ wives. The numbers should be treated with caution. The Septuagint adjusts the number of Joseph’s sons from two to nine and totals the number of Jacob’s descendants in Egypt as 75, not 70 (see Acts 7:14 and note). Perhaps 70 is a round number, expressing the idea that all Israel went down to Egypt.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 46:31–34 Joseph prepares his brothers for a possible meeting with Pharaoh. To guarantee that they will be given the land of Goshen, he tells them to say they are keepers of livestock (which would include cattle and sheep) and that this is their traditional occupation. every shepherd is an abomination to the Egyptians (v. 34). The reason for the Egyptians' dislike of shepherds is unknown.

FACT

The Land of Goshen probably covered a small area. But it was very fertile and was a good place to raise sheep and cattle (46:28–34).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 47:1–6 Joseph introduces five of his brothers to Pharaoh, mentioning that his family is now in the land of Goshen.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 47:7–10 Joseph introduces his father Jacob to Pharaoh. Jacob blessed Pharaoh (vv. 7, 10). This could have been simply words of greeting and farewell. But it fits with the pattern of Abraham and his descendants mediating God's blessing to others (12:3). How many are the days of the years of your life? Pharaoh's question may have been motivated by the belief that a long life was a sign of divine favor. Few and evil have been . . . the years of my life. Perhaps Jacob is referring to events such as his treatment of Esau or his sons' deceiving him about Joseph. While Jacob is now 130 years old, Abraham and Isaac lived to be 175 and 180, respectively. The Hebrew term translated sojourning implies that Jacob and his fathers had no permanent home and perhaps anticipated something better to come. Compare Heb. 11:10.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 47:11–12 Joseph assigns land to his family in the land of Rameses. Previously, the name "land of Goshen" has been used for the territory where they were to live (e.g., 45:10; 46:28). The name "Rameses" is most often associated with the great thirteenth-century-B.C. Egyptian king Rameses II. While it is possible that the actual name "Rameses" goes back to the time of Joseph, this may be an example of a later term being substituted for an earlier name (see note on 14:13–16).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 47:13–14 The famine is so severe that the Egyptians eventually run out of money to buy grain.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 47:15–17 When all their money is gone, the Egyptians appeal to Joseph for help. He responds by offering to buy their livestock. This sustains the Egyptians for another year.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 47:18–25 With no money and no livestock, the Egyptians sell their land and even themselves, as debt-slaves, to Pharaoh. They also ask for seed to grow for the future. Joseph willingly grants these requests. The people's response (You have saved our lives; v. 25) shows that they have a positive opinion of Joseph. Joseph provides seed on the understanding that they may keep for themselves four fifths of the harvest (v. 24). While Pharaoh's share of one fifth may seem excessive, this must be viewed in light of the people's having no other means of sustaining themselves. A less kind ruler might have kept even more for himself.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 47:27–31 While the Egyptians struggle to survive during the famine, Jacob's family grows and prospers. The idea of being fruitful and multiplying first appears in 1:22, 28 and is repeated throughout Genesis (see 9:1, 7; 17:20; 28:3; 35:11; 48:4). Jacob asks to be buried in Canaan, for he knows that the family's future lies there.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 47:28–31 Jacob's approaching death, at age 147, dominates the final chapters of Genesis. put your hand under my thigh. See note on 24:9. bowed himself upon the head of his bed. Jacob bows—possibly in worship, or perhaps in gratitude to Joseph (which would fulfill Joseph's dream; 37:9–11), or because of his frailty. Quoting from the Septuagint, Heb. 11:21 says that Jacob bowed over "the head of his staff."

GENESIS—NOTE ON 48:1–49:28 When Jacob is very old and close to death, he pronounces a variety of blessings on his sons. He first blesses Joseph's two sons, Manasseh and Ephraim (ch. 48), and then all his own sons (49:1–28).

FACT

"Do not bury me in Egypt." Once a family burial plot had been established, it was customary for future generations to be buried there as well (47:29-30). This helped to tie the family closer together and also to secure their property rights.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 48:3–7 Jacob refers to the appearance of God at Bethel, recalling God's promises there (see 28:13–15). He elevates his grandsons Ephraim and Manasseh to the status of full sons, on par with Reuben and Simeon (48:5). Later, this will result in Joseph's descendants being viewed as two separate tribes. When the land in Canaan is assigned (Joshua 13–21), Joseph's descendants receive one-sixth of the territory. This double portion confirms that Joseph was designated "firstborn" in place of Reuben (see 1 Chron. 5:1–2; and note on Gen. 35:22–23). By naming Ephraim before Manasseh (compare 48:1), Jacob anticipates what will happen in vv. 13–19.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 48:8–10 With his eyesight failing, Jacob finds it difficult to identify Joseph's two sons.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 48:13–20 By placing his right hand on the head of Ephraim (v. 13), Jacob gives him priority over his older brother Manasseh (see 41:51–52). Joseph protests, thinking his father has mistakenly placed his right hand on the wrong head (48:17–18). Jacob insists that Ephraim should be blessed as the firstborn, meaning that the special family line traced throughout Genesis will continue through Ephraim's descendants. The Ephraimites will become one of the leading tribes, with Joshua guiding the people into the Promised Land. But God will later reject the Ephraimites in favor of Judah (see Ps. 78:67–71).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 48:21–22 Jacob anticipates that, after his death, his family will return to Canaan. He gives Joseph one mountain slope that he took from the Amorites, possibly referring to 34:25–29 (see 33:18–19; Josh. 24:32).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:1–2 After blessing Joseph and his two sons, Jacob summons all his other sons together to tell them what will happen in the days to come (or "in the latter days"; see note on Isa. 2:2).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:3–4 Reuben's special standing as the firstborn is taken away because of his shocking behavior with Jacob's concubine, Bilhah (35:22–23).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:5–7 Jacob's statement regarding Simeon and Levi centers on their violent behavior (see ch. 34). Their descendants will be scattered throughout the other tribes (49:7). This will prevent them from bringing destruction on the whole nation. Fulfilling this prophecy, the Levites, as the priestly tribe, receive 48 cities distributed throughout the other tribes (Num. 18:23–24; 35:1–8; Josh. 21:1–45) and the Simeonites are assigned land within the territory of Judah (Josh. 19:1–9).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:8–12 As with the other blessings, Jacob sees the descendants of Judah in the light of Judah's own personal qualities. The nations will bring "tribute" (money or other gifts) and pledge their obedience to one of his descendants. Jacob thus predicts the great empire of David, and the greater kingdom of Jesus Christ, the second David. Abraham's blessing will come to the Gentiles as Christ includes them in his kingdom. To emphasize Judah's future royal status, he is compared to a lion, and one of his descendants will hold a scepter and a ruler's staff. If the phrase until tribute comes to him is taken to mean "until Shiloh comes" (see ESV footnote), then it could refer to the departure of the ark of the covenant from Shiloh, when the tribe of Judah (in the person of David) replaced the tribe of Ephraim as Israel's leading tribe (see Ps. 78:59–72, which summarizes the events in 1–2 Samuel). The royal line of Judah culminates with Jesus Christ (Matt. 1:1–16).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:13 Zebulun is listed here before Issachar, although Issachar was born before Zebulun (30:17–20). at the shore of the sea. Since Zebulun's territory did not actually extend to the Mediterranean Sea (see Josh. 19:10–16), Jacob's remarks are difficult to interpret. haven for ships. Major trading routes from the coast, which lay about 10 miles (16 km) to the west, ran through the region of Zebulun, and Zebulunites were involved in the coastal commerce of exporting and importing. And, if "Sidon" refers to Phoenicia in general, then the statement that his border shall be at Sidon is appropriate.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:14–15 Although Jacob's blessing of Issachar emphasizes the strength of his descendants, it also indicates that like a donkey they will be forced to work for others.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:16–18 Jacob sees in Dan and his descendants both positive and negative qualities. Their snakelike behavior is later seen in their assault on the unsuspecting inhabitants of Laish (Judges 18). Dan shall judge. The name "Dan" is a play on the Hebrew word "judge" (see Gen. 30:6). I wait for your salvation, O LORD. Jacob's pronouncements are interrupted here by a brief prayer that shows his concern for his descendants. Without divine help they will not survive.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:19 The descendants of Gad will become skillful warriors to defend their land, in the region of Gilead east of the Jordan River.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:20 Asher's descendants will enjoy success. Their territory along the coastal plain of Acco will provide fertile land and harbors for trade.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:21 Compared to a graceful doe, the tribe of Naphtali will flourish amid the rich natural resources of upper Galilee.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:22–26 Jacob reserves his longest blessing for Joseph, confirming his special standing. The references to God (using a variety of divine titles), along with the emphasis on blessing, give this pronouncement an added dimension. Joseph has survived, sustained by the Mighty One of Jacob. Jacob prays that Joseph's descendants will experience blessings that exceed those given to Abraham and Isaac.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:27 Using the image of a wolf, Jacob reveals that the descendants of Benjamin will be aggressive warriors (e.g., 1 Chron. 8:40; 12:2).

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:29–50:14 Jacob's desire to be buried in Hebron shows his belief that, as God has promised, the future for his descendants will be in Canaan rather than in Egypt.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 49:29–33 In his final instruction to his sons, Jacob asks to be buried with his fathers in the cave Abraham purchased from Ephron the Hittite (see ch. 23). The burials of Abraham and Isaac are recounted in 25:8–10 and 35:27–29. While Jacob says that Rebekah and Leah were also buried at Machpelah (49:30), this information is not recorded elsewhere in Genesis. was gathered to his people. This phrase, commonly used in connection with dying, seems to reflect a belief in being reunited with others in the afterlife.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 50:1–3 Jacob's body was embalmed so that it could be transported to Hebron. The seventy days of mourning reflects Egyptian royal practice. Jacob is being shown great honor.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 50:7–9 Probably because Joseph was highly respected, the funeral procession includes a large number of prominent Egyptian officials and public figures.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 50:10–11 Coming to the threshing floor of Atad, the funeral procession halts to mourn for seven days. The expression beyond the Jordan could place Atad in either Canaan or Transjordan.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 50:12–14 These verses confirm that Jacob's request (49:29–32) was carried out.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 50:15–17 Afraid to address Joseph face-to-face, the brothers send a message confessing their guilt and seeking his forgiveness.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 50:18–21 Probably encouraged by news of Joseph's kind response to their message, the brothers came and fell down before him. Once again, their bowing and their words, Behold, we are your servants, fulfill Joseph's dreams (37:5–10). Echoing what he had already said (see 45:5–9), Joseph stresses that God transformed their evil into good. Many people have been kept alive as a result. The principle that God ultimately overrules human sin for his glory and the good of mankind is important in Scripture (Acts 3:13–26; Rom. 8:28). Joseph's gracious, forgiving attitude unites the family.

GENESIS—NOTE ON 50:22–23 Joseph lives long enough to see the grandchildren or great-grandchildren of Ephraim. The precise meaning of third generation is unclear.

FACT

God's providence. When Joseph's brothers sold him into slavery, the outcome could have been tragic. But God in his providence brought good out of their evil actions (50:20). This was a foreshadowing of God's bringing the ultimate good—eternal salvation for anyone who will receive it, whatever their ethnic or cultural background—out of the wicked actions of the men who crucified Jesus (Acts 2:22–24).

JOSEPH

Joseph was the son of Jacob and his favored wife Rachel. Jacob therefore showed favoritism toward Joseph, which made his brothers despise him. Out of jealousy, they sold him into slavery. Joseph was taken to Egypt, where he was purchased by a royal official. Joseph was imprisoned on false charges but was released after interpreting the dreams of Pharaoh. Because the dreams had predicted seven years of famine, Pharaoh put Joseph in charge of preparing for the famine. During the famine Joseph's family unknowingly came to him for help, and Joseph forgave his brothers and rescued his family. Through Joseph, God used evil to work out his good purposes, foreshadowing the time when he would bring the supreme good of eternal salvation out of the wicked actions of those who crucified Jesus. (Genesis 50:19–20)

GENESIS—NOTE ON 50:24–26 With death near, Joseph makes arrangements for his bones to be taken to Canaan. Later, Moses fulfills this instruction (Ex. 13:19), and Joseph's remains are eventually buried at Shechem (Josh. 24:32).

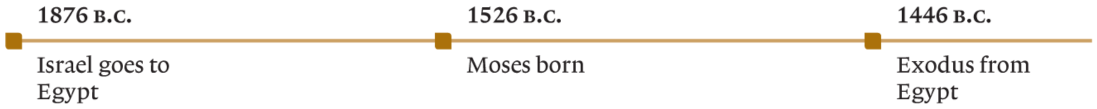
Introduction to Exodus

Introduction to Exodus

Timeline



Author and Date

Exodus (meaning exit) is best understood to have been written primarily by Moses, like the rest of the Pentateuch, though some details (such as the narrative of his death in Deuteronomy 34) were clearly added at a later time. It also appears that some language and references were updated for later readers. There is no consensus among scholars as to the date when the events of the exodus took place. A common view is that the exodus occurred in c. 1446 B.C. This is based on the calculation of 480 years from Israel's departure from Egypt to the fourth year of Solomon's reign (c. 966 B.C.; see 1 Kings 6:1). However, because Exodus 1:11 depicts Israel working on a city called Raamses, some scholars believe that this would suggest that the exodus occurred during the reign of Raamses II in Egypt (c. 1279–1213 B.C.), possibly around 1260 B.C. (see note on 1 Kings 6:1).

Theme

The overarching theme of Exodus is the fulfillment of God's promises to the patriarchs. The success of the exodus must be credited to the power and purpose of God, who remembers his promises, punishes sin, and forgives the repentant. The book highlights Moses' faithfulness and prayerfulness.

Key Themes

1. Covenant promises. The events and instructions in Exodus are described as the Lord remembering his covenant promises to Abraham (2:24; 3:6, 14–17; 6:2–8). The promises extend to both Abraham's descendants and all the nations of the world (Gen. 12:1–3). They include land (which Israel will inhabit), numerous offspring (which will secure their ongoing identity), and blessing (God cares for them and other nations). The fulfillment of these promises is rooted in Israel's covenant relationship with the Lord (Gen. 17:7–8).
2. Covenant mediator. Moses mediates between the Lord and his people. Through Moses the Lord reveals his purposes to Israel and sustains the covenant relationship.
3. Covenant presence. God's presence with his people is highlighted throughout the book of Exodus.

The Global Message of Exodus

The Continued Story of Redemptive History

The book of Exodus continues the story of the redemptive history that God began in the book of Genesis. The original purpose of Exodus was to help the people of Israel understand their identity as God's special people, and to learn about their covenant obligations to him. They were to see themselves as God's "firstborn son" (Ex. 4:22–23) and as a "kingdom of priests" (19:5–6), called to bring God's blessings to the nations. Exodus describes how the Lord delivered Israel from Egyptian oppression (chs. 1–15), brought her into covenant relationship with himself at Mount Sinai (chs. 16–24), and came to dwell in her midst in the tabernacle (chs. 25–40).

The Meaning of the Exodus

God's main purpose in delivering the people of Israel out of Egyptian oppression was so that he "might dwell among" them (Ex. 29:46). To understand why God desired to dwell in Israel's midst, we must consider the book of Exodus within the larger framework of redemptive history. The Creator-King's original intention was that he might dwell among his people, who would be a flourishing human community in a paradise-kingdom beginning in Eden and spreading throughout the whole world (see "The Global Message of Genesis"). The book of Revelation shows that these original creation intentions remain God's purpose for his people, and his purpose will be fulfilled at the end of history (Revelation 21–22). In those last two chapters of the Bible, as in the Bible's first two chapters, we see God dwelling with his people. In the book of Exodus we see this as well, as Israel learns about their covenant relationship with God, and as he dwells among them through the tabernacle.

The narrator of Exodus clearly states that the reason why God established the Mosaic covenant with Israel at Sinai was to carry forward his purpose as expressed within the earlier covenant with Abraham (Ex. 2:24; 3:6, 15, 16; 6:2–8). God's promises to Abraham in Genesis 12:1–3 function as his solution to the problem of the human sin and rebellion that we read about in Genesis 3–11. In Exodus, God advances his solution to the fall by establishing Israel as a theocracy (a nation governed directly by God). Through the Mosaic covenant, Israel becomes the initial fulfillment and next stage of the promise that in Abraham's lineage all the families of the earth would be blessed (Gen. 12:3).

God's "Firstborn Son"

In Exodus 4:22–23, God announced to Pharaoh that Israel was "my firstborn son." In the worldview of ancient Egypt, the firstborn son of a king would inherit the throne and would be under obligation to manifest the rule of the supreme deity of his father upon earth. Pharaoh thought of himself as the son and appointed representative of the supreme god of Egypt, and he believed that his own firstborn son would inherit this role.

Israel became the Lord's adopted firstborn son, and so was under obligation to manifest the Lord's rule upon earth. The original calling of humanity to be God's image-bearers, his appointed representatives, who establish and extend God's heavenly rule upon the earth, is now to be carried forward through the chosen people of Israel. Although Israel largely failed in this mission, Jesus ultimately suffers the punishment deserved by God's people and secures the success of this mission through God's new people, the church (Matt. 28:18–20).

Universal Themes in Exodus

The main theme of Exodus is the Lord's self-revelation in faithfulness, grace, and power, especially in supremacy over the false gods of the world.

The faithful God. Exodus 3:10–15 is the revelation of the personal name of God, YHWH, which is rendered in most Bibles with small capital letters, as "the LORD." The name is connected to the Hebrew verb "to be," and its meaning becomes clear throughout Exodus. First, the Lord is the God who "will be" with his chosen people to enable them to fulfill their God-given task (Ex. 3:12). Second, the Lord is the God "who will be who he is" (see 3:14). God will be what he has always been. He is the unchanging, self-consistent God. He will be faithful forever to his own character and covenant commitments. Third, the Lord is the God who "will be" sufficient in his people's moment of crisis (3:14b). God is faithful and powerful enough to carry through on his promise to deliver his people from Pharaoh and the gods of Egypt.

The gracious God. In Exodus 34:5–7, the Lord further unveils the essence of his character and the significance of his name to Moses, who had asked to see God's glory (Ex. 33:18). The context is crucial, for Exodus 32–34 concerns Israel's golden calf rebellion. It is in the midst of this crisis that God reveals that he is "a God merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast love and faithfulness, keeping steadfast love for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin" (34:6–7). Because of Israel's idolatry, the mission to rescue the world nearly collapses as God's people forsake him. Yet due to his grace and covenant love, the mission to bless the whole world (Gen. 12:1–3) continues to advance. The golden calf incident, however, has revealed that Israel, the one through whom worldwide blessing was to come, is herself part of the problem. God's own people have evil hearts (Ex. 32:9–10, 22; 33:5; 34:9).

The all-powerful God. In the exodus deliverance from Pharaoh, the Lord reveals himself as the only true God and king of the earth (Ex. 9:16; 15:11, 14–15, 18). In his victory over the world's most powerful nation, the Lord demonstrates that its most powerful "gods" were not gods at all (12:12; 15:11). The book of Exodus shows that the God of Abraham is the only true God of all the earth.

The Global Message of Exodus for Today

Nations, political power, and oppression. Israel's exodus from Egypt must be understood as the unique event that it was within the history of redemption. It would be wrong, therefore, to interpret the book of Exodus as declaring that God's primary purpose is to liberate all oppressed people from political or economic enslavement. If we read Exodus in this way, we may begin to see the church's primary mission as working to bring about political freedom and social justice. This is certainly a worthy and important goal, and Exodus does demonstrate vividly that God's ear is drawn to the groaning of the oppressed (Ex. 2:23–24). God is compassionate and cares for the widow, the fatherless, and the poor (22:21–27), and the church is called to do likewise. Yet this is not the main message of Exodus. The church's primary mission is the proclamation and living out of the gospel of Christ—for the fundamental problem plaguing humanity is not political oppression but its root cause, the evil human heart. And this fundamental problem is cured only in the work of Christ in dying and rising again. In doing all of this, Jesus accomplished a greater and final exodus deliverance for all who will put their trust in him.

The sojourner and the resident alien. In a time when economic crises, wars, and natural disasters compel individuals and whole peoples to flee their homelands and seek security in foreign countries, the issue of the resident alien has become acute throughout the entire global village. In Exodus, God commands Israel not to oppress the sojourner. He reminds his people of their own historic experience as oppressed sojourners in Egypt (Ex. 22:21; 23:9). While the book of Exodus is not a manual for dealing with the issue of illegal or unwanted immigration, the book certainly teaches that solutions must be sought with justice and compassion. And above all, global Christians must remember that they are resident aliens on earth and, most fundamentally, citizens of heaven (Phil. 3:20; 1 Pet. 1:1; 2:11).

Israel Increases Greatly in Egypt

EXODUS 1 [†] [a] These are the names of the sons of Israel who came to Egypt with Jacob, each with his household: [2][†]Reuben, Simeon, Levi, and Judah, [3]Issachar, Zebulun, and Benjamin, [4]Dan and Naphtali, Gad and Asher. [5][†]All the descendants of Jacob were [b] seventy persons; Joseph was already in Egypt. [6]Then [c] Joseph died, and all his brothers and all that generation. [7][†] [d] But the people of Israel were fruitful and increased greatly; they multiplied and grew exceedingly strong, so that the land was filled with them.

Pharaoh Oppresses Israel

[8][†]Now there arose a new king over Egypt, [e] who did not know Joseph. [9]And he said to his people, “Behold, [f] the people of Israel are too many and too mighty for us. [10] [g] Come, [h] let us deal shrewdly with them, lest they multiply, and, if war breaks out, they join our enemies and fight against us and escape from the land.” [11][†]Therefore they set taskmasters over them [i] to afflict them with heavy [j] burdens. They built for Pharaoh [k] store cities, Pithom and [l] Raamses. [12]But the more they were oppressed, the more they multiplied and the more they spread abroad. And the Egyptians were in dread of the people of Israel. [13]So they ruthlessly made the people of Israel [m] work as slaves [14]and [n] made their lives bitter with hard service, in mortar and brick, and in all kinds of work in the field. In all their work they ruthlessly made them work as slaves.

[15][†]Then the king of Egypt said to the Hebrew midwives, one of whom was named Shiphrah and the other Puah, [16]“When you serve as midwife to the Hebrew women and see them on the birthstool, if it is a son, you shall kill him, but if it is a daughter, she shall live.” [17]But the midwives [o] feared God and did not do as the king of Egypt commanded them, but let the male children live. [18]So the king of Egypt called the midwives and said to them, “Why have you done this, and let the male children live?” [19][†]The midwives said to Pharaoh, “Because the Hebrew women are not like the Egyptian women, for they are vigorous and give birth before the midwife comes to them.” 20[p] So God dealt well with the midwives. And the people multiplied and grew very strong. 21And because the midwives feared God, [q] he gave them families. 22[†]Then Pharaoh commanded all his people, [r] “Every son that is born to the Hebrews [1] you shall cast into [s] the Nile, but you shall let every daughter live.”

The Birth of Moses

EXODUS 2 [†]Now a [t] man from the house of Levi went and took as his wife a Levite woman. 2[†]The woman conceived and bore a son, and [u] when she saw that he was a fine child, she hid him three months. 3When she could hide him no longer, she took for him a basket made of bulrushes [1] and daubed it with bitumen and pitch. She put the child in it and placed it among the [v] reeds by the river bank. 4And [w] his sister stood at a distance to know what would be done to him. 5Now the daughter of Pharaoh came down to bathe at the river, while her young women walked beside the river. She saw the basket among the reeds and sent her servant woman, and she took it. 6When she opened it, she saw the child, and behold, the baby was crying. She took pity on him and said, “This is one of the Hebrews’ children.” 7[†]Then his sister said to Pharaoh’s daughter, “Shall I go and call you a nurse from the Hebrew women to nurse the child for you?” 8And Pharaoh’s daughter said to her, “Go.” So the girl went and called the child’s mother. 9And Pharaoh’s daughter said to her, “Take this child away and nurse him for me, and I will give you your wages.” So the woman took the child and nursed him. 10[†]When the child grew older, she brought him to Pharaoh’s daughter, and he became [x] her son. She named him Moses, “Because,” she said, “I [y] drew him out of the water.” [2]

Moses Flees to Midian

11[†]One day, [z] when Moses had grown up, he went out to his people and looked on their [a] burdens, and he saw an Egyptian beating a Hebrew, one of his people. [3] 12He looked this way and that, and seeing no one, he [b] struck down the Egyptian and hid him in the sand. 13When [c] he went out the next day, behold, two Hebrews were struggling together. And he said to the man in the wrong, “Why do you strike your companion?” [14][†]He answered, [d]“Who made you a prince and a judge over us? Do you mean to kill me as you killed the Egyptian?” Then Moses was afraid, and thought, “Surely the thing is known.” [15][†]When Pharaoh heard of it, he sought to kill Moses. But [e]Moses fled from Pharaoh and stayed in the land of Midian. And he sat down by [f]a well.

[16]Now the [g]priest of Midian had seven daughters, and [h]they came and drew water and filled the troughs to water their father’s flock. [17]The shepherds came and drove them away, but Moses stood up and saved them, and [i]watered their flock. [18][†]When they came home to their father [j]Reuel, he said, “How is it that you have come home so soon today?” [19][†]They said, “An Egyptian delivered us out of the hand of the shepherds and even drew water for us and [i]watered the flock.” [20]He said to his daughters, “Then where is he? Why have you left the man? Call him, that he may [k]eat bread.” [21]And Moses was content to dwell with the man, and he gave Moses his daughter [l]Zipporah. [22]She gave birth to a son, and he called his name [m]Gershom, for he said, “I have been a [n]sojourner [4] in a foreign land.”

God Hears Israel’s Groaning

[23][†] [o]During those many days the king of Egypt died, and the people of Israel [p]groaned because of their slavery and cried out for help. [q]Their cry for rescue from slavery came up to God. [24][†]And [r]God heard their groaning, and God [s]remembered his covenant with [t]Abraham, with Isaac, and with Jacob. [25]God [u]saw the people of Israel—and God [v]knew.

The Burning Bush

EXODUS 3 [†]Now Moses was keeping the flock of his father-in-law, Jethro, the priest of Midian, and he led his flock to the west side of the wilderness and came to Horeb, the [w]mountain of God. [2][†] [x]And [y]the angel of the Lord appeared to him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush. He looked, and behold, the bush was burning, yet it was not consumed. [3]And Moses said, “I will turn aside to see this great sight, why the bush is not burned.” [4]When the LORD saw that he turned aside to see, [z]God called to him [a]out of the bush, “Moses, Moses!” And he said, “Here I am.” [5][†]Then he said, “Do not come near; [b]take your sandals off your feet, for the place on which you are standing is holy ground.” [6][†]And he said, [c]“I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.” And Moses hid his face, for [d]he was afraid to look at God.

[7][†]Then the LORD said, [e]“I have surely seen the affliction of my people who are in Egypt and have heard their cry because of their [f]taskmasters. I know their sufferings, [8]and [g]I have come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians and [h]to bring them up out of that land to a [i]good and broad land, a land [j]flowing with milk and honey, to the place of [k]the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites. [9]And now, behold, [l]the cry of the people of Israel has come to me, and I have also seen the [m]oppression with which the Egyptians oppress them. [10] [n]Come, I will send you to Pharaoh that you may bring my people, the children of Israel, out of Egypt.” [11][†]But Moses said to God, [o]“Who am I that I should go to Pharaoh and bring the children of Israel out of Egypt?” [12]He said, [p]“But I will be with you, and this shall be the sign for you, that I have sent you: when you have brought the people out of Egypt, [q]you shall serve God on this mountain.”

[13][†]Then Moses said to God, “If I come to the people of Israel and say to them, ‘The God of your fathers has sent me to you,’ and they ask me, ‘What is his name?’ what shall I say to them?” [14][†]God said to Moses, “I AM WHO I AM.” [1] And he said, “Say this to the people of Israel, [r]‘I AM has sent me to you.’” [15][†]God also said to Moses, “Say this to the people of Israel, ‘The LORD, [2] the [s]God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, has sent me to you.’ This is [t]my name forever, and thus I am to be remembered throughout all generations. [16][†]Go and [u]gather the elders of Israel together and say to them, ‘The LORD, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, has appeared to me, saying, [v]“I have observed you and what has been done to you in Egypt, [17]and I promise that [w]I will bring you up out of the affliction of Egypt to the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, a land [w]flowing with milk and honey.’” [18][†]And [x] they will listen to your voice, and you and the elders of Israel [y] shall go to the king of Egypt and say to him, ‘The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, has [z] met with us; and now, please let us go a three days’ journey into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to the LORD our God.’ [19][†]But I know that the king of Egypt [a] will not let you go unless compelled [b] by a mighty hand. [3] [20]So [c] I will stretch out my hand and strike Egypt with [d] all the wonders that I will do in it; [e] after that he will let you go. [21]And [f] I will give this people favor in the sight of the Egyptians; and when you go, you shall not go empty, [22]but each woman shall ask of her neighbor, and any woman who lives in her house, for [g] silver and gold jewelry, and for clothing. You shall put them on your sons and on your daughters. So [h] you shall plunder the Egyptians.”

Moses Given Powerful Signs

EXODUS 4 Then Moses answered, “But behold, they will not believe me or listen to my voice, for they will say, ‘The LORD did not appear to you.’” [2]The LORD said to him, “What is that in your hand?” He said, [i] “A staff.” [3]And he said, “Throw it on the ground.” So he threw it on the ground, and it became a serpent, and Moses ran from it. [4]But the LORD said to Moses, “Put out your hand and catch it by the tail”—so he put out his hand and caught it, and it became a staff in his hand— [5]“that they may [j] believe that the LORD, [k] the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, has appeared to you.” [6]Again, the LORD said to him, “Put your hand inside your cloak.” [1] And he put his hand inside his cloak, and when he took it out, behold, his hand was [l] leprous [2] like snow. [7]Then God said, “Put your hand back inside your cloak.” So he put his hand back inside his cloak, and when he took it out, behold, [m] it was restored like the rest of his flesh. [8]“If they will not believe you,” God said, “or listen to the first sign, they may believe the latter sign. [9]If they will not believe even these two signs or listen to your voice, you shall take some water from the Nile and pour it on the dry ground, and the water that you shall take from the Nile [n] will become blood on the dry ground.”

[10][†]But Moses said to the LORD, “Oh, my Lord, I am not eloquent, either in the past or since you have spoken to your servant, but [o]I am slow of speech and of tongue.” [11]Then the LORD said to him, “Who has made man’s mouth? Who makes him mute, or deaf, or seeing, or blind? Is it not I, the LORD? [12]Now therefore go, and [p]I will be with your mouth and teach you what you shall speak.” [13]But he said, “Oh, my Lord, please send someone else.” [14][†]Then the anger of the LORD was kindled against Moses and he said, “Is there not Aaron, your brother, the Levite? I know that he can speak well. Behold, [q]he is coming out to meet you, and when he sees you, he will be glad in his heart. [15][r]You shall speak to him and [s]put the words in his mouth, and [p]I will be with your mouth and with his mouth and will teach you both what to do. [16][†][t]He shall speak for you to the people, and he shall be your mouth, and [u]you shall be as God to him. [17]And take in your hand [v]this staff, with which you shall do the signs.”

[18][†]Moses went back to [w]Jethro his father-in-law and said to him, “Please let me go back to my brothers in Egypt to see whether they are still alive.” And Jethro said to Moses, “Go in peace.” [19]And the LORD said to Moses in Midian, “Go back to Egypt, for [x]all the men who were seeking your life are dead.” [20]So Moses took [y]his wife and his sons and had them ride on a donkey, and went back to the land of Egypt. And Moses took [z]the staff of God in his hand.

[21][†]And the LORD said to Moses, “When you go back to Egypt, see that you do before Pharaoh all the [a]miracles that I have put in your power. But [b]I will harden his heart, so that he will not let the people go. [22][†]Then you shall say to Pharaoh, ‘Thus says the LORD, [c]Israel is my [d]firstborn son, [23]and I say to you, “Let my son go that he may serve me.” If you refuse to let him go, behold, I [e]will kill your firstborn son.’”

[24][†]At a lodging place on the way [f]the LORD met him and [g]sought to put him to death. [25]Then [h]Zipporah took a [i]flint and cut off her son’s foreskin and touched Moses’ [3] feet with it and said, “Surely you are a bridegroom of blood to me!” [26]So he let him alone. It was then that she said, “A bridegroom of blood,” because of the circumcision.

[27][†]The LORD said to Aaron, “Go into the wilderness [j]to meet Moses.” So he went and met him at the [k]mountain of God and kissed him. [28]And Moses [l]told Aaron all the words of the LORD with which he had sent him to speak, and all [m]the signs that he had commanded him to do. [29]Then Moses and Aaron [n]went and gathered together all the elders of the people of Israel. [30] [o]Aaron spoke all the words that the LORD had spoken to Moses and did the signs in the sight of the people. [31]And the people [p]believed; and when they heard that the LORD had [q]visited the people of Israel and that he had [r]seen their affliction, [s]they bowed their heads and worshiped.

Making Bricks Without Straw

EXODUS 5 [†]Afterward Moses and Aaron went and said to Pharaoh, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘Let my people go, that they may hold [t]a feast to me in the wilderness.’” [2][†]But Pharaoh said, [u]“Who is the LORD, that I should obey his voice and let Israel go? I do not know the LORD, and moreover, [v]I will not let Israel go.” [3]Then they said, “The [w]God of the Hebrews has met with us. Please let us go a three days’ journey into the wilderness that we may sacrifice to the LORD our God, lest he fall upon us with pestilence or with the sword.” [4]But the king of Egypt said to them, “Moses and Aaron, why do you take the people away from their work? Get back to your [x]burdens.” [5]And Pharaoh said, “Behold, [y]the people of the land are now many, [1] and you make them rest from their burdens!” [6]The same day Pharaoh commanded the [z]taskmasters of the people and their [a]foremen, [7]“You shall no longer give the people straw to make bricks, as in the past; let them go and gather straw for themselves. [8]But the number of bricks that they made in the past you shall impose on them, you shall by no means reduce it, for they are idle. Therefore they cry, ‘Let us go and offer sacrifice to our God.’ [9]Let heavier work be laid on the men that they may labor at it and pay no regard to lying words.”

[10][†]So the [b]taskmasters and the foremen of the people went out and said to the people, “Thus says Pharaoh, ‘I will not give you straw. [11]Go and get your straw yourselves wherever you can find it, but your work will not be reduced in the least.'" [12]So the people were scattered throughout all the land of Egypt to gather stubble for straw. [13]The [c] taskmasters were urgent, saying, "Complete your work, your daily task each day, as when there was straw." [14]And the foremen of the people of Israel, whom Pharaoh's [c] taskmasters had set over them, were beaten and were asked, "Why have you not done all your task of making bricks today and yesterday, as in the past?"

[15][†]Then the foremen of the people of Israel came and cried to Pharaoh, "Why do you treat your servants like this? [16]No straw is given to your servants, yet they say to us, 'Make bricks!' And behold, your servants are beaten; but the fault is in your own people." [17]But he said, "You are idle, you are idle; that is why you say, 'Let us go and sacrifice to the LORD.' [18]Go now and work. No straw will be given you, but you must still deliver the same number of bricks." [19]The foremen of the people of Israel saw that they were in trouble when they said, "You shall by no means reduce your number of bricks, your daily task each day." [20]They met Moses and Aaron, who were waiting for them, as they came out from Pharaoh; [21]and [d] they said to them, "The LORD look on you and judge, because you have made us stink in the sight of Pharaoh and his servants, and have put a sword in their hand to kill us."

[22][†]Then Moses turned to the LORD and said, "O Lord, why have you done evil to this people? Why did you ever send me? [23]For since I came to Pharaoh to speak in your name, he has done evil to this people, and you have not delivered your people at all."

God Promises Deliverance

EXODUS 6 [†]But the LORD said to Moses, "Now you shall see what I will do to Pharaoh; for with a strong hand he will send them out, and with [e] a strong hand he will [f] drive them out of his land."

[2]God spoke to Moses and said to him, [g] "I am the LORD. [3][†]I appeared to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, as [h] God Almighty, [1] but by my name the [i] LORD I did not make myself known to them. [4][j] I also established my covenant with them [k] to give them the land of Canaan, the land in which they lived as sojourners. [5]Moreover, [l] I have heard the groaning of the people of Israel whom the Egyptians hold as slaves, and I have remembered my covenant. [6][†]Say therefore to the people of Israel, [m] ‘I am the LORD, and [n] I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians, and I will deliver you from slavery to them, and [o] I will redeem you with an outstretched arm and with great acts of judgment. [7][†]I [p] will take you to be my people, and [q] I will be your God, and you shall know that [m] I am the LORD your God, who has brought you out [n] from under the burdens of the Egyptians. [8]I will bring you into [r] the land that I [s] swore to give to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. I will give it to you for a possession. [m] I am the LORD.’” [9]Moses spoke thus to the people of Israel, but they [t] did not listen to Moses, because of their broken spirit and harsh slavery.

[10]So the LORD said to Moses, [11]“Go in, tell Pharaoh king of Egypt to let the people of Israel go out of his land.” [12][†]But Moses said to the LORD, “Behold, the people of Israel have [t] not listened to me. How then shall Pharaoh listen to me, for [u] I am of uncircumcised lips?” [13]But the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron and gave them a charge about the people of Israel and about Pharaoh king of Egypt: to bring the people of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

The Genealogy of Moses and Aaron

[14][†]These are the heads of their fathers’ houses: the [v] sons of Reuben, the firstborn of Israel: Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi; these are the clans of Reuben. [15]The [w] sons of Simeon: Jemuel, Jamin, Ohad, Jachin, Zohar, and Shaul, the son of a Canaanite woman; these are the clans of Simeon. [16]These are the names of the [x] sons of Levi according to their generations: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari, the years of the life of Levi being 137 years. [17]The [y] sons of Gershon: Libni and Shimei, by their clans. [18]The [z] sons of Kohath: Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel, the years of the life of Kohath being 133 years. [19]The [a] sons of Merari: Mahli and Mushi. These are the clans of the Levites according to their generations. [20] [b] Amram took as his wife Jochebed his father’s sister, and she bore him Aaron and Moses, the years of the life of Amram being 137 years. [21] [c] The sons of Izhar: Korah, Nepheg, and Zichri. [22]The [d] sons of Uzziel: Mishael, Elzaphan, and Sithri. [23]Aaron took as his wife Elisheba, the daughter of [e] Amminadab and the sister of [f]Nahshon, and she bore him [g]Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar. [24]The [h]sons of Korah: Assir, Elkanah, and Abiasaph; these are the clans of the Korahites. [25]Eleazar, Aaron's son, took as his wife one of the daughters of Putiel, and [i]she bore him Phinehas. These are the heads of the fathers' houses of the Levites by their clans.

[26]These are the Aaron and Moses [j]to whom the LORD said: "Bring out the people of Israel from the land of Egypt [k]by their hosts." [27]It was they who spoke to Pharaoh king of Egypt about bringing out the people of Israel from Egypt, this Moses and this Aaron.

[28]On the day when the LORD spoke to Moses in the land of Egypt, [29]the LORD said to Moses, [l]"I am the LORD; [m]tell Pharaoh king of Egypt all that I say to you." [30]But Moses said to the LORD, "Behold, [n]I am of uncircumcised lips. How will Pharaoh listen to me?"

Moses and Aaron Before Pharaoh

EXODUS 7 And the LORD said to Moses, "See, I have made you like [o]God to Pharaoh, and your brother Aaron shall be your [p]prophet. [2] [q]You shall speak all that I command you, and your brother Aaron shall tell Pharaoh to let the people of Israel go out of his land. [3]But [r]I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and though I [s]multiply my signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, [4]Pharaoh will not listen to you. Then I will lay my hand on Egypt and bring my hosts, my people the children of Israel, out of the land of Egypt by great acts of judgment. [5][†]The Egyptians [t]shall know that I am the LORD, when I stretch out my hand against Egypt and bring out the people of Israel from among them." [6]Moses and Aaron did so; they did just as the LORD commanded them. [7]Now Moses was [u]eighty years old, and Aaron eighty-three years old, when they spoke to Pharaoh.

[8][†]Then the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, [9][†]"When Pharaoh says to you, [v]'Prove yourselves by working a miracle,' then you shall say to Aaron, 'Take your staff and cast it down before Pharaoh, that it may become a serpent.'" [10]So Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and did just as the LORD commanded. Aaron cast down his staff before Pharaoh and his servants, and it became a serpent. [11][†]Then Pharaoh summoned the wise men and the sorcerers, and they, the [w]magicians of Egypt, also [x]did the same by their secret arts. [12]For each man cast down his staff, and they became serpents. But Aaron's staff swallowed up their staffs. [13][†]Still [r]Pharaoh's heart was hardened, and he would not listen to them, [r]as the LORD had said.

The First Plague: Water Turned to Blood

[14][†]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Pharaoh's heart is hardened; he refuses to let the people go. [15][y]Go to Pharaoh in the morning, as he is going out to the water. Stand on the bank of the Nile to meet him, and take in your hand [z]the staff that turned into a [a]serpent. [16][†]And you shall say to him, 'The [b]LORD, the God of the Hebrews, sent me to you, saying, "Let my people go, [c]that they may serve me in the wilderness." But so far, you have not obeyed. [17]Thus says the LORD, "By this [d]you shall know that I am the LORD: behold, with the staff that is in my hand I will strike the water that is in the Nile, and [e]it shall turn into blood. [18]The fish in the Nile shall die, and the Nile will stink, and the Egyptians will [f]grow weary of drinking water from the Nile."'" [19][†]And the LORD said to Moses, "Say to Aaron, 'Take your staff and [g]stretch out your hand over the waters of Egypt, over their rivers, their canals, and their ponds, and all their pools of water, so that they may become blood, and there shall be blood throughout all the land of Egypt, even in vessels of wood and in vessels of stone.'"

[20]Moses and Aaron did as the LORD commanded. In the sight of Pharaoh and in the sight of his servants he [h]lifted up the staff and struck the water in the Nile, and all the [i]water in the Nile turned into blood. [21]And the fish in the Nile died, and the Nile stank, so that the Egyptians [j]could not drink water from the Nile. There was blood throughout all the land of Egypt. [22]But [k]the magicians of Egypt did the same by their secret arts. So [l]Pharaoh's heart remained hardened, and he would not listen to them, as [m]the LORD had said. [23]Pharaoh turned and went into his house, and he did not take even this to heart. [24][†]And all the Egyptians dug along the Nile for water to drink, for they could not drink the water of the Nile.

[25]Seven full days passed after the LORD had struck the Nile.

The Second Plague: Frogs

EXODUS 8 [1] Then the LORD said to Moses, “Go in to Pharaoh and say to him, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Let my people go, that [n] they may serve me.
[2]But if you [o] refuse to let them go, behold, I will plague all your country with [p] frogs. [3][†]The Nile shall swarm with frogs that shall come up into your house and into [q] your bedroom and on your bed and into the houses of your servants and your people, [2] and into your ovens and your kneading bowls. [4]The frogs shall come up on you and on your people and on all your servants.”’” [5] [3] And the LORD said to Moses, “Say to Aaron, [r] ‘Stretch out your hand with your staff over the rivers, over the canals and over the pools, and make frogs come up on the land of Egypt!’” [6]So Aaron stretched out his hand over the waters of Egypt, and [s] the frogs came up and covered the land of Egypt. [7][†]But [t] the magicians did the same by their secret arts and made frogs come up on the land of Egypt.

[8][†]Then Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron and said, [u] “Plead with the LORD to take away the frogs from me and from my people, and [v] I will let the people go to sacrifice to the LORD.” [9]Moses said to Pharaoh, “Be pleased to command me when [u] I am to plead for you and for your servants and for your people, that the frogs be cut off from you and your houses and be left only in the Nile.” [10]And he said, “Tomorrow.” Moses said, “Be it as you say, so [w] that you may know that [x] there is no one like the LORD our God. [11]The frogs shall go away from you and your houses and your servants and your people. They shall be left only in the Nile.” [12]So Moses and Aaron went out from Pharaoh, and Moses cried to the LORD about the frogs, as he had agreed with Pharaoh. [4] [13]And the LORD did according to the word of Moses. The frogs died out in the houses, the courtyards, and the fields. [14][†]And they gathered them together in heaps, and the land stank.
[15][†]But when Pharaoh saw that there was a [y] respite, he [z] hardened his heart and would not listen to them, as the LORD had said.

The Third Plague: Gnats

[16]Then the LORD said to Moses, “Say to Aaron, [a] ‘Stretch out your staff and strike the dust of the earth, so that it may become gnats in all the land of Egypt.’” [17]And they did so. Aaron stretched out his hand with his staff and struck the dust of the earth, and [b]there were gnats on man and beast. All the dust of the earth became gnats in all the land of Egypt. [18][†]The [c]magicians tried by their secret arts to produce gnats, but they could not. So there were gnats on man and beast. [19]Then the magicians said to Pharaoh, “This is [d]the finger of God.” But Pharaoh’s heart was hardened, and he would not listen to them, as the LORD had said.

The Fourth Plague: Flies

[20][†]Then the LORD said to Moses, [e]“Rise up early in the morning and present yourself to Pharaoh, as he goes out to the water, and say to him, ‘Thus says the LORD, [f]“Let my people go, that they may serve me. [21]Or else, if you will not let my people go, behold, I will send swarms of flies on you and your servants and your people, and into your houses. And the houses of the Egyptians shall be filled with swarms of flies, and also the ground on which they stand. [22][†]But on that day [g]I will set apart the land of Goshen, where my people dwell, so that no swarms of flies shall be there, [h]that you may know that I am the LORD in the midst of the earth.[5] [23]Thus I will put a division[6] between my people and your people. Tomorrow this sign shall happen.”’” [24]And the LORD did so. [i]There came great swarms of flies into the house of Pharaoh and into his servants’ houses. Throughout all the land of Egypt the land was ruined by the swarms of flies.

[25]Then Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron and said, “Go, sacrifice to your God within the land.” [26]But Moses said, “It would not be right to do so, for the offerings we shall sacrifice to the LORD our God are an [j]abomination to the Egyptians. If we sacrifice offerings [j]abominable to the Egyptians before their eyes, will they not stone us? [27]We must go [k]three days’ journey into the wilderness and sacrifice to the LORD our God [l]as he tells us.” [28][†]So Pharaoh said, “I will let you go to sacrifice to the LORD your God in the wilderness; only you must not go very far away. [m]Plead for me.” [29]Then Moses said, “Behold, I am going out from you and I will plead with the LORD that the swarms of flies may depart from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people, tomorrow. Only let not Pharaoh [n]cheat again by not letting the people go to sacrifice to the LORD.” 30So Moses went out from Pharaoh and prayed to the LORD. 31And the LORD did as Moses asked, and removed the swarms of flies from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people; not one remained. 32But Pharaoh [o] hardened his heart this time also, and did not let the people go.

The Fifth Plague: Egyptian Livestock Die

EXODUS 9 [†]Then the LORD said to Moses, [p]“Go in to Pharaoh and say to him, ‘Thus says [q]the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, “Let my people go, that they may serve me. [2]For if you refuse to let them go and still hold them, [3]behold, [r]the hand of the LORD will fall with a very severe plague upon your livestock that are in the field, the horses, the donkeys, the camels, the herds, and the flocks. [4][s]But the LORD will make a distinction between the livestock of Israel and the livestock of Egypt, so that nothing of all that belongs to the people of Israel shall die.”’” [5]And the LORD set a time, saying, “Tomorrow the LORD will do this thing in the land.” [6]And the next day the LORD did this thing. [t]All the livestock of the Egyptians died, but not one of the livestock of the people of Israel died. [7]And Pharaoh sent, and behold, not one of the livestock of Israel was dead. But [u]the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not let the people go.

The Sixth Plague: Boils

[8][†]And the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, “Take handfuls of soot from the kiln, and let Moses throw them in the air in the sight of Pharaoh. [9][†]It shall become fine dust over all the land of Egypt, and become [v]boils breaking out in sores on man and beast throughout all the land of Egypt.” [10]So they took soot from the kiln and stood before Pharaoh. And Moses threw it in the air, and it became boils breaking out in sores on man and beast. [11]And [w]the magicians could not stand before Moses because of the boils, for the boils came upon the magicians and upon all the Egyptians. [12][x]But the LORD hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he did not listen to them, as [y]the LORD had spoken to Moses.

The Seventh Plague: Hail

[13][†]Then the LORD said to Moses, [z]“Rise up early in the morning and present yourself before Pharaoh and say to him, ‘Thus says the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, “Let my people go, that they may serve me. [14][†]For this time I will send all my plagues on you yourself, [1] and on your servants and your people, so [a]that you may know that there is none like me in all the earth. [15]For by now I could have put out my hand and struck you and your people with pestilence, and you would have been cut off from the earth. [16] [b]But for this purpose I have raised you up, to show you my power, so [c]that my name may be proclaimed in all the earth. [17] [d]You are still exalting yourself against my people and will not let them go. [18][†]Behold, about this time tomorrow I will cause very heavy hail to fall, such as never has been in Egypt from the day it was founded until now. [19]Now therefore send, [e]get your livestock and all that you have in the field into safe shelter, for every man and beast that is in the field and is not brought home will die when the hail falls on them.”’” [20]Then whoever feared the word of the LORD among the servants of Pharaoh hurried his slaves and his livestock into the houses, [21]but whoever did not pay attention to the word of the LORD left his slaves and his livestock in the field.

[22]Then the LORD said to Moses, “Stretch out your hand toward heaven, so that there may be [f]hail in all the land of Egypt, on man and beast and every plant of the field, in the land of Egypt.” [23]Then Moses stretched out his staff toward heaven, and the [g]LORD sent thunder and hail, and fire ran down to the earth. And the LORD rained hail upon the land of Egypt. [24]There was hail and fire flashing continually in the midst of the hail, very heavy hail, such as had never been in all the land of Egypt since it became a nation. [25]The hail struck down everything that was in the field in all the land of Egypt, both man and beast. And the hail [h]struck down every plant of the field and broke every tree of the field. [26] [i]Only in the land of Goshen, where the people of Israel were, was there no hail.

[27][†]Then Pharaoh sent and called Moses and Aaron and said to them, “This time [j]I have sinned; the [k]LORD is in the right, and I and my people are in the wrong. [28] [l]Plead with the LORD, for there has been enough of God’s thunder and hail. I will let you go, and you shall stay no longer.” [29]Moses said to him, “As soon as I have gone out of the city, [m]I will stretch out my hands to the LORD. The thunder will cease, and there will be no more hail, so that you may know that [n]the earth is the LORD’s. [30]But as for you and your servants, [o]I know that you do not yet fear the LORD God.” [31][†](The flax and the barley were struck down, for the barley was in the ear and the flax was in bud. [32]But the wheat and the emmer [2] were not struck down, for they are late in coming up.) [33]So Moses went out of the city from Pharaoh and [m]stretched out his hands to the LORD, and the thunder and the hail ceased, and the rain no longer poured upon the earth. [34][†]But when Pharaoh saw that the rain and the hail and the thunder had ceased, he sinned yet again and [p]hardened his heart, [q]he and his servants. [35][†]So [r]the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not let the people of Israel go, just as the LORD had spoken through Moses.

The Eighth Plague: Locusts

EXODUS 10 [†]Then the LORD said to Moses, “Go in to Pharaoh, for I have hardened his heart and the heart of his servants, that I may show these signs of mine among them, [2][†]and [s]that you may tell in the hearing of your son and of your grandson how I have dealt harshly with the Egyptians and what signs I have done among them, [t]that you may know that I am the LORD.”

[3]So Moses and Aaron went in to Pharaoh and said to him, “Thus says the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, ‘How long will you refuse to [u]humble yourself before me? Let my people go, that they may serve me. [4]For if you refuse to let my people go, behold, tomorrow I will bring [v]locusts into your country, [5]and they shall cover the face of the land, so that no one can see the land. And they shall [w]eat what is left to you after the hail, and they shall eat every tree of yours that grows in the field, [6][†]and they shall fill [x]your houses and the houses of all your servants and of all the Egyptians, as neither your fathers nor your grandfathers have seen, from the day they came on earth to this day.’” Then he turned and went out from Pharaoh.

[7][†]Then Pharaoh’s servants said to him, “How long shall this man be a snare to us? Let the men go, that they may serve the LORD their God. Do you not yet understand that Egypt is ruined?” [8][†]So Moses and Aaron were brought back to Pharaoh. And he said to them, [y]“Go, serve the LORD your God. But which ones are to go?” [9]Moses said, “We will go with our young and our old. We will go with our sons and daughters and with our flocks and herds, for [z]we must hold a feast to the LORD.” [10]But he said to them, “The LORD be with you, if ever I let you and your [a]little ones go! Look, you have some evil purpose in mind. [1] [11]No! Go, the men among you, and serve the LORD, for that is what you are asking." And they were driven out from Pharaoh's presence.

[12]Then the LORD said to Moses, [b]"Stretch out your hand over the land of Egypt for the locusts, so that they may come upon the land of Egypt and [c]eat every plant in the land, all that the hail has left." [13]So Moses stretched out his staff over the land of Egypt, and the LORD brought an east wind upon the land all that day and all that night. When it was morning, the east wind had brought the locusts. [14] [d]The locusts came up over all the land of Egypt and settled on the whole country of Egypt, [e]such a dense swarm of locusts as had never been before, nor ever will be again. [15]They covered the face of the whole land, so that the land was darkened, and [f]they ate all the plants in the land and all the fruit of the trees that the hail had left. Not a green thing remained, neither tree nor plant of the field, through all the land of Egypt. [16]Then Pharaoh hastily called Moses and Aaron and said, [g]"I have sinned against the LORD your God, and against you. [17][†]Now therefore, forgive my sin, please, only this once, and [h]plead with the LORD your God only to remove this death from me." [18]So [i]he went out from Pharaoh and pleaded with the LORD. [19][†]And the LORD turned the wind into a very strong west wind, which lifted the locusts and drove them [j]into the Red Sea. Not a single locust was left in all the country of Egypt. [20]But the LORD [k]hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he did not let the people of Israel go.

The Ninth Plague: Darkness

[21]Then the LORD said to Moses, [l]"Stretch out your hand toward heaven, that there may be [m]darkness over the land of Egypt, a darkness to be felt."
[22]So Moses stretched out his hand toward heaven, and there was pitch darkness in all the land of Egypt three days. [23]They did not see one another, nor did anyone rise from his place for three days, but [n]all the people of Israel had light where they lived. [24][†]Then Pharaoh called Moses and said, [o]"Go, serve the LORD; [p]your little ones also may go with you; only let your flocks and your herds remain behind." [25]But Moses said, "You must also let us have sacrifices and burnt offerings, that we may sacrifice to the LORD our God. [26]Our livestock also must go with us; not a hoof shall be left behind, for we must take of them to serve the LORD our God, and we do not know with what we must serve the LORD until we arrive there.” [27][†]But the LORD [q]hardened Pharaoh’s heart, and he would not let them go. [28]Then Pharaoh said to him, “Get away from me; take care never to see my face again, for on the day you see my face you shall die.” [29]Moses said, “As you say! [r]I will not see your face again.”

A Final Plague Threatened

EXODUS 11 [†]The LORD said to Moses, “Yet [s]one plague more I will bring upon Pharaoh and upon Egypt. Afterward he will let you go from here. [t]When he lets you go, he will drive you away completely. [2][†]Speak now in the hearing of the people, that [u]they ask, every man of his neighbor and every woman of her neighbor, for silver and gold jewelry.” [3][v]And the LORD gave the people favor in the sight of the Egyptians. Moreover, the man Moses was very great in the land of Egypt, in the sight of Pharaoh’s servants and in the sight of the people.

[4][†]So Moses said, “Thus says the LORD: [w]‘About midnight I will go out in the midst of Egypt, [5][†]and every firstborn in the land of Egypt shall die, from the firstborn of Pharaoh who sits on his throne, even to the firstborn of the slave girl who is [x]behind the handmill, and all the firstborn of the cattle. [6][y]There shall be a great cry throughout all the land of Egypt, such as there has never been, nor ever will be again. [7][†]But not a dog shall growl [z]against any of the people of Israel, either man or beast, that you may know that the LORD [a]makes a distinction between Egypt and Israel.’ [8]And [b]all these your servants shall come down to me and bow down to me, saying, ‘Get out, you and all the people who follow you.’ And after that I will go out.” And he went out from Pharaoh in hot anger. [9]Then the LORD said to Moses, [c]“Pharaoh will not listen to you, that [d]my wonders may be multiplied in the land of Egypt.”

[10]Moses and Aaron did all these wonders before Pharaoh, and the LORD [e]hardened Pharaoh’s heart, and he did not let the people of Israel go out of his land.

The Passover

EXODUS 12 [†]The LORD said to Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt, [2][†][f]“This month shall be for you the beginning of months. It shall be the first month of the year for you. [3]Tell all the congregation of Israel that on the tenth day of this month every man shall take a lamb [g]according to their fathers’ houses, a lamb for a household. [4]And if the household is too small for a lamb, then he and his nearest neighbor shall take according to the number of persons; according to what each can eat you shall make your count for the lamb. [5]Your lamb shall be [h]without blemish, a male a year old. You may take it from the sheep or from the goats, [6]and you shall keep it until the [i]fourteenth day of this month, when the whole assembly of the congregation of Israel shall kill their lambs at twilight. [1]

[7]“Then they shall take some of the blood and put it on the [j]two doorposts and the lintel of the houses in which they eat it. [8][†]They shall eat the flesh that night, roasted on the fire; with [k]unleavened bread and bitter herbs they shall eat it. [9]Do not eat any of it raw or boiled in water, but [l]roasted, its head with its legs and its inner parts. [10]And [m]you shall let none of it remain until the morning; anything that remains until the morning you shall burn. [11][†]In this manner you shall eat it: with [n]your belt fastened, your sandals on your feet, and your staff in your hand. And you shall eat it in haste. [o]It is the LORD’s Passover. [12][†]For [p]I will pass through the land of Egypt that night, and I will strike all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, both man and beast; and on [q]all the gods of Egypt I will execute judgments: [r]I am the LORD. [13][†] [s]The blood shall be a sign for you, on the houses where you are. And when I see the blood, I will pass over you, and no plague will befall you to destroy you, when I strike the land of Egypt.

[14][†]“This day shall be [t]for you a memorial day, and you shall keep it as a feast to the LORD; throughout your generations, as a [u]statute forever, you shall keep it as a feast. [15][†] [v]Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread. On the first day you shall remove leaven out of your houses, for if anyone eats what is leavened, from the first day until the seventh day, [w]that person shall be cut off from Israel. [16]On the first day you shall hold a [x]holy assembly, and on the seventh day a holy assembly. No work shall be done on those days. But what everyone needs to eat, that alone may be prepared by you. [17]And you shall observe the Feast of Unleavened Bread, for [y]on this very day I brought your [z]hosts out of the land of Egypt. Therefore you shall observe this day, throughout your generations, as a statute forever. [18][a]In the first month, from the fourteenth day of the month at evening, you shall eat unleavened bread until the twenty-first day of the month at evening. [19][†][b]For seven days no leaven is to be found in your houses. If anyone eats what is leavened, [b]that person will be cut off from the congregation of Israel, [c]whether he is a sojourner or a native of the land. [20]You shall eat nothing leavened; in all your dwelling places you shall eat unleavened bread."

[21]Then Moses called all the elders of Israel and said to them, "Go and select lambs for yourselves [d]according to your clans, and kill the Passover lamb. [22][†]Take a bunch of [e]hyssop and [f]dip it in the blood that is in the basin, and touch [g]the lintel and the two doorposts with the blood that is in the basin. [h]None of you shall go out of the door of his house until the morning. [23][†][i]For the LORD will pass through to strike the Egyptians, and when he sees the blood on [g]the lintel and on the two doorposts, the LORD will pass over the door and [j]will not allow the destroyer to enter your houses to strike you. [24]You shall observe this rite as a statute for you and for your sons forever. [25]And when you come to the land that the LORD will give you, [k]as he has promised, you shall keep this service. [26]And [l]when your children say to you, 'What do you mean by this service?' [27]you shall say, [m]'It is the sacrifice of the LORD's Passover, for he passed over the houses of the people of Israel in Egypt, when he struck the Egyptians but spared our houses.'" And the people [n]bowed their heads and worshiped.

[28]Then the people of Israel went and did so; as the LORD had commanded Moses and Aaron, so they did.

The Tenth Plague: Death of the Firstborn

[29][o]At midnight the [p]LORD struck down all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, [q]from the firstborn of Pharaoh who sat on his throne to the firstborn of the captive who was in the dungeon, and all the firstborn of the livestock. [30]And Pharaoh rose up in the night, he and all his servants and all the Egyptians. And there was [r]a great cry in Egypt, for there was not a house where someone was not dead. [31]Then he summoned Moses and Aaron by night and said, “Up, go out from among my people, [s]both you and the people of Israel; and go, serve the LORD, as you have said. [32] [t]Take your flocks and your herds, as you have said, and be gone, and bless me also!”

The Exodus

[33] [u]The Egyptians were urgent with the people to send them out of the land in haste. For they said, “We shall all be dead.” [34]So the people took their dough before it was leavened, their kneading bowls being bound up in their cloaks on their shoulders. [35][†]The people of Israel had also done as Moses told them, for they had [v]asked the Egyptians for silver and gold jewelry and for clothing. [36] [w]And the LORD had given the people favor in the sight of the Egyptians, so that [x]they let them have what they asked. Thus they plundered the Egyptians.

[37][†]And the [y]people of Israel journeyed from [z]Rameses to Succoth, [a]about six hundred thousand men on foot, besides women and children. [38]A [b]mixed multitude also went up with them, and very much livestock, both flocks and herds. [39][†]And they baked unleavened cakes of the dough that they had brought out of Egypt, for it was not leavened, because [u]they were thrust out of Egypt and [c]could not wait, nor had they prepared any provisions for themselves.

[40]The time that the people of Israel lived in Egypt was 430 years. [41][†]At the end of [d]430 years, on that very day, all the hosts of the LORD went out from the land of Egypt. [42]It was a night of watching by the LORD, to bring them out of the land of Egypt; so this same night is a [e]night of watching kept to the LORD by all the people of Israel throughout their generations.

Institution of the Passover

[43][†]And the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, “This is the statute of the Passover: no foreigner shall eat of it, [44]but every slave [2] that is [f]bought for money may eat of it after you have circumcised him. [45] [g]No foreigner or hired worker may eat of it. [46]It shall be eaten in one house; you shall not take any of the flesh outside the house, and [h] you shall not break any of its bones. [47] [i] All the congregation of Israel shall keep it. [48] [j] If a stranger shall sojourn with you and would keep the Passover to the LORD, let all his males be circumcised. Then he may come near and keep it; he [k] shall be as a native of the land. But no uncircumcised person shall eat of it. [49] There shall be [l] one law for the native and for the [j] stranger who sojourns among you.”

[50] All the people of Israel did just as the LORD commanded Moses and Aaron. [51] And on that very day the [m] LORD brought the people of Israel out of the land of Egypt by their [n] hosts.

Consecration of the Firstborn

EXODUS 13 The LORD said to Moses, [2] [†] [o] “Consecrate to me all the firstborn. Whatever is the first to open the womb among the people of Israel, both of man and of beast, is mine.”

The Feast of Unleavened Bread

[3] [†] Then Moses said to the people, [p] “Remember this day in which you came out from Egypt, out of the house of slavery, [q] for by a strong hand the LORD brought you out from this place. [r] No leavened bread shall be eaten. [4] Today, in the month of [s] Abib, you are going out. [5] And when the LORD brings you into [t] the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, which [u] he swore to your fathers to give you, a land [v] flowing with milk and honey, [w] you shall keep this service in this month. [6] [†] [x] Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day there shall be a feast to the LORD. [7] Unleavened bread shall be eaten for seven days; no leavened bread shall be seen with you, and no leaven shall be seen with you in all your territory. [8] [y] You shall tell your son on that day, ‘It is because of what the LORD did for me when I came out of Egypt.’ [9] [†] And it shall [z] be to you as a sign on your hand and as [a] a memorial [z] between your eyes, that the law of the LORD may be in your mouth. For with a strong hand the LORD has brought you out of Egypt. [10] [b] You shall therefore keep this statute at its appointed time from year to year.

11[†]“When the LORD brings you into the land of the Canaanites, [c]as he swore to you and your fathers, and shall give it to you, 12 [d]you shall set apart to the LORD all that first opens the womb. All the firstborn of your animals that are males shall be the LORD’s. 13 [e]Every firstborn of a donkey you shall redeem with a lamb, or if you will not redeem it you shall break its neck. Every [f]firstborn of man among your sons you shall redeem. 14 [g]And when in time to come your son asks you, ‘What does this mean?’ you shall say to him, [h]‘By a strong hand the LORD brought us out of Egypt, from the house of [i]slavery. 15For when Pharaoh stubbornly refused to let us go, the [j]LORD killed all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, both the firstborn of man and the firstborn of animals. Therefore I sacrifice to the LORD all the males that first open the womb, but [k]all the firstborn of my sons I redeem.’ 16 [l]It shall be as a mark on your hand or frontlets between your eyes, for [m]by a strong hand the LORD brought us out of Egypt.”

Pillars of Cloud and Fire

17[†]When Pharaoh let the people go, God did [n]not lead them by way of the land of the Philistines, although that was near. For God said, “Lest the people [o]change their minds when they see war and return to Egypt.” 18[†]But God [p]led the people around by the way of the wilderness toward the Red Sea. And the people of Israel went up out of the land of Egypt equipped for battle. 19[†]Moses took the bones of Joseph with him, for Joseph [1] had made the sons of Israel solemnly swear, saying, [q]“God will surely visit you, and you shall carry up my bones with you from here.” 20And [r]they moved on from Succoth and encamped at Etham, on the edge of the wilderness. 21[†]And [s]the LORD went before them by day in a pillar of cloud to lead them along the way, and by night in a pillar of fire to give them light, that they might travel by day and by night. 22The pillar of cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night did not depart from before the people.

Crossing the Red Sea

EXODUS 14 Then the LORD said to Moses, 2[†]“Tell the people of Israel to [t]turn back and encamp in front of Pi-hahiroth, between [u]Migdol and the sea, in front of Baal-zephon; you shall encamp facing it, by the sea. [3]For Pharaoh will say of the people of Israel, ‘They are wandering in the land; the wilderness has shut them in.’ [4][†]And [v]I will harden Pharaoh’s heart, and he will pursue them, and I will [w]get glory over Pharaoh and all his host, [x]and the Egyptians shall know that I am the LORD.” And they did so.

[5][†]When the king of Egypt was told that the people had fled, the [y]mind of Pharaoh and his servants was changed toward the people, and they said, “What is this we have done, that we have let Israel go from serving us?” [6]So he made ready his chariot and took his army with him, [7][†]and took [z]six hundred chosen chariots and all the other chariots of Egypt with officers over all of them. [8]And [v]the LORD hardened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and he pursued the people of Israel while [a]the people of Israel were going out defiantly. [9]The [b]Egyptians pursued them, all Pharaoh’s horses and chariots and his horsemen and his army, and overtook them [c]encamped at the sea, by Pi-hahiroth, in front of Baal-zephon.

[10][†]When Pharaoh drew near, the people of Israel lifted up their eyes, and behold, the Egyptians were marching after them, and they feared greatly. And the people of Israel [d]cried out to the LORD. [11]They [e]said to Moses, “Is it because there are no graves in Egypt that you have taken us away to die in the wilderness? What have you done to us in bringing us out of Egypt? [12][†]Is not this what [f]we said to you in Egypt: ‘Leave us alone that we may serve the Egyptians’? For it would have been better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in the wilderness.” [13][†]And Moses said to the people, [g]“Fear not, stand firm, and see the salvation of the LORD, which he will work for you today. For [h]the Egyptians whom you see today, you shall never see again. [14][i]The LORD will fight for you, and you have only [j]to be silent.”

[15]The LORD said to Moses, “Why do you cry to me? Tell the people of Israel to go forward. [16][k]Lift up your staff, and [k]stretch out your hand over the sea and divide it, that the people of Israel may go through the sea on dry ground. [17][†]And [l]I will harden the hearts of the Egyptians so that they shall go in after them, and [m]I will get glory over Pharaoh and all his host, his chariots, and his horsemen. [18]And the Egyptians [n]shall know that I am the LORD, [m] when I have gotten glory over Pharaoh, his chariots, and his horsemen."

[19][†] [o] Then the angel of God who was going before the host of Israel moved and went behind them, and the pillar of cloud moved from before them and stood behind them, [20]coming between the host of Egypt and the host of Israel. And there was the cloud and the darkness. And it lit up the night [1] without one coming near the other all night.

[21]Then Moses [k] stretched out his hand over the sea, and the LORD drove the sea back by [p] a strong east wind all night and [q] made the sea dry land, and the waters were [r] divided. [22][†]And [s] the people of Israel went into the midst of the sea on dry ground, the waters being [t] a wall to them on their right hand and on their left. [23]The Egyptians pursued and went in after them into the midst of the sea, all Pharaoh's horses, his chariots, and his horsemen. [24]And in the morning watch the LORD in the pillar of fire and of cloud looked down on the Egyptian forces and threw the Egyptian forces into a panic, [25]clogging [2] their chariot wheels so that they drove heavily. And the Egyptians said, "Let us flee from before Israel, for the [u] LORD fights for them against the Egyptians."

[26]Then the LORD said to Moses, [v] "Stretch out your hand over the sea, that the water may come back upon the Egyptians, upon their chariots, and upon their horsemen." [27] [w] So Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and the sea [x] returned to its normal course when the morning appeared. And as the Egyptians fled into it, the LORD [y] threw [3] the Egyptians into the midst of the sea. [28]The [z] waters returned and covered the chariots and the horsemen; of all the host of Pharaoh that had followed them into the sea, [a] not one of them remained. [29]But the [b] people of Israel walked on dry ground through the sea, the waters being a wall to them on their right hand and on their left.

[30]Thus the LORD [c] saved Israel that day from the hand of the Egyptians, and Israel saw the Egyptians dead on the seashore. [31][†] [d] Israel saw the great power that the LORD used against the Egyptians, so the people feared the LORD, and they [e] believed in the LORD and in his servant Moses.

The Song of Moses

EXODUS 15 [†]Then Moses and the people of Israel [f]sang this song to the LORD, saying, [g]“I will sing to the LORD, for he has triumphed gloriously;

the horse and his rider [1] he has thrown into the sea.
2[†] [h]The LORD is my strength and my [i]song, and he has become [j]my salvation;
this is my God, and I will praise him, [k]my father’s God, and [l]I will exalt him.
3 The LORD is [m]a man of war;
[n]the LORD is his name.

4[†] [o]“Pharaoh’s chariots and his host he cast into the sea, and his chosen [p]officers were sunk in the Red Sea.
5 The [q]floods covered them;
they [r]went down into the depths like a stone.
6[†] [s]Your right hand, O LORD, glorious in power, your right hand, O LORD, [t]shatters the enemy.
7 In the [u]greatness of your majesty you overthrow your adversaries;
you send out your fury; it [v]consumes them like stubble.
8 At the [w]blast of your nostrils the waters piled up;
the [x]floods stood up in a heap;
the deeps congealed in the heart of the sea.
9[†] The enemy said, [y]‘I will pursue, I will overtake,
I [z]will divide the spoil, my desire shall have its fill of them.
I will draw my sword; my hand shall destroy them.’
10 You [a]blew with your wind; the [b]sea covered them;
they sank like lead in the mighty waters.

11 [c]“Who is like you, O LORD, among the gods?
Who is like you, majestic in holiness, awesome in [d]glorious deeds, [e]doing wonders?
12 You stretched out [f]your right hand;

the earth swallowed them.

[13][†] “You have [g]led in your steadfast love the people whom [h]you have redeemed;
you have [i]guided them by your strength to your holy abode.
[14] [j]The peoples have heard; they tremble;
pangs have seized the inhabitants of Philistia.
[15] Now are the chiefs of Edom [k]dismayed; trembling seizes the leaders of [l]Moab;
[m]all the inhabitants of Canaan have melted away.
[16][†] Terror and [n]dread fall upon them;
because of the greatness of your arm, they are still [o]as a stone, till your people, O LORD, pass by, till the people pass by whom [p]you have purchased.
[17] You will bring them in and [q]plant them on your own mountain, the place, O LORD, which you have made for your abode, [r]the sanctuary, O Lord, which your hands have established.
[18] [s]The LORD will reign forever and ever.”

[19]For when [t]the horses of Pharaoh with his chariots and his horsemen went into the sea, [u]the LORD brought back the waters of the sea upon them, but the people of Israel walked on dry ground in the midst of the sea. [20]Then [v]Miriam [w]the prophetess, the [x]sister of Aaron, took a tambourine in her hand, and [y]all the women went out after her with tambourines and dancing. [21]And Miriam sang to them:

[z]“Sing to the LORD, for he has triumphed gloriously;
the horse and his rider he has thrown into the sea.”

Bitter Water Made Sweet

[22][†]Then Moses made Israel set out from the Red Sea, and they went into the wilderness of [a]Shur. They went three days in the wilderness and found no water. [23]When they came to [b]Marah, they could not drink the water of Marah because it was bitter; therefore it was named Marah. [2] [24][†]And the people [c] grumbled against Moses, saying, “What shall we drink?” [25][†]And he [d] cried to the LORD, and the LORD showed him a log, [3] and he [e] threw it into the water, and the water became sweet.

There the LORD [4] made for them a statute and a rule, and there he [f] tested them, [26]saying, [g] “If you will diligently listen to the voice of the LORD your God, and do that which is right in his eyes, and give ear to his commandments and keep all his statutes, I will put none of the [h] diseases on you that I put on the Egyptians, for I am the LORD, [i] your healer.”

[27][†]Then [j] they came to Elim, where there were twelve springs of water and seventy palm trees, and they encamped there by the water.

Bread from Heaven

EXODUS 16 They [k] set out from Elim, and all the congregation of the people of Israel came to the wilderness of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai, on the fifteenth day of the second month after they had departed from the land of Egypt. [2][†]And the whole congregation of the people of Israel [l] grumbled against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness, [3][†]and the people of Israel said to them, [m] “Would that we had died by the hand of the LORD in the land of Egypt, [n] when we sat by the meat pots and ate bread to the full, for you have brought us out into this wilderness to kill this whole assembly with hunger.”

[4][†]Then the LORD said to Moses, “Behold, I am about to rain [o] bread from heaven for you, and the people shall go out and gather a day’s portion every day, that I may [p] test them, whether they will walk in my law or not. [5]On the sixth day, when they prepare what they bring in, [q] it will be twice as much as they gather daily.” [6]So Moses and Aaron said to all the people of Israel, [r] “At evening [s] you shall know that it was the LORD who brought you out of the land of Egypt, [7][†]and in the morning you shall see the [t] glory of the LORD, because he has heard your grumbling against the LORD. For [u] what are we, that you grumble against us?” [8]And Moses said, “When the LORD gives you in the evening meat to eat and in the morning bread to the full, because the LORD has heard your grumbling that you grumble against him—[v] what are we? Your grumbling is not [w] against us but against the LORD.”

[9]Then Moses [x]said to Aaron, “Say to the whole congregation of the people of Israel, [y]‘Come near before the LORD, for he has heard your grumbling.’” [10]And as soon as Aaron spoke to the whole congregation of the people of Israel, they looked toward the wilderness, and behold, the [t]glory of the LORD appeared in the cloud. [11]And the LORD said to Moses, [12]“I [z]have heard the grumbling of the people of Israel. Say to them, ‘At [a]twilight you shall eat meat, and [b]in the morning you shall be filled with bread. Then you shall know that I am the LORD your God.’”

[13]In the evening [c]quail came up and covered the camp, and in the morning [d]dew lay around the camp. [14]And when the dew had gone up, there was on the face of the wilderness a fine, flake-like thing, fine as frost on the ground. [15][†]When the people of Israel saw it, they said to one another, [e]“What is it?” [1] For they [f]did not know what it was. And Moses said to them, [g]“It is the bread that the LORD has given you to eat. [16]This is what the LORD has commanded: ‘Gather of it, each one of you, as much as he can eat. You shall each take an [h]omer, [2] according to the number of the persons that each of you has in his tent.’” [17]And the people of Israel did so.
They gathered, some more, some less. [18]But when they measured it with an omer, [i]whoever gathered much had nothing left over, and whoever gathered little had no lack. Each of them gathered as much as he could eat. [19]And Moses said to them, “Let no one leave any of it over till the morning.”
[20][†]But they did not listen to Moses. Some left part of it till the morning, and [j]it bred worms and stank. And Moses was angry with them. [21]Morning by morning they gathered it, each as much as he could eat; but when the sun grew hot, it melted.

[22][†]On [k]the sixth day they gathered twice as much bread, two omers each. And when all the leaders of the congregation came and told Moses, [23]he said to them, “This is what the LORD has commanded: ‘Tomorrow is a day of [l]solemn rest, a holy Sabbath to the LORD; bake what you will bake and boil what you will boil, and all that is left over lay aside to be kept till the morning.’” [24][†]So they laid it aside till the morning, as Moses commanded them, and [m]it did not stink, and there were no worms in it.
[25]Moses said, “Eat it today, for [l]today is a Sabbath to the LORD; today you will not find it in the field. [26]Six days you shall gather it, but on the seventh day, which is a Sabbath, there will be none."

[27]On the seventh day some of the people went out to gather, but they found none. [28]And the LORD said to Moses, [n]"How long will you refuse to keep my commandments and my laws? [29]See! The LORD has given you the Sabbath; therefore on the sixth day he gives you bread for two days. Remain each of you in his place; let no one go out of his place on the seventh day." [30]So the people [o]rested on the seventh day.

[31]Now the house of Israel called its name [p]manna. It was [q]like coriander seed, white, and the taste of it was like wafers made with honey. [32][†]Moses said, "This is what the LORD has commanded: 'Let an omer of it be kept throughout your generations, so that they may see the bread with which I fed you in the wilderness, when I brought you out of the land of Egypt.'" [33]And Moses said to Aaron, "Take a [r]jar, and put an omer of manna in it, and place it before the LORD to be kept throughout your generations." [34]As the LORD commanded Moses, so Aaron placed it before [s]the testimony to be kept. [35][†]The people of Israel [t]ate the manna forty years, till they came to a habitable land. They ate the manna till [u]they came to the border of the land of Canaan. [36](An omer is [v]the tenth part of an ephah.) [3]

Water from the Rock

EXODUS 17 [w]All the congregation of the people of Israel moved on from the wilderness of Sin by stages, according to the commandment of the LORD, and camped at Rephidim, but there was no water for the people to drink. 2[†] [x]Therefore the people quarreled with Moses and said, “Give us water to drink.” And Moses said to them, “Why do you quarrel with me? Why do you [y]test the LORD?” 3But the people thirsted there for water, and [z]the people grumbled against Moses and said, “Why did you bring us up out of Egypt, to kill us and our children and our livestock with thirst?” 4So Moses cried to the LORD, “What shall I do with this people? They are almost ready [a]to stone me.” 5And the LORD said to Moses, “Pass on before the people, taking with you some of the elders of Israel, and take in your hand the staff with [b]which you struck the Nile, and go. 6[†] [c]Behold, I will stand before you there on the rock at Horeb, and you shall strike the rock, and water shall come out of it, and the people will drink.” And Moses did so, in the sight of the elders of Israel. 7[†]And he called the name of the place [d]Massah [1] and [e]Meribah, [2] because of the quarreling of the people of Israel, and because they tested the LORD by saying, “Is the LORD among us or not?”

Israel Defeats Amalek

8[†] [f]Then Amalek came and fought with Israel at Rephidim. 9[†]So Moses said to [g]Joshua, “Choose for us men, and go out and fight with Amalek. Tomorrow I will stand on the top of the hill with [h]the staff of God in my hand.” 10So [g]Joshua did as Moses told him, and fought with Amalek, while Moses, Aaron, and [i]Hur went up to the top of the hill. 11Whenever Moses [j]held up his hand, Israel prevailed, and whenever he lowered his hand, Amalek prevailed. 12But Moses’ hands grew weary, so they took a stone and put it under him, and he sat on it, while Aaron and [i]Hur held up his hands, one on one side, and the other on the other side. So his hands were steady until the going down of the sun. 13And [g]Joshua overwhelmed Amalek and his people with the sword.

[14][†]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Write this as a memorial in a book and recite it in the ears of [g] Joshua, that [k] I will utterly blot out the memory of Amalek from under heaven." [15]And Moses [l] built an altar and called the name of it, The LORD Is My Banner, [16]saying, "A hand upon the throne [3] of the LORD! [k] The LORD will have war with Amalek from generation to generation."

Jethro's Advice

EXODUS 18 [†] [m] Jethro, [n] the priest of Midian, Moses' father-in-law, heard of all that God had done for Moses and for Israel his people, how the LORD had brought Israel out of Egypt. [2][†]Now Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, had taken Zipporah, Moses' wife, after he had sent her home, [3][†]along with her [o] two sons. The name of the one was Gershom ([p] for he said, [q] "I have been a sojourner [1] in a foreign land"), [4]and the name of the other, Eliezer [2] (for he said, "The God of my father was my help, and delivered me from the sword of Pharaoh"). [5][†]Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, came with his sons and his wife to Moses in the wilderness where he was encamped at the [r] mountain of God. [6]And when he sent word to Moses, "I, [3] your father-in-law Jethro, am coming to you with your wife and her two sons with her," [7]Moses [s] went out to meet his father-in-law and bowed down and [t] kissed him. And they asked each other of their welfare and went into the tent. [8][†]Then Moses told his father-in-law [u] all that the LORD had done to Pharaoh and to the Egyptians for Israel's sake, all the hardship that had come upon them in the way, and how the LORD had delivered them. [9]And Jethro rejoiced for all the good that the LORD had done to Israel, in that he had delivered them out of the hand of the Egyptians.

[10]Jethro said, [v] "Blessed be the LORD, who has delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians and out of the hand of Pharaoh and has delivered the people from under the hand of the Egyptians. [11]Now I know that [w] the LORD is greater than all gods, because in this affair they [x] dealt arrogantly with the people." [4] [12]And Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, brought a burnt offering and sacrifices to God; and Aaron came with all the elders of Israel to eat bread with Moses' father-in-law [y] before God.

[13][†]The next day Moses sat to judge the people, and the people stood around Moses from morning till evening. [14]When Moses' father-in-law saw all that he was doing for the people, he said, "What is this that you are doing for the people? Why do you sit alone, and all the people stand around you from morning till evening?" [15]And Moses said to his father-in-law, "Because [z]the people come to me to inquire of God; [16][a]when they have a dispute, they come to me and I decide between one person and another, and I [b]make them know the statutes of God and his laws." [17]Moses' father-in-law said to him, "What you are doing is not good. [18]You and the people with you will certainly wear yourselves out, for the thing is too heavy for you. [c]You are not able to do it alone. [19]Now obey my voice; I will give you advice, and God be with you! You shall [d]represent the people before God and [e]bring their cases to God, [20]and you shall warn them about the statutes and the laws, and make them know [f]the way in which they must walk and [g]what they must do. [21]Moreover, look for [h]able men from all the people, men who fear God, who are trustworthy and hate a bribe, and place such men over the people as chiefs of thousands, of hundreds, of fifties, and of tens. [22]And [i]let them judge the people at all times. [j]Every great matter they shall bring to you, but any small matter they shall decide themselves. So it will be easier for you, and they will [k]bear the burden with you. [23]If you do this, God will direct you, you will be [l]able to endure, and all this people also will go to their place in peace."

[24]So Moses listened to the voice of his father-in-law and did all that he had said. [25][m]Moses chose able men out of all Israel and made them heads over the people, chiefs of thousands, of hundreds, of fifties, and of tens. [26]And [n]they judged the people at all times. Any hard case they brought to Moses, but any small matter they decided themselves. [27]Then Moses let his father-in-law depart, and [o]he went away to his own country.

Israel at Mount Sinai

EXODUS 19 [†]On the third new moon after the people of Israel had gone out of the land of Egypt, on that day they [p]came into the wilderness of Sinai. [2]They set out from [q]Rephidim and came into the wilderness of Sinai, and they encamped in the wilderness. There Israel encamped before [r]the mountain, [3]while [s]Moses went up to God. [t]The LORD called to him out of the mountain, saying, “Thus you shall say to the house of Jacob, and tell the people of Israel: [4][†] [u]You yourselves have seen what I did to the Egyptians, and how [v]I bore you on eagles’ wings and brought you to myself. [5]Now therefore, if you will indeed obey my voice and keep my covenant, you shall be [w]my treasured possession among all peoples, for [x]all the earth is mine; [6][†]and you shall be to me a [y]kingdom of priests and [z]a holy nation. These are the words that you shall speak to the people of Israel.”

[7]So Moses came and called the elders of the people and set before them all these words that the LORD had commanded him. [8] [a]All the people answered together and said, “All that the LORD has spoken we will do.” And Moses reported the words of the people to the LORD. [9]And the LORD said to Moses, “Behold, I am coming to you [b]in a thick cloud, that [c]the people may hear when I speak with you, and may also [d]believe you forever.”

When Moses told the words of the people to the LORD, [10][†]the LORD said to Moses, “Go to the people and [e]consecrate them today and tomorrow, and let them [f]wash their garments [11]and be ready for the third day. For on the third day [g]the LORD will come down on Mount Sinai in the sight of all the people. [12]And you shall set limits for the people all around, saying, ‘Take care not to go up into the mountain or touch the edge of it. [h]Whoever touches the mountain shall be put to death. [13]No hand shall touch him, but he shall be stoned or shot; [1] whether beast or man, he shall not live.’ When [i]the trumpet sounds a long blast, they shall come up to the mountain.” [14]So Moses [j]went down from the mountain to the people and [e]consecrated the people; [f]and they washed their garments. [15][†]And he said to the people, “Be ready for the [k]third day; [l]do not go near a woman.”

[16][†]On the morning of the [k]third day there were [m]thunders and lightnings and [n]a thick cloud on the mountain and a very loud [o]trumpet blast, so that all the people in the camp [p]trembled. [17]Then [q]Moses brought the people out of the camp to meet God, and they took their stand at the foot of the mountain. [18]Now [r]Mount Sinai was wrapped in smoke because the LORD had descended on it in fire. The smoke of it went up like the smoke of a kiln, and [s]the whole mountain trembled greatly. [19]And as the [o]sound of the trumpet grew louder and louder, Moses spoke, and [t]God answered him in thunder. [20]The LORD came down on Mount Sinai, to the top of the mountain. And the LORD called Moses to the top of the mountain, and Moses went up.

[21]And the LORD said to Moses, “Go down and warn the people, lest they break through to the LORD [u]to look and many of them perish. [22][†]Also let the priests who come near to the LORD [v]consecrate themselves, lest the LORD [w]break out against them.” [23]And Moses said to the LORD, “The people cannot come up to Mount Sinai, for you yourself warned us, saying, [x]‘Set limits around the mountain and consecrate it.’” [24]And the LORD said to him, “Go down, and come up bringing Aaron with you. But do not let the priests and the people [y]break through to come up to the LORD, lest he break out against them.” [25]So Moses went down to the people and told them.

The Ten Commandments

EXODUS 20 [†] [z]And [a]God spoke all these words, saying,

[2][†] [b]“I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery.

[3][†] [c]“You shall have no other gods before [1] me.

[4][†] [d]“You shall not make for yourself a carved image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. [5][†] [e]You shall not bow down to them or serve them, for I the LORD your God am [f]a jealous God, [g]visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children to the third and the fourth generation of those who hate me, [6]but showing steadfast love to thousands [2] of those who love me and keep my commandments.

[7][†] [h]“You shall not take the name of the LORD your God in vain, for the LORD will not hold him guiltless who takes his name in vain.

[8][†] [i]“Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy. [9][j]Six days you shall labor, and do all your work, [10]but the [k]seventh day is a Sabbath to the LORD your God. On it you shall not do any work, you, or your son, or your daughter, your male servant, or your female servant, or your livestock, or the [l]sojourner who is within your gates. [11]For [m]in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that is in them, and rested on the seventh day. Therefore the LORD blessed the Sabbath day and made it holy.

12[†] [n] "Honor your father and your mother, [o] that your days may be long in the land that the LORD your God is giving you.

13[†] [p] "You shall not murder. [3]

14 [q] "You shall not commit adultery.

15 [r] "You shall not steal.

17[†] [t] "You shall not covet [u] your neighbor's house; [v] you shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his male servant, or his female servant, or his ox, or his donkey, or anything that is your neighbor's."

18Now when all the people saw [w] the thunder and the flashes of lightning and the sound of the trumpet and the mountain smoking, the people were afraid [4] and trembled, and they stood far off 19and said to Moses, [x] "You speak to us, and we will listen; but do not let God speak to us, lest we die." 20 [y] Moses said to the people, "Do not fear, for God has come to [z] test you, that the fear of him may be before you, that you may not sin." 21The people stood far off, while Moses drew near to the [a] thick darkness where God was.

Laws About Altars

22[†]And the LORD said to Moses, "Thus you shall say to the people of Israel: 'You have seen for yourselves that I have [b] talked with you from heaven. 23 [c] You shall not make gods of silver to be with me, nor shall you make for yourselves gods of gold. 24An altar of earth you shall make for me and sacrifice on it your burnt offerings and your peace offerings, your sheep and your oxen. [d] In every place where I cause my name to be remembered I will come to you and [e] bless you. 25 [f] If you make me an altar of stone, [g] you shall not build it of hewn stones, for if you wield your tool on it you profane it. 26And you shall not go up by steps to my altar, that your nakedness be not exposed on it.'

Laws About Slaves

EXODUS 21 [†]“Now these are the [h]rules that you shall set before them. [2][†] [i]When you buy a Hebrew slave, [1] he shall serve six years, and in the seventh he shall go out free, for nothing. [3]If he comes in single, he shall go out single; if he comes in married, then his wife shall go out with him. [4]If his master gives him a wife and she bears him sons or daughters, the wife and her children shall be her master’s, and he shall go out alone. [5][†]But [j]if the slave plainly says, ‘I love my master, my wife, and my children; I will not go out free,’ [6]then his master shall bring him to [k]God, and he shall bring him to the door or the doorpost. And his master shall bore his ear through with an awl, and he shall be his slave forever.

[7][†]“When a man [l]sells his daughter as a slave, she shall not go out as the male slaves do. [8]If she does not please her master, who has designated her [2] for himself, then he shall let her be redeemed. He shall have no right to sell her to a foreign people, since he has broken faith with her. [9]If he designates her for his son, he shall deal with her as with a daughter. [10]If he takes another wife to himself, he shall not diminish her food, her clothing, or [m]her marital rights. [11]And if he does not do these three things for her, she shall go out for nothing, without payment of money.

[12] [n]“Whoever strikes a man so that he dies shall be put to death. [13][†] [o]But if he did not lie in wait for him, but God let him fall into his hand, then [p]I will appoint for you a place to which he may flee. [14]But if a man willfully attacks another to kill him by cunning, [q]you shall take him from my altar, that he may die.

[16] [r]“Whoever steals a man and sells him, and anyone found [s]in possession of him, shall be put to death.

[17][†] [t]“Whoever curses [3] his father or his mother shall be put to death.

[18]“When men quarrel and one strikes the other with a stone or with his fist and the man does not die but takes to his bed, [19]then if the man rises again and walks outdoors with his staff, he who struck him shall be clear; only he shall pay for the loss of his time, and shall have him thoroughly healed.

20[†]“When a man strikes his slave, male or female, with a rod and the slave dies under his hand, he shall be avenged. 21But if the slave survives a day or two, he is not to be avenged, for the [u] slave is his money.

22[†]“When men strive together and hit a pregnant woman, so that her children come out, but there is no harm, the one who hit her shall surely be fined, as the woman’s husband shall impose on him, and [v] he shall pay as the [w] judges determine. 23[†]But if there is harm,[4] then you shall pay [x] life for life, 24[y] eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, 25burn for burn, wound for wound, stripe for stripe.

26“When a man strikes the eye of his slave, male or female, and destroys it, he shall let the slave go free because of his eye. 27If he knocks out the tooth of his slave, male or female, he shall let the slave go free because of his tooth.

28[†]“When an ox gores a man or a woman to death, the [z] ox shall be stoned, and its flesh shall not be eaten, but the owner of the ox shall not be liable. 29But if the ox has been accustomed to gore in the past, and its owner has been warned but has not kept it in, and it kills a man or a woman, the ox shall be stoned, and its owner also shall be put to death. 30If [a] a ransom is imposed on him, then [v] he shall give for the redemption of his life whatever is imposed on him. 31If it gores a man’s son or daughter, he shall be dealt with according to this same rule. 32If the ox gores a slave, male or female, the owner shall give to their master [b] thirty shekels[5] of silver, and [z] the ox shall be stoned.

Laws About Restitution

33[†]“When a man opens a pit, or when a man digs a pit and does not cover it, and an ox or a donkey falls into it, 34the owner of the pit shall make restoration. He shall give money to its owner, and the dead beast shall be his.

35“When one man’s ox butts another’s, so that it dies, then they shall sell the live ox and share its price, and the dead beast also they shall share. 36Or if it is known that the ox has been accustomed to gore in the past, and its owner has not kept it in, he shall repay ox for ox, and the dead beast shall be his.

EXODUS 22 [1] “If a man steals an ox or a sheep, and kills it or sells it, he shall repay five oxen for an ox, and [c] four sheep for a sheep. 2[†] [2] If a thief is found [d] breaking in and is struck so that he dies, there shall be no bloodguilt for him, 3but if the sun has risen on him, there shall be bloodguilt for him. He shall surely pay. If he has nothing, then [e] he shall be sold for his theft. 4If the stolen beast [f] is found alive in his possession, whether it is an ox or a donkey or a sheep, [g] he shall pay double.

5“If a man causes a field or vineyard to be grazed over, or lets his beast loose and it feeds in another man’s field, he shall make restitution from the best in his own field and in his own vineyard.

6“If fire breaks out and catches in thorns so that the stacked grain or the standing grain or the field is consumed, he who started the fire shall make full restitution.

7“If a man gives to his neighbor money or goods to keep safe, and it is stolen from the man’s house, then, if the thief is found, [g] he shall pay double. 8If the thief is not found, the owner of the house shall come near to God to show whether or not he has put his hand to his neighbor’s property. 9[†]For every breach of trust, whether it is for an ox, for a donkey, for a sheep, for a cloak, or for any kind of lost thing, of which one says, ‘This is it,’ the case of both parties shall come before God. The one whom God condemns shall pay double to his neighbor.

10“If a man gives to his neighbor a donkey or an ox or a sheep or any beast to keep safe, and it dies or is injured or is driven away, without anyone seeing it, 11 [h] an oath by the Lord shall be between them both to see whether or not he has put his hand to his neighbor’s property. The owner shall accept the oath, and he shall not make restitution. 12But if [i] it is stolen from him, he shall make restitution to its owner. 13If it is torn by beasts, let him bring it as evidence. He shall not make restitution for what has been torn.

14“If a man borrows anything of his neighbor, and it is injured or dies, the owner not being with it, he shall make full restitution. 15If the owner was with it, he shall not make restitution; if it was hired, it came for its hiring fee. [3]

Laws About Social Justice

[16][†] [j]“If a man seduces a virgin [4] who is not betrothed and lies with her, he shall give the bride-price [5] for her and make her his wife. [17]If her father utterly refuses to give her to him, [j]he shall pay money equal to the [k]bride-price for virgins.

[18] [l]“You shall not permit a sorceress to live.

[19] [m]“Whoever lies with an animal shall be put to death.

[20] [n]“Whoever sacrifices to any god, other than the LORD alone, shall be devoted to destruction. [6]

[21] [o]“You shall not wrong a sojourner or oppress him, for you were sojourners in the land of Egypt. [22][†] [p]You shall not mistreat any widow or fatherless child. [23]If you do mistreat them, and they [q]cry out to me, I will surely [r]hear their cry, [24]and my wrath will burn, and I will kill you with the sword, and [s]your wives shall become widows and your children fatherless.

[25] [t]“If you lend money to any of my people with you who is poor, you shall not be like a moneylender to him, and you shall not exact interest from him. [26] [u]If ever you take your neighbor’s cloak in pledge, you shall return it to him before the sun goes down, [27]for that is his only covering, and it is his cloak for his body; in what else shall he sleep? And if he [q]cries to me, I will hear, for I am [v]compassionate.

[28] [w]“You shall not revile God, nor [w]curse a ruler of your people.

[29]“You shall not delay to offer from the fullness of your harvest and from the outflow of your presses. [x]The firstborn of your sons you shall give to me. [30] [y]You shall do the same with your oxen and with your sheep: [z]seven days it shall be with its mother; on the eighth day you shall give it to me.

[31] [a]“You shall be consecrated to me. Therefore [b]you shall not eat any flesh that is torn by beasts in the field; [c]you shall throw it to the dogs.

EXODUS 23 [d]“You shall not spread a false report. You shall not join hands with a wicked man to be a [e]malicious witness. [2]You shall not fall in with the many to do evil, nor shall you bear witness in a lawsuit, siding with the many, so as to pervert justice, [3] [f]nor shall you be partial to a poor man in his lawsuit.

[4][†] [g]“If you meet your enemy’s ox or his donkey going astray, you shall bring it back to him. [5]If you see the donkey of one who hates you lying down under its burden, you shall refrain from leaving him with it; you shall rescue it with him.

[6][†] [h] “You shall not pervert the justice due to your poor in his lawsuit.
[7] [d] Keep far from a false charge, and [i] do not kill the innocent and righteous, for [j] I will not acquit the wicked. [8] [k] And you shall take no bribe, for a bribe blinds the clear-sighted and subverts the cause of those who are in the right.

[9] [l] “You shall not oppress a sojourner. You know the heart of a sojourner, for you were sojourners in the land of Egypt.

Laws About the Sabbath and Festivals

[10][†] [m] “For six years you shall sow your land and gather in its yield, [11]but the seventh year you shall let it rest and lie fallow, that the poor of your people may eat; and what they leave the beasts of the field may eat. You shall do likewise with your vineyard, and with your olive orchard.

[12] [n] “Six days you shall do your work, but on the seventh day you shall rest; that your ox and your donkey may have rest, and the son of your servant woman, and the alien, may be refreshed.

[13] [o] “Pay attention to all that I have said to you, and make no mention of the names of other gods, nor let it be heard on your lips.

[14][†] [p] “Three times in the year you shall keep a feast to me. [15] [q] You shall keep the Feast of Unleavened Bread. As I commanded you, you shall eat unleavened bread for seven days at the appointed time in the month of [r] Abib, for in it you came out of Egypt. [s] None shall appear before me empty-handed. [16]You shall keep [t] the Feast of Harvest, of the firstfruits of your labor, of what you sow in the field. You shall keep the [u] Feast of Ingathering at the end of the year, when you gather in from the field the fruit of your labor. [17] [p] Three times in the year shall all your males appear before the Lord GOD.

[18] [v] “You shall not offer the blood of my sacrifice with anything leavened, or let the fat of my feast remain until the morning.

[19][†]“The best of the [w] firstfruits of your ground you shall bring into the house of the LORD your God.

[x] “You shall not boil a young goat in its mother’s milk.

Conquest of Canaan Promised

[20][†] [y]“Behold, I send an angel before you to guard you on the way and to bring you to the place that I have prepared. [21]Pay careful attention to him and obey his voice; [z]do not rebel against him, [a]for he will not pardon your transgression, for my name is in him.

[22]“But if you carefully obey his voice and do all that I say, then [b]I will be an enemy to your enemies and an adversary to your adversaries.

[23] [y]“When my angel goes before you and brings you [c]to the Amorites and the Hittites and the Perizzites and the Canaanites, the Hivites and the Jebusites, and I blot them out, [24][†]you shall [d]not bow down to their gods nor serve them, [e]nor do as they do, but [f]you shall utterly overthrow them and break their [g]pillars in pieces. [25]You [h]shall serve the LORD your God, and [i]he [1] will bless your bread and your water, and [j]I will take sickness away from among you. [26] [k]None shall miscarry or be barren in your land; I will fulfill the [l]number of your days. [27]I will send [m]my terror before you and will throw into [n]confusion all the people against whom you shall come, and I will make all your enemies turn their backs to you. [28]And [o]I will send hornets [2] before you, which shall drive out the Hivites, the Canaanites, and the Hittites from before you. [29] [p]I will not drive them out from before you in one year, lest the land become desolate and the wild beasts multiply against you. [30]Little by little I will drive them out from before you, until you have increased and possess the land. [31] [q]And I will set your border from the Red Sea to the Sea of the Philistines, and from the wilderness to the Euphrates, [3] for [r]I will give the inhabitants of the land into your hand, and you shall drive them out before you. [32] [s]You shall make no covenant with them and their gods. [33]They shall not dwell in your land, lest they make you sin against me; for if you serve their gods, [t]it will surely be a snare to you.”

The Covenant Confirmed

EXODUS 24 [†]Then he said to Moses, “Come up to the LORD, you and Aaron, [u]Nadab, and Abihu, and [v]seventy of the elders of Israel, and worship from afar. [2]Moses [w] alone shall come near to the LORD, but the others shall not come near, and the people shall not come up with him.”

[3]Moses came and told the people all the words of the LORD and [x] all the rules. [1] And all the people answered with one voice and said, [y] “All the words that the LORD has spoken we will do.” [4][†]And [z] Moses wrote down all the words of the LORD. He rose early in the morning and built an altar at the foot of the mountain, and twelve [a] pillars, according to the twelve tribes of Israel. [5][†]And he sent young men of the people of Israel, who offered burnt offerings and sacrificed peace offerings of oxen to the LORD. [6][†]And [b] Moses took half of the blood and put it in basins, and half of the blood he threw against the altar. [7][†]Then he took the Book of the Covenant and read it in the hearing of the people. And they said, [x] “All that the LORD has spoken we will do, and we will be obedient.” [8] [c] And Moses took the blood and threw it on the people and said, “Behold the blood of the covenant that the LORD has made with you in accordance with all these words.”

[9][†]Then Moses and Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, and [d] seventy of the elders of Israel [e] went up, [10]and they [f] saw the God of Israel. There was under his feet as it were a pavement of [g] sapphire stone, like the very heaven for clearness. [11]And he did not lay his hand on the chief men of the people of Israel; they beheld God, and [h] ate and drank.

[12]The LORD said to Moses, [i] “Come up to me on the mountain and wait there, that I may give you the [j] tablets of stone, with the law and the commandment, which I have written for their instruction.” [13][†]So Moses rose with his assistant [k] Joshua, and Moses went up [l] into the mountain of God. [14]And he said to the elders, “Wait here for us until we return to you.
And behold, Aaron and [m] Hur are with you. Whoever has a dispute, let him go to them.”

[15]Then Moses went up on the mountain, and [n] the cloud covered the mountain. [16] [o] The glory of the LORD dwelt on Mount Sinai, and the cloud covered it six days. And on the seventh day he called to Moses out of the midst of the cloud. [17][†]Now the appearance of the glory of the LORD was like a [p] devouring fire on the top of the mountain in the sight of the people of Israel. [18]Moses entered the cloud and went up on the mountain. And Moses [q] was on the mountain forty days and forty nights.

Contributions for the Sanctuary

EXODUS 25 [†]The LORD said to Moses, [2] [r]“Speak to the people of Israel, that they take for me a contribution. From [s]every man whose heart moves him you shall receive the contribution for me. [3]And this is the contribution that you shall receive from them: gold, silver, and bronze, [4] [t]blue and purple and scarlet yarns and fine twined linen, goats’ hair, [5]tanned [u]rams’ skins, goatskins, [1] acacia wood, [6] [v]oil for the lamps, [w]spices for the anointing oil and for the fragrant incense, [7]onyx stones, and stones for setting, for the [x]ephod and for the breastpiece. [8][†]And let them make me a [y]sanctuary, that [z]I may dwell in their midst. [9][†] [a]Exactly as I show you concerning the pattern of the [b]tabernacle, and of all its furniture, so you shall make it.

The Ark of the Covenant

[10][†] [c]“They shall make an ark of acacia wood. Two cubits [2] and a half shall be its length, a cubit and a half its breadth, and a cubit and a half its height. [11]You shall overlay it with [d]pure gold, inside and outside shall you overlay it, and you shall make on it a molding of gold around it. [12]You shall cast four rings of gold for it and put them on its [e]four feet, two rings on the one side of it, and two rings on the other side of it. [13]You shall make poles of acacia wood and overlay them with gold. [14]And you shall put the poles into the rings on the sides of the ark to carry the ark by them. [15]The [f]poles shall remain in the rings of the ark; they shall not be taken from it. [16] [g]And you shall put into the ark the [h]testimony that I shall give you.

[17][†] [i]“You shall make a mercy seat [3] of pure gold. Two cubits and a half shall be its length, and a cubit and a half its breadth. [18]And you shall make two cherubim of gold; of [j]hammered work shall you make them, on the two ends of the mercy seat. [19]Make one cherub on the one end, and one cherub on the other end. [k]Of one piece with the mercy seat shall you make the cherubim on its two ends. [20] [l]The cherubim shall spread out their wings above, overshadowing the mercy seat with their wings, their faces one to another; toward the mercy seat shall the faces of the cherubim be. [21]And you shall put the mercy seat on the top of the ark, and in the ark you shall put the testimony that I shall give you. 22 [m] There I will meet with you, and from above the mercy seat, from [n] between the two cherubim that are on the ark of the testimony, I will speak with you about all that I will give you in commandment for the people of Israel.

The Table for Bread

23 [†] [o] “You shall make a table of acacia wood. Two cubits shall be its length, a cubit its breadth, and a cubit and a half its height. 24 You shall overlay it with [p] pure gold and make a molding of gold around it. 25 And you shall make a rim around it a handbreadth [4] wide, and a molding of gold around the rim. 26 And you shall make for it four rings of gold, and fasten the rings to the four corners at its four legs. 27 Close to the frame the rings shall lie, as [q] holders for the poles to carry the table. 28 You shall make the poles of acacia wood, and overlay them with gold, and the table shall be carried with these. 29 And you shall make its plates and [r] dishes for incense, and its flagons and bowls with which to pour drink offerings; you shall make them of pure gold. 30 And you shall set the [s] bread of the Presence on the table before me regularly.

The Golden Lampstand

31 [†] [t] “You shall make a lampstand of pure gold. The lampstand shall be made of hammered work: its base, its stem, its cups, its calyxes, and its flowers shall be of one piece with it. 32 And there shall be six branches going out of its sides, three branches of the lampstand out of one side of it and three branches of the lampstand out of the other side of it; 33 three cups made like almond blossoms, each with calyx and flower, on one branch, and three cups made like almond blossoms, each with calyx and flower, on the other branch—so for the six branches going out of the lampstand. 34 And on the lampstand itself there shall be four cups made like almond blossoms, with their calyxes and flowers, 35 and a calyx of one piece with it under each pair of the six branches going out from the lampstand. 36 Their calyxes and their branches shall be of one piece with it, the whole of it a single piece of hammered work of pure gold. 37 You shall make seven lamps for it. And the lamps [u] shall be set up so as [v] to give light on the space in front of it. 38 Its tongs and their trays shall be of pure gold. 39 It shall be made, with all these utensils, out of a talent [5] of pure gold. 40 And [w] see that you make them after the pattern for them, which is being shown you on the mountain.

The Tabernacle

EXODUS 26 [†]"Moreover, [x] you shall make the [y] tabernacle with ten curtains of [z] fine twined linen and blue and purple and scarlet yarns; you shall make them with cherubim [z] skillfully worked into them. 2 The length of each curtain shall be twenty-eight cubits, [1] and the breadth of each curtain four cubits; all the curtains shall be the same size. 3 Five curtains shall be coupled to one another, and the other five curtains shall be coupled to one another. 4 And you shall make loops of blue on the edge of the outermost curtain in the first set. Likewise you shall make loops on the edge of the outermost curtain in the second set. 5 Fifty loops you shall make on the one curtain, and fifty loops you shall make on the edge of the curtain that is in the second set; the loops shall be opposite one another. 6 And you shall make fifty clasps of gold, and couple the curtains one to the other with the clasps, so that the tabernacle may be a single whole.

7 "You shall also make [a] curtains of goats' hair for a tent over the tabernacle; eleven curtains shall you make. 8 The length of each curtain shall be thirty cubits, and the breadth of each curtain four cubits. The eleven curtains shall be the same size. 9 You shall couple five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves, and the sixth curtain you shall double over at the front of the tent. 10 You shall make fifty loops on the edge of the curtain that is outermost in one set, and fifty loops on the edge of the curtain that is outermost in the second set.

11 "You shall make fifty clasps of bronze, and put the clasps into the loops, and couple the tent together that it may be a single whole. 12 And the part that remains of the curtains of the tent, the half curtain that remains, shall hang over the back of the tabernacle. 13 And the extra that remains in the length of the curtains, the cubit on the one side, and the cubit on the other side, shall hang over the sides of the tabernacle, on this side and that side, to cover it. 14 [b] And you shall make for the tent a covering of tanned [c] rams' skins and a covering of goatskins on top.

[15]“You shall make upright frames for the tabernacle of acacia wood. [16]Ten cubits shall be the length of a frame, and a cubit and a half the breadth of each frame. [17]There shall be two tenons in each frame, for fitting together. So shall you do for all the frames of the tabernacle. [18]You shall make the frames for the tabernacle: twenty frames for the south side; [19]and forty bases of silver you shall make under the twenty frames, two bases under one frame for its two tenons, and two bases under the next frame for its two tenons; [20]and for the second side of the tabernacle, on the north side twenty frames, [21]and their forty bases of silver, two bases under one frame, and two bases under the next frame. [22]And for the rear of the tabernacle westward you shall make six frames. [23]And you shall make two frames for corners of the tabernacle in the rear; [24]they shall be separate beneath, but joined at the top, at the first ring. Thus shall it be with both of them; they shall form the two corners. [25]And there shall be eight frames, with their bases of silver, sixteen bases; two bases under one frame, and two bases under another frame.

[26]“You shall make bars of acacia wood, five for the frames of the one side of the tabernacle, [27]and five bars for the frames of the other side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the frames of the side of the tabernacle at the rear westward. [28]The middle bar, halfway up the frames, shall run from end to end. [29]You shall overlay the frames with gold and shall make their rings of gold for [d]holders for the bars, and you shall overlay the bars with gold. [30][†]Then you shall erect the tabernacle [e]according to the plan for it that you were shown on the mountain.

[31][f]“And you shall make a veil of blue and purple and scarlet yarns and [g]fine twined linen. It shall be made with cherubim [g]skillfully worked into it. [32]And you shall hang it on four pillars of acacia overlaid with gold, with hooks of gold, on four bases of silver. [33][†]And you shall hang [f]the veil from the clasps, and bring [h]the ark of the testimony in there within the veil. And the veil shall separate for you the Holy Place from the Most Holy. [34][i]You shall put the mercy seat on the ark of the testimony in the Most Holy Place. [35]And [j]you shall set the table outside the veil, and the [k]lampstand on the south side of the tabernacle opposite the table, and you shall put the table on the north side.

[36]“You shall make a [l] screen for the entrance of the tent, of [m] blue and purple and scarlet yarns and [g] fine twined linen, embroidered with needlework. [37]And you shall make for the screen five pillars of acacia, and overlay them with gold. Their hooks shall be of gold, and you shall cast five bases of bronze for them.

The Bronze Altar

EXODUS 27 [†]“You shall make the [n] altar of acacia wood, five cubits [1] long and five cubits broad. The altar shall be square, and its height shall be three cubits. [2][†]And you shall make [o] horns for it on its four corners; its horns shall be of one piece with it, and [p] you shall overlay it with bronze. [3]You shall make pots for it to receive its ashes, and shovels and basins and [q] forks and fire pans. You shall make all its utensils of bronze. [4]You shall also make for it a grating, a network of bronze, and on the net you shall make four bronze rings at its four corners. [5]And you shall set it under the ledge of the altar so that the net extends halfway down the altar. [6]And you shall make poles for the altar, poles of acacia wood, and overlay them with bronze. [7]And the poles shall be put through the rings, so that the poles are on the two sides of the altar when it is carried. [8]You shall make it hollow, with boards. [r] As it has been shown you on the mountain, so shall it be made.

The Court of the Tabernacle

[9][†] [s] “You shall make the court of the tabernacle. On the south side the court shall have hangings of fine twined linen a hundred cubits long for one side. [10][†]Its twenty pillars and their twenty bases shall be of bronze, but the hooks of the pillars and their fillets shall be of silver. [11]And likewise for its length on the north side there shall be hangings a hundred cubits long, its pillars twenty and their bases twenty, of bronze, but the hooks of the pillars and their fillets shall be of silver. [12]And for the breadth of the court on the west side there shall be hangings for fifty cubits, with ten pillars and ten bases. [13][†]The breadth of the court on the front to the east shall be fifty cubits. [14]The hangings for the one side of the gate shall be fifteen cubits, with their three pillars and three bases. [15]On the other side the hangings shall be fifteen cubits, with their three pillars and three bases. [16]For the gate of the court there shall be [t]a screen twenty cubits long, of blue and purple and scarlet yarns and fine twined linen, embroidered with needlework. It shall have four pillars and with them four bases. [17]All the pillars around the court shall be filleted with silver. Their hooks shall be of silver, and their bases of bronze. [18]The length of the court shall be a hundred cubits, the breadth fifty, and the height five cubits, with hangings of fine twined linen and bases of bronze. [19]All the utensils of the tabernacle for every use, and all its pegs and all the pegs of the court, shall be of bronze.

Oil for the Lamp

[20] [u]"You shall command the people of Israel that they bring to you pure beaten olive oil for the light, that a lamp may regularly be set up to burn. [21] [v]In the tent of meeting, [w]outside the veil that is before the testimony, Aaron and his sons shall tend it from evening to morning before the LORD. It shall be a statute forever to be observed throughout their generations by the people of Israel.

The Priests' Garments

EXODUS 28 "Then bring near to you [x]Aaron your brother, and his sons with him, from among the people of Israel, to serve me as priests—Aaron and Aaron's sons, [y]Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar. [2][†] [z]And you shall make holy garments for Aaron your brother, for glory and for beauty. [3]You shall speak to all the [a]skillful, whom I have filled with a spirit of skill, that they make Aaron's garments to consecrate him for my priesthood. [4]These are the garments that they shall make: a [b]breastpiece, an [c]ephod, [d]a robe, [e]a coat of checker work, [e]a turban, and [e]a sash. They shall make holy garments for Aaron your brother and his sons to serve me as priests. [5]They shall receive [f]gold, blue and purple and scarlet yarns, and fine twined linen.

[6] [g]"And they shall make the ephod of gold, of blue and purple and scarlet yarns, and of fine twined linen, skillfully worked. [7]It shall have two shoulder pieces attached to its two edges, so that it may be joined together.

[8]And the [h] skillfully woven band on it shall be made like it and be of one piece with it, of gold, blue and purple and scarlet yarns, and fine twined linen. [9][†]You shall take two onyx stones, and engrave on them the names of the sons of Israel, [10]six of their names on the one stone, and the names of the remaining six on the other stone, in the order of their birth. [11]As a jeweler engraves signets, so shall you engrave the two stones with the names of the sons of Israel. You shall enclose them in settings of gold filigree. [12]And you shall set the two stones on the shoulder pieces of the ephod, as stones of remembrance for the sons of Israel. And [i] Aaron shall bear their names before the LORD on his two shoulders [j] for remembrance.
[13]You shall make settings of gold filigree, [14]and two chains of pure gold, twisted like cords; and you shall attach the corded chains to the settings.

[15] [k] “You shall make a breastpiece of judgment, in skilled work. In the style of the ephod you shall make it—of gold, blue and purple and scarlet yarns, and fine twined linen shall you make it. [16]It shall be square and doubled, a span [1] its length and a span its breadth. [17] [l] You shall set in it four rows of stones. A row of sardius, [2] topaz, and carbuncle shall be the first row; [18]and the second row an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond; [19]and the third row a jacinth, an agate, and an amethyst; [20]and the fourth row a beryl, an onyx, and a jasper. They shall be set in gold filigree. [21]There shall be twelve stones with their names according to the names of the sons of Israel. They shall be like signets, each engraved with its name, for the twelve tribes. [22]You shall make for the breastpiece twisted chains like cords, of pure gold. [23]And you shall make for the breastpiece two rings of gold, and put the two rings on the two edges of the breastpiece. [24]And you shall put the two cords of gold in the two rings at the edges of the breastpiece. [25]The two ends of the two cords you shall attach to the two settings of filigree, and so attach it in front to the shoulder pieces of the ephod. [26]You shall make two rings of gold, and put them at the two ends of the breastpiece, on its inside edge next to the ephod. [27]And you shall make two rings of gold, and attach them in front to the lower part of the two shoulder pieces of the ephod, at its seam above the [m] skillfully woven band of the ephod. [28]And they shall bind the breastpiece by its rings to the rings of the ephod with a lace of blue, so that it may lie on the skillfully woven band of the ephod, so that the breastpiece shall not come loose from the ephod. [29] [n] So Aaron shall bear the names of the sons of Israel in the breastpiece of judgment on his heart, when he goes into the Holy Place, to bring them to regular [o] remembrance before the LORD. [30][†]And in the breastpiece of judgment [p] you shall put the Urim and the Thummim, and they shall be on Aaron's heart, when he goes in before the LORD. Thus Aaron shall bear the judgment of the people of Israel on his heart before the LORD regularly.

[31] [q] "You shall make the robe of the ephod all of blue. [32]It shall have an opening for the head in the middle of it, with a woven binding around the opening, like the opening in a garment, [3] so that it may not tear. [33]On its hem you shall make pomegranates of blue and purple and scarlet yarns, around its hem, with bells of gold between them, [34]a golden bell and a pomegranate, a golden bell and a pomegranate, around the hem of the robe. [35][†]And it shall be on Aaron when he ministers, and its sound shall be heard when he goes into the Holy Place before the LORD, and when he comes out, so that he does not die.

[36][†]"You shall make [r] a plate of pure gold and engrave on it, like the engraving of a signet, [s] 'Holy to the LORD.' [37]And you shall fasten it on the turban by a cord of blue. It shall be on the front of the turban. [38]It shall be on Aaron's forehead, and Aaron shall [t] bear any guilt from the holy things that the people of Israel consecrate as their holy gifts. It shall regularly be on his forehead, that they may be accepted before the LORD.

[39]"You shall weave the coat in checker work of fine linen, and you shall make a turban of fine linen, and you shall make a sash embroidered with needlework.

[40] [u] "For Aaron's sons you shall make coats and sashes and caps. You shall make them [v] for glory and beauty. [41]And you shall put them on Aaron your brother, and on his sons with him, and shall [w] anoint them and ordain them and [x] consecrate them, that they may serve me as priests. [42][†]You shall make for them [y] linen undergarments to cover their naked flesh. They shall reach from the hips to the thighs; [43]and they shall be on Aaron and on his sons when they go into the tent of meeting or when they come near the altar to minister in the Holy Place, lest they [z] bear guilt and die. [a] This shall be a statute forever for him and for his offspring after him.

Consecration of the Priests

EXODUS 29 [†]“Now this is what you shall do to them to consecrate them, that they may serve me as priests. [b]Take one bull of the herd and two rams without blemish, [2] [c]and unleavened bread, unleavened cakes mixed with oil, and unleavened wafers smeared with oil. You shall make them of fine wheat flour. [3]You shall put them in one basket and bring them in the basket, and bring the bull and the two rams. [4]You shall bring Aaron and his sons to the entrance of the tent of meeting and [d]wash them with water. [5]Then [e]you shall take the garments, and put on Aaron the coat and the robe of the ephod, and the ephod, and the breastpiece, and gird him with the [f]skillfully woven band of the ephod. [6] [g]And you shall set the turban on his head and put the holy crown on the turban. [7][†]You shall take [h]the anointing oil and pour it on his head and anoint him. [8]Then you [i]shall bring his sons and put coats on them, [9]and you shall gird Aaron and his sons with [j]sashes and bind caps on them. And [k]the priesthood shall be theirs by a statute forever. Thus you shall [l]ordain Aaron and his sons.

[15][†]“Then [s]you shall take one of the rams, and [t]Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram, [16]and you shall kill the ram and shall take its blood and throw it against the sides of the altar. [17]Then you shall [u]cut the ram into pieces, and wash its entrails and its legs, and put them with its pieces and its head, [18]and burn the whole ram on the altar. It is a burnt offering to the LORD. It is a [v]pleasing aroma, a food offering[2] to the LORD.

22"You shall also take the fat from the ram and the fat tail and the [y]fat that covers the entrails, and the long lobe of the liver and the two kidneys with the fat that is on them, and the right thigh (for it is a ram of [z]ordination), 23and [a]one loaf of bread and one cake of bread made with oil, and one wafer out of the basket of unleavened bread that is before the LORD. 24You shall put all these on the palms of Aaron and on the palms of his sons, and [b]wave them for a wave offering before the LORD. 25Then [c]you shall take them from their hands and burn them on the altar on top of the burnt offering, as a [d]pleasing aroma before the LORD. It is a food offering to the LORD.

26"You shall take the [e]breast of the ram of Aaron's [f]ordination and [g]wave it for a wave offering before the LORD, and it shall be your portion. 27[†]And you shall consecrate the [h]breast of the wave offering that is waved and the [i]thigh of the priests' portion that is contributed from the ram of [f]ordination, from what was Aaron's and his sons'. 28It shall be for Aaron and his sons as a [j]perpetual due from the people of Israel, for it is a [g]contribution. It shall be a [g]contribution from the people of Israel from their peace offerings, their contribution to the LORD.

29"The holy garments of Aaron [k]shall be for his sons after him; they shall [l]be anointed in them and ordained in them. 30The son who succeeds him as priest, who comes into the tent of meeting to minister in the Holy Place, shall wear them [m]seven days.

31[†]"You shall take the ram of ordination and [n]boil its flesh in a holy place. 32And Aaron and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram and the [o]bread that is in the basket in the entrance of the tent of meeting. 33[p]They shall eat those things with which atonement was made at their ordination and consecration, but an [q] outsider shall not eat of them, because they are holy. [34]And if any of the flesh for the ordination or of the bread remain until the morning, then you shall [r] burn the remainder with fire. It shall not be eaten, because it is holy.

[35][†]“Thus you shall do to Aaron and to his sons, according to all that I have commanded you. Through [s] seven days shall you ordain them, [36]and every day you shall offer a [t] bull as a sin offering for atonement. Also you shall purify the altar, when you make atonement for it, and shall [u] anoint it to consecrate it. [37]Seven days you shall make atonement for the altar and consecrate it, and the [v] altar shall be most holy. [w] Whatever touches the altar shall become holy.

[38]“Now this is what you shall offer on the altar: [x] two lambs a year old [y] day by day regularly. [39]One lamb you shall offer [z] in the morning, and the other lamb you shall offer [a] at twilight. [40]And with the first lamb a tenth measure [3] of fine flour mingled with a fourth of a hin [4] of beaten oil, and a fourth of a hin of wine for a drink offering. [41]The other lamb you shall offer [a] at twilight, and shall offer with it a grain offering and its drink offering, as [b] in the morning, for a [c] pleasing aroma, a food offering to the LORD. [42]It shall be a [d] regular burnt offering throughout your generations at the entrance of the tent of meeting before the LORD, [e] where I will meet with you, to speak to you there. [43]There I will meet with the people of Israel, and it shall be [f] sanctified by my glory. [44]I will consecrate the tent of meeting and the altar. [g] Aaron also and his sons I will consecrate to serve me as priests. [45] [h] I will dwell among the people of Israel and will be their God. [46]And they shall know that [i] I am the LORD their God, who brought them out of the land of Egypt that I might dwell among them. I am the LORD their God.

The Altar of Incense

EXODUS 30 [†][j]“You shall make [k] an altar on which to burn incense; you shall make it of acacia wood. [2]A cubit [1] shall be its length, and a cubit its breadth. It shall be square, and two cubits shall be its height. [l] Its horns shall be of one piece with it. [3]You shall [m] overlay it with pure gold, its top and around its sides and its horns. And you shall make a molding of gold around it. [4]And you shall make two golden rings for it. Under its molding on two opposite sides of it you shall make them, and they shall be [n] holders for poles with which to carry it. [5]You shall make the poles of acacia wood and overlay them with gold. [6][†]And you shall put it in front of the veil that is above the ark of the testimony, in front of the [o] mercy seat that is above the testimony, where I will meet with you. [7]And Aaron shall [p] burn fragrant incense on it. Every morning when he [q] dresses the lamps he shall burn it, [8]and when Aaron sets up the lamps at twilight, he shall burn it, a regular incense offering before the LORD throughout your generations. [9][†]You shall not offer [r] unauthorized incense on it, or a burnt offering, or a grain offering, and you shall not pour a drink offering on it. [10] [s] Aaron shall make atonement on its horns once a year. With the blood of the [t] sin offering of atonement he shall make atonement for it once in the year throughout your generations. It is most holy to the LORD.”

The Census Tax

[11][†]The LORD said to Moses, [12][†] [u] “When you take the census of the people of Israel, then each shall give [v] a ransom for his life to the LORD when you number them, that there be no plague among them when you number them. [13]Each one who is numbered in the census shall give this: half a shekel [2] according to the [w] shekel of the sanctuary (the [x] shekel is twenty gerahs), [3] [y] half a shekel as an offering to the LORD. [14]Everyone who is numbered in the census, from twenty years old and upward, shall give the LORD’s offering. [15]The rich shall not give more, and the poor shall not give less, than [y] the half shekel, when you give the LORD’s offering to make atonement for your lives. [16]You shall take the atonement money from the people of Israel and shall [z] give it for the service of the tent of meeting, that it may bring the people of Israel to [a] remembrance before the LORD, so as to make atonement for your lives.”

The Bronze Basin

[17][†]The LORD said to Moses, [18]“You shall also make a [b]basin of bronze, with its stand of bronze, for washing. [b]You shall put it between the tent of meeting and the altar, and you shall put water in it, [19]with which Aaron and his sons [c]shall wash their hands and their feet. [20][†]When they go into the tent of meeting, or when they come near the altar to minister, to burn a food offering [4] to the LORD, they shall wash with water, so that they may not die. [21]They shall wash their hands and their feet, so that they may not die. It shall [d]be a statute forever to them, even to him and to his offspring throughout their generations.”

The Anointing Oil and Incense

[22][†]The LORD said to Moses, [23]“Take the [e]finest spices: of liquid myrrh 500 shekels, and of sweet-smelling cinnamon half as much, that is, 250, and 250 of [f]aromatic cane, [24]and 500 of cassia, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, and a [g]hin [5] of olive oil. [25]And you shall make of these a sacred anointing oil blended as by the [h]perfumer; it shall be a [i]holy anointing oil. [26][j]With it you shall anoint the tent of meeting and the ark of the testimony, [27]and the table and all its utensils, and the lampstand and its utensils, and the altar of incense, [28]and the altar of burnt offering with all its utensils and the [k]basin and its stand. [29]You shall consecrate them, that they may be most holy. [l]Whatever touches them will become holy. [30][m]You shall anoint Aaron and his sons, and consecrate them, that they may serve me as priests. [31]And you shall say to the people of Israel, ‘This shall be my holy anointing oil throughout your generations. [32]It shall not be poured on the body of an ordinary person, and you shall make no other like it in composition. [n]It is holy, and it shall be holy to you. [33][†][o]Whoever compounds any like it or whoever puts any of it on an outsider shall be cut off from his people.’”

[34]The LORD said to Moses, [p]“Take sweet spices, stacte, and onycha, and galbanum, sweet spices with pure frankincense (of each shall there be an equal part), [35]and make an [q]incense blended as by the [r]perfumer, [s]seasoned with salt, pure and holy. [36]You shall beat some of it very small, and put part of it before the testimony in the tent of meeting [t]where I shall meet with you. [u]It shall be most holy for you. [37]And the incense that you shall make [v]according to its composition, you shall not make for yourselves. It shall be for you holy to the LORD. [38] [w]Whoever makes any like it to use as perfume shall be cut off from his people.”

Oholiab and Bezalel

EXODUS 31 The LORD said to Moses, [2]“See, I have called by name [x]Bezalel the son of Uri, son of [y]Hur, of the tribe of Judah, [3][†]and I have [z]filled him with the Spirit of God, with ability and intelligence, with knowledge and all craftsmanship, [4]to devise artistic designs, to work in gold, silver, and bronze, [5]in cutting stones for setting, and in carving wood, to work in every craft. [6]And behold, I have appointed with him [a]Oholiab, the son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan. And I have given to all able men [b]ability, that they may make all that I have commanded you: [7] [c]the tent of meeting, and [d]the ark of the testimony, and [e]the mercy seat that is on it, and all the furnishings of the tent, [8][f]the table and its utensils, and [g]the pure lampstand with all its utensils, and [h]the altar of incense, [9]and [i]the altar of burnt offering with all its utensils, and [j]the basin and its stand, [10]and [k]the finely worked garments, [1] the holy garments for Aaron the priest and the garments of his sons, for their service as priests, [11]and [l]the anointing oil and the fragrant [m]incense for the Holy Place. According to all that I have commanded you, they shall do.”

The Sabbath

[12][†]And the LORD said to Moses, [13]“You are to speak to the people of Israel and say, ‘Above all you shall keep my Sabbaths, for this is a sign between me and you throughout your generations, that you may know that I, the LORD, sanctify you. [14][†]You shall keep the Sabbath, because it is holy for you. Everyone who profanes it shall be put to death. [n]Whoever does any work on it, that soul shall be cut off from among his people. [15] [o]Six days shall work be done, but [p]the seventh day is a Sabbath of solemn rest, holy to the LORD. [n]Whoever does any work on the Sabbath day shall be put to death. [16]Therefore the people of Israel shall keep the Sabbath, observing the Sabbath throughout their generations, as a covenant forever. 17 [q] It is a sign forever between me and the people of Israel that [r] in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, and [s] on the seventh day he rested and was refreshed.'"

18[†]And he gave to Moses, when he had finished speaking with him on Mount Sinai, the [t] two tablets of the testimony, tablets of stone, written with [u] the finger of God.

The Golden Calf

EXODUS 32 [†]When the people saw that Moses [v] delayed to come down from the mountain, the people gathered themselves together to Aaron and said to him, [w] "Up, make us gods who shall [x] go before us. As for this Moses, the man who brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we do not know what has become of him." 2So Aaron said to them, "Take off the [y] rings of gold that are in the ears of your wives, your sons, and your daughters, and bring them to me." 3So all the people took off the rings of gold that were in their ears and brought them to Aaron. 4[†] [z] And he received the gold from their hand and fashioned it with a graving tool and made a golden [1] calf. And they said, [a] "These are your gods, O Israel, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt!" 5When Aaron saw this, he built an altar before it. And Aaron [b] made a proclamation and said, "Tomorrow shall be a feast to the LORD." 6[†]And they rose up early the next day and offered burnt offerings and brought peace offerings. And [c] the people sat down to eat and drink and rose up [d] to play.

7And the LORD said to Moses, [e] "Go down, for your people, whom you brought up out of the land of Egypt, have [f] corrupted themselves. 8They have turned aside quickly out of the way that [g] I commanded them. They have made for themselves a golden calf and have worshiped it and sacrificed to it and said, 'These are your gods, O Israel, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt!'" 9And the LORD said to Moses, "I have seen this people, and behold, [h] it is a stiff-necked people. 10Now therefore [i] let me alone, that [j] my wrath may burn hot against them and [k] I may consume them, in order that [l] I may make a great nation of you."

[11][†]But [m]Moses implored the LORD his God and said, “O LORD, why does your wrath burn hot against your people, whom you have brought out of the land of Egypt with great power and with a mighty hand? [12] [n]Why should the Egyptians say, ‘With evil intent did he bring them out, to kill them in the mountains and to consume them from the face of the earth’? Turn from your burning anger and [o]relent from this disaster against your people. [13]Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, your servants, to whom you [p]swore by your own self, and said to them, [q]‘I will multiply your offspring as the stars of heaven, and all this land that I have promised I will give to your offspring, and they shall inherit it forever.’” [14]And the LORD [r]relented from the disaster that he had spoken of bringing on his people.

[15]Then [s]Moses turned and went down from the mountain with the [t]two tablets of the testimony in his hand, tablets that were written on both sides; on the front and on the back they were written. [16][†] [u]The tablets were the work of God, and the writing was the writing of God, engraved on the tablets. [17]When [v]Joshua heard the noise of the people as they shouted, he said to Moses, “There is a noise of war in the camp.” [18]But he said, “It is not the sound of [w]shouting for victory, or the sound of the cry of defeat, but the sound of singing that I hear.” [19][†]And as soon as he came near the camp and [x]saw the calf and the dancing, Moses’ anger burned hot, and he threw the tablets out of his hands and broke them at the foot of the mountain. [20][†]He took the calf that they had made and burned it with fire and ground it to powder and scattered it on the water and made the people of Israel drink it.

[21]And Moses said to Aaron, [y]“What did this people do to you that you have brought such a great sin upon them?” [22]And Aaron said, “Let not the anger of my lord burn hot. [z]You know the people, that they are set on evil. [23]For [a]they said to me, ‘Make us gods who shall go before us. As for this Moses, the man who brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we do not know what has become of him.’ [24][†]So [b]I said to them, ‘Let any who have gold take it off.’ So they gave it to me, and I threw it into the fire, and out came this calf.”

[25]And when Moses saw that the people had broken loose (for Aaron had let them break loose, [c]to the derision of their enemies), [26]then Moses stood in the gate of the camp and said, “Who is on the LORD’s side? Come to me.”

And all the sons of Levi gathered around him. [27][†]And he said to them, “Thus says the LORD God of Israel, ‘Put your sword on your side each of you, and go to and fro from gate to gate throughout the camp, and each of you [d]kill his brother and his companion and his neighbor.’” [28]And the sons of Levi did according to the word of Moses. And that day about three thousand men of the people fell. [29]And Moses said, “Today you have been [e]ordained for the service of the LORD, each one at the cost of his son and of his brother, so that he might bestow a blessing upon you this day.”

[30]The next day Moses said to the people, [f]“You have sinned a great sin.
And now I will go up to the LORD; [g]perhaps I can make atonement for your sin.” [31]So Moses returned to the LORD and said, “Alas, [f]this people has sinned a great sin. They have [h]made for themselves gods of gold. [32]But now, if [i]you will forgive their sin—but if not, please [j]blot me out of [k]your book that you have written.” [33][†]But the LORD said to Moses, [l]“Whoever has sinned against me, I will blot out of my book. [34][m]But now go, lead the people to the place about which I have spoken to you; [n]behold, my angel shall go before you. Nevertheless, in the day when I visit, I will visit their sin upon them.”

[35]Then the LORD sent a plague on the people, because they made the calf, the one that Aaron made.

The Command to Leave Sinai

EXODUS 33 [†]The LORD said to Moses, “Depart; go up from here, you [o] and the people whom you have brought up out of the land of Egypt, to the land of which I swore to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, saying, ‘To [p] your offspring I will give it.’ [2]I will send an [q] angel before you, [r] and I will drive out the Canaanites, the Amorites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites. [3] [s] Go up to a land flowing with milk and honey; [t] but I will not go up among you, [u] lest I consume you on the way, for you are a [v] stiff-necked people.”

[4]When the people heard this disastrous word, they [w] mourned, and [x] no one put on his ornaments. [5]For the LORD had said to Moses, “Say to the people of Israel, ‘You are a [v] stiff-necked people; if for a single moment I should go up among you, I would [y] consume you. So now [x] take off your ornaments, that I may know what to do with you.’” [6]Therefore the people of Israel stripped themselves of their ornaments, from Mount Horeb onward.

The Tent of Meeting

[7][†]Now Moses used to take the tent and pitch it outside the camp, far off from the camp, and [z] he called it the tent of meeting. And everyone who [a] sought the LORD would go out to the tent of meeting, which was outside the camp. [8]Whenever Moses went out to the tent, all the people would rise up, and [b] each would stand at his tent door, and watch Moses until he had gone into the tent. [9]When Moses entered the tent, the [c] pillar of cloud would descend and stand at the entrance of the tent, and the LORD [1] would speak with Moses. [10]And when all the people saw the pillar of cloud standing at the entrance of the tent, all the people would rise up and worship, each at his tent door. [11]Thus [d] the LORD used to speak to Moses face to face, as a man speaks to his friend. When Moses turned again into the camp, his [e] assistant Joshua the son of Nun, a young man, would not depart from the tent.

Moses' Intercession

[12][†]Moses said to the LORD, "See, [f]you say to me, 'Bring up this people,' but you have not let me know whom you will send with me. Yet you have said, [g]'I know you by name, and you have also found favor in my sight.' [13]Now therefore, if I have found favor in your sight, please [h]show me now your ways, that I may know you in order to find favor in your sight. Consider too that this nation is [i]your people." [14]And he said, [j]"My presence will go with you, and [k]I will give you rest." [15]And he said to him, [l]"If your presence will not go with me, do not bring us up from here. [16]For how shall it be known that I have found favor in your sight, I and your people? [m]Is it not in your going with us, [n]so that we are distinct, I and your people, from every other people on the face of the earth?"

[17]And the LORD said to Moses, "This very thing that you have spoken I will do, [o]for you have found favor in my sight, and I know you by name." [18]Moses said, "Please [p]show me your glory." [19][†]And he said, [q]"I will make all my goodness pass before you and will proclaim before you my name 'The LORD.' And [r]I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and will show mercy on whom I will show mercy. [20]But," he said, "you cannot see my face, for [s]man shall not see me and live." [21]And the LORD said, "Behold, there is a place by me where you shall stand on the rock, [22]and while my glory passes by I will put you in a [t]cleft of the rock, and I will [u]cover you with my hand until I have passed by. [23]Then I will take away my hand, and you shall see my back, but my face shall [v]not be seen."

Moses Makes New Tablets

EXODUS 34 The LORD said to Moses, [w]"Cut for yourself two tablets of stone like the first, [x]and I will write on the tablets the words that were on the first tablets, [y]which you broke. [2]Be ready by the morning, and come up in the morning to Mount Sinai, and present yourself there to me [z]on the top of the mountain. [3][†]No [a]one shall come up with you, and let no one be seen throughout all the mountain. Let no flocks or herds graze opposite that mountain." [4]So Moses cut two tablets of stone like the first. And he rose early in the morning and went up on Mount Sinai, as the LORD had commanded him, and took in his hand two tablets of stone. [5]The LORD [b]descended in the cloud and stood with him there, and [c]proclaimed the name of the LORD. [6][†]The LORD passed before him and proclaimed, [d]"The LORD, the LORD, a God merciful and [e]gracious, slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast [f]love and faithfulness, [7] [g]keeping steadfast love for thousands, [1] [h]forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, but [i]who will by no means clear the guilty, [j]visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children and the children's children, to the third and the fourth generation." [8]And Moses quickly [k]bowed his head toward the earth and worshiped. [9]And he said, "If now I have found favor in your sight, O Lord, please [l]let the Lord go in the midst of us, for [m]it is a stiff-necked people, and pardon our iniquity and our sin, and take us for [n]your inheritance."

The Covenant Renewed

[10]And he said, "Behold, [o]I am making a covenant. Before all your people [p]I will do marvels, such as have not been created in all the earth or in any nation. And all the people among whom you are shall see the work of the LORD, for it is an [q]awesome thing that I will do with you.

[11][†]"Observe what I command you this day. Behold, [r]I will drive out before you the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites. [12] [s]Take care, lest you make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land to which you go, lest it become a [t]snare in your midst. [13]You shall [u]tear down their altars and [v]break their pillars and cut down their [w]Asherim [14](for [x]you shall worship no other god, for the LORD, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God), [15] [s]lest you make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land, and when they [y]whore after their gods and sacrifice to their gods and [z]you are invited, you eat of his sacrifice, [16]and you take of [a]their daughters for your sons, and their daughters [y]whore after their gods and make your sons whore after their gods.

[18] [c]"You shall keep the Feast of Unleavened Bread. Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, as I commanded you, at the time appointed in [d]the month Abib, for in the month Abib you came out from Egypt. [19] [e]All that open the womb are mine, all your male [2] livestock, the firstborn of cow and sheep. 20The [f] firstborn of a donkey you shall redeem with a lamb, or if you will not redeem it you shall break its neck. All the firstborn of your sons you shall redeem. And [g] none shall appear before me empty-handed.

21 [h] "Six days you shall work, but on the seventh day you shall rest. In plowing time and in harvest you shall rest. 22 [i] You shall observe the Feast of Weeks, the firstfruits of wheat harvest, and the Feast of Ingathering at the year's end. 23 [j] Three times in the year shall all your males appear before the LORD God, the God of Israel. 24For I will [k] cast out nations before you and [l] enlarge your borders; [m] no one shall covet your land, when you go up to appear before the LORD your God three times in the year.

25 [n] "You shall not offer the blood of my sacrifice with anything leavened, [o] or let the sacrifice of the Feast of the Passover remain until the morning. 26 [p] The best of the firstfruits of your ground you shall bring to the house of the LORD your God. [q] You shall not boil a young goat in its mother's milk."

27And the LORD said to Moses, "Write these words, for in accordance with these words [r] I have made a covenant with you and with Israel." 28 [s] So he was there with the LORD forty days and forty nights. He neither ate bread nor drank water. And he [t] wrote on the tablets the words of the covenant, the Ten Commandments. [3]

The Shining Face of Moses

29When Moses came down from Mount Sinai, with [u] the two tablets of the testimony in his hand as he came down from the mountain, Moses did not know that the skin of his face [v] shone because he had been talking with God. [4] 30Aaron and all the people of Israel saw Moses, and behold, the skin of his face [w] shone, and they were afraid to come near him. 31But Moses called to them, and Aaron and all the leaders of the congregation returned to him, and Moses talked with them. 32Afterward all the people of Israel came near, and he [x] commanded them all that the LORD had spoken with him in Mount Sinai. 33And when Moses had finished speaking with them, he put a [y] veil over his face.

34Whenever Moses [z] went in before the LORD to speak with him, he would remove the veil, until he came out. And when he came out and told the people of Israel what he was commanded, [35]the people of Israel would see the face of Moses, that the skin of Moses' face was [a] shining. And Moses would put the veil over his face again, until he went in to speak with him.

Sabbath Regulations

EXODUS 35 [†]Moses assembled all the congregation of the people of Israel and said to them, [b] "These are the things that the LORD has commanded you to do. [2] [c] Six days work shall be done, but on the seventh day you shall have a Sabbath of solemn rest, holy to the LORD. Whoever does any work on it shall be put to death. [3] [d] You shall kindle no fire in all your dwelling places on the Sabbath day."

Contributions for the Tabernacle

[4]Moses said to all the congregation of the people of Israel, "This is the thing that the LORD has commanded. [5][†] [e] Take from among you a contribution to the LORD. [f] Whoever is of a generous heart, let him bring the LORD's contribution: gold, silver, and bronze; [6]blue and purple and scarlet yarns and fine twined linen; goats' hair, [7]tanned rams' skins, and goatskins; [1] acacia wood, [8]oil for the light, spices for the anointing oil and for the fragrant incense, [9]and onyx stones and stones for setting, for the ephod and for the breastpiece.

[10][†]"Let [g] every skillful craftsman among you come and make all that the LORD has commanded: [11] [h] the tabernacle, its tent and its covering, its hooks and its frames, its bars, its pillars, and its bases; [12] [i] the ark with its poles, the mercy seat, and the [j] veil of the screen; [13] [k] the table with its poles and all its utensils, and the [l] bread of the Presence; [14] [m] the lampstand also for the light, with its utensils and its lamps, and the [n] oil for the light; [15] [o] and the altar of incense, with its poles, [p] and the anointing oil and the [q] fragrant incense, and [r] the screen for the door, at the door of the tabernacle; [16] [s] the altar of burnt offering, with its grating of bronze, its poles, and all its utensils, the [t] basin and its stand; [17] [u] the hangings of the court, its pillars and its bases, and the screen for the gate of the court;

18[v] the pegs of the tabernacle and the pegs of the court, and their [w] cords; 19the [x] finely worked garments for ministering [2] in the Holy Place, the holy garments for Aaron the priest, and the garments of his sons, for their service as priests."

20[†]Then all the congregation of the people of Israel departed from the presence of Moses. 21And they came, [y] everyone whose heart stirred him, and everyone whose spirit moved him, [z] and brought the LORD's contribution to be used for the tent of meeting, and for all its service, and for the holy garments. 22So they came, both men and women. All who were of a willing heart brought brooches and earrings and signet rings and armlets, all sorts of gold objects, every man dedicating an offering of gold to the LORD. 23And [a] every one who possessed [b] blue or purple or scarlet yarns or fine linen or goats' hair or tanned rams' skins or goatskins brought them. 24[c] Everyone who could make a contribution of silver or bronze brought it as the LORD's contribution. And every one who possessed acacia wood of any use in the work brought it. 25And every [d] skillful woman spun with her hands, and they all brought what they had spun in blue and purple and scarlet yarns and fine twined linen. 26All the women [y] whose hearts stirred them to use their skill spun the goats' hair. 27And the [e] leaders brought onyx stones and stones to be set, for the ephod and for the breastpiece, 28and spices and oil for the light, and for the anointing oil, and for the fragrant incense. 29[f] All the men and women, the people of Israel, whose heart moved them to bring anything for the work that the LORD had commanded by Moses to be done brought it as a freewill offering to the LORD.

Construction of the Tabernacle

30[†][g] Then Moses said to the people of Israel, "See, the LORD has called by name Bezalel the son of Uri, son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah; 31[†]and he has filled him with the Spirit of God, with [h] skill, with intelligence, with knowledge, and with all craftsmanship, 32to devise artistic designs, to work in gold and silver and bronze, 33in cutting stones for setting, and in carving wood, for work in every skilled craft. 34And he has inspired him to teach, both him and Oholiab the son of Ahisamach of the tribe of Dan. 35He has

[h] filled them with skill to do every sort of work done by an engraver or by a designer or by an embroiderer in blue and purple and scarlet yarns and fine twined linen, or by a weaver—by any sort of workman or skilled designer.

EXODUS 36 “Bezalel and Oholiab and [i] every craftsman in whom the Lord has put skill and intelligence to know how to do any work in the construction of the sanctuary shall work in accordance with all that the Lord has commanded.”

2[†]And Moses called Bezalel and Oholiab and every craftsman in whose mind the Lord had put skill, everyone [j] whose heart stirred him up to come to do the work. 3And they received from Moses all the [k] contribution that the people of Israel had brought for doing the work on the sanctuary. They still kept bringing him [l] freewill offerings every morning, 4so that all the craftsmen who were doing every sort of task on the sanctuary came, each from the task that he was doing, 5and said to Moses, [m] “The people bring much more than enough for doing the work that the Lord has commanded us to do.” 6So Moses gave command, and word was proclaimed throughout the camp, “Let no man or woman do anything more for the [n] contribution for the sanctuary.” So the people were restrained from bringing, 7for the material they had was sufficient to do all the work, and more.

8 [o] And all the craftsmen among the workmen made the tabernacle with ten curtains. They were made of fine twined linen and blue and purple and scarlet yarns, with cherubim skillfully worked. 9The length of each curtain was twenty-eight cubits, [1] and the breadth of each curtain four cubits. All the curtains were the same size.

10[†]He [2] coupled five curtains to one another, and the other five curtains he coupled to one another. 11He made loops of blue on the edge of the outermost curtain of the first set. Likewise he made them on the edge of the outermost curtain of the second set. 12He made fifty loops on the one curtain, and he made fifty loops on the edge of the curtain that was in the second set. The loops were opposite one another. 13And he made fifty clasps of gold, and coupled the curtains one to the other with clasps. So the tabernacle was a single whole.

14He also made curtains of goats’ hair for a tent over the tabernacle. He made eleven curtains. 15The length of each curtain was thirty cubits, and the breadth of each curtain four cubits. The eleven curtains were the same size.

[16]He coupled five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves. [17]And he made fifty loops on the edge of the outermost curtain of the one set, and fifty loops on the edge of the other connecting curtain. [18]And he made fifty clasps of bronze to couple the tent together that it might be a single whole. [19]And he made for the tent a covering of tanned rams' skins and goatskins.

[20][p] Then he made the upright frames for the tabernacle of [q] acacia wood. [21]Ten cubits was the length of a frame, and a cubit and a half the breadth of each frame. [22]Each frame had two tenons for fitting together. He did this for all the frames of the tabernacle. [23]The frames for the tabernacle he made thus: twenty frames for the south side. [24]And he made forty bases of silver under the twenty frames, two bases under one frame for its two tenons, and two bases under the next frame for its two tenons. [25]For the second side of the tabernacle, on the north side, he made twenty frames [26]and their forty bases of silver, two bases under one frame and two bases under the next frame. [27]For the rear of the tabernacle westward he made six frames. [28]He made two frames for corners of the tabernacle in the rear. [29]And they were separate beneath but joined at the top, at the first ring. He made two of them this way for the two corners. [30]There were eight frames with their bases of silver: sixteen bases, under every frame two bases.

[31]He made bars of acacia wood, five for the frames of the one side of the tabernacle, [32]and five bars for the frames of the other side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the frames of the tabernacle at the rear westward. [33]And he made the middle bar to run from end to end halfway up the frames. [34]And he overlaid the frames with gold, and made their rings of gold for holders for the bars, and overlaid the bars with gold.

[35][r] He made the veil of blue and purple and scarlet yarns and fine twined linen; with cherubim skillfully worked into it he made it. [36]And for it he made four pillars of acacia and overlaid them with gold. Their hooks were of gold, and he cast for them four bases of silver. [37]He also made a screen for the entrance of the tent, of blue and purple and scarlet yarns and fine twined linen, embroidered with needlework, [38]and its five pillars with their hooks. He overlaid their capitals, and their fillets were of gold, but their five bases were of bronze.

Making the Ark

EXODUS 37 [†] [s] Bezalel made the ark of acacia wood. Two cubits [1] and a half was its length, a cubit and a half its breadth, and a cubit and a half its height. [2]And he overlaid it with pure gold inside and outside, and made a molding of gold around it. [3]And he cast for it four rings of gold for its [t] four feet, two rings on its one side and two rings on its other side. [4]And he made poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold [5]and put the poles into the rings on the sides of the ark to carry the ark. [6]And he made a mercy seat of pure gold. Two cubits and a half was its length, and a cubit and a half its breadth. [7]And he made two cherubim of gold. He made them of hammered work on the two ends of the mercy seat, [8]one cherub on the one end, and one cherub on the other end. Of one piece with the mercy seat he made the cherubim on its two ends. [9]The cherubim spread out their wings above, overshadowing the mercy seat with their wings, with their faces one to another; toward the mercy seat were the faces of the cherubim.

Making the Table

[10][†] [u] He also made the table of acacia wood. Two cubits was its length, a cubit its breadth, and a cubit and a half its height. [11]And he overlaid it with pure gold, and made a molding of gold around it. [12]And he made a rim around it a handbreadth [2] wide, and made a molding of gold around the rim. [13]He cast for it four rings of gold and fastened the rings to the four corners at its four legs. [14]Close to the frame were the rings, as holders for the poles to carry the table. [15]He made the poles of acacia wood to carry the table, and overlaid them with gold. [16]And he made the vessels of pure gold that were to be on the table, its plates and dishes for incense, and its bowls and flagons with which to pour drink offerings.

Making the Lampstand

[17][†] [v] He also made the lampstand of pure gold. He made the lampstand of hammered work. Its base, its stem, its cups, its calyxes, and its flowers were of one piece with it. [18]And there were six branches going out of its sides, three branches of the lampstand out of one side of it and three branches of the lampstand out of the other side of it; [19]three cups made like almond blossoms, each with calyx and flower, on one branch, and three cups made like almond blossoms, each with calyx and flower, on the other branch—so for the six branches going out of the lampstand. [20]And on the lampstand itself were four cups made like almond blossoms, with their calyxes and flowers, [21]and a calyx of one piece with it under each pair of the six branches going out of it. [22]Their calyxes and their branches were of one piece with it. The whole of it was a single piece of hammered work of pure gold. [23]And he made its seven lamps and its tongs and its trays of pure gold. [24]He made it and all its utensils out of a talent [3] of pure gold.

[25][†] [w] He made the altar of incense of acacia wood. Its length was a cubit, and its breadth was a cubit. It was square, and two cubits was its height. Its horns were of one piece with it. [26]He overlaid it with pure gold, its top and around its sides and its horns. And he made a molding of gold around it, [27]and made two rings of gold on it under its molding, on two opposite sides of it, as holders for the poles with which to carry it. [28]And he made the poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold.

[29] [x] He made the holy anointing oil also, and the [y] pure fragrant incense, blended as by the perfumer.

Making the Altar of Burnt Offering

EXODUS 38 [†] [z] He made the altar of burnt offering of acacia wood. Five cubits [1] was its length, and five cubits its breadth. It was square, and three cubits was its height. [2]He made horns for it on its four corners. Its horns were of one piece with it, and he overlaid it with bronze. [3]And he made all the utensils of the altar, the pots, the shovels, the basins, the forks, and the fire pans. He made all its utensils of bronze. [4]And he made for the altar a grating, a network of bronze, under its ledge, extending halfway down. [5]He cast four rings on the four corners of the bronze grating as holders for the poles. [6]He made the poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with bronze. [7]And he put the poles through the rings on the sides of the altar to carry it with them. He made it hollow, with boards.

Making the Bronze Basin

[8][†] [a] He made the basin of bronze and its stand of bronze, from the mirrors of the [b] ministering women who ministered in the entrance of the tent of meeting.

Making the Court

[9] [c] And he made the court. For the south side the hangings of the court were of fine twined linen, a hundred cubits; [10]their twenty pillars and their twenty bases were of bronze, but the hooks of the pillars and their fillets were of silver. [11]And for the north side there were hangings of a hundred cubits, their twenty pillars, their twenty bases were of bronze, but the hooks of the pillars and their fillets were of silver. [12]And for the west side were hangings of fifty cubits, their ten pillars, and their ten bases; the hooks of the pillars and their fillets were of silver. [13]And for the front to the east, fifty cubits. [14]The hangings for one side of the gate were fifteen cubits, with their three pillars and three bases. [15]And so for the other side. On both sides of the gate of the court were hangings of fifteen cubits, with their three pillars and their three bases. [16]All the hangings around the court were of fine twined linen. [17]And the bases for the pillars were of bronze, but the hooks of the pillars and their fillets were of silver. The overlaying of their capitals was also of silver, and all the pillars of the court were filleted with silver. [18]And the screen for the gate of the court was embroidered with needlework in blue and purple and scarlet yarns and fine twined linen. It was twenty cubits long and five cubits high in its breadth, corresponding to the hangings of the court. [19]And their pillars were four in number. Their four bases were of bronze, their hooks of silver, and the overlaying of their capitals and their fillets of silver. [20]And all the pegs for the tabernacle and for the court all around were of bronze.

Materials for the Tabernacle

[21]These are the records of the tabernacle, [d] the tabernacle of the testimony, as they were recorded at the commandment of Moses, the responsibility of the Levites [e] under the direction of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest. [22][f] Bezalel the son of Uri, son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah, made all that the LORD commanded Moses; [23]and with him was [f]Oholiab the son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan, an engraver and designer and embroiderer in blue and purple and scarlet yarns and fine twined linen.

[24]All the gold that was used for the work, in all the construction of the sanctuary, the gold from the offering, was twenty-nine talents and 730 shekels, [2] by [g]the shekel of the sanctuary. [25]The silver from those of the congregation who were recorded was a hundred talents and 1,775 shekels, by the shekel of the sanctuary: [26]a [g]beka [3] a head (that is, half a shekel, by the shekel of the sanctuary), for everyone who was listed in the records, from twenty years old and upward, for [h]603,550 men. [27]The hundred talents of silver were for casting the [i]bases of the sanctuary and the bases of the veil; a hundred bases for the hundred talents, a talent a base. [28]And of the 1,775 shekels he made hooks for the pillars and overlaid their capitals and made fillets for them. [29]The bronze that was offered was seventy talents and 2,400 shekels; [30]with it he made the [j]bases for the entrance of the tent of meeting, [k]the bronze altar and the bronze grating for it and all the utensils of the altar, [31]the [l]bases around the court, and the [m]bases of the gate of the court, all the [n]pegs of the tabernacle, and all the pegs around the court.

Making the Priestly Garments

EXODUS 39 [†]From the [o]blue and purple and scarlet yarns they made [p]finely woven garments, [1] for ministering in the Holy Place. They made the holy garments for Aaron, [q]as the LORD had commanded Moses.

[2] [r]He made the ephod of gold, blue and purple and scarlet yarns, and fine twined linen. [3]And they hammered out gold leaf, and he cut it into threads to work into the blue and purple and the scarlet yarns, and into the fine twined linen, in skilled design. [4]They made for the ephod attaching shoulder pieces, joined to it at its two edges. [5]And the skillfully woven band on it was of one piece with it and made like it, of gold, blue and purple and scarlet yarns, and fine twined linen, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

[6]They made the onyx stones, enclosed in settings of gold filigree, and engraved like the engravings of a signet, according to the names of the sons of Israel. [7]And he set them on the shoulder pieces of the ephod to be stones of remembrance for the sons of Israel, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

[8] [s] He made the breastpiece, in skilled work, in the style of the ephod, of gold, blue and purple and scarlet yarns, and fine twined linen. [9]It was square. They made the breastpiece doubled, a span [2] its length and a span its breadth when doubled. [10]And they set in it four rows of stones. A row of sardius, topaz, and carbuncle was the first row; [11]and the second row, an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond; [12]and the third row, a jacinth, an agate, and an amethyst; [13]and the fourth row, a beryl, an onyx, and a jasper. They were enclosed in settings of gold filigree. [14]There were twelve stones with their names according to the names of the sons of Israel. They were like signets, each engraved with its name, for the twelve tribes. [15]And they made on the breastpiece twisted chains like cords, of pure gold. [16]And they made two settings of gold filigree and two gold rings, and put the two rings on the two edges of the breastpiece. [17]And they put the two cords of gold in the two rings at the edges of the breastpiece. [18]They attached the two ends of the two cords to the two settings of filigree. Thus they attached it in front to the shoulder pieces of the ephod. [19]Then they made two rings of gold, and put them at the two ends of the breastpiece, on its inside edge next to the ephod. [20]And they made two rings of gold, and attached them in front to the lower part of the two shoulder pieces of the ephod, at its seam above the skillfully woven band of the ephod. [21]And they bound the breastpiece by its rings to the rings of the ephod with a lace of blue, so that it should lie on the skillfully woven band of the ephod, and that the breastpiece should not come loose from the ephod, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

[22] [t] He also made the robe of the ephod woven all of blue, [23]and the opening of the robe in it was like the opening in a garment, with a binding around the opening, so that it might not tear. [24]On the hem of the robe they made pomegranates of blue and purple and scarlet yarns and fine twined linen. [25]They also made bells of pure gold, and put the bells between the pomegranates all around the hem of the robe, between the pomegranates— [26]a bell and a pomegranate, a bell and a pomegranate around the hem of the robe for ministering, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

[27] [u] They also made the coats, woven of fine [v] linen, for Aaron and his sons, [28]and the [v] turban of fine linen, and the caps of fine linen, and the linen undergarments of fine twined linen, [29]and the sash of fine twined linen and of blue and purple and scarlet yarns, embroidered with needlework, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

[30] [w]They made the plate of the holy crown of pure gold, and wrote on it an inscription, like the engraving of a signet, “Holy to the LORD.” [31]And they tied to it a cord of blue to fasten it on the turban above, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

[32][†]Thus all the work of the tabernacle of the tent of meeting was finished, and the people of Israel did [x]according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses; so they did. [33]Then they brought the tabernacle to Moses, the tent and all its utensils, its hooks, its frames, its bars, its pillars, and its bases; [34]the covering of tanned rams’ skins and goatskins, and the [y]veil of the screen; [35]the ark of the testimony with its poles and the mercy seat; [36]the table with all its utensils, and the bread of the Presence; [37] [z]the lampstand of pure gold and its lamps with the lamps set and all its utensils, and the oil for the light; [38] [a]the golden altar, the anointing oil and the fragrant incense, and [b]the screen for the entrance of the tent; [39]the bronze altar, and its grating of bronze, its poles, and all its utensils; the basin and its stand; [40] [c]the hangings of the court, its pillars, and its bases, and the [d]screen for the gate of the court, its [e]cords, and its pegs; and all the utensils for the service of the tabernacle, for the tent of meeting; [41]the finely worked garments for ministering in the Holy Place, the holy garments for Aaron the priest, and the garments of his sons for their service as priests. [42] [f]According to all that the LORD had commanded Moses, so the people of Israel had done all the work. [43]And Moses saw all the work, and behold, they had done it; as the LORD had commanded, so had they done it. Then Moses [g]blessed them.

The Tabernacle Erected

EXODUS 40 The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]“On the [h]first day of the first month you shall [i]erect the tabernacle of the tent of meeting. [3]And you shall put in it the ark of the testimony, and you shall [j]screen the ark with the veil. [4]And [k]you shall bring in the table and arrange it, and [l]you shall bring in the lampstand and set up its lamps. [5] [m]And you shall put the golden altar for incense before the ark of the testimony, and set up the screen for the door of the tabernacle. [6] [n] You shall set the altar of burnt offering before the door of the tabernacle of the tent of meeting, [7] [o] and place the basin between the tent of meeting and the altar, and put water in it. [8]And you shall set up the court all around, and hang up the screen for the gate of the court.

[9]"Then you shall take the [p] anointing oil and anoint the tabernacle and all that is in it, and consecrate it and all its furniture, so that it may become holy. [10]You shall also anoint [q] the altar of burnt offering and all its utensils, and consecrate the altar, [r] so that the altar may become most holy. [11]You shall also anoint the basin and its stand, and consecrate it. [12][†] [s] Then you shall bring Aaron and his sons to the entrance of the tent of meeting and shall wash them with water [13]and put on Aaron the holy garments. And you shall anoint him and consecrate him, that he may serve me as priest. [14]You shall bring his sons also and put coats on them, [15] [t] and anoint them, as you anointed their father, that they may serve me as priests. And their anointing shall admit them to a [u] perpetual priesthood throughout their generations."

[16][†]This Moses did; according to all that the LORD commanded him, so he did. [17]In the first month in the second year, on the first day of the month, [v] the tabernacle was erected. [18]Moses erected the tabernacle. He laid its bases, and set up its frames, and put in its poles, and raised up its pillars. [19]And he spread the tent over the tabernacle and put the covering of the tent over it, as the LORD had commanded Moses. [20]He [w] took the testimony and put it into the ark, and put the poles on the ark and set the mercy seat above on the ark. [21]And he brought the ark into the tabernacle and [x] set up the veil of the screen, and screened [y] the ark of the testimony, as the LORD had commanded Moses. [22] [z] He put the table in the tent of meeting, on the north side of the tabernacle, outside the veil, [23]and arranged the bread on it before the LORD, as the LORD had commanded Moses. [24] [a] He put the lampstand in the tent of meeting, opposite the table on the south side of the tabernacle, [25] [b] and set up the lamps before the LORD, as the LORD had commanded Moses. [26] [c] He put the golden altar in the tent of meeting before the veil, [27]and burned fragrant incense on it, as the LORD had commanded Moses. [28] [d] He put in place the screen for the door of the tabernacle. [29] [e] And he set the altar of burnt offering at the entrance of the tabernacle of the tent of meeting, and offered on it the burnt offering and the [f] grain offering, as the LORD had commanded Moses. 30 [g] He set the basin between the tent of meeting and the altar, and put water in it for washing, 31with which Moses and [h] Aaron and his sons [i] washed their hands and their feet. 32When they went into the tent of meeting, and when they approached the altar, they washed, as the LORD commanded Moses. 33 [j] And he erected the court around the tabernacle and the altar, and set up the screen of the gate of the court. So [k] Moses finished the work.

The Glory of the LORD

34[†]Then [l] the cloud covered the tent of meeting, and [m] the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle. 35And Moses was not able to enter the tent of meeting because the cloud settled on it, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle. 36Throughout all their journeys, [n] whenever the cloud was taken up from over the tabernacle, the people of Israel would set out. 37But [o] if the cloud was not taken up, then they did not set out till the day that it was taken up. 38For the cloud of the LORD was on the tabernacle by day, and fire was in it by night, in the sight of all the house of Israel throughout all their journeys.

Study Notes for Exodus

EXODUS—NOTE ON 1:1–18:27 Exodus of Israel from Egypt. The first half of Exodus focuses on the departure of the people of Israel from Egypt.

FACT

As numerous as the stars. As the book of Exodus begins, some 350 years have passed since the end of Genesis. The 70 Israelites who went to Egypt have grown into a great multitude. This fulfills God's promise to multiply Abraham's descendants and to make them a blessing to all the nations of the world (Gen. 12:1–3; 15:5).

1:1–2:25 Setting: Israel in Egypt. The opening pages of Exodus set the stage for the rest of the book. Here we see the connection to the events of Genesis (Ex. 1:1–7), the oppression that has arisen under a new pharaoh (1:8–22), the preservation of Moses at birth (2:1–10) and later in Midian (2:11–22), and God's knowledge of Israel's suffering and his faithfulness to his covenant with Abraham and his descendants (2:23–25).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 1:1–7 These verses link Genesis and Exodus together. They connect Joseph bringing Jacob and his family to Egypt (see Gen. 46:8–27) and the death of that generation (see Gen. 50:26) with their descendants living in Egypt as the people of Israel.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 1:1 the sons of Israel who came to Egypt with Jacob. In Genesis God declared that Jacob would be called Israel (Gen. 32:28; 35:10). Using both names here connects the story of Exodus with the promise that God would be faithful to his covenant with Abraham and with Jacob (Gen. 35:11–12). God's faithfulness to his covenant promises is a central theme in Exodus (Ex. 2:24; 3:6–8, 15–17; 4:5; 6:2–8; 32:13).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 1:2–4 The names of Jacob's sons appear in birth order, grouped by their mothers (compare Gen. 35:23–26), though Joseph's name does not appear in the list.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 1:5 seventy persons. See note on Gen. 46:26–27.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 1:7 The Hebrew phrase translated the people of Israel is the same phrase as "the sons of Israel" in v. 1. Having mentioned the death of Joseph and all his generation (v. 6), the focus moves on from the 12 sons of Jacob to their offspring.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 1:8 The reference to a new leader in Egypt who did not know Joseph assumes that the reader is familiar with Joseph's history in Egypt (see Genesis 37–50, especially 41:37–45).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 1:11 The description of the taskmasters who afflict Israel echoes Gen. 15:13. Most scholars agree that the site of Raamses is at Qantir in the eastern Nile delta, about 12 miles (19 km) south of Tanis. Pithom is probably about 17 miles (27 km) southeast of Raamses.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 1:15–22 The defiant actions of the Hebrew midwives show that they feared God (vv. 17, 21) more than they feared the king of Egypt. Their actions introduce a central theme of the book of Exodus: Israel is called to fear God above any other ruler, nation, or circumstance.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 1:19 Some think that the midwives' answer is deceptive. It is not clear, however, that the reply is untrue; nor is it clear whether this is all that the women said. The narrator simply commends the women for refusing to go along with Pharaoh's murderous scheme.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 1:22 Pharaoh chooses to let every daughter live because he is primarily worried about Israel's sons fighting against Egypt (v. 10). However, some of Israel's daughters who fear God more than Pharaoh (Shiphrah and Puah, v. 15; Moses' mother and sister, 2:1–10) are part of the means by which God will bring his people out of slavery.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 2:1–22 These facts, together with the account of God's call on Moses (3:1–4:17), should lead the people of Israel to embrace Moses as God's authorized "prince and judge" (2:14) and lawgiver.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 2:2 Fine child must at least mean that Moses was healthy.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 2:7–9 Considering that she was a slave in Egypt, Moses' sister showed great courage in speaking to Pharaoh's daughter (v. 7). Her bold action results in Moses' mother's being paid wages to nurse her own son (v. 9).

FACT

Bitumen is a mineral found in Mesopotamia and Palestine. It was used as a mortar for setting bricks and for waterproofing rafts and boats (2:3).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 2:10 In Hebrew, the name Moses sounds like the verb “to draw out” (see ESV footnote). The name may also be related to the common Egyptian word for “son.” Since Pharaoh’s daughter clearly knows that Moses is a Hebrew child (vv. 6–9), it is possible that she chose the name for both its Hebrew and its Egyptian meanings.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 2:11 when Moses had grown up. Stephen says that Moses was 40 at this time (Acts 7:23). Even after being raised in Pharaoh’s house, Moses considers the Hebrew slaves to be his people.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 2:14 Who made you a prince and a judge over us? The words of the Hebrew man are a preview of the repeated grumbling of the Israelites as Moses leads them out of Egypt (see 5:21; 14:11, 12; 15:24; 16:2–3; 17:3).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 2:15 In sitting down by a well, Moses repeats the actions through which both Isaac (Gen. 24:11–28) and Jacob (Gen. 29:2–12) found their wives.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 2:18 Reuel is later referred to as “Jethro” (3:1; 4:18; 18:1). Clearly both names refer to the same person—the priest of Midian (2:16) who is Moses’ father-in-law.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 2:19 Moses apparently showed enough signs of his upbringing for Reuel’s daughters to assume he was Egyptian.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 2:23–25 The Lord does not view the offspring of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in terms of their years of slavery in Egypt but in terms of their covenant relationship with him.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 2:23 many days. Acts 7:30 understands this to be 40 years.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 2:24 remembered. See note on Gen. 8:1.

3:1–4:31 Call of Moses. These chapters focus primarily on the call of Moses at the burning bush (3:1–4:17). They also cover Moses' return from Midian to Egypt: the peaceful departure from Jethro (4:18–20), the Lord's reminder and further instruction to Moses (4:21–23), the preservation of Moses' life by Zipporah (4:24–26), and the arrival of Aaron before Moses met with the elders of Israel (4:27–31).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:1–4:17 Moses' call at the burning bush marks the beginning of his role as mediator between the Lord and his people.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:1 Horeb, the mountain of God. The mountain is also referred to as "Mount Sinai" (see 19:11). "Horeb" is the region where the mountain was located. Mount Sinai becomes known as "the mountain of God" because of the events that follow.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:2–4 These verses identify the angel of the LORD as the LORD and as God. The OT often closely identifies "the angel of the LORD" with God himself acting as his own messenger (e.g., Gen. 22:11–18). Here the angel appears to Moses in a flame of fire, a sign of God's presence.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:5 This is holy ground only because of God's presence, not because of anything special about the place. This is a theme in Exodus: God is holy, and he is the one who makes or declares places and people to be holy.

FACT

Holy means "set apart for God's special purpose." It is a condition of purity and freedom from sin. When the Bible speaks of God's holiness it means his utter separateness from everything else that exists, especially from all forms of evil.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:6 Moses is a descendant of Abraham and belongs to the people to whom God has pledged himself (see 2:23–25). Jesus quotes from this verse (Matt. 22:32), affirming that Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob still live.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:7–9 God tells Moses that he knows about Israel's affliction (I have . . . seen, heard, know; see also 2:23–25). He refers to the Hebrew slaves as my people (also 3:10). They belong to the group to whom he has made covenant promises.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:11–12 Who am I . . . ? Moses' question makes sense, and God does not criticize him for asking it (v. 11). "I will be with you." When the OT says that God is "with" someone, it means that God enables the person to do what God has asked him to do (see 4:12).

Covenantal Call and Dialogue

Moses' Questions and Concerns	Yahweh's Responses and Signs
Who am I that I should go? (3:11).	I will be with you; when you come out of Egypt, you will serve me on this mountain (3:12).
What is your name, that I may tell the people who sent me? (3:13).	I AM WHO I AM: Yahweh, the God of your fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (3:14–15).
How would the people believe that you have sent me? (4:1).	Yahweh turns Moses' rod into a serpent then back into a rod (4:2–4); Yahweh makes Moses' hand leprous and then heals it (4:6–7); Yahweh instructs Moses to turn water from the Nile into blood (4:9).
I am not eloquent; I am slow of speech (4:10).	I, Yahweh, am the one who made your mouth (4:11).
Please send someone else (4:13).	Aaron will go with you; you will speak my words to him and he will speak to the people for you (4:15–16).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:13 What is his name? Since Egyptians believed in many gods, it was essential to know the identity of the one true God (the God of your fathers). In ancient times, to know a person's name was to know something very essential about that person. Though Moses is apparently not familiar with God's name, this does not mean that the personal name of God was unknown to the Hebrews (see e.g., Gen. 4:26; 12:8; 26:25; 30:27). See note on Ex. 6:3–8.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:14 I AM WHO I AM. The three occurrences of "I AM" in v. 14 are all forms of the Hebrew verb "to be." Each relates to the divine name Yahweh ("the LORD"; see note on v. 15). The word translated "I am" can also be translated "I will be" (see ESV footnote). Given the context of v. 12 ("I will be with you"), the name of Yahweh ("the LORD") is a clear reminder of God's faithfulness to his people.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:15 The LORD. The ESV follows the tradition of replacing "Yahweh" (the four Hebrew consonants YHWH) with "the LORD" (with small capital letters). This practice goes back to the Septuagint, a pre-Christian Greek translation of the OT. Translating this term as "the LORD" also links up with the NT, which calls Christ "Lord," identifying him with the God of the OT.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:16–17 Go and gather the elders of Israel together and say to them. This is the first time Moses is told to relay the Lord's words to Israel.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:18 The powerful king of Egypt would think it ridiculous for Moses to make a request in the name of the LORD, the God of the Hebrews. What god would choose to be identified with a nation of slaves—and then also presume to make a request from the king of the nation that has enslaved them! let us go . . . that we may sacrifice to the LORD our God. This demand is repeated throughout the plagues: "Let my people go, that they may serve me" (7:16; 8:1, 20; 9:1, 13; 10:3). Israel's relationship with their Lord supersedes any claim that Pharaoh has on them.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 3:19 The strength of God's hand is the means by which he will bring Israel out of Egypt.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 4:10–12 slow of speech and of tongue. The magicians and advisers in Pharaoh's court were proud of their speaking abilities. Moses was fully justified in being concerned about his ability to present his case before Pharaoh.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 4:14 the anger of the LORD was kindled against Moses. Moses was responsible for doing what God had told him. Still, the Lord helps Moses by making Aaron his spokesman.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 4:16 He shall speak. A prophet is to speak only what God reveals, and all of what God reveals (see 7:1–2; Deut. 18:18–22). When God says that Moses shall be as God to Aaron, he is calling both of these men to faithfulness in speaking only what he reveals.

AARON

Aaron was Moses' brother and his spokesperson before Israel and Pharaoh. When Pharaoh refused to release the Hebrews, Aaron stretched out his rod to bring plagues upon the Egyptians. He helped Moses lead the Israelites out of Egypt and through the wilderness. At Sinai, however, Aaron gave in to the Israelites' sinful demand and designed a golden calf for them to worship. On another occasion, when the Lord miraculously provided water in the wilderness, both Moses and Aaron failed to give proper honor to the Lord, and as a result they were forbidden entry into the Promised Land. As a descendant of Levi, Aaron became Israel's first high priest, and all future priests were his descendants. (Exodus 4:15)

FACT

Putting words in his mouth? When God appointed Aaron as Moses' spokesperson (4:16), Moses was probably already familiar with the idea of someone being the "mouth" of another person. In ancient Egypt, there was a high official known as "the mouth of the king" whose job was to speak to the people of Egypt on behalf of Pharaoh.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 4:18–31 These verses are a transition from Moses' exile in Midian to his return to Egypt.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 4:21 I will harden his heart. The hardening of Pharaoh's heart is referred to throughout chs. 4–14, emphasizing Pharaoh's responsibility for his own actions (e.g., 8:15, 32; 9:34). However, the Lord states here that it is his sovereign hand that ultimately governs the events. Even if God hardens a sinner's heart, however, that person still remains responsible for his sin. See Rom. 9:16–18.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 4:22–23 Israel is my firstborn son. God has remembered his covenant with Abraham (see Gen. 15:13–21). He will bring his people to the land promised to their fathers (see Gen. 15:16; 28:15). Israel's true identity goes back to a time long before they had been in Egypt's service.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 4:24–26 The covenant requires circumcision (Gen. 17:9–14). Failure to be circumcised may lead to being "cut off" (some form of severe punishment from God; see note on Ex. 12:15).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 4:27 Aaron is to meet Moses at the mountain of God, which is also where Moses first received the call to lead Israel out of Egypt (see 3:1 and note).

5:1–7:7 Moses and Aaron: Initial Request. This section describes Moses' and Aaron's initial audience and request before Pharaoh (5:1–21) and the Lord's promises and encouragement in light of Pharaoh's response (5:22–6:9; 7:1–7). It also includes a genealogy of Moses and Aaron (6:10–30).

FACT

Pharaoh. Egypt's kings, called pharaohs, had absolute power over everything in Egypt. The OT mentions at least 10 different pharaohs.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 5:1 Thus says the LORD. Such statements of divine authority were common in the ancient Near East (compare v. 10) and among Hebrew prophets (e.g., Isa. 38:4–8; Jer. 2:1–2).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 5:2 Pharaoh's statement that he does not know the Lord may show a lack of knowledge of God's true identity, but it also shows his defiance against any claim the Lord might have on him. By contrast, God's desire is that his people might "know that I am the LORD" (8:10; see also 7:5, 17; 8:22; 9:14, 29; 10:2; 11:7).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 5:10 Thus says Pharaoh. Note the contrast to "Thus says the LORD" (v. 1).

FACT

Why was straw needed for making bricks? To withstand the harsh weather in Egypt, buildings needed especially strong bricks. Mixing straw with the clay allowed the clay to bind together and helped the bricks to dry evenly (5:10).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 5:15–16 In Pharaoh's presence, Israel's foremen refer to themselves as your servants, which is highlighted by its repetition. In stark contrast, the Lord has called Israel "my people" (v. 1).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 5:22–23 Although the Lord had promised that he would deliver his people (3:8) and had predicted that Pharaoh would resist letting them go (3:19–20; 4:21), Moses did not know exactly how this would happen. His first encounter with Pharaoh seemed to have brought evil by making both Israel's situation and Pharaoh's disposition worse than before.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 6:1 The strong hand in this verse belongs to God, not to Pharaoh. The Hebrew verb translated "send . . . out" is translated "let . . . go" in 3:20 and in the repeated command, "Let my people go" (e.g., 8:1).

The Battle between Yahweh and the Rulers of Egypt

Exodus tells about the plagues God brings about as he frees his people from Egypt. The plagues affect areas of life supposedly protected by Egypt's gods. Thus, they show God's power over the gods of the world's mightiest nation.

	Type of Plague	Reference	Warning?	Time of Warning	Instruction	Agent	Staff?	Pharaoh promises to let people go?	Pharaoh's heart hardened?

1st Cycle	1. Nile to blood	7:14–25	Yes	In the morning	Go to Pharaoh; Stand	Aaron	Yes	—	Yes

EXODUS—NOTE ON 6:3–8 God appeared to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (e.g., Gen. 17:1; 26:2; 28:13), but by my name the LORD I did not make myself known to them. This may mean that the patriarchs did not fully understand the essential character of God as represented by the name Yahweh.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 6:6 redeem. See note on 15:13.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 6:7 I will take you to be my people, and I will be your God expresses the central idea of Israel’s relationship with the Lord (see Deut. 7:6–9). God will give them great blessing, protection, and joy. and you shall know that I am the LORD your God. God will reveal himself to Israel through his acts on their behalf (see Ex. 10:2).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 6:12 I am of uncircumcised lips (compare v. 30). It is difficult to determine whether Moses means something different from being “slow of speech and of tongue” (4:10). The phrase may echo 4:24–26. If so, Moses could be saying that he feels not only physically unable to speak (4:10) but also personally unfit to fulfill the task (compare Isa. 6:5).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 6:14–25 The genealogy begins as if the sons or heads of the household of Jacob’s sons will be listed in birth order (v. 14). First it names the sons of Reuben (v. 14b) and then Simeon (v. 15). Then it stops to focus on the sons of Levi (v. 16) and in particular on Aaron, Moses (v. 20), and Aaron’s sons (vv. 23, 25). The genealogy functions primarily to preserve (1) the family history of Moses and Aaron as the ones through whom the Lord led Israel out of Egypt, and (2) the history of Aaron’s sons as those who were called to be priests in Israel (see 28:1). Other figures in the genealogy are likely included because of their roles in events narrated in the book of Numbers: the sons of Korah (Ex. 6:24; Num. 16:1–50); and Aaron's grandson Phinehas (Ex. 6:25; Num. 25:1–9). Like many biblical genealogies, this one does not include every single generation.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 7:5 The Egyptians shall know that I am the LORD. The Hebrew term translated "the LORD" is the name God revealed to Moses (3:14–15). The Egyptians will know "that I am Yahweh," Israel's covenant God. See note on 5:2.

FACT

Lord of all creation. Each of the 10 plagues showed clearly that the God of Israel was infinitely more powerful than the false gods of the Egyptians.

7:8–15:21 Plagues and Exodus. This section includes the initial sign that Moses and Aaron perform before Pharaoh (7:8–13), the first nine plagues (7:14–10:29) leading up to the lengthy account and instructions surrounding the tenth plague and the exodus (11:1–13:16), and the crossing of the Red Sea and subsequent celebration (13:17–15:21).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 7:9 The staff signifies that God is the one working the signs through Moses and Aaron (see 4:1–17). See chart.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 7:11–12 This is the first of three times where the magicians of Egypt see the sign that Aaron performs and then do the same by their secret arts (also v. 22; 8:7). "Magician" likely refers to men who saw themselves as using their magic arts to serve Egypt's gods but who also were considered teachers of wisdom. Exodus does not provide any further explanation of how the magicians performed these signs. Although the magicians were able to perform each sign, they did not control the situation completely, as when Aaron's staff swallowed up their staffs.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 7:13 While the recurring references to the hardness of Pharaoh's heart show that the Lord is sovereign over the events (see 4:21; 7:3), they also show that Pharaoh is responsible for his own actions (see also 8:15, 32). See also Ps. 95:8; Heb. 3:7–4:13.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 7:14 Then the LORD said to Moses. This phrase introduces each plague (see 8:1, 16, 20; 9:1, 8, 13; 10:1, 21; 11:1). The events are governed by the word of the Lord spoken to Moses. Pharaoh’s heart is hardened. Even before the first plague, the Lord had said he would harden Pharaoh’s heart (4:21; 7:3). Pharaoh showed the state of his heart by refusing to listen (7:13).

FACT

River turned to blood. Egypt’s most important gods were associated with the Nile River. Turning the Nile to blood proved that the God of Israel had supreme control of the rivers.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 7:16 The LORD, the God of the Hebrews. To the king of a powerful nation like Egypt, the Lord’s identification with an enslaved people would seem to indicate that he had no power or authority. However, the Lord will reveal otherwise.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 7:19 even in vessels of wood and . . . stone. The extent of the first plague shows that it is not the result of natural causes.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 7:24–25 The description of the Egyptian people digging for water (v. 24) and the time frame of seven full days (v. 25) indicate that the magicians could not reverse the effects of the plague or cleanse the Nile.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 8:3–4 The account emphasizes that the effects will extend beyond the water of the Nile.

FACT

Frogs. The Egyptians worshiped the god Hekt, who was portrayed as having the head of a frog.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 8:7 This is the third time that the magicians observed the sign Aaron performed and then did the same by their secret arts (see 7:11–12 and note; 7:22). In each case, the narrator offers no further comment on the magicians’ work but focuses instead on how the events show God’s power.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 8:8 Pharaoh told Moses and Aaron to plead with the LORD to take away the frogs. Pharaoh knows the magicians of Egypt cannot do this. Even after this demonstration of God’s power, Pharaoh thinks it is up to him whether to keep Israel or to let the people go.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 8:14–15 Even when the Lord removes the frogs as Pharaoh asks, Pharaoh still refuses to obey.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 8:15 As the LORD had said (see 7:13, 22; 8:19; also 9:12, 35) further underscores that God controls the events.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 8:18–19 Some of Pharaoh's servants (see also 10:7) recognize that the God of Moses and Aaron has power over Egypt. Pharaoh's persistent defiance is harming his own people.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 8:20–21 In his message to Pharaoh the Lord refers to Israel as my people (v. 20; see 3:7) and to Egypt as your people (8:21). God will treat the two groups differently in the fourth plague.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 8:22 The land of Goshen (perhaps the eastern delta in Egypt) was originally given to Jacob and his family (Gen. 47:4–6). that you may know that I am the LORD in the midst of the earth. The Lord states repeatedly that the purpose of the plagues is that Pharaoh and the Egyptians would know who the Lord is (see note on Ex. 5:2).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 8:28 Even as he asks for Moses to intercede for him, Pharaoh tries to preserve some appearance of power by setting the conditions under which he would let Israel go (only you must not go very far away).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 9:1 the God of the Hebrews. Compare 3:18; 7:16. After the fourth plague (8:20–32), Pharaoh should begin to understand that the Lord favors Israel. This will be seen in the fifth plague (9:1–7) as well.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 9:8 Here the Lord commands Moses to bring about the sign. Moses is maturing in his leadership role.

FACT

Death of livestock. A number of the Egyptian gods were portrayed as having the head of an animal: Apis and Mnevis (bulls) and Khnum (a ram). Isis was depicted with cow horns on her head.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 9:9 The boils of the sixth plague are the first plague to affect the Egyptians physically. The plagues continue to grow both in what they show of the Lord's power and in their direct effect on the lives of Pharaoh and his people.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 9:13–35 The Lord explains to Pharaoh the power and purposes of the plagues (vv. 14–17). It is the first time he offers Pharaoh a way to avoid the effects of a plague (vv. 18–19).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 9:14–16 Although Pharaoh considered himself a representative of divine power, the plagues have revealed that there is no one like the Lord in all the earth (see v. 29). It was only by God's mercy that Egypt had not yet been destroyed from the earth. In God's plan, Pharaoh's main purpose was to show the Lord's power, so that the Lord's name would be proclaimed in all the earth.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 9:14 this time I will send all my plagues on you yourself. Literally (see ESV footnote), "this time I will send all my plagues on your heart" (that is, on Pharaoh's hard heart).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 9:18–21 Explaining how to find safe shelter from the hail was a test to indicate who had taken the plagues to heart and now feared the word of the LORD. The reference to those who did not pay attention to the word of the LORD again focuses on the hearts of Pharaoh and his servants (see v. 14). The Hebrew phrase is literally, "whoever did not set his heart to the word of the Lord."

EXODUS—NOTE ON 9:27 This time I have sinned. Even though he admits guilt for the first time, Pharaoh is still wrong: he has sinned in response to each plague, not just "this time."

EXODUS—NOTE ON 9:31–32 The explanation about Egypt's crops indicates that Pharaoh took comfort from what remained in his land rather than acknowledging the destruction that had already come.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 9:34 he . . . hardened his heart, he and his servants. Pharaoh's resistance to the Lord encourages his servants to adopt the same attitude.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 9:35 The two references to the heart of Pharaoh represent both his responsibility for his own actions (v. 34) and the Lord's sovereign control (v. 35; see also 10:1).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 10:1 I have hardened his heart and the heart of his servants. From here on, it is usually the Lord who is referred to as hardening the heart of Pharaoh (see note on 4:21).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 10:2 The Lord has Moses tell Pharaoh several times that he brought the plagues to the Egyptians so that you may know that I am the LORD. Here, he reminds Moses that this is also his purpose for Israel (see 6:7).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 10:6 The warning, timing, and extent of this plague indicate that, like the hail of the seventh plague, it was not simply a normal experience.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 10:7 Like the magicians in 8:19, some of Pharaoh's servants recognize what the plagues signify and boldly suggest to Pharaoh that he is not acting in his people's best interest.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 10:8–11 Pharaoh listens to his servants (v. 7). For the first time he calls Moses and Aaron back before a plague begins. However, as before, Pharaoh responds to Moses' answer with only partial obedience to the Lord's command. Then he angrily sends them away.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 10:17 Pharaoh pleads with Moses and Aaron that his sin be forgiven only this once. Compare "This time I have sinned" (9:27; see also 9:14). He recognizes neither the nature of his actions nor the seriousness of what the plagues represent.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 10:19 Red Sea. See note on 13:18.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 10:24 Pharaoh has offered to let the Israelites go and sacrifice "within the land" (8:25), without "your little ones" (10:9–11), and now without your flocks and your herds. Pharaoh is trying to keep some control over Israel by offering these compromises. He continues to ignore what the Lord has told him to do.

FACT

Was Pharaoh considered a god? According to some ancient Egyptian sources, each morning the pharaoh would conduct "the Rite of the House of the Morning," a ritual believed to awaken the sun god, causing the sun to rise.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 10:27–29 The interchange between Pharaoh and Moses in v. 28 may indicate that the warning of the tenth plague (11:4–8) comes while Moses is still in Pharaoh's presence.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 11:1–15:21 The chapters describing the tenth and final plague include extended accounts relating to: the warning (11:1–10); the instructions for Israel's Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread (12:1–28); the plague (12:29–32); the exodus (12:33–42); the statute for the Passover (12:43–51); the command to consecrate the firstborn and celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread (13:1–16); how Israel went out of Egypt (13:17–22); the events of the Red Sea (14:1–31); and the songs of Moses (15:1–18) and Miriam (15:19–21).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 11:1 Yet one plague more. This is the first time Moses is told precisely when the plagues will end.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 11:2–3 The Lord instructs Israel to ask the Egyptians for silver and gold, a fulfillment of what he told Moses at the burning bush (3:21–22).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 11:4 This time, when Moses declares, "Thus says the LORD," he does not repeat the request to let Israel go. This points to the finality of the coming plague.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 11:5 Earlier, God referred to Israel as "my firstborn son" (4:22) and said that Pharaoh's refusal would result in the death of his firstborn (4:23). Since Pharaoh is his people's representative, the plagues impact both him and his people.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 11:7 The LORD makes a distinction between Egypt and Israel, not because of anything good in Israel or bad in Egypt. Rather, this distinction is based on the Lord's complete rule over all nations and his covenant promises to Abraham (see Deut. 7:6–11).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:1–28 The people of Israel are called to act obediently so that the Lord will "pass over" them during the tenth plague.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:2 The events of the plagues and the exodus are so significant for Israel's identity as an emerging nation that the month they come out of Egypt will become for them the first month of the year.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:8 The Passover lamb is to be eaten with unleavened bread. Israel would be leaving Egypt so quickly that they would have packed up their dough before it rose (vv. 34, 39).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:11 Similar to the instruction about unleavened bread (v. 8), Israel is to eat the Passover dressed in a way that symbolizes their leaving Egypt in the middle of the night (vv. 31–34).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:12 Yahweh is the only true God of heaven and earth, and he is acting on the Israelites' behalf. This is being displayed in judgment on Egypt's land, animals, people, king, and gods.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:13 The blood placed on the doorway of the houses of Israel functioned both as the sign that they were a part of the Lord's people and as the signal that their house should be protected by the Lord (see also vv. 21–23).

FACT

What is the purpose of a "sign"? A "sign" is a visible symbol of God's work on his people's behalf. Throughout Scripture, God gives signs to his people as reminders of his presence, power, and promises. The blood placed on the doorway of the Israelites' houses was a sign (12:13) that the Israelites were the Lord's people and that he would protect them from death.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:14–20 The instructions in this section relate particularly to the way that Israel will celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread in the Promised Land.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:15 that person shall be cut off from Israel (also v. 19). Eating leavened bread during the Passover was a serious sin. Although being "cut off" is the punishment for several violations of the law (e.g., Gen. 17:14; Lev. 7:20–21; 20:17), it is not usually stated whether the community or the Lord will carry out the punishment (see note on Ex. 31:14–15). In this case, it is possible that the people themselves were to remove the violator from the celebration of the Passover. This would have been a merciful warning against disregarding the covenant so that the person would not be "cut off" forever.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:19 a sojourner or a native of the land. See vv. 43–49. The sojourners were non-Israelites, living among Israel. Often they were converts to the Lord.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:22 hyssop. A bushy shrub used as a brush in cleansing ceremonies (see Lev. 14:4–7; Num. 19:6, 18).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:23 when he sees the blood. See note on v. 13.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:35–36 Israel’s asking for silver and gold jewelry and for clothing (v. 35) fulfills what the Lord had promised Moses at the burning bush (3:22) and what he had promised Abraham—that his descendants would come out (of Egypt) “with great possessions” (Gen. 15:14).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:37 While the sons of Jacob and their families arrived in Egypt with 70 persons (see 1:5), the people of Israel who were going out of the land now numbered more than six hundred thousand . . . , besides women and children. This would suggest a total of about 2 million people.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:39 Israel’s inability to prepare any provisions for themselves is merciful because the Lord will continually demonstrate his provision for them. Israel needs to fully trust the Lord during the journey to Sinai (see 15:24; 16:2; 17:2–3).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:41 The reference to Israel as the hosts of the LORD (also vv. 17, 51; 7:4) brings to mind a military image. The pharaoh mentioned in 1:8 had enslaved Israel because he feared they would form a military alliance with one of Egypt’s enemies (1:10). Yet now, when Israel is equipped for battle, it is not to fight Egypt but to be ready to go into the land the Lord has promised them (13:18).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 12:43–49 The rules related to the Passover were necessary in light of the “mixed multitude” that went out of Egypt with Israel (v. 38). Participation in the feasts required that a person be identified as a part of God’s people by being circumcised (v. 48).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 13:2 In addition to the yearly sacrifice of the Passover (see 12:1–13), Israel is also called to consecrate to the Lord all the firstborn in Israel, whether animal or human. The instructions for how and why this is to be done are given in 13:11–16. This reminds Israel that their firstborn sons were spared (v. 15). “Consecrate” means “make holy by giving to God.” Thus the firstborn of sacrificial animals, such as sheep and cattle, had to be sacrificed.

However, firstborn donkeys and humans had to be redeemed: a lamb was offered in sacrifice instead of them (vv. 12–13).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 13:3 The repeated statement that the Lord brought his people out by a strong hand (also vv. 9, 14, 16) is the reason Israel is called to be faithful in keeping both the Feast of Unleavened Bread (vv. 3, 9) and the consecration of all the firstborn (vv. 14, 16). The statement also seems to be intended to encourage Israel to fear the Lord instead of the nations who inhabit the land of Canaan (see vv. 5, 11).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 13:6–7 These instructions relate to the Feast of Unleavened Bread, which begins with the celebration of Passover and is observed for seven days (see 12:14–20).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 13:9 The Lord's rules should govern Israel so fully that they would be obvious, like marks on your hand and between your eyes (also v. 16). that the law of the LORD may be in your mouth. They are to remind themselves and their children about the Lord's rules (Deut. 6:7).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 13:11–16 set apart to the LORD all that first opens the womb (v. 12). Every firstborn was regarded as belonging to the Lord. And when in time to come your son asks you, "What does this mean?" you shall say . . . (vv. 14–15). Parents were to explain to their children why they did the things that the Lord asked of them.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 13:17 Although the Lord has clearly shown that he can bring his people victoriously through the land of the Philistines, he mercifully chooses to take them on another route that will not lead to immediate armed conflict. However, this route will result in Israel being hemmed in between the Red Sea and Pharaoh's army of chariots (see 14:5–9).

FACT

The word redeem (13:13) means to free someone or something from harm by paying a price. Jesus is the supreme example of redemption in the Bible. He paid the ultimate price—his very life—to bring freedom from sin and eternal life to all who would put their trust in him, irrespective of background.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 13:18 toward the Red Sea. Here and in other accounts of the crossing of the sea, the water is referred to as Yam Sup (see also 15:4; Deut. 11:4; Ps. 106:7, 9, 22). Some modern scholars interpret Yam Sup as "Sea of Reeds/Papyrus." Because papyrus does not grow along the Red Sea/Gulf of Suez, some scholars have concluded that the Yam Sup is one of the marshy lakes in the area north of the Red Sea. They think the Israelites crossed a marshy area of a lake rather than a large body of water such as the Red Sea. Other scholars disagree, proposing that sup is related to a word that means "end." So yam sup would refer to the sea at the end of the land of Egypt (that is, the Red Sea). Every certain reference to yam sup in the Bible refers to the Red Sea or its northern extensions in the Gulfs of Aqaba and Suez (e.g., 1 Kings 9:26; Jer. 49:21). This suggests that the name Yam Sup is best understood to denote the Red Sea/Gulf of Suez and, therefore, the Israelites crossed this major body of water when they fled Egypt.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 13:19 Taking the bones of Joseph to Canaan fulfilled his last wishes (Gen. 50:24–25) and reaffirmed that God had kept his promises.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 13:21–22 Throughout the events of Exodus, cloud and fire signify God's presence (3:2; 16:10; 19:18; 40:38).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 14:2 The body of water that Israel is about to cross is referred to simply as "the sea" in this section. The exact route of the exodus is uncertain, but it is likely that they crossed the Red Sea at its northern end (see note on 13:18).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 14:4 The content of this verse is repeated nearly verbatim in vv. 17–18.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 14:5 What is this we have done . . . ? This arrogant question exhibits the hardness of heart that the Lord said he would bring about (see vv. 4, 8, 17).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 14:7 Chariots were a significant advantage in ancient Near Eastern warfare. Egypt was skilled in their use, as indicated by the six hundred chosen chariots in addition to all the others. Pharaoh was using his most imposing weapons to fight against what appeared to be a wandering and trapped nation.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 14:10 they feared greatly. God calls Israel to fear him more than any human force (see vv. 13, 31).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 14:12 When the people of Israel say, “it would have been better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in the wilderness,” they are forgetting that the Lord himself brought them to this place.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 14:13 Fear not. Israel is being called once again not to fear any other nation or circumstance (see v. 10) but to fear the Lord (see v. 31).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 14:17–18 Although the plagues have continually revealed that all honor belongs to the Lord, and not to Pharaoh, the victory over Pharaoh’s chariots in the Red Sea will increase the Lord’s status in Egypt and the surrounding nations (see 9:16; 15:14–16).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 14:19 the angel of God. See note on 3:2–4.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 14:22 The text is clear that this is not a purely natural event. Similar events will take place when Joshua leads Israel across the Jordan into Canaan (Josh. 3:14–17), when Elijah and Elisha cross the Jordan together (2 Kings 2:8), and when Elisha returns across the Jordan alone (2 Kings 2:14).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 14:31 they believed in the LORD and in his servant Moses. Since the Lord has chosen Moses as the one through whom he will reveal his word, Israel must learn to follow Moses (see vv. 10, 13).

FACT

Chariots (14:23) were two-wheeled vehicles pulled by horses. They were made of wood and leather. Mainly intended for battle, chariots often had two riders: a driver and a warrior. Chariots were also used for hunting and for transportation. They were symbols of wealth and power. Egyptian pharaohs were sometimes buried with a chariot.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:1–18 The song of praise is a celebration of the Lord’s triumph over Pharaoh’s army in the Red Sea. It is similar to other songs or psalms in both the OT and NT that celebrate particular events: Deborah and Barak’s song in response to victory over Sisera and Jabin (Judg. 5:1–31); Hannah’s song at Samuel’s birth (1 Sam. 2:1–10); Mary’s response to the angel’s news (Luke 1:46–55); and Zechariah’s prophecy after John the Baptist’s birth (Luke 1:68–79).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:1 the horse and his rider he has thrown into the sea. The drowning of Pharaoh’s army is the central event celebrated by the song.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:2 My father’s God echoes the Lord’s words to Moses at the burning bush (“the God of your father”; 3:6).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:4 Red Sea. See note on 13:18.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:6 right hand (v. 12; compare v. 16). See also 6:1; 7:4–5.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:9 While the words of the enemy refer first of all to the actions of the Egyptians (pursue, overtake; see 14:9) who intended to bring Israel back to serve as their slaves (see 14:5), they also represent the pride and desire of any adversary of the Lord and his people (that is, to divide the spoil, destroy).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:13–18 These verses describe Israel’s journey out of Egypt and into Canaan. They anticipate the surrounding peoples’ fear. your own mountain, the place . . . you have made for your abode (v. 17). In one sense, all of Canaan is to be God’s dwelling. But his “abode” may refer more specifically to the hill of Jerusalem, where God’s temple will stand.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:13 Redeemed refers to God’s dealings for the sake of his people. Compare 6:6; Ps. 77:15; 106:10; Isa. 52:9. See note on Isa. 41:14.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:16 purchased. An image for how God “acquired” his people through his great deeds on their behalf. Compare Ps. 74:2.

15:22–18:27 Journey. Israel journeys from Egypt to Rephidim and responds to difficulties like the need for water (15:22–27; 17:1–7) and food (16:1–36). The narrative also includes two difficult situations the people face while encamped at Rephidim: the external attack by another nation (17:8) and the internal question of how to help the people make decisions according to God’s will (ch. 18). From Rephidim Israel will make their final short journey to the wilderness of Sinai (see 19:2).

MIRIAM

Miriam was the sister of Moses and Aaron. It was probably Miriam who saw Pharaoh’s daughter rescue Moses from the water, and offered to call a Hebrew woman to nurse the child. As a result, Moses was nursed by his own mother, who was paid wages to care for him. Miriam was a prophetess. Following the exodus she led the women of Israel in song and dance to celebrate God’s deliverance. Along with Aaron, she criticized Moses for marrying a Cushite woman, thus challenging his authority. God punished Miriam by inflicting her with leprosy, though she was healed after Moses prayed for her. Micah 6:4 lists Miriam alongside her brothers as one whom God appointed to lead Israel. (Exodus 15:20–21)

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:22–27 The people of Israel do not trust that the Lord’s presence is sufficient for their protection and provision. This will be a recurring struggle in the journey to Sinai (see 16:2–3; 17:2–3) and beyond.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:24–26 grumbled. Israel had just seen the power of the Lord unforgettably demonstrated, yet they failed to trust him. In contrast, Moses cried to the LORD to meet their needs. The statute was intended to demonstrate that if the people would diligently listen to the voice of the LORD, he would always heal them.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:25–26 The statute calls Israel to obey all that the Lord has commanded and all that he will reveal later. This requires that the people follow Moses, through whom they will listen to the voice of the LORD.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 15:27 Elim, with its twelve springs and seventy palm trees, showed Israel that, since the Lord was leading them, they should not complain too quickly about difficult circumstances.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 16:2 Although the people grumbled against Moses and Aaron, Moses will make it clear that their complaint is really against the Lord (see v. 7).

FACT

Manna for Christians today? The manna that appeared each morning with the dew foreshadowed Jesus Christ, who is the true Bread from heaven (John 6:30–58).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 16:3 When the people of Israel wish that they had died, they show that they have not understood who God is and how he is working to fulfill his promises.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 16:4 When God provided bread from heaven, it met Israel's physical needs and showed that their whole lives were to be sustained by the Lord and governed by his word.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 16:7 The people are responding to the Lord's power as if it is disconnected from who he is (see v. 3). Moses says that they will see the glory of the LORD (v. 10), which is a sign of his presence (see 24:16–17; 40:34–35).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 16:15 The term "manna" (see v. 31) sounds like the Hebrew phrase "What is it?" (see ESV footnote).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 16:20 When the people do not listen to Moses, they are not obeying the Lord, who chose Moses to lead them.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 16:22–30 The instructions for gathering manna for six days and resting on the seventh as a holy Sabbath (v. 23) begin to shape Israel in the pattern of regular work and rest.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 16:24 The manna's condition (without stink and worms) is controlled, as their lives should be, by the word of the Lord (see v. 28).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 16:32–34 placed it before the testimony. The "testimony" refers to the two tablets of the Ten Commandments (see 31:18; 34:28–29) that will be placed in the ark (see 25:16).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 16:35 That Israel ate manna till they came to the border of the land of Canaan indicates that at least this verse was written after Israel had finished its wandering in the wilderness (see Josh. 5:12).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 17:2 The people again quarrel with Moses. He wonders why they continue to test the LORD (see also v. 7). They show a hardness of heart like Pharaoh and the Egyptians, which is how Ps. 95:7–9 describes these events.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 17:6 at Horeb. See note on 3:1. I will stand before you there on the rock. A further example of God's promise to Moses, "I will be with you" (3:12). The Lord's presence presumably was in the pillar of cloud (see 13:21–22). Because of God's promise to stand there "on the rock," some interpreters see a close identification between God's presence and the rock itself. The command, you shall strike the rock, is therefore understood as a command to strike God himself, the source of the life-giving water that flowed from the rock.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 17:7 The place where these events happened will bear names that reflect the events (see ESV footnotes). The names will be a reminder for the people.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 17:8–16 While Israel is camped at Rephidim (v. 8; compare v. 1), they are attacked by the people of Amalek, who inhabited the northern Sinai peninsula (Gen. 14:7).

FACT

Who were the Amalekites? The Amalekites were nomads living in the northern Sinai peninsula. They were the first to attack the Israelites after the exodus. They remained a threat to Israel for hundreds of years.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 17:9–13 The focus on Moses' hand(s) (vv. 9, 11, 12) indicates two things that the Israelites need to take to heart: (1) Moses is the Lord's choice to lead Israel (notice that Moses' hands relate to who prevailed; v. 11); and (2) the Lord is bringing about their deliverance through Moses (signified by the staff of God in Moses' hand).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 17:9 This is the first mention of Joshua, who will act as an assistant to Moses (see 24:13; 33:11). He will be among the few who are faithful in the wilderness (see Num. 14:6–9, 30). He will succeed Moses, leading Israel into Canaan (see Josh. 1:1–9).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 17:14–16 No explicit reason is given for the severity of the Lord's judgment on Amalek. (But see note on Josh. 6:17–18.) A later reference to the event (Deut. 25:17–19) says that Amalek "did not fear God," having attacked the people of Israel who were trailing behind and tired from the journey. The Amalekites still posed a threat to Israel in the days of Saul and David (1 Sam. 15:3).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 18:1–27 Jethro, the priest of Midian, Moses' father-in-law (see 3:1; 4:18). These verses repeat and emphasize several times Jethro's relationship to Moses.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 18:2 Zipporah was last mentioned traveling with Moses on the way back to Egypt (see 4:20, 24–26). The narrative does not describe why Moses sent her home, though it was probably for her safety. The interchange between Jethro and Moses appears to signify a relationship of peace and goodwill.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 18:3–4 The names of Moses' sons remind Moses (and Israel) of his time as a sojourner (see 2:22) in another land and that Yahweh, the God of his father, was his help (see 3:6).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 18:5 The provision of water from a rock takes place at Horeb (see 17:6) while Israel is camped at Rephidim (17:1, 8). The reference to Moses being encamped at the mountain of God seems to indicate that the events of this chapter occur at the same place. From here Israel will make the short trip to Mount Sinai (19:2).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 18:8–12 Having heard what the Lord has done on Israel's behalf, Jethro responds in a way that shows more faith than the response of those who had experienced the Lord's power firsthand.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 18:13–26 Jethro upholds Moses' role as the one through whom Israel would know the statutes of God and his laws (v. 16). He helps Moses find a way to have others bear the burden of judging the people (v. 22), thus ensuring their well-being.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 19:1–40:38 Covenant at Sinai. The second half of Exodus focuses on the events at Mount Sinai and the content of the law revealed to Moses.

19:1–25 Setting: Sinai. Israel arrives at Mount Sinai, where the rest of the events of Exodus will take place and where the Lord will reveal his covenant through Moses. In ch. 19, the Lord tells Moses how to prepare Israel for his presence at Sinai.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 19:1–3 When Israel comes to the wilderness of Sinai and camps at the mountain, the Lord's promise to Moses is fulfilled. He has brought the people out of Egypt and they will "serve God on this mountain" (3:12). On the third new moon means they arrived at Sinai about seven weeks after the exodus.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 19:4–6 The Lord calls Israel to be faithful to his covenant with them even before he has fully revealed it to them.

FACT

On eagles' wings. The kind of eagle that the author of Exodus probably had in mind had a wingspan of 8 to 10 feet (2–3 m), making it a fitting symbol of the Lord's ability to rescue his people from their life of slavery in Egypt.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 19:6 When the Lord calls Israel a kingdom of priests and a holy nation, he is referring to what Israel's life as a whole is to represent among the nations. By keeping the covenant (v. 5), the people of Israel would continue not only to set themselves apart from the surrounding nations but also to mediate the presence and blessing of the Lord to them (see Gen. 12:3; note on Isa. 61:5–7). When Peter applies these terms to the church (1 Pet. 2:5, 9), he is calling believers to faithfulness so that those around them "may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day of visitation" (1 Pet. 2:12).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 19:10–13 Through the instructions to consecrate the people and to set limits, the Lord is preparing Israel for the worship that will occur in the tabernacle (see 26:31–37). The Hebrew word for "consecrate" means to "set apart as holy." Moses is to prepare Israel to come before a holy God. wash their garments. Consecration includes changes in daily living (see 19:17).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 19:15 The instruction to not go near a woman probably includes abstaining from sex as a way of preparing to meet with God (compare Lev. 15:16–18). It does not imply that there is anything inherently unacceptable either in sexual relations or in women.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 19:16–20 All of these sights and sounds signify the Lord's presence (v. 18).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 19:22–24 The reference to the priests precedes the Lord's instructions that Aaron and his sons will fill that role (see 28:1). If Aaron's sons are being referred to here, they are grouped with the people who are restricted from coming up on the mountain. break out against them. That is, kill them (compare Lev. 10:1–2; 2 Sam. 6:6–8).

20:1–23:33 Covenant Words and Rules. This section records what will later be referred to as the "Book of the Covenant" (24:7) and includes: the Ten Commandments (20:1–21); instructions on worship (20:22–26; 23:10–19); rules and principles for community life (21:1–23:9); and instructions for entering the land of Canaan (23:20–33).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:1–21 (See note on Deut. 5:1–21.) The Ten Commandments or "ten words" (see ESV footnote at Ex. 34:28) are highlighted as the core of the covenant conditions revealed to Moses. They define the life that God calls his people to live before him (20:1–11) and with each other (vv. 12–17). The commandments are not exhaustive, but they show how to remain faithful to the Lord. NT authors assume the applicability of these commands in shaping the moral life of both Jewish and Gentile Christians (e.g., Rom. 13:9–10; Eph. 6:2).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:1 When God spoke all these words, he did so in such a way that all the people could hear. Compare "I have talked with you from heaven" (v. 22).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:2 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of . . . Egypt. Throughout Israel's history, the Lord will identify himself in terms of his deliverance of the nation from Egypt (e.g., Judg. 6:8; 1 Sam. 10:18; Ps. 81:10; Jer. 34:13).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:3 You shall have no other gods. The Lord demands exclusive covenant loyalty. As the one true God, he cannot tolerate the worship of any "other gods" (22:20; 23:13, 24, 32). before me. This Hebrew expression most likely refers to worshiping other gods in addition to the Lord. Even though this commandment does not comment on whether these "other gods" might exist, Moses' statement to a later generation makes clear that only "the LORD is God; there is no other besides him" (Deut. 4:35, 39; see also Isa. 45:5–6). See also note on Deut. 5:7.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:4–6 You shall not make for yourself a carved image. The Lord commands Israel not to craft an image of anything in heaven or earth for worship. This is because the Lord is a jealous God (see 34:14; Deut. 6:15). The Lord has no physical form and cannot be contained in one (Deut. 4:15–20).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:5–6 a jealous God. God the Creator is worthy of all honor from his creation. His creatures are functioning properly only when they give him the honor and worship that he deserves. God's jealousy shows his concern for his creatures' well-being. visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children. Human experience confirms that immoral behavior by parents often results in suffering for their children and grandchildren. But this general principle is qualified in two ways: First, it applies only to those who hate God; the cycle of sin and suffering can be broken through repentance. Second, the suffering comes to the third and the fourth generation, while God shows steadfast love (v. 6) to thousands of those who love me and keep my commandments (that is, to the thousandth generation; see ESV footnote and compare Deut. 7:9).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:7 Taking the Lord's name in vain (see note on Deut. 5:11) refers primarily to taking a deceptive oath in God's name or invoking God's name to justify a dishonest act (Lev. 19:12). It also forbids using God's name in magic, or irreverently, or disrespectfully (Lev. 24:10–16).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:8–11 Israel is to remember the Sabbath day by keeping it holy (see notes on Deut. 5:12–15). The Lord had already begun to form the people's life in the rhythm of collecting manna for six days (Ex. 20:9) and resting on the seventh day as a Sabbath (see 16:22–26). Here the command imitates the Lord's pattern in creation (see Gen. 2:1–3).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:12 Honor your father and your mother. "Honor" means to show the proper respect due to the person and his or her role. Both Jesus and Paul underline the importance of this command (Mark 7:1–13; Eph. 6:1–3; 1 Tim. 5:4). This is the only one of the Ten Commandments with a specific promise attached to it: that your days may be long—meaning not just a long life but one filled with God's presence and favor. See note on Deut. 5:16.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:13–15 The sixth through eighth commandments present general prohibitions not to murder (see note on Deut. 5:17), commit adultery, or steal. These are the minimum standards for a just society. Israel is later called to be holy and to love the Lord with all their heart, soul, and might (Deut. 6:4–9), and to show their neighbors goodwill and generosity (Lev. 19:18). When Jesus refers to the law in the Sermon on the Mount ("you have heard that it was said," Matt. 5:21–48), he is correcting the mistaken assumption that these laws (as understood by the Pharisees) revealed all of what it meant to be a child of God. (See Matt. 5:21–24, 27–28; and note on Matt. 5:21–48.)

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:16 Acting as a false witness (see 23:1–3) suggests a legal trial in which false testimony could lead to unjust punishment for one's neighbor.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:17 While the previous four commandments focus on actions committed or words spoken (vv. 13–16), the tenth commandment warns against allowing the heart to covet . . . anything that is your neighbor's. Coveting may cause a person to murder, steal, or lie in order to obtain the desired thing. Because coveting values a particular thing over trusting and obeying the Lord as the provider, it also breaks the first commandment.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 20:22–26 These verses introduce the first section of laws following the Ten Commandments (21:1–23:9), and 23:10–19 closes the section. Both the opening and closing verses focus on Israel's worship. Israel's relationship with the Lord is her first priority. The rules of 21:1–23:9 give more detailed explanations of the obligations implied by the first and second commandments (20:3–6).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 21:1–23:19 This section contains basic guidelines for living together as a just society and as a people set apart to the Lord. The specific laws are not intended to be exhaustive but are to encourage and safeguard justice, civility, and moral excellence.

FACT

How did people end up as slaves? The word translated "slave" can refer to several types of persons. Debt was the most common reason that people became slaves. The security provided by a good employer led some slaves to choose to remain in that status permanently. In ancient times, people could generally not be bought and sold at will, unlike much of the more horrific slavery in recent centuries around the world. Slavery has continued even to the present day, as vulnerable men, women, and even children are often forced into various kinds of unjust slavery.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 21:1 The word rules could also be translated “rulings” or “judgments”—that is, decisions by a judge to settle disputes.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 21:2–11 When you buy a Hebrew slave. Despite the use of “buy,” it should be clear that slaves were considered human beings rather than mere possessions, since there is no mention of slaves in the laws governing loss of property (21:33–22:15). (See notes on 1 Cor. 7:21; Eph. 6:5; Col. 3:22–25; Philem. 18–19.)

EXODUS—NOTE ON 21:5–6 Debt was the most common reason that people became slaves. To take a destitute person as a slave could be seen as benevolent, as it guaranteed him food and shelter and some income. The security provided by a good employer led some slaves to choose to remain in that status forever.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 21:7–11 If a poor family could not afford a normal wedding, the father might “sell” his daughter to a rich man as his “slave,” that is, as a secondary wife like Zilpah and Bilhah (Gen. 29:24, 29). These laws aim to prevent any mistreatment the daughter might then face.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 21:13 The reference to a place to which he may flee looks forward to the cities of refuge that the Lord will provide (see Num. 35:9–15) to protect those who killed unintentionally.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 21:17 Placing this rule here, with the prescription of the death penalty, highlights the gravity of the command to honor one’s parents (20:12; see Mark 7:9–10).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 21:20–21 These verses provide a general rule relating to cases in which a slave has been severely beaten by his master (strikes his slave . . . with a rod). The instruction not to avenge a slave who survives such a beating because the slave is his money relates only to the financial circumstances of the one he serves; it is neither a description of how a slave as a person is to be understood, nor a prescription for how a slave is to be treated. The expectation for how Israelites were to treat one another (and particularly those who were typically oppressed or overlooked) is indicated in the repeated statements at the end of this section of laws: "You shall not wrong a sojourner or oppress him" (22:21–24; 23:6–9). If a sojourner (resident alien) is to be well treated, how much more an Israelite.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 21:22–25 These verses are difficult to interpret. The ESV offers a traditional understanding in the text and an alternative view in the footnote. Interpreters agree that the passage describes a brawl in which a pregnant woman is accidentally hit, resulting in either a premature live birth or a miscarriage where the child dies (her children come out). Interpreters disagree, however, about the exact meaning of the Hebrew traditionally rendered there is no harm . . . there is harm, and the judges determine (see ESV footnote for the alternative reading). According to the traditional view, "harm" is suffered by either the woman or her baby. Depending on the extent of loss, the man who caused the injury shall pay "as the judges determine." The alternative view assumes that the baby has died, and the issue is who should pay the penalty. In a fight, it may not be obvious who is responsible for the lethal blow. If the offender can be identified, he alone must pay for the loss of life (see v. 30). If the offender cannot be identified, the community (you) shall pay. Either interpretation clearly regards the unborn child as fully human (see Ps. 71:5–6 and note; Ps. 139:13–16).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 21:23–25 Compensation for a life taken or harmed shall be life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth . . . stripe for stripe (see also Lev. 24:17–22). As it applies to human life, the rule is grounded in humanity being made in God's image (see Gen. 9:6). The principle was meant to guide judges in assessing damages. It was not intended to be applied literally in every case, and it assumed that circumstances would be taken into account (see Ex. 21:12–14, 19, 21, 26–28, 30). In Matt. 5:38–42, Jesus shows that the "eye for eye" principle was never intended to apply to ordinary human relationships; rather, believers should seek to imitate God's generosity.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 21:28–29 When an animal gores and kills a person, it shall be stoned, for human life is holy to the Lord (see also 19:12–13).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 21:33–36 If a person was irresponsible (such as in not covering a pit, v. 33) or had previous knowledge of a problem (such as knowing but disregarding an ox's tendency to gore, v. 36), such things should be taken into account when determining the amount of a fine.

FACT

Restitution. The Mosaic law decreed that those who caused others to lose property, through either theft or carelessness, had to make full restitution for the loss. By contrast, many other societies in both ancient and modern times have decreed prison time and even death for crimes against property.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 22:2–3 There is no penalty for killing an intruder who breaks in during the night, but if the sun has risen on him, the person who kills him is held responsible. The law protects both the one who is surprised by a thief at night and the thief himself, who could be identified during the day and brought to the judges for punishment.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 22:9 In this case, as also in v. 12, a person steals his neighbor's property by falsely claiming that he himself was the victim of a thief. Then, the person must pay double to his neighbor, which is the standard punishment for theft (see v. 4). The dishonest person would say "this is it" to indicate that "this is the item in dispute."

EXODUS—NOTE ON 22:16–17 Although seduces probably implies mutual consent, the man must provide for the woman he has seduced, both by marrying her (unless the father utterly refuses) and by paying the bride-price (see Deut. 22:28–29), even if the father forbids the marriage. Since the bride-price was equivalent to several years' wages, this amounts to a huge fine for premarital intercourse.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 22:22 The Lord repeatedly forbids the mistreatment of the widow and the fatherless child (e.g., Isa. 1:17, 23; Jer. 7:5–7; Zech. 7:10).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 23:4–5 Israelites are called to show love for an enemy or for one who hates them.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 23:6 To pervert . . . justice could involve taking advantage of the poor in a lawsuit. It could also mean showing partiality to them by altering testimony (v. 3).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 23:10–19 See note on 20:22–26.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 23:10–11 See Lev. 25:2–7.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 23:14–17 This section introduces the feasts of Harvest and Ingathering, which are explained in further detail later (see Lev. 23:9–22).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 23:19 The reason for this rule is not explained. Boiling a young goat in its mother's milk may have been a pagan religious ceremony practiced to induce fertility. Or it may be seen as a violation of the natural order: the young goat should drink its mother's milk and gain life from it, not be cooked in it.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 23:20–22 The angel who will go before Israel is closely identified with God himself: my name is in him implies God's nature and character; to obey his voice is to do all that I say.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 23:24 you shall not bow down to their gods. See note on 20:3.

24:1–18 Covenant Confirmed. This section describes three different aspects of the covenant being confirmed: (1) Moses leads the people of Israel in sacrificing to the Lord and in reconfirming the covenant (vv. 3–8); (2) Moses, Aaron and his sons, and the elders worship the Lord and share a meal in his presence (vv. 1–2, 9–11); and (3) Moses and Joshua go further up the mountain, so that Moses can enter the cloud of the Lord's presence (vv. 12–18).

FACT

What was the purpose of the Mosaic covenant? Israel was already God's chosen people because of the promises God made to Abraham. The covenant with Moses established the nation as a holy kingdom of priests, dedicated to serving God and teaching the other nations of the world about him (19:5–6). Israel was a theocracy, a nation ruled directly by God. The Mosaic covenant established the political, social, and religious aspects of Israel's life.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 24:1–2 The rules about who can enter the Lord's presence on Mount Sinai will prepare Israel for the similar rules regarding the tabernacle.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 24:4 This is one of three references in Exodus to Moses writing (also 34:28) or being commanded to write (17:14).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 24:5 Burnt offerings (10:25; 18:12) and peace offerings (20:24) have already been mentioned in Exodus, but the Lord had not yet given full instructions concerning them.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 24:6–8 Throwing blood . . . against the altar and on the people probably signifies cleansing and atonement. The blood links the altar and the people, symbolizing the union of God and Israel in the covenant.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 24:7 The Book of the Covenant apparently refers to both the Ten Commandments (20:1–21) and the commands and rules that follow (20:22–23:33).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 24:9–11 The men saw the God of Israel and remained unharmed. According to 33:20, "man shall not see [God] and live," so the "seeing" here was something different. Compare 33:23, which perhaps describes a partial vision of God (see notes on John 1:18; Rev. 22:4). The clear surface they saw under his feet may indicate that this is all they saw of God.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 24:13–14 This is the first time Joshua is referred to as Moses' assistant (also 33:11; Josh. 1:1). Hur helped Aaron hold up Moses' hands during the battle with Amalek (Ex. 17:10–12).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 24:17–18 like a devouring fire. God's presence is often signified by fire (see also 3:2; 13:21–22; 19:18; 40:38; compare Deut. 9:3). Moses is able to enter the cloud of God's presence; he is the one with whom God has chosen to meet and therefore he will not be destroyed (see Ex. 24:9–11).

25:1–31:17 Instructions for the Tabernacle. The instructions for the tabernacle (25:1–31:17) and the description of those instructions being carried out (35:4–40:38) make up most of the second half of the book of Exodus. The tabernacle is the means through which the Lord chose to dwell among his people (see 25:8; 29:45). There are two important keys to understanding the symbolism of the tabernacle. First, the tabernacle is seen as a palace for Israel's divine king. He is enthroned on the ark of the covenant in the Most Holy Place. Second, the tabernacle, like the garden of Eden, is where God dwells, and various details of the tabernacle suggest it is a mini-Eden.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 25:1–9 Israel's contribution for the sanctuary most likely came from the precious metals and other things that the people brought out of Egypt (see 3:21–22; 11:2; 12:35–36).

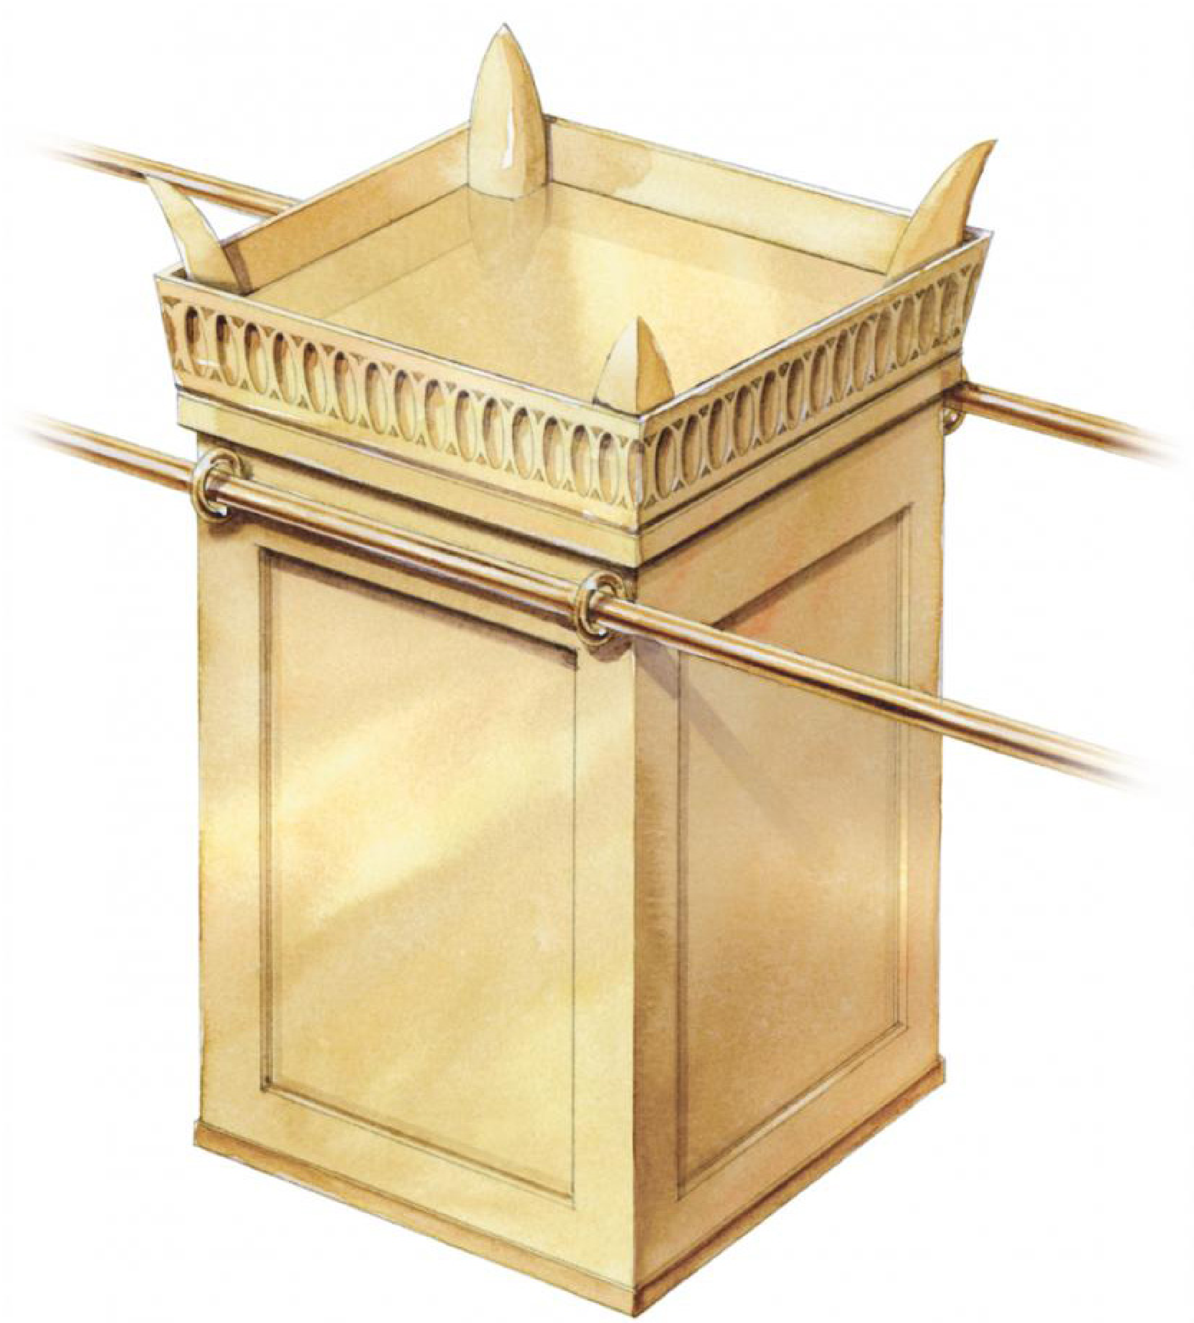
EXODUS—NOTE ON 25:8 A sanctuary is a "holy place." Like the ground at the burning bush, it is made holy by the Lord's presence (3:5).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 25:9 Israel is to follow the pattern for building the sanctuary exactly as the Lord shows Moses (also v. 40; 26:30; 27:8). Obedience to God's commands will show that the people fear him. Obedience to every detail is important because the structure itself will teach the people what it means to have a holy God dwell among them.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 25:10–22 The ark (see 37:1–9) is God's throne, from where he will meet and speak with Moses (25:22). It will contain the testimony (v. 16), that is, the tablets on which the Ten Commandments will be written.

The Altar of Incense

The wooden altar, overlaid with pure gold (Ex. 30:1–10; 37:25–28), was 3 feet high, 1.5 feet long, and 1.5 feet wide (1 m x 0.5 m x 0.5 m). It stood in the Holy Place before the veil which separated the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place. It was transported by means of wooden poles which were overlaid with gold and inserted through rings attached to the sides of the altar.

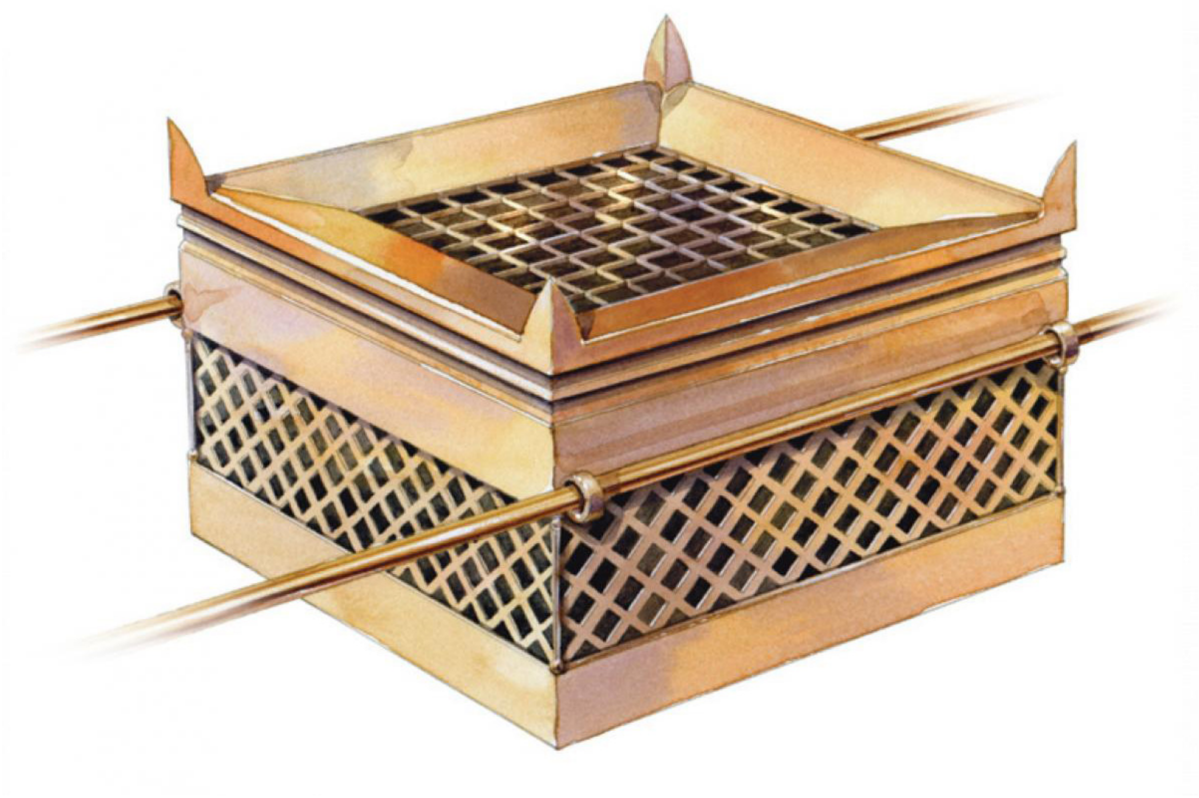


The Ark of the Covenant

The ark of the covenant (Ex. 25:10–22; 37:1–9) was the only piece of furniture in the Most Holy Place; the ark and its contents were kept hidden from view at all times. The ark itself was a wooden chest, overlaid with pure gold, measuring 3.75 feet long, 2.25 feet wide, and 2.25 feet high (1.1 m x 0.7 m x 0.7 m). It contained within it the two stone tablets of the Testimony (the Ten Commandments). The author of Hebrews adds that it also contained "a golden urn holding the manna, and Aaron's staff that budded" (Heb. 9:4). The ark was not to be touched by human hands. Two wooden poles, overlaid with gold, were used to transport it and were not to be removed from the ark. The mercy seat, or atonement cover, was a solid golden slab that fitted perfectly on top of the ark. The golden cherubim, which were hammered out of the same piece of gold, had wings outstretched over the mercy seat and faces that looked downward (in reverent awe). It was here, from between the cherubim, that God spoke to Moses, the representative of the people of Israel. Ancient iconography often depicts cherubim as having a lion-like body, wings, and a human face.

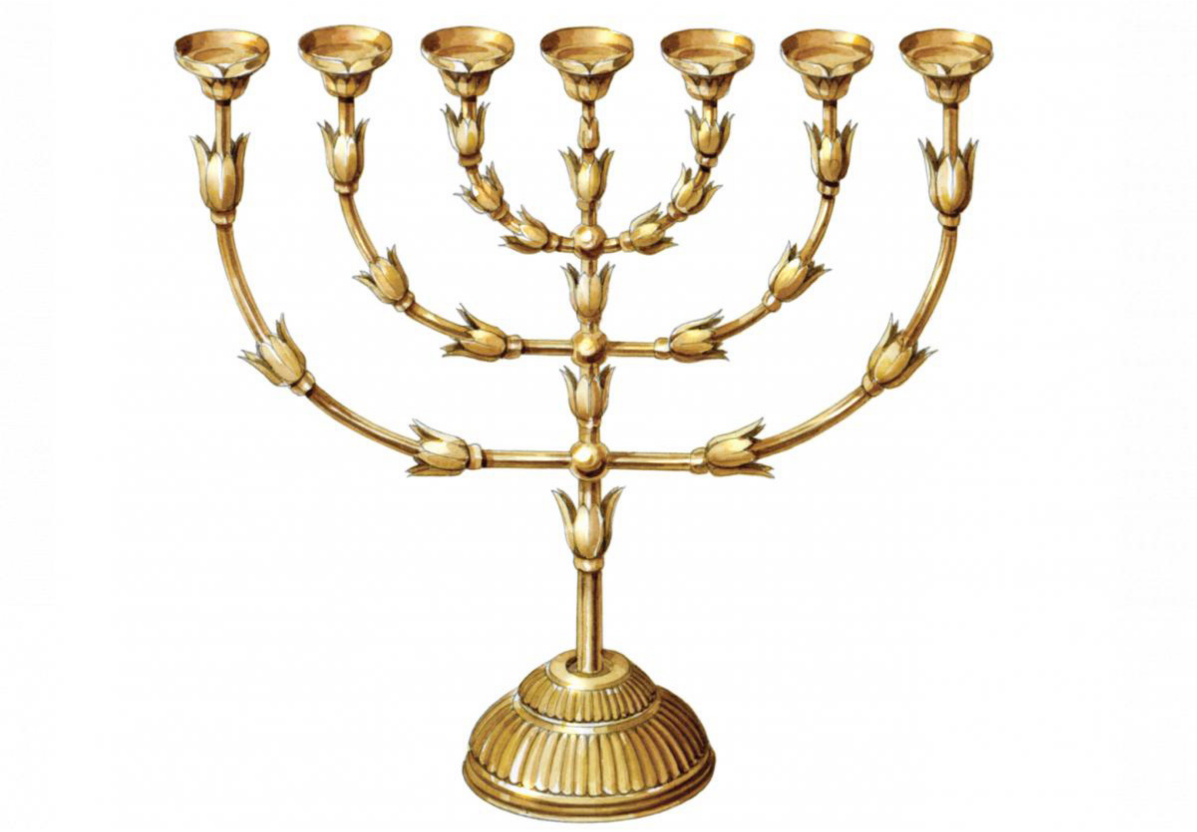
The Bronze Altar

The bronze altar for burnt offerings (Ex. 27:1–8; 38:1–7) stood in the outer courtyard with its poles removed. It was a hollow wooden box, overlaid with bronze, measuring 4.5 feet high, 7.5 feet long, and 7.5 feet wide (1.4 m x 2.3 m x 2.3 m). There was a bronze grating on the top and on the sides of the altar.



The Golden Lampstand

The golden lampstand ([Ex. 25:31–40](Ex. 25:31–40)) was made of pure gold, hammered out of one solid piece. Resting on a base, the central stem had six branches, three on either side, together carrying seven lamps. The lampstand with its branches was modeled on a flowering almond tree. Although the Bible text does not specify the size of the lampstand, the text indicates that the lampstand (and the utensels) were made out of pure gold, weighing one talent (about 75 lb. or 34 kg). The lampstand may have been 5 or 6 feet (1.5–1.8 m) tall.



The High Priest’s Holy Garments

The illustration depicts the holy garments worn by the high priests (Exodus 28; 39).

The turban of fine linen held a plate of pure shining gold, on which were engraved the Hebrew words for “Holy to YHWH.”

The ephod (a colorful linen torso garment held by a skillfully woven waistband) had two shoulder pieces, each holding an onyx stone. The names of the 12 sons of Israel were engraved on these two stones. The cloth breastpiece of judgment had four rows, each with three precious stones. Each of these stones had engraved upon it the name of one of the tribes of Israel. The breastpiece also contained the Urim and the Thummim, and was attached to the ephod by gold chains and rings. The blue robe was worn under the ephod (Lev. 8:7–8); colorful imitation pomegranates lined the hem of the robe, alternating with golden bells. The white coat or tunic of checkered weave and fine linen was probably held by the embroidered sash under the robe.

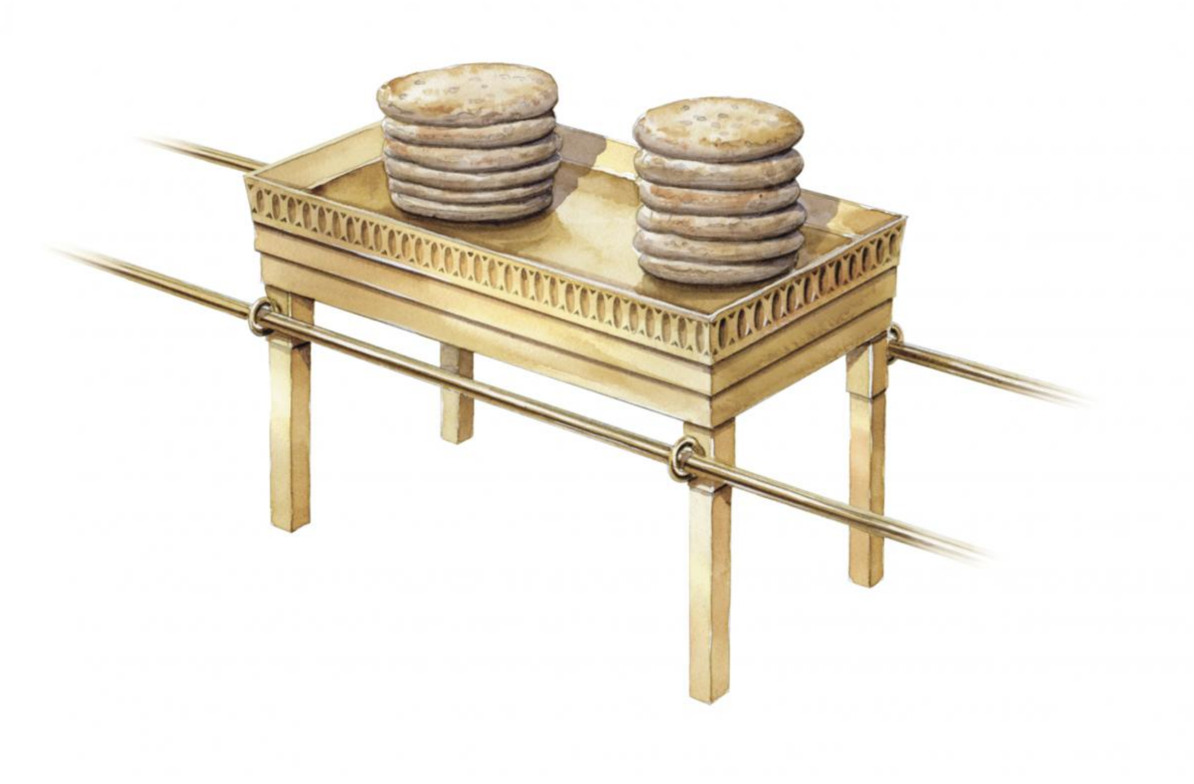
The Table for the Bread of the Presence

The wooden table, overlaid with pure gold (Ex. 25:23–30; 37:10–16), was 3 feet long, 1.5 feet wide, and 2.25 feet high (1 m x 0.5 m x 0.7 m). It held the 12 loaves (Lev. 24:5–9) of the bread of the Presence, which were holy (1 Sam. 21:4). Wooden poles, overlaid with gold, were inserted through the rings of the table when the table was transported.



EXODUS—NOTE ON 25:17–22 The noun translated mercy seat may be related to the verb meaning "to make atonement." Some Bible versions translate it as "atonement cover." Cherubim are the traditional guardians of holy places (see illustration).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 25:23–30 The table (see 37:10–16) is one of three items in the Holy Place (see 40:4–5; see illustration). The bread of the Presence consisted of 12 flat loaves of bread, symbolizing the 12 tribes of Israel (Lev. 24:5–9).

FACT

The table for the bread of the Presence held the 12 loaves of sacred bread which were baked the day before the Sabbath. On the Sabbath, the priests would eat the bread from the week before and replace it with the newly baked bread. This bread symbolized Israel's dependence on God.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 25:31–40 The lampstand (see 37:17–24) provides light within the tabernacle. The priests will be instructed to keep it burning regularly (see 27:20–21; Lev. 24:1–4). It was a symbolic tree, recalling the tree of life in Eden.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 26:1–37 This section describes the curtains, frames, and bars (vv. 1–30) that would make up the tabernacle (see 36:8–38; and illustration). The tent's external dimensions were 45 feet long, 15 feet wide, and 15 feet high (13.7 m by 4.6 m by 4.6 m). It was surrounded by a screened courtyard 50 yards by 25 yards (45.7 m by 22.9 m); see 27:9–19.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 26:1 cherubim. See note on 25:17–22.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 26:30 according to the plan for it that you were shown on the mountain. See note on 25:9.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 26:33–35 The Most Holy Place will contain only the ark of the testimony. It is separated by a veil from the Holy Place, which will include the altar of incense (30:1–10) in addition to the lampstand and table (25:23–40).

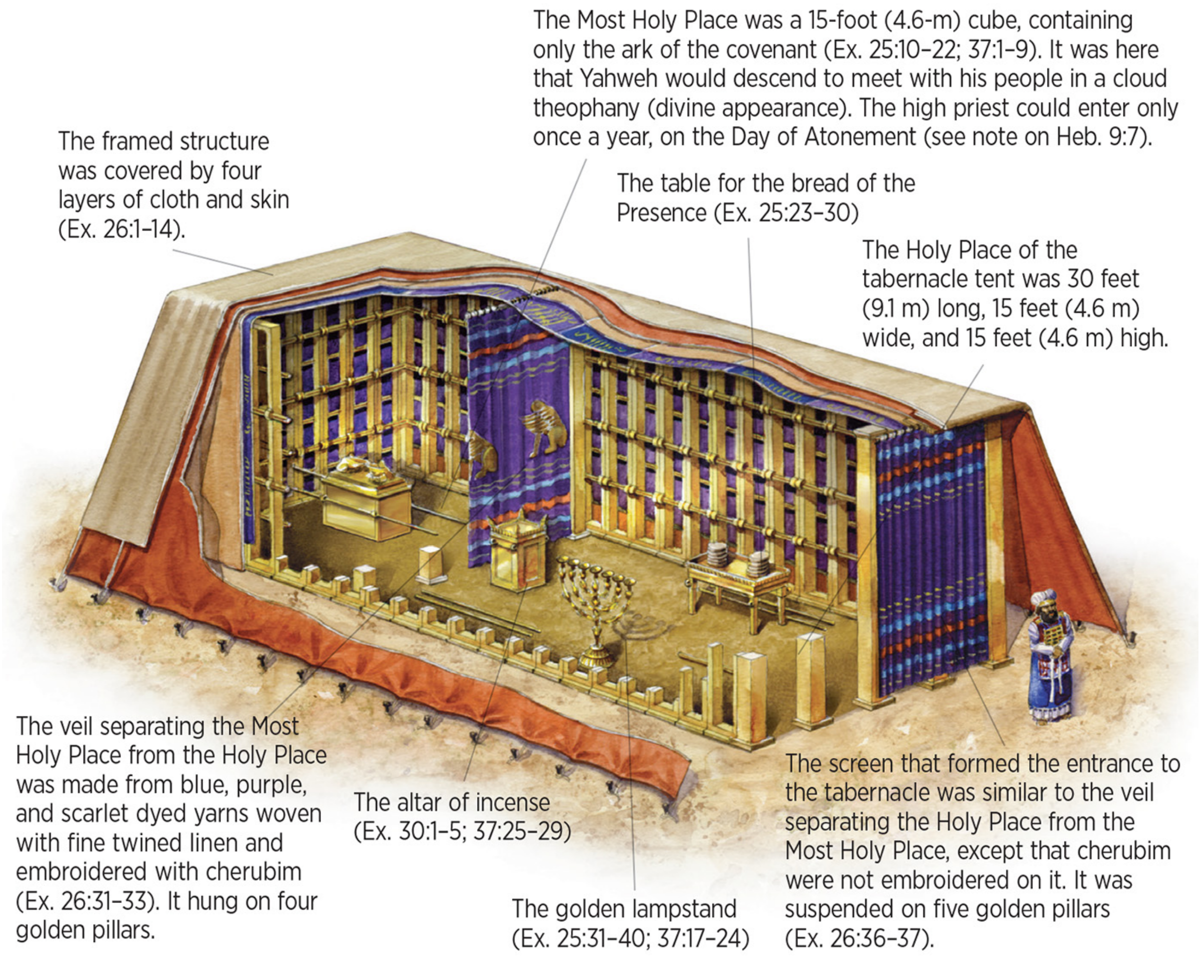
EXODUS—NOTE ON 27:1–8 This altar made of wood and overlaid with bronze is referred to later by its function: "the altar of burnt offering" (38:1–7). The altar was placed before the door of the tabernacle, with the bronze basin between them (40:6–7). The altar and the bronze basin were the only two items in the tabernacle courtyard (see illustration of the bronze altar). This is where the priests will offer sacrifices (see Lev. 1:1–7:38).

The Tabernacle Tent

The entire tent was 45 feet (13.7 m) long, 15 feet (4.6 m) wide, and 15 feet (4.6 m) high. It was a wooden skeletal structure, overlaid with gold, with no solid roof or front wall (Ex. 26:15–29). Five wooden bars (overlaid with gold) passed through rings attached to each frame (Ex. 26:26–30).



The Most Holy Place was a 15-foot (4.6-m) cube, containing only the ark of the covenant (Ex. 25:10–22; 37:1–9). It was here that Yahweh would descend to meet with his people in a cloud theophany (divine appearance). The high priest could enter only once a year, on the Day of Atonement (see note on Heb. 9:7).
The framed structure was covered by four layers of cloth and skin (Ex. 26:1–14).
The table for the bread of the Presence (Ex. 25:23–30)
The Holy Place of the tabernacle tent was 30 feet (9.1 m) long, 15 feet (4.6 m) wide, and 15 feet (4.6 m) high.
The veil separating the Most Holy Place from the Holy Place was made from blue, purple, and scarlet dyed yarns woven with fine twined linen and embroidered with cherubim (Ex. 26:31–33). It hung on four golden pillars.
The altar of incense (Ex. 30:1–5; 37:25–29)
The golden lampstand (Ex. 25:31–40; 37:17–24)
The screen that formed the entrance to the tabernacle was similar to the veil separating the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place, except that cherubim were not embroidered on it. It was suspended on five golden pillars (Ex. 26:36–37).

The Tabernacle And Court

The tabernacle was a portable temple—a "tent of meeting"—within a movable courtyard (Exodus 25–31; 35–40). It was constructed after the pattern that Yahweh revealed to Moses on Mount Sinai, and was assembled in the desert as Moses led the Israelites from Egypt to the Promised Land. The tabernacle courtyard was 150 feet (46 m) long and 75 feet (23 m) wide, totaling 11,250 square feet (1,045 square meters).

The Most Holy Place of the tabernacle tent was a 15-foot (4.6-m) cube, containing only the ark of the covenant (Ex. 25:10–22; 37:1–9). It was here that Yahweh would descend to meet with his people in a cloud theophany (divine appearance).

The Holy Place of the tabernacle tent was 30 feet (9.1 m) long, 15 feet (4.6 m) wide, and 15 feet (4.6 m) high. It housed the table (Ex. 25:23–30), the golden lampstand (Ex. 25:31–40; 37:17–24), and the altar of incense (Ex. 30:1–10; 37:25–29).

The bronze basin with its stand was for ceremonial washings (Ex. 30:17–21; 38:8).

The framed structure was covered by four layers of cloth and skin (Ex. 26:1–14).

The entire tabernacle tent was 45 feet (14 m) long, 15 feet (4.6 m) wide, and 15 feet (4.6 m) high. It was a wooden skeletal structure, overlaid with gold, with no solid roof or front wall (Ex. 26:15–29). Five wooden bars (overlaid with gold) passed through rings attached to each frame (Ex. 26:26–30).

The veil separating the Holy Place from the tabernacle courtyard was similar to the veil separating the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place, except that cherubim were not embroidered on it (Ex. 26:36–37). It hung on five golden pillars.

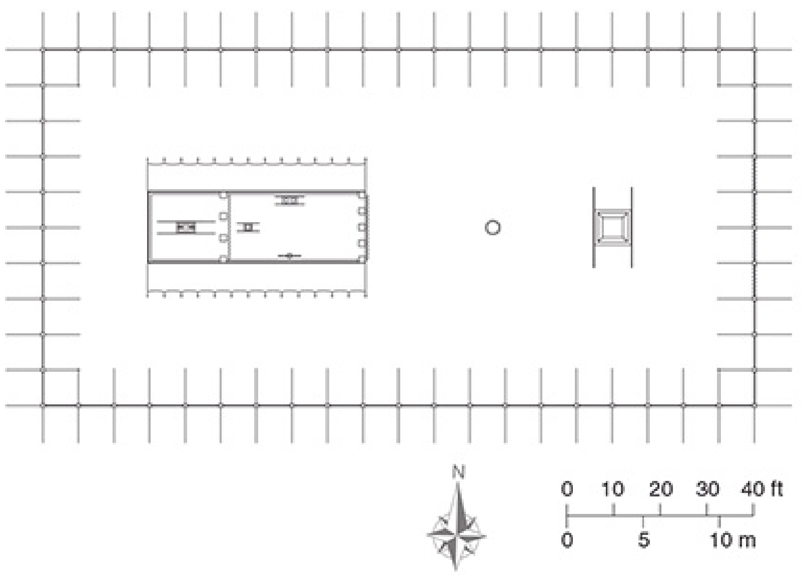
The bronze altar, also known as the altar of burnt offering (Ex. 27:1–8; 38:1–7), was made from a hollow wooden box (7.5 feet/2.3 m long and wide, and 4.5 feet/1.4 m high), overlaid with bronze. It had four horns at its corners. It was transported by means of two poles on its journey through the wilderness.

The 30-foot (9.1-m)-wide gated entrance to the courtyard was covered with a screen made from blue, purple, and scarlet dyed yarns that were woven with fine twined linen (Ex. 38:18–20).

The surrounding hangings (fine twined linen curtains connected to pillars and stabilized by guy ropes and pegs) stood about 7.5 feet (2.3 m) high. The 60 wooden pillars were overlaid with bronze, stood in copper sockets, and had capitals overlaid with silver (Ex. 27:9–19; 38:9–17).



Tabernacle and Court Architectural Plan

FACT

The bronze altar was the largest item in the tabernacle courtyard, measuring more than seven feet square. Bronze was more resistant than other metals to the heat required for burnt offerings. The altar provided a contrast to the items inside the tabernacle tent, which were overlaid with gold.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 27:2 The altar is to have horns on each corner. Their function and significance are not explained.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 27:9–19 The court of the tabernacle (see 38:9–20) encloses the tabernacle and the bronze basin and altar of burnt offering (see illustration of the tabernacle).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 27:10–11 Metals of lesser value than gold will be used for the court, since it is farther away from the Most Holy Place, where the Lord dwells.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 27:13 The sanctuary, like the garden of Eden, is entered from the east (see Gen. 3:24).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 28:2 for glory and for beauty. Like the tabernacle and its furniture, Aaron’s garments are made with precious materials and vivid colors, representing the glory of the Lord (see illustration).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 28:9–30 The priests' work of mediation goes in two directions: from God to Israel and from Israel to God. two onyx stones. Similar stones will decorate the new Jerusalem (Rev. 21:12–21).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 28:30 The exact nature of the Urim and the Thummim is not clear (see note on 1 Sam. 14:41–42). It does seem, however, that they were used to seek the Lord's direction on particular matters (see Num. 27:21; 1 Sam. 28:6; Ezra 2:63).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 28:35 its sound shall be heard . . . so that he does not die. The Lord did not need to be alerted to Aaron's presence by the sound of bells, but they were a way of showing reverence. Approaching God carelessly can lead to death (see 19:21–25).

FACT

The gold bells along the hems of the high priest's garment (28:33) served two purposes. They alerted people that the high priest was present, and they reminded the priest himself to be reverent and careful in carrying out his sacred duties.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 28:36–38 For an illustration of the turban and the plate, see p. 138.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 28:42–43 Aaron and his sons wear linen undergarments (v. 42) so that they will not bear guilt and die (v. 43). This relates to the rule in 20:26 about not approaching God's altar naked. Adam and Eve had to wear clothes in God's presence after the fall. So must the priests in the tabernacle.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 29:1–3 The animals and food to be offered in the consecration of Aaron and his sons (vv. 10–28) are a preview of the instructions for offerings in Lev. 1:1–7:38.

FACT

A veil separated the altar from the Most Holy Place of God’s presence in the tabernacle and later in the temple. Aaron the priest was to make atonement there once a year on behalf of the people and their sin (ch. 29). The tearing of the veil at Christ’s death indicated that the Mosaic institution of sacrifices and rituals had now been replaced by the final sacrifice of Christ. Jesus Christ’s sacrifice was enough "once for all" to sanctify eternally all who trusted in him (see Heb. 9:11–12; 10:1–18).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 29:7 The anointing oil will be used to anoint the tabernacle and all of its parts as well as Aaron and his sons (see 30:22–33).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 29:10–14 The bull is to be a sin offering, purifying the altar and making atonement for it (v. 36; see Lev. 4:1–12).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 29:15–18 The first of the two rams is to be a burnt offering. This offering atones for the sin of the one who offers it (see Lev. 1:3–9).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 29:19–28 The other ram (v. 19) is offered as a ram of ordination (vv. 22, 27), which differs in at least two ways from the burnt offering (vv. 15–18). First, some of its blood is placed on Aaron and his sons before it is thrown against the altar (v. 20). The blood is sprinkled on their clothes along with anointing oil to consecrate both the priests and their garments (v. 21). Second, rather than burning the whole ram on the altar, certain parts are offered to the Lord together with bread (vv. 22–25) and the breast is eaten by the priests (vv. 26–28).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 29:20 the tip of the right ear. Since Aaron and his sons were dressed in their priestly garments, the blood is placed on their exposed body parts to represent the whole. Specifying the right member of each of these body parts is probably related to the right hand being considered the place of honor (see Gen. 48:17–19). As in Ex. 24:6–8, putting the blood on the priests and on the altar serves to link them closely to God. It may also be seen as purifying them from sin.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 29:27–28 In peace offerings the breast and the right thigh are set apart for the priest (see Lev. 7:29–36).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 29:31–34 The priests' portion of the ram of ordination (vv. 26–28) must be treated as holy. The Lord specifies where it is to be cooked and eaten, who is able to eat it, and how long it may be kept.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 29:35–37 The ordination process will last seven days (see Lev. 8:33–36).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 30:1–10 The altar for burning incense is similar to the altar for burnt offering (27:1–8), except that it is smaller and is overlaid with pure gold (30:3). It is one of the three items in the Holy Place.

FACT

Altar of incense. Incense was burned to purify the altars after animals had been slaughtered there. Incense also symbolized Israel's constant prayer to God.

FACT

The level of detail given in God's instructions for the tabernacle in ch. 30 emphasizes that Israel is to worship the Lord in their midst according to his word and plan.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 30:6–8 The altar is to be placed in the Holy Place before the veil that separates it from the Most Holy Place and the ark of the testimony (v. 6; see illustration of the tabernacle tent).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 30:9 Like all the other tabernacle rules, the rule against offering unauthorized incense emphasizes God's holiness (see vv. 34–38; Lev. 10:1–3).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 30:11–16 Every person counted in a census is to give half a shekel for the service of the tabernacle. It is an offering to the LORD, either as a ransom or to make atonement for your lives.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 30:12 The ransom given with the census will prevent a plague. This warns Israel not to let pride in their great numbers replace their dependence on the Lord. Such pride in numbers appears to have been the reason for the Lord's judgment against David's census (see 2 Sam. 24:1–17; 1 Chron. 21:1–17).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 30:17–21 The basin of bronze is for the priests to wash themselves before serving in the tabernacle. It is in the courtyard (see illustration of the tabernacle and its court). The basin may also have been used to wash the sacrifices (Lev. 1:9).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 30:20–21 so that they may not die. See note on 28:35.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 30:22–38 This section gives instructions for making the anointing oil and incense. Since the oil is to consecrate the elements of the tabernacle and the priests, and the incense is to be burned inside the Holy Place, each is to be treated as holy and must not be used for any other purpose.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 30:33–38 shall be cut off from his people. See note on 12:15.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 31:3–5 Bezalel is described as being filled . . . with the Spirit of God, which means that he has been equipped to fulfill the particular task to which he was called (vv. 3b–4; compare 28:3; 35:31; Deut. 34:9; Mic. 3:8; Luke 1:15, 41; Acts 2:4; Eph. 5:18).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 31:12–17 Remembering the Sabbath by keeping it holy is central to Israel's life as the people of God. Observance of the Sabbath relates both to creation (v. 17), which Israel shares with all mankind, and to God's special choice of Israel (vv. 13, 16). The form of the Sabbath commandment in Exodus (20:8–11) stresses the first, while the form in Deuteronomy (Deut. 5:12–15) stresses the second.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 31:14–15 It is unclear exactly what is meant by being cut off from among his people (see 12:15 and note; compare Lev. 17:10; Num. 9:13). Sometimes, as here, the judgment appears to include death at the hand of the congregation. At other times, the person is killed directly by the Lord (see Ex. 30:38; Lev. 10:1–3) or suffers some other kind of separation from covenant benefits.

31:18 Moses Receives the Tablets. The Lord gives Moses the tablets of the testimony (the Ten Commandments), for which he had called him up to the mountain (24:12).

32:1–34:35 Covenant Breach, Intercession, and Renewal. This section illustrates Israel's need for sanctification from the Lord.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 32:1 make us gods who shall go before us. Speaking of this event, Stephen says that Israel “thrust [Moses] aside, and in their hearts they turned to Egypt” (Acts 7:39).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 32:4 These are your gods, O Israel. The plurals “these” and “gods” may mean that the people considered the calf to be another god equal to the Lord. Whatever they may have thought, their words and actions clearly violate both the first and second commandments (20:3–6).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 32:6 The people offered burnt offerings and peace offerings to the calf. These were the same offerings they had made to the Lord at Mount Sinai just before promising to keep his covenant (see 24:5).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 32:11 In his intercession, Moses uses the Lord’s own words when he refers to Israel as “your people” (see v. 7).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 32:16 the writing was the writing of God. See 31:18.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 32:19 When Moses saw the golden calf, his anger burned hot. The same words describe the Lord’s response (v. 10), and Aaron uses the same term in v. 22, pleading that the Lord would not let his anger “burn hot.” When Moses throws down the tablets and breaks them, it is a picture of what the people have done in worshiping the calf.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 32:20 The text does not explain why the people had to drink the water containing the powdered remains of the calf. It may represent (1) a further step in the destruction and desecration of the idol, (2) a step in shaming the Israelites for their folly, or (3) a type of test, like the test for adultery in Num. 5:16–22, exposing degrees of guilt.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 32:24 Amid these serious circumstances, there is pathetic humor in Aaron’s feeble attempt to claim that he merely threw the metal into the fire and out came this calf (see v. 4).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 32:27 each of you kill his brother and his companion and his neighbor. The Levites were to kill anyone guilty of violating God’s laws. In light of “whoever has sinned against me” (v. 33), it seems unlikely that the killing was random.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 32:33–34 The Lord determines whose names will be in his book. Compare “the book of the living” (Ps. 69:28), “the book” (Dan. 12:1), “names . . . written in heaven” (Luke 10:20), “the book of life” (Phil. 4:3).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 33:1–23 This chapter describes the difficult time following the golden calf episode, as the Lord says he no longer will go among his people (v. 3).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 33:7–11 Although the Lord has said he will no longer go “among” his people (v. 3), hope remains because of his presence in the pillar of cloud (see 13:21; 14:19; 24:15) and his continued relationship with Moses, to whom he speaks face to face (33:8–11).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 33:12–16 God has promised to send an “angel” to lead his rebellious people into the land (v. 2), but Moses demands that the Lord himself go with them (v. 15). God agrees to do this, and his presence is demonstrated personally to Moses (33:17–34:28) and publicly as well (chs. 35–40).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 33:19 will show mercy on whom I will show mercy. Paul quotes these words in Rom. 9:15 to show that, when God shows mercy, it is because he has deliberately chosen to do so. See note on Ex. 34:6–7.

MOSES

Moses’ life was spared when his mother hid him in a reed basket and set him adrift on the Nile. Rescued by Pharaoh’s daughter and raised as a prince, Moses nonetheless recognized the Hebrews as his people. After killing an Egyptian who was beating a Hebrew slave, Moses fled to Midian, where he married Zipporah. God spoke to him through a burning bush, instructing him to return to Egypt and rescue the Hebrews from slavery to the Egyptians. After performing powerful signs before Pharaoh, Moses led the Hebrews out of Egypt and brought them to Mount Sinai, where he received the Law and the Ten Commandments. He led the people of Israel for 40 years as they wandered in the wilderness. Through Moses God redeemed his people from slavery in Egypt, prefiguring Christ’s eternal redemption of his people from slavery to sin. (Exodus 33:17)

EXODUS—NOTE ON 34:3 As Moses goes to receive the law a second time, God decrees that no one besides Moses is to be seen throughout all the mountain.

This seems to be a stricter warning than when the law was first given (see 19:12, 17).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 34:6–7 The Lord's proclamation of his name and description of his character is a key OT passage (compare Neh. 9:17, 31; Ps. 86:15; Joel 2:13; Jonah 4:2). God is merciful and gracious (see Ex. 33:19). His steadfast love and forgiveness extends to thousands (probably of generations; see Deut. 7:9; and note on Ex. 20:5–6). On visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children, see notes on 20:5–6 and Deut. 5:9–10.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 34:11–16 These instructions about the inhabitants of the land reinforce the command in 23:23–33.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 34:17 Cast metal is the same Hebrew word used of the "golden" calf (see ESV footnote at 32:4).

35:1–40:38 Tabernacle: Preparation for the Presence. The final section of Exodus describes the construction of the tabernacle, which is then filled by the glory of the Lord (40:34–38). The tabernacle is the visible guarantee of God's continuing presence with and care for Israel.

FACT

The Jewish year was based on the annual rotation of the sun, moon, and stars, and on the cycle for planting and harvesting crops. The OT refers to days, months, years, and seasons, but no passages specify a complete calendar.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 35:5–19 The lists of the materials needed (vv. 5–9; see 25:3–7) and the objects to be built (35:10–19) assume that the people already know the basic plan for the tabernacle (see 34:32).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 35:10 Moses called for material contributions for the tabernacle (vv. 5–9) and also for every skillful craftsman (see vv. 25–26; 36:1).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 35:20–29 The abundance of materials given for the tabernacle showed the people's willingness of heart (vv. 21–22, 26, 29).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 35:30–36:1 Just as the Lord enabled his people to contribute the materials needed for the sanctuary (see 25:1–9), he gave some of them the skills to build it.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 35:31 he has filled him with the Spirit of God. See 31:3–5 and note.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 36:2–7 The people responded so generously that they had to be restrained from bringing any more.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 36:10 Throughout the building of the tabernacle, the person leading the work is referred to as he; this is probably Bezalel (see 37:1), whom the Lord called to oversee the work (35:30–34).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 37:1–29 The pieces described in this chapter will be inside the tabernacle. The ark (vv. 1–9) is the only piece in the Most Holy Place (26:34), which is separated by a veil from the table (37:10–16), the lampstand (vv. 17–24), and the altar of incense (vv. 25–29) in the Holy Place (see 26:33–34; 40:3–5, 21–27).

FACT

Acacia wood was highly valued for its beauty and durability. Around the Mediterranean, some acacias are like shrubs, while others grow up to 50 feet (15 m) tall. They are one of the few large trees hardy enough to withstand the harsh desert climate. They are also resistant to insects, which find the taste of the wood unpleasant.

FACT

Every piece of furniture in the tabernacle was crafted according to God's plan. Each item represented something about God's character: his sovereignty, his generosity, his presence with his people. They were reminders of how God met their needs and forgave their sins.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 37:1–9 When the tabernacle is finally assembled (see 25:16; 40:20), the ark (see 25:10–20) will become known as "the ark of the testimony," because Moses will place in it the tablets of the Ten Commandments, also called the "testimony." See illustration of the ark.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 37:10–16 The table is now constructed, but the bread of the Presence (see 25:23–29) will be placed on it only when the tabernacle is finally assembled (see 40:23). See illustration of the table.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 37:17–24 lampstand of pure gold. See 25:31–39; and illustration.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 37:25–29 altar of incense. See 30:1–5; and illustration. anointing oil, incense. See note on 30:22–38.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 38:1–20 The pieces described are those in the court that surrounds the tabernacle (vv. 9–20; see 27:9–19). See illustration of the tabernacle and its court.

FACT

Cubits were a basic unit of measurement in Israel. One cubit equaled the distance from the elbow to the fingertips—about 18 inches (46 cm).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 38:8 The mirrors given by the women were highly polished pieces of bronze. They were probably among the treasures brought out of Egypt during the exodus (see 12:36). The original readers of Exodus would have understood the role of the women who ministered in the entrance of the tent of meeting, but it is not explained anywhere else in the OT. It is referred to elsewhere only in connection with the sin of Eli's sons (see 1 Sam. 2:22).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 39:1–31 This section describes the garments for Aaron and his sons. See illustration. After the description of each piece, it is emphasized that it was made as the LORD had commanded Moses.

FACT

Linen was made from the flax plant. The plants were pulled up by their roots and dried before undergoing a process known as "retting," which loosened the fibers. The fibers were then beaten and combed so that they could be spun into thread. The result was a fabric that was light, durable, and easy to bleach. It was ideal for the hot, dry climate of ancient Israel.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 39:32–43 The people completed all the work of the tabernacle and then brought the pieces to Moses.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 40:12–15 The anointing of Aaron and his sons commanded here is described in Lev. 8:1–13.

EXODUS—NOTE ON 40:16–33 The people's strict obedience to God's commands showed that they had repented of their sin with the golden calf. This made it possible for God to dwell among them again (vv. 34–38; compare "I will not go up among you," 33:3).

EXODUS—NOTE ON 40:34–38 The repetition in these verses emphasizes that the Lord is present with all his glory in the midst of his people. They can know that he is their God who has brought them out of the land of Egypt, and who dwells among them (see 29:43–46).

FACT

Israel has witnessed some incredible events, such as the 10 plagues and the parting of the Sea. Now, at the end of Exodus, God's glory fills the tabernacle and he will lead them to the Promised Land.

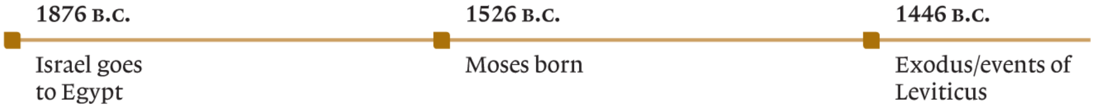
Introduction to Leviticus

Introduction to Leviticus

Timeline



Author

As with the other books of the Pentateuch, it is best to see Moses as the source and primary author of Leviticus. In Leviticus, Moses continues the story of Exodus.

Theme and Purpose

The book of Leviticus goes into deeper detail about the divine-human relationship put in place on Mount Sinai (Exodus 19–40). Leviticus assumes that Israel is sinful and impure, and it describes how to deal with sin and impurity so that the holy Lord can dwell among his people.

Problems in Understanding Leviticus

Readers may find Leviticus difficult to understand because they lack firsthand experience of the practices it describes.

Ritual vs. ethical commands. Chapters 1–16 describe various “ritual” regulations, while chs. 17–27 focus on ethical commands. Because the rituals of chs. 1–16 are unfamiliar, they are often seen as being disconnected from the ethical emphasis of the later chapters. It is more accurate, however, to see the entire book as being concerned with Israel’s being holy to the Lord.

Unclean, clean, holy. Leviticus often uses these terms differently than today. Modern readers might think of “clean” vs. “unclean” as being the same as healthy vs. unhealthy. In Leviticus, however, these words do not refer to hygiene. Rather, they describe the types of actions a person may or may not engage in, or the places he may or may not go. For example, those who are unclean may not partake of a peace offering (7:20). A modern analogy might be registering to vote: a person who is "registered" may vote, whereas a person who is not registered may not vote. The ritually "clean" person is not necessarily more righteous than one who is ritually unclean, just as a person who is registered to vote is not necessarily more righteous than a person who is not.

Even though ritual states and moral states are different, however, the ritual states in Leviticus also seem to symbolize grades of moral purity. By constantly calling the Israelites to ritual purity, the Lord was reminding them of their need for also seeking moral purity (20:24–26).

NT relevance of commands in Leviticus. What does Leviticus have to do with the church today? The sacrificial system of Leviticus has ceased for the people of God; it has been fulfilled in the coming of Christ (see Heb. 9:1–14, 24–28; 10:1–14). However, studying these laws is important because the sacrifices point to different aspects of the meaning of Christ's sacrifice of himself.

Second, the Holiness Code (chs. 17–27) deals with sanctification, that is, how one lives in the covenant community. The NT applies to Christians the same principle stated in Leviticus 11:44, "be holy, for I am holy" (see 1 Pet. 1:16). On the other hand, several details of the Holiness Code concern more symbolic aspects of holiness that are no longer followed in the Christian era (such as laws prohibiting garments with two kinds of cloth, Lev. 19:19, or prohibiting the shaving of the edges of a beard, 21:5). Further, the NT envisions a people of God transcending national boundaries. Therefore, current civil governments need not follow the OT civil laws (such as capital punishment for adultery; 20:10), although of course all governments must pursue justice, and Leviticus may certainly help in this regard.

Key Themes

1. The holy Lord is present among his people (Ex. 40:34; Lev. 1:1). They must therefore admit their sin and impurity and strive for personal holiness.

2. In order to approach God, worshipers must be wholehearted in their devotion (1:1–6:7; 22:17–30).
3. Those called to be spiritual leaders, such as priests, bear a heavier responsibility than the laypeople (chs. 4; 21). In addition to the outward holiness that the priests receive when they are ordained, they must maintain inward holiness (chs. 8; 9; 10; 21).
4. As is seen in the Day of Atonement ritual (ch. 16), the total cleansing of sins and uncleanness happens only when the innermost part of the tabernacle is purified. Humans, by themselves, can never achieve complete purification from sin.
5. Atonement is a gracious act of the Lord (17:11).

Outline

I. Five Major Offerings (1:1–6:7)
II. Handling of the Offerings (6:8–7:38)
III. The Establishment of the Priesthood (8:1–10:20)
IV. The Laws on Cleanness and Uncleanness (11:1–15:33)
V. The Day of Atonement Ritual (16:1–34)
VI. The Handling and Meaning of Blood (17:1–16)
VII. The Call to Holiness (18:1–22:33)
VIII. Holy Times (23:1–25:55)
IX. Blessings and Curses (26:1–46)
X. Vows and Dedication (27:1–34)

c. 1446 B.C.

The book of Exodus finishes with Moses and Israel having constructed and assembled the tabernacle at the base of Mount Sinai. The book of Leviticus primarily records the instructions the Lord gives to Moses from the tent of meeting, but also includes narratives of a few events related to the tabernacle. (Regarding the date of the exodus, see Introduction to Exodus, and note on 1 Kings 6:1.)

The Global Message of Leviticus

Leviticus in Redemptive History

The book of Leviticus takes place within the larger context of Exodus 19 to Numbers 10. The historical setting is that of Israel encamped at the base of Mount Sinai. Thus the book of Leviticus is a kind of parenthesis within the ongoing story of redemptive history, placed there to explain Israel's specific obligations within the Mosaic covenant.

The purpose of Leviticus is to instruct Israel concerning how to maintain holiness within the community, so that the Lord would continue to dwell among them. The Lord desires to dwell among his people so that he might bless them with his presence. If the Lord is with his people, Israel can then fulfill its vocation as his "kingdom of priests," to mediate the Abrahamic blessing to all the families of the earth (Gen. 12:3; Ex. 19:5–6).

The Holiness of God

It is the Lord's desire and intent to dwell among his people. Yet how can the perfectly holy God dwell among an unholy people? The golden calf rebellion, narrated in Exodus 32, revealed that Israel herself is subject to the fundamental problem of the evil heart. Israel lives in, and is part of, a fallen world filled with disease, decay, and death. Unholiness permeates everything, and holiness and unholiness must never come in contact with each other. When they do, the results are catastrophic (see also Lev. 10:1–3). What is the way forward, if God is to dwell with his people?

The Sacrificial System

The answer to this problem, as presented in Leviticus, is a sacrificial system. The tabernacle and the sacrifices offered there have been established so that the Lord can rest safely within the clean camp of Israel. The priests must strictly guard the sanctity of the tabernacle by purifying it regularly with sacrificial blood, which God designated as the cleansing agent. If, however, moral filth pollutes the tabernacle to a level that God cannot tolerate, he will be unable to dwell among his people. The Lord must then cast Israel away from his presence. Thus the threatened covenant curses climax with exile from the Promised Land, away from the presence of the Lord (Lev. 26:33–39). In exile, deprived of God's presence, Israel would become like any other nation and the Abrahamic mission (Gen. 12:3) would be dissolved.

The Mosaic Covenant and the New Creation

To understand Leviticus fully, the book must be viewed within its larger framework of global redemptive history. Israel functions within the Mosaic covenant stage of this history, as a pattern of the Creator-King's ultimate global program of new creation—that is, the restoration of Eden (see the "Global Message" essays on Genesis and Exodus). As Israel lived in holiness to the Lord in the Promised Land, he would bless her with such life that she would become a paradise-kingdom, a kind of miniature Eden. Rains in due season would bring about agricultural abundance (Lev. 26:3–5, 10). The people would dwell in safety and security (26:5–8). The creation mandate to "be fruitful and multiply" would find fulfillment in Israel's multiplying families (26:9; see Gen. 1:28). The Lord himself would dwell and walk among them, even as he did in the garden of Eden with Adam and Eve (Lev. 26:12a; see Gen. 3:8). Israel would be God's people and the Lord would be their God (Lev. 26:12b).

Holiness before God

Leviticus displays the magnificent reality of the Lord's presence with his people in the tabernacle. Because of God's presence with them, the book declares again and again, "You shall be holy because I am holy" (Lev. 11:44–45; 19:2; 20:7, 26; 21:8). To be holy means to be sacred, set apart from what is common for service to the holy God. A person or thing is made holy, or sanctified, by the blood of sacrifice. Conversely, a person or thing is de-sanctified, made common or unclean, by sin or contact with something or someone designated as unclean. All areas of life are regulated so that Israel might know the difference between what is holy and common, clean and unclean (10:10).

In the New Testament, this theme of holiness is picked up in 1 Peter and reapplied to Peter's Gentile (non-Jewish) audience. Having been redeemed by the sacrificial blood of Christ, Christians inherit Israel's calling as members of the new covenant community. They must therefore live in true holiness before the holy God (1 Pet. 1:15–16; 2:9–10).

Universal Themes in Leviticus

The centrality of God. Leviticus teaches that God is the center of all of life. God is the supreme reality around whom everything revolves and for whom all exists. Leviticus quietly yet clearly arranges all of life—space, persons, time, animals, possessions—around God. Everywhere in the world, down through human history, all of life gains its meaning only in relation to him.

The holiness of God. Leviticus teaches further that perfect holiness is required to be in the presence of the perfectly holy God. Once a year, on the holiest day of the calendar (the Day of Atonement), the holiest person (the high priest) enters the holiest place (the Most Holy Place), and offers the sacrifice upon the holiest object (the mercy seat of the ark of the covenant). This sacrifice provides a complete purification of the entire camp. Yet this sacrifice needed to be repeated annually, because it did not secure deliverance from the root cause of all sin, the evil human heart. Only in Jesus Christ was the ultimate cleansing achieved for the people of God, when God put him forward as the ultimate Day of Atonement sacrifice for anyone who believes (Rom. 3:21–25; Heb. 9:6–15; 10:1–14; 13:11–12).

The Global Message of Leviticus for Today

Love of God and sexual holiness. Jesus Christ pronounced all foods clean, eliminating certain distinctions that God had established in Leviticus for the old covenant people of God (Mark 7:19; compare Rom. 14:13–17). Jesus did, however, reassert the validity of the book's command, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." He taught that it was the second most important commandment of the law, second only to loving God with all one's heart and soul and mind (Lev. 19:18; see Matt. 22:34–40; compare Rom. 13:8–10; Gal. 5:14; James 2:8). While numerous issues could be addressed with this command, one of the most urgent globally is that of sexual holiness. The gift of sex is reserved for one man and one woman within the permanent, sacred relationship of marriage. Sex, however, remains one of humanity's most powerful drives, and disciples across the globe often give in to temptation to sexual immorality. The result is defilement before a holy God, who warns that, while forgiveness remains for the penitent, those who persist in such unholy immorality will not inherit the kingdom of God (Gal. 5:19–21; Eph. 5:5).

Love of neighbor and sexual practice. What is often neglected in discussion of sexual immorality is how such acts transgress the command to love our neighbor, a command highlighted in Leviticus. Sexual sin always affects others. Adultery shatters the life of the adulterer’s spouse. Premarital sex robs a future marital partner of the wedding gifts of virginity, exclusivity, and chastity. Incest and sexual abuse destroy the family, shake the community, and put future marriage relationships at a disadvantage. Sex trafficking exploits women and children, selling them into horrifying conditions caused by greed and lust. If the global church does not speak out against such evils, we become, to some degree, complicit in them (see Lev. 5:1; James 4:17). All of life’s choices must be made in light of the command to love our neighbor. Immorality always harms others and leaves victims in its wake. In light of God’s holiness and his deliverance of us to himself, we must love our neighbor.

Laws for Burnt Offerings

LEVITICUS 1 [†][a]The LORD called Moses and spoke to him [b]from the tent of meeting, saying, [2]“Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, [c]When any one of you brings an offering to the LORD, you shall bring your offering of livestock from the herd or from the flock.

[3][†]“If his offering is a burnt offering from the herd, he shall offer [d]a male without blemish. He shall bring it to the entrance of the tent of meeting, that he may be accepted before the LORD. [4][e]He shall lay his hand on the head of the burnt offering, and it shall be [f]accepted for him [g]to make atonement for him. [5][†]Then he shall kill the bull before the LORD, and Aaron’s sons the priests shall bring the blood [h]and throw the blood against the sides of the altar that is at the entrance of the tent of meeting. [6]Then he shall flay the burnt offering and cut it into pieces, [7]and the sons of Aaron the priest shall put fire on the altar and [i]arrange wood on the fire. [8]And Aaron’s sons the priests shall arrange the pieces, the head, and the fat, on the wood that is on the fire on the altar; [9]but its entrails and its legs he shall wash with water. And the priest shall burn all of it on the altar, as [j]a burnt offering, a food offering [1] with a [k]pleasing aroma to the LORD.

[10]“If his gift for a burnt offering is from the flock, from the sheep or goats, he shall bring a male without blemish, [11][l]and he shall kill it on the north side of the altar before the LORD, and Aaron’s sons the priests shall throw its blood against the sides of the altar. [12]And he shall cut it into pieces, with its head and its fat, and the priest shall arrange them on the wood that is on the fire on the altar, [13]but the entrails and the legs he shall wash with water. And the priest shall offer all of it and burn it on the altar; it is [j]a burnt offering, a food offering with [k]a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

[14][†]“If his offering to the LORD is a burnt offering of birds, then he shall bring his offering of [m]turtledoves or pigeons. [15]And the priest shall bring it to the altar and wring off its head and burn it on the altar. Its blood shall be drained out on the side of the altar. [16]He shall remove its crop with its contents [2] and cast it [n]beside the altar on the east side, in the place for ashes. [17]He shall tear it open by its wings, but [o]shall not sever it completely. And the priest shall burn it on the altar, on the wood that is on the fire. It is a burnt offering, a food offering with a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

Laws for Grain Offerings

LEVITICUS 2 [†]“When anyone brings a [p] grain offering as an offering to the LORD, his offering shall be of fine flour. [q] He shall pour oil on it and put frankincense on it [2]and bring it to Aaron’s sons the priests. And he shall take from it a handful of the fine flour and oil, with all of its frankincense, and the priest shall burn this as its [r] memorial portion on the altar, a food [s] offering with a pleasing aroma to the LORD. [3]But the [t] rest of the grain offering shall be for Aaron and his sons; [u] it is a most holy part of the LORD’s food offerings.

[4]“When you bring a grain offering baked in the oven as an offering, it shall be [v] unleavened loaves of fine flour mixed with oil or unleavened wafers smeared with oil. [5]And if your offering is a grain offering [w] baked on a griddle, it shall be of fine flour unleavened, mixed with oil. [6]You shall break it in pieces and pour oil on it; it is a grain offering. [7]And if your offering is a grain offering cooked in a pan, it shall be made of fine flour with oil. [8]And you shall bring the grain offering that is made of these things to the LORD, and when it is presented to the priest, he shall bring it to the altar. [9]And the priest shall take from the grain offering its memorial portion and burn this on the altar, a food [x] offering with a [y] pleasing aroma to the LORD. [10]But the [z] rest of the grain offering shall be for Aaron and his sons; [z] it is a most holy part of the LORD’s food offerings.

[11][†]“No grain offering that you bring to the LORD shall be made with [a] leaven, for you shall burn no leaven nor any honey as a food offering to the LORD. [12] [b] As an offering of firstfruits you may bring them to the LORD, but they shall not be offered on the altar for a pleasing aroma. [13]You [c] shall season all your grain offerings with salt. You shall not let the [d] salt of the covenant with your God be missing from your grain offering; [e] with all your offerings you shall offer salt.

[14]“If you offer a grain offering of firstfruits to the LORD, you shall offer for the grain offering of your firstfruits fresh [f] ears, roasted with fire, crushed new grain. [15]And [g]you shall put oil on it and lay frankincense on it; it is a grain offering. [16]And the priest shall burn as its [h]memorial portion some of the crushed grain and some of the oil with all of its frankincense; it is a food offering to the LORD.

Laws for Peace Offerings

LEVITICUS 3 [†]“If his offering is [i]a sacrifice of peace offering, if he offers an animal from the herd, male or female, [j]he shall offer it [k]without blemish before the LORD. [2]And [l]he shall lay his hand on the head of his offering and kill it at the entrance of the tent of meeting, and Aaron’s sons the priests shall throw the blood against the sides of the altar. [3]And from the sacrifice of the peace offering, as a food offering to the LORD, he shall offer [m]the fat covering the entrails and all the fat that is on the entrails, [4] [n]and the two kidneys with the fat that is on them at the loins, and the long lobe of the liver that he shall remove with the kidneys. [5]Then Aaron’s sons [o]shall burn it on the altar on top of the burnt offering, which is on the wood on the fire; it is a food offering with a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

[6][†]“If his offering for a sacrifice of peace offering to the LORD is an animal from the flock, male or female, he shall offer it [k]without blemish. [7]If he offers a lamb for his offering, then he shall offer it before the LORD, [8]lay his hand on the head of his offering, and kill it in front of the tent of meeting; and Aaron’s sons shall throw its blood against the sides of the altar. [9]Then from the sacrifice of the peace offering he shall offer as a food offering to the LORD its fat; he shall remove the whole [p]fat tail, cut off close to the backbone, and the fat that covers the entrails and all the fat that is on the entrails [10]and the two kidneys with the fat that is on them at the loins and the long lobe of the liver that he shall remove [q]with the kidneys. [11]And the priest shall burn it on the altar as [r]a food offering to the LORD.

[12]“If his offering is a goat, then he shall offer it before the LORD [13]and lay his hand on its head and kill it in front of the tent of meeting, and the sons of Aaron shall throw its blood against the sides of the altar. [14]Then he shall offer from it, as his offering for a food offering to the LORD, the fat covering the entrails and all the fat that is on the entrails [15]and the two kidneys with the fat that is on them at the loins and the long lobe of the liver that he shall remove [q]with the kidneys. [16][†]And the priest shall burn them on the altar as a [r]food offering with a pleasing aroma. [s]All fat is the LORD's. [17]It shall be a statute forever throughout your generations, in all your dwelling places, that you eat neither [s]fat nor [t]blood."

Laws for Sin Offerings

LEVITICUS 4 [†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]"Speak to the people of Israel, saying, [u]If anyone sins unintentionally [1] in any of the LORD's commandments [v]about things not to be done, and does any one of them, [3][†]if it is the anointed priest who [w]sins, thus bringing guilt on the people, then he shall offer for the sin that he has committed [x]a bull from the herd without blemish to the LORD for a sin offering. [4]He shall bring the bull to the [y]entrance of the tent of meeting before the LORD and lay his hand on the head of the bull and kill the bull before the LORD. [5]And the anointed priest [z]shall take some of the blood of the bull and bring it into the tent of meeting, [6]and the priest shall dip his finger in the blood and [z]sprinkle part of the blood seven times before the LORD in front of the veil of the sanctuary. [7]And the priest [a]shall put some of the blood on the horns of the altar of fragrant incense before the LORD that is in the tent of meeting, and [b]all the rest of the blood of the bull he shall pour out at the base of the altar of burnt offering that is at the entrance of the tent of meeting. [8]And all the fat of the bull of the sin offering he shall remove from it, [c]the fat that covers the entrails and all the fat that is on the entrails [9][d]and the two kidneys with the fat that is on them at the loins and the long lobe of the liver that he shall remove with the kidneys [10](just as these are taken from the ox of the sacrifice of the peace offerings); and the priest shall burn them on the altar of burnt offering. [11]But [e]the skin of the bull and all its flesh, with its head, its legs, its entrails, and its dung— [12]all the rest of the bull—he shall carry [f]outside the camp to a clean place, to the ash heap, and shall [g]burn it up on a fire of wood. On the ash heap it shall be burned up.

[13][†][h]"If the whole congregation of Israel sins unintentionally [2] and [i]the thing is hidden from the eyes of the assembly, and they do any one of the things that by the LORD's commandments ought not to be done, and they realize their guilt,[3] [14][j]when the sin which they have committed becomes known, the assembly shall offer a bull from the herd for a sin offering and bring it in front of the tent of meeting. [15]And the elders of the congregation [k]shall lay their hands on the head of the bull before the LORD, and the bull shall be killed before the LORD. [16]Then [l]the anointed priest shall bring some of the blood of the bull into the tent of meeting, [17]and the priest shall dip his finger in the blood and sprinkle it seven times before the LORD in front of the veil. [18]And he shall put some of the blood on the horns of the altar that is in the tent of meeting before the LORD, and the rest of the blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar of burnt offering that is at the entrance of the tent of meeting. [19]And all its fat he shall take from it and burn on the altar. [20]Thus shall he do with the bull. As he did [m]with the bull of the sin offering, so shall he do with this. [n]And the priest shall make atonement for them, and they shall be forgiven. [21]And he shall carry the bull [f]outside the camp and burn it up as he burned the first bull; it is the sin offering for the assembly.

[22][†]“When a leader sins, [o]doing unintentionally any one of all the things that by the commandments of the LORD his God ought not to be done, and realizes his guilt, [23]or [p]the sin which he has committed is made known to him, he shall bring as his offering a goat, a male without blemish, [24]and [q]shall lay his hand on the head of the goat and kill it in the place where they kill the burnt offering before the LORD; it is a sin offering. [25][r]Then the priest shall take some of the blood of the sin offering with his finger and put it on the horns of the altar of burnt offering and pour out the rest of its blood at the base of the altar of burnt offering. [26]And all its fat he shall burn on the altar, like [s]the fat of the sacrifice of peace offerings. So [t]the priest shall make atonement for him for his sin, and he shall be forgiven.

[27]“If [u]anyone of the common people sins unintentionally in doing any one of the things that by the LORD’s commandments ought not to be done, and realizes his guilt, [28][v]or the sin which he has committed is made known to him, he shall bring for his offering a goat, a female without blemish, for his sin which he has committed. [29][w]And he shall lay his hand on the head of the sin offering and kill the sin offering in the place of burnt offering. [30]And the priest shall take some of its blood with his finger and put it on the horns of the altar of burnt offering and pour out all the rest of its blood at the base of the altar. 31And [x]all its fat he shall remove, [y]as the fat is removed from the peace offerings, and the priest shall burn it on the altar for a [z]pleasing aroma to the LORD. [a]And the priest shall make atonement for him, and he shall be forgiven.

32"If he brings a lamb as his offering for a sin offering, he shall bring [b]a female without blemish 33 [w]and lay his hand on the head of the sin offering and kill it for a sin offering in the place where they kill the burnt offering. 34Then the priest shall take some of the blood of the sin offering with his finger and put it on the horns of the altar of burnt offering and pour out all the rest of its blood at the base of the altar. 35And all its fat he shall remove [c]as the fat of the lamb is removed from the sacrifice of peace offerings, and the priest shall burn it on the altar, on top of the LORD's food offerings. [d]And the priest shall make atonement for him for the sin which he has committed, and he shall be forgiven.

LEVITICUS 5 [†]"If anyone sins in that he hears a public [e]adjuration to testify, and though he is a witness, whether he has seen or come to know the matter, yet does not speak, he shall [f]bear his iniquity; 2or [g]if anyone touches an unclean thing, whether a carcass of an unclean wild animal or a carcass of unclean livestock or a carcass of unclean swarming things, and it is hidden from him and he has become unclean, and he realizes his guilt; 3or if he touches [h]human uncleanness, of whatever sort the uncleanness may be with which one becomes unclean, and it is hidden from him, when he comes to know it, and realizes his guilt; 4or if anyone utters with his lips a [i]rash oath to do evil or to do good, any sort of rash oath that people [j]swear, and it is hidden from him, when he comes to know it, and he realizes his guilt in any of these; 5when he realizes his guilt in any of these and [k]confesses the sin he has committed, 6he shall bring to the LORD as his compensation [1] for the sin that he has committed, a female from the flock, a lamb or a goat, for a sin offering. And the priest shall make atonement for him for his sin.

7[†]"But [l]if he cannot afford a lamb, then he shall bring to the LORD as his compensation for the sin that he has committed two [m]turtledoves or two pigeons, [2] one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering. 8He shall bring them to the priest, who shall offer first the one for the sin offering. He shall [n] wring its head from its neck [n] but shall not sever it completely, [9]and he shall sprinkle some of the blood of the sin offering on the side of the altar, while [o] the rest of the blood shall be drained out [p] at the base of the altar; it is a sin offering. [10]Then he shall offer the second for a burnt offering according to the rule. [q] And the priest shall make atonement for him for the sin that he has committed, and he shall be forgiven.

[11]“But if he cannot afford two turtledoves or two pigeons, then he shall bring as his offering for the sin that he has committed a [r] tenth of an ephah [3] of fine flour for a sin offering. He [r] shall put no oil on it and shall put no frankincense on it, for it is a sin offering. [12]And he shall bring it to [s] the priest, and the priest shall take a handful of it as its memorial portion and [t] burn this on the altar, on the LORD’s food offerings; it is a sin offering. [13]Thus [q] the priest shall make atonement for him for the sin which he has committed in any one of these things, and he shall be forgiven. And the remainder [4] shall be for the priest, as in the grain offering.”

Laws for Guilt Offerings

[14][†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [15] [u] “If anyone commits a breach of faith and sins unintentionally in any of the holy things of the LORD, [v] he shall bring to the LORD as his compensation, a ram without blemish out of the flock, valued [5] in silver shekels, [6] according to the [w] shekel of the sanctuary, for a guilt offering. [16]He shall also make restitution for what he has done amiss in the holy thing and [x] shall add a fifth to it and give it to the priest. [q] And the priest shall make atonement for him with the ram of the guilt offering, and he shall be forgiven.

[17] [y] “If anyone sins, doing any of the things that by the LORD’s commandments ought not to be done, [z] though he did not know it, then realizes his guilt, he shall bear his iniquity. [18] [a] He shall bring to the priest a ram without blemish out of the flock, or its equivalent for a guilt offering, and [q] the priest shall make atonement for him for the mistake that he made unintentionally, and he shall be forgiven. [19]It is a guilt offering; he has indeed incurred guilt before [7] the LORD.”

LEVITICUS 6 [†] [1] The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]“If anyone sins and [b]commits a breach of faith against the LORD by [c]deceiving his neighbor in [d]a matter of deposit or security, or through robbery, or [e]if he has oppressed his neighbor [3]or [f]has found something lost and lied about it, [g]swearing falsely—in any of all the things that people do and sin thereby—[4]if he has sinned and has realized his guilt and will restore [e]what he took by robbery or what he got by oppression or the deposit that was committed to him or the lost thing that he found [5]or anything about which he has sworn falsely, he shall [h]restore it in full and shall add a fifth to it, and give it to him to whom it belongs on the day he realizes his guilt. [6]And he shall bring to the priest as his compensation to the LORD [i]a ram without blemish out of the flock, or its equivalent for a guilt offering. [7][j]And the priest shall make atonement for him before the LORD, and he shall be forgiven for any of the things that one may do and thereby become guilty.”

The Priests and the Offerings

[8][†] [2] The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [9]“Command Aaron and his sons, saying, This is the law of the burnt offering. The burnt offering shall be on the hearth on the altar all night until the morning, and the fire of the altar shall be kept burning on it. [10]And [k]the priest shall put on his linen garment and put his linen undergarment on his body, and he shall take up the ashes to which the fire has reduced the burnt offering on the altar and put them [l]beside the altar. [11]Then [m]he shall take off his garments and put on other garments and carry the ashes [n]outside the camp to a clean place. [12]The fire on the altar shall be kept burning on it; it shall not go out. The priest shall burn wood on it every morning, and he shall arrange the burnt offering on it and shall burn on it [o]the fat of the peace offerings. [13]Fire shall be kept burning on the altar continually; it shall not go out.

[14][†]“And this is the law of [p]the grain offering. The sons of Aaron shall offer it before the LORD in front of the altar. [15]And one shall take from it a handful of the fine flour of the grain offering and its oil and all the frankincense that is on the grain offering and burn this as its [q]memorial portion on the altar, a pleasing aroma to the LORD. [16]And [r]the rest of it Aaron and his sons shall eat. It shall be eaten unleavened [s]in a holy place.

In the court of the tent of meeting they shall eat it. [17] [t]It shall not be baked with leaven. [u]I have given it as their portion of my food offerings. [v]It is a thing most holy, like the sin offering and the guilt offering. [18]Every male among the children of Aaron may eat of it, as decreed forever throughout your generations, from the LORD’s food offerings. Whatever touches them shall become holy.”

[19][†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [20] [w]“This is the offering that Aaron and his sons shall offer to the LORD on the day when he is anointed: a [x]tenth of an ephah [3] of fine flour as a regular grain offering, half of it in the morning and half in the evening. [21]It shall be made with oil [y]on a griddle. You shall bring it [z]well mixed, in baked [4] pieces like a grain offering, and offer it for a pleasing aroma to the LORD. [22]The priest from among Aaron’s sons, who is anointed to succeed him, shall offer it to the LORD as decreed forever. [a]The whole of it shall be burned. [23]Every grain offering of a priest shall be wholly burned. It shall not be eaten.”

[24][†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [25]“Speak to Aaron and his sons, saying, [b]This is the law of the sin offering. [c]In the place where the burnt offering is killed shall the sin offering be killed before the LORD; [d]it is most holy. [26] [e]The priest who offers it for sin shall eat it. [f]In a holy place it shall be eaten, in the court of the tent of meeting. [27]Whatever touches its flesh shall be holy, and when any of its blood is splashed on a garment, you shall wash that on which it was splashed in a holy place. [28]And [g]the earthenware vessel in which it is boiled [h]shall be broken. But if it is boiled in a bronze vessel, that shall be scoured and rinsed in water. [29]Every male among the priests may eat of it; [d]it is most holy. [30] [i]But no sin offering shall be eaten from which any blood is brought into the tent of meeting to make atonement in the Holy Place; it shall be burned up with fire.

LEVITICUS 7 [†][j]“This is the law of the [k]guilt offering. [l]It is most holy.
[2] [m]In the place where they kill the burnt offering they shall kill the guilt offering, and its blood shall be thrown against the sides of the altar. [3]And [n]all its fat shall be offered, the fat tail, the fat that covers the entrails, [4]the two kidneys with the fat that is on them at the loins, and the long lobe of the liver that he shall remove [o]with the kidneys. [5]The priest shall burn them on the altar as a food offering to the LORD; it is a guilt offering. [6] [p]Every male among the priests may eat of it. It shall be eaten in a holy place. [q] It is most holy. [7]The [r] guilt offering is just like the sin offering; there is one law for them. The priest who makes atonement with it shall have it. [8]And the priest who offers any man’s burnt offering shall have for himself the skin of the burnt offering that he has offered. [9]And [s] every grain offering baked [t] in the oven and all that is prepared [u] on a pan or a griddle shall belong to the priest who offers it. [10]And every grain offering, mixed with oil or dry, shall be shared equally among all the sons of Aaron.

[11][†]“And this is the law of the sacrifice of peace offerings that one may offer to the LORD. [12]If he offers it for a thanksgiving, then he shall offer with the thanksgiving sacrifice [v] unleavened loaves mixed with oil, unleavened wafers smeared with oil, and loaves of fine flour [w] well mixed with oil. [13] [x] With the sacrifice of his peace offerings for thanksgiving he shall bring his offering with loaves of leavened bread. [14]And from it he shall offer one loaf from each offering, as a [y] gift to the LORD. [z] It shall belong to the priest who throws the blood of the peace offerings. [15]And the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offerings [a] for thanksgiving shall be eaten on the day of his offering. He shall not leave any of it until the morning.
[16]But [b] if the sacrifice of his offering is a vow offering or a freewill offering, it shall be eaten on the day that he offers his sacrifice, and on the next day what remains of it shall be eaten. [17]But what remains of the flesh of the sacrifice on the third day shall be burned up with fire. [18]If any of the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offering is eaten on the third day, he who offers it shall not be accepted, neither shall it be credited to him. It is [c] tainted, and he who eats of it shall bear his iniquity.

[19]“Flesh that touches any unclean thing shall not be eaten. It shall be burned up with fire. All who are clean may eat flesh, [20]but the person who eats of the flesh of the sacrifice of the LORD’s peace offerings [d] while an uncleanness is on him, that person shall be cut off from his people. [21]And if anyone touches an unclean thing, whether [e] human uncleanness or an [f] unclean beast or any [g] unclean detestable creature, and then eats some flesh from the sacrifice of the LORD’s peace offerings, that person shall be cut off from his people.”

[22]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [23]"Speak to the people of Israel, saying, [h]You shall eat no fat, of ox or sheep or goat. [24]The fat of an animal [i]that dies of itself and the fat of one that is torn by beasts may be put to any other use, but on no account shall you eat it. [25]For every person who eats of the fat of an animal of which a food offering may be made to the LORD shall be cut off from his people. [26]Moreover, [j]you shall eat no blood whatever, whether of fowl or of animal, in any of your dwelling places. [27]Whoever eats any blood, that person shall be cut off from his people."

[28]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [29]"Speak to the people of Israel, saying, [k]Whoever offers the sacrifice of his peace offerings to the LORD shall bring his offering to the LORD from the sacrifice of his peace offerings. [30] [l]His own hands shall bring the LORD's food offerings. He shall bring the fat with [m]the breast, that the breast may be waved as a wave offering before the LORD. [31] [n]The priest shall burn the fat on the altar, but [o]the breast shall be for Aaron and his sons. [32]And [o]the right thigh you shall give to the priest as a contribution from the sacrifice of your peace offerings. [33]Whoever among the sons of Aaron offers the blood of the peace offerings and the fat shall have the right thigh for a portion. [34]For the breast that is [o]waved and the thigh that is [o]contributed I have taken from the people of Israel, out of the sacrifices of their peace offerings, and [p]have given them to Aaron the priest and to his sons, as a perpetual due from the people of Israel. [35]This is the portion of Aaron and of his sons from the LORD's food offerings, from the day they were presented to serve as priests of the LORD. [36]The LORD commanded this to be given them by the people of Israel, [q]from the day that he anointed them. It is a perpetual due throughout their generations."

[37]This is the law [r]of the burnt offering, of the grain offering, of the sin offering, [s]of the guilt offering, [t]of the ordination offering, and [u]of the peace offering, [38]which the LORD commanded Moses on Mount Sinai, on the day that he commanded the people of Israel [v]to bring their offerings to the LORD, in the wilderness of Sinai.

Consecration of Aaron and His Sons

LEVITICUS 8 [†] [w] The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]“Take Aaron and his sons with him, and [x] the garments and [y] the anointing oil and the bull of the sin offering and the two rams and the basket of unleavened bread. [3]And assemble all the congregation at the entrance of the tent of meeting.” [4]And Moses did as the LORD commanded him, and the congregation was assembled at the entrance of the tent of meeting.

[5]And Moses said to the congregation, [z] “This is the thing that the LORD has commanded to be done.” [6]And Moses brought Aaron and his sons and washed them with water. [7]And he put [a] the coat on him and tied the sash around his waist and clothed him with the robe and put the ephod on him and tied the skillfully woven band of the ephod around him, binding it to him with the band. [1] [8][†]And he placed the breastpiece on him, and [b] in the breastpiece he put the Urim and the Thummim. [9]And he set [a] the turban on his head, and [c] on the turban, in front, he set the golden plate, the holy crown, as the LORD commanded Moses.

[10][†] [d] Then Moses took the anointing oil and anointed the tabernacle and all that was in it, and consecrated them. [11]And he sprinkled some of it on the altar seven times, and anointed the altar and all its utensils and the basin and its stand, to consecrate them. [12]And [e] he poured some of the anointing oil on Aaron’s head and anointed him to consecrate him. [13]And Moses brought Aaron’s sons and clothed them with coats and tied sashes around their waists and bound caps on them, as the LORD commanded Moses.

[14][†]Then he brought [f] the bull of the sin offering, and Aaron and his sons [g] laid their hands on the head of the bull of the sin offering. [15]And he [2] killed it, and [h] Moses took the blood, and with his finger put it on the horns of the altar around it and purified the altar and poured out the blood at the base of the altar and consecrated it to make atonement for it. [16] [i] And he took all the fat that was on the entrails and the long lobe of the liver and the two kidneys with their fat, and Moses burned them on the altar. [17]But [j] the bull and its skin and its flesh and its dung he burned up with fire outside the camp, as the LORD commanded Moses.

18[†] [k] Then he presented the ram of the burnt offering, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram. 19And he killed it, and Moses threw the blood against the sides of the altar. 20He cut the ram into pieces, and Moses burned [l] the head and the pieces and the fat. 21He washed the entrails and the legs with water, and Moses burned the whole ram on the altar. It was a burnt offering with a pleasing aroma, a food offering for the LORD, as the LORD commanded Moses.

22[†]Then [m] he presented the other ram, the ram of ordination, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram. 23And he killed it, and Moses took some of its blood and [n] put it on the lobe of Aaron's right ear and on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot. 24Then he presented Aaron's sons, and Moses put some of the blood on the lobes of their right ears and on the thumbs of their right hands and on the big toes of their right feet. And Moses threw the blood against the sides of the altar. 25Then he took the fat and the fat tail and all the fat that was on the entrails and the long lobe of the liver and the two kidneys with their fat and the right thigh, 26and out of the basket of unleavened bread that was before the LORD he took one unleavened loaf and one loaf of bread with oil and one wafer and placed them on the pieces of fat and on the right thigh. 27And he put all these in the hands of Aaron and in the hands of his sons and waved them as a wave offering before the LORD. 28Then Moses took them from their hands and burned them on the altar with the burnt offering. This was an ordination offering with a pleasing aroma, a food offering to the LORD. 29And Moses took the breast and waved it for a wave offering before the LORD. It was Moses' portion of the ram of ordination, as the LORD commanded Moses.

30Then [o] Moses took some of the anointing oil and of the blood that was on the altar and sprinkled it on Aaron and his garments, and also on his sons and his sons' garments. So he consecrated Aaron and his garments, and his sons and his sons' garments with him.

31[†]And Moses said to Aaron and his sons, "Boil the flesh at the entrance of the tent of meeting, and there eat it and the bread that is in the basket of ordination offerings, as I commanded, saying, 'Aaron and his sons shall eat it.' 32And what remains of the flesh and the bread you shall burn up with fire. 33And you shall not go outside the entrance of the tent of meeting for seven days, until the days of your ordination are completed, for it [p] will take seven days to ordain you. [34]As has been done today, the LORD has commanded to be done to make atonement for you. [35]At the entrance of the tent of meeting you shall remain day and night for seven days, performing what the LORD has [q] charged, so that you do not die, for so I have been commanded.” [36]And Aaron and his sons did all the things that the LORD commanded by Moses.

The LORD Accepts Aaron’s Offering

LEVITICUS 9 [†] [r] On the eighth day Moses called Aaron and his sons and the elders of Israel, [2]and he said to Aaron, [s] “Take for yourself a bull calf for a sin offering and [t] a ram for a burnt offering, both without blemish, and offer them before the LORD. [3]And say to the people of Israel, [u] ‘Take a male goat for a sin offering, and a calf and a lamb, both a year old without blemish, for a burnt offering, [4]and an ox and a ram for peace offerings, to sacrifice before the LORD, and [v] a grain offering mixed with oil, for [w] today the LORD will appear to you.’” [5][†]And they brought what Moses commanded in front of the tent of meeting, and all the congregation drew near and stood before the LORD. [6]And Moses said, “This is the thing that the LORD commanded you to do, that the glory of the LORD may appear to you.” [7][†]Then Moses said to Aaron, “Draw near to the altar and [x] offer your sin offering and your burnt offering and [y] make atonement for yourself and for the people, and bring the offering of the people and make atonement for them, as the LORD has commanded.”

[8]So Aaron drew near to the altar and killed the calf of the sin offering, which was for himself. [9] [z] And the sons of Aaron presented the blood to him, and he dipped his finger in the blood and [a] put it on the horns of the altar and poured out the blood at the base of the altar. [10] [b] But the fat and the kidneys and the long lobe of the liver from the sin offering he burned on the altar, [c] as the LORD commanded Moses. [11] [d] The flesh and the skin he burned up with fire outside the camp.

[12]Then he killed the burnt offering, and Aaron’s sons handed him the blood, and he [e] threw it against the sides of the altar. [13] [f] And they handed the burnt offering to him, piece by piece, and the head, and he burned them on the altar. 14 [g] And he washed the entrails and the legs and burned them with the burnt offering on the altar.

15 [h] Then he presented the people's offering and took the goat of the sin offering that was for the people and killed it and [i] offered it as a sin offering, [j] like the first one. 16 And he presented the burnt offering and offered it [k] according to the [l] rule. 17 And he presented the [m] grain offering, took a handful of it, and burned it on the altar, [n] besides the burnt offering of the morning.

18 Then he killed the ox and the ram, [o] the sacrifice of peace offerings for the people. And Aaron's sons handed him the blood, and he threw it against the sides of the altar. 19 But the fat pieces of the ox and of the ram, the fat tail and that which covers [p] the entrails and the kidneys and the long lobe of the liver— 20 they put the fat pieces on the breasts, [q] and he burned the fat pieces on the altar, 21 but the breasts and the right thigh Aaron waved [r] for a wave offering before the LORD, as Moses commanded.

22 [†]Then Aaron [s] lifted up his hands toward the people and [t] blessed them, and he came down from offering the sin offering and the burnt offering and the peace offerings. 23 And Moses and Aaron went into the tent of meeting, and when they came out they blessed the people, and [u] the glory of the LORD appeared to all the people. 24 And [v] fire came out from before the LORD and consumed the burnt offering and the pieces of fat on the altar, and when all the people saw it, [w] they shouted and [x] fell on their faces.

The Death of Nadab and Abihu

LEVITICUS 10 [†]Now [y] Nadab and Abihu, the sons of Aaron, [z] each took his censer and put fire in it and laid incense on it and offered [a] unauthorized [1] fire before the LORD, which he had not commanded them. 2 And fire [b] came out from before the LORD and consumed them, and they died before the LORD. 3 Then Moses said to Aaron, "This is what the LORD has said: 'Among [c] those who are near me [d] I will be sanctified, and before all the people I will be glorified.'" [e] And Aaron held his peace.

4 [†]And Moses called Mishael and Elzaphan, the sons of [f] Uzziel the uncle of Aaron, and said to them, "Come near; carry your brothers away from the front of the sanctuary and out of the camp." 5 So they came near and carried them in their coats out of the camp, as Moses had said. [6]And Moses said to Aaron and to Eleazar and Ithamar his sons, [g]“Do not let the hair of your heads hang loose, and do not tear your clothes, lest you die, and [h]wrath come upon all the congregation; but let your brothers, the whole house of Israel, bewail the burning that the LORD has kindled. [7] [i]And do not go outside the entrance of the tent of meeting, lest you die, [j]for the anointing oil of the LORD is upon you.” And they did according to the word of Moses.

[8][†]And the LORD spoke to Aaron, saying, [9][†] [k]“Drink no wine or strong drink, you or your sons with you, when you go into the tent of meeting, lest you die. It shall be a statute forever throughout your generations. [10]You are to [l]distinguish between the holy and the common, and between the unclean and the clean, [11]and [m]you are to teach the people of Israel all the statutes that the LORD has spoken to them by Moses.”

[12]Moses spoke to Aaron and to Eleazar and Ithamar, his surviving sons: “Take the [n]grain offering that is left of the LORD’s food offerings, and eat it unleavened beside the altar, for [o]it is most holy. [13]You shall eat it in a holy place, because it is your due and your sons’ due, from the LORD’s food offerings, for [p]so I am commanded. [14]But the [q]breast that is waved and the thigh that is contributed you shall eat in a clean place, you and your sons and your daughters with you, for they are given as your due and your sons’ due from the sacrifices of the peace offerings of the people of Israel. [15] [r]The thigh that is contributed and the breast that is waved they shall bring with the food offerings of the fat pieces to wave for a wave offering before the LORD, and it shall be yours and your sons’ with you as a due forever, as the LORD has commanded.”

[16][†]Now Moses diligently inquired about [s]the goat of the sin offering, and behold, it was burned up! And he was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar, the surviving sons of Aaron, saying, [17] [t]“Why have you not eaten the sin offering in the place of the sanctuary, since [o]it is a thing most holy and has been given to you that you may bear the iniquity of the congregation, to make atonement for them before the LORD? [18]Behold, [u]its blood was not brought into the inner part of the sanctuary. You certainly ought to have eaten it in the sanctuary, [v]as I commanded.” [19]And Aaron said to Moses, “Behold, [w]today they have offered their sin offering and their burnt offering before the LORD, and yet such things as these have happened to me! If I had eaten the sin offering today, [x]would the LORD have approved?” [20]And when Moses heard that, he approved.

Clean and Unclean Animals

LEVITICUS 11 [†]And the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying to them, [2]“Speak to the people of Israel, saying, [y]These are the living things that you may eat among all the animals that are on the earth. [3]Whatever parts the hoof and is cloven-footed and chews the cud, among the animals, you may eat. [4]Nevertheless, among those that chew the cud or part the hoof, you shall not eat these: The camel, because it chews the cud but does not part the hoof, is unclean to you. [5]And the [z]rock badger, because it chews the cud but does not part the hoof, is unclean to you. [6]And the hare, because it chews the cud but does not part the hoof, is unclean to you. [7]And the pig, because it parts the hoof and is cloven-footed but does not chew the cud, [a]is unclean to you. [8]You shall not eat any of their flesh, and you shall not touch their carcasses; they are unclean to you.

[9][†]“These you may eat, of all that are in the waters. Everything in the waters that has fins and scales, whether in the seas or in the rivers, you may eat. [10]But anything in the seas or the rivers that does not have fins and scales, of the swarming creatures in the waters and of the living creatures that are in the waters, is [b]detestable to you. [11]You shall regard them as detestable; you shall not eat any of their flesh, and you shall detest their carcasses. [12]Everything in the waters that does not have fins and scales is detestable to you.

[13][†]“And these you shall detest among the birds; [1] they shall not be eaten; they are [b]detestable: [c]the eagle, [2] the bearded vulture, the black vulture, [14]the kite, [d]the falcon of any kind, [15]every raven of any kind, [16]the ostrich, the nighthawk, the sea gull, the [e]hawk of any kind, [17]the [f]little owl, the cormorant, the [g]short-eared owl, [18]the barn owl, the [h]tawny owl, the carrion vulture, [19]the stork, the heron of any kind, the hoopoe, and [i]the bat.

[20][†]“All winged insects that go on all fours are detestable to you. [21]Yet among the winged insects that go on all fours you may eat those that have jointed legs above their feet, with which to hop on the ground. [22]Of them you may eat: [j]the locust of any kind, the bald locust of any kind, the cricket of any kind, and the grasshopper of any kind. [23]But all other winged insects that have four feet are detestable to you.

[24][†]“And by these you shall become unclean. Whoever touches their carcass shall be unclean until the evening, [25]and whoever carries any part of their carcass [k]shall wash his clothes and be unclean until the evening. [26]Every animal that parts the hoof but is not cloven-footed or does not chew the cud is unclean to you. Everyone who touches them shall be unclean. [27]And all that walk on their paws, among the animals that go on all fours, are unclean to you. Whoever touches their carcass shall be unclean until the evening, [28]and he who carries their carcass [k]shall wash his clothes and be unclean until the evening; they are unclean to you.

[29][†]“And these are unclean to you among the swarming things that swarm on the ground: the mole rat, [l]the mouse, the great lizard of any kind, [30]the gecko, the monitor lizard, the lizard, the sand lizard, and the chameleon. [31]These are unclean to you among all that swarm. Whoever touches them when they are dead shall be unclean until the evening. [32]And anything on which any of them falls when they are dead shall be unclean, whether it is an article of wood or a garment or a skin or a sack, any article that is used for any purpose. [m]It must be put into water, and it shall be unclean until the evening; then it shall be clean. [33]And if any of them falls into any earthenware vessel, all that is in it shall be unclean, and you [n]shall break it. [34]Any food in it that could be eaten, on which water comes, shall be unclean. And all drink that could be drunk from every such vessel shall be unclean. [35]And everything on which any part of their carcass falls shall be unclean. Whether oven or stove, it shall be broken in pieces. They are unclean and shall remain unclean for you. [36][†]Nevertheless, a spring or a cistern holding water shall be clean, but whoever touches a carcass in them shall be unclean. [37]And if any part of their carcass falls upon any seed grain that is to be sown, it is clean, [38]but if water is put on the seed and any part of their carcass falls on it, it is unclean to you.

[39][†]“And if any animal which you may eat dies, whoever touches its carcass shall be unclean until the evening, [40]and [o]whoever eats of its carcass shall wash his clothes and be unclean until the evening. And whoever carries the carcass shall wash his clothes and be unclean until the evening.

41 [p] "Every swarming thing that swarms on the ground is detestable; it shall not be eaten. 42 Whatever goes on its belly, and whatever goes on all fours, or whatever has many feet, any swarming thing that swarms on the ground, you shall not eat, for they are detestable. 43 [q] You shall not make yourselves detestable with any swarming thing that swarms, and you shall not defile yourselves with them, and become unclean through them. 44 [†] For I am the LORD your God. Consecrate yourselves therefore, and [r] be holy, for I am holy. [q] You shall not defile yourselves with any swarming thing that crawls on the ground. 45 [s] For I am the LORD who brought you up out of the land of Egypt to be your God. [r] You shall therefore be holy, for I am holy."

46 This is the law about beast and bird and every living creature that moves through the waters and every creature that swarms on the ground, 47 [t] to make a distinction between the unclean and the clean and between the living creature that may be eaten and the living creature that may not be eaten.

Purification After Childbirth

LEVITICUS 12 [†] The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 "Speak to the people of Israel, saying, If a woman conceives and bears a male child, then [u] she shall be unclean seven days. [v] As at the time of her menstruation, she shall be unclean. 3 And on the [w] eighth day the flesh of his foreskin shall be circumcised. 4 Then she shall continue for thirty-three days in the blood of her purifying. She shall not touch anything holy, nor come into the sanctuary, until the days of her purifying are completed. 5 But if she bears a female child, then she shall be unclean two weeks, as in her menstruation. And she shall continue in the blood of her purifying for sixty-six days.

6 [u] "And when the days of her purifying are completed, whether for a son or for a daughter, she shall bring to the priest at the entrance of the tent of meeting a lamb a year old for a burnt offering, and a pigeon or a turtledove for a sin offering, 7 and he shall offer it before the LORD and make atonement for her. Then she shall be clean from the flow of her blood. This is the law for her who bears a child, either male or female. 8[†]And if she cannot afford a lamb, then she shall take [x]two turtledoves or two pigeons,[1] [y]one for a burnt offering and the other for a sin offering. [z]And the priest shall make atonement for her, and she shall be clean."

Laws About Leprosy

LEVITICUS 13 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, 2"When a person has on the skin of his body a [a]swelling or an eruption or a spot, and it turns into a case of leprous[1] disease on the skin of his body, [b]then he shall be brought to Aaron the priest or to one of his sons the priests, 3[†]and the priest shall examine the diseased area on the skin of his body. And if the hair in the diseased area has turned white and the disease appears to be deeper than the skin of his body, it is a case of leprous disease. When the priest has examined him, he shall pronounce him unclean. 4But if the spot is white in the skin of his body and appears no deeper than the skin, and the hair in it has not turned white, [c]the priest shall shut up the diseased person for seven days. 5And the priest shall examine him on the seventh day, and if in his eyes the disease is checked and the disease has not spread in the skin, then the [c]priest shall shut him up for another seven days. 6And the priest shall examine him again on the seventh day, and if the diseased area has faded and the disease has not spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him clean; it is only an eruption. And [d]he shall wash his clothes and be clean. 7But if the eruption spreads in the skin, after he has shown himself to the priest for his cleansing, he shall appear again before the priest. 8And the priest shall look, and if the eruption has spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a leprous disease.

9[†]"When a man is afflicted with a leprous disease, he shall be brought to the priest, 10and the priest shall look. And if there is a [e]white swelling in the skin that has turned the hair white, and there is raw flesh in the swelling, 11it is a chronic leprous disease in the skin of his body, and the priest shall pronounce him unclean. [f]He shall not shut him up, for he is unclean. 12And if the leprous disease breaks out in the skin, so that the leprous disease covers all the skin of the diseased person from head to foot, so far as the priest can see, [13]then the priest shall look, and if the leprous disease has covered all his body, he shall pronounce him clean of the disease; it has all turned white, and he is clean. [14]But when raw flesh appears on him, he shall be unclean. [15]And the priest shall examine the raw flesh and pronounce him unclean. Raw flesh is unclean, for it is a leprous disease. [16]But if the raw flesh recovers and turns white again, then he shall come to the priest, [17]and the priest shall examine him, and if the disease has turned white, then the priest shall pronounce the diseased person clean; he is clean.

[18][†]“If there is in the skin of one’s body a [g] boil and it heals, [19]and in the place of the boil there comes a white swelling or a [h] reddish-white spot, then it shall be shown to the priest. [20]And the priest shall look, and if it appears deeper than the skin and its hair has turned white, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean. It is a case of leprous disease that has broken out in the boil. [21]But if the priest examines it and there is no white hair in it and it is not deeper than the skin, but has faded, then the priest shall shut him up seven days. [22]And if it spreads in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a disease. [23]But [i] if the spot remains in one place and does not spread, it is the scar of the boil, and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

[24]“Or, when the body has a burn on its skin and the raw flesh of the burn becomes a spot, [j] reddish-white or white, [25]the priest shall examine it, and if the hair in the spot has turned white and it appears deeper than the skin, then it is a leprous disease. It has broken out in the burn, and the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a case of leprous disease. [26]But if the priest examines it and there is no white hair in the spot and it is no deeper than the skin, but has faded, the priest shall shut him up seven days, [27]and the priest shall examine him the seventh day. If it is spreading in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a case of leprous disease. [28]But if the spot remains [k] in one place and does not spread in the skin, but has faded, it is a swelling from the burn, and the priest shall pronounce him clean, for it is the scar of the burn.

[29]“When a man or woman has a disease on the head or the beard, [30]the priest shall examine the disease. And if it appears deeper than the skin, and the hair in it is yellow and thin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean. It is an itch, a leprous disease of the head or the beard. [31]And if the priest examines the itching disease and it appears no deeper than the skin and there is no black hair in it, then the priest shall shut up the person with the itching disease for seven days, [32]and on the seventh day the priest shall examine the disease. If the itch has not spread, and there is in it no yellow hair, and the itch appears to be no deeper than the skin, [33]then he shall shave himself, but the itch he shall not shave; and the priest shall shut up the person with the itching disease for another seven days. [34]And on the seventh day the priest shall examine the itch, and if the itch has not spread in the skin and it appears to be no deeper than the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him clean. And [l]he shall wash his clothes and be clean. [35]But if the itch spreads in the skin after his cleansing, [36]then the priest shall examine him, and if the itch has spread in the skin, the priest need not seek for the yellow hair; he is unclean. [37]But if in his eyes the itch is unchanged and black hair has grown in it, the itch is healed and he is clean, and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

[38]"When a man or a woman has spots on the skin of the body, white spots, [39]the priest shall look, and if the spots on the skin of the body are of a dull white, it is leukoderma that has broken out in the skin; he is clean.

[40]"If a man's hair falls out from his head, he is bald; he is clean. [41]And if a man's hair falls out from his forehead, he has baldness of the forehead; he is clean. [42]But if there is on the bald head or the bald forehead a reddish-white diseased area, it is a leprous disease breaking out on his bald head or his bald forehead. [43]Then the priest shall examine him, and if the diseased swelling is reddish-white on his bald head or on his bald forehead, like the appearance of leprous disease in the skin of the body, [44]he is a leprous man, he is unclean. The priest must pronounce him unclean; his disease is on his head.

[45][†]"The leprous person who has the disease shall wear torn clothes and [m]let the hair of his head hang loose, and he shall [n]cover his upper lip [2] and cry out, [o]'Unclean, unclean.' [46]He shall remain unclean as long as he has the disease. He is unclean. He shall live alone. His dwelling shall be [p]outside the camp.

[47][†]"When there is a case of leprous disease in a [q]garment, whether a woolen or a linen garment, [48]in warp or woof of linen or wool, or in a skin or in anything made of skin, [49]if the disease is greenish or reddish in the garment, or in the skin or in the warp or the woof or in any article made of skin, it is a case of leprous disease, and it shall be shown to the priest. [50]And the priest shall examine the disease and shut up that which has the disease for seven days. [51]Then he shall examine the disease on the seventh day. If the disease has spread in the garment, in the warp or the woof, or in the skin, whatever be the use of the skin, the disease is a [r] persistent leprous disease; it is unclean. [52]And he shall burn the garment, or the warp or the woof, the wool or the linen, or any article made of skin that is diseased, for it is a persistent leprous disease. It shall be burned in the fire.

[53]"And if the priest examines, and if the disease has not spread in the garment, in the warp or the woof or in any article made of skin, [54]then the priest shall command that they wash the thing in which is the disease, and he shall shut it up for another seven days. [55]And the priest shall examine the diseased thing after it has been washed. And if the appearance of the diseased area has not changed, though the disease has not spread, it is unclean. You shall burn it in the fire, whether the rot is on the back or on the front.

[56]"But if the priest examines, and if the diseased area has faded after it has been washed, he shall tear it out of the garment or the skin or the warp or the woof. [57]Then if it appears again in the garment, in the warp or the woof, or in any article made of skin, it is spreading. You shall burn with fire whatever has the disease. [58]But the garment, or the warp or the woof, or any article made of skin from which the disease departs when you have washed it, shall then be washed a second time, and be clean."

[59]This is the law for a case of leprous disease in a garment of wool or linen, either in the warp or the woof, or in any article made of skin, to determine whether it is clean or unclean.

Laws for Cleansing Lepers

LEVITICUS 14 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]"This shall be the law of the leprous person for the day of his cleansing. [s] He shall be brought to the priest, [3]and the priest shall go [t] out of the camp, and the priest shall look. Then, if the case of leprous disease is healed in the leprous person, [4]the priest shall command them to take for him who is to be cleansed two live [1] clean birds and [u] cedarwood and [v] scarlet yarn and [w] hyssop. [5]And the priest shall command them to kill one of the birds in an earthenware vessel over fresh [2] water. [6]He shall take the live bird with the cedarwood and the scarlet yarn and the hyssop, and dip them and the live bird in the blood of the bird that was killed over the fresh water. [7]And he shall [x] sprinkle it [y] seven times on him who is to be cleansed of the leprous disease. Then he shall pronounce him clean and shall [z] let the living bird go [a] into the open field. [8]And he who is to be cleansed [b] shall wash his clothes and shave off all his hair and bathe himself in water, and he shall be clean. And after that he may come into the camp, but [c] live outside his tent seven days. [9]And [d] on the seventh day he shall shave off all his hair from his head, his beard, and his eyebrows. He shall shave off all his hair, and then he [b] shall wash his clothes and bathe his body in water, and he shall be clean.

[10][†]"And on the eighth day he [e] shall take two male lambs without blemish, and one ewe lamb a year old without blemish, and a [f] grain offering of three tenths of an ephah [3] of fine flour mixed with oil, and one log [4] of oil. [11]And the priest who cleanses him shall set the man who is to be cleansed and these things before the Lord, at the entrance of the tent of meeting. [12]And the priest shall take one of the male lambs and [g] offer it for a guilt offering, along with the log of oil, and [h] wave them for a wave offering before the Lord. [13]And he shall kill the lamb [i] in the place where they kill the sin offering and the burnt offering, in the place of the sanctuary. For [j] the guilt offering, like the sin offering, belongs to the priest; [k] it is most holy. [14]The priest shall take some of the blood of the guilt offering, and the priest shall put it [l] on the lobe of the right ear of him who is to be cleansed and on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot. [15]Then the priest shall take some of the log of oil and pour it into the palm of his own left hand [16]and dip his right finger in the oil that is in his left hand and sprinkle some oil with his finger seven times before the Lord. [17]And some of the oil that remains in his hand the priest shall put on the lobe of the right ear of him who is to be cleansed and on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot, on top of the blood of the guilt offering. [18]And the rest of the oil that is in the priest's hand he shall put on the head of him who is to be cleansed. [m] Then the priest shall make atonement for him before the LORD. [19]The priest shall offer the sin offering, to make atonement for him who is to be cleansed from his uncleanness. And afterward he shall kill the burnt offering. [20]And the priest shall offer the burnt offering and the [f]grain offering on the altar. [m]Thus the priest shall make atonement for him, and he shall be clean.

[21][†]"But [n]if he is poor and cannot afford so much, then he shall take one male lamb for a guilt offering [h]to be waved, to make atonement for him, and a tenth of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering, and a log of oil; [22][o]also two turtledoves or two pigeons, whichever he can afford. The one shall be a sin offering and the other a burnt offering. [23][p]And on the eighth day he shall bring them for his cleansing to the priest, to the entrance of the tent of meeting, before the LORD. [24][q]And the priest shall take the lamb of the guilt offering and the log of oil, and the priest shall wave them for a wave offering before the LORD. [25]And he shall kill the lamb of the guilt offering. [r]And the priest shall take some of the blood of the guilt offering and put it on the lobe of the right ear of him who is to be cleansed, and on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot. [26]And the priest shall pour some of the oil into the palm of his own left hand, [27]and shall sprinkle with his right finger some of the oil that is in his left hand seven times before the LORD. [28]And the priest shall put some of the oil that is in his hand on the lobe of the right ear of him who is to be cleansed and on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot, in the place where the blood of the guilt offering was put. [29]And the rest of the oil that is in the priest's hand he shall put on the head of him who is to be cleansed, to make atonement for him before the LORD. [30]And he shall offer, of the [s]turtledoves or pigeons, whichever he can afford, [31]one [5] for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering, along with a grain offering. [m]And the priest shall make atonement before the LORD for him who is being cleansed. [32]This is the law for him in whom is a case of leprous disease, who cannot afford [t]the offerings for his cleansing."

Laws for Cleansing Houses

[33][†]The LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, [34]“When you come into the land of Canaan, which I give you [u] for a possession, and I put a case of leprous disease in a house in the land of your possession, [35]then he who owns the house shall come and tell the priest, ‘There seems to me to be some case of [v] disease in my house.’ [36]Then the priest shall command that they empty the house before the priest goes to examine the disease, lest all that is in the house be declared unclean. And afterward the priest shall go in to see the house. [37]And he shall examine the disease. And if the disease is in the walls of the house with greenish or reddish spots, and if it appears to be deeper than the surface, [38]then the priest shall go out of the house to the door of the house and shut up the house seven days. [39]And the priest shall come again on the seventh day, and look. If the disease has spread in the walls of the house, [40]then the priest shall command that they take out the stones in which is the disease and throw them into an unclean place outside the city. [41]And he shall have the inside of the house scraped all around, and the plaster that they scrape off they shall pour out in an unclean place outside the city. [42]Then they shall take other stones and put them in the place of those stones, and he shall take other plaster and plaster the house.

[43]“If the disease breaks out again in the house, after he has taken out the stones and scraped the house and plastered it, [44]then the priest shall go and look. And if the disease has spread in the house, it is a [w] persistent leprous disease in the house; it is unclean. [45]And he shall break down the house, its stones and timber and all the plaster of the house, and he shall carry them out of the city to an unclean place. [46]Moreover, whoever enters the house while it is shut up shall be unclean until the evening, [47]and whoever sleeps in the house [x] shall wash his clothes, and whoever eats in the house shall wash his clothes.

[48]“But if the priest comes and looks, and if the disease has not spread in the house after the house was plastered, then the priest shall pronounce the house clean, for the disease is healed. [49]And for the [y] cleansing of the house he shall take [z] two small birds, with cedarwood and scarlet yarn and hyssop, [50]and shall kill one of the birds in an earthenware vessel over fresh water [51]and shall take the cedarwood and the hyssop and the scarlet yarn, along with the live bird, and dip them in the blood of the bird that was killed and in the fresh water and sprinkle the house seven times. [52]Thus he shall cleanse the house with the blood of the bird and with the fresh water and with the live bird and with the cedarwood and hyssop and scarlet yarn. [53]And he shall let the live bird go out of the city [a]into the open country. So he shall [b]make atonement for the house, and it shall be clean."

[54]This is the law for any case of leprous disease: for [c]an itch, [55]for [d]leprous disease in a garment or in [e]a house, [56]and [f]for a swelling or an eruption or a spot, [57]to [g]show when it is unclean and when it is clean. This is the law for leprous disease.

Laws About Bodily Discharges

LEVITICUS 15 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, [2][†]“Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, [h] When any man has a discharge from his body, [1] his discharge is unclean. [3]And this is the law of his uncleanness for a discharge: whether his body runs with his discharge, or his body is blocked up by his discharge, it is his uncleanness. [4]Every bed on which the one with the discharge lies shall be unclean, and everything on which he sits shall be unclean. [5]And anyone who touches his bed [i] shall wash his clothes and [j] bathe himself in water and be unclean until the evening. [6]And whoever sits on anything on which the one with the discharge has sat shall wash his clothes and bathe himself in water and be unclean until the evening. [7]And whoever touches the body of the one with the discharge shall wash his clothes and bathe himself in water and be unclean until the evening. [8]And if the one with the discharge spits on someone who is clean, then he shall wash his clothes and bathe himself in water and be unclean until the evening. [9]And any saddle on which the one with the discharge rides shall be unclean. [10]And whoever touches anything that was under him shall be unclean until the evening. And whoever carries such things shall wash his clothes and bathe himself in water and be unclean until the evening. [11]Anyone whom the one with the discharge touches without having rinsed his hands in water shall wash his clothes and bathe himself in water and be unclean until the evening. [12]And an [k] earthenware vessel that the one with the discharge touches shall be broken, and every vessel of wood shall be rinsed in water.

[13]“And when the one with a discharge is cleansed of his discharge, then [l] he shall count for himself seven days for his cleansing, and wash his clothes. And he shall bathe his body in fresh water and shall be clean. [14]And on the eighth day he shall take two [m] turtledoves or two pigeons and come before the LORD to the entrance of the tent of meeting and give them to the priest. [15]And the priest shall use them, [n] one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering. [o] And the priest shall make atonement for him before the LORD for his discharge.

[16][†][p]“If a man has an emission of semen, he shall bathe his whole body in water and be unclean until the evening. [17]And every garment and every skin on which the semen comes shall be washed with water and be unclean until the evening. [18]If a man lies with a woman and has an emission of semen, both of them shall bathe themselves in water and [q]be unclean until the evening.

[19][†]“When a woman has a discharge, and the discharge in her body is blood, she shall be in her menstrual impurity for seven days, and whoever touches her shall be unclean until the evening. [20][r]And everything on which she lies during her menstrual impurity shall be unclean. Everything also on which she sits shall be unclean. [21]And whoever touches her bed shall wash his clothes and bathe himself in water and be unclean until the evening. [22]And whoever touches anything on which she sits shall wash his clothes and bathe himself in water and be unclean until the evening. [23]Whether it is the bed or anything on which she sits, when he touches it he shall be unclean until the evening. [24][†]And [s]if any man lies with her and her menstrual impurity comes upon him, he shall be unclean seven days, and every bed on which he lies shall be unclean.

[25][†]“If [t]a woman has a discharge of blood for many days, not at the time of her menstrual impurity, or if she has a discharge beyond the time of her impurity, all the days of the discharge she shall continue in uncleanness. As in the days of her impurity, she shall be unclean. [26]Every bed on which she lies, all the days of her discharge, shall be to her as the bed of her impurity. And everything on which she sits shall be unclean, as in the uncleanness of her menstrual impurity. [27]And whoever touches these things shall be unclean, and shall wash his clothes and bathe himself in water and be unclean until the evening. [28]But [u]if she is cleansed of her discharge, she shall count for herself seven days, and after that she shall be clean. [29]And on the eighth day she shall take two [v]turtledoves or two pigeons and bring them to the priest, to the entrance of the tent of meeting. [30]And the priest shall use one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering. And the priest shall make atonement for her before the Lord for her unclean discharge.

[31][†]“Thus you shall keep the people of Israel separate from their uncleanness, lest they die in their uncleanness by [w]defiling my tabernacle that is in their midst.”

[32]This is the law [x]for him who has a discharge and [y]for him who has an emission of semen, becoming unclean thereby; [33] [z]also for her who is unwell with her menstrual impurity, that is, for anyone, [x]male or [a]female, who has a discharge, and for the [b]man who lies with a woman who is unclean.

The Day of Atonement

LEVITICUS 16 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses after [c]the death of the two sons of Aaron, when they drew near before the LORD and died, [2]and the LORD said to Moses, “Tell Aaron your brother not to [d]come at any time into the Holy Place inside the veil, before the mercy seat that is on the ark, so that he may not die. For [e]I will appear in the cloud over the mercy seat. [3][†]But in this way Aaron shall come into the Holy Place: [f]with a bull from the herd for a sin offering and [g]a ram for a burnt offering. [4]He shall put on [h]the holy linen coat and shall have the linen undergarment on his body, and he shall tie the linen sash around his waist, and wear the linen turban; these are the holy garments. [i]He shall bathe his body in water and then put them on. [5]And he shall take from [j]the congregation of the people of Israel two male goats for a sin offering, and one ram for a burnt offering.

[11][†]“Aaron shall present [k]the bull as a sin offering for himself, and shall make atonement for himself and for his house. He shall kill the bull as a sin offering for himself. [12]And he shall take [n]a censer full of coals of fire from the altar before the LORD, and two handfuls of sweet incense beaten small, and he shall bring it inside the veil [13] [o]and put the incense on the fire before the LORD, that the cloud of the incense may cover [p]the mercy seat that is over the testimony, so that he does not die. [14]And [q]he shall take some of the blood of the bull and sprinkle it with his finger on the front of the mercy seat on the east side, and in front of the mercy seat he shall sprinkle some of the blood with his finger seven times.

[15][r]“Then he shall kill the goat of the sin offering that is for the people and bring its blood [s]inside the veil and do with its blood as he did with the blood of the bull, sprinkling it over the mercy seat and in front of the mercy seat. [16]Thus he shall [t]make atonement for the Holy Place, because of the uncleannesses of the people of Israel and because of their transgressions, all their sins. And so he shall do for the tent of meeting, which dwells with them in the midst of their uncleannesses. [17][u]No one may be in the tent of meeting from the time he enters to make atonement in the Holy Place until he comes out and has made atonement for himself and for his house and for all the assembly of Israel. [18][†]Then he shall go out to the altar that is [v]before the LORD and [w]make atonement for it, and shall take some of the blood of the bull and some of the blood of the goat, and put it on the horns of the altar all around. [19]And he shall sprinkle some of the blood on it with his finger seven times, and cleanse it and consecrate it from the uncleannesses of the people of Israel.

[20][†]“And when he has made an end of [x]atoning for the Holy Place and the tent of meeting and the altar, he shall present the live goat. [21]And Aaron shall lay both his hands on the head of the live goat, and confess over it all the iniquities of the people of Israel, and all their transgressions, all their sins. And he shall [y]put them on the head of the goat and send it away into the wilderness by the hand of a man who is in readiness. [22]The goat shall [z]bear all their iniquities on itself to a remote area, and [a]he shall let the goat go free in the wilderness.

[23][†]“Then Aaron shall come into the tent of meeting and [b]shall take off the linen garments that he put on when he went into the Holy Place and shall leave them there. [24]And he shall bathe his body in water in a holy place and put on his garments and come out and [c]offer his burnt offering and the burnt offering of the people and make atonement for himself and for the people. [25]And [d]the fat of the sin offering he shall burn on the altar. [26][†]And he who lets the goat go to [e]Azazel shall wash his clothes and [f]bathe his body in water, and afterward he may come into the camp.

[27] [g] And the bull for the sin offering and the goat for the sin offering, whose blood was brought in to make atonement in the Holy Place, shall be carried outside the camp. Their skin and their flesh and their dung shall be burned up with fire. [28]And he who burns them shall wash his clothes and bathe his body in water, and afterward he may come into the camp.

[29][†]“And it shall be a statute to you forever that [h] in the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month, you shall [i] afflict yourselves [2] and shall do no work, either [j] the native or the stranger who sojourns among you. [30]For on this day shall atonement be made for you [k] to cleanse you. You shall be clean before the LORD from all your sins. [31] [l] It is a Sabbath of solemn rest to you, and you shall [i] afflict yourselves; it is a statute forever. [32] [m] And the priest who is anointed and [n] consecrated as priest in his father’s place [o] shall make atonement, wearing the holy linen garments. [33]He shall make atonement for [p] the holy sanctuary, and he shall make atonement for the tent of meeting and for [q] the altar, and he shall make atonement for [r] the priests and for [s] all the people of the assembly. [34]And this shall be a statute forever for you, that atonement may be made for the people of Israel [t] once in the year because of all their sins.” And Aaron [3] did as the LORD commanded Moses.

The Place of Sacrifice

LEVITICUS 17 [†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]“Speak to Aaron and his sons and to all the people of Israel and say to them, This is the thing that the LORD has commanded. [3]If any one of the house of Israel [u] kills an ox or a lamb or a goat in the camp, or kills it outside the camp, [4]and [v] does not bring it to the entrance of the tent of meeting to offer it as a gift to the LORD in front of the tabernacle of the LORD, bloodguilt shall be imputed to that man. He has shed blood, and that man [w] shall be cut off from among his people. [5]This is to the end that the people of Israel may bring their sacrifices that they sacrifice [x] in the open field, that they may bring them to the LORD, to the priest at the entrance of the tent of meeting, and sacrifice them [y] as sacrifices of peace offerings to the LORD. [6]And the priest shall [y] throw the blood on the altar of the LORD at the entrance of the tent of meeting and burn the fat [z] for a pleasing aroma to the LORD. [7]So they shall no more sacrifice their sacrifices to goat demons, after whom they [a]whore. This shall be a statute forever for them throughout their generations.

[8]“And you shall say to them, Any one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers who sojourn among them, who [b]offers a burnt offering or sacrifice [9]and [c]does not bring it to the entrance of the tent of meeting to offer it to the LORD, [w]that man shall be cut off from his people.

Laws Against Eating Blood

[10][†]“If any one of the house of Israel or of the strangers who sojourn among them [d]eats any blood, I will [e]set my face against that person who eats blood and will cut him off from among his people. [11][†][f]For the life of the flesh is in the blood, and I have given it for you on the altar [g]to make atonement for your souls, [h]for it is the blood that makes atonement by the life. [12][†]Therefore I have said to the people of Israel, No person among you shall eat blood, neither shall any stranger who sojourns among you eat blood.

[13]“Any one also of the people of Israel, or of the strangers who sojourn among them, who takes in hunting any beast or bird that may be eaten shall [i]pour out its blood and [j]cover it with earth. [14]For the life of every creature [1] is its [k]blood: its blood is its life. [2] Therefore I have said to the people of Israel, You shall not eat the blood of any creature, for the life of every creature is its blood. Whoever eats it shall be cut off. [15][†][l]And every person who eats what dies of itself or what is torn by beasts, [m]whether he is a native or a sojourner, [n]shall wash his clothes and [o]bathe himself in water and be unclean until the evening; then he shall be clean. [16]But if he does not wash them or bathe his flesh, [p]he shall bear his iniquity.”

Unlawful Sexual Relations

LEVITICUS 18 [†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]“Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, [q]I am the LORD your God. [3][r]You shall not do as they do in the land of Egypt, where you lived, and [s]you shall not do as they do in the land of Canaan, to which I am bringing you. You shall not walk in their statutes. [4][t]You shall follow my rules [1] and keep my statutes and walk in them. [q]I am the LORD your God. [5][†] [t]You shall therefore keep my statutes and my rules; [u]if a person does them, he shall live by them: I am the LORD.

[6][†]“None of you shall approach any one of his close relatives to uncover nakedness. I am the LORD. [7] [v]You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father, which is the nakedness of your mother; she is your mother, you shall not uncover her nakedness. [8] [w]You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father’s wife; it is your father’s nakedness. [9] [x]You shall not uncover the nakedness of your sister, your father’s daughter or your mother’s daughter, whether brought up in the family or in another home. [10]You shall not uncover the nakedness of your son’s daughter or of your daughter’s daughter, for their nakedness is your own nakedness. [11]You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father’s wife’s daughter, brought up in your father’s family, since she is your sister. [12]You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father’s sister; she is your father’s relative. [13]You shall not uncover the nakedness of your mother’s sister, for she is your mother’s relative. [14]You shall not uncover the nakedness of your father’s brother, that is, you shall not approach his wife; she is your aunt. [15] [y]You shall not uncover the nakedness of your daughter-in-law; she is your son’s wife, you shall not uncover her nakedness. [16] [z]You shall not uncover the nakedness of your brother’s wife; it is your brother’s nakedness. [17]You shall not uncover the nakedness of a woman and of her daughter, and you shall not take her son’s daughter or her daughter’s daughter to uncover her nakedness; they are relatives; it is depravity. [18][†]And you shall not take a woman as a [a]rival wife to her sister, uncovering her nakedness [b]while her sister is still alive.

[19][†] [c]“You shall not approach a woman to uncover her nakedness while she is in her menstrual uncleanness. [20][†] [d]And you shall not lie sexually with your neighbor’s wife and so make yourself unclean with her. [21][†]You shall not give any of your children to [e]offer them [2] to [f]Molech, and so [g]profane the name of your God: I am the LORD. [22][†] [h]You shall not lie with a male as with a woman; it is an abomination. [23] [i]And you shall not lie with any animal and so make yourself unclean with it, neither shall any woman give herself to an animal to lie with it: it is [j]perversion.

[24][†] [k]“Do not make yourselves unclean by any of these things, [l]for by all these the nations I am driving out before you have become unclean, [25]and the [m]land became unclean, so that I punished its iniquity, and the land [n]vomited out its inhabitants. [26]But [o]you shall keep my statutes and my rules and do none of these abominations, either the [p]native or the stranger who sojourns among you [27](for the people of the land, who were before you, did all of these abominations, so that the land became unclean), [28]lest the land vomit you out when you make it unclean, as it vomited out the nation that was before you. [29]For everyone who does any of these abominations, the persons who do them shall be cut off from among their people. [30] [q]So keep my charge never to practice [r]any of these abominable customs that were practiced before you, and never to make yourselves unclean by them: [s]I am the LORD your God.”

The LORD Is Holy

LEVITICUS 19 [†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]“Speak to all the congregation of the people of Israel and say to them, [t]You shall be holy, for I the LORD your God am holy. [3] [u]Every one of you shall revere his mother and his father, and [v]you shall keep my Sabbaths: I am the LORD your God. [4] [w]Do not turn to idols [x]or make for yourselves any gods of cast metal: I am the LORD your God.

[5] [y]“When you offer a sacrifice of peace offerings to the LORD, you shall offer it so [z]that you may be accepted. [6]It shall be eaten the same day you offer it or on the day after, and anything left over until the third day shall be burned up with fire. [7]If it is eaten at all on the third day, it is [a]tainted; it will not be accepted, [8]and everyone who eats it shall [b]bear his iniquity, because [c]he has profaned what is holy to the LORD, and that person shall be cut off from his people.

Love Your Neighbor as Yourself

[9][†] [d]“When you reap the harvest of your land, you shall not reap your field right up to its edge, neither shall you gather the gleanings after your harvest. [10]And you shall not strip your vineyard bare, neither shall you gather the fallen grapes of your vineyard. You shall leave them for the poor and for the sojourner: I am the LORD your God.

[11][†] [e]“You shall not steal; [f]you shall not deal falsely; you shall not lie to one another. [12] [g]You shall not swear by my name falsely, and so [h]profane the name of your God: I am the LORD.

[13] [i]“You shall not oppress your neighbor or rob him. [j]The wages of a hired worker shall not remain with you all night until the morning. [14] [k]You shall not curse the deaf or put a stumbling block before the blind, but you shall [l]fear your God: I am the LORD.

[15] [m]“You shall do no injustice in court. You shall not be partial to the poor or defer to the great, but in righteousness shall you judge your neighbor. [16] [n]You shall not go around as a slanderer among your people, and you shall not [o]stand up against the life [1] of your neighbor: I am the LORD.

[17][†] [p]“You shall not hate your brother in your heart, but [q]you shall reason frankly with your neighbor, lest you [r]incur sin because of him.
[18][†] [s]You shall not take vengeance or bear a grudge against the sons of your own people, but [t]you shall love your neighbor as yourself: I am the LORD.

You Shall Keep My Statutes

[19][†] [u]“You shall keep my statutes. You shall not let your cattle breed with a different kind. [v]You shall not sow your field with two kinds of seed, nor shall you wear a garment of cloth made of two kinds of material.

[20][†]“If a man lies sexually with a woman who is a slave, assigned to another man and not yet ransomed or given her freedom, a distinction shall be made. They shall not be put to death, because she was not free; [21]but [w]he shall bring his compensation to the LORD, to the entrance of the tent of meeting, a ram for a guilt offering. [22]And the priest shall make atonement for him with the ram of the guilt offering before the LORD for his sin that he has committed, and he shall be forgiven for the sin that he has committed.

[23][†]“When you come into the land and plant any kind of tree for food, then you shall regard its fruit as forbidden. [2] Three years it shall be forbidden to you; it must not be eaten. [24]And in the fourth year all its fruit shall be holy, an offering of praise to the LORD. [25]But in the fifth year you may eat of its fruit, to increase its yield for you: I am the LORD your God.

[26][†] [x]“You shall not eat any flesh with the blood in it. [y]You shall not interpret omens or [z]tell fortunes. [27] [a]You shall not round off the hair on your temples or mar the edges of your beard. [28]You shall not make any [b]cuts on your body for the dead or tattoo yourselves: I am the LORD.

[29] [c]“Do not profane your daughter by making her a prostitute, lest the land fall into prostitution and the land become full of depravity. [30] [d]You shall keep my Sabbaths and [e]reverence my sanctuary: I am the LORD.

[31] [f]“Do not turn to mediums or necromancers; do not seek them out, and so make yourselves unclean by them: I am the LORD your God.

[32] [g]“You shall stand up before the gray head and honor the face of an old man, and you shall [h]fear your God: I am the LORD.

[33] [i]“When a stranger sojourns with you in your land, you shall not do him wrong. [34] [j]You shall treat the stranger who sojourns with you as the native among you, and [k]you shall love him as yourself, for you were strangers in the land of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.

[35] [l]“You shall do no wrong in judgment, in measures of length or weight or quantity. [36] [m]You shall have just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin: [3] I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt. [37]And [n]you shall observe all my statutes and all my rules, and do them: I am the LORD.”

Punishment for Child Sacrifice

LEVITICUS 20 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]“Say to the people of Israel, [o]Any one of the people of Israel or of the strangers who sojourn in Israel who gives any of his children to Molech shall surely be put to death. The people of the land shall stone him with stones. [3] [p]I myself will set my face against that man and will cut him off from among his people, because he has given one of his children to Molech, to make my sanctuary [q]unclean and [r]to profane my holy name. [4]And if the people of the land do at all close their eyes to that man when he gives one of his children to Molech, and do not [s]put him to death, [5]then I will set my face against that man and against his clan and will cut them off from among their people, him and all who follow him in [t] whoring after Molech.

[6]“If [u] a person turns to mediums and necromancers, whoring after them, [v] I will set my face against that person and will cut him off from among his people. [7][†] [w] Consecrate yourselves, therefore, and be holy, for I am the LORD your God. [8] [x] Keep my statutes and do them; [y] I am the LORD who sanctifies you. [9][†]For [z] anyone who curses his father or his mother shall surely be put to death; he has cursed his father or his mother; [a] his blood is upon him.

Punishments for Sexual Immorality

[10][†]“If a [b] man commits adultery with the wife of [1] his neighbor, both the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death. [11] [c] If a man lies with his father’s wife, he has uncovered his father’s nakedness; both of them shall surely be put to death; their blood is upon them. [12] [d] If a man lies with his daughter-in-law, both of them shall surely be put to death; they have committed [e] perversion; their blood is upon them. [13] [f] If a man lies with a male as with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination; they shall surely be put to death; their blood is upon them. [14] [g] If a man takes a woman and her mother also, it is depravity; he and they shall be burned with fire, that there may be no depravity among you. [15] [h] If a man lies with an animal, he shall surely be put to death, and you shall kill the animal. [16] [h] If a woman approaches any animal and lies with it, you shall kill the woman and the animal; they shall surely be put to death; their blood is upon them.

[17][†] [i] “If a man takes his sister, a daughter of his father or a daughter of his mother, and sees her nakedness, and she sees his nakedness, it is a disgrace, and they shall be cut off in the sight of the children of their people. He has uncovered his sister’s nakedness, and he shall bear his iniquity. [18] [j] If a man lies with a woman during her menstrual period and uncovers her nakedness, he has made naked her fountain, and she has uncovered the fountain of her blood. Both of them shall be cut off from among their people. [19] [k] You shall not uncover the nakedness of your mother’s sister or of your father’s sister, for that is to make naked [l] one’s relative; they shall bear their iniquity. 20 [m] If a man lies with his uncle's wife, he has uncovered his uncle's nakedness; they shall bear their sin; they shall die childless. 21 [n] If a man takes his brother's wife, it is impurity. [2] He has uncovered his brother's nakedness; they shall be childless.

You Shall Be Holy

22[†] [o] "You shall therefore keep all my statutes and all my rules and do them, that the land where I am bringing you to live may not [p] vomit you out. 23 [q] And you shall not walk in the customs of the nation that I am driving out before you, for they did all these things, and therefore I detested them. 24But [r] I have said to you, 'You shall inherit their land, and I will give it to you to possess, a land [s] flowing with milk and honey.' I am the LORD your God, [t] who has separated you from the peoples. 25 [u] You shall therefore separate the clean beast from the unclean, and the unclean bird from the clean. You shall not make yourselves detestable by beast or by bird or by anything with which the ground crawls, which I have set apart for you to hold unclean. 26 [v] You shall be holy to me, [w] for I the LORD am holy and have separated you from the peoples, that you should be mine.

27[†] [x] "A man or a woman who is a medium or a necromancer shall surely be put to death. They shall be [y] stoned with stones; [z] their blood shall be upon them."

Holiness and the Priests

LEVITICUS 21 [†]And the LORD said to Moses, "Speak to the priests, the sons of Aaron, and say to them, [a] No one shall make himself unclean for the dead among his people, 2except for his closest relatives, his mother, his father, his son, his daughter, his brother, 3or his virgin sister (who is near to him because she has had no husband; for her he may make himself unclean). 4He shall not make himself unclean as a husband among his people and so profane himself. 5[†] [b] They shall not make bald patches on their heads, nor shave off the edges of their beards, nor make any cuts on their body. 6They shall be holy to their God and [c] not profane the name of their God. For they offer the LORD's food offerings, [d] the bread of their

God; therefore they shall be holy. [7][†] [e]They shall not marry a prostitute or a woman who has been defiled, neither shall they marry a woman [f]divorced from her husband, for the priest is holy to his God. [8]You shall sanctify him, for he offers the bread of your God. He shall be holy to you, for [g]I, the LORD, who sanctify you, [h]am holy. [9]And the daughter of any priest, if she profanes herself by whoring, profanes her father; [i]she shall be burned with fire.

[10][†] [j]“The priest who is chief among his brothers, on whose head the anointing oil is poured and who has been consecrated to wear the garments, [k]shall not let the hair of his head hang loose nor tear his clothes. [11]He shall not [l]go in to any dead bodies nor make himself unclean, even for his father or for his mother. [12] [m]He shall not go out of the sanctuary, lest he [n]profane the sanctuary of his God, for the [o]consecration of the anointing oil of his God is on him: I am the LORD. [13]And he shall take a wife in her virginity. [1] [14]A widow, [p]or a divorced woman, or a woman who has been defiled, or a prostitute, these he shall not marry. But he shall take as his wife a virgin [2] of his own people, [15]that he may not profane his offspring among his people, for [g]I am the LORD who sanctifies him.”

[16][†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [17]“Speak to Aaron, saying, None of your offspring throughout their generations who has a blemish may [q]approach to offer the bread of his God. [18]For no one who has a blemish shall draw near, a man [r]blind or lame, or one who has a mutilated face [s]or a limb too long, [19]or a man who has an injured foot or an injured hand, [20]or a hunchback or a dwarf or a man with a [r]defect in his sight or an itching disease or scabs or [t]crushed testicles. [21][†]No man of the offspring of Aaron the priest who has a blemish shall come near to [u]offer the LORD’s food offerings; since he has a blemish, he shall not come near to offer the bread of his God. [22]He may eat the bread of his God, both of [v]the most holy and of the [w]holy things, [23]but he shall not go through the veil or approach the altar, because he has a blemish, that he may not [x]profane my sanctuaries, [y]for I am the LORD who sanctifies them.” [24]So Moses spoke to Aaron and to his sons and to all the people of Israel.

LEVITICUS 22 [†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]“Speak to Aaron and his sons so that they [z]abstain from the holy things of the people of Israel, which they [a] dedicate to me, so that they do not [b] profane my holy name: I am the Lord. [3]Say to them, ‘If any one of all your offspring throughout your generations approaches the holy things that the people of Israel dedicate to the Lord, while [c] he has an uncleanness, that person shall be cut off from my presence: I am the Lord. [4][†]None of the offspring of Aaron who has a leprous disease or a [d] discharge may eat of the holy things [e] until he is clean. [f] Whoever touches anything that is unclean through contact with the dead or [g] a man who has had an emission of semen, [5]and [h] whoever touches a swarming thing by which he may be made unclean or [i] a person from whom he may take uncleanness, whatever his uncleanness may be— [6]the person who touches such a thing shall be unclean until the evening and shall not eat of the holy things unless he has [j] bathed his body in water. [7]When the sun goes down he shall be clean, and afterward he may eat of the holy things, because [k] they are his food. [8] [l] He shall not eat what dies of itself or is torn by beasts, and so make himself unclean by it: I am the Lord.’ [9]They shall therefore keep my charge, [m] lest they bear sin for it and die thereby when they profane it: [n] I am the Lord who sanctifies them.

[10][†] [o] “A lay person shall not eat of a holy thing; no foreign guest of the priest or hired worker shall eat of a holy thing, [11]but if a priest buys a slave [1] as his property for money, the slave [2] may eat of it, and [p] anyone born in his house may eat of his food. [12]If a priest’s daughter marries a layman, she shall not eat of the contribution of the holy things. [13]But if a priest’s daughter is widowed or divorced and has no child and [q] returns to her father’s house, [r] as in her youth, she may eat of her father’s food; yet no lay person shall eat of it. [14] [s] And if anyone eats of a holy thing unintentionally, he shall add [t] the fifth of its value to it and give the holy thing to the priest. [15]They [u] shall not profane the holy things of the people of Israel, which they contribute to the Lord, [16]and so cause them [m] to bear iniquity and guilt, by eating their holy things: [n] for I am the Lord who sanctifies them.”

Acceptable Offerings

17 [†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 18 "Speak to Aaron and his sons and all the people of Israel and say to them, [v]When any one of the house of Israel or of the sojourners in Israel presents a burnt offering as his offering, for any of their vows or freewill offerings that they offer to the LORD, 19 if it is to be accepted for you it shall be a [w]male without blemish, of the bulls or the sheep or the goats. 20 [x]You shall not offer anything that has a blemish, for it will not be acceptable for you. 21 And when anyone [y]offers a sacrifice of peace offerings to the LORD [z]to fulfill a vow or as a freewill offering from the herd or from the flock, to be accepted it must be perfect; there shall be no blemish in it. 22 Animals [a]blind or disabled or mutilated or having a discharge or [b]an itch or scabs you shall not offer to the LORD or give them to the LORD as a food [c]offering on the altar. 23 You may present a bull or a lamb that has a part [d]too long or too short for a freewill offering, but for a vow offering it cannot be accepted. 24 Any animal that has its testicles bruised or crushed or torn or cut you shall not offer to the LORD; you shall not do it within your land, 25 neither shall you offer as [e]the bread of your God any such animals gotten from a foreigner. Since there is a [f]blemish in them, because of their mutilation, they will not be accepted for you."

26 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 27 [g]"When an ox or sheep or goat is born, it shall remain seven days with its mother, and from the eighth day on it shall be acceptable as a food offering to the LORD. 28 But you shall not kill an ox or a sheep [h]and her young in one day. 29 [†]And when you sacrifice a [i]sacrifice of thanksgiving to the LORD, you shall sacrifice it so that you may be accepted. 30 It shall be eaten on the same day; [j]you shall leave none of it until morning: I am the LORD.

31 [k]"So you shall keep my commandments and do them: I am the LORD. 32 [l]And you shall not profane my holy name, that [m]I may be sanctified among the people of Israel. [n]I am the LORD who sanctifies you, 33 who brought you out of the land of Egypt [o]to be your God: I am the LORD."

Feasts of the Lord

LEVITICUS 23 [†]The Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 2“Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, [p] These are the appointed feasts of the Lord that you shall [q] proclaim as [r] holy convocations; they are my appointed feasts.

The Sabbath

3 [s] “Six days shall work be done, but on the seventh day is a Sabbath of solemn rest, a holy convocation. You shall do no work. It is a Sabbath to the Lord in all your dwelling places.

The Passover

4[†] [p] “These are the appointed feasts of the Lord, the [t] holy convocations, which you shall proclaim at the time appointed for them. 5 [u] In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month at twilight, [1] is the Lord’s Passover. 6And on the fifteenth day of the same month is the Feast of Unleavened Bread to the Lord; for seven days you shall eat unleavened bread. 7 [v] On the first day you shall have a holy convocation; you shall not do any ordinary work. 8But you shall present a food offering to the Lord for seven days. On the seventh day is a holy convocation; you shall not do any ordinary work.”

The Feast of Firstfruits

9[†]And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 10“Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, [w] When you come into the land that I give you and reap its harvest, you shall bring the sheaf of [x] the firstfruits of your harvest to the priest, 11and he shall [y] wave the sheaf before the Lord, so that you may be accepted. On the day after the Sabbath the priest shall wave it. 12And on the day when you [y] wave the sheaf, you shall offer a [z] male lamb a year old without blemish as a burnt offering to the Lord. 13 [a] And the grain offering with it shall be two tenths of an ephah [2] of fine flour mixed with oil, a food offering to the Lord with a pleasing aroma, [b] and the drink offering with it shall be of wine, a fourth of a hin. [3] [14]And you shall eat neither bread nor grain [c] parched or [c] fresh until this same day, until you have brought the offering of your God: it is a statute forever throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

The Feast of Weeks

[15][†] [d] "You shall count seven full weeks from the day after the Sabbath, from the day that you brought the sheaf of the [y] wave offering. [16]You shall count [e] fifty days to the day after the seventh Sabbath. Then you shall present a grain offering of [f] new grain to the LORD. [17]You shall bring from your dwelling places two loaves of bread to be waved, made of two tenths of an ephah. They shall be of fine flour, and they shall be baked with leaven, as [g] firstfruits to the LORD. [18]And you shall present with the bread seven lambs a year old without blemish, and one bull from the herd and two rams. They shall be a burnt offering to the LORD, with their grain offering and their drink offerings, a food offering with a pleasing aroma to the LORD. [19]And you shall offer one [h] male goat for a sin offering, and two male lambs a year old as a sacrifice of [i] peace offerings. [20]And the priest shall [y] wave them with the bread of the firstfruits as a wave offering before the LORD, with the two lambs. [j] They shall be holy to the LORD for the priest. [21]And you shall make a proclamation on the same day. You shall hold a holy convocation. You shall not do any ordinary work. It is a statute forever in all your dwelling places throughout your generations.

[22]"And [k] when you reap the harvest of your land, you shall not reap your field right up to its edge, nor shall you gather the gleanings after your harvest. You shall leave them for the poor and for the sojourner: I am the LORD your God."

The Feast of Trumpets

[23][†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [24]"Speak to the people of Israel, saying, In [l] the seventh month, on the first day of the month, you shall observe a day of solemn rest, [m] a memorial proclaimed with blast of trumpets, a holy convocation. [25]You shall not do any ordinary work, and you shall present a food offering to the LORD."

The Day of Atonement

[26][†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [27]“Now [n] on the tenth day of this seventh month is the Day of Atonement. It shall be for you a time of holy convocation, and you shall afflict yourselves [4] and present a food offering to the LORD. [28]And you shall not do any work on that very day, for it is a Day of Atonement, to make atonement for you before the LORD your God. [29]For whoever is not afflicted on that very day [o] shall be cut off from his people. [30]And whoever does any work on that very day, that person I will destroy from among his people. [31]You shall not do any work. It is a statute forever throughout your generations in all your dwelling places. [32]It shall be to you a Sabbath of solemn rest, and you shall afflict yourselves. On the ninth day of the month beginning at evening, from evening to evening shall you keep your Sabbath.”

The Feast of Booths

[33][†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [34]“Speak to the people of Israel, saying, [p] On the fifteenth day of this seventh month and for seven days is the Feast of Booths [5] to the LORD. [35]On the first day shall be a holy convocation; you shall not do any ordinary work. [36]For seven days you shall present food offerings to the LORD. [q] On the eighth day you shall hold a holy convocation and present a food offering to the LORD. It is a [r] solemn assembly; you shall not do any ordinary work.

[37][†] [s] “These are the appointed feasts of the LORD, which you shall proclaim as times of holy convocation, for presenting to the LORD food offerings, burnt offerings and grain offerings, sacrifices and drink offerings, each on its proper day, [38] [t] besides the LORD’s Sabbaths and besides your gifts and besides all your vow offerings and besides all your freewill offerings, which you give to the LORD.

[39]“On the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when you have [u] gathered in the produce of the land, you shall celebrate the feast of the LORD seven days. On the first day shall be a solemn rest, and on the eighth day shall be a solemn rest. [40]And [v] you shall take on the first day the fruit of splendid trees, branches of palm trees and boughs of leafy trees and willows of the brook, and [w] you shall rejoice before the LORD your God seven days.

41 [x] You shall celebrate it as a feast to the LORD for seven days in the year. It is a statute forever throughout your generations; you shall celebrate it in the seventh month. 42 [y] You shall dwell in booths for seven days. All native Israelites shall dwell in booths, 43 that [z] your generations may know that I made the people of Israel dwell in booths when I brought them out of the land of Egypt: I am the LORD your God."

44 Thus Moses [a] declared to the people of Israel the appointed feasts of the LORD.

The Lamps

LEVITICUS 24 [†] [b] The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 "Command the people of Israel to bring you pure oil from beaten olives for the lamp, that a light may be kept burning regularly. 3 Outside the veil of the testimony, in the tent of meeting, Aaron shall arrange it from evening to morning before the LORD regularly. It shall be a statute forever throughout your generations. 4 He shall arrange the lamps on the [c] lampstand of pure gold [1] before the LORD regularly.

Bread for the Tabernacle

5 [†] "You shall take fine flour and bake twelve [d] loaves from it; two tenths of an ephah [2] shall be in each loaf. 6 And you shall set them in two piles, six in a pile, [e] on the table of pure gold [3] before the LORD. 7 And you shall put pure frankincense on each pile, that it may go with the bread as a memorial portion as a food offering to the LORD. 8 [f] Every Sabbath day Aaron shall arrange it before the LORD regularly; it is from the people of Israel as a covenant forever. 9 And [g] it shall be for Aaron and his sons, and [h] they shall eat it in a holy place, since it is for him a most holy portion out of the LORD's food offerings, a perpetual due."

Punishment for Blasphemy

10 [†] Now an Israelite woman's son, whose father was an Egyptian, went out among the people of Israel. And the Israelite woman's son and a man of Israel fought in the camp, 11 and the Israelite woman's son [i] blasphemed the [j] Name, and cursed. Then they [k] brought him to Moses. His mother’s name was Shelomith, the daughter of Dibri, of the tribe of Dan. 12 And [l] they put him in custody, [m] till the will of the LORD should be clear to them.

13 [†] Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 14 [n] “Bring out of the camp the one who cursed, and let all who heard him [o] lay their hands on his head, and let all the congregation stone him. 15 And speak to the people of Israel, saying, Whoever curses his God shall [p] bear his sin. 16 Whoever [q] blasphemes the name of the LORD shall surely be put to death. All the congregation shall stone him. The sojourner as well as the native, when he blasphemes the Name, shall be put to death.

An Eye for an Eye

17 [†] [r] “Whoever takes a human life shall surely be put to death.
18 [s] Whoever takes an animal’s life shall make it good, life for life. 19 If anyone injures his neighbor, [t] as he has done it shall be done to him, 20 fracture for fracture, eye for eye, tooth for tooth; whatever injury he has given a person shall be given to him. 21 [s] Whoever kills an animal shall make it good, [r] and whoever kills a person shall be put to death. 22 You shall have the [u] same rule for the sojourner and for the native, for I am the LORD your God.” 23 So Moses spoke to the people of Israel, and [v] they brought out of the camp the one who had cursed and stoned him with stones. Thus the people of Israel did as the LORD commanded Moses.

The Sabbath Year

LEVITICUS 25 [†] [w] The LORD spoke to Moses on Mount Sinai, saying, 2 “Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, When you come into [x] the land that I give you, the land shall keep a Sabbath to the LORD. 3 For six years you shall sow your field, and for six years you shall prune your vineyard and gather in its fruits, 4 but in the seventh year there shall be a Sabbath of solemn rest for the land, a Sabbath to the LORD. You shall not sow your field or prune your vineyard. 5 [y] You shall not reap what grows of itself in your harvest, or gather the grapes of your undressed vine. It shall be a year of solemn rest for the land. 6 The Sabbath of the land [1] shall provide food for you, for yourself and for your male and female slaves [2] and for your hired worker and the sojourner who lives with you, 7and for your cattle and for the wild animals that are in your land: [z] all its yield shall be for food.

The Year of Jubilee

8[†]“You shall count seven weeks [3] of years, seven times seven years, so that the time of the seven weeks of years shall give you forty-nine years. 9Then you shall sound [a] the loud trumpet on the tenth day of the seventh month. [b] On the Day of Atonement you shall sound the trumpet throughout all your land. 10And you shall consecrate the fiftieth year, and [c] proclaim liberty throughout the land to all its inhabitants. It shall be a jubilee for you, when each of you shall return to his property and each of [d] you shall return to his clan. 11That fiftieth year shall be a jubilee for you; in it [e] you shall neither sow nor reap [y] what grows of itself nor gather the grapes from the undressed vines. 12For it is a jubilee. It shall be holy to you. [f] You may eat the produce of the field. [4]

13[†] [d] “In this year of jubilee each of you shall return to his property. 14And if you make a sale to your neighbor or buy from your neighbor, [g] you shall not wrong one another. 15 [h] You shall pay your neighbor according to the number of years after the jubilee, and he shall sell to you according to the number of years for crops. 16If the years are many, you shall increase the price, and if the years are few, you shall reduce the price, for it is the number of the crops that he is selling to you. 17 [i] You shall not wrong one another, but you shall fear your God, for I am the LORD your God.

18 [j] “Therefore you shall do my statutes and keep my rules and perform them, and then [k] you will dwell in the land securely. 19 [l] The land will yield its fruit, and [m] you will eat your fill [k] and dwell in it securely. 20And if you say, [n] ‘What shall we eat in the seventh year, if [o] we may not sow or gather in our crop?’ 21I will [p] command my blessing on you in the sixth year, so that it will produce a crop sufficient for three years. 22 [q] When you sow in the eighth year, you will be eating some of [r] the old crop; you shall eat the old until the ninth year, when its crop arrives.

Redemption of Property

23 [†]"The land shall not be sold in perpetuity, for [s] the land is mine. For you are strangers and sojourners with me. 24 And in all the country you possess, you shall allow a redemption of the land.

25 [†]"If your brother becomes poor and sells part of his property, [t] then his nearest redeemer shall come and redeem what his brother has sold. 26 If a man has no one to redeem it and then himself becomes prosperous and finds sufficient means to redeem it, 27 let [u] him calculate the years since he sold it and pay back the balance to the man to whom he sold it, and then return to his property. 28 But if he does not have sufficient means to recover it, then what he sold shall remain in the hand of the buyer until the year of jubilee. In the jubilee it shall [v] be released, and [w] he shall return to his property.

29 "If a man sells a dwelling house in a walled city, he may redeem it within a year of its sale. For a full year he shall have the right of redemption. 30 If it is not redeemed within a full year, then the house in the walled city shall belong in perpetuity to the buyer, throughout his generations; [v] it shall not be released in the jubilee. 31 But the houses of the villages that have no wall around them shall be classified with the fields of the land. They may be redeemed, and [v] they shall be released in the jubilee. 32 As for [x] the cities of the Levites, the Levites may redeem at any time the houses in the cities they possess. 33 And if one of the Levites exercises his right of redemption, then the house that was sold in a city they possess shall be released in the jubilee. For the houses in the cities of the Levites are their possession among the people of Israel. 34 But the fields [y] of pastureland belonging to their cities may not be sold, for that is their possession forever.

Kindness for Poor Brothers

35 [†]"If your brother becomes poor and cannot maintain himself with you, [z] you shall support him as though he were a stranger and a sojourner, and he shall live with you. 36 [a] Take no interest from him or profit, but [b] fear your God, that your brother may live beside you. 37 [a] You shall not lend him your money at interest, nor give him your food for profit. 38 [c] I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt to give you the land of Canaan, and to be your God.

[39][†] [d]“If your brother becomes poor beside you and sells himself to you, you shall not make him serve as a slave: [40]he shall be with you as a hired worker and as a sojourner. He shall serve with you until the year of the jubilee. [41] [v]Then he shall go out from you, [e]he and his children with him, and go back to his own clan and return [f]to the possession of his fathers.
[42]For they are [g]my servants, [5] whom I brought out of the land of Egypt; they shall not be sold as slaves. [43] [h]You shall not rule over him [i]ruthlessly but [j]shall fear your God. [44]As for your male and female slaves whom you may have: you may buy male and female slaves from among the nations that are around you. [45] [k]You may also buy from among the strangers who sojourn with you and their clans that are with you, who have been born in your land, and they may be your property. [46]You may bequeath them to your sons after you to inherit as a possession forever. You may make slaves of them, but over your brothers the people of Israel [l]you shall not rule, one over another ruthlessly.

Redeeming a Poor Man

[47][†]“If a stranger or sojourner with you becomes rich, and [m]your brother beside him becomes poor and sells himself to the stranger or sojourner with you or to a member of the stranger’s clan, [48]then after he is sold he may be redeemed. One of his brothers may redeem him, [49]or his uncle or his cousin may [n]redeem him, or a close relative from his clan may redeem him. Or if he [o]grows rich he may redeem himself. [50]He shall calculate with his buyer from the year when he sold himself to him until the year of jubilee, and the price of his sale shall vary with the number of years. The time he was with his owner shall be [p]rated as the time of a hired worker. [51]If there are still many years left, he shall pay proportionately for his redemption some of his sale price. [52]If there remain but a few years until the year of jubilee, he shall calculate and pay for his redemption in proportion to his years of service.
[53]He shall treat him as a worker hired year by year. [l]He shall not rule ruthlessly over him in your sight. [54]And if he is not redeemed by these means, then [q]he and his children with him shall be released in the year of jubilee. [55]For it is [r]to me that the people of Israel are servants. [6] They are my servants whom I brought out of the land of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.

Blessings for Obedience

LEVITICUS 26 [†]“You shall not make [s]idols for yourselves or erect an [t]image or [u]pillar, and you shall not set up a [v]figured stone in your land to bow down to it, for I am the LORD your God. [2][w]You shall keep my Sabbaths and reverence my sanctuary: I am the LORD.

[3][†][x]“If you walk in my statutes and observe my commandments and do them, [4]then [y]I will give you your rains in their season, and the land shall yield its increase, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit. [5][z]Your threshing shall last to the time of the grape harvest, and the grape harvest shall last to the time for sowing. And [a]you shall eat your bread to the full and [b]dwell in your land securely. [6][c]I will give peace in the land, and [d]you shall lie down, and none shall make you afraid. And [e]I will remove harmful beasts from the land, [f]and the sword shall not go through your land. [7]You shall chase your enemies, and they shall fall before you by the sword. [8][g]Five of you shall chase a hundred, and a hundred of you shall chase ten thousand, and your enemies shall fall before you by the sword. [9][h]I will turn to you and [i]make you fruitful and multiply you and will confirm my covenant with you. [10]You shall eat [j]old store long kept, and you shall clear out the old to make way for the new. [11][k]I will make my dwelling[1] among you, and my soul shall not abhor you. [12][l]And I [m]will walk among you and will be your God, and you shall be my people. [13][n]I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, that you should not be their slaves. [o]And I have broken the bars of your yoke and made you walk erect.

Punishment for Disobedience

[14][p]“But if you will not listen to me and will not do all these commandments, [15]if you spurn my statutes, and if your soul abhors my rules, so that you will not do all my commandments, but [q]break my covenant, [16]then I will do this to you: I will visit you with panic, with [r]wasting disease and fever that consume the eyes and make the heart ache.

And [s]you shall sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it. [17]I will [t]set my face against you, and [u]you shall be struck down before your enemies. [v]Those who hate you shall rule over you, and [w]you shall flee when none pursues you. [18][†]And if in spite of this you will not listen to me, then I will discipline you again [x]sevenfold for your sins, [19]and I will break [y]the pride of your power, and I [z]will make your heavens like iron and your earth like bronze. [20]And [a]your strength shall be spent in vain, for [b]your land shall not yield its increase, and the trees of the land shall not yield their fruit.

[21] [c]"Then if you walk contrary to me and will not listen to me, I will continue striking you, sevenfold for your sins. [22]And [d]I will let loose the wild beasts against you, which shall bereave you of your children and destroy your livestock and make you few in number, so that [e]your roads shall be deserted.

[23]"And [f]if by this discipline you are not turned to me [c]but walk contrary to me, [24] [g]then I also will walk contrary to you, and I myself will strike you sevenfold for your sins. [25]And [h]I will bring a sword upon you, that shall execute vengeance for the covenant. And if you gather within your cities, [i]I will send pestilence among you, and you shall be delivered into the hand of the enemy. [26] [j]When I break your supply [2] of bread, ten women shall bake your bread in a single oven and shall dole out your bread again by weight, and [k]you shall eat and not be satisfied.

[27][†]"But [l]if in spite of this you will not listen to me, but walk contrary to me, [28]then I will walk contrary to you [m]in fury, and I myself will discipline you [x]sevenfold for your sins. [29] [n]You shall eat the flesh of your sons, and you shall eat the flesh of your daughters. [30]And [o]I will destroy your high places and cut down your incense altars and [p]cast your dead bodies upon the dead bodies of your idols, and my soul will abhor you. [31]And I will [q]lay your cities waste and will [r]make your sanctuaries desolate, and [s]I will not smell your pleasing aromas. [32]And [t]I myself will devastate the land, so that your enemies who settle in it shall be [u]appalled at it. [33]And [v]I will scatter you among the nations, and I will unsheathe the sword after you, and your land shall be a desolation, and your cities shall be a waste.

[34][†] [w]“Then the land shall enjoy [3] its Sabbaths as long as it lies desolate, while you are in your enemies’ land; then the land shall rest, and enjoy its Sabbaths. [35]As long as it lies desolate it shall have rest, the rest that it did not have on your Sabbaths when you were dwelling in it. [36]And as for those of you who are left, [x]I will send faintness into their hearts in the lands of their enemies. The [y]sound of a [z]driven leaf shall put them to flight, and they shall flee as one flees from the sword, and they shall fall when none pursues. [37]They shall stumble over one another, as if to escape a sword, though none pursues. And [a]you shall have no power to stand before your enemies. [38]And you shall perish among the nations, and the land of your enemies shall eat you up. [39]And those of you who are left shall [b]rot away in your enemies’ lands because of their iniquity, and also because of the iniquities of their fathers they shall rot away like them.

[40][†]“But if [c]they confess their iniquity and the iniquity of their fathers in their treachery that they [d]committed against me, and also in walking contrary to me, [41]so that I walked contrary to them and brought them into the land of their enemies—if then their [e]uncircumcised heart is [f]humbled and they make amends for their iniquity, [42]then I will [g]remember my covenant with Jacob, and I will remember my covenant with Isaac and my covenant with Abraham, and I will [h]remember the land. [43]But [w]the land shall be abandoned by them and enjoy its Sabbaths while it lies desolate without them, and they shall make amends for their iniquity, because they spurned my rules and their soul abhorred my statutes. [44]Yet for all that, when they are in the land of their enemies, [i]I will not spurn them, neither will I abhor them so as to destroy them utterly and [j]break my covenant with them, for I am the LORD their God. [45]But I will for their sake remember the covenant with their forefathers, [k]whom I brought out of the land of Egypt [l]in the sight of the nations, that I might be their God: I am the LORD.”

[46] [m]These are the statutes and rules and laws that the LORD made between himself and the people of Israel through Moses [n]on Mount Sinai.

Laws About Vows

LEVITICUS 27 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]"Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, If anyone [o] makes a special vow to the LORD involving the valuation of persons, [3]then the valuation of a male from twenty years old up to sixty years old shall be fifty shekels [1] of silver, according to the [p] shekel of the sanctuary. [4]If the person is a female, the valuation shall be thirty shekels. [5]If the person is from five years old up to twenty years old, the valuation shall be for a male twenty shekels, and for a female ten shekels. [6]If the person is from a month old up to five years old, the valuation shall be for a male five shekels of silver, and for a female the valuation shall be three shekels of silver. [7]And if the person is sixty years old or over, then the valuation for a male shall be fifteen shekels, and for a female ten shekels. [8]And if someone is too poor to pay the valuation, then he shall be made to stand before the priest, and the priest shall value him; the priest shall value him according to what the vower can afford.

[9][†]"If the vow [2] is an animal that may be offered as an offering to the LORD, all of it that he gives to the LORD is holy. [10] [q] He shall not exchange it or make a substitute for it, good for bad, or bad for good; and if he does in fact substitute one animal for another, then both it and the substitute shall be holy. [11]And if it is any unclean animal that may not be offered as an offering to the LORD, then he shall stand the animal before the priest, [12]and the priest shall value it as either good or bad; as the priest values it, so it shall be. [13] [r] But if he wishes to redeem it, he shall add a [s] fifth to the valuation.

[14]"When a man dedicates his house as a holy gift to the LORD, the priest shall value it as either good or bad; as the priest values it, so it shall stand. [15] [t] And if the donor wishes to redeem his house, he shall add a [s] fifth to the valuation price, and it shall be his.

[16][†]"If a man dedicates to the LORD part of the land that is his possession, then the valuation shall be in proportion to its seed. A homer [3] of barley seed shall be valued at fifty shekels of silver. [17]If he dedicates his field from the year of jubilee, the valuation shall stand, [18]but if he dedicates his field after the jubilee, then the priest shall [u] calculate the price according to the years that remain until the year of jubilee, and a deduction shall be made from the valuation. 19 [v]And if he who dedicates the field wishes to redeem it, then he shall add a [s]fifth to its valuation price, and it shall remain his. 20But if he does not wish to redeem the field, or if he has sold the field to another man, it shall not be redeemed anymore. 21But the field, [w]when it is released in the jubilee, shall be a holy gift to the LORD, like a field that has been [x]devoted. The priest shall be in [y]possession of it. 22If he dedicates to the LORD a field that he has bought, [z]which is not a part of his possession, 23 [a]then the priest shall calculate the amount of the valuation for it up to the year of jubilee, and the man shall give the valuation on that day as a holy gift to the LORD. 24 [b]In the year of jubilee the field shall return to him from whom it was bought, to whom the land belongs as a possession. 25Every valuation shall be according to [c]the shekel of the sanctuary: [d]twenty gerahs [4] shall make a shekel.

26[†]“But a [e]firstborn of animals, which as a firstborn belongs to the LORD, no man may dedicate; whether ox or sheep, it is the LORD’s. 27And if it is an unclean animal, then he shall buy it back at the valuation, [f]and add a fifth to it; or, if it is not redeemed, it shall be sold at the valuation.

28[†]“But [g]no devoted thing that a man devotes to the LORD, of anything that he has, whether man or beast, or of his inherited field, shall be sold or redeemed; every devoted thing is most holy to the LORD. 29 [h]No one devoted, who is to be devoted for destruction [5] from mankind, shall be ransomed; he shall surely be put to death.

30[†] [i]“Every tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land or of the fruit of the trees, is the LORD’s; it is holy to the LORD. 31If a man wishes to redeem some of his tithe, he shall add a fifth to it. 32And every tithe of herds and flocks, every tenth animal of all that [j]pass under the herdsman’s staff, shall be holy to the LORD. 33One shall not differentiate between good or bad, [k]neither shall he make a substitute for it; and if he does substitute for it, then both it and the substitute shall be holy; it shall not be redeemed.”

34[†] [l]These are the commandments that the LORD commanded Moses for the people of Israel [m]on Mount Sinai.

Study Notes for Leviticus

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 1:1–6:7 Five Major Offerings. Leviticus describes five major offerings, each with its own characteristics.

FACT

Burnt offerings were the most costly type of sacrifice. Unlike other offerings, none of the remains could be used for other purposes.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 1:1–17 The burnt offering (see also 6:8–13) is the most costly offering, since it is completely burned up (except for the skin, which the priest kept). The motive for the burnt offering is not specified here, but other references to the sacrifices show that it is offered for thanksgiving, penitence, vows, and self-dedication.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 1:3–4 The bull offered in sacrifice must be without blemish. It should have no physical defects (22:22–24) that would lessen its value and make it unworthy for presenting to the Lord (compare Mal. 1:8). lay his hand. This action probably establishes some relationship between the offerers and animal so that the animal is accepted on their behalf. shall be accepted . . . to make atonement for him. "Make atonement" seems to involve both expiation (the removal of sin) and propitiation (the appeasement of wrath). The offerings that "make atonement" are the burnt offering, the sin offering (Lev. 4:26), and the guilt offering (5:16).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 1:5–9 Atonement is achieved through both the sacrifice and the priests who represent the Lord. Food offering is not a specific name of an offering but a more general term for what is "consumed" by the Lord in the fire. In other offerings, it is often coupled with a pleasing aroma (v. 9; compare Gen. 8:21), implying the Lord's acceptance (Lev. 1:3–4).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 1:14–17 Despite its small size, the burnt offering of a bird is acceptable to God. He considers it a pleasing aroma.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 2:1–16 The grain offering (see also 6:14–23) would ordinarily be offered with a burnt or peace offering. It probably served the same purpose as the offering it accompanied.

FACT

Grain offerings. Grain was highly valued by nomads such as the Israelites, since it could not be grown in the desert. Grain offerings were thus an act of worship and thanksgiving.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 2:1–3 The priest was to burn a handful of the offering as a memorial portion to the Lord (v. 2). The Israelites were asking the Lord to "remember" them with favor as they made their request or offered their praise.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 2:11–13 The worshipers are prohibited from burning leaven or honey on the altar, though the text does not explain why. They could, however, season their offerings with salt, which is described as the salt of the covenant. As a preservative, salt would remind them of the permanence of their covenant relationship with the Lord (see Num. 18:19).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 3:1–17 The peace offering (see also 7:11–36) expresses peace between an offerer and the Lord. As with the burnt offering, there are various motives for a peace offering, from petition to praise.

FACT

Peace offerings were also called fellowship offerings. They expressed peace and fellowship between the person making the offering and the Lord.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 3:1–5 For the burnt offering, the entire animal was to be burned up; for the peace offering, only the fatty parts are to be burned. The fat in ancient Israel represented the very best part of the animal (compare the "fat of the wheat," Num. 18:12).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 3:6–17 Almost the same instructions are given here for the offering of a sheep or a goat.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 3:16–17 The fat, being the very best part of the animal, was to be given to the Lord. The blood was reserved for atoning for the life of the Israelites, therefore it too must not be consumed (see notes on 17:11; 17:12).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 4:1–5:13 The sin offering (see also 6:24–30) is for restoring one's broken relationship with the Lord, whether that was caused by an unintentional sin (4:1–35) or by a sin of omission (5:1–13).

FACT

Sin offerings atoned for unintentional sins (4:1–35) and for sins of omission (5:1–13). The sacrificial animal was burned "outside of the camp" (4:12), rather than at the base of the altar. This foreshadowed the sacrificial death of Jesus Christ, who was crucified "outside the camp" (Heb. 13:13).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 4:1–21 These verses show how to deal with the sins of the priest and the whole congregation. Blood is sprinkled in front of the veil that separates the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place, indicating that their sins have defiled the Most Holy Place. But since this is a regular occasion, and not the Day of Atonement (ch. 16), the blood cannot be brought into the Most Holy Place. The priest and congregation as a corporate entity bear heavier responsibility than an individual leader or layperson. Therefore, a more costly animal is required for the sacrifice.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 4:3 The anointed priest probably refers to the high priest.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 4:13 If the whole congregation . . . sins unintentionally. For a possible biblical example of unintentional sin, see Josh. 9:15, where Israel made a wrongful covenant with the Gibeonites, not realizing that they were being deceived. realize their guilt. See ESV footnote; compare Lev. 4:22, 27; 5:2, 3, 4, 5.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 4:22–35 The priest atones for the sin of a leader or an individual by what he does with the blood at the altar of the burnt offering (v. 25) and by burning the fat on it (v. 26). The meat is not burned outside the camp, since it will be eaten by the priests (6:24–30).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 5:1–6 These verses describe four cases in which sinners either deliberately (v. 1) or unknowingly (vv. 2–4) fail to do something that is required. In any of these cases, once they realize their guilt, they are to confess their sin (v. 5) and bring a sin offering.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 5:7–13 Either a lamb, two turtledoves, or two pigeons could be offered for the sin offering, depending on the sinner's economic situation. Thus all Israelites could present an acceptable sacrifice.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 5:14–6:7 The offenses covered by the guilt offering (see also 7:1–10) appear to be more serious than those covered by the sin offering. The sacrificial animal is more costly (a male instead of a female) and the sins are described as a breach of faith (5:15).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 6:1–7 When a person sins against his neighbor, he should make it right both with the neighbor and with the Lord (see also Matt. 5:23–26).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 6:8–7:38 Handling of the Offerings. This section describes the proper handling, eating, and disposal of the various sacrifices and offerings described in 1:1–6:7. The sacrifices and offerings are either "holy" or "most holy" and must be treated with respect. Otherwise, the offering would not count and the offender would be punished (see 7:18, 20–21).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 6:8–13 burnt offering. See also 1:1–17. fire on the altar shall be kept burning (6:9, 12–13). This would encourage the priests to be faithful in their duties so that worship could continue without interruption.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 6:14–23 The initial description of the grain offering (2:1–16) describes what the worshiper does while this section focuses on what the priests do with grain offerings.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 6:14–18 The grain offering is most holy and must therefore be eaten by holy people (the sons of Aaron) in a holy place (the court of the tent of meeting).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 6:19–23 Since it appears that this grain offering was offered on behalf of the priests, it is not surprising that the high priest (the priest . . . who is anointed) would offer it, since he would represent the priests as a whole.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 6:24–30 The initial description of the sin offering (4:1–5:13) indicated that meat of the offering was to be burned up when its blood had been taken into the Holy Place (4:3–21; compare 6:30). These verses explain that the remaining meat of other sin offerings (4:22–35) is to be eaten by holy people (priests) in a holy place (6:26, 29). blood . . . on a garment . . . bronze vessel. The instructions of vv. 27–28 ensure that holy blood does not leave the holy place.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 7:1–10 This passage focuses on how the guilt offering is to be made. The earlier passage (5:14–6:7) focused on when it was to be offered.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 7:1–7 This ritual is similar to each of the other offerings, but is not identical with any of them. As in the sin offering, the remaining flesh goes to the priest and his family.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 7:11–36 The peace offering (see also 3:1–17) is subdivided into three types: thanksgiving in response to God’s favor (7:12, 13, 15), a vow (an offering in fulfillment of a vow; v. 16), and a freewill offering (when there is no specific obligation to make an offering; v. 16). Cut off from his people (vv. 20, 21, 25, 27) could mean that the person is isolated from the community, or it could mean that he actually dies (compare Ex. 31:14; Num. 4:18–20). On the prohibition against eating fat and blood (Lev. 7:22–27), see note on 3:16–17.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 8:1–10:20 The Establishment of the Priesthood. The book of Exodus ends with the construction of the tabernacle (Exodus 35–40), and Leviticus 1–7 provides a manual for sacrifice in the tabernacle. Now, ch. 8 records the installation of the priesthood; ch. 9 describes the first services in the tabernacle; and ch. 10 tells about an occasion when priests did not obey the Lord’s words, and also gives instructions on worship.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 8:1–4 Nearly one-third of the uses of the word commanded in Leviticus appear in ch. 8. As he learns of the Lord’s commands, Moses is completely obedient. entrance of the tent of meeting. That is, the entrance to the screened-off courtyard of the tabernacle.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 8:8 On Urim and Thummim, see note on Ex. 28:30.

FACT

What were the Urim and the Thummim? Mentioned in 8:8 and in various other OT passages, the Urim and the Thummim remain a mystery to modern readers. All that is known is that they were worn on the garment of the high priest, and were used in seeking the Lord’s will on particular matters.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 8:10–13 Anointing the tabernacle and its utensils with oil (Ex. 30:22–33) sets apart these items for holy use.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 8:14–17 Moses presents a sin offering to purify the priesthood and the altar.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 8:18–21 Compare Ex. 29:15–18 and Leviticus 1. Aaron and his sons dedicate themselves by offering a ram as a burnt offering. The use of this animal, which is probably costlier than a goat (compare 4:28 with 5:15, 18; 6:6), shows the greater importance of Aaron and his sons compared to the other priests.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 8:22–29 The second ram is for the sacrifice of installation. Placing its blood on the right extremities of the priests represents total dedication and purification.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 8:31–36 This is a meal of covenant agreement, symbolizing the bond between the Lord and his priesthood.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 9:1–24 Now that Aaron and his sons have been ordained, ch. 9 describes the first tabernacle service. Various offerings are required, because both the priests and the people are sinful. God delivered his covenant to his people at Sinai; now he descends upon his altar to dwell with them.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 9:1–4 The daily sacrifices in the tabernacle begin.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 9:5–6 The purpose of this service is for the glory of the LORD to be shown both to the people and to the priests. See note on Ex. 16:7; compare Ex. 40:34–35.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 9:7–21 First comes the atonement for the priests (vv. 7–14), and then for the people (vv. 15–21). As in other ceremonies, the atonement process moves from the removal of sinfulness (by the sin offering), to petitions and praises (the burnt offering), and finally to communion with the Lord (the peace offering).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 9:22–24 Moses and Aaron together enter the tent. This means that the priests (represented by Aaron) will now mediate between the Lord and the people, instead of Moses.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 10:1–3 Nadab and Abihu, the eldest of Aaron’s four sons, took censers of their own, put incense in them, and offered unauthorized fire (see ESV footnote) to the Lord. That is, they did the offering in their own way instead of in the way authorized by the Lord, and for this they died. Their sin probably also involved entering—or trying to enter—the Most Holy Place (see 16:1–3, 11–17; compare Heb. 9:7) after drinking alcohol (compare Lev. 10:8–11). Aaron held his peace. He apparently agreed that God was justified in killing Nadab and Abihu for their sin.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 10:4–7 The ordained priests were forbidden to mourn the death of their rebellious family members (but see note on 21:1–4).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 10:8–11 This is the only time in Leviticus that God speaks directly to Aaron alone. God outlines three major roles for the priesthood: (1) to distinguish between the holy and the profane, (2) to separate the clean from the unclean, and (3) to teach the people the laws of God.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 10:9–11 Wine and strong drink are forbidden while priests are "on duty," so that they can faithfully carry out their responsibilities. On their responsibility to teach, see also Deut. 33:10; Ezra 7:10; Neh. 8:1–12; Mal. 2:6–7.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 10:16–20 On the final day of the installation of the priesthood, Moses discovers that Eleazar and Ithamar have not followed the regulations concerning sacrifice. Aaron argues that the events of the day have been so exceptional that it is too dangerous to perform the ritual. Moses then realizes that, though mistakes were made, Aaron has a correct fear of God's holiness.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 11:1–15:33 The Laws on Cleanness and Uncleanness. Chapter 11 deals with foods that are clean and may be eaten, and foods that are unclean and may not be eaten. Chapter 12 addresses cleanliness and purification after childbirth. Chapters 13–14 provide regulations concerning cleanliness in matters of fungi, skin diseases, and infections. Chapter 15 considers bodily discharges that may make a person unclean. These five chapters define what is clean and unclean for Israel in God's sight.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 11:1–47 The reason a particular creature is called either clean or unclean has puzzled commentators throughout the ages. Yet the purpose of these laws is clear: to help Israel, as God's holy people, see the difference between ritual cleanness and ritual uncleanness (vv. 46–47). Seeing these differences in the ritual realm would constantly remind the people that they need to make such distinctions in the moral realm as well. Further, obeying these food laws expresses Israel's devotion to the Lord: just as God separated the Israelites from the other nations, so they must separate clean from unclean foods (20:24–26). This is why the restrictions can be removed in Acts 10:9–28, when the Jew vs. Gentile distinction is no longer relevant in defining the people of God (see also Mark 7:18–19; Col. 2:16–23). A "clean" animal is one "permitted" as food (Lev. 11:2). See the parallel list in Deut. 14:3–21.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 11:1–8 The laws regarding clean vs. unclean animals permit Israel to eat hoofed mammals with two functional toes, including domestic beasts such as sheep, goats, and cattle, and wild ones such as antelopes (compare Deut. 14:4–5). On the other hand a horse is not clean, because it has only one toe. What these animals eat is apparently not the basis of their cleanness or uncleanness. The camel, rock badger (hyrax), and hare are exclusively vegetarian, but they are considered unclean. The pig is the only animal in this list that is not strictly vegetarian. Many of the clean aquatic creatures (Lev. 11:9–12) are carnivorous.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 11:9–12 The requirement of fins and scales limits the clean aquatic animals to what modern zoologists would call fish.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 11:13–19 Almost all the unclean birds are predators and carrion-eaters (that is, they touch dead creatures and consume blood). The term translated "bird" covers a variety of creatures that fly (see ESV footnote), and can include the bat.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 11:20–23 If the winged insects have an ability to leave the ground, they are clean. For the locust and grasshopper as allowable food, compare the diet of John the Baptist (Matt. 3:4).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 11:24–28 The law gradually introduces the theme of death as a defiling force (see "carcasses" in vv. 8, 11).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 11:29–35 Not only are these creatures unclean for food, but touching them when they are dead will also defile a person.

FACT

The word unclean occurs more than 130 times in the OT, with half of those occurrences in Leviticus. It is not a statement about a person's hygiene. Rather, it relates to holiness in worship and in personal conduct (see note on 11:1–47).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 11:36–38 The water in a spring or a cistern was not contaminated by an unclean creature that fell into it. This may have been because the water in them was flowing and continuously refreshed. Or, the law may have allowed this concession because water was in such short supply in Palestine.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 11:39–40 Even the clean animals cause defilement after they have died.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 11:44–45 For I am the LORD. This is the first occurrence of this phrase in Leviticus, but it occurs frequently from ch. 18 on. for I am holy. Compare 19:2; 20:26; 21:8. The Lord, who is holy, calls his people to consecrate themselves and to be holy. Compare 20:7–8 and note. who brought you up out of the land of Egypt. God's people should pursue holiness in response to his gracious actions on their behalf.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 12:1–8 A woman who has just given birth is considered unclean because of loss of blood. Three steps are required to become clean again. The time of purification for the mother is twice as long if she gave birth to a female. This may have been because the female is potentially more unclean because of the probability of her menstruating and giving birth. Whatever the reason, this law in no way suggests that women are inferior to men.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 12:8 lamb . . . two turtledoves. Compare 5:11; and Luke 2:24, indicating the poverty of Jesus' parents.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 13:1–59 Leprous disease (v. 2 and throughout ch. 13) could include many skin ailments (see ESV footnote on v. 2). The basic symptoms are given in vv. 2–3. What today is called leprosy (Hansen's disease) was unknown in the Near East at the time of Leviticus.

FACT

Leprosy. The "leprosy" mentioned in the Bible was not what is commonly called leprosy today (Hansen's disease). Rather, it may have been a form of psoriasis or a fungal infection. Nonetheless it was highly contagious, so those who had leprosy had to follow strict rules of hygiene.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 13:3 The law required unclean people to live outside the camp until they were free of disease (vv. 45–46) and to present a sacrifice as part of a cleansing ceremony (14:1–32). See Introduction: Problems in Understanding Leviticus. The purpose of this law was to prevent what is unclean from coming into contact with what is holy, which would be dangerous for the unclean person and for the whole community. The law did not imply that the unclean person was under God's condemnation or that he or she should be excluded from the love of the community.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 13:9–17 This is the case of a person with a severe, chronic skin condition. The patient has raw flesh, that is, it is red and oozing. His condition is easily recognizable, and therefore no quarantine is needed. The priest simply declares him ritually unclean and impure.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 13:18–44 These rules deal with various cases of the leprous disease in relation to other common skin diseases. The priest is to determine if the condition makes the person unclean (compare 10:10–11) in order to protect the community.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 13:45–46 The person with a skin disease is to tear his clothes, go bareheaded, and have his beard and mouth covered—all signs of mourning (compare Ezek. 24:17, 22).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 13:47–59 leprous disease in a garment. Causes of such disease include various molds or fungi. If the disease spreads or does not go away, the owners are to burn the item. If the disease lessens, they may tear out the damaged portion and sew the item back together.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 14:1–32 Chapter 14 explains how an unclean person who had been placed outside the camp is readmitted into the covenant community.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 14:1–9 Cedarwood, scarlet yarn, and hyssop are used in this ritual because they all seem to have cleansing properties (see Num. 19:6). The live bird being driven into the fields may symbolize the patient's disease being carried outside the camp of Israel.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 14:10–20 This final series of sacrifices, focusing on cleansing at the sanctuary, restores the unclean person to full fellowship as a member of the covenant community.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 14:21–32 For the poor, birds are substituted for the expensive large animals, and only one-third the normal amount of grain is required.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 14:33–57 These laws regarding leprous disease in houses prepare for the time when Israel will settle in Canaan and live in houses. Houses may become infected with disease—things like mold, mildew, and fungus. These are unclean and dangerous, and must be eliminated. The priest determines the course of action.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 15:1–33 These regulations about discharges from male and female reproductive organs emphasize the transmission of infection. No matter how it happens, the person infected is required to separate himself or herself and to undergo the purification ritual. "Unclean" is not the same as "sinful," but rather has to do with what is permitted (compare note on 13:3). The Bible does not view the process of reproduction as evil; it is part of the original good creation. Certainly, however, the Creator of these functions has the right to tell his creatures how and when to use them.

FACT

Could a house have leprosy? The Israelites were told what to do if a house had a "leprous disease" (14:34). This most likely referred to things like mold, mildew, or fungus.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 15:2 The word body in this verse refers to the genitals. The same word is used in v. 19 of the vagina.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 15:16–18 The emission of semen makes a man unclean, perhaps because, like blood, it is a source of life.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 15:19–23 A woman who is menstruating is unclean, and her uncleanness may be transmitted to others.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 15:24 If a man has sexual relations with a woman during her menstrual period, then he is considered unclean for seven days, the same as for the woman herself. This rule may seem to conflict with 18:19 and 20:18, in which both the man and the woman are cut off from Israel. Perhaps the present rule relates to a more casual sexual act, whereas the later rules relate to a deliberate breaking of the law.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 15:25–30 These laws address irregular or unnatural flows of blood from a female (compare Mark 5:25–34).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 15:31–33 defiling my tabernacle. Uncleanness in the Israelite camp constantly defiles the sanctuary. This is why it needs to be cleansed on the Day of Atonement (see 16:16).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 16:1–34 The Day of Atonement Ritual. This annual observance highlights God's grace. Here God offers forgiveness and renewal for Israel's worship site, priests, and people. All sins can be forgiven. This ritual reminds readers that forgiveness comes from God, whose presence is symbolized by the ark in the Most Holy Place.

FACT

The Day of Atonement was the most solemn of all Hebrew festivals, focusing on personal remorse for sin. Today it is called Yom Kippur.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 16:1–2 Nadab and Abihu's sin was not simply being drunk (see 10:9). They sinned when they entered (or attempted to enter) the Most Holy Place (inside the veil). See note on 10:1–3.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 16:3–10 One of the goats offered for the people's sin purifies the tent of meeting, while the other is to be sent away alive into the wilderness. Azazel (vv. 8, 10) may have been a proper name. Or, it may be a compound word combining "goat" with "going away." In that case it would mean "goat that goes away" (or "scapegoat"). Either way, the goat is sent out to take sin away from Israel.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 16:11–17 The atonement-day ritual begins with atonement for the priests (vv. 11–14) and then for the people (vv. 15–17).

The cloud of incense is to protect Aaron from clearly seeing God’s presence in the Most Holy Place (see Ex. 33:20). because of their transgressions, all their sins (Lev. 16:16). “All their sins” (see also v. 21) probably refers to any sins not already atoned for through normal sacrifices.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 16:18–19 Altar here probably refers to the altar of burnt offering.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 16:20–22 Sending the guilt of all Israel into the desert is probably another way of cleansing the people, in addition to the prior purification of the sanctuary (vv. 3–20).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 16:23–25 Aaron leaves his Day of Atonement clothes inside the Holy Place because they are holy, not to be worn for the normal priestly activity.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 16:26–28 The person who handles the Azazel-goat is defiled because of contact with the uncleanness that the goat bore.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 16:29–34 On the tenth day of the seventh month (Tishri, that is, September/October), the Israelites and the strangers living among them are to afflict themselves (v. 29; literally, “humble their souls”). This term is connected with fasting and prayer (Ps. 35:13; Isa. 58:3).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 17:1–16 The Handling and Meaning of Blood. Chapter 17 deals with the handling of sacrificial animals, beginning with a reminder that the blood of slain animals should be brought to the sanctuary (vv. 3–4). Following these instructions prevents ongoing idolatry (v. 7) and emphasizes that the blood of a sacrificial animal is the “life” that takes the place of the offerer’s death (vv. 11–14). Animal blood is not to be used by Israel as it was used among the pagans of the time.

FACT

Were the Israelites vegetarians? During their wilderness journey, the Israelites seldom ate the meat of large animals. It was eaten only on special occasions.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 17:1–9 If a person slaughters an animal for sacrifice either in the camp or outside the camp (v. 3) and does not bring the blood to the sanctuary (v. 4), that act is practically the same as human murder (though not identical to it). The purpose of the rule is to prevent the people's idolatry in worshiping the goat demons (v. 7). Anyone who violates the prohibition is to be cut off from his people (v. 9).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 17:10 Eats any blood probably refers to eating meat that still has the blood in it (compare Gen. 9:4; Deut. 12:23).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 17:11 and I have given it. The Hebrew reads literally, "And I, I have given it." This underscores the action of the Lord himself in granting the means of atonement. It is his gracious gift. makes atonement by the life. That is, by the life of the animal, which ransoms the life of the offerer from the deserved judgment of the Lord.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 17:12 Therefore. Because the Lord has set aside the blood for the unique role of atonement (v. 11), the Israelites and all sojourners are prohibited from partaking of it.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 17:15–16 dies of itself . . . is torn by beasts. A person who eats from these animals is unclean, probably because the animals that have died in these ways have not had their blood drained properly.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 18:1–22:33 The Call to Holiness. This section applies the principle of holiness (19:1–2) to various aspects of Israelite life. Chapter 18 considers sexual behavior and how Israel is to act differently from the pagan nations. Chapters 19–20 apply the idea of holiness in various ways. The manner in which the people treat the land, their neighbors, their parents, and all other things is to be distinct. Holiness is to affect every area of Israelite life. Chapters 21–22 deal with the holiness of the priesthood.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 18:1–30 The rules from ch. 18 onward aim to lead the people to holiness, although the term "holy" or "holiness" is not mentioned in ch. 18. The minimal requirement for holiness is to not act like the Egyptians or Canaanites. The actions prohibited in this chapter are representative examples. They do not address every possible situation in life.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 18:5 if a person does them, he shall live by them. The person who responds rightly to God's grace ("does") will enjoy life under God's pleasure ("shall live"). Compare Deut. 4:1; 8:1; Neh. 9:29; Ezek. 20:11; John 15:10.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 18:6–18 These laws prohibit sexual relations (approach . . . to uncover nakedness), and therefore marriage, between people who are too closely related, either by blood (mother, sister, granddaughter, aunt) or by marriage (stepmother, stepsister, stepdaughter, stepgranddaughter, sister-in-law, daughter-in-law, aunt by marriage). No mention is made of the daughter, probably because this prohibition was already well known in the laws of other cultures. The rules enforce a distinction between family affection and erotic love, which protects the well-being of the community.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 18:18 you shall not take a woman as a rival wife to her sister. Polygamy violates the creation ideal (Gen. 2:24), and polygamous marriages in the Bible are generally unhappy ones (e.g., Gen. 29:30–30:2; 1 Sam. 1:2–7).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 18:19 Leviticus offers no explanation for this law. Unlike most of the other sexual laws of this chapter, such as those concerning adultery and homosexuality, this law is not repeated in the NT. In view of 15:19–24, the concern is probably the man's ceremonial uncleanness.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 18:20 This prohibition follows from the seventh commandment (Ex. 20:14) and is universally applicable. make yourself unclean with her. Although not all uncleanness is sin, all sin makes a person unclean.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 18:21 This refers to the cult of Molech (2 Kings 23:10; Jer. 32:35). The precise nature of the offering of children to this pagan god is uncertain. It may be that they are being given to the cult of Molech to train to be temple prostitutes, and that is why this passage is listed in a section dealing with sexual prohibitions. On the other hand, Roman authors describe the practice of sacrificing babies by fire, and this may indeed refer to this horrific custom.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 18:22 You shall not lie with a male as with a woman. This prohibits all male homosexual activity (compare 20:13; also note on Rom. 1:26–27). Such activity is utterly at odds with the creation ideal (see note on Gen. 2:23–24).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 18:24–30 All the listed offenses are declared to be an outrage to the Lord. They defile the offender and the land.

FACT

Abomination describes a behavior or action that is utterly repulsive and detestable to God. The offenses listed in 18:24–30 defile not only the person who committed the act but the entire land.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 19:1–37 The Lord strongly commands the people (including the priests) to become holy in their practice, as he is holy (v. 2). They do this by observing all the following negative and positive commandments.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 19:1–4 The term holy means "set apart, unique, and distinct." Human holiness means imitating God, becoming and acting like him.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 19:9–10 Caring for one's neighbor and helping provide for the poor and the sojourner displays holiness. On the other hand, harvesting right up to the edge of one's land may suggest selfishness. (For an example of this law being obeyed, see Ruth 2.)

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 19:11–18 Holiness requires that a person keep the Word of God, especially the Ten Commandments.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 19:17 To hate in one's heart is prohibited. Instead one should reason frankly with his neighbor (compare Prov. 27:5–6). lest you incur sin because of him. This may mean that the person who refuses to reason with his neighbor, helping him see his sin, would share in the guilt of his sin. It might also mean that a failure to "reason frankly" will result in bitter feelings that will overflow into sinful action.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 19:18 The instruction of v. 17 is heightened: you shall love your neighbor as yourself. This is a fundamental principle of God’s law.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 19:19 Two different kinds of domesticated animals are not to be crossbred, and two types of cloth are not to be woven together. Ceremonial holiness requires that things stay in their proper sphere, just as Israel must observe its separation from the nations (20:22–26).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 19:20–22 The idea of holiness should govern sexual relations. Fair judgment must be made in legal matters pertaining to adultery and promiscuity.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 19:23–25 Forbidden literally means “uncircumcised.” As a child is not to be circumcised before the eighth day, so the fruit on a tree is not to be harvested until after the third year.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 19:26–31 These are all practices of the Canaanites. Holiness requires Israel not to act like the ungodly in any area of life.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 20:1–6 Worshipers of Molech ought to be stoned to death (v. 2). If that is not done, the Lord himself will cut them off (vv. 4–5; see note on 7:11–36). The Lord carries out the same punishment upon those who consult mediums and necromancers (20:6) in order to communicate with the spirits of the dead.

FACT

Beards. Art from Bible times often shows Israelite men with full, rounded beards. This set them apart from the Egyptians and Romans, who were generally clean-shaven. Other peoples living in Palestine would cut or clip their beards. The Israelites were forbidden to do so, perhaps to show their commitment to God in a pagan culture (19:27).

FACT

Private sin, public action. Though sexual immorality is often considered a private matter, it was not dealt with privately in ancient Israel. The Israelites understood that people's religious and moral behavior affected the lives and well-being of their families and neighbors. Therefore, the community as a whole was responsible for carrying out the punishment for sexual sin.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 20:7–8 The Lord sanctifies the Israelites by making them his holy people, set apart to be his own. Now he calls on them to consecrate themselves and be holy (dedicate themselves to holiness in practice); see note on 11:44–45.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 20:9 anyone who curses his father or his mother. Cursing one's parents is the exact opposite of "honoring" them (Ex. 20:12; 21:17; compare Prov. 20:20).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 20:10–20 This section includes the punishments for each of the sexual activities prohibited in ch. 18: capital punishment (20:10–16), exile (vv. 17–18), or barrenness (vv. 19–21).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 20:17 sees her nakedness. A euphemism for having sexual relations.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 20:22–26 A land flowing with milk and honey is a common scriptural description of Canaan (Ex. 13:5; Num. 13:27; etc.).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 20:27 In v. 6, the one who consults a necromancer or a medium was to be put to death. In this verse, the necromancer or the medium is to be put to death. Why this verse appears here in the text is puzzling. It may be because the act receives capital punishment, as do most of the other activities of the section.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 21:1–24 Stricter rules of holiness are required of priests because they work directly with the holy objects of the sanctuary.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 21:1–4 Ordinary priests are prohibited from contact with the dead, except in the case of their closest relatives. (The rules for high priests are given in vv. 10–15; see note.) his virgin sister. The assumption is that, once she marries, she is not regarded as one of his closest relatives, but comes under the care of her husband and his clan (see Gen. 2:24).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 21:5–6 Priests were prohibited from making bald patches on their heads, shaving off the edges of their beards, or making cuts on their body (compare 19:27–28). These are pagan mourning and burial practices. Israelite priests oversee the worship, and no Canaanite ritual is to enter the priestly system.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 21:7–8 The wife of a priest must be a woman of high moral character. She may not be a prostitute, because that is a defiling profession. She must not have been divorced. Even though divorce is allowed in the OT (see note on Deut. 24:1–4), a broken marriage falls short of the creation ideal, which the priests are to embody (compare Mal. 2:1–9).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 21:10–15 The high priest is subject to stricter holiness regulations than the ordinary priest. While an ordinary priest may marry a widow, the high priest must marry a virgin (vv. 13–14). (Perhaps this is to ensure that all the children in his home are his own.) The high priest may not participate in any mourning or burial activities (vv. 10–12; compare note on vv. 1–4). This is to keep him from any uncleanness that he might bring into the inner parts of the sanctuary.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 21:16–20 No priest who has a blemish may approach to offer sacrifices. The same requirement applies to sacrificial animals. Both the priest and the animal are to exemplify holiness and completeness (see 22:17–25).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 21:21–24 for I am the LORD who sanctifies them (v. 23c). Although “them” might refer to the priests with physical defects (vv. 17–23a), more likely it refers to my sanctuaries (v. 23b). While “my sanctuaries” matches the plural “them,” the references to the priests with physical defects are all singular.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 22:1–3 The heavy responsibility demanded of the priests is seen in the phrase cut off from my presence, which is more severe than the ordinary formula “cut off from his people” (19:8; 20:5) which describes the punishment for laymen. The priest is exiled from the service in the tabernacle (that is, in God’s presence).

FACT

The eating of holy things. Only priests and their families were allowed to eat the meat from sacrifices. Servants who were members of the household could also partake of the offerings, but hired laborers could not do so.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 22:4–9 For the background of these rules, see 11:1–47; 13:1–59; 15:1–33; and 17:15. Contracting uncleanness is certain, but when purification has been made, one can eat the holy offering. If purification is not made and the offering is eaten, the offender gives up his life.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 22:10–16 Priests and their families survived on food from donations to the tabernacle. The priests are to guard the holy food so that those not authorized to do so may not eat of it (vv. 15–16).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 22:17–25 Animals with defects are considered unholy and incomplete, and are not to be offered to the Holy One.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 22:29–30 A thanksgiving sacrifice was a type of peace offering (compare 7:15). on the same day (see also 7:15). This stricter rule could suggest that this offering was especially sacred or important.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 23:1–25:55 Holy Times. These chapters address holiness in relation to time.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 23:1–44 This chapter presents the calendar for feasts in Israel (compare Ex. 23:10–19; 34:18–26; Numbers 28–29; Deut. 16:1–17; see chart). Keeping this calendar sets Israel apart from all the surrounding nations.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 23:1–3 During the appointed feasts, people are to meet with the Lord. The Sabbath is a day of solemn rest and the basis for all the following feasts. The day is also one of holy convocation, or public assembly for worship (vv. 2, 4, 7, 21).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 23:4–8 The Passover is also called the Feast of Unleavened Bread. See Ex. 12:1–20; Luke 22:1.

Holy Feasts

The Sabbath principle is seen in each of these feasts, which are intended to express the divine-human relationship. Each feast requires (1) cessation from ordinary work and (2) dedication to the Lord by means of offerings.

Feast	Reference	General time of year	Specific time of year	Modern equivalent	Significance
Sabbath	23:3	Weekly	7th day	Saturday	Creation
Passover	23:4–8	Spring	14th of first month (Abib)	March/April (Easter)	Salvation
Firstfruits	23:9–14	Spring	16th of first month (Abib)	March/April (Easter)	Dedication
Weeks	23:15–21	Spring	1st of third month (Sivan)	Pentecost	Dedication
Trumpets	23:23–25	Fall	1st of seventh month (Tishri)	September	Solemn assembly; spiritual preparation
Day of Atonement	23:26–32	Fall	10th of seventh month (Tishri)	September/October	Redemption
Booths	23:33–36	Fall	15th–22nd of seventh month (Tishri)	September/October	Joyful remembrance of the Lord’s historic guidance

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 23:9–14 For laws relating to the firstfruits, see Ex. 23:15 and 34:18–20. The feast celebrates the harvest as a blessing from God to his people.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 23:15–22 The Feast of Weeks is also called the “Feast of Harvest” (Ex. 23:16) and “the day of the firstfruits” (Num. 28:26). In the NT it is called “Pentecost” (Acts 2:1). This celebration recognizes the Lord as provider of the harvest, who deserves the first of all produce.

FACT

The Feast of Weeks is known in the NT as Pentecost (Acts 2:1). It was a celebration honoring the Lord as provider of all crops and as the One who deserved the firstfruits of those crops.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 23:23–25 At the Feast of Trumpets, trumpet blasts and a solemn assembly call the people to prepare for the most sacred month of the Hebrew calendar. It also marks the end of one agricultural year and the beginning of another. Following the Babylonian exile, Jews celebrated this day as Rosh Hashanah, or New Year's Day.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 23:26–32 During the Day of Atonement, the people are to humble themselves (see note on 16:29–34) and not do any work. Otherwise, they will be cut off from their people.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 23:33–36 The Feast of Booths was a weeklong feast celebrating the people's salvation from Egypt.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 23:37–44 These six appointed feasts are to help the people worship the Lord and remember his work on their behalf. Verses 39–44 return to discuss the Feast of Booths.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 24:1–9 These verses may have been a reminder not to forget the daily tabernacle activities in between the annual festivals described in ch. 23.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 24:5–9 The twelve loaves symbolize the 12 tribes of Israel as they stand in God's presence. In Ex. 25:30 the loaves are called "the bread of the Presence." New loaves are to be set out on each Sabbath.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 24:10–23 These verses are an example of the laws in Israel that arose in response to specific situations.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 24:10–12 The command against misusing God's name (Ex. 20:7; 22:28) is mentioned again. The Exodus passages did not specify a penalty.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 24:13–16 let all who heard him lay their hands on his head. This may have been done to pass onto the one who cursed the guilt of all who had heard his curse and had thus become defiled. Or, it may have been done simply to indicate who it was that had uttered the curse.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 24:17–23 fracture for fracture, eye for eye, tooth for tooth. This proverbial phrase means “the punishment must fit the crime” (compare Ex. 21:18–19). The law was intended for judges in a court of law; it was not intended as a way for individuals to “take the law into their own hands.”

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 25:1–7 The practice of allowing no organized farming in the seventh year clearly benefits the soil. It also recognizes that all produce belongs to God and that he gives it freely to his people.

FACT

An eye for an eye? This law (24:19–20) was not meant to encourage personal revenge. Rather, it set a limit to the penalties in cases of personal injury. In other words, “let the punishment fit the crime.”

FACT

Listen for the trumpet! Once every 50 years, the Israelites were to observe the Year of Jubilee. They would know it was time for the special year to begin when they heard the sound of a trumpet (25:9). The Hebrew word for Jubilee is related to a term that means “ram’s horn.”

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 25:8–12 Jubilee was a year of release and liberty (v. 10), when people were to return to their ancestral property. Israelites who had sold themselves as servants were to be released and sent home. This provided a periodic restoration of the means to earn a living for each family in an agrarian society. The jubilee did not equalize all possessions in Israel, however, since possessions such as cattle and money were not reallocated. The land was to lie fallow for two years in a row: the forty-ninth year (sabbatical year) and the fiftieth year (jubilee). This law prohibited the creation of large estates, which would have reduced many Israelites to being tenants on their ancestral land (see Isa. 5:8).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 25:13–17 The price of property must be calculated in terms of how many years have passed since the jubilee, since it is not the property itself that is being sold but the amount of crops that can be harvested before the next jubilee. Since all the Israelites eventually return to their inherited land, the act of selling agricultural land essentially means leasing it (but see vv. 29–31 for land that could be sold permanently). The instruction you shall not wrong one another (vv. 14, 17) relates to the economic oppression of the poor and needy (compare 19:33).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 25:23–24 The land is the Lord’s, and the Israelites are strangers and sojourners. They are tenants, essentially.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 25:25–28 If an Israelite is forced to sell his land, the land can be brought back to the family in one of three ways: (1) a close relative, called a kinsman-redeemer, buys it; (2) the one who sold it can buy it back; or (3) it is returned at the jubilee.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 25:35–38 Israelites are to show mercy to one another because they have received mercy from God.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 25:39–46 A poor Israelite may have sold himself to a fellow Israelite. His right to return to his house at the jubilee means he has sold just his labor, and not his status as a free Israelite.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 25:47–55 The sojourner is required to keep the laws of Israel while residing in the land.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 26:1–46 Blessings and Curses. Covenant documents include a list of consequences. Verses 1–13 display the blessings if Israel obeys the covenant; vv. 14–39 pronounce curses for disobedience.

FACT

Like any modern-day agreement between two parties, God’s covenant with Israel involved certain conditions. There were blessings for those who kept the covenant (26:1–13) and punishment for those who broke it (26:14–46).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 26:1–2 Faithfulness to God and keeping the Sabbath are at the heart of Israelite law.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 26:3–13 If the Israelites are faithful to the Word of God, then they will be blessed with abundance, a visible sign of the Lord's presence.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 26:18 Sevenfold means "fully" or "completely."

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 26:27–33 if in spite of this you will not listen. The retribution for continued rebellion includes a horrific lapse into cannibalism and the destruction of the religious centers, the cities, and the land. The Lord's wrath is actually carried out by the people's enemies.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 26:34–39 When the people are punished by being pushed out of the land, the land will benefit by having rest (compare 25:2–7). The verb enjoy is a personification: the land will be purified and recover its holiness.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 26:40–46 If the people repent, God will deliver them from exile and restore them to the Land of Promise. uncircumcised heart. Although the Israelites are circumcised in the flesh, their unbelieving, disobedient hearts are actually like the hearts of the pagan peoples.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 27:1–34 Vows and Dedication. This final chapter describes means of redemption relating to vows made to the Lord. The material appears to be an appendix to the book because it does not fit smoothly with the previous content. This does not mean the chapter was added later. It was probably placed at the end to emphasize the importance of funding the sanctuary.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 27:1–8 In Israel, a man may make a vow to the Lord, offering himself or a member of his family to serve the Lord. This pledge entails service in the sanctuary. Because non-Levites cannot serve on the temple grounds, a person may be freed from this service by making a payment to the sanctuary.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 27:9–13 One of the vows a man can make is to donate a clean animal to the sanctuary. No substitution of the animal is permitted once the animal has been donated. A person may also contribute an unclean animal. It will not be sacrificed, but the priests may sell it and use the money for the sanctuary.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 27:16–25 Dedicating land to the Lord is divided into two cases: inherited land (vv. 16–21) and purchased land (vv. 22–25). Since the land belongs to the Lord anyway, only the crops can be donated to the Lord. (In practice, this means donating them to the priests.) The rules of the jubilee year apply to these donations (vv. 17–18; see 25:15–16). If the donor does not redeem the land at jubilee, then he forfeits the land to the priesthood.

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 27:26–27 The firstborn already belongs to the LORD (Ex. 13:2; 34:19–20).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 27:28–29 A devoted thing was something "set apart" or "set aside" for God's purposes. It could not be ransomed or "redeemed for other purposes."

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 27:30–33 The tithe is already the Lord's. This law allows the rules for ordinary vows to govern the tithes as well (see vv. 9–13).

LEVITICUS—NOTE ON 27:34 The phrase on Mount Sinai appeared in 25:1 and 26:46, giving the impression that just chs. 25–27 were spoken on Mount Sinai. But the range of meaning of commandments probably includes "rules and statutes" (compare 26:14–15), which suggests that this verse refers to the entire content of Leviticus.

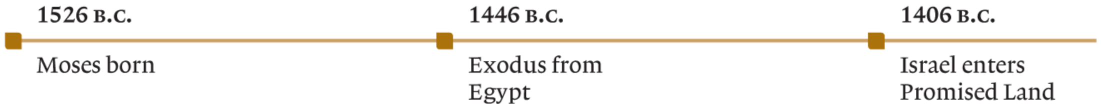
Introduction to Numbers

Introduction to Numbers

Timeline



Author and Date

Moses is the source and primary author of the book of Numbers, which is the fourth volume in the Pentateuch. Its English name comes from the censuses in chs. 1–4 and 26.

Numbers tells of Israel’s journey from Mount Sinai to the borders of the Promised Land, summarizing some 40 years of the nation’s history. With Israel having been freed from slavery in Egypt and then receiving the law (Exodus and Leviticus), the book of Numbers begins with the people’s final preparations to leave Sinai. It then records their triumphal setting out, before a series of events in which the people grumbled about the difficulty of the journey and the impossibility of conquering Canaan. This response leads God to delay their entry to Canaan by 40 years. The closing chapters of the book tell how the people at last set out again and reach the banks of the Jordan, ready to cross into the land promised to their forefathers.

Theme and Purpose

The theme of Numbers is the gradual fulfillment of the promises to Abraham that his descendants would be the people of God and would occupy the land of Canaan. The book shows the reality of God’s presence with Israel in the pillar of cloud and fire over the tabernacle. It also shows how Israel’s unbelief delays the entry into Canaan and costs many lives. Nevertheless, by the end of the book, Israel is ready to enter the land.

Key Themes

There were four elements to God's promise to Abraham in Genesis 12:1–3, and they all play a role in Numbers:

1. The land. Numbers describes Israel's journey toward the Promised Land.
2. Descendants. Abraham had been promised that his descendants would be as many as the stars of heaven (Gen. 15:5). Jacob's family consisted of just 70 persons when he entered Egypt (Gen. 46:27). Now they had increased immensely. The first census (Num. 1:1–46) showed that the fighting men numbered 603,550. That did not include women and children. Surveying their camp from a hilltop, Balaam declared, "Who can count the dust of Jacob or number the fourth part of Israel?" (23:10). Balaam went on to predict that Israel would become a powerful kingdom in its own right: "a star shall come out of Jacob, and a scepter shall rise out of Israel" (24:17).
3. Covenant relationship with God. The essence of the covenant was, "You shall be my people, and I will be your God." The Lord's presence with Israel is constantly highlighted throughout the book of Numbers.
4. Blessing to the nations. This is the aspect of the promises to Abraham that is least apparent in Numbers. To a greater or lesser degree, the nations that Israel encounters are all hostile. Nevertheless Balaam recalls the phrasing of Genesis 12:3 when he says, "Blessed are those who bless you, and cursed are those who curse you" (Num. 24:9). Nations who treat Israel generously by blessing her will themselves be blessed.

Outline

Numbers consists of three major blocks of material describing the events and laws associated with three centers where Israel encamped for a significant time. These centers are Sinai (chs. 1–10), Kadesh (chs. 13–19), and the plains of Moab (chs. 22–36). They are linked by two short travelogues recording what occurred as Israel journeyed from one camp to the next.

I. Israel Prepares to Enter the Land (1:1–10:10)
II. Marching from Sinai to Kadesh (10:11–12:16)
III. Forty Years near Kadesh (13:1–19:22)
IV. Marching from Kadesh to the Plains of Moab (20:1–21:35)
V. Israel in the Plains of Moab (22:1–36:13)

Journeys in the Wilderness

c. 1446 B.C.

The book of Numbers details the Israelites’ experience in the wilderness as they journeyed from Mount Sinai to Canaan. As with the exodus, it is difficult to establish the exact route that the Israelites took, but it is generally believed that they headed east from Mount Sinai until they reached the Red Sea, where they turned northward to the top of the gulf and on to Kadesh-barnea.

The Global Message of Numbers

Numbers in Redemptive History

The modern title of the book of Numbers is probably one reason that the church often neglects this important part of Scripture. The title, together with a first reading of its early chapters, may mislead the reader into believing that the book is primarily a detailed census of the population of Israel. The original Hebrew title of the book, however, is “In the Wilderness,” and this accurately describes the essence of the book. The original purpose of Numbers was to warn the second generation of Israel not to lapse into the rebellion and unbelief of their first-generation parents, lest they also perish in judgment in the wilderness between Egypt and the Promised Land. Yet its deeper purpose was to encourage them that the Lord was with them, and that he intended to fulfill his promise to their father Abraham to give his descendants the land and through them to bless the nations.

Numbers thus has something to say to Christians all around the globe today, for this book advances the history of redemption for all peoples—the story of salvation that began in Eden, was given as a solemn promise in Genesis 12:1–3, and which we see finally accomplished in Revelation 21–22.

Conquest of the Promised Land

In Numbers, Moses seeks to encourage the second generation of Israelites to advance to the Promised Land by faith and begin the war to take possession of it. This will be a holy war. The Israelite camp houses a holy army, for the Lord dwells at the center of the camp and has ordered its military configuration and census. The camp itself is arranged in three concentric circles (or squares), from greater to lesser holiness. The holy tabernacle sits at the center. The Levites, encamped immediately around the tabernacle, provide a protective space between it and the rest of the camp. The twelve tribes surround them as the outermost ring. As Israel prepares to set off from Mount Sinai toward Canaan, the tabernacle becomes the royal traveling tent of a King on the march to retake what is rightfully his. The camp is a holy army preparing for war to take the Promised Land by conquest.

Tested in the Wilderness

Israel's wilderness wandering can be seen as an "already–not yet" stage in redemptive history. Israel had already experienced God's salvation in their exodus deliverance from Egypt, but they had not yet obtained the Promised Land. The wilderness becomes the place of testing. When Israel first entered the wilderness, the Lord gave them manna from heaven, not merely to provide for their needs but also that "I may test them, whether they will walk in my law or not" (Ex. 16:4; compare 20:20). The wilderness was no easy stretch of land through which to journey. Hot and dry, it offered no shelter from the sweltering heat. Like much of the world today, the wilderness was barren, harsh, windswept, and inhospitable. Plants did not grow, and humans struggled to survive. God intended the wilderness to function as a test for his people, to reveal whether their faith was genuine or not. Those with genuine faith persevered with the Lord through the hardships and trials; those who did not trust the Lord fell away into apostasy and rebellion.

Universal Themes in Numbers

Abrahamic, messianic, and new creational themes are all seen in Balaam's oracles (Numbers 23–24). Genesis 12:3 and 49:9 are echoed in Numbers 24:9. Israel is reaffirmed as the bearer of a messianic hope and the channel through which the Abrahamic promise will be realized and the nations of the world blessed. The messianic promise from Genesis 49:9 of an ultimate king of the nations from the line of Judah is picked up and expounded (Num. 23:21, 24; 24:7, 9, 17–19). This king will bear Israel's vocation upon his shoulders and will fulfill the Abrahamic promise. Through him the world will be blessed and the curses of Genesis 3 will be overcome (see "The Global Message of Genesis"; compare Ps. 72:17). He will rule over the world as the king of Israel, depicted in a vision as an Eden-paradise-kingdom (Num. 24:3–7). All these hopes are finally fulfilled in Jesus

The Global Message of Numbers for Today

Murmuring rather than trusting. Grumbling plagues the global church today as it always has. Complaining when circumstances are difficult, when leaders appear ineffective, or when resources are scarce may seem like the normal and even right thing to do. The book of Numbers warns, however, that grumbling is taken by the Creator-King as treason. Whenever Israel murmured, God’s anger was roused and he broke out in judgment against them (Num. 11:1–3, 33–34; 12:10–16; 14:20–23, 27–38; 16:20–35, 46–50; 20:12; 21:6–9). The Lord had set out to test Israel, but Israel tested him instead—ten times (14:22). For their stubborn rebellion, the first generation’s bodies were strewn across the desert, and they never saw or entered the Promised Land.

The global church must recognize that grumbling, murmuring, and complaining all flow out of a lack of trust in the promises of its covenant Lord. By covenant, the Lord had become Israel’s God and had promised to provide for their needs and protect them. He had also sworn to bring them to the Promised Land, assuring them that it was “flowing with milk and honey”—far better than slavery in Egypt. The people, however, did not trust these promises. Their murmuring reflected the deeper issue of unbelieving hearts. Grumbling, complaining, and murmuring by the church is rebellion against Christ and reveals unbelief in the promises of God. Paul warns the church against such murmuring (Phil. 2:14–15).

Adversity in the wilderness. In 1 Corinthians 10:1–13, Paul refers to several events in Israel’s journey through the wilderness. He sees the church as being “in the wilderness,” on its way to a Promised Land, having been freed from slavery in an exodus deliverance (see 1 Cor. 5:7). God had tested his people Israel by the difficulties of the wilderness, in order to see if they would trust and obey him in the midst of adverse circumstances. Likewise, the span between the first and second comings of Christ can be seen as the church’s own wilderness journey. In his first coming, Christ delivered his people in the exodus deliverance of the cross; at his return, Christ will usher the church into the new creation, the true and final Promised Land. The wilderness march of Israel serves as a pattern of the church’s own wilderness march (1 Cor. 10:11).

Our march through this wilderness is not easy, nor does God intend it to be. It is a time of difficulty and suffering. It is a time of testing, to distinguish between those who profess faith in Christ and persevere in obedience to him (thus revealing genuine faith) and those who profess faith yet fall away in apostasy (revealing lack of true saving faith). Through difficult circumstances, the church must trust Christ as we march homeward. Christ has promised to every believer who overcomes the wilderness of this world the privilege “to eat of the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God” (Rev. 2:7). He has assured the church that he will bring her safely home to this Promised Land. This is indescribably better than any pleasures that the fallen world may offer (Heb. 11:24–26).

A Census of Israel's Warriors

NUMBERS 1 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses [a] in the wilderness of Sinai, [b] in the tent of meeting, on the first day of the second month, in the second year after they had come out of the land of Egypt, saying, [2] [c] "Take a census of all the congregation of the people of Israel, by clans, [d] by fathers' houses, according to the number of names, every male, head by head. [3][†] [e] From twenty years old and upward, all in Israel who are able to go to war, you and Aaron shall list them, [f] company by company. [4]And there shall be with you a man from each tribe, each man being the head of the house of his fathers. [5]And these are the names of the men who shall assist you. From Reuben, [g] Elizur the son of Shedeur; [6]from Simeon, [h] Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai; [7]from Judah, [i] Nahshon the son of Amminadab; [8]from Issachar, [j] Nethanel the son of Zuar; [9]from Zebulun, [k] Eliab the son of Helon; [10]from the sons of Joseph, from Ephraim, [l] Elishama the son of Ammihud, and from Manasseh, [m] Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur; [11]from Benjamin, [n] Abidan the son of Gideoni; [12]from Dan, [o] Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai; [13]from Asher, [p] Pagiel the son of Ochran; [14]from Gad, Eliasaph the son of [q] Deuel; [15]from Naphtali, [r] Ahira the son of Enan." [16]These were the ones [s] chosen from the congregation, [t] the chiefs of their ancestral tribes, the heads of the clans of Israel.

[17]Moses and Aaron took these men [u] who had been named, [18]and on the first day of the second month, they assembled the whole congregation together, who registered themselves by clans, by fathers' houses, according to the number of names from twenty years old and upward, head by head, [19]as the LORD commanded Moses. So he listed them in the wilderness of Sinai.

[20][†]The people of [v] Reuben, Israel's firstborn, their generations, by their clans, by their fathers' houses, according to the number of names, head by head, every male from twenty years old and upward, all who were able to go to war: [21]those listed of the tribe of Reuben were [w] 46,500.

[22]Of the people of Simeon, their generations, by their clans, by their fathers' houses, those of them who were listed, according to the number of names, head by head, every male from twenty years old and upward, all who were able to go to war: [23]those listed of the tribe of Simeon were [x]59,300.

[24]Of the people of Gad, their generations, by their clans, by their fathers' houses, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all who were able to go to war: [25]those listed of the tribe of Gad were [y]45,650.

[26][†]Of the people of Judah, their generations, by their clans, by their fathers' houses, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, every man able to go to war: [27]those listed of the tribe of Judah were [z]74,600.

[28]Of the people of Issachar, their generations, by their clans, by their fathers' houses, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, every man able to go to war: [29]those listed of the tribe of Issachar were [a]54,400.

[30]Of the people of Zebulun, their generations, by their clans, by their fathers' houses, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, every man able to go to war: [31]those listed of the tribe of Zebulun were [b]57,400.

[32]Of the people of Joseph, namely, of the people of Ephraim, their generations, by their clans, by their fathers' houses, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, every man able to go to war: [33]those listed of the tribe of Ephraim were [c]40,500.

[34]Of the people of Manasseh, their generations, by their clans, by their fathers' houses, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, every man able to go to war: [35]those listed of the tribe of Manasseh were [d]32,200.

[36]Of the people of Benjamin, their generations, by their clans, by their fathers' houses, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, every man able to go to war: [37]those listed of the tribe of Benjamin were [e]35,400.

[38]Of the people of Dan, their generations, by their clans, by their fathers' houses, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, every man able to go to war: [39]those listed of the tribe of Dan were [f]62,700.

40Of the people of Asher, their generations, by their clans, by their fathers' houses, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, every man able to go to war: 41those listed of the tribe of Asher were [g] 41,500.

42Of the people of Naphtali, their generations, by their clans, by their fathers' houses, according to the number of names, from twenty years old and upward, every man able to go to war: 43those listed of the tribe of Naphtali were [h] 53,400.

44 [i] These are those who were listed, whom Moses and Aaron listed with the help of the chiefs of Israel, twelve men, each representing his fathers' house. 45So all those listed of the people of Israel, by their fathers' houses, from twenty years old and upward, every man able to go to war in Israel—46all those listed were [j] 603,550.

Levites Exempted

47[†]But [k] the Levites were not listed along with them by their ancestral tribe. 48For the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 49"Only the tribe of Levi you shall not list, and you shall not take a census of them among the people of Israel. 50 [l] But appoint the Levites over the tabernacle of the testimony, and over all its furnishings, and over all that belongs to it. They are to carry the tabernacle and all its furnishings, and they shall take care of it [m] and shall camp around the tabernacle. 51 [n] When the tabernacle is to set out, the Levites shall take it down, and when the tabernacle is to be pitched, the Levites shall set it up. [o] And if any outsider comes near, he shall be put to death. 52The people of Israel shall pitch their tents by their companies, each man in his own camp and [p] each man by his own standard. 53But the Levites shall camp around the tabernacle of the testimony, so that there may be no [q] wrath on the congregation of the people of Israel. [r] And the Levites shall keep guard over the tabernacle of the testimony." 54Thus did the people of Israel; they did according to all that the LORD commanded Moses.

Arrangement of the Camp

NUMBERS 2 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, [2][†] [s]"The people of Israel shall camp each by his own standard, with the banners of their fathers' houses. They shall camp facing the tent of meeting on every side. [3]Those to camp on the east side toward the sunrise shall be of the standard of the camp of Judah by their companies, the chief of the people of Judah being [t]Nahshon the son of Amminadab, [4]his company as listed being 74,600. [5]Those to camp next to him shall be the tribe of Issachar, the chief of the people of Issachar being Nethanel the son of Zuar, [6]his company as listed being 54,400. [7]Then the tribe of Zebulun, the chief of the people of Zebulun being Eliab the son of Helon, [8]his company as listed being 57,400. [9]All those listed of the camp of Judah, by their companies, were 186,400. [u]They shall set out first on the march.

[10]"On the south side shall be the standard of the camp of Reuben by their companies, the chief of the people of Reuben being Elizur the son of Shedeur, [11]his company as listed being 46,500. [12]And those to camp next to him shall be the tribe of Simeon, the chief of the people of Simeon being Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai, [13]his company as listed being 59,300. [14][†]Then the tribe of Gad, the chief of the people of Gad being Eliasaph the son of [v]Reuel, [15]his company as listed being 45,650. [16]All those listed of the camp of Reuben, by their companies, were 151,450. [w]They shall set out second.

[17] [x]"Then the tent of meeting shall set out, with the camp of the Levites in the midst of the camps; as they camp, so shall they set out, each in position, standard by standard.

[18]"On the west side shall be the standard of the camp of Ephraim by their companies, the chief of the people of Ephraim being Elishama the son of Ammihud, [19]his company as listed being 40,500. [20]And next to him shall be the tribe of Manasseh, the chief of the people of Manasseh being Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur, [21]his company as listed being 32,200. [22]Then the tribe of Benjamin, the chief of the people of Benjamin being Abidan the son of Gideoni, [23]his company as listed being 35,400. [24]All those listed of the camp of Ephraim, by their companies, were 108,100. [y]They shall set out third on the march.

[25]“On the north side shall be the standard of the camp of Dan by their companies, the chief of the people of Dan being Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai, [26]his company as listed being 62,700. [27]And those to camp next to him shall be the tribe of Asher, the chief of the people of Asher being Pagiel the son of Ochran, [28]his company as listed being 41,500.
[29]Then the tribe of Naphtali, the chief of the people of Naphtali being Ahira the son of Enan, [30]his company as listed being 53,400. [31]All those listed of the camp of Dan were 157,600. [z] They shall set out last, standard by standard.”

[32]These are the people of Israel as listed by their fathers’ houses. All those listed in the camps by their companies were [a] 603,550. [33]But [b] the Levites were not listed among the people of Israel, as the LORD commanded Moses.

[34]Thus did the people of Israel. According to all that the LORD commanded Moses, [c] so they camped by their standards, and so they set out, each one in his clan, according to his fathers’ house.

The Sons of Aaron

NUMBERS 3 [†]These are the generations of Aaron and Moses at the time when the LORD spoke with Moses on Mount Sinai. [2]These are the names of the sons of Aaron: [d] Nadab the firstborn, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.
[3]These are the names of the sons of Aaron, [e] the anointed priests, [f] whom he ordained to serve as priests. [4] [g] But Nadab and Abihu died before the LORD when they offered unauthorized fire before the LORD in the wilderness of Sinai, and they had no children. So Eleazar and Ithamar served as priests in the lifetime of Aaron their father.

Duties of the Levites

[5][†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [6] [h] “Bring the tribe of Levi near, and set them before Aaron the priest, that they may minister to him. [7]They shall keep guard over him and over the whole congregation before the tent of meeting, [i] as they minister at the tabernacle. [8]They shall guard all the furnishings of the tent of meeting, and keep guard over the people of Israel as they minister at the tabernacle. [9]And [j] you shall give the Levites to Aaron and his sons; they are [k] wholly given to him from among the people of Israel. 10And you shall appoint Aaron and his sons, and [l] they shall guard their priesthood. But if [m] any outsider comes near, he shall be put to death."

11[†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 12"Behold, [n] I have taken the Levites from among the people of Israel instead of every firstborn who opens the womb among the people of Israel. The Levites shall be mine, 13for [o] all the firstborn are mine. [p] On the day that I struck down all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, I consecrated for my own all the firstborn in Israel, both of man and of beast. They shall be mine: I am the LORD."

14[†]And the LORD spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, saying, 15"List the sons of Levi, by fathers' houses and by clans; [q] every male from a month old and upward you shall list." 16So Moses listed them according to the word of the LORD, as he was commanded. 17 [r] And these were the sons of Levi by their names: Gershon and Kohath and Merari. 18And these are the names of the sons of Gershon by their clans: [s] Libni and Shimei. 19And the sons of Kohath by their clans: [t] Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel. 20And the sons of Merari by their clans: [u] Mahli and Mushi. These are the clans of the Levites, by their fathers' houses.

27To Kohath belonged the clan of the [e] Amramites and the clan of the Izharites and the clan of the Hebronites and the clan of the Uzzielites; these are the clans of the Kohathites. 28According to the number of all the males, from a month old and upward, there were 8,600, keeping guard over the sanctuary. 29The clans of the sons of Kohath were to camp on the south side of the tabernacle, 30with [f] Elizaphan the son of Uzziel as chief of the fathers' house of the clans of the Kohathites. [31]And their guard duty involved [g] the ark, [h] the table, [i] the lampstand, [j] the altars, the vessels of the sanctuary with which the priests minister, and [k] the screen; all the service connected with these. [32]And Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest was to be chief over the chiefs of the Levites, and to have oversight of those who kept guard over the sanctuary.

[38]Those who were to camp before the tabernacle on the east, before the tent of meeting toward the sunrise, were Moses and Aaron and his sons, [s] guarding the sanctuary itself, to protect [2] the people of Israel. And any outsider who came near was to be put to death. [39]All those listed among the Levites, whom Moses and Aaron listed at the commandment of the Lord, by clans, all the males from a month old and upward, were [t] 22,000.

Redemption of the Firstborn

[40]And the Lord said to Moses, "List all the firstborn males of the people of Israel, from a month old and upward, taking the number of their names. [41] [u] And you shall take the Levites for me—I am the Lord—instead of all the firstborn among the people of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites instead of all the firstborn among the cattle of the people of Israel." [42]So Moses listed all the firstborn among the people of Israel, as the Lord commanded him. [43][†]And all the firstborn males, according to the number of names, from a month old and upward as listed were 22,273.

[44]And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, [45] [v] "Take the Levites instead of all the firstborn among the people of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites instead of their cattle. The Levites shall be mine: I am the Lord. [46][†]And [w] as the redemption price for the 273 of the firstborn of the people of Israel, over and above the number of the male Levites, [47]you shall take [x] five shekels [3] per head; you shall take them according to [y] the shekel of the sanctuary (the shekel of twenty gerahs [4]), [48]and give the money to Aaron and his sons as the redemption price for those who are over." [49]So Moses took the redemption money from those who were over and above those redeemed by the Levites. [50]From the firstborn of the people of Israel he took the money, [z] 1,365 shekels, by the shekel of the sanctuary. [51]And Moses [a] gave the redemption money to Aaron and his sons, according to the word of the LORD, as the LORD commanded Moses.

Duties of the Kohathites

NUMBERS 4 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, [2]"Take a census of the sons of Kohath from among the sons of Levi, by their clans and their fathers' houses, [3] [b] from thirty years old up to fifty years old, all who can come on duty, to do the work in the tent of meeting. [4]This is the service of the sons of Kohath in the tent of meeting: [c] the most holy things. [5]When the camp is to set out, Aaron and his sons shall go in and take down [d] the veil of the screen and cover [e] the ark of the testimony with it. [6]Then they shall put on it a covering of goatskin [1] and spread on top of that a cloth all of blue, and shall put in its [f] poles. [7]And over the [g] table of the bread of the Presence they shall spread a cloth of blue and put on it the plates, the dishes for incense, the bowls, and the flagons for the drink offering; [h] the regular showbread also shall be on it. [8]Then they shall spread over them a cloth of scarlet and cover the same with a covering of goatskin, and shall [i] put in its poles. [9]And they shall take a cloth of blue and cover [j] the lampstand for the light, with its lamps, its tongs, its trays, and all the vessels for oil with which it is supplied. [10]And they shall put it with all its utensils in a covering of goatskin and put it on the carrying frame. [11]And over [k] the golden altar they shall spread a cloth of blue and cover it with a covering of goatskin, and shall put in its poles. [12]And they shall take all [l] the vessels of the service that are used in the sanctuary and put them in a cloth of blue and cover them with a covering of goatskin and put them on the carrying frame. [13]And they shall take away the ashes from the altar and spread a purple cloth over it. [14]And they shall put on it all the utensils of the altar, which are used for the service there, the fire pans, the forks, the shovels, and the basins, all the utensils of the altar; and they shall spread on it a covering of goatskin, and shall put in its poles. [15]And when Aaron and his sons have finished covering the sanctuary and all the furnishings of the sanctuary, as the camp sets out, after that [m]the sons of Kohath shall come to carry these, [n]but they must not touch the holy things, lest they die. These are the things of the tent of meeting that the sons of Kohath are to carry.

[16]"And Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest shall have charge of [o]the oil for the light, the [p]fragrant incense, [q]the regular grain offering, and [r]the anointing oil, with the oversight of the whole tabernacle and all that is in it, of the sanctuary and its vessels."

[17]The LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, [18]"Let not the tribe of the clans of the Kohathites be destroyed from among the Levites, [19]but deal thus with them, that they may live and not die when they come near to [s]the most holy things: Aaron and his sons shall go in and appoint them each to his task and to his burden, [20] [t]but they shall not go in to look on the holy things even for a moment, lest they die."

[21]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [22]"Take a census of the sons of Gershon also, by their fathers' houses and by their clans. [23] [u]From thirty years old up to fifty years old, you shall list them, all who can [v]come to do duty, to do service in the tent of meeting. [24]This is the service of the clans of the Gershonites, in serving and bearing burdens: [25] [w]they shall carry [x]the curtains of the tabernacle and the tent of meeting with [y]its covering and the covering of goatskin that is on top of it and the screen for the entrance of the tent of meeting [26]and the hangings of the court and the screen for the entrance of the gate of the court that is around the tabernacle and the altar, and their cords and all the equipment for their service. And they shall do all that needs to be done with regard to them. [27]All the service of the sons of the Gershonites shall be at the command of Aaron and his sons, in all that they are to carry and in all that they have to do. And you shall assign to their charge all that they are to carry. [28]This is the service of the clans of the sons of the Gershonites in the tent of meeting, and their guard duty is to be [z]under the direction of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

[29]"As for the sons of Merari, you shall list them by their clans and their fathers' houses. [30] [u] From thirty years old up to fifty years old, you shall list them, everyone who can come on duty, to do the service of the tent of meeting. [31]And [a] this is what they are charged to carry, as the whole of their service in the tent of meeting: the frames of the tabernacle, with its bars, pillars, and bases, [32]and the pillars around the court with their bases, pegs, and cords, with all their equipment and all their accessories. And you shall [b] list by name the objects that they are required to carry. [33]This is the service of the clans of the sons of Merari, the whole of their service in the tent of meeting, [c] under the direction of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest."

[34]And Moses and Aaron and the chiefs of the congregation listed the sons of the Kohathites, by their clans and their fathers' houses, [35] [u] from thirty years old up to fifty years old, everyone who could come on duty, for service in the tent of meeting; [36]and those listed by clans were 2,750. [37] [d] This was the list of the clans of the Kohathites, all who served in the tent of meeting, whom Moses and Aaron listed according to the commandment of the LORD by Moses.

[38]Those listed of the sons of Gershon, by their clans and their fathers' houses, [39] [u] from thirty years old up to fifty years old, everyone who could come on duty for service in the tent of meeting— [40]those listed by their clans and their fathers' houses were 2,630. [41] [e] This was the list of the clans of the sons of Gershon, all who served in the tent of meeting, whom Moses and Aaron listed according to the commandment of the LORD.

[42]Those listed of the clans of the sons of Merari, by their clans and their fathers' houses, [43] [u] from thirty years old up to fifty years old, everyone who could come on duty, for service in the tent of meeting— [44]those listed by clans were 3,200. [45] [f] This was the list of the clans of the sons of Merari, whom Moses and Aaron listed according to the commandment of the LORD by Moses.

[46]All those who were listed of the Levites, whom Moses and Aaron and the chiefs of Israel listed, by their clans and their fathers' houses, [47] [u] from thirty years old up to fifty years old, everyone who could come to do the service of ministry and the service of bearing burdens in the tent of meeting, [48]those listed were 8,580. [49]According to the commandment of the LORD through Moses they were listed, [g] each one with his task of serving or carrying. Thus they were listed by him, [h] as the LORD commanded Moses.

Unclean People

NUMBERS 5 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2][†]“Command the people of Israel that they [i] put out of the camp everyone who is leprous [1] or has [j] a discharge and everyone who is [k] unclean through contact with the dead. [3]You shall put out both male and female, putting them outside the camp, that they may not defile their camp, [l] in the midst of which I dwell.” [4]And the people of Israel did so, and put them outside the camp; as the LORD said to Moses, so the people of Israel did.

Confession and Restitution

[5][†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [6]“Speak to the people of Israel, [m] When a man or woman commits any of the sins that people commit by breaking faith with the LORD, and that person realizes his guilt, [7] [n] he shall confess his sin that he has committed. [2] [o] And he shall make full restitution for his wrong, adding a fifth to it and giving it to him to whom he did the wrong. [8]But if the man has no next of kin to whom restitution may be made for the wrong, the restitution for wrong shall go to the LORD for the priest, in addition to [p] the ram of atonement with which atonement is made for him. [9]And [q] every contribution, all the holy donations of the people of Israel, which they bring to the priest, shall be his. [10]Each one shall keep his holy donations: whatever anyone gives to the priest shall be his.”

A Test for Adultery

[11][†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [12]“Speak to the people of Israel, If any man’s wife goes astray and breaks faith with him, [13]if a man [r] lies with her sexually, and it is hidden from the eyes of her husband, and she is undetected though she has defiled herself, and there is no witness against her, [s] since she was not taken in the act, [14]and if the spirit of jealousy comes over him and he is jealous of his wife who has defiled herself, or if the spirit of jealousy comes over him and he is jealous of his wife, though she has not defiled herself, [15][†]then the man shall bring his wife to the priest and bring the offering required of her, a tenth of an ephah [3] of barley flour. [t] He shall pour no oil on it and put no frankincense on it, for it is a grain offering of jealousy, a grain offering of remembrance, [u] bringing iniquity to remembrance.

[16]"And the priest shall bring her near and set her before the Lord. [17]And the priest shall take holy water in an earthenware vessel and take some of the dust that is on the floor of the tabernacle and put it into the water. [18][†]And the priest shall set the woman before the Lord and [v] unbind the hair of the woman's head and place in her hands the grain offering of remembrance, which is the grain offering of jealousy. And in his hand the priest shall have the water of bitterness that brings the curse. [19]Then the priest shall make her take an oath, saying, 'If no man has lain with you, and if you have not turned aside to uncleanness while you were under your husband's authority, be free from this water of bitterness that brings the curse. [20]But if you have gone astray, though you are under your husband's authority, and if you have defiled yourself, and some man other than your husband has lain with you, [21]then' (let the priest make the woman take the oath of the curse, and say to the woman) [w] 'the Lord make you a curse and an oath among your people, when the Lord makes your thigh fall away and your body swell. [22]May this water that brings the curse [x] pass into your bowels and make your womb swell and your thigh fall away.' And the woman shall say, [y] 'Amen, Amen.'

[23]"Then the priest shall write these curses in a book and wash them off into the water of bitterness. [24]And he shall make the woman drink the water of bitterness that brings the curse, and the water that brings the curse shall enter into her and cause bitter pain. [25]And the priest shall take the grain offering of jealousy out of the woman's hand [z] and shall wave the grain offering before the Lord and bring it to the altar. [26]And the priest [a] shall take a handful of the grain offering, as its memorial portion, and burn it on the altar, and afterward shall make the woman drink the water. [27]And when he has made her drink the water, then, if she has defiled herself and has broken faith with her husband, the water that brings the curse shall enter into her and cause bitter pain, and her womb shall swell, and her thigh shall fall away, and the woman [b] shall become a curse among her people. [28]But if the woman has not defiled herself and is clean, then she shall be free and shall conceive children.

[29]“This is the law in cases of jealousy, when a wife, [c] though under her husband’s authority, goes astray and defiles herself, [30]or when the spirit of jealousy comes over a man and he is jealous of his wife. Then he shall set the woman before the LORD, and the priest shall carry out for her all this law. [31]The man shall be free from iniquity, but the woman [d] shall bear her iniquity.”

The Nazirite Vow

NUMBERS 6 [†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]“Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, When either a man or a woman makes a special vow, the vow of [e] a Nazirite, [1] [f] to separate himself to the LORD, [3]he [g] shall separate himself from wine and strong drink. He shall drink no vinegar made from wine or strong drink and shall not drink any juice of grapes or eat grapes, fresh or dried. [4]All the days of his separation [2] he shall eat nothing that is produced by the grapevine, not even the seeds or the skins.

[5]“All the days of his vow of separation, no [h] razor shall touch his head. Until the time is completed for which he separates himself to the LORD, he shall be holy. [i] He shall let the locks of hair of his head grow long.

[6]“All the days that he separates himself to the LORD [j] he shall not go near a dead body. [7][†] [k] Not even for his father or for his mother, for brother or sister, if they die, shall he make himself unclean, because his separation to God is on his head. [8]All the days of his separation he is holy to the LORD.

[9]“And if any man dies very suddenly beside him and he defiles his consecrated head, then [l] he shall shave his head on the day of his cleansing; on the seventh day he shall shave it. [10] [m] On the eighth day he shall bring two turtledoves or two pigeons to the priest to the entrance of the tent of meeting, [11]and the priest shall offer one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering, and make atonement for him, because he sinned by reason of the dead body. And he shall consecrate his head that same day [12]and separate himself to the LORD for the days of his separation and bring a male lamb a year old [n] for a guilt offering. But the previous period shall be void, because his separation was defiled.

[13][†]“And this is the law for the Nazirite, [o]when the time of his separation has been completed: he shall be brought to the entrance of the tent of meeting, [14]and he shall bring his gift to the LORD, one male lamb a year old without blemish for a burnt offering, and one ewe lamb a year old without blemish [p]as a sin offering, and one ram without blemish [q]as a peace offering, [15]and a basket of unleavened bread, [r]loaves of fine flour mixed with oil, and unleavened wafers smeared with oil, and their [s]grain offering and their [t]drink offerings. [16]And the priest shall bring them before the LORD and offer [u]his sin offering and his burnt offering, [17]and he shall offer the ram as a sacrifice of peace offering to the LORD, with the basket of unleavened bread. The priest shall offer also its grain offering and its drink offering. [18]And the Nazirite [v]shall shave his consecrated head at the entrance of the tent of meeting and shall take the hair from his consecrated head and put it on the fire that is under the sacrifice of the peace offering. [19]And the priest shall take the [w]shoulder of the ram, when it is boiled, and one unleavened loaf out of the basket and one unleavened wafer, and [x]shall put them on the hands of the Nazirite, after he has shaved the hair of his consecration, [20]and the priest shall wave them for a wave offering before the LORD. [y]They are a holy portion for the priest, together with the breast that is waved and the thigh that is contributed. And after that the Nazirite may drink wine.

[21]“This is the law of the Nazirite. But if he vows an offering to the LORD above his Nazirite vow, as he can afford, in exact accordance with the vow that he takes, then he shall do in addition to the law of the Nazirite.”

Aaron’s Blessing

[22][†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [23]“Speak to Aaron and his sons, saying, Thus [z]you shall bless the people of Israel: you shall say to them,

[24][†] The LORD [a]bless you and [b]keep you;
[25] the LORD [c]make his face to shine upon you and be gracious to you;
[26][†] the LORD [d]lift up his countenance [3] upon you and give you peace.

27 [e] “So shall they put my name upon the people of Israel, and I will bless them.”

Offerings at the Tabernacle’s Consecration

NUMBERS 7 [†]On the day when Moses had finished [f] setting up the tabernacle and had anointed and [g] consecrated it with all its furnishings and had anointed and consecrated the altar with all its utensils, 2 [h] the chiefs of Israel, heads of their fathers’ houses, who were the chiefs of the tribes, who were over those who were listed, approached 3 and brought their offerings before the LORD, six wagons and twelve oxen, a wagon for every two of the chiefs, and for each one an ox. They brought them before the tabernacle. 4 Then the LORD said to Moses, 5 “Accept these from them, that they may be used in the service of the tent of meeting, and give them to the Levites, to each man according to his service.” 6 So Moses took the wagons and the oxen and gave them to the Levites. 7 Two wagons and four oxen [i] he gave to the sons of Gershon, according to their service. 8 And four wagons and eight oxen [j] he gave to the sons of Merari, according to their service, under the direction of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest. 9 But to the sons of Kohath he gave none, because they were charged with [k] the service of the holy things that [l] had to be carried on the shoulder. 10 [†]And the chiefs offered offerings for the [m] dedication of the altar on the day it was anointed; and the chiefs offered their offering before the altar. 11 And the LORD said to Moses, “They shall offer their offerings, one chief each day, for the dedication of the altar.”

12 He who offered his offering the first day was [n] Nahshon the son of Amminadab, of the tribe of Judah. 13 And his offering was one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels, [1] one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to [o] the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a [p] grain offering; 14 one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of [q] incense; 15 [r] one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; 16 one male goat for a [s] sin offering; 17 and for [t] the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. This was the offering of Nahshon the son of Amminadab.

18On the second day [u] Nethanel the son of Zuar, the chief of Issachar, made an offering. 19He offered for his offering one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels, one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; 20one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of incense; 21one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; 22one male goat for a sin offering; 23and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. This was the offering of Nethanel the son of Zuar.

24On the third day [v] Eliab the son of Helon, the chief of the people of Zebulun: 25his offering was one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels, one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; 26one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of incense; 27one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; 28one male goat for a sin offering; 29and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. This was the offering of Eliab the son of Helon.

30On the fourth day [w] Elizur the son of Shedeur, the chief of the people of Reuben: 31his offering was one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels, one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; 32one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of incense; 33one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; 34one male goat for a sin offering; 35and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. This was the offering of Elizur the son of Shedeur.

36On the fifth day [x] Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai, the chief of the people of Simeon: 37his offering was one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels, one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; 38one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of incense; 39one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; 40one male goat for a sin offering; 41and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. This was the offering of Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai.

[42]On the sixth day [y]Eliasaph the son of Deuel, the chief of the people of Gad: [43]his offering was one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels, one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; [44]one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of incense; [45]one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; [46]one male goat for a sin offering; [47]and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. This was the offering of Eliasaph the son of Deuel.

[48]On the seventh day [z]Elishama the son of Ammihud, the chief of the people of Ephraim: [49]his offering was one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels, one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; [50]one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of incense; [51]one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; [52]one male goat for a sin offering; [53]and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. This was the offering of Elishama the son of Ammihud.

[54]On the eighth day [a]Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur, the chief of the people of Manasseh: [55]his offering was one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels, one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; [56]one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of incense; [57]one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; [58]one male goat for a sin offering; [59]and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. This was the offering of Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur.

[60]On the ninth day [b]Abidan the son of Gideoni, the chief of the people of Benjamin: [61]his offering was one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels, one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; [62]one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of incense; [63]one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; [64]one male goat for a sin offering; [65]and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. This was the offering of Abidan the son of Gideoni.

[66]On the tenth day [c] Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai, the chief of the people of Dan: [67]his offering was one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels, one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; [68]one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of incense; [69]one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; [70]one male goat for a sin offering; [71]and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. This was the offering of Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai.

[72]On the eleventh day [d] Pagiel the son of Ochran, the chief of the people of Asher: [73]his offering was one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels, one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; [74]one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of incense; [75]one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; [76]one male goat for a sin offering; [77]and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. This was the offering of Pagiel the son of Ochran.

[78]On the twelfth day [e] Ahira the son of Enan, the chief of the people of Naphtali: [79]his offering was one silver plate whose weight was 130 shekels, one silver basin of 70 shekels, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; [80]one golden dish of 10 shekels, full of incense; [81]one bull from the herd, one ram, one male lamb a year old, for a burnt offering; [82]one male goat for a sin offering; [83]and for the sacrifice of peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, and five male lambs a year old. This was the offering of Ahira the son of Enan.

[84]This was the dedication offering for the altar on the day when it was anointed, from the chiefs of Israel: twelve silver plates, twelve silver basins, twelve golden dishes, [85]each silver plate weighing 130 shekels and each basin 70, all the silver of the vessels 2,400 shekels according to the shekel of the sanctuary, [86]the twelve golden dishes, full of incense, weighing 10 shekels apiece according to the shekel of the sanctuary, all the gold of the dishes being 120 shekels; 87all the cattle for the burnt offering twelve bulls, twelve rams, twelve male lambs a year old, with their grain offering; and twelve male goats for a sin offering; 88and all the cattle for the sacrifice of peace offerings twenty-four bulls, the rams sixty, the male goats sixty, the male lambs a year old sixty. This was the dedication offering for the altar after it [f] was anointed.

89[†]And when Moses went into the tent of meeting [g] to speak with the LORD, he heard [h] the voice speaking to him from above the mercy seat that was on the ark of the testimony, from between the two cherubim; and it spoke to him.

The Seven Lamps

NUMBERS 8 [†]Now the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2"Speak to Aaron and say to him, When you set up the lamps, the seven lamps shall give light in front of the lampstand." 3And Aaron did so: he set up its lamps in front of the lampstand, as the LORD commanded Moses. 4And [i] this was the workmanship of the lampstand, hammered work of gold. From its base to its flowers, it was hammered work; according to the pattern that the LORD had shown Moses, so he made the lampstand.

Cleansing of the Levites

5[†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 6"Take the Levites from among the people of Israel and cleanse them. 7Thus you shall do to them to cleanse them: sprinkle the [j] water of purification upon them, and [k] let them go with a razor over all their body, and wash their clothes and cleanse themselves. 8Then let them take a bull from the herd and [l] its grain offering of fine flour mixed with oil, [m] and you shall take another bull from the herd for a sin offering. 9 [n] And you shall bring the Levites before the tent of meeting [o] and assemble the whole congregation of the people of Israel. 10When you bring the Levites before the LORD, the people of Israel [p] shall lay their hands on the Levites, 11and Aaron shall offer the Levites before the LORD as a wave offering from the people of Israel, that they may do the service of the LORD. 12Then the Levites [q] shall lay their hands on the heads of the bulls, and you shall offer [r] the one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering to the LORD to make atonement for the Levites. [13]And you shall set the Levites before Aaron and his sons, and shall offer them as [s] a wave offering to the LORD.

[14]"Thus you shall separate the Levites from among the people of Israel, and [t] the Levites shall be mine. [15]And after that the Levites shall go in to serve at the tent of meeting, when you have cleansed them and offered them as a [s] wave offering. [16]For they are [u] wholly given to me from among the people of Israel. [v] Instead of all who open the womb, the firstborn of all the people of Israel, I have taken them for myself. [17] [w] For all the firstborn among the people of Israel are mine, both of man and of beast. On the day that I struck down all the firstborn in the land of Egypt I consecrated them for myself, [18]and I have taken the Levites instead of all the firstborn among the people of Israel. [19] [u] And I have given the Levites as a gift to Aaron and his sons from among the people of Israel, to do the service for the people of Israel at the tent of meeting and [x] to make atonement for the people of Israel, [y] that there may be no plague among the people of Israel when the people of Israel come near the sanctuary."

[20]Thus did Moses and Aaron and all the congregation of the people of Israel to the Levites. According to all that the LORD commanded Moses concerning the Levites, the people of Israel did to them. [21]And [z] the Levites purified themselves from sin and washed their clothes, and [a] Aaron offered them as a wave offering before the LORD, and Aaron made atonement for them to cleanse them. [22]And after that the Levites went in to do their service in the tent of meeting before Aaron and his sons; as the LORD had commanded Moses concerning the Levites, so they did to them.

Retirement of the Levites

[23][†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [24]"This applies to the Levites: [b] from twenty-five years old and upward they [1] shall come to do duty in the service of the tent of meeting. [25]And from the age of fifty years they shall withdraw from the duty of the service and serve no more. [26]They minister [2] to their brothers in the tent of meeting [c] by keeping guard, but they shall do no service. Thus shall you do to the Levites in assigning their duties."

The Passover Celebrated

NUMBERS 9 [†]And the LORD spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, [d]in the first month of the second year after they had come out of the land of Egypt, saying, [2]"Let the people of Israel keep the Passover at its appointed time. [3] [e]On the fourteenth day of this month, at twilight, you shall keep it at its appointed time; according to all its statutes and all its rules you shall keep it." [4]So Moses told the people of Israel that they should keep the Passover. [5]And they kept the Passover in the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, at twilight, in the wilderness of Sinai; according to all that the LORD commanded Moses, so the people of Israel did. [6][†]And there were certain men who were [f]unclean through touching a dead body, so that they could not keep the Passover on that day, and [g]they came before Moses and Aaron on that day. [7]And those men said to him, "We are unclean through touching a dead body. Why are we kept from bringing the LORD's [h]offering at its appointed time among the people of Israel?" [8]And Moses said to them, "Wait, that [i]I may hear what the LORD will command concerning you."

[9]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [10]"Speak to the people of Israel, saying, If any one of you or of your descendants is unclean through touching a dead body, or is on a long journey, he shall still keep the Passover to the LORD. [11] [j]In the second month on the fourteenth day at twilight they shall keep it. [k]They shall eat it with unleavened bread and bitter herbs. [12] [l]They shall leave none of it until the morning, [m]nor break any of its bones; [n]according to all the statute for the Passover they shall keep it. [13]But if anyone who is clean and is not on a journey fails to keep the Passover, [o]that person shall be cut off from his people because he did not bring the LORD's [p]offering at its appointed time; that man shall bear his sin. [14]And if a stranger sojourns among you and would keep the Passover to the LORD, according to the statute of the Passover and according to its rule, so shall he do. [q]You shall have one statute, both for the sojourner and for the native."

The Cloud Covering the Tabernacle

15[†] [r] On the day that the tabernacle was set up, the cloud covered the tabernacle, the tent of the testimony. And [s] at evening it was over the tabernacle like the appearance of fire until morning. 16So it was always: the cloud covered it by day [1] and the appearance of fire by night. 17And whenever the cloud [t] lifted from over the tent, after that the people of Israel set out, and in the place where the cloud settled down, there the people of Israel camped. 18At the command of the LORD the people of Israel set out, and at the command of the LORD they camped. [u] As long as the cloud rested over the tabernacle, they remained in camp. 19Even when the cloud continued over the tabernacle many days, the people of Israel [v] kept the charge of the LORD and did not set out. 20Sometimes the cloud was a few days over the tabernacle, and according to the command of the LORD they remained in camp; then according to the command of the LORD they set out. 21And sometimes the cloud remained from evening until morning. And when the cloud lifted in the morning, they set out, or if it continued for a day and a night, when the cloud lifted they set out. 22Whether it was two days, or a month, or a longer time, that the cloud continued over the tabernacle, abiding there, the people of Israel [w] remained in camp and did not set out, but when it lifted they set out. 23At the command of the LORD they camped, and at the command of the LORD they set out. [v] They kept the charge of the LORD, at the command of the LORD by Moses.

The Silver Trumpets

NUMBERS 10 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]“Make two silver trumpets. Of hammered work you shall make them, and you shall use them for [x]summoning the congregation and for breaking camp. [3]And when [y]both are blown, all the congregation shall gather themselves to you at the entrance of the tent of meeting. [4]But if they blow only one, then [z]the chiefs, the heads of the tribes of Israel, shall gather themselves to you. [5]When you blow an alarm, [a]the camps that are on the east side shall set out. [6]And when you blow an alarm the second time, [b]the camps that are on the south side shall set out. An alarm is to be blown whenever they are to set out. [7]But when the assembly is to be gathered together, [c]you shall blow a long blast, but you shall not [d]sound an alarm. [8][e]And the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall blow the trumpets. The trumpets shall be to you for a perpetual statute throughout your generations. [9]And [f]when you go to war in your land against the adversary who [g]oppresses you, then you shall [d]sound an alarm with the trumpets, that you may be [h]remembered before the LORD your God, and you shall be saved from your enemies. [10][i]On the day of your gladness also, and at your appointed feasts and [j]at the beginnings of your months, you shall blow the trumpets over your burnt offerings and over the sacrifices of your peace offerings. They shall be [k]a reminder of you before your God: I am the LORD your God.”

Israel Leaves Sinai

[11][†]In the second year, in the second month, on the twentieth day of the month, [l]the cloud lifted from over the tabernacle of the testimony, [12]and the people of Israel [m]set out by stages from the [n]wilderness of Sinai. And the cloud settled down in the [o]wilderness of Paran. [13]They set out for the first time [p]at the command of the LORD by Moses. [14]The standard of the camp of the people of Judah set out [q]first by their companies, and over their company was [r]Nahshon the son of Amminadab. [15]And over the company of the tribe of the people of Issachar was Nethanel the son of Zuar. [16]And over the company of the tribe of the people of Zebulun was Eliab the son of Helon.

17 And when [s] the tabernacle was taken down, the sons of Gershon and the sons of Merari, [t] who carried the tabernacle, set out. 18 And [u] the standard of the camp of Reuben set out by their companies, and over their company was [v] Elizur the son of Shedeur. 19 And over the company of the tribe of the people of Simeon was [w] Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai. 20 And over the company of the tribe of the people of Gad was [x] Eliasaph the son of [y] Deuel.

21 Then the Kohathites set out, [z] carrying the holy things, and [a] the tabernacle was set up before their arrival. 22 And [b] the standard of the camp of the people of Ephraim set out by their companies, and over their company was [c] Elishama the son of Ammihud. 23 And over the company of the tribe of the people of Manasseh was [c] Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur. 24 And over the company of the tribe of the people of Benjamin was [d] Abidan the son of Gideoni.

25 Then [e] the standard of the camp of the people of Dan, acting as the [f] rear guard of all the camps, set out by their companies, and over their company was [g] Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai. 26 And over the company of the tribe of the people of Asher was [h] Pagiel the son of Ochran. 27 And over the company of the tribe of the people of Naphtali was [i] Ahira the son of Enan. 28 [j] This was the order of march of the people of Israel by their companies, when they set out.

29 [†]And Moses said to Hobab the son of [k] Reuel the Midianite, Moses' father-in-law, "We are setting out for the place of which the LORD said, [l] 'I will give it to you.' Come with us, and we will do good to you, for [m] the LORD has promised good to Israel." 30 But he said to him, "I will not go. I will depart to my own land and to my kindred." 31 And he said, "Please do not leave us, for you know where we should camp in the wilderness, and you will serve [n] as eyes for us. 32 And if you do go with us, [o] whatever good the LORD will do to us, the same will we do to you."

33 [†]So they set out from [p] the mount of the LORD three days' journey. And the ark of the covenant of the LORD went before them three days' journey, to seek out [q] a resting place for them. 34 [r] And the cloud of the LORD was over them by day, whenever they set out from the camp.

35 And whenever the ark set out, Moses said, [s] "Arise, O LORD, and let your enemies be scattered, and let those who hate you flee before you." 36 And when it rested, he said, "Return, O LORD, to the ten thousand thousands of Israel."

The People Complain

NUMBERS 11 [†]And [t] the people complained in the hearing of the LORD about their misfortunes, and when the LORD heard it, [u] his anger was kindled, and [v] the fire of the LORD burned among them and consumed some outlying parts of the camp. 2 Then [w] the people cried out to Moses, [x] and Moses prayed to the LORD, and the fire died down. 3 So the name of that place was called [y] Taberah, [1] because the fire of the LORD burned among them.

4 [†]Now the [z] rabble that was among them had a strong craving. And the people of Israel also [a] wept again and said, [b] "Oh that we had meat to eat! 5 [c] We remember the fish we ate in Egypt that cost nothing, the cucumbers, the melons, the leeks, the onions, and the garlic. 6 But now our strength is dried up, and there is nothing at all but this manna to look at."

7 [†]Now [d] the manna was like coriander seed, and its appearance like that of bdellium. 8 [e] The people went about and gathered it and ground it in handmills or beat it in mortars and boiled it in pots and made cakes of it. [f] And the taste of it was like the taste of cakes baked with oil. 9 [g] When the dew fell upon the camp in the night, the manna fell with it.

10 Moses heard the people [h] weeping throughout their clans, everyone at the door of his tent. And the anger of the LORD blazed hotly, and Moses was displeased. 11 [i] Moses said to the LORD, "Why have you dealt ill with your servant? And why have I not found favor in your sight, that you lay the burden of all this people on me? 12 Did I conceive all this people? Did I give them birth, that you should say to me, [j] 'Carry them in your bosom, as a [k] nurse carries a nursing child,' to the land [l] that you swore to give their fathers? 13 [m] Where am I to get meat to give to all this people? For they weep before me and say, 'Give us meat, that we may eat.' 14 [n] I am not able to carry all this people alone; the burden is too heavy for me. [15]If you will treat me like this, kill me at once, if I find favor in your sight, that I may not see my wretchedness."

Elders Appointed to Aid Moses

[16][†]Then the LORD said to Moses, "Gather for me [o]seventy men of the elders of Israel, whom you know to be the elders of the people and [p]officers over them, and bring them to the tent of meeting, and let them take their stand there with you. [17][q]And I will come down and talk with you there. And [r]I will take some of the Spirit that is on you and put it on them, and [s]they shall bear the burden of the people with you, so that you may not bear it yourself alone. [18]And say to the people, [t]'Consecrate yourselves for tomorrow, and you shall eat meat, for you have wept in the hearing of the LORD, saying, "Who will give us meat to eat? [u]For it was better for us in Egypt." Therefore the LORD will give you meat, and you shall eat. [19]You shall not eat just one day, or two days, or five days, or ten days, or twenty days, [20]but a whole month, [v]until it comes out at your nostrils and becomes loathsome to you, because you have rejected the LORD who is among you and have wept before him, saying, [w]"Why did we come out of Egypt?"'" [21]But Moses said, [x]"The people among whom I am number six hundred thousand on foot, and you have said, 'I will give them meat, that they may eat a whole month!' [22][y]Shall flocks and herds be slaughtered for them, and be enough for them? Or shall all the fish of the sea be gathered together for them, and be enough for them?" [23]And the LORD said to Moses, [z]"Is the LORD's hand shortened? Now you shall see whether [a]my word will come true for you or not."

[24][†]So Moses went out and told the people the words of the LORD. [b]And he gathered seventy men of the elders of the people and placed them around the tent. [25]Then [c]the LORD came down in the cloud and spoke to him, and took some of the Spirit that was on him and put it on the seventy elders. And as soon as the Spirit rested on them, they prophesied. But they did not continue doing it.

[26]Now two men remained in the camp, one named Eldad, and the other named Medad, and the Spirit rested on them. They were among those registered, but they [d]had not gone out to the tent, and so they prophesied in the camp. [27]And a young man ran and told Moses, “Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp.” [28]And [e]Joshua the son of Nun, the assistant of Moses from his youth, said, “My lord Moses, [f]stop them.” [29]But Moses said to him, “Are you jealous for my sake? [g]Would that all the LORD’s people were prophets, that the LORD would put his Spirit on them!” [30]And Moses and the elders of Israel returned to the camp.

Quail and a Plague

[31][†]Then a [h]wind from the LORD sprang up, and it brought quail from the sea and let them fall beside the camp, about a day’s journey on this side and a day’s journey on the other side, around the camp, and about two cubits [2] above the ground. [32]And the people rose all that day and all night and all the next day, and gathered the quail. Those who gathered least gathered ten [i]homers. [3] And they spread them out for themselves all around the camp. [33][j]While the meat was yet between their teeth, before it was consumed, the anger of the LORD was kindled against the people, and [k]the LORD struck down the people with a very great plague. [34]Therefore the name of that place was called [l]Kibroth-hattaavah, [4] because there they buried the people who had the craving. [35][m]From Kibroth-hattaavah the people journeyed to [n]Hazeroth, and they remained at [n]Hazeroth.

Miriam and Aaron Oppose Moses

NUMBERS 12 [†]Miriam and Aaron spoke against Moses because of the Cushite woman whom he had married, for he had married a Cushite woman. [2]And they said, “Has the LORD indeed spoken only through Moses? [o]Has he not spoken through us also?” And [p]the LORD heard it. [3][†]Now the man Moses was very meek, more than all people who were on the face of the earth. [4]And suddenly the LORD said to Moses and to Aaron and Miriam, “Come out, you three, to the tent of meeting.” And the three of them came out. [5]And [q]the LORD came down in a pillar of cloud and stood at the entrance of the tent and called Aaron and Miriam, and they both came forward. [6][†]And he said, “Hear my words: If there is a prophet among you, I the LORD make myself known to him [r] in a vision; I speak with him [s] in a dream. 7Not so with [t] my servant Moses. [u] He is faithful in all my house. 8With him I speak [v] mouth to mouth, clearly, and not in [w] riddles, and he beholds [x] the form of the LORD. Why then were you not afraid to speak against my servant Moses?” 9[†]And the anger of the LORD was kindled against them, and he departed.

10When the cloud removed from over the tent, behold, [y] Miriam was [z] leprous, [1] like snow. And Aaron turned toward Miriam, and behold, she was leprous. 11And Aaron said to Moses, “Oh, my lord, [a] do not punish us [2] because we have done foolishly and have sinned. 12Let her not be as one dead, whose flesh is half eaten away when he comes out of his mother’s womb.” 13[†]And Moses cried to the LORD, “O God, please heal her—please.” 14But the LORD said to Moses, “If her father had but [b] spit in her face, should she not be shamed seven days? Let her be [c] shut outside the camp seven days, and after that she may be brought in again.” 15So Miriam [d] was shut outside the camp seven days, and the people did not set out on the march till Miriam was brought in again. 16After that the people set out from [e] Hazeroth, and camped in [f] the wilderness of Paran.

Spies Sent into Canaan

NUMBERS 13 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2[†] [g] “Send men to spy out the land of Canaan, which I am giving to the people of Israel. From each tribe of their fathers you shall send a man, every one a chief among them.” 3So Moses sent them from [h] the wilderness of Paran, according to the command of the LORD, all of them men who were heads of the people of Israel. 4[†]And these were their names: From the tribe of Reuben, Shammua the son of Zaccur; 5from the tribe of Simeon, Shaphat the son of Hori; 6 [i] from the tribe of Judah, [j] Caleb the son of Jephunneh; 7from the tribe of Issachar, Igal the son of Joseph; 8from the tribe of Ephraim, [k] Hoshea the son of Nun; 9from the tribe of Benjamin, Palti the son of Raphu; 10from the tribe of Zebulun, Gaddiel the son of Sodi; 11from the tribe of Joseph (that is, from the tribe of Manasseh), Gaddi the son of Susi; 12from the tribe of Dan, Ammiel the son of Gemalli; 13from the tribe of Asher, Sethur the son of Michael; [14]from the tribe of Naphtali, Nahbi the son of Vophsi; [15]from the tribe of Gad, Geuel the son of Machi. [16]These were the names of the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land. And Moses called [k]Hoshea the son of Nun Joshua.

[17][†]Moses sent them to spy out the land of Canaan and said to them, "Go up into [l]the Negeb and go up into [m]the hill country, [18]and see what the land is, and whether the people who dwell in it are strong or weak, whether they are few or many, [19]and whether the land that they dwell in is good or bad, and whether the cities that they dwell in are camps or strongholds, [20][†]and whether the land is [n]rich or poor, and whether there are trees in it or not. [o]Be of good courage and bring some of the fruit of the land." Now the time was the season of the first ripe grapes.

[21]So they went up and spied out the land [p]from the wilderness of Zin to Rehob, [q]near Lebo-hamath. [22][†]They went up into [m]the Negeb and came to [r]Hebron. [s]Ahiman, Sheshai, and Talmai, the [t]descendants of Anak, were there. ([u]Hebron was built seven years before [u]Zoan in Egypt.) [23][†]And [v]they came to the Valley of Eshcol and cut down from there a branch with a single cluster of grapes, and they carried it on a pole between two of them; they also brought some pomegranates and figs. [24]That place was called the Valley of Eshcol, [1] because of the cluster that the people of Israel cut down from there.

Report of the Spies

[25][†]At the end of forty days they returned from spying out the land. [26]And they came to Moses and Aaron and to all the congregation of the people of Israel in the wilderness of Paran, at [w]Kadesh. They brought back word to them and to all the congregation, and showed them the fruit of the land. [27]And they told him, "We came to the land to which you sent us. It [x]flows with milk and honey, [y]and this is its fruit. [28][z]However, the people who dwell in the land are strong, and the cities are fortified and very large. And besides, we saw the descendants of Anak there. [29][a]The Amalekites dwell in the land of the Negeb. The Hittites, the Jebusites, and the Amorites dwell in the hill country. [b]And the Canaanites dwell by the sea, and along the Jordan."

[30]But [c]Caleb quieted the people before Moses and said, “Let us go up at once and occupy it, for we are well able to overcome it.” [31] [d]Then the men who had gone up with him said, “We are not able to go up against the people, for they are stronger than we are.” [32]So [e]they brought to the people of Israel a bad report of the land that they had spied out, saying, “The land, through which we have gone to spy it out, is a land that devours its inhabitants, and [f]all the people that we saw in it are of great height. [33]And there we saw the [g]Nephilim (the sons of Anak, who come from the [g]Nephilim), and we seemed to ourselves [h]like grasshoppers, and so we seemed to them.”

The People Rebel

NUMBERS 14 Then all the congregation raised a loud cry, and the people [i]wept that night. [2]And all the people of Israel [j]grumbled against Moses and Aaron. The whole congregation said to them, “Would that we had died in the land of Egypt! Or [k]would that we had died in this wilderness! [3]Why is the LORD bringing us into this land, to fall by the sword? [l]Our wives and our little ones will become a prey. Would it not be better for us to go back to Egypt?” [4]And they said to one another, [m]“Let us choose a leader and [n]go back to Egypt.”

[5]Then [o]Moses and Aaron fell on their faces before all the assembly of the congregation of the people of Israel. [6][†][p]And Joshua the son of Nun and Caleb the son of Jephunneh, who were among those who had spied out the land, tore their clothes [7]and said to all the congregation of the people of Israel, [q]“The land, which we passed through to spy it out, is an exceedingly good land. [8][†]If [r]the LORD delights in us, he will bring us into this land and give it to us, [s]a land that flows with milk and honey. [9]Only [t]do not rebel against the LORD. And [u]do not fear the people of the land, for [v]they are bread for us. Their protection is removed from them, and the LORD is with us; do not fear them.” [10] [w]Then all the congregation said to stone them with stones. But [x]the glory of the LORD appeared at the tent of meeting to all the people of Israel.

[11][†]And the LORD said to Moses, “How long will this people [y]despise me? And how long will they not [z]believe in me, in spite of all the signs that I have done among them? [12]I will strike them with the pestilence and disinherit them, and I [a]will make of you a nation greater and mightier than they.”

Moses Intercedes for the People

[13][†]But [b]Moses said to the LORD, “Then the Egyptians will hear of it, for you brought up this people in your might from among them, [14]and they will tell the inhabitants of this land. [c]They have heard that you, O LORD, are in the midst of this people. For you, O LORD, are seen face to face, and [d]your cloud stands over them and you go before them, in a pillar of cloud by day and in a pillar of fire by night. [15]Now if you kill this people as one man, then the nations who have heard your fame will say, [16]‘It is because the LORD [e]was not able to bring this people into the land that he swore to give to them that he has killed them in the wilderness.’ [17]And now, please let the power of the Lord be great as you have promised, saying, [18][f]‘The LORD is slow to anger and abounding in steadfast love, forgiving iniquity and transgression, but he will by no means clear the guilty, [g]visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children, to the third and the fourth generation.’ [19]Please [h]pardon the iniquity of this people, according to the greatness of your steadfast love, just [i]as you have forgiven this people, from Egypt until now.”

God Promises Judgment

[20][†]Then the LORD said, “I have pardoned, [j]according to your word. [21][†]But truly, as I live, and as all [k]the earth shall be filled with the glory of the LORD, [22][l]none of the men who have seen my glory and my signs that I did in Egypt and in the wilderness, and yet have put me to the test these [m]ten times and have not obeyed my voice, [23][n]shall see the land that I swore to give to their fathers. And none of those who despised me shall see it. [24]But my servant [o]Caleb, because he has a different spirit and has [p]followed me fully, I will bring into the land into which he went, and his descendants shall possess it. [25][q]Now, since the Amalekites and the Canaanites dwell in the valleys, [r]turn tomorrow and set out for the wilderness by the way to the Red Sea.”

[26]And the LORD spoke to Moses and to Aaron, saying, [27]“How long shall [s]this wicked congregation grumble against me? [t]I have heard the grumblings of the people of Israel, which they grumble against me. [28]Say to them, [u]‘As I live, declares the LORD, [v]what you have said in my hearing I will do to you: [29][†] [w]your dead bodies shall fall in this wilderness, and [x]of all your number, listed in the census [y]from twenty years old and upward, who have grumbled against me, [30]not one shall come into the land where I [z]swore that I would make you dwell, [a]except Caleb the son of Jephunneh and Joshua the son of Nun. [31] [b]But your little ones, who you said would become a prey, I will bring in, and they shall know the land that [c]you have rejected. [32]But as for you, [w]your dead bodies shall fall in this wilderness. [33]And your children [d]shall be shepherds in the wilderness [e]forty years and shall [f]suffer for your faithlessness, until the last of your dead bodies lies in the wilderness. [34] [g]According to the number of the days in which you spied out the land, [h]forty days, a year for each day, you shall bear your iniquity forty years, and you shall know my displeasure.’ [35] [i]I, the LORD, have spoken. Surely this will I do to all [j]this wicked congregation who are gathered together against me: in this wilderness they shall come to a full end, and there they shall die.”

[36][†] [k]And the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land, who returned and made all the congregation grumble against him by bringing up a bad report about the land— [37]the men who brought up a bad report of the land —[l]died by plague before the LORD. [38]Of those men who went to spy out the land, [m]only Joshua the son of Nun and Caleb the son of Jephunneh remained alive.

Israel Defeated in Battle

[39]When Moses told these words to all the people of Israel, the people [n]mourned greatly. [40]And they rose early in the morning and went up to the heights of the hill country, saying, [o]“Here we are. We will go up to the place that the LORD has promised, for we have sinned.” [41][†] [p]But Moses said, “Why now are you transgressing the command of the LORD, when that will not succeed? [42] [q] Do not go up, [r] for the Lord is not among you, lest you be struck down before your enemies. [43]For there [s] the Amalekites and the Canaanites are facing you, and you shall fall by the sword. Because you have turned back from following the LORD, the LORD will not be with you.” [44] [t] But they presumed to go up to the heights of the hill country, although neither [u] the ark of the covenant of the LORD nor Moses departed out of the camp. [45]Then [v] the Amalekites and the Canaanites who lived in that hill country came down and defeated them and pursued them, even to [w] Hormah.

Laws About Sacrifices

NUMBERS 15 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]“Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, [x] When you come into the land you are to inhabit, which I am giving you, [3]and [y] you offer to the LORD from the herd or from the flock a food offering [1] or a burnt offering or a sacrifice, [z] to fulfill a vow or as a freewill offering or [a] at your appointed feasts, to make a [b] pleasing aroma to the LORD, [4]then [c] he who brings his offering shall offer to the LORD [d] a grain offering of a tenth of an ephah [2] of fine flour, [e] mixed with a quarter of a hin [3] of oil; [5]and you shall offer with the burnt offering, or for the sacrifice, a quarter of a hin of [f] wine for the drink offering for each lamb. [6] [g] Or for a ram, you shall offer for a grain offering two tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with a third of a hin of oil. [7]And for the drink offering you shall offer a third of a hin of wine, a [b] pleasing aroma to the LORD. [8]And when you offer a bull as a burnt offering or sacrifice, to [z] fulfill a vow or for [h] peace offerings to the LORD, [9]then one shall offer [i] with the bull a grain offering of three tenths of an ephah of fine flour, mixed with half a hin of oil. [10]And you shall offer for the drink offering half a hin of wine, as a food offering, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

[11] [j] “Thus it shall be done for each bull or ram, or for each lamb or young goat. [12]As many as you offer, so shall you do with each one, as many as there are. [13]Every native Israelite shall do these things in this way, in offering a food offering, with a pleasing aroma to the LORD. [14]And if a stranger is sojourning with you, or anyone is living permanently among you, and he wishes to offer a food offering, with a pleasing aroma to the LORD, he shall do as you do. 15For the assembly, [k] there shall be one statute for you and for the stranger who sojourns with you, a statute forever throughout your generations. You and the sojourner shall be alike before the LORD. 16One law and one rule shall be for you and for the stranger who sojourns with you."

17[†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 18 [l] "Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, When you come into the land to which I bring you 19and when you eat of [m] the bread of the land, you shall present a contribution to the LORD. 20 [n] Of the first of your dough you shall present a loaf as a contribution; like a [o] contribution from the threshing floor, so shall you present it. 21 [n] Some of the first of your dough you shall give to the LORD as a contribution throughout your generations.

Laws About Unintentional Sins

22[†] [p] "But if you sin unintentionally, [4] and do not observe all these commandments that the LORD has spoken to Moses, 23all that the LORD has commanded you by Moses, from the day that the LORD gave commandment, and onward throughout your generations, 24then if it was done unintentionally [q] without the knowledge of the congregation, all the congregation shall offer one bull from the herd for a burnt offering, a pleasing aroma to the LORD, [r] with its grain offering and its drink offering, according to the rule, and [s] one male goat for a sin offering. 25 [t] And the priest shall make atonement for all the congregation of the people of Israel, and they shall be forgiven, because it was a mistake, and they have brought their offering, a food offering to the LORD, and their sin offering before the LORD for their mistake. 26And all the congregation of the people of Israel shall be forgiven, and the stranger who sojourns among them, because the whole population was involved in the mistake.

27[†] [u] "If one person sins unintentionally, he shall offer a female goat a year old for a sin offering. 28 [v] And the priest shall make atonement before the LORD for the person who makes a mistake, when he sins unintentionally, to make atonement for him, and he shall be forgiven. 29 [w] You shall have one law for him who does anything unintentionally, for him who is native among the people of Israel and for the stranger who sojourns among them.

[30][†] [x]But the person who does anything with a high hand, whether he is native or a sojourner, reviles the LORD, and that person shall be cut off from among his people. [31]Because he has [y]despised the word of the LORD and has broken his commandment, that person shall be utterly cut off; his iniquity shall be on him."

A Sabbathbreaker Executed

[32][†]While the people of Israel were in the wilderness, they found a man [z]gathering sticks on the Sabbath day. [33]And those who found him gathering sticks brought him to Moses and Aaron and to all the congregation.
[34] [a]They put him in custody, because it had not been made clear what should be done to him. [35]And the LORD said to Moses, [b]"The man shall be put to death; all the congregation shall [c]stone him with stones outside the camp." [36]And all the congregation brought him outside the camp and stoned him to death with stones, as the LORD commanded Moses.

Tassels on Garments

[37]The LORD said to Moses, [38]"Speak to the people of Israel, and tell them to [d]make tassels on the corners of their garments throughout their generations, and to put a cord of blue on the tassel of each corner. [39]And it shall be a tassel for you to look at and remember all the commandments of the LORD, to do them, [e]not to follow [5] after your own heart and your own eyes, which you are inclined [f]to whore after. [40]So you shall remember and do all my commandments, and be [g]holy to your God. [41] [h]I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt to be your God: I am the LORD your God."

Korah's Rebellion

NUMBERS 16 [†]Now [i]Korah the son of Izhar, son of Kohath, son of Levi, and [j]Dathan and Abiram the sons of Eliab, and On the son of Peleth, sons of Reuben, took men. [2]And they rose up before Moses, with a number of the people of Israel, 250 chiefs of the congregation, chosen from the assembly, well-known men. [3][†] [k]They assembled themselves together against Moses and against Aaron and said to them, [l]“You have gone too far! For [m]all in the congregation are holy, every one of them, and the LORD is among them. Why then do you exalt yourselves above the assembly of the LORD?” [4]When Moses heard it, [n]he fell on his face, [5]and he said to Korah and all his company, “In the morning the LORD will show [o]who is his, [1] and who is [p]holy, and will bring him near to him. The one [q]whom he chooses he will [r]bring near to him. [6]Do this: take [s]censers, Korah and all his company; [7]put fire in them and put incense on them before the LORD tomorrow, and the man whom the LORD chooses shall be the holy one. [t]You have gone too far, sons of Levi!” [8][†]And Moses said to Korah, “Hear now, you sons of Levi: [9]is it [u]too small a thing for you that the God of Israel has [v]separated you from the congregation of Israel, to bring you near to himself, to do service in the tabernacle of the LORD and to stand before the congregation to minister to them, [10]and that he has brought you near him, and all your brothers the sons of Levi with you? And would you seek the priesthood also? [11]Therefore it is against the LORD that you and all your company have gathered together. What is [w]Aaron that you grumble against him?”

[12][†]And Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiram the sons of Eliab, and they said, “We will not come up. [13]Is it [x]a small thing that you have brought us up out of [y]a land flowing with milk and honey, to kill us in the wilderness, that you must also [z]make yourself a prince over us?
[14]Moreover, you have not brought us into a land flowing with milk and honey, nor given us inheritance of fields and vineyards. Will you put out the eyes of these men? We will not come up.” [15][†]And Moses was very angry and said to the LORD, [a]“Do not respect their offering. [b]I have not taken one donkey from them, and I have not harmed one of them.”

[16][†]And Moses said to Korah, “Be present, you and all your company, [c]before the LORD, you and they, and Aaron, tomorrow. [17]And [d]let every one of you take his censer and put incense on it, and every one of you bring before the LORD his censer, [e]250 censers; you also, and Aaron, each his censer.” [18]So every man took his censer and put fire in them and laid incense on them and stood at the entrance of the tent of meeting with Moses and Aaron. [19]Then Korah assembled all the congregation against them at the entrance of the tent of meeting. [f]And the glory of the LORD appeared to all the congregation.

[20][†]And the LORD spoke to Moses and to Aaron, saying, [21][g]"Separate yourselves from among this congregation, that I may consume them [h]in a moment." [22]And they [i]fell on their faces and said, "O God, [j]the God of the spirits of all flesh, [k]shall one man sin, and will you be angry with all the congregation?" [23]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [24]"Say to the congregation, Get away from the dwelling of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram."

[25]Then Moses rose and went to Dathan and Abiram, and the elders of Israel followed him. [26]And he spoke to the congregation, saying, [l]"Depart, please, from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of theirs, lest you be swept away with all their sins." [27]So they got away from the dwelling of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram. And Dathan and Abiram came out and stood [m]at the door of their tents, together with their wives, their sons, and their little ones. [28]And Moses said, "Hereby you shall know that the LORD has sent me to do all these works, and that it has not been [n]of my own accord. [29]If these men die as all men die, or if they are visited by the fate of all mankind, [o]then the LORD has not sent me. [30]But if the LORD creates something new, and [p]the ground opens its mouth and swallows them up with all that belongs to them, and they [q]go down alive into Sheol, then you shall know that these men have despised the LORD."

[31][r]And as soon as he had finished speaking all these words, the ground under them split apart. [32]And the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them up, with their households and [s]all the people who belonged to Korah and all their goods. [33]So they and all that belonged to them went down alive into Sheol, and the earth closed over them, and [t]they perished from the midst of the assembly. [34]And all Israel who were around them fled at their cry, for they said, "Lest the earth swallow us up!" [35][†]And [u]fire came out from the LORD and consumed [v]the 250 men offering the incense.

[36][2] Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [37]"Tell Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest to take up the censers out of the blaze. Then scatter the fire far and wide, for they have become holy. [38]As for the censers of [w]these men who have sinned at the cost of their lives, let them be made into hammered plates as a covering for the altar, for they offered them before the LORD, and they became holy. [x] Thus they shall be a sign to the people of Israel.” [39] [†]So Eleazar the priest took the bronze censers, which those who were burned had offered, and they were hammered out as a covering for the altar, [40] to be a reminder to the people of Israel, so [y] that no outsider, who is not of the descendants of Aaron, should draw near to burn incense before the LORD, lest he become like Korah and his company—as the LORD said to him through Moses.

[41] [†]But on the next day all the congregation of the people of Israel [z] grumbled against Moses and against Aaron, saying, “You have killed the people of the LORD.” [42] And when the congregation had assembled against Moses and against Aaron, they turned toward the tent of meeting. And behold, [a] the cloud covered it, and [b] the glory of the LORD appeared. [43] And Moses and Aaron came to the front of the tent of meeting, [44] and the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [45] [c] “Get away from the midst of this congregation, that I may consume them in a moment.” [d] And they fell on their faces. [46] And Moses said to Aaron, “Take your censer, and put fire on it from off the altar and lay incense on it and carry it quickly to the congregation and make atonement for them, for [e] wrath has gone out from the LORD; the plague has begun.” [47] So Aaron took it as Moses said and ran into the midst of the assembly. And behold, the plague had already begun among the people. And he put on the incense and made atonement for the people. [48] And he stood between the dead and the living, and [f] the plague was stopped. [49] Now those who died in the plague were 14,700, [g] besides those who died in the affair of Korah. [50] And Aaron returned to Moses at the entrance of the tent of meeting, when the plague was stopped.

Aaron’s Staff Buds

NUMBERS 17 [†] [1] The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2] [h] “Speak to the people of Israel, and get from them staffs, one for each fathers’ house, from all their chiefs according to their fathers’ houses, twelve staffs. Write each man’s name on his staff, [3] and write Aaron’s name on the staff of Levi. For there shall be one staff for the head of each fathers’ house. [4] Then you shall deposit them in the tent of meeting before the testimony, [i] where I meet with you. [5]And the staff of the man [j] whom I choose shall sprout. Thus I will make to cease from me [k] the grumblings of the people of Israel, which they grumble against you.” [6][†]Moses spoke to the people of Israel. And all their chiefs gave him staffs, one for each chief, according to their fathers’ houses, twelve staffs. And the staff of Aaron was among their staffs. [7]And Moses deposited the staffs before the LORD in [l] the tent of the testimony.

[8]On the next day Moses went into the tent of the testimony, and behold, the staff of Aaron for the house of Levi had sprouted and put forth buds and produced blossoms, and it bore ripe almonds. [9]Then Moses brought out all the staffs from before the LORD to all the people of Israel. And they looked, and each man took his staff. [10][†]And the LORD said to Moses, “Put back [m] the staff of Aaron before the testimony, to be kept [n] as a sign for the rebels, [o] that you may make an end of their grumblings against me, lest they die.” [11]Thus did Moses; as the LORD commanded him, so he did.

[12][†]And the people of Israel said to Moses, “Behold, we perish, we are undone, we are all undone. [13] [p] Everyone who comes near, who comes near to the tabernacle of the LORD, shall die. Are we all to perish?”

Duties of Priests and Levites

NUMBERS 18 [†]So the LORD said to Aaron, “You and your sons and your father’s house with you shall [q]bear iniquity connected with the sanctuary, [r]and you and your sons with you shall bear iniquity connected with your priesthood. [2]And with you bring your brothers also, the tribe of Levi, the tribe of your father, that they may [s]join you and [t]minister to you while you and your sons with you are before the tent of the testimony. [3]They shall keep guard over you and [u]over the whole tent, [v]but shall not come near to the vessels of the sanctuary or to the altar [w]lest they, and you, die. [4]They shall join you and keep guard over the tent of meeting for all the service of the tent, [x]and no outsider shall come near you. [5]And you shall [y]keep guard over the sanctuary and over the altar, [z]that there may never again be wrath on the people of Israel. [6] [a]And behold, I have taken your brothers the Levites from among the people of Israel. [b]They are a gift to you, given to the LORD, to do the service of the tent of meeting. [7]And [c]you and your sons with you shall guard your priesthood for all that concerns the altar and [d]that is within the veil; and you shall serve. I give your priesthood as a gift,[1] and [e]any outsider who comes near shall be put to death.”

[8][†]Then the LORD spoke to Aaron, “Behold, [f]I have given you charge of the contributions made to me, all the consecrated things of the people of Israel. I have given them to you [g]as a portion and to your sons as a perpetual due. [9]This shall be yours of the most holy things, reserved from the fire: every offering of theirs, every grain offering of theirs and every [h]sin offering of theirs and every [i]guilt offering of theirs, which they render to me, shall be most holy to you and to your sons. [10]In a most holy place shall you eat it. Every male may eat it; it is holy to you. [11]This also is yours: the contribution of their gift, all the [j]wave offerings of the people of Israel. I have given them to [k]you, and to your sons and daughters with you, as a perpetual due. [l]Everyone who is clean in your house may eat it. [12] [m]All the best of the oil and all the best of the wine and of the grain, [n]the firstfruits of what they give to the LORD, I give to you. [13]The first ripe fruits of all that is in their land, [o]which they bring to the LORD, shall be yours. [l]Everyone who is clean in your house may eat it. 14 [p] Every devoted thing in Israel shall be yours. 15 [q] Everything that opens the womb of all flesh, whether man or beast, which they offer to the LORD, shall be yours. Nevertheless, [r] the firstborn of man you shall redeem, and the firstborn of unclean animals you shall redeem. 16 And their redemption price [s] (at a month old you shall redeem them) you shall fix at five shekels [2] in silver, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, [t] which is twenty gerahs. 17 [u] But the firstborn of a cow, or the firstborn of a sheep, or the firstborn of a goat, you shall not redeem; they are holy. You shall sprinkle their blood on the altar and shall burn their fat as a food offering, with a pleasing aroma to the LORD. 18 But their flesh shall be yours, as [v] the breast that is waved and as the right thigh are yours. 19 [†] [w] All the holy contributions that the people of Israel present to the LORD I give to you, and to your sons and daughters with you, as a perpetual due. [x] It is a covenant of salt forever before the LORD for you and for your offspring with you." 20 And the LORD said to Aaron, "You shall have no inheritance in their land, neither shall you have any portion among them. [y] I am your portion and your inheritance among the people of Israel.

21 [†] [z] "To the Levites I have given every tithe in Israel for an inheritance, in return for their service that they do, their service in the tent of meeting, 22 [a] so that the people of Israel do not come near the tent of meeting, [b] lest they bear sin and die. 23 But [c] the Levites shall do the service of the tent of meeting, [d] and they shall bear their iniquity. It shall be a perpetual statute throughout your generations, and among the people of Israel they shall have no inheritance. 24 For the tithe of the people of Israel, which [e] they present as a contribution to the LORD, I have given to the Levites for an inheritance. Therefore I have said of them that they shall have no inheritance [f] among the people of Israel."

25 [†] And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 26 "Moreover, you shall speak and say to the Levites, 'When you take from the people of Israel the tithe that I have given you from them for your inheritance, then you shall present a contribution from it to the LORD, [g] a tithe of the tithe. 27 [h] And your contribution shall be counted to you as though it were the grain of the threshing floor, and as the fullness of the winepress. 28 So you shall also present a contribution to the LORD from all your tithes, which you receive from the people of Israel. And from it you shall give the LORD's contribution to Aaron the priest. [29]Out of all the gifts to you, you shall present every contribution due to the LORD; from each its best part is to be dedicated.' [30]Therefore you shall say to them, 'When you have offered from it the best of it, [i]then the rest shall be counted to the Levites as produce of the threshing floor, and as produce of the winepress. [31]And you may eat it in any place, you and your households, for it is [j]your reward in return for your service in the tent of meeting. [32]And you shall [k]bear no sin by reason of it, when you have contributed the best of it. But you shall not [l]profane the holy things of the people of Israel, lest you die.'"

Laws for Purification

NUMBERS 19 [†]Now the LORD spoke to Moses and to Aaron, saying, [2]"This is the statute of the law that the LORD has commanded: Tell the people of Israel to bring you a red heifer without defect, in which there is no blemish, [m]and on which a yoke has never come. [3]And you shall give it to Eleazar the priest, and [n]it shall be taken outside the camp and slaughtered before him. [4]And Eleazar the priest shall take some of its blood with his finger, and [o]sprinkle some of its blood toward the front of the tent of meeting seven times. [5]And the heifer shall be burned in his sight. [p]Its skin, its flesh, and its blood, with its dung, shall be burned. [6]And the priest shall take [q]cedarwood and hyssop and scarlet yarn, and throw them into the fire burning the heifer. [7]Then the priest [r]shall wash his clothes and bathe his body in water, and afterward he may come into the camp. But the priest shall be unclean until evening. [8] [s]The one who burns the heifer [r]shall wash his clothes in water and bathe his body in water and shall be unclean until evening. [9]And a man who is clean shall gather up [t]the ashes of the heifer and deposit them outside the camp in a [u]clean place. And they shall be kept for the water for [v]impurity for the congregation of the people of Israel; it is a sin offering. [10]And the one who gathers the ashes of the heifer [r]shall wash his clothes and be unclean until evening. And this shall be a perpetual statute for the people of Israel, and for the stranger who sojourns among them.

[11][†] [w]"Whoever touches the dead body of any person shall be unclean seven days. [12]He [x]shall cleanse himself with the water on the third day and on the seventh day, and so be clean. But if he does not cleanse himself on the third day and on the seventh day, he will not become clean. [13]Whoever touches a dead person, the body of anyone who has died, and does not cleanse himself, [y] defiles the tabernacle of the LORD, [z] and that person shall be cut off from Israel; because the water for impurity was not thrown on him, he shall be unclean. His uncleanness is still on him.

[14]"This is the law when someone dies in a tent: everyone who comes into the tent and everyone who is in the tent shall be unclean seven days. [15]And every [a] open vessel that has no cover fastened on it is unclean. [16] [b] Whoever in the open field touches someone who was killed with a sword or who died naturally, or touches a human bone or a [c] grave, shall be unclean seven days. [17]For the unclean they shall take [d] some ashes of the burnt sin offering, and fresh [1] water shall be added in a vessel. [18]Then a clean person shall take [e] hyssop and dip it in the water and sprinkle it on the tent and on all the furnishings and on the persons who were there and on whoever touched the bone, or the slain or the dead or the grave. [19]And the clean person shall sprinkle it on the unclean [f] on the third day and on the seventh day. [g] Thus on the seventh day he shall cleanse him, and he shall [h] wash his clothes and bathe himself in water, and at evening he shall be clean.

[20]"If the man who is unclean does not cleanse himself, [i] that person shall be cut off from the midst of the assembly, since he has defiled the sanctuary of the LORD. Because the water for impurity has not been thrown on him, he is unclean. [21]And it shall be a statute forever for them. The one who sprinkles the water for impurity shall wash his clothes, and the one who touches the water for impurity shall be unclean until evening. [22]And [j] whatever the unclean person touches shall be unclean, and anyone who touches it shall be unclean until evening."

The Death of Miriam

NUMBERS 20 [†]And the people of Israel, the whole congregation, came [k] into the wilderness of Zin in the first month, and the people stayed in Kadesh. And [l] Miriam died there and was buried there.

The Waters of Meribah

2[†] [m] Now there was no water for the congregation. [n] And they assembled themselves together against Moses and against Aaron. 3And the people [o] quarreled with Moses and said, “Would that we had perished [p] when our brothers perished before the LORD! 4Why have you brought the assembly of the LORD into this wilderness, that we should die here, both we and our cattle? 5And [q] why have you made us come up out of Egypt to bring us to this evil place? It is no place for grain or figs or vines or pomegranates, and there is no water to drink.” 6Then Moses and Aaron went from the presence of the assembly to the entrance of the tent of meeting and [r] fell on their faces. [s] And the glory of the LORD appeared to them, 7and the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 8 [t] “Take the staff, and assemble the congregation, you and Aaron your brother, and tell the rock before their eyes to yield its water. So [u] you shall bring water out of the rock for them and give drink to the congregation and their cattle.” 9And Moses took the staff [v] from before the LORD, as he commanded him.

Moses Strikes the Rock

10Then Moses and Aaron gathered the assembly together before the rock, and he said to them, [w] “Hear now, you rebels: shall we bring water for you out of this rock?” 11And Moses lifted up his hand and struck the rock with his staff twice, [u] and water came out abundantly, and the congregation drank, and their livestock. 12And the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, “Because [x] you did not believe in me, [y] to uphold me as holy in the eyes of the people of Israel, therefore you shall not bring this assembly into the land that I have given them.” 13 [z] These are the waters of Meribah, [1] where the people of Israel quarreled with the LORD, and through them he showed himself holy.

Edom Refuses Passage

14[†] [a] Moses sent messengers from Kadesh to [b] the king of Edom: “Thus says [c] your brother Israel: You know all the hardship that we have met: 15 [d] how our fathers went down to Egypt, [e] and we lived in Egypt a long time. [f] And the Egyptians dealt harshly with us and our fathers. 16[†]And [g] when we cried to the LORD, he heard our voice and [h] sent an angel and brought us out of Egypt. And here we are in Kadesh, a city on the edge of your territory. 17[†] [i] Please let us pass through your land. We will not pass through field or vineyard, [j] or drink water from a well. We will go along the King's Highway. We will not turn aside to the right hand or to the left until we have passed through your territory." 18But Edom said to him, "You shall not pass through, lest I come out with the sword against you." 19And the people of Israel said to him, "We will go up by the highway, [k] and if we drink of your water, I and my livestock, [l] then I will pay for it. Let me only pass through on foot, nothing more." 20But he said, [m] "You shall not pass through." And Edom came out against them with a large army and with a strong force. 21Thus Edom [n] refused to give Israel passage through his territory, so Israel [o] turned away from him.

The Death of Aaron

22[†]And they journeyed from [p] Kadesh, and the people of Israel, the whole congregation, came to [q] Mount Hor. 23And the LORD said to Moses and Aaron at Mount Hor, on the border of the land of Edom, 24 [r] "Let Aaron be gathered to his people, for he shall not enter the land that I have given to the people of Israel, because [s] you rebelled against my command at the waters of Meribah. 25Take Aaron and Eleazar his son and bring them up to Mount Hor. 26[†]And strip Aaron of his garments and put them on Eleazar his son. And Aaron [r] shall be gathered to his people and shall die there." 27Moses did as the LORD commanded. And they went up Mount Hor in the sight of all the congregation. 28[†] [t] And Moses stripped Aaron of his garments and put them on Eleazar his son. And Aaron died there [u] on the top of the mountain. Then Moses and Eleazar came down from the mountain. 29And when all the congregation saw that Aaron had perished, [v] all the house of Israel wept for Aaron thirty days.

Arad Destroyed

NUMBERS 21 [†]When [w] the Canaanite, the king of Arad, who lived in [x] the Negeb, heard that Israel was coming by the way of Atharim, he fought against Israel, and took some of them captive. 2[†] [y] And Israel vowed a vow to the LORD and said, "If you will indeed give this people into my hand, then I will devote their cities to destruction." [1] 3And the LORD heeded the voice of Israel and gave over the Canaanites, and they devoted them and their cities to destruction. So the name of the place was called [z] Hormah. [2]

The Bronze Serpent

4[†]From Mount Hor [a] they set out by the way to the Red Sea, [b] to go around the land of Edom. And the people became impatient on the way. 5And the people [c] spoke against God and against Moses, [d] "Why have you brought us up out of Egypt to die in the wilderness? For there is no food and no water, and [e] we loathe this worthless food." 6 [f] Then the LORD sent fiery serpents among the people, and [g] they bit the people, so that many people of Israel died. 7 [h] And the people came to Moses and said, "We have sinned, for we have spoken against the LORD and against you. [i] Pray to the LORD, that he take away the serpents from us." So Moses prayed for the people. 8And the LORD said to Moses, "Make a fiery serpent and set it on a pole, and everyone who is bitten, when he sees it, shall live." 9[†]So [j] Moses made a bronze [3] serpent and set it on a pole. And if a serpent bit anyone, he would look at the bronze serpent and live.

The Song of the Well

10[†]And the people of Israel set out and [k] camped in Oboth. 11 [k] And they set out from Oboth and [k] camped at Iye-abarim, in the wilderness that is opposite Moab, toward the sunrise. 12From there they set out and camped in [l] the Valley of Zered. 13From there they set out and camped on the other side of the Arnon, which is in the wilderness that extends from the border of the Amorites, for the [m] Arnon is the border of Moab, between Moab and the Amorites. 14[†]Therefore it is said in the Book of the Wars of the LORD, “Waheb in Suphah, and the valleys of the Arnon, 15 and the slope of the valleys that extends to the seat of [n] Ar, and leans to the border of Moab.”

16[†]And from there they continued [o] to Beer; [4] that is the well of which the LORD said to Moses, “Gather the people together, so that [p] I may give them water.” 17Then Israel sang this song:

“Spring up, O well!—Sing to it!— 18 the well that the princes made, that the nobles of the people dug,
with [q] the scepter and with their staffs.”

And from the wilderness they went on to Mattanah, 19and from Mattanah to Nahaliel, and from Nahaliel to Bamoth, 20and from Bamoth to the valley lying in the region of Moab by the top of Pisgah [r] that looks down on the desert. [5]

King Sihon Defeated

21[†]Then [s] Israel sent messengers to Sihon king of the Amorites, saying, 22 [t] “Let me pass through your land. We will not turn aside into field or vineyard. We will not drink the water of a well. We will go by the King’s Highway until we have passed through your territory.” 23 [u] But Sihon would not allow Israel to pass through his territory. He gathered all his people together and went out against Israel to the wilderness and [v] came to Jahaz and fought against Israel. 24 [w] And Israel defeated him with the edge of the sword and took possession of his land from the Arnon to the [x] Jabbok, as far as to the Ammonites, for the border of the Ammonites was strong. 25And Israel took all these cities, and Israel settled in all the cities of the Amorites, in Heshbon, and in all its villages. 26For Heshbon was the city of Sihon the king of the Amorites, who had fought against the former king of Moab and taken all his land out of his hand, as far as the Arnon. 27[†]Therefore the [y] ballad singers say, “Come to [z] Heshbon, let it be built;

let the city of Sihon be established.
28 For [a] fire came out from [z] Heshbon, flame from the city of Sihon.
It devoured [n] Ar of Moab, and swallowed [6] the heights of the Arnon.
29[†] [a] Woe to you, O Moab!
You are undone, O people of [b] Chemosh!
He has made his sons fugitives, and his daughters captives, to an Amorite king, Sihon.
30 So we overthrew them;
Heshbon, as far as [c] Dibon, perished;
and we laid waste as far as Nophah;
fire spread as far as [d] Medeba.” [7]

King Og Defeated

31[†]Thus Israel lived in the land of the Amorites. 32And Moses sent to spy out [e] Jazer, and they captured its villages and dispossessed the Amorites who were there. 33Then they turned and went up by the way to Bashan. And Og the king of Bashan came out against them, he and all his people, to battle [f] at Edrei. 34 [g] But the LORD said to Moses, “Do not fear him, for I have given him into your hand, and all his people, and his land. And [h] you shall do to him as you did to Sihon king of the Amorites, who lived at Heshbon.” 35So they defeated him and his sons and all his people, until he had no survivor left. And they possessed his land.

Balak Summons Balaam

NUMBERS 22 [†]Then [i] the people of Israel set out and camped in the plains of Moab beyond the Jordan at Jericho. 2And [j] Balak the son of Zippor saw all that Israel had done to the Amorites. 3And [k] Moab was in great dread of the people, because they were many. Moab was overcome with fear of the people of Israel. 4And Moab said to [l] the elders of Midian, “This horde will now lick up all that is around us, as the ox licks up the grass of the field.”

So Balak the son of Zippor, who was king of Moab at that time, [5] [m] sent messengers to Balaam the son of Beor [n] at Pethor, which is near the River in the land of the people of Amaw, [1] to call him, saying, “Behold, a people has come out of Egypt. They cover the face of the earth, and they are dwelling opposite me. [6] [o] Come now, curse this people for me, since they are too mighty for me. Perhaps I shall be able to defeat them and drive them from the land, for I know that he whom you bless is blessed, and he whom you curse is cursed.”

[7][†]So the elders of Moab and [l] the elders of Midian departed with [p] the fees for divination in their hand. And they came to Balaam and gave him Balak’s message. [8]And he said to them, “Lodge here tonight, and I will bring back word to you, as the LORD speaks to me.” So the princes of Moab stayed with Balaam. [9] [q] And God came to Balaam and said, “Who are these men with you?” [10]And Balaam said to God, “Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab, has sent to me, saying, [11]‘Behold, a people has come out of Egypt, and it covers the face of the earth. Now come, curse them for me. Perhaps I shall be able to fight against them and drive them out.’” [12]God said to Balaam, “You shall not go with them. You shall not curse the people, for [r] they are blessed.” [13]So Balaam rose in the morning and said to the princes of Balak, “Go to your own land, for the LORD has refused to let me go with you.” [14]So the princes of Moab rose and went to Balak and said, “Balaam refuses to come with us.”

[15][†]Once again Balak sent princes, more in number and more honorable than these. [16]And they came to Balaam and said to him, “Thus says Balak the son of Zippor: ‘Let nothing hinder you from coming to me, [17] [s] for I will surely do you great honor, and whatever you say to me I will do. [t] Come, curse this people for me.’” [18]But Balaam answered and said to the servants of Balak, [u] “Though Balak were to give me his house full of silver and gold, [v] I could not go beyond the command of the LORD my God to do less or more. [19][†]So you, too, [w] please stay here tonight, that I may know what more the LORD will say to me.” [20] [q] And God came to Balaam at night and said to him, “If the men have come to call you, rise, go with them; [x] but only do what I tell you.” [21]So Balaam rose in the morning and saddled his donkey and went with the princes of Moab.

Balaam’s Donkey and the Angel

[22][†]But God’s anger was kindled because he went, [y]and the angel of the LORD took his stand in the way [z]as his adversary. Now he was riding on the donkey, and his two servants were with him. [23]And the donkey saw the angel of the LORD standing in the road, with a drawn sword in his hand. And the donkey turned aside out of the road and went into the field. And Balaam struck the donkey, to turn her into the road. [24]Then the angel of the LORD stood in a narrow path between the vineyards, with a wall on either side. [25]And when the donkey saw the angel of the LORD, she pushed against the wall and pressed Balaam’s foot against the wall. So he struck her again. [26]Then the angel of the LORD went ahead and stood in a narrow place, where there was no way to turn either to the right or to the left. [27]When the donkey saw the angel of the LORD, she lay down under Balaam. And Balaam’s anger was kindled, and he struck the donkey with his staff. [28]Then the LORD [a]opened the mouth of the donkey, and she said to Balaam, “What have I done to you, that you have struck me these three times?” [29]And Balaam said to the donkey, “Because you have made a fool of me. I wish I had a sword in my hand, for then I would kill you.” [30]And the donkey said to Balaam, “Am I not your donkey, on which you have ridden all your life long to this day? Is it my habit to treat you this way?” And he said, “No.”

[31]Then the LORD [b]opened the eyes of Balaam, and he saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, with his drawn sword in his hand. And he bowed down and fell on his face. [32]And the angel of the LORD said to him, “Why have you struck your donkey these three times? Behold, I have come out [c]to oppose you because your way is perverse [2] before me. [33]The donkey saw me and turned aside before me these three times. If she had not turned aside from me, surely just now I would have killed you and let her live.” [34][†]Then Balaam said to the angel of the LORD, [d]“I have sinned, for I did not know that you stood in the road against me. Now therefore, if it is evil in your sight, I will turn back.” [35]And the angel of the LORD said to Balaam, “Go with the men, [e]but speak only the word that I tell you.” So Balaam went on with the princes of Balak.

[36][†]When Balak heard that Balaam had come, he went out to meet him at the city of Moab, [f]on the border formed by the Arnon, at the extremity of the border. [37]And Balak said to Balaam, “Did I not send to you to call you?

Why did you not come to me? Am I not able to [g] honor you?” [38]Balaam said to Balak, “Behold, I have come to you! Have I now any power of my own to speak anything? [h] The word that God puts in my mouth, that must I speak.” [39][†]Then Balaam went with Balak, and they came to Kiriath-huzoth. [40]And Balak sacrificed oxen and sheep, and sent for Balaam and for the princes who were with him.

[41][†]And in the morning Balak took Balaam and brought him up to Bamoth-baal, and from there he saw a fraction of the people.

Balaam’s First Oracle

NUMBERS 23 And Balaam said to Balak, [i]“Build for me here seven altars, and prepare for me here seven bulls and seven rams.” [2]Balak did as Balaam had said. And Balak and Balaam [j] offered on each altar a bull and a ram. [3]And Balaam said to Balak, [k]“Stand beside your burnt offering, and I will go. Perhaps the Lord will come [l] to meet me, and whatever he shows me I will tell you.” And he went to a bare height, [4] [m] and God met Balaam. And Balaam said to him, “I have arranged the seven altars and I have offered on each altar a bull and a ram.” [5]And the Lord [n] put a word in Balaam’s mouth and said, “Return to Balak, and thus you shall speak.” [6]And he returned to him, and behold, he and all the princes of Moab were standing beside his burnt offering. [7]And Balaam [o] took up his discourse and said,

“From [p] Aram Balak has brought me,
the king of Moab [q] from the eastern mountains:
‘Come, [r] curse Jacob for me, and come, denounce Israel!’
[8] How can I curse whom God has not cursed?
How can I denounce whom the Lord has not denounced?
[9][†] For from the top of the crags [s] I see him, from the hills I behold him;
behold, [t] a people dwelling alone,
and [u] not counting itself among the nations!
[10][†] [v] Who can count the dust of Jacob or number the fourth part [1] of Israel?

Let me die [w]the death of the upright, and let my end be like his!”

[11]And Balak said to Balaam, “What have you done to me? [x]I took you to curse my enemies, and behold, you have done nothing but bless them.” [12]And he answered and said, [y]“Must I not take care to speak what the LORD puts in my mouth?”

Balaam’s Second Oracle

[13][†]And Balak said to him, “Please come with me to another place, from which you may see them. You shall see only a fraction of them and shall not see them all. Then curse them for me from there.” [14]And he took him to the field of Zophim, to the top of Pisgah, [z]and built seven altars and offered a bull and a ram on each altar. [15]Balaam said to Balak, [a]“Stand here beside your burnt offering, while I meet the LORD over there.” [16]And the LORD met Balaam and [b]put a word in his mouth and said, “Return to Balak, and thus shall you speak.” [17]And he came to him, and behold, he was standing beside his burnt offering, and the princes of Moab with him. And Balak said to him, “What has the LORD spoken?” [18]And Balaam took up his discourse and said, “Rise, Balak, and hear;

give ear to me, O son of Zippor:
[19][†] [c]God is not man, that he should lie, or a son of man, that he should change his mind.
Has he said, and will he not do it?
Or has he spoken, and will he not fulfill it?
[20] Behold, I received a command to bless:
[d]he has blessed, and [e]I cannot revoke it.
[21][†] [f]He has not beheld misfortune in Jacob, nor has he seen trouble in Israel.
The LORD their God is with them, and the shout of a king is among them.
[22] [g]God brings them out of Egypt and is for them like [h]the horns of the wild ox.

23[†] For there is no enchantment against Jacob, no [i] divination against Israel;
now it shall be said of Jacob and Israel, [j] 'What has God wrought!'
24[†] Behold, a people! [k] As a lioness it rises up and as a lion it lifts itself; [l] it does not lie down until it has devoured the prey and drunk the blood of the slain."

25And Balak said to Balaam, "Do not curse them at all, and do not bless them at all." 26But Balaam answered Balak, "Did I not tell you, [m] 'All that the LORD says, that I must do'?" 27And Balak said to Balaam, [n] "Come now, I will take you to another place. Perhaps it will please God that you may curse them for me from there." 28So Balak took Balaam to the top of [o] Peor, which overlooks [p] the desert. [2] 29And Balaam said to Balak, [q] "Build for me here seven altars and prepare for me here seven bulls and seven rams." 30 [r] And Balak did as Balaam had said, and offered a bull and a ram on each altar.

Balaam's Third Oracle

NUMBERS 24 [†]When Balaam saw that it pleased the LORD to bless Israel, he did not go, as at [s] other times, to look for omens, but set his face toward the wilderness. 2And Balaam lifted up his eyes and saw Israel [t] camping tribe by tribe. And [u] the Spirit of God came upon him, 3and he [v] took up his discourse and said,

"The oracle of Balaam the son of Beor,
  the oracle of the man whose eye is opened, [1] 4 the oracle of him who hears the words of God, who sees the vision of the Almighty,
  [w] falling down with his eyes uncovered:
5[†] How lovely are your tents, O Jacob, your encampments, O Israel!
6 Like palm groves [2] that stretch afar, like gardens beside a river, [x] like aloes [y] that the LORD has planted, like cedar trees beside the waters.

[7][†] Water shall flow from his buckets, and his seed shall be [z] in many waters;
his king shall be higher than [a] Agag, and [b] his kingdom shall be exalted.
[8] God brings him out of Egypt and is for him like the [c] horns of the wild ox;
he shall [d] eat up the nations, his adversaries, and shall [e] break their bones in pieces and [f] pierce them through with his arrows.
[9][†] He crouched, he lay down like a lion and [g] like a lioness; who will rouse him up?
[h] Blessed are those who bless you, and cursed are those who curse you."

[10]And Balak's anger was kindled against Balaam, and he [i] struck his hands together. And Balak said to Balaam, [j] "I called you to curse my enemies, and behold, you have blessed them these three times. [11]Therefore now flee to your own place. I said, [k] 'I will certainly honor you,' but the LORD has held you back from honor." [12]And Balaam said to Balak, "Did I not tell your messengers whom you sent to me, [13] [l] 'If Balak should give me his house full of silver and gold, I would not be able to go beyond the word of the LORD, to do either good or bad [m] of my own will. What the LORD speaks, that will I speak'? [14]And now, behold, I am going to my people. Come, [n] I will let you know what this people will do to your people [o] in the latter days."

Balaam's Final Oracle

[15][†] [p] And he took up his discourse and said,

"The oracle of Balaam the son of Beor,
the oracle of the man whose eye is opened,

[16] the oracle of him who hears the words of God, and knows the knowledge of [q] the Most High,
who sees the vision of the Almighty,
[r] falling down with his eyes uncovered:
[17][†] [s] I see him, but not now;
I behold him, but not near:
[t] a star shall come out of Jacob, and [u] a scepter shall rise out of Israel;
it shall [v] crush the forehead [3] of Moab and break down all the sons of Sheth.
[18][†] [w] Edom shall be dispossessed;
[x] Seir also, his enemies, shall be dispossessed.
Israel is doing valiantly.
[19][†] And one from Jacob shall exercise dominion and destroy the survivors of cities!”

[20][†]Then he looked on Amalek and [y] took up his discourse and said, “Amalek was the first among the nations,

[z] but its end is utter destruction.”

[21][†]And he looked on the Kenite, and took up his discourse and said, “Enduring is your dwelling place, and your nest is set in the rock.

[22] Nevertheless, Kain shall be burned when Asshur takes you away captive.”

[23][†]And he took up his discourse and said,

“Alas, who shall live when God does this?
[24] But ships shall come from [a] Kittim and shall afflict Asshur and [b] Eber;
and he too [c] shall come to utter destruction.”

[25][†]Then Balaam rose and [d]went back to his place. And Balak also went his way.

Baal Worship at Peor

NUMBERS 25 [†]While Israel lived in [e]Shittim, [f]the people began to whore with the daughters of Moab. [2][g]These invited the people to the sacrifices of their gods, and the people ate and bowed down to their gods. [3][†]So Israel yoked himself to Baal of Peor. And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel. [4][†]And the LORD said to Moses, [h]“Take all the chiefs of the people and [i]hang [1] them in the sun before the LORD, [j]that the fierce anger of the LORD may turn away from Israel.” [5]And Moses said to [k]the judges of Israel, [l]“Each of you kill those of his men who have yoked themselves to Baal of Peor.”

[6][†]And behold, one of the people of Israel came and brought a Midianite woman to his family, in the sight of Moses and in the sight of the whole congregation of the people of Israel, while they were [m]weeping in the entrance of the tent of meeting. [7][†][n]When Phinehas [o]the son of Eleazar, son of Aaron the priest, saw it, he rose and left the congregation and took a spear in his hand [8]and went after the man of Israel into the chamber and pierced both of them, the man of Israel and the woman through her belly. Thus the plague on the people of Israel was stopped. [9][†]Nevertheless, [p]those who died by the plague were twenty-four thousand.

The Zeal of Phinehas

[10]And the LORD said to Moses, [11]“Phinehas the son of Eleazar, son of Aaron the priest, has turned back my wrath from the people of Israel, in that he [q]was jealous with my jealousy among them, so that I did not consume the people of Israel in [r]my jealousy. [12]Therefore say, [s]‘Behold, I give to him my covenant of peace, [13]and it shall be to him and to [t]his descendants after him the covenant of [u]a perpetual priesthood, because he was jealous for his God and made atonement for the people of Israel.’”

[14]The name of the slain man of Israel, who was killed with the Midianite woman, was Zimri the son of Salu, chief of a father’s house belonging to the Simeonites. [15]And the name of the Midianite woman who was killed was Cozbi the daughter of [v]Zur, who was the tribal head of a father's house in Midian.

[16][†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [17][w]"Harass the Midianites and strike them down, [18]for they have harassed you with their [x]wiles, with which they beguiled you in the matter of [y]Peor, and in the matter of Cozbi, the daughter of the chief of Midian, their sister, who was killed on the day of the plague on account of Peor."

Census of the New Generation

NUMBERS 26 [†] [z]After the plague, the LORD said to Moses and to Eleazar the son of Aaron, the priest, [2] [a]“Take a census of all the congregation of the people of Israel, from twenty years old and upward, by their fathers’ houses, all in Israel who are able to go to war.” [3]And Moses and Eleazar the priest spoke with them [b]in the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho, saying, [4]“Take a census of the people,[1] from twenty years old and upward,” as the LORD [c]commanded Moses. The people of Israel who came out of the land of Egypt were:

[5] [d]Reuben, the firstborn of Israel; the sons of Reuben: of Hanoch, the clan of the Hanochites; of Pallu, the clan of the Palluites; [6]of Hezron, the clan of the Hezronites; of Carmi, the clan of the Carmites. [7]These are the clans of the Reubenites, and those listed were [e]43,730. [8]And the sons of Pallu: Eliab. [9][†]The sons of Eliab: Nemuel, Dathan, and Abiram. These are the Dathan and Abiram, [f]chosen from the congregation, who contended against Moses and Aaron in the company of Korah, when they contended against the LORD [10]and [g]the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them up together with Korah, when that company died, when the fire devoured 250 men, and [h]they became a warning. [11][†]But [i]the sons of Korah did not die.

[12]The sons of [j]Simeon according to their clans: of Nemuel, the clan of the Nemuelites; of Jamin, the clan of the Jaminites; of Jachin, the clan of the Jachinites; [13]of Zerah, the clan of the Zerahites; of Shaul, the clan of the Shaulites. [14]These are the clans of the Simeonites, [k]22,200.

[15]The sons of [l]Gad according to their clans: of Zephon, the clan of the Zephonites; of Haggi, the clan of the Haggites; of Shuni, the clan of the Shunites; [16]of Ozni, the clan of the Oznites; of Eri, the clan of the Erites; [17]of Arod, the clan of the Arodites; of Areli, the clan of the Arelites. [18]These are the clans of the sons of Gad as they were listed, [m]40,500.

[19][†]The sons of [n]Judah were Er and Onan; and Er and Onan died in the land of Canaan. [20]And the sons of Judah according to their clans were: of Shelah, the clan of the Shelanites; of Perez, the clan of the Perezites; of Zerah, the clan of the Zerahites. [21]And the sons of Perez were: of Hezron, the clan of the Hezronites; of Hamul, the clan of the Hamulites. [22]These are the clans of Judah as they were listed, [o] 76,500.

[23]The sons of [p] Issachar according to their clans: of Tola, the clan of the Tolaites; of Puvah, the clan of the Punites; [24]of Jashub, the clan of the Jashubites; of Shimron, the clan of the Shimronites. [25]These are the clans of Issachar as they were listed, [q] 64,300.

[26]The sons of [r] Zebulun, according to their clans: of Sered, the clan of the Seredites; of Elon, the clan of the Elonites; of Jahleel, the clan of the Jahleelites. [27]These are the clans of the Zebulunites as they were listed, [s] 60,500.

[28][†]The sons of [t] Joseph according to their clans: Manasseh and Ephraim. [29] [u] The sons of Manasseh: of [v] Machir, the clan of the Machirites; and Machir was the father of Gilead; [w] of Gilead, the clan of the Gileadites. [30]These are the sons of Gilead: of Iezer, the clan of the Iezerites; of Helek, the clan of the Helekites; [31]and of Asriel, the clan of the Asrielites; and of Shechem, the clan of the Shechemites; [32]and of Shemida, the clan of the Shemidaites; and of Hepher, the clan of the Hepherites. [33]Now [x] Zelophehad the son of Hepher had no sons, but daughters. And the names of the daughters of Zelophehad were Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah. [34]These are the clans of Manasseh, and those listed were [y] 52,700.

[35]These are the sons of Ephraim according to their clans: of Shuthelah, the clan of the Shuthelahites; of Becher, the clan of the Becherites; of Tahan, the clan of the Tahanites. [36]And these are the sons of Shuthelah: of Eran, the clan of the Eranites. [37]These are the clans of the sons of Ephraim as they were listed, [z] 32,500. These are the sons of Joseph according to their clans.

[38]The sons of [a] Benjamin according to their clans: of Bela, the clan of the Belaites; of Ashbel, the clan of the Ashbelites; of Ahiram, the clan of the Ahiramites; [39]of Shephupham, the clan of the Shuphamites; of Hupham, the clan of the Huphamites. [40]And the sons of Bela were Ard and Naaman: of Ard, the clan of the Ardites; of Naaman, the clan of the Naamites. [41]These are the sons of Benjamin according to their clans, and those listed were [b] 45,600.

[42]These are the sons of [c]Dan according to their clans: of Shuham, the clan of the Shuhamites. These are the clans of Dan according to their clans. [43]All the clans of the Shuhamites, as they were listed, were [d]64,400.

[44]The sons of [e]Asher according to their clans: of Imnah, the clan of the Imnites; of Ishvi, the clan of the Ishvites; of Beriah, the clan of the Beriites. [45]Of the sons of Beriah: of Heber, the clan of the Heberites; of Malchiel, the clan of the Malchielites. [46]And the name of the daughter of Asher was Serah. [47]These are the clans of the sons of Asher as they were listed, [f]53,400.

[48]The sons of [g]Naphtali according to their clans: of Jahzeel, the clan of the Jahzeelites; of Guni, the clan of the Gunites; [49]of Jezer, the clan of the Jezerites; of Shillem, the clan of the Shillemites. [50]These are the clans of Naphtali according to their clans, and those listed were [h]45,400.

[51]This was the list of the people of Israel, [i]601,730.

[52]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [53][j]“Among these the land shall be divided for inheritance according to the number of names. [54][k]To a large tribe you shall give a large inheritance, and to a small tribe you shall give a small inheritance; every tribe shall be given its inheritance in proportion to its list. [55]But the land shall be [l]divided by lot. According to the names of the tribes of their fathers they shall inherit. [56]Their inheritance shall be divided according to lot between the larger and the smaller.”

[57][m]This was the list of the Levites according to their clans: of Gershon, the clan of the Gershonites; of Kohath, the clan of the Kohathites; of Merari, the clan of the Merarites. [58]These are the clans of Levi: the clan of the Libnites, the clan of the Hebronites, the clan of the Mahlites, the clan of the Mushites, the clan of the Korahites. And Kohath was the father of Amram. [59]The name of Amram’s wife was [n]Jochebed the daughter of Levi, who was born to Levi in Egypt. And she bore to Amram Aaron and Moses and Miriam their sister. [60][o]And to Aaron were born Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar. [61][p]But Nadab and Abihu died when they offered unauthorized fire before the LORD. [62]And those listed were [q]23,000, every male from a month old and upward. For [r]they were not listed among the people of Israel, because [s]there was no inheritance given to them among the people of Israel.

[63]These were those listed by Moses and Eleazar the priest, who listed the people of Israel [t]in the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho. [64] [u]But among these there was not one of those listed by Moses and Aaron the priest, who had listed the people of Israel in the wilderness of Sinai. [65]For the LORD had said of them, [v]"They shall die in the wilderness." Not one of them was left, [w]except Caleb the son of Jephunneh and Joshua the son of Nun.

The Daughters of Zelophehad

NUMBERS 27 [†]Then drew near the daughters of [x]Zelophehad the son of Hepher, son of Gilead, son of Machir, son of Manasseh, from the clans of Manasseh the son of Joseph. The names of his daughters were: Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah. [2]And they stood before Moses and before Eleazar the priest and before the chiefs and all the congregation, at the entrance of the tent of meeting, saying, [3][†]"Our father [y]died in the wilderness. He was not among the company of those who gathered themselves together against the LORD [z]in the company of Korah, but [a]died for his own sin. And he had no sons. [4]Why should the name of our father be taken away from his clan because he had no son? [b]Give to us a possession among our father's brothers."

[5]Moses [c]brought their case before the LORD. [6]And the LORD said to Moses, [7]"The daughters of Zelophehad [d]are right. [e]You shall give them possession of an inheritance among their father's brothers and transfer the inheritance of their father to them. [8]And you shall speak to the people of Israel, saying, 'If a man dies and has no son, then you shall transfer his inheritance to his daughter. [9]And if he has no daughter, then you shall give his inheritance to his brothers. [10]And if he has no brothers, then you shall give his inheritance to his father's brothers. [11]And if his father has no brothers, then you shall give his inheritance to the nearest [f]kinsman of his clan, and he shall possess it. And it shall be for the people of Israel [g]a statute and rule, as the LORD commanded Moses.'"

Joshua to Succeed Moses

12[†]The LORD said to Moses, "Go up into [h]this mountain of Abarim and see the land that I have given to the people of Israel. 13When you have seen it, you also [i]shall be gathered to your people, as your brother Aaron was, 14[j]because you rebelled against my word in the wilderness of Zin when the congregation quarreled, failing [k]to uphold me as holy at the waters before their eyes." (These are [l]the waters of Meribah of Kadesh in the wilderness of Zin.) 15Moses spoke to the LORD, saying, 16"Let the LORD, [m]the God of the spirits of all flesh, appoint a man over the congregation 17who [n]shall go out before them and come in before them, who shall lead them out and bring them in, that the congregation of the LORD may not be [o]as sheep that have no shepherd." 18So the LORD said to Moses, "Take [p]Joshua the son of Nun, a man [q]in whom is the Spirit, and [r]lay your hand on him. 19Make him stand before Eleazar the priest and all the congregation, and you shall [s]commission him in their sight. 20[†]You shall invest him with some of your authority, [t]that all the congregation of the people of Israel may obey. 21And he shall stand before Eleazar the priest, who shall inquire for him [u]by the judgment of the Urim before the LORD. At his word they shall go out, and at his word they shall come in, both he and all the people of Israel with him, the whole congregation." 22And Moses did as the LORD commanded him. He took Joshua and made him stand before Eleazar the priest and the whole congregation, 23and he laid his hands on him and [s]commissioned him as the LORD directed through Moses.

Daily Offerings

NUMBERS 28 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2"Command the people of Israel and say to them, 'My offering, [v]my food for my food offerings, my [w]pleasing aroma, you shall be careful to offer to me at its appointed time.' 3 [x]And you shall say to them, This is the food offering that you shall offer to the LORD: two male lambs a year old without blemish, day by day, as a regular offering. 4The one lamb you shall offer in the morning, and the other lamb you shall offer at twilight; 5also [y]a tenth of an ephah [1] of fine flour for [z]a grain offering, mixed [a]with a quarter of a hin [2] of beaten oil.

[6]It is a [b] regular burnt offering, which was ordained at Mount Sinai for a pleasing aroma, a food offering to the LORD. [7]Its drink offering shall be a quarter of a hin for each lamb. In the Holy Place you shall pour out a drink offering of strong drink to the LORD. [8]The other lamb you shall offer at twilight. Like the grain offering of the morning, and like its drink offering, you shall offer it as a food offering, with a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

Sabbath Offerings

[9][†]"On the Sabbath day, two male lambs a year old without blemish, and two tenths of an ephah of fine flour for a grain offering, mixed with oil, and its drink offering: [10]this is [c] the burnt offering of every Sabbath, besides the regular burnt offering and its drink offering.

Monthly Offerings

[11][†] [d] "At the beginnings of your months, you shall offer a burnt offering to the LORD: two bulls from the herd, one ram, seven male lambs a year old without blemish; [12]also [e] three tenths of an ephah of fine flour for a grain offering, mixed with oil, for each bull, and two tenths of fine flour for a grain offering, mixed with oil, for the one ram; [13]and a tenth of fine flour mixed with oil as a grain offering for every lamb; for a burnt offering with a pleasing aroma, a food offering to the LORD. [14]Their drink offerings shall be half a hin of wine for a bull, a third of a hin for a ram, and a quarter of a hin for a lamb. This is the burnt offering of each month throughout the months of the year. [15]Also [f] one male goat for a sin offering to the LORD; it shall be offered besides the regular burnt offering and its drink offering.

Passover Offerings

[16][†] [g] "On the fourteenth day of the first month is the LORD's Passover, [17][†] [h] and on the fifteenth day of this month is a feast. Seven days shall unleavened bread be eaten. [18][†] [i] On the first day there shall be a holy convocation. You shall not do any ordinary work, [19][†]but offer a food offering, a burnt offering to the LORD: two bulls from the herd, one ram, and seven male lambs a year old; [j] see that they are without blemish; [20]also their grain offering of fine flour mixed with oil; three tenths of an ephah shall you offer for a bull, and two tenths for a ram; [21]a tenth shall you offer for each of the seven lambs; [22]also [k] one male goat for a sin offering, to make atonement for you. [23]You shall offer these besides the burnt offering of the morning, which is for a regular burnt offering. [24]In the same way you shall offer daily, for seven days, the food of a food offering, with a pleasing aroma to the LORD. It shall be offered besides the regular burnt offering and its drink offering. [25]And [l] on the seventh day you shall have a holy convocation. You shall not do any ordinary work.

Offerings for the Feast of Weeks

[26][†]“On [m] the day of the firstfruits, when you offer a grain offering of new grain to the LORD at your Feast of Weeks, you shall have a holy convocation. You shall not do any ordinary work, [27]but offer a burnt offering, with a pleasing aroma to the LORD: [n] two bulls from the herd, one ram, seven male lambs a year old; [28]also their grain offering of fine flour mixed with oil, three tenths of an ephah for each bull, two tenths for one ram, [29]a tenth for each of the seven lambs; [30]with [o] one male goat, to make atonement for you. [31]Besides the regular burnt offering and its grain offering, you shall offer them and their drink offering. [p] See that they are without blemish.

Offerings for the Feast of Trumpets

NUMBERS 29 [†]“On the first day of the seventh month you shall have a holy convocation. You shall not do any ordinary work. [q] It is a day for you to blow the trumpets, [2]and you shall offer a burnt offering, for a pleasing aroma to the LORD: one bull from the herd, one ram, seven male lambs a year old without blemish; [3]also their grain offering of fine flour mixed with oil, three tenths of an ephah [1] for the bull, two tenths for the ram, [4]and one tenth for each of the seven lambs; [5]with [o] one male goat for a sin offering, to make atonement for you; [6]besides [r] the burnt offering of the new moon, and its grain offering, and [s] the regular burnt offering and its grain offering, and their drink offering, according to the rule for them, for a pleasing aroma, a food offering to the LORD.

Offerings for the Day of Atonement

7[†] [t]"On the tenth day of this seventh month you shall have a holy convocation and [u]afflict yourselves. [2] You shall do no work, 8but you shall offer a burnt offering to the LORD, a pleasing aroma: one bull from the herd, one ram, seven male lambs a year old: [v]see that they are without blemish. 9And their grain offering shall be of fine flour mixed with oil, three tenths of an ephah for the bull, two tenths for the one ram, 10a tenth for each of the seven lambs: 11also [w]one male goat for a sin offering, besides [x]the sin offering of atonement, and the regular burnt offering and its grain offering, and their drink offerings.

Offerings for the Feast of Booths

12[†] [y]"On the fifteenth day of the seventh month you shall have a holy convocation. You shall not do any ordinary work, and you shall keep a feast to the LORD seven days. 13And [z]you shall offer a burnt offering, a food offering, with a pleasing aroma to the LORD, thirteen bulls from the herd, two rams, fourteen male lambs a year old; they shall be without blemish; 14and their grain offering of fine flour mixed with oil, three tenths of an ephah for each of the thirteen bulls, two tenths for each of the two rams, 15and a tenth for each of the fourteen lambs; 16also one male goat for a sin offering, besides the regular burnt offering, its grain offering and its drink offering.

17"On the second day twelve bulls from the herd, two rams, fourteen male lambs a year old without blemish, 18with the grain offering and the drink offerings for the bulls, for the rams, and for the lambs, [a]in the prescribed quantities; 19also one male goat for a sin offering, besides the regular burnt offering and its grain offering, and their drink offerings.

20"On the third day eleven bulls, two rams, fourteen male lambs a year old without blemish, 21with the grain offering and the drink offerings for the bulls, for the rams, and for the lambs, in the prescribed quantities; 22also one male goat for a sin offering, besides the regular burnt offering and its grain offering and its drink offering.

[23]“On the fourth day ten bulls, two rams, fourteen male lambs a year old without blemish, [24]with the grain offering and the drink offerings for the bulls, for the rams, and for the lambs, in the prescribed quantities; [25]also one male goat for a sin offering, besides the regular burnt offering, its grain offering and its drink offering.

[26]“On the fifth day nine bulls, two rams, fourteen male lambs a year old without blemish, [27]with the grain offering and the drink offerings for the bulls, for the rams, and for the lambs, in the prescribed quantities; [28]also one male goat for a sin offering; besides the regular burnt offering and its grain offering and its drink offering.

[29]“On the sixth day eight bulls, two rams, fourteen male lambs a year old without blemish, [30]with the grain offering and the drink offerings for the bulls, for the rams, and for the lambs, in the prescribed quantities; [31]also one male goat for a sin offering; besides the regular burnt offering, its grain offering, and its drink offerings.

[32]“On the seventh day seven bulls, two rams, fourteen male lambs a year old without blemish, [33]with the grain offering and the drink offerings for the bulls, for the rams, and for the lambs, in the prescribed quantities; [34]also one male goat for a sin offering; besides the regular burnt offering, its grain offering, and its drink offering.

[35] [b] “On the eighth day you shall have a [c] solemn assembly. You shall not do any ordinary work, [36]but you shall offer a burnt offering, a food offering, with a pleasing aroma to the LORD: one bull, one ram, seven male lambs a year old without blemish, [37]and the grain offering and the drink offerings for the bull, for the ram, and for the lambs, in the prescribed quantities; [38]also one male goat for a sin offering; besides the regular burnt offering and its grain offering and its drink offering.

[39][†]“These you shall offer to the LORD at your [d] appointed feasts, in addition to your [e] vow offerings and your freewill offerings, for your burnt offerings, and for your grain offerings, and for your drink offerings, and for your peace offerings.”

[40] [3] So Moses told the people of Israel everything just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Men and Vows

NUMBERS 30 [†]Moses spoke to [f]the heads of the tribes of the people of Israel, saying, “This is what the LORD has commanded. [2][g]If a man vows a vow to the LORD, or [h]swears an oath to bind himself by a pledge, he shall not break his word. [i]He shall do according to all that proceeds out of his mouth.

Women and Vows

[3][†]“If a woman vows a vow to the LORD and binds herself by a pledge, while within her father’s house in her youth, [4]and her father hears of her vow and of her pledge by which she has bound herself and says nothing to her, then all her vows shall stand, and every pledge by which she has bound herself shall stand. [5]But if her father opposes her on the day that he hears of it, no vow of hers, no pledge by which she has bound herself shall stand. And the LORD will forgive her, because her father opposed her.

[6]“If she marries a husband, while under her [j]vows or any thoughtless utterance of her lips by which she has bound herself, [7]and her husband hears of it and says nothing to her on the day that he hears, then her vows shall stand, and her pledges by which she has bound herself shall stand. [8]But if, on the day that her husband comes to hear of it, he opposes her, then he makes void her [j]vow that was on her, and the thoughtless utterance of her lips by which she bound herself. [k]And the LORD will forgive her. [9](But any vow of a widow or of a divorced woman, anything by which she has bound herself, shall stand against her.) [10][†]And if she vowed in her husband’s house or bound herself by a pledge with an oath, [11]and her husband heard of it and said nothing to her and did not oppose her, then all her vows shall stand, and every pledge by which she bound herself shall stand. [12]But if her husband makes them null and void on the day that he hears them, then whatever proceeds out of her lips concerning her vows or concerning her pledge of herself shall not stand. Her husband has made them void, and [l]the LORD will forgive her. [13]Any vow and any binding oath to afflict herself, [1] her husband may establish, [2] or her husband may make void. [14]But if her husband says nothing to her from day to day, then he establishes all her vows or all her pledges that are upon her. He has established them, because he said nothing to her on the day that he heard of them. [15]But if he makes them null and void after he has heard of them, then [m] he shall bear her iniquity."

[16]These are the statutes that the LORD commanded Moses about a man and his wife and about a father and his daughter while she is in her youth within her father's house.

Vengeance on Midian

NUMBERS 31 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 2 [n]“Avenge the people of Israel on the Midianites. Afterward you shall [o]be gathered to your people.” 3So Moses spoke to the people, saying, “Arm men from among you for the war, that they may go against Midian to execute the LORD’s vengeance on Midian. 4You shall send a thousand from each of the tribes of Israel to the war.” 5So there were provided, out of the thousands of Israel, a thousand from each tribe, twelve thousand [p]armed for war. 6[†]And Moses sent them to the war, a thousand from each tribe, together with Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest, with the vessels of the sanctuary and [q]the trumpets for the alarm in his hand. 7They warred against Midian, as the LORD commanded Moses, and [r]killed every male. 8They killed the kings of Midian with the rest of their slain, [s]Evi, Rekem, [t]Zur, Hur, and Reba, the five kings of Midian. And they also killed [u]Balaam the son of Beor with the sword. 9And the people of Israel took captive the women of Midian and their little ones, and they took as plunder all their cattle, their flocks, and all their goods. 10All their cities in the places where they lived, and all their [v]encampments, they burned with fire, 11 [w]and took all the spoil and all the plunder, both of man and of beast. 12Then they brought the captives and the plunder and the spoil to Moses, and to Eleazar the priest, and to the congregation of the people of Israel, at the camp on [x]the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho.

13[†]Moses and Eleazar the priest and all the chiefs of the congregation went to meet them outside the camp. 14And Moses was angry with [y]the officers of the army, the commanders of thousands and the commanders of hundreds, who had come from service in the war. 15Moses said to them, “Have you [z]let all the women live? 16Behold, [a]these, [b]on Balaam’s advice, caused the people of Israel to act treacherously against the LORD in the incident of [c]Peor, and so [d]the plague came among the congregation of the LORD. 17Now therefore, [e]kill every male among the little ones, and kill every woman who has known man by lying with him. 18But all the young girls who have not known man by lying with him [f]keep alive for yourselves. [19][†] [g]Encamp outside the camp seven days. Whoever of you has killed any person and [h]whoever has touched any slain, purify yourselves and your captives on the third day and on the seventh day. [20]You shall purify every garment, every article of skin, all work of goats' hair, and every article of wood."

[21]Then Eleazar the priest said to the men in the army who had gone to battle: "This is the statute of the law that the Lord has commanded Moses: [22]only the gold, the silver, the bronze, the iron, the tin, and the lead, [23]everything that can stand the fire, you shall pass through the fire, and it shall be clean. Nevertheless, it shall also be purified [i]with the water for impurity. And whatever cannot stand the fire, you shall pass through the water. [24]You must [j]wash your clothes on the seventh day, and you shall be clean. And afterward you may come into the camp."

[25][†]The Lord said to Moses, [26]"Take the count of the plunder that was taken, both of man and of beast, you and Eleazar the priest and the heads of the fathers' houses of the congregation, [27]and [k]divide the plunder into two parts between the warriors who went out to battle and all the congregation. [28]And levy for the Lord a tribute from the men of war who went out to battle, [l]one out of five hundred, of the people and of the oxen and of the donkeys and of the flocks. [29]Take it from their half and give it to Eleazar the priest as a contribution to the Lord. [30]And from the people of Israel's half you shall take [m]one drawn out of every fifty, of the people, of the oxen, of the donkeys, and of the flocks, of all the cattle, and give them to the Levites [n]who keep guard over the tabernacle of the Lord." [31]And Moses and Eleazar the priest did as the Lord commanded Moses.

[32]Now the plunder remaining of the spoil that the army took was 675,000 sheep, [33]72,000 cattle, [34]61,000 donkeys, [35]and 32,000 persons in all, women who had not known man by lying with him. [36]And the half, the portion of those who had gone out in the army, numbered 337,500 sheep, [37]and [o]the Lord's tribute of sheep was 675. [38]The cattle were 36,000, of which the Lord's tribute was 72. [39]The donkeys were 30,500, of which the Lord's tribute was 61. [40]The persons were 16,000, of which the Lord's tribute was 32 persons. [41]And Moses gave the tribute, which was the contribution for the LORD, to Eleazar the priest, [p] as the LORD commanded Moses.

[42]From the people of Israel's half, which Moses separated from that of the men who had served in the army— [43]now the congregation's half was 337,500 sheep, [44]36,000 cattle, [45]and 30,500 donkeys, [46]and 16,000 persons — [47] [q] from the people of Israel's half Moses took one of every 50, both of persons and of beasts, and gave them to the Levites who kept guard over the tabernacle of the LORD, as the LORD commanded Moses.

[48][†]Then [r] the officers who were over the thousands of the army, the commanders of thousands and the commanders of hundreds, came near to Moses [49]and said to Moses, "Your servants have counted the men of war who are under our command, and there is not a man missing from us. [50]And we have brought the LORD's offering, what each man found, articles of gold, armlets and bracelets, signet rings, earrings, and beads, [s] to make atonement for ourselves before the LORD." [51]And Moses and Eleazar the priest received from them the gold, all crafted articles. [52]And all the gold of the contribution that they presented to the LORD, from the commanders of thousands and the commanders of hundreds, was 16,750 shekels. [1] [53] [t] (The men in the army had each taken plunder for himself.) [54]And Moses and Eleazar the priest received the gold from the commanders of thousands and of hundreds, and brought it into the tent of meeting, [u] as a memorial for the people of Israel before the LORD.

Reuben and Gad Settle in Gilead

NUMBERS 32 [†]Now the people of Reuben and the people of Gad had a very great number of livestock. And they saw the land of [v] Jazer and the land of Gilead, and behold, the place was a place for livestock. [2]So the people of Gad and the people of Reuben came and said to Moses and to Eleazar the priest and to the chiefs of the congregation, [3][†] [w] "Ataroth, [x] Dibon, Jazer, Nimrah, Heshbon, Elealeh, Sebam, [y] Nebo, and Beon, [4]the land [z] that the LORD struck down before the congregation of Israel, is a land for livestock, and your servants have livestock." [5]And they said, "If we have found favor in your sight, let this land be given to your servants for a possession. Do not take us across the Jordan."

[6][†]But Moses said to the people of Gad and to the people of Reuben, “Shall your brothers go to the war while you sit here? [7]Why will you discourage the heart of the people of Israel from going over into the land that the LORD has given them? [8]Your fathers did this, [a]when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea to see the land. [9]For when they went up to the Valley of Eshcol and saw the land, they discouraged the heart of the people of Israel from going into the land that the LORD had given them. [10][b]And the LORD’s anger was kindled on that day, and he swore, saying, [11]‘Surely none of the men who came up out of Egypt, [c]from twenty years old and upward, shall see the land that I swore to give [d]to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, because they have not wholly followed me, [12]none except Caleb the son of Jephunneh the [e]Kenizzite and Joshua the son of Nun, for [f]they have wholly followed the LORD.’ [13]And the LORD’s anger was kindled against Israel, and he made them [g]wander in the wilderness forty years, until [h]all the generation that had done evil in the sight of the LORD was gone. [14]And behold, you have risen in your fathers’ place, a brood of sinful men, to increase still more the fierce anger of the LORD against Israel! [15]For if you [i]turn away from following him, he will again abandon them in the wilderness, and you will destroy all this people.”

[16]Then they came near to him and said, [j]“We will build sheepfolds here for our livestock, and cities for our little ones, [17]but [k]we will take up arms, ready to go before the people of Israel, until we have brought them to their place. And our little ones shall live in the fortified cities because of the inhabitants of the land. [18][l]We will not return to our homes until each of the people of Israel has gained his inheritance. [19]For we will not inherit with them on the other side of the Jordan and beyond, [m]because our inheritance has come to us on this side of the Jordan to the east.” [20]So [n]Moses said to them, “If you will do this, if you will take up arms to go before the LORD for the war, [21]and every armed man of you will pass over the Jordan before the LORD, until he has [o]driven out his enemies from before him [22]and the land is subdued before the LORD; then after that you shall return and be free of obligation to the LORD and to Israel, and [p]this land shall be your possession before the LORD. [23][†]But if you will not do so, behold, you have sinned against the LORD, and [q]be sure your sin will find you out.

24 [r] Build cities for your little ones and folds for your sheep, and do what you have promised." 25 And the people of Gad and the people of Reuben said to Moses, "Your servants will do as my lord commands. 26 [s] Our little ones, our wives, our livestock, and all our cattle shall remain there in the cities of Gilead, 27 [t] but your servants will pass over, every man who is [u] armed for war, before the LORD to battle, as my lord orders."

28 So [v] Moses gave command concerning them to Eleazar the priest and to [w] Joshua the son of Nun and to the heads of the fathers' houses of the tribes of the people of Israel. 29 And Moses said to them, "If the people of Gad and the people of Reuben, every man who is armed to battle before the LORD, will pass with you over the Jordan and the land shall be subdued before you, then you shall give them the land of Gilead for a possession. 30 However, if they will not pass over with you armed, they shall have possessions among you in the land of Canaan." 31 And the people of Gad and the people of Reuben answered, "What the LORD has said to your servants, we will do. 32 We will pass over armed before the LORD into the land of Canaan, and the possession of our inheritance shall remain with us beyond the Jordan."

33 And [x] Moses gave to them, to the people of Gad and to the people of Reuben and to the half-tribe of Manasseh the son of Joseph, the kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites and the kingdom of Og king of Bashan, the land and its cities with their territories, the cities of the land throughout the country. 34 [†] And the people of Gad built [y] Dibon, [z] Ataroth, [a] Aroer, 35 Atroth-shophan, [b] Jazer, Jogbehah, 36 [c] Beth-nimrah and Beth-haran, [d] fortified cities, and folds for sheep. 37 And the people of Reuben built [e] Heshbon, [y] Elealeh, Kiriathaim, 38 [f] Nebo, and [g] Baal-meon ([h] their names were changed), and [c] Sibmah. And they gave other names to the cities that they built. 39 And the sons of [i] Machir the son of Manasseh went to Gilead and captured it, and dispossessed the Amorites who were in it. 40 [†] And Moses [j] gave Gilead to Machir the son of Manasseh, and he settled in it. 41 And [k] Jair the son of Manasseh went and captured their villages, and called them Havvoth-jair. [1] 42 And Nobah went and captured Kenath and its villages, and called it Nobah, after his own name.

Recounting Israel’s Journey

NUMBERS 33 [†]These are the stages of the people of Israel, when they went out of the land of Egypt by their companies under the leadership of Moses and Aaron. [2]Moses wrote down their starting places, [l]stage by stage, by command of the LORD, and these are their stages according to their starting places. [3]They [m]set out from Rameses in [n]the first month, on the fifteenth day of the first month. On the day after the Passover, the people of Israel went out [o]triumphantly in the sight of all the Egyptians, [4]while the Egyptians were burying all their firstborn, [p]whom the LORD had struck down among them. [q]On their gods also the LORD executed judgments.

[5][†]So the people of Israel set out from Rameses and camped at [r]Succoth. [6]And they set out from Succoth and camped at [s]Etham, which is on the edge of the wilderness. [7]And they set out from Etham and turned back to [t]Pi-hahiroth, which is east of Baal-zephon, and they camped before Migdol. [8]And they set out from before Hahiroth [1] and [u]passed through the midst of the sea into the wilderness, and they [v]went a three days’ journey in the wilderness of Etham and camped at Marah. [9]And they set out from Marah and came to [w]Elim; at Elim there were twelve springs of water and seventy palm trees, and they camped there. [10]And they set out from Elim and camped by the Red Sea. [11]And they set out from the Red Sea and camped in [x]the wilderness of Sin. [12]And they set out from the wilderness of Sin and camped at Dophkah. [13]And they set out from Dophkah and camped at Alush. [14]And they set out from Alush and camped at [y]Rephidim, where there was no water for the people to drink. [15]And they set out from Rephidim and camped in the [z]wilderness of Sinai. [16][†]And they set out from the wilderness of Sinai and camped at [a]Kibroth-hattaavah. [17]And they set out from Kibroth-hattaavah and camped at [b]Hazeroth. [18][†]And they [c]set out from Hazeroth and camped at Rithmah. [19]And they set out from Rithmah and camped at Rimmon-perez. [20]And they set out from Rimmon-perez and camped at Libnah. [21]And they set out from Libnah and camped at Rissah. [22]And they set out from Rissah and camped at Kehelathah. [23]And they set out from Kehelathah and camped at Mount Shepher. [24]And they set out from Mount Shepher and camped at Haradah. [25]And they set out from Haradah and camped at Makheloth. [26]And they set out from Makheloth and camped at Tahath. [27]And they set out from Tahath and camped at Terah.

[28]And they set out from Terah and camped at Mithkah. [29]And they set out from Mithkah and camped at Hashmonah. [30][†]And they set out from Hashmonah and camped at Moseroth. [31]And they set out from Moseroth and camped at [d]Bene-jaakan. [32]And they set out from Bene-jaakan and camped at [e]Hor-haggidgad. [33]And they set out from Hor-haggidgad and camped at [e]Jotbathah. [34]And they set out from Jotbathah and camped at Abronah. [35][†]And they set out from Abronah and camped at [f]Ezion-geber.
[36]And they set out from Ezion-geber and camped in the [g]wilderness of Zin (that is, Kadesh). [37][†]And they set out from [h]Kadesh and camped at [i]Mount Hor, on the edge of the land of Edom.

[38]And Aaron the priest went up [j]Mount Hor at the command of the Lord and died there, in the fortieth year after the people of Israel had come out of the land of Egypt, on the first day of the fifth month. [39]And Aaron was [k]123 years old when he died on Mount Hor.

[40]And [l]the Canaanite, the king of Arad, who lived in the Negeb in the land of Canaan, heard of the coming of the people of Israel.

[41]And they set out from Mount Hor and camped at Zalmonah. [42]And they set out from Zalmonah and camped at Punon. [43]And they set out from Punon and camped at [m]Oboth. [44]And they set out from Oboth and camped at [n]Iye-abarim, in the territory of Moab. [45]And they set out from Iyim and camped at [o]Dibon-gad. [46]And they set out from Dibon-gad and camped at Almon-diblathaim. [47]And they set out from Almon-diblathaim [p]and camped in the mountains of Abarim, before Nebo. [48]And they set out from the mountains of Abarim and camped in [q]the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho; [49]they camped by the Jordan from Beth-jeshimoth as far as [r]Abel-shittim in the plains of Moab.

Drive Out the Inhabitants

[50][†]And the Lord spoke to Moses in the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho, saying, [51]“Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, [s]When you pass over the Jordan into the land of Canaan, [52]then [t]you shall drive out [u] all the inhabitants of the land from before you and destroy all their [v] figured stones and destroy all their metal images and demolish all their high places. [53]And you shall take possession of the land and settle in it, for I have given the land to you to possess it. [54] [w] You shall inherit the land by lot according to your clans. [x] To a large tribe you shall give a large inheritance, and to a small tribe you shall give a small inheritance. Wherever the lot falls for anyone, that shall be his. According to the tribes of your fathers you shall inherit. [55]But if you do not drive out the inhabitants of the land from before you, then those of them whom you let remain shall be as [y] barbs in your eyes and thorns in your sides, and they shall trouble you in the land where you dwell. [56]And I will do to you [z] as I thought to do to them."

Boundaries of the Land

NUMBERS 34 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [2]"Command the people of Israel, and say to them, When you enter [a] the land of Canaan [b] (this is the land that shall fall to you for an inheritance, the land of Canaan as defined by its borders), [3] [c] your south side shall be from the wilderness of Zin alongside Edom, and your southern border shall run from the end of [d] the Salt Sea on the east. [4]And your border shall turn south of [e] the ascent of Akrabbim, and cross to Zin, and its limit shall be south of Kadesh-barnea. Then it shall go on to [e] Hazar-addar, and pass along to Azmon. [5]And the border shall turn [f] from Azmon to [g] the Brook of Egypt, and its limit shall be at the sea.

[6]"For the western border, you shall have the Great Sea and its [1] coast. This shall be your western border.

[7][†]"This shall be your northern border: from the Great Sea you shall draw a line to [h] Mount Hor. [8]From Mount Hor you shall draw a line [i] to Lebo-hamath, and the limit of the border shall be at [j] Zedad. [9]Then the border shall extend to Ziphron, and its limit shall be at [k] Hazar-enan. This shall be your northern border.

[10][†]"You shall draw a line for your eastern border from Hazar-enan to Shepham. [11]And the border shall go down from Shepham to [l] Riblah on the east side of Ain. And the border shall go down and reach to the shoulder of [m] the Sea of Chinnereth on the east. [12]And the border shall go down to the Jordan, and its limit shall be at [n] the Salt Sea. This shall be your land as defined by its borders all around.”

[13]Moses commanded the people of Israel, saying, [o] “This is the land that you shall inherit by lot, which the LORD has commanded to give to the nine tribes and to the half-tribe. [14] [p] For the tribe of the people of Reuben by fathers’ houses and the tribe of the people of Gad by their fathers’ houses have received their inheritance, and also the half-tribe of Manasseh. [15]The two tribes and the half-tribe have received their inheritance beyond the Jordan east of Jericho, toward the sunrise.”

List of Tribal Chiefs

[16][†]The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [17]“These are the names of the men who shall divide the land to you for inheritance: [q] Eleazar the priest and Joshua the son of Nun. [18]You shall take one [r] chief from every tribe to divide the land for inheritance. [19]These are the names of the men: Of the tribe of Judah, Caleb the son of Jephunneh. [20]Of the tribe of the people of Simeon, Shemuel the son of Ammihud. [21]Of the tribe of Benjamin, Elidad the son of Chislon. [22]Of the tribe of the people of Dan a chief, Bukki the son of Jogli. [23]Of the people of Joseph: of the tribe of the people of Manasseh a chief, Hanniel the son of Ephod. [24]And of the tribe of the people of Ephraim a chief, Kemuel the son of Shiphtan. [25]Of the tribe of the people of Zebulun a chief, Elizaphan the son of Parnach. [26]Of the tribe of the people of Issachar a chief, Paltiel the son of Azzan. [27]And of the tribe of the people of Asher a chief, Ahihud the son of Shelomi. [28]Of the tribe of the people of Naphtali a chief, Pedahel the son of Ammihud. [29]These are the men whom the LORD commanded to divide the inheritance for the people of Israel in the land of Canaan.”

Cities for the Levites

NUMBERS 35 [†]The LORD spoke to Moses in [s] the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho, saying, [2] [t] “Command the people of Israel to give to the Levites some of the inheritance of their possession as cities for them to dwell in. And you shall give to the Levites pasturelands around the cities.

[3]The cities shall be theirs to dwell in, and their pasturelands shall be for their cattle and for their livestock and for all their beasts. [4]The pasturelands of the cities, which you shall give to the Levites, shall reach from the wall of the city outward a thousand cubits [1] all around. [5]And you shall measure, outside the city, on the east side two thousand cubits, and on the south side two thousand cubits, and on the west side two thousand cubits, and on the north side two thousand cubits, the city being in the middle. This shall belong to them as pastureland for their cities.

[6]“The cities that you give to the Levites shall be [u] the six cities of refuge, where you shall permit the manslayer to flee, and in addition to them you shall give forty-two cities. [7]All the cities that you give to the Levites shall be [v] forty-eight, with their pasturelands. [8]And as for the cities that you shall give [w] from the possession of the people of Israel, [x] from the larger tribes you shall take many, and from the smaller tribes you shall take few; each, in proportion to the inheritance that it inherits, shall give of its cities to the Levites.”

Cities of Refuge

[9][†]And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, [10]“Speak to the people of Israel and say to them, [y] When you cross the Jordan into the land of Canaan, [11] [z] then you shall select cities to be cities of refuge for you, that the manslayer who kills any person without intent may flee there. [12]The cities shall be for you a refuge from the avenger, that the manslayer may not die until he stands before the congregation for judgment. [13]And the cities that you give shall be your [a] six cities of refuge. [14] [b] You shall give three cities beyond the Jordan, and three cities in the land of Canaan, to be cities of refuge. [15]These six cities shall be for refuge for the people of Israel, and [c] for the stranger and for the sojourner among them, that anyone who kills any person without intent may flee there.

[16][†] [d]“But if he struck him down with an iron object, so that he died, he is a murderer. The murderer shall be put to death. [17]And if he struck him down with a stone tool that could cause death, and he died, he is a murderer. The murderer shall be put to death. [18]Or if he struck him down with a wooden tool that could cause death, and he died, he is a murderer. The murderer shall be put to death. [19] [e] The avenger of blood shall himself put the murderer to death; when he meets him, he shall put him to death. [20]And if he pushed him out of hatred or hurled something at him, [f] lying in wait, so that he died, [21]or in enmity struck him down with his hand, so that he died, then he who struck the blow shall be put to death. He is a murderer. [e] The avenger of blood shall put the murderer to death when he meets him.

[22][†]"But if he pushed him suddenly without enmity, or hurled anything on him [g] without lying in wait [23]or used a stone that could cause death, and without seeing him dropped it on him, so that he died, though he was not his enemy and did not seek his harm, [24]then [h] the congregation shall judge between the manslayer and [e] the avenger of blood, in accordance with these rules. [25]And the congregation shall rescue the manslayer from the hand of the avenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to his city of refuge to which he had fled, and he shall live in it [i] until the death of the high priest [j] who was anointed with the holy oil. [26]But if the manslayer shall at any time go beyond the boundaries of his city of refuge to which he fled, [27]and [e] the avenger of blood finds him outside the boundaries of his city of refuge, and the avenger of blood kills the manslayer, he shall not be guilty of blood. [28]For he must remain in his city of refuge [i] until the death of the high priest, but after the death of the high priest the manslayer may return to the land of his possession. [29]And these things shall be for [k] a statute and rule for you throughout your generations in all your dwelling places.

[30][†]"If anyone kills a person, the murderer shall be put to death on the [l] evidence of witnesses. But no person shall be put to death on the testimony of one witness. [31]Moreover, you shall accept no ransom for the life of a murderer, who is guilty of death, but he shall be put to death. [32]And you shall accept no ransom for him who has fled to his city of refuge, that he may return to dwell in the land before the death of the high priest. [33]You shall not [m] pollute the land in which you live, for blood [m] pollutes the land, and no atonement can be made for the land for the blood that is shed in it, except [n] by the blood of the one who shed it. [34] [o] You shall not defile the land in which you live, in the midst of which I dwell, [p] for I the LORD dwell in the midst of the people of Israel."

Marriage of Female Heirs

NUMBERS 36 [†]The heads of the fathers' houses of the clan of the [q] people of Gilead the son of Machir, son of Manasseh, from the clans of the people of Joseph, came near and spoke before Moses and before the chiefs, the heads of the fathers' houses of the people of Israel. 2They said, [r] "The LORD commanded my lord to give the land for inheritance by lot to the people of Israel, and [s] my lord was commanded by the LORD to give the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother to his daughters. 3But if they are married to any of the sons of the other tribes of the people of Israel, then their inheritance will be taken from the inheritance of our fathers and added to the inheritance of the tribe into which they marry. So it will be taken away from the lot of our inheritance. 4And when [t] the jubilee of the people of Israel comes, then their inheritance will be added to the inheritance of the tribe into which they marry, and their inheritance will be taken from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers."

5And Moses commanded the people of Israel according to the word of the LORD, saying, "The tribe of the people of Joseph [u] is right. 6This is what the LORD commands concerning the daughters of Zelophehad: 'Let them marry whom they think best, [v] only they shall marry within the clan of the tribe of their father. 7The inheritance of the people of Israel shall not be transferred from one tribe to another, for every one of the people of Israel [w] shall hold on to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers. 8And [x] every daughter who possesses an inheritance in any tribe of the people of Israel shall be wife to one of the clan of the tribe of her father, so that every one of the people of Israel may possess the inheritance of his fathers. 9So no inheritance shall be transferred from one tribe to another, for each of the tribes of the people of Israel shall hold on to its own inheritance.'"

10The daughters of Zelophehad did as the LORD commanded Moses, 11 [y] for Mahlah, Tirzah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Noah, the daughters of Zelophehad, were married to sons of their father's brothers. 12They were married into the clans of the people of Manasseh the son of Joseph, and their inheritance remained in the tribe of their father's clan.

13[†]These are the commandments and the rules that the LORD commanded through Moses to the people of Israel [z] in the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho.

Study Notes for Numbers

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 1:1–10:10 Israel Prepares to Enter the Land. Numbers tells how Israel traveled from Mount Sinai to the Jordan Valley, the eastern border of the Promised Land. The first 10 chapters relate Israel’s preparations to enter the land.

FACT

Where do the events in Numbers take place? Chapters 1–9 take place near Mount Sinai. In chs. 10–12 the people travel to Kadesh, where they will spend the next 40 years (chs. 13–19). Next they journey toward Canaan (chs. 20–21), and in the final chapters of Numbers (22–36) they camp in the plains of Moab, across the Jordan River from the Promised Land.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 1:1–46 This first census has two purposes: (1) to show that God’s promise of many descendants for Abraham has been fulfilled (Gen. 22:17); and (2) to count the number of men over 20 years old who could fight.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 1:1 The wilderness of Sinai is the area near Mount Sinai. Israel has been encamped there since Ex. 19:1. The tent of meeting, otherwise known as the tabernacle (see Exodus 25–31; 35–40), had been completed just one month earlier (Ex. 40:2). It now served as God’s earthly dwelling, where he gave instructions to Moses.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 1:3 All . . . able to go to war shows that the invasion of Canaan is about to happen.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 1:20–46 The number of men between the ages of 20 and 60 comes to 603,550. This counts every man able to go to war in Israel (see vv. 45–46). When women, children, and men under 20 and over 60 are included, the total population would probably have been about 2 million, a remarkable fulfillment of God’s promises.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 1:26–27 Judah is the largest tribe. Its position in the camp (2:3) and its leadership on the march (2:9) shows Judah’s importance among the tribes. David and Jesus came from this tribe.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 1:47–54 The Levites, the priestly tribe, were not included in the census because they were responsible for the tabernacle, the most vital part of the whole camp. They dismantled, carried, and reassembled the tabernacle (vv. 50–51) and guarded it from intruders. Laypeople were not allowed to enter the tabernacle, so the Levites were told to execute any outsider breaking in (vv. 51–53).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 2:1–34 This chapter describes how the camp was to be arranged and the order in which the tribes were to march. At the center of the camp was the tabernacle. Surrounding it were the Levites. Beyond them the other tribes were encamped.

Israel in Camp and on the March

Both in camp and on the march, the tabernacle (guarded by the Levites) is always at the center, as God is at the heart of the nation. The Judah group has pride of place in the camp and leads the nation on the march (capital letters designate the lead tribe in each of the four groups).

FACT

The arrangement of the Israelites' camp symbolized the Lord's prominence. It was arranged in a square, with the east side of the camp considered the prime position. This pattern is still followed by tent-dwellers today in the Middle East. In a Bedouin camp the chieftain's tent occupies a central position. The families are then assigned positions around his tent.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 2:2 It is unknown what Israel's tribal banners and standards looked like. Facing could also be translated "at a distance from." A gap had to be kept between the non-Levites and the tabernacle.

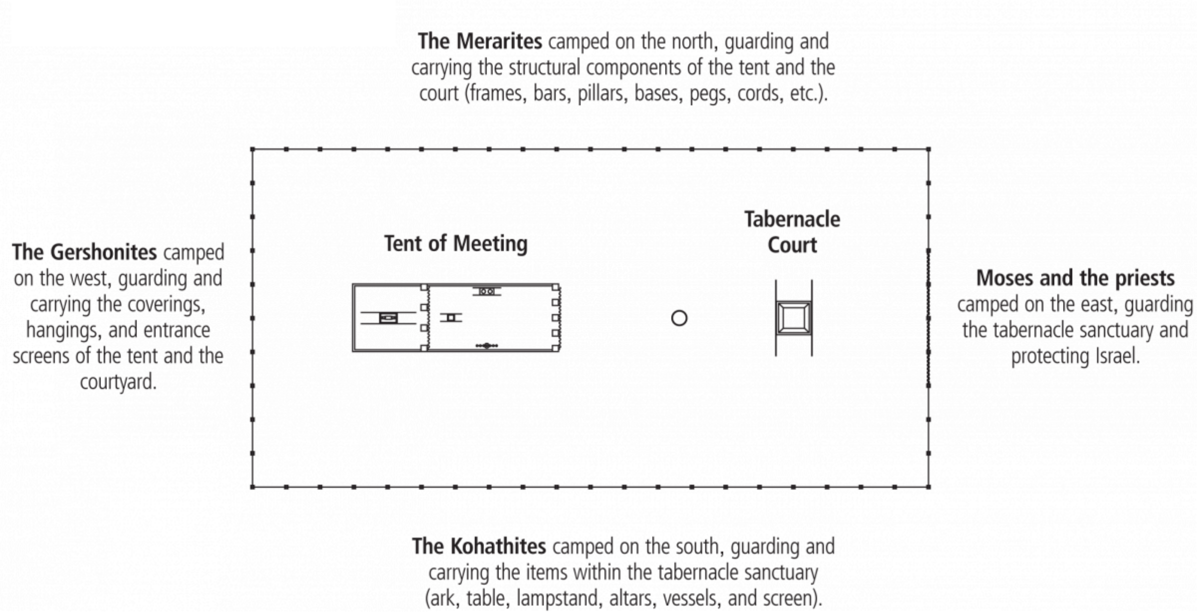
NUMBERS—NOTE ON 2:14 Reuel is elsewhere called Deuel (1:14). The letters D and R are easily confused in Hebrew script.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 3:1–4:49 The two censuses of Levites count different groups. The first (3:1–51) counts every male Levite over one month old. The male Levites took the place of the firstborn males of the other tribes to serve the Lord, so the first census ensures that the number of the Levites matches the number of other firstborn sons. The second census (4:1–49) counts Levites between 30 and 50 years of age. This census aims to find if there are enough able-bodied male Levites to transport the tabernacle.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 3:1–4 This census begins with the priests, the most holy family of the Levites. The priests were descended from Aaron, who belonged to the Kohathite clan within the tribe of Levi (Ex. 6:16–25).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 3:5–10 The two main tasks of the Levites were (1) guarding the tabernacle from intruders and (2) ministering at the tabernacle (which included carrying it from place to place).

Positions and Duties of the Levites



The Merarites camped on the north, guarding and carrying the structural components of the tent and the court (frames, bars, pillars, bases, pegs, cords, etc.).
The Gershonites camped on the west, guarding and carrying the coverings, hangings, and entrance screens of the tent and the courtyard.
Tent of Meeting
Tabernacle Court
Moses and the priests camped on the east, guarding the tabernacle sanctuary and protecting Israel.
The Kohathites camped on the south, guarding and carrying the items within the tabernacle sanctuary (ark, table, lampstand, altars, vessels, and screen).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 3:11–13 In the final plague, every firstborn male Egyptian and every firstborn of their cattle died, but the Israelite boys and cattle were spared. After this, all Israelite firstborn boys and cattle were dedicated to God. That meant the cattle were sacrificed and the boys should have served God in the sanctuary (Ex. 11:4–13:15). But after the golden calf incident, the Levites served in place of the firstborn boys (Ex. 32:25–29) from other tribes.

FACT

Guard duty. It was the Levites' job to put to death anyone other than Aaron and his sons who attempted to enter the holy ground of the tabernacle. This included Israelites and not just outsiders. Only those whom God had chosen could be appointed to serve as priests.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 3:14–39 The census results are listed by clan. Each clan is responsible for carrying a specific part of the tabernacle and for guarding a specific side of the tabernacle. The total number of Levites (v. 39) is 22,000, which is 300 less than the sum of the individual Levite clans. The likeliest explanation is that, correcting a copyist's error, the number of Kohathites should be 8,300, not 8,600. The numerals 6 and 3 are very similar in Hebrew.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 3:43 all the firstborn males . . . were 22,273. If the total population was over 2 million, then this number would represent only firstborn males born since the exodus. Other interpreters understand this figure as the total of all the firstborn in Israel, which would indicate a much smaller total population.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 3:46–49 The census showed that there were 273 fewer Levites than firstborn males in the other tribes. To redeem these 273 Israelites who had no Levite to take their place, five shekels per person had to be paid (see Lev. 27:6). This would have been about a year's pay for a herdsman.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 4:1–49 Levites between 30 and 50 years old were responsible for moving the tabernacle from campsite to campsite. This chapter specifies what each Levitical clan must do (vv. 3–33) and then records their number (vv. 34–49). For a full description of the tabernacle, see Exodus 25–31 and notes, and illustration.

FACT

Symbols of holiness are found all throughout Numbers. The tabernacle objects that were farther from the presence of God in the Most Holy Place could be made of ordinary materials like bronze. Within the Most Holy Place, everything was overlaid with pure gold.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 4:1–20 The Kohathite priests handle the most holy items of the tabernacle (such as the ark, lampstand, and altars). The non-priestly Kohathites will die if they even look at these objects (compare Ex. 33:20).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 5:1–6:27 The concept of uncleanness is important in the Bible, and it is not what most people assume the term means (for a discussion of the term, see Introduction to Leviticus; see also Leviticus 11–16). There were different levels of uncleanness, ranging from a mild form caused by marital intercourse (Lev. 15:18), to moderate caused by skin disease (Leviticus 13), to severe uncleanness triggered by sins like idolatry, adultery, and homicide. Severe uncleanness had led to the Canaanites losing their land, and Israel was warned that the same thing could happen to them (Lev. 20:22–23). People who were unclean were forbidden to participate in worship. Their uncleanness could infect the tabernacle, making it impossible for God to dwell there. The Day of Atonement cleansed the tabernacle once a year (Leviticus 16) to ensure God’s continuing presence with his people. These regulations in Numbers 5–6 protect the camp from uncleanness so that the tabernacle will remain pure and God can stay with his people.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 5:1–4 The unclean must live separate from the people, outside the campsite (compare Lev. 13:46; 2 Kings 7:3).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 5:2 leprous. The skin conditions involved are described in Leviticus 13. dead. On the uncleanness caused by death, see Num. 19:11–22. discharge. See notes on Leviticus 15.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 5:5–10 This law expands on Lev. 6:1–7, which deals with the case of someone stealing his neighbor’s property and then taking an oath denying that he did so.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 5:11–31 The ritual described here is designed to distinguish between actual adultery (vv. 12–14a) and unwarranted suspicion (v. 14b). In Israel as well as in other ancient Near Eastern countries, adulterers faced the death penalty (Deut. 22:22). It is not clear what the threat that her womb swell and her thigh fall away means, but it could refer to miscarriage. The guilty wife is threatened with childlessness, while the innocent wife is assured she shall be free and shall conceive children (Num. 5:28; compare Gen. 20:17–18).

FACT

What is a “grain offering of jealousy”? This was part of a ritual to determine the guilt or innocence of a woman accused of adultery (5:11–31). Oil and frankincense were not poured over this offering, as they were with other grain offerings. The lack of these elements showed that this was not a joyful occasion.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 5:15 grain offering. For the normal procedure, see Leviticus 2. The absence of oil and frankincense shows that this is not a joyful occasion.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 5:18 unbind the hair. An act of shaming, or perhaps of mourning (compare Lev. 10:6; 21:10).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 6:1–21 Nazirites were the most dedicated laypeople in the OT. Samson, Samuel, and John the Baptist were lifelong Nazirites, but usually a person vowed to become a Nazirite for a limited period of time.

FACT

Nazirites were dedicated laypersons. Samson, Samuel, and John the Baptist were lifelong Nazirites.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 6:7–12 Contact with death brought severe uncleanness. It had to be remedied by offering three sacrifices (sin, burnt, and guilt offerings; Lev. 1:14–16; 5:7–10, 14–16) and by starting the period of the Nazirite vow all over again: the previous period shall be void (Num. 6:12).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 6:7 his separation to God is on his head. The word translated “separation” is also used of the high priest’s crown (Lev. 8:9). Both the priestly crown and the Nazirite’s uncut hair reminded other people of their dedication to God’s service.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 6:13–20 When the period for which a Nazirite had dedicated himself ended, he had to bring various offerings. His unshaven head marked his dedication to God, and by burning the hair he symbolically gave himself to God. The shoulder of the ram is given to the priest, in addition to his usual share of the sacrifice (the breast and the thigh; see Lev. 7:31–34).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 6:22–27 This famous blessing shows that God’s will is to bless every Israelite, not just the Nazirites. The priests offer God’s blessing to the people.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 6:24–25 The LORD bless you. God blesses by giving good harvests, peace, children, and his own presence (Lev. 26:3–13). keep. That is, “guard” and “protect.” his face to shine upon you. A shining face indicates God’s favor on his people.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 6:26 The “countenance” is the face or its expression. For God to lift up his countenance involves taking notice of his people and treating them with favor. Peace (Hebrew shalom) involves more than the English sense of “lack of war”; it means total well-being.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 7:1–89 On the day when Moses had finished setting up the tabernacle. These events took place on or soon after the "first day of the first month" (see Ex. 40:2), a month before those described in Numbers 1–6, which began on "the first day of the second month" (1:1). Placing chs. 1–6 first helps readers see the significance of what is described in this chapter. Numbers 3–4 describes the duties of the priests and Levites; ch. 7 shows how the other tribes supported them. The Gershonites, who carried the tabernacle curtains and hangings, and the Merarites, who carried the poles, frames, and bases, were given wagons and oxen. The Kohathites, who carried the tabernacle furniture on shoulder poles, received none (v. 9).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 7:10–88 On 12 successive days the chiefs of the 12 tribes brought gifts to show their tribes' support for the tabernacle worship. All made equal donations. As in chs. 1–4, the tribe of Judah takes the lead (see note on 1:26–27).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 7:89 This verse reinforces the importance of the tabernacle, where God speaks to Moses from between the two cherubim. For a description of the cherubim on the ark, see Ex. 25:10–22, and illustration.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 8:1–4 The lampstand is described more fully in Ex. 25:31–40. Its construction is explained in Ex. 37:17–24; see also illustration. This section gives instructions for its operation. The seven lamps . . . give light in front of the lampstand, so that their light shines on the table opposite it in the tabernacle (see illustration). On this table are 12 flat loaves of bread symbolizing the 12 tribes of Israel (Ex. 25:23–30). Light reflects God's glorious presence (see notes on John 1:4–5; 8:12).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 8:5–22 The Levites took the place of the firstborn Israelites (vv. 16–18). Their cleansing made them fit to be offered to God. The leaders then laid hands on them, symbolizing that the Levites represent the congregation (vv. 9–11). Then, like parts of a sacrifice, they are offered as a wave offering (v. 11). "Sacrificial waving" is usually a side-to-side movement, but how the Levites were "waved" is unclear. Part of the Levites' job is to guard the tabernacle. They protect the community by preventing an Israelite from approaching the sanctuary incorrectly and thus causing a plague (see v. 19).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 8:23–26 At age 50 Levites were to retire from the duty of the service because carrying the tabernacle was too hard for older men. They could continue as guards (vv. 25–26). In 4:23 Levites start carrying the tabernacle at age 30, but here they start at age 25. Perhaps from the ages of 25 to 30 they were apprentices.

FACT

Laying on of hands in the OT was used primarily in dealing with sacrificial offerings, usually animals. This act identified the animal as belonging to a particular person. The animal was seen to be taking that person's place as a sacrifice.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 9:1–5 The first Passover took place in Egypt just before the exodus. So this Passover, celebrated a year later at Sinai, was the first one that could look back to God's faithfulness in bringing the people out of Egypt and through the Red Sea. On the fourteenth day (vv. 3, 5) places the celebration between the events described in chs. 7–8 and the censuses of chs. 1–4. according to all its statutes. See Exodus 12–13, which describes the original Passover in Egypt and gives many regulations about later Passover celebrations.

FACT

The delayed Passover (9:6–14) took place one month after the official Passover. It was for those who could not attend the regular Passover due to ceremonial uncleanness. Sharing in the Passover was a high privilege. Not participating in the Passover was grounds for exclusion from the community.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 9:6–14 The regular Passover of the "first month" was carried out properly (v. 5), but some people could not join in because they were unclean through contact with a corpse (see ch. 19). If, therefore, they wanted to celebrate the Passover at another time, they were allowed to keep it one month later than usual (9:11–12). However, failure to celebrate the Passover when one is able to do so is a serious sin, punished by being cut off (v. 13). This could mean dying suddenly as a divine punishment, being executed, or being separated from the rest of the community. if a stranger sojourns among you (v. 14). Non-Israelites living among God's people are not required to keep the Passover, but they are welcome to observe it if they would like (see Ex. 20:10; Lev. 16:29).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 9:15–23 Wherever and whenever the cloud moved, the people followed it until it stopped.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 9:15 the cloud covered the tabernacle. This evidence of God's presence (compare Ex. 40:34–38) could be seen all the time by Israel.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 10:1–10 The trumpets signal when the different tribes are to set out (see vv. 5–7). They are also used to call the congregation (v. 3) or the chiefs (v. 4). Their use in war and on the festival days is described (vv. 9–10). But blowing the trumpets was also a kind of prayer, a plea to God to remember his people and their needs, that you may be remembered before the LORD your God (v. 9). Blowing the trumpets involves long notes, whereas sounding an alarm is done with short blasts. On the day of your gladness (v. 10) would include such occasions as festivals or victory celebrations after battle.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 10:11–12:16 Marching from Sinai to Kadesh. Numbers alternates sections on law-giving and organization with "travel reports." In chs. 10–12 Israel moves from the foot of Mount Sinai to Kadesh (later called Kadesh-barnea; 32:8), an oasis on the southern border of Canaan. Another such report of travel will come in chs. 20–21.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 10:11–28 The people of Israel have been at Sinai for almost a full year (see Ex. 19:1). They now begin their journey to the Promised Land, following the cloud that represents God's presence.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 10:29–32 The relationship of Hobab and Reuel to Jethro (Ex. 3:1; 18:1–2) is uncertain. The simplest solution is that Reuel and Jethro are alternative names of Moses' father-in-law. This would make Hobab Moses' brother-in-law. In Judg. 4:11, Hobab's descendants are called Kenites, whereas here he is called a Midianite; the Kenites were most likely a subgroup of the Midianites. I will depart to my own land and to my kindred. Hobab apparently rejects a share in Canaan, and the text does not say whether Moses' offer persuades him to reconsider. In Numbers 25 and 31, the Midianites are fierce enemies of Israel, but in Judg. 1:16 and 4:11, the Kenites are Israel's allies in Canaan.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 10:33–36 The repetition of three days emphasizes the short distance that was traveled.

FACT

The ark of the covenant traveled in front of the Israelites as they marched to Kadesh (10:33); like the cloud (11:25), it symbolized God's presence and his guidance of the people.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 11:1–3 This is a general complaint by the people. As on other occasions, Moses' intercession stops God's judgment (Ex. 32:11–14, 31–32; Num. 12:13–15; 14:11–25).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 11:4–35 The people complain about the monotony of their diet of manna. What they really want, however, are the pleasures of Egypt (vv. 4–5). They are not satisfied with God's plans.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 11:7 Bdellium is a pale yellow resin found in desert areas.

FACT

Bdellium (11:7) has been described as a precious stone similar to a pearl. It has also been described as a pale, yellow tree resin. Ancient history books tell of its being used to make perfumes, which means it was probably a resin.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 11:16–23 Though God gives his people the meat they want, he punishes them for their ungrateful attitude.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 11:24–30 These seventy elders prophesied for only a short time (they did not continue doing it), but this was enough to give them credibility as Moses' assistants. Their prophesying would have involved speaking under the influence of the Holy Spirit. It is unclear whether Eldad and Medad were attached to the group of 70. In any case, they prophesied in a different place (in the camp), whereas the 70 had prophesied around the tent (v. 24). This made their prophesying much more obvious to the other Israelites, which was a concern to Joshua (vv. 27–28). Would that all the LORD's people were prophets! Moses' positive response (v. 29) will later be echoed by the prophet Joel's vision of the "day of the LORD," when "your sons and daughters shall prophesy" (Joel 2:28; compare Acts 2:17). When the OT speaks of the work of the Spirit, it is focusing on the empowering of the Spirit for service, rather than on an internal, personal experience.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 11:31–34 Quail (small partridges) migrate north across the Sinai Peninsula in the spring and fall, so these were not a regular food item. There were so many quail that anyone could collect at least ten homers (v. 32), roughly 60 bushels (480 dry gallons or 2,200 liters)! The people's greed was punished by a very great plague (v. 33). It led to many deaths, and the place was named Kibroth-hattaavah, "graves of craving" (v. 34).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 12:1–16 Moses' brother Aaron, the high priest, and his sister Miriam, a prophetess (Ex. 15:20), challenge his unique position. Their initial remarks, concerning Moses' Cushite wife, are only a cover for their real complaint: Has the LORD . . . spoken only through Moses?

FACT

Did Moses have a second wife? The "Cushite woman" mentioned in 12:1 was probably Moses' second wife. "Cush" can refer to Ethiopia or to a much larger portion of Africa, depending on the era in biblical history. The controversy about her may have been due to ethnic prejudice. If so, God's response indicates that the Lord's people must reject such prejudice.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 12:1–2 Nothing is known about the Cushite woman beyond this brief mention. Cush normally refers to ancient Ethiopia, so the Cushite woman probably was Moses' second wife.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 12:3–4 The Hebrew term translated meek is more often rendered as "humble" or "poor."

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 12:6–8 Unlike with ordinary prophets, who receive their revelations in vision and dream, God speaks to Moses mouth to mouth. This implies verbal communication. He is faithful in all my house. The Lord regarded Moses as a trusted household manager. It is not clear how seeing the form of the LORD differs from seeing his face. The Lord had previously forbidden Moses to see his face (Ex. 33:18–23). Someday, however, believers will see the Lord face to face (Ps. 17:15; Rev. 22:4). Why then were you not afraid to speak against my servant Moses? To oppose Moses was also to oppose God himself.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 12:9–12 Miriam and Aaron should have realized that Moses had a unique kind of access to God. Their lack of awareness prompts God's anger. leprous, like snow. In the Bible, "leprosy" includes a variety of skin diseases (see note on Lev. 13:1–59).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 12:13–16 As final proof of Moses' special status before the Lord, his prayer for his sister's healing is immediately answered. But she must be shut outside the camp seven days before being readmitted (see Lev. 14:1–9; Num. 5:2). God explains this punishment by comparing it to the punishment given to rebellious children (12:14; compare Deut. 25:9).

13:1–19:22 Forty Years near Kadesh. The central section of the book of Numbers spans 40 years. During this time the Israelites lived in or near Kadesh (later called Kadesh-barnea; 32:8), a large oasis about 50 miles (80 km) southwest of Beersheba. It marked the southern limit of the land of Canaan, according to 34:4. As a result of the rebellion after the spies' negative reports, God punished the people by making them wait 40 years to enter the land.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 13:1–14:45 The rebellion recorded in these chapters recalls the rebellion at Sinai, when the Israelites worshiped the golden calf (Exodus 32–34).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 13:2 land . . . which I am giving. God reminds Moses of his promise to Israel.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 13:4–16 This list of tribal leaders differs from that in chs. 1–2. Perhaps younger, more energetic leaders were needed for the spying mission. In 13:16, Hoshea ("he saves") is renamed Joshua ("Yahweh saves"). The faith Joshua will display in 14:6 shows the suitability of his new name.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 13:17–24 The spies cover some 220 miles (354 km). They travel from the Negeb, south of Beersheba, all the way to the far north—Rehob, near Lebo-hamath—about 47 miles (76 km) north of Damascus.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 13:20 The season of the first ripe grapes is late July.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 13:22 Hebron is about 20 miles (32 km) south of Jerusalem. It is where God had promised the land to Abraham forever (Gen. 17:8). Hebron is also the burial place of the patriarchs and their wives (see Genesis 23). the descendants of Anak. The Anakim were famous for their height (see Num. 13:33; Deut. 9:2). Zoan is Tanis, in the Nile delta. Several hundred years later, during Israel's monarchy, it would be Egypt's capital.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 13:23 Eshcol (which means cluster) cannot be precisely located, but grapes grow well in the Hebron area.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 13:25–33 The spies' report covers the same events described in vv. 17–24. But while the earlier account is straightforward and factual, the spies' account is vivid and exaggerated, designed to dismay the hearers. Their reference to Nephilim is most likely an excuse for their disobedience rather than an accurate report of what they saw in Canaan. The only other biblical mention of the Nephilim is before the flood (see note on Gen. 6:4).

FACT

Exaggerated claims? The spies' reports about the size of the people of Canaan were exaggerations calculated to scare the people. However, their report about the size of the cities was true. Canaanite cities of that time were large and heavily defended. The city walls were often built of stone, and some were as thick as 24 feet (7.3 m).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 14:6–9 Joshua and Caleb rightly call the reaction to the spies' report a rebellion against the LORD.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 14:6 tore their clothes. A typical sign of grief (Gen. 37:29, 34).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 14:8 If the LORD delights in us, he will bring us into this land and give it to us. God's blessing on Joshua and Caleb (see vv. 30, 38; 26:65) shows his approval of their faith.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 14:11–12 How long will this people despise me? The Lord shows the severity of his anger by threatening to destroy the nation and start all over again with Moses alone. He made a similar threat in Ex. 32:10.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 14:13–19 Moses prays here, as he did after the golden calf incident (Exodus 32).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 14:20–35 God declares, I have pardoned, according to your word. That is, he will not destroy Israel immediately; however, they cannot go ahead with their planned entry into Canaan.

FACT

God's glory (14:21) refers to his measureless power and splendor.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 14:21 all the earth shall be filled with the glory of the LORD. God's purposes will not be defeated by human failure. (See notes on Ps. 72:18–20; Isa. 6:3.)

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 14:29 All those twenty years old and upward will die in the wilderness. They were the ones who had been enrolled to fight (1:3) but in this case had refused to do so.

CALEB

Caleb was one of 12 tribal leaders sent by Moses to spy out the land of Canaan. Of the 12 spies, only Caleb and Joshua brought back an encouraging report. The other spies emphasized the strength of Canaan's inhabitants and concluded that Israel would face certain defeat. However, Caleb and Joshua urged the people not to rebel against the Lord's promise to give the land to them or to fear Canaan's inhabitants. They reminded the people that the Lord would protect them and keep his promise if they obeyed. When the congregation responded with anger, the Lord punished their disbelief. He promised that the entire generation would die in the wilderness, with the exception of Caleb and Joshua. When Caleb was 85 years old, he was given Hebron for an inheritance. (Numbers 14:24)

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 14:36–38 God forgives sin, but sin still has consequences. Israel would remain the people of God, but the generation that rebelled against him would die in the wilderness.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 14:36–37 died by plague. God judged the 10 faithless spies because their bad report had made all the congregation grumble against Moses.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 14:41–45 The Israelites disobeyed Moses' command and presumed to decide their own course of action. This brought God's judgment.

Hormah (meaning “Destruction”; see 21:3) is a village on the southern border of Canaan (Josh. 15:30).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 15:1–41 At each place where Israel encamped for a long time, laws were given: at Sinai (Exodus 20–Numbers 9), Kadesh (Numbers 15), and the plains of Moab (Numbers 28–36). The Kadesh laws are the briefest and are mainly clarifications of the Sinai laws.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 15:1–16 Leviticus 1–7 explained how each type of sacrifice was to be conducted. It did not explain that burnt offerings and peace offerings must be accompanied by flour, oil, and wine, possibly because these were not available in the wilderness. But when you come into the land (Num. 15:2), those things will be available.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 15:17–21 The principle of firstfruits is now extended to baking. The first dough is to be given to the priests.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 15:22–31 Sins that are unintentional or that are done in ignorance may be atoned for by a sin offering (compare Lev. 4:1–5:13).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 15:22–26 These verses deal with unintentional sin committed by the entire congregation (compare Lev. 4:13–21).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 15:27–29 These verses deal with unintentional sin committed by one person (compare Lev. 4:27–35). Atonement is required for such a person even though his sin is not as serious as willful sin. An immigrant (stranger who sojourns) may also seek atonement for unintentional sin (see also Num. 15:14–16).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 15:30–31 Sins committed with a high hand probably are deliberate, defiant sins, since these are contrasted with unintentional sins (vv. 22, 24, 27). Those who sin intentionally shall be cut off (see Gen. 17:14; Ex. 12:15; 31:14; Num. 9:13; and note on 9:6–14).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 15:32–36 This seems to be a case of sinning intentionally and publicly. The offender is executed, not just left to be “cut off” (compare vv. 30–31). In this case it is clear that the man has sinned, since all work on the Sabbath is prohibited (Ex. 20:10), including lighting a fire (Ex. 35:3).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 16:1 Korah was a Levite (but not a priest) from the Kohathite clan. They camped near the tribe of Reuben (2:10–11; 3:29), from which the other leaders (Dathan, Abiram, and On) came. This could explain their cooperation. On is not mentioned later.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 16:3 The claim that all . . . are holy could be based on the repeated call in the law to be holy (e.g., Lev. 11:45; 19:2; Num. 15:40). But this ethical holiness is not identical with priestly holiness, which gives the priest the right to approach God in the offering of sacrifice and incense. When the Kohathites claim that Moses and Aaron exalt themselves, they show that they do not understand that the priesthood is a matter of God's choosing (see Heb. 5:4).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 16:8–11 The Levites already enjoy great privileges in serving in the tabernacle, so they should not seek the priesthood also.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 16:12–15 The Reubenite complaint is about dying in the wilderness instead of in Canaan or Egypt. This is a rebellion against God's will and purpose like that provoked by the spies (chs. 13–14).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 16:15 I have not taken one donkey from them. Moses did not misuse his office for personal gain.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 16:16–19, 35–40 For a similar judgment on the unauthorized offering of incense, see Lev. 10:1–3.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 16:20–34 And the earth opened its mouth. God swiftly judges those who thought they could take the privileges of priesthood for themselves. Sheol (v. 33) is the place of the dead, often pictured as being under the earth (Gen. 37:35; Ps. 6:5; Isa. 14:9–11).

FACT

What is a censer? A censer (16:17) was a vessel used for burning incense before the Lord. Censers were usually made of stone, but portable ones could be made of bronze. They held live coals for burning the incense.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 16:35 fire came out from the LORD and consumed the 250 men. This punishment shows that no one should presume to come into God’s presence without God’s authorization (but compare Heb. 10:19, with regard to believers under the new covenant).

KORAH

Korah, who was from the tribe of Levi, led a rebellion against Moses and Aaron. Dathan, Abiram, and 250 well-known chiefs of the congregation joined with him. Korah and his men accused Moses and Aaron of exalting themselves above the people of Israel. They failed to recognize, however, that it is God who gives authority to whomever he chooses. As punishment for their rebellion, Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, together with their households and possessions, were swallowed up by the earth in front of the people of Israel. God sent fire to consume the 250 chiefs. The people of Israel grumbled against Moses and Aaron and remained sympathetic to the punished rebels, so God sent a plague as further punishment. (Numbers 16:31–35)

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 16:39–40 A covering for the altar is mentioned in Ex. 38:2. This new one may have replaced or been put on top of the old one.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 16:41–50 God sent a plague because all the congregation falsely accused Moses and Aaron. God had chosen Aaron as high priest. Only he could minister atonement. Aaron stopped the punishment by holding a censer and standing between the dead and the living (v. 48).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 17:1–13 This procedure showed who had the right to approach God (16:5).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 17:6 The twelve staffs probably do not include Aaron’s. There are 12 tribes in chs. 1 and 7, so Aaron’s staff brings the number to 13.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 17:10 The miraculous staff was kept in the ark (before the testimony) as a sign and a warning (see note on Heb. 9:4).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 17:12–13 we are undone. Apparently the miracle of Aaron’s staff finally convinced the people that the priests had a special place in the life of the nation.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 18:1–7 In general, the priests guarded the interior of the tabernacle (vv. 5–7) and the Levites guarded its exterior (vv. 3–4). Any outsider (that is, any unauthorized person) is to be executed if he is caught trespassing (vv. 4, 7). If a Levite enters the area guarded by the priests, both the Levite and priest will die (v. 3). These rigorous measures are designed that there may never again be wrath on the people of Israel (v. 5). The risk of divine judgment for ritual trespass will be limited to the priests and Levites, who bear iniquity connected with your priesthood (v. 1).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 18:8–20 The priests' income came from the sacrifices and similar offerings. Only priests could eat parts of the cereal, sin, and guilt offerings (vv. 8–10). All clean members of the priestly families could eat (vv. 11–19) parts of the peace offerings (v. 11), firstfruits of the harvest (vv. 12–13), and firstborn animals (vv. 17–18). The firstborn of man and the firstborn of unclean animals must be "redeemed," that is, replaced by a gift. Parents must give five shekels for their firstborn son (v. 16; see also Ex. 13:1–2, 11–16).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 18:19 Covenant of salt forever indicates a permanent and unbreakable agreement (compare 2 Chron. 13:5). The salt's significance may be as a preservative or as a seasoning of food. It points to a shared meal between two parties, symbolic of their friendship and the binding nature of their covenant.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 18:21–24 The Levites' income comes from the tithe given by the other tribes. It compensates them for having no inheritance among the people of Israel (vv. 23–24). Unlike other tribes, they had no tribal territory, only 48 cities scattered through the land (35:1–8).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 18:25–32 The Levites had to give a tenth of their income to the priests. The priests were to receive the best tenth of the tithe (vv. 29–30; compare Lev. 22:18–25; Mal. 1:6–14).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 19:1–22 Human corpses caused the most serious pollution under the Mosaic system, affecting all who approached them. Those who have been near or have touched corpses must keep away from the sanctuary and must undergo ritual cleansing.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 19:1–10 The ashes of the red heifer are described as a sin offering (v. 9). They cleanse both the sanctuary and the worshiper (see Leviticus 4).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 19:11–22 The process of the cleansing ash has two phases. Failure to carry out this rite defiles the tabernacle, and that person shall be cut off (see note on 9:6–14).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 20:1–21:35 Marching from Kadesh to the Plains of Moab. After nearly 40 years of aimless wandering in the wilderness, Israel is ready to enter the Land of Promise. Most of the older generation have died out, and the younger ones are now taking over.

The Journey to Canaan

After many years of wandering in the wilderness as a consequence of their sin, the Israelites set out from Kadesh-barnea toward the Promised Land. It is difficult to know for certain the exact route they took from Kadesh-barnea to the plains of Moab, but it is possible that they followed a course that went around the lands of Edom and Moab along a desert route, after being refused passage through those lands—or they may have taken another route, through the heart of Edom and Moab along the King's Highway.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 20:1 Kadesh was last mentioned in 13:26, when the spies returned. The wilderness of Zin, just north of Kadesh, was the area first investigated by the spies (13:21). in the first month. The year is not mentioned, but according to 33:38 Aaron died in the fortieth year after the exodus, and this would fit here. The death of Miriam is a important moment. She was the sister who saved Moses' life (Ex. 2:4–8). She was a prophetess and an influential woman (Ex. 15:20–21).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 20:2–13 Even though Moses' error seems minor, v. 12 indicates that carelessness in responding to God's command was the real issue: Because you did not believe in me, to uphold me as holy in the eyes of the people. As the mediators of God's laws to Israel, Moses and Aaron had to be exemplary in their obedience. Their failure to follow God's instruction exactly kept them from entering Canaan. Meribah means "quarreling."

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 20:14–21 your brother Israel. Esau (Edom) was the twin brother of Jacob (Israel); see Gen. 25:24–26. The Edomites were therefore the people with whom Israel had the closest connection. Yet there was always tension and hostility between these two nations.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 20:16 Kadesh, a city on the edge of your territory. In the second millennium B.C., Edom's main settlements were southeast of the Dead Sea. Kadesh-barnea (see note on 10:11–12:16) is a long way west of there, in northern Sinai. This suggests that either the Edomites were living west of the Dead Sea, or another Kadesh is meant instead of Kadesh-barnea.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 20:17–21 The King's Highway is the main trade route from Damascus to Arabia, passing through Edom in the high hills southeast of the Dead Sea. Israel wanted to travel north along this road. But the Edomites refused to let them pass through their territory, so Israel turned away. Apparently they headed south toward the Gulf of Aqaba (21:4) and then northward through the wilderness east of the King's Highway (see Deut. 2:1–8).

FACT

The King's Highway (20:17) is the main trade route from Damascus to Arabia. It runs north to south, east of the Jordan River and Dead Sea. The King's Highway has been in continuous use for more than 3,000 years.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 20:22–29 Aaron's death fulfills the judgment pronounced on him in v. 12.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 20:22–23 The location of Mount Hor is uncertain. It is probably somewhere north of the Gulf of Aqaba, if that is where the border . . . of Edom ran. "The Mount of the Prophet Aaron" near Petra, Jordan, is the traditional location.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 20:26 gathered to his people. After death, one is reunited with one's deceased relatives, according to OT belief (see note on 2 Sam. 12:23; see also Gen. 25:8; Num. 20:24; Deut. 32:50).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 20:28 stripped Aaron . . . and put them on Eleazar his son. Aaron's death meant his son must follow him as high priest, the supreme mediator between God and Israel.

ELEAZAR

Eleazar was the third son of Aaron. His older brothers, Nadab and Abihu, died after offering unauthorized fire before the Lord. Following their death, Eleazar and his younger brother, Ithamar, were placed in charge of the tent of meeting. Eleazar supervised those who guarded the sanctuary. After Aaron's death, he became high priest of Israel. He assisted Moses in taking a census of Israel. This was to establish the size of the tribes so that each could be given an appropriate inheritance. Moses commissioned Joshua as his successor in the presence of Eleazar, who later helped Joshua divide the Promised Land among the tribes of Israel. Eleazar died soon after the death of Aaron. He had one son, Phinehas, and was an ancestor of Ezra the scribe. (Numbers 20:25–28)

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 21:1–3 This victory at Hormah marks a turning point. From now on, one victory follows another until they reach the Jordan, ready to enter Canaan.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 21:1 This battle was not begun by Israel; they were attacked by the king of Arad. This was also true of other battles in the Transjordan (the area east of the Jordan River); compare vv. 21–23, 33–35; 25:17–18.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 21:2–3 devote their cities to destruction. Israel promised to keep no spoils of war for themselves if God gave them victory. Later God ordered that all Canaanite cities that resisted Israel should be treated like Hormah (Deut. 20:16–18).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 21:4–9 The people once again grumble about their food. They are punished by poisonous snake bites.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 21:9 bronze serpent. The Hebrew term translated "bronze" can also mean "copper" (see ESV footnote). The redness of copper suggests atonement (see 19:1–10). Jesus compares his own death on the cross to the uplifted serpent (John 3:14–15). By the time of King Hezekiah of Judah (c. 715 B.C.), this copper serpent had become an object of worship among the Israelites (2 Kings 18:4).

FACT

The bronze serpent. When the people of Israel looked upon the serpent in order to live (21:9), it was a prophetic picture of the day when believers would look to the crucified Christ for salvation (John 3:14–15).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 21:10–20 These verses summarize Israel's passage through the Transjordan, east of the Dead Sea, around the territory of Moab and through the land of the Amorites. Many of the places cannot be precisely located, but the general route is clear.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 21:14–15 The Book of the Wars of the LORD was perhaps a collection of ancient songs, like the Book of Jashar (see Josh. 10:13; 2 Sam. 1:18). The ESV translates the Hebrew text as it exists today. Because of the difficulty in understanding these verses, some have suggested the text may have been changed through a copyist's error.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 21:16–18 These verses celebrate finding an abundant well.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 21:21–30 Sihon, king of the Amorites, attacked Israel and was defeated (v. 24). This was the first land the Israelites settled (v. 25).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 21:27–30 This old poem celebrates the previous capture of Moabite territory by Sihon. It is probably included to show that the Israelites were justified in displacing the Amorites from their land, since they had acquired it from the Moabites by force. The poem also helps to explain why the king of Moab later hired Balaam to curse Israel (chs. 22–24): Moab had been defeated by Sihon, and Sihon had been defeated by Israel, so what hope did Moab have against Israel?

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 21:29 Chemosh was the god of Moab (Judg. 11:24).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 21:31–35 The campaign against Og is reported more fully in Deut. 3:1–11. This large area in northern Transjordan was later settled by three tribes (see Numbers 32).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:1–36:13 Israel in the Plains of Moab. These chapters tell of Israel's lengthy encampment in the plains of Moab at the northern end of the Dead Sea. Here they prepared to cross the Jordan and enter Canaan proper.

FACT

Balaam remembered. Evidence for Balaam's existence can be seen on an eighth-century B.C. inscription found in Jordan. It begins with, "Inscription of Balaam the son of Beor, the man who was seer of the gods."

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:1–24:25 This amusing account makes a serious point: the one true God is on Israel's side, so no human power can prevail against them (23:21–23). Even a pagan prophet like Balaam can see this. The story presents Balaam as a corrupt person whom God used to deliver his word.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:1–6 The Moabite king Balak summoned a prophet to defeat Israel by cursing them (v. 6). Pethor is in northern Syria near the River Euphrates, some 400 miles (644 km) by road north of Moab.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:7–14 When Balaam says that God refused him permission to go, Balak increases his payment offer. This suggests the original messengers had reported to Balak that Balaam would prophesy against Israel, for the right price.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:15–21 Money becomes much more of an issue (vv. 15–18), but again Balaam awaits God's permission.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:19 what more the LORD will say to me. Surely Balaam understood that the Lord did not want him to prophesy against Israel

(v. 12). Likely, he just wanted the money and the honor that Balak offered (v. 17; compare 2 Pet. 2:15).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:22–35 The episode with the donkey exposes Balaam's prophetic pretensions in a comical way: Balaam, the international expert on magic, cannot see the angel, but his donkey can! The encounter reinforces God's message that Balaam must speak only the word that I tell you (v. 35).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:22 But God's anger was kindled, apparently because God knew that Balaam would curse Israel for the right price, in spite of God's strict instructions to the contrary (vv. 12, 20).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:34–35 if it is evil in your sight. Despite the clear statements of God (see v. 12) and of the angel of the Lord in v. 32, Balaam continues to seek a way to get what Balak had promised him (v. 17). Even though he had just been told that this was "perverse" (v. 32), he questions the truth of this statement by saying "if it is evil" (v. 34). The angel of the LORD manifests the presence and authority of the Lord himself (compare Gen. 16:7; 18:1–2; Ex. 3:1–6; and notes).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:36–40 Balaam reasserts his intention to say only what God allows him to say (v. 38), despite the fee he has been offered.

BALAAM

Balaam was a well-known non-Israelite prophet. Balak, the king of Moab, was terrified of the Israelites, and so he summoned Balaam to place a curse on them. God spoke to Balaam, however, and forbade him to curse Israel. He permitted Balaam to go to Balak on the condition that he speak only as the Lord instructed. God reinforced this condition in a grimly humorous episode involving a talking donkey. Balak tried many times to persuade Balaam to curse Israel, but his plan backfired. Balaam instead pronounced four blessings on the nation. Although Balaam was unable to curse the Israelites, he later advised Balak to send women to seduce Israel away from God and into idolatry (31:6). (Numbers 22:22–35)

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:36 The city of Moab is on the Arnon, which formed the northern border of Moab (21:13). at the extremity of the border. By meeting him as soon as he entered Moabite territory, Balak showed his respect for Balaam.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:39 The location of Kiriath-huzoth is unknown.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:41–24:14 The first three attempts to persuade Balaam to curse Israel follow a similar pattern, though there are some significant differences in the third. This pattern shows that Balaam's words, which are the opposite of what he was hired to say, are inspired by God and therefore must be reliable.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 22:41–23:12 In the Bible, a curse was generally promised by one who had the authority to carry it out. It was not a meaningless threat. Aram is the region of Syria, where Balaam came from.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 23:9 A people dwelling alone shows Israel's sense of being a chosen people, different from other nations.

FACT

Aram. The pagan prophet Balaam described himself as being from Aram. Aram was a confederation of small towns in present-day Syria. It was named for Aram, the son of Shem and grandson of Noah. It was in this region that the Aramaic language developed.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 23:10 The dust of Jacob suggests that God's promise to the patriarchs has been fulfilled (see Gen. 13:16; 28:14). let my end be like his. That is, "Let me be like Jacob, in life and in death."

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 23:13–30 Balaam observes that God does not change his mind, so the blessing already pronounced cannot be turned into a curse (vv. 19–20). Israel will be free from disaster (v. 21).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 23:19 God is not man, that he should lie. Balaam is affirming God's truthfulness in general (compare Titus 1:2). His promises to Israel will come to pass.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 23:21 the shout of a king is among them. The king here is God himself, whose festivals are marked by shouts and trumpet blasts (e.g., 29:1).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 23:23 Because God is with Israel, attempts to attack them with magic will fail.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 23:24 lioness. This is a frightening image of Israel's military might. It is an indirect warning to Balak not to attack them.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:1–14 The mention of the Spirit of God empowering Balaam (v. 2) shows the validity of Balaam's third blessing. Balaam describes himself as the man . . . who hears the words of God.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:5–6 This picture of Israel's future success in Canaan uses imagery from the garden of Eden (see Gen. 2:9–10).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:7 Water shall flow from his buckets. This continues the image of well-watered gardens. his seed shall be in many waters. This may refer to the fertility of the land, or to the growth of Israel's population. His king shall be higher than Agag seems to be a prediction of Saul's defeat of Agag (1 Sam. 15:1–9).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:9 Balak, by demanding a curse on Israel, will himself be cursed (see v. 17).

FACT

Wild oxen (24:8) are believed to be the ancestors of domestic cattle. In the OT, the wild ox was a symbol of strength.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:15–19 An oracle was a prophet's verbal statement about what God had shown him in a vision. Balaam's final oracle begins like the previous one (compare vv. 3–4 with vv. 15–16). But it rapidly becomes a prophecy about the rise of the Davidic dynasty, which conquered the surrounding peoples, including Moab (2 Sam. 8:2–12).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:17 star . . . scepter. Symbols of kingship (see Gen. 49:10). Sons of Sheth. Probably nomads living in Canaan.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:18 Seir is another name for Edom.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:19 This prophecy ends with another prediction of Moab being ruled by the Davidic dynasty.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:20–25 Balaam adds three short oracles against the nations: Israel's future will be secure, as other nations are destroyed.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:20 This oracle predicts the defeat of the Amalekites (compare Ex. 17:8–16), probably in the time of David.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:21–22 The next oracle predicts the defeat of the Kenites by Asshur. The Kenites were on good terms with Israel (see Judg. 1:16). Asshur is probably a tribe that lived in northern Sinai (Gen. 25:3–6; 2 Sam. 2:9).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:23–24 These verses are difficult to interpret. It appears that Balaam predicts the Philistines (Kittim) arriving on the coasts of Canaan. This happened in the twelfth century B.C. They defeated Asshur and Eber before they themselves came to utter destruction at the hands of David. All these prophecies seem to focus on the time of David.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 24:25 Then Balaam rose and went back to his place. This is not the end of the story of Balaam. Later he advised Balak to send women to seduce Israel and lead them away from God (31:16–18; compare Rev. 2:14).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 25:1–18 Once again, Israel is unfaithful to the Lord. However, unlike earlier times when they were unfaithful—at Sinai (Exodus 25–34) and at Kadesh (Numbers 13–14)—in this case God does not threaten to destroy the whole nation or delay their entry into Canaan. God will fulfill his promises to Israel, in spite of their continuing unfaithfulness (see Deut. 9:5).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 25:1–2 Whore . . . sacrifices of their gods . . . ate echoes the terms used in Ex. 34:15–16. The people were breaking the first commandment.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 25:1 Shittim was the final campsite before the Israelites crossed the Jordan (see Josh. 2:1). This is possibly Tell el-Hammam, about 10 miles (16 km) east of Jericho.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 25:3 Baal was the main Canaanite fertility god. Israel was constantly tempted to worship Baal.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 25:4–5 the fierce anger of the LORD. Drastic action was the only way to stop the Baal worship and the prostitution that went with it. hang them in the sun. This most likely refers to the ancient Near Eastern practice of impaling dead bodies on a stick after execution. This was a form of disgrace (rather than burying the bodies) and served as a public warning to all.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 25:6 A chief's son (v. 14) openly violates the ban on sexual relationships with foreign women by taking a Midianite princess (v. 15) into a tent near the tabernacle. The Moabites and Midianites who had hired Balaam (22:4, 7) had evidently corrupted Israel as well.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 25:7–8 Phinehas, the high priest's son, executes the chief's son and the princess. His action stopped the plague that God sent to punish the people. Phinehas was rewarded for this by becoming the head of a permanent priestly dynasty (vv. 10–13).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 25:9 A large number of people died because of the plague. This parallels the plagues at Sinai and Kadesh (Ex. 32:35; Num. 14:37; 16:49).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 25:16–18 The ongoing struggle with Midian is reported in ch. 31 and Judges 6–8.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 26:1–65 The first census (ch. 1) established the number of fighting men in Israel. This second census establishes the size of each tribe, so that each may receive the appropriate amount of land (26:53–54). The total number of Israelites has changed very little between the censuses, but the people being counted are quite different (vv. 64–65). Only Joshua and Caleb figure in both totals. See note on 1:20–46.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 26:1 Eleazar has now taken over from his father, Aaron, as high priest.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 26:9–11 These verses recall the events in ch. 16.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 26:11 But the sons of Korah did not die clarifies a possible misreading of 16:32.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 26:19–21 sons of Judah. See Genesis 38.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 26:28–37 Verse 28 reverses the order of Ephraim and Manasseh in 1:32–35. The detail given here about Manasseh explains the identity of the daughters of Zelophehad (26:33), who are prominent in chs. 27 and 36. (See also note on 27:1–11.)

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 27:1–30:16 Chapters 27–30 address laws for the land, particularly the inheritance rules and the celebration of festivals.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 27:1–11 daughters of Zelophehad. Under traditional rules, daughters did not inherit from their father. The father would provide a monetary gift for them when they were married, but his land and other possessions were divided among his sons. If he had no sons, his estate would pass to his nearest male relative. The daughters point out that in this situation the land could pass out of Zelophehad's family and his name could be forgotten. A new rule is devised for the case of a man without sons: his daughters will inherit before his brothers or uncles (v. 8).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 27:1 Noah here is a woman's name.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 27:3–4 He was not . . . in the company of Korah (see ch. 16). Perhaps those involved in Korah's rebellion lost their right to inherit, or perhaps these daughters just wanted to make clear that their father had not been among those notorious sinners. The daughters' request shows their faith that the Promised Land would be conquered.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 27:12–23 Moses' sin at Meribah meant he could not enter the land, so a successor had to be appointed (20:10–13).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 27:12 Like Aaron, Moses climbed a mountain to die (compare 20:22–29). From it he will see the promised land (see Deuteronomy 34).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 27:20–21 some of your authority. The people will obey Joshua, as they have Moses. Eleazar the high priest will aid him by seeking God's will. The Urim and Thummim were used by the priest to make crucial decisions (see Ex. 28:30; compare note on 1 Sam. 14:41–42).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 28:1–29:40 While he lives, Moses still gives God's law to Israel. First among his final instructions are laws about public sacrifices (compare Ex. 23:10–19; 34:18–26; Leviticus 23; Deut. 16:1–17). The regulations make several points: (1) They show the importance of the sacrificial system in Israel. These sacrifices must be offered daily on behalf of the whole nation. (2) They assure Joshua that the nation will become prosperous enough to provide for this expensive worship. (3) They show the importance of the Sabbath. Every seventh day is a Sabbath, and the number of sacrifices doubles on those days. The seventh month is marked by a huge number of extra sacrifices, especially during the Feast of Booths. That feast is clearly the biggest celebration of the year.

JOSHUA

Joshua was a spiritual and military leader of Israel. He accompanied Moses part of the way up Mount Sinai and also assisted him at the tent of meeting. He was one of the 12 spies sent to explore the land of Canaan. Upon their return, most of the spies said it would be impossible to conquer the land, but Joshua and Caleb encouraged the people to trust the Lord for victory. Because of their obedience and faith, Joshua and Caleb were the only two men of their generation allowed to enter Canaan. The Lord appointed Joshua to lead Israel into the Promised Land. He was also put in charge of dividing the land among the tribes. (Numbers 27:18–23)

FACT

How wealthy would the Israelites become? The sacrifices described in chs. 28–29 called for a total of 113 bulls, 1,086 lambs, more than a ton of flour, and 1,000 bottles of oil and wine. Israel would have had to become a successful agricultural society after reaching the Promised Land in order to meet the requirements for these sacrifices.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 28:1–8 Pleasing (or “soothing”) aroma is a phrase used often to describe God’s acceptance of a sacrifice (see Gen. 8:21).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 28:9–10 There are twice as many burnt offerings on the Sabbath as on other days of the week.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 28:11–15 The Israelites celebrated the first day of each month, which was indicated by the new moon (see The Hebrew Calendar). As many sacrifices were offered then as at Passover or Pentecost (see vv. 16–31). It was an occasion for family worship (1 Sam. 20:5–6) and a day when commerce stopped (Amos 8:5).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 28:16–25 The Feast of Unleavened bread immediately followed Passover, which is celebrated on the fourteenth day of the first month (in late March or April).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 28:17 Unleavened, that is, made without yeast (see Ex. 12:15–20).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 28:18 Holy convocation is probably a gathering for worship. Ordinary work, literally, "work of labor." This seems to be a milder ban than the rule for the Sabbath and the Day of Atonement, when absolutely no work was permitted (see Lev. 23:3, 28; Num. 29:7).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 28:19–24 These sacrifices are to be offered on each of the seven days of unleavened bread.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 28:26–31 The Feast of Weeks took place seven weeks after Passover. It coincided with the grain festival in Israel, so it is called the day of the firstfruits (see also Lev. 23:15–22). This description (Num. 28:1–29:40) requires one more bull and one less ram than the description in Leviticus.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 29:1–6 Every new moon was a holy day (28:11–15). Since the seventh month of the year was holy, the first day of that month was especially holy. It was marked by a holy convocation, no ordinary work, the blowing of trumpets, and almost twice as many sacrifices as on other new moon festivals. According to 10:10, blowing the trumpets at the festivals is a plea to God to act on Israel's behalf.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 29:7–11 The Day of Atonement is fully described in Leviticus 16. This is simply a list of the main sacrifices and a reminder of the layperson's duties.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 29:12–38 During the Feast of Booths all the Israelites lived in temporary dwellings. This reminded them of their time in the wilderness (see Lev. 23:33–43). The feast's importance is shown by the large number of sacrifices the priests offered. The feast occurred at the end of harvest in October, so that the people could thank God for the harvest and to pray for rain in the following months. In Israel, rain is expected only between October and April.

FACT

During the Feast of Booths, the Israelites were to live in temporary dwellings ("booths") as a reminder of their life in the wilderness. The large number of sacrifices offered during the eight days shows the importance of this feast. The Feast of Booths was celebrated in October, at the end of the agricultural year. It was also a time to pray for plenty of rain in the next year. In Israel, rain is expected only between October and April.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 29:39–40 Private sacrifices, such as those connected with vows, may be offered at any time.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 30:1–16 In a crisis people often make a vow: "If God delivers me from X, I promise to do Y." There are many examples in the Bible (e.g., Gen. 28:20–22; 1 Sam. 1:11). There is a danger that when the crisis is over, the vow may not be fulfilled (see Deut. 23:21–23; Eccles. 5:4–6). These laws concern those few circumstances in which a person may be excused from fulfilling a vow.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 30:1–2 When a man makes a vow (to do something like offer a sacrifice) or a pledge (to go without something), he shall not break his word.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 30:3–9 Until she marries, a woman is under her father's authority. If she makes a vow and her father objects, she will be forgiven for not carrying it out. If a woman under a vow gets married, her new husband can cancel her vow. Widows and divorcees are not subject to the authority of a father or a husband, so their vows are binding.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 30:10–16 Vows a woman makes after marrying may be canceled by her husband as soon as he hears of them, but if he says nothing they are binding (v. 14). If he later objects to the vows, he—not his wife—will suffer the penalty for breaking them.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 31:1–54 The Midianites were nomadic people who lived in the deserts on the outside edges of Canaan. They were associated with the Ishmaelites, Amalekites, and Moabites. It is the Moabite Midianites who are discussed here. Urged on by Balaam (v. 16), they had seduced the Israelites into worshiping Baal at Peor (ch. 25). Since persuading Israelites to worship other gods is a capital offense (see Deuteronomy 13), the Lord instructs the people to go to war against these Midianites. This will be the last campaign headed by Moses (Num. 31:1–2), but the Israelites will fight many similar battles against the enemies of God after they enter Canaan.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 31:6 Phinehas had intervened to stop the plague brought on by the worship of Baal (25:7). Here, he goes into battle as chaplain of the army because his father, the high priest, has to keep away from the pollution caused by death in battle. Vessels of the sanctuary may refer to the priestly garments, the ark, or the Urim and Thummim (see note on Ex. 28:30).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 31:13–18 Normally in wars outside Canaan, the women were spared (Deut. 20:14). But because these women had seduced the Israelites, they had to be killed (compare Num. 25:6–9). Killing every male among the little ones would end the Midianite nation. Girls without sexual experience, who were not involved with the sin of Baal-peor, were allowed to live and marry Israelite warriors.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 31:19–24 Though the war had been ordered by God, it still made the soldiers unclean. They and the spoils had to be purified.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 31:25–47 Half of the spoils of war went to the soldiers and half to those who stayed behind (v. 27; compare 1 Sam. 30:24). From their share the soldiers were to give one-five-hundredth to the priests. From their share the people were to give one-fiftieth to the Levites. Similar instructions are given in Num. 18:26 for tithes.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 31:48–54 Conducting a census involves an offering of half a silver shekel per person (Ex. 30:11–16). On this occasion they dedicate all the gold captured from the Midianites: 16,750 shekels (Num. 31:52) on behalf of 12,000 warriors (v. 5).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 32:1–42 The conquest of the kings of Transjordan, Sihon and Og, was described in ch. 21. The high hills (2,500 feet [762 m]) of Transjordan were good for raising cattle, so it must have seemed a good idea for some of the Israelites to settle there. However, since Transjordan south of the Sea of Galilee is outside the Promised Land, Moses is shocked by Reuben and Gad’s request.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 32:1 The land of Jazer means the land surrounding the village of Jazer. Gilead normally means the hilly area south of the Jabbok River, but in vv. 39–40 it refers to the area north of the Jabbok.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 32:3 These towns were part of Sihon's territory (see 21:2–32). Later they became part of the land of Reuben and Gad (32:34–38).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 32:6–19 Moses summarizes the spy episode (see chs. 13–14). He sees Reuben and Gad's proposal as provoking God to abandon Israel entirely (32:15).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 32:23 Your sin will find you out, that is, "you will suffer for your sin." God will not endure unfaithfulness among his people.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 32:34 Dibon and Aroer later belonged to Reuben (Josh. 13:16–17). Heshbon (Num. 32:37) would belong to Gad (Josh. 21:39).

FACT

Amorites. The Amorites inhabited the land west of the Euphrates River, which included Canaan. In fact, the name "Amorite" means "westerner." They spoke a dialect similar to both the Canaanites and the Hebrews and were often considered to be a Canaanite tribe. However, many of the Canaanites considered the Amorites to be barbaric and uncivilized. Eventually Israel would conquer the Amorites and absorb them into Hebrew culture as servants.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 32:40–42 The settlement of Manasseh in northern Gilead (see also Josh. 13:29–31) seems to have caused less trouble than the settlement of Reuben and Gad in southern Gilead. This may have been because northern Gilead was within the boundaries of Canaan (see Numbers 34).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 33:1–56 Most of Numbers is said to have been given to Moses by God ("The LORD spoke to Moses"; 1:1; 2:1; 3:5; etc.), but only ch. 33, which lists Israel's campsites on the journey to Canaan, is said to have been recorded by Moses (v. 2). The chapter can be seen as Moses' testimony of what God has done for Israel during his lifetime.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 33:1–4 These verses summarize Exodus 2–12. On their gods also the LORD executed judgments. The ten plagues and the defeat of Pharaoh, who was regarded as a god, demonstrated that the Lord is more powerful than all the gods of Egypt. As the Lord had treated the Egyptian gods, so Israel was to wipe out the worship of rival deities in Canaan (Num. 33:52).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 33:5–15 These verses summarize Ex. 12:37–19:2.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 33:16–17 These verses summarize Israel's journeys in chs. 10–11.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 33:18–29 This part of the wilderness journey is mentioned only here.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 33:30–34 This part of the wilderness journey is probably mentioned also in Deut. 10:6–7, if the similar place names refer to the same places.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 33:35 Ezion-geber is probably at the northern end of the Gulf of Aqaba.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 33:37–49 These verses summarize chs. 20–25.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 33:50–56 Deuteronomy and Judges often repeat this stern warning against behaving like ungodly people and mixing their religions with Israelite worship. Israel will go into exile if she compromises her faith in God: I will do to you as I thought to do to them.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 34:1–15 God promised Abraham that his descendants would be given "all the land of Canaan" (Gen. 17:8). Here the Lord describes the borders of the Promised Land. The boundary is not always clear. In general terms, Canaan consisted of the land between the Mediterranean Sea and the Jordan River plus modern Lebanon and a portion of modern Syria.

The Boundaries of the Promised Land

The original boundaries of the Promised Land as defined in Numbers 34 are somewhat different from the boundaries of the land that the Israelites eventually occupied. The original boundaries included the mountainous area north of Sidon and Damascus, but the Israelites never occupied this area during the settlement period. Conversely, the original boundaries did not include land east of the Jordan River, but the Israelites occupied this land after capturing it from Og and Sihon.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 34:1–6 The southern border of the Promised Land runs from the southern end of the Dead Sea (the Salt Sea), south of Kadesh-barnea, to the Mediterranean coast, west of Gaza (the Brook of Egypt). The western border of the Promised Land is the Mediterranean (the Great Sea).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 34:7–9 The northern border of the Promised Land runs from the Mediterranean, north of Byblos, to Hazar-enan, which was perhaps an oasis on the edge of the desert east of Zedad.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 34:10–15 The eastern border of the Promised Land is the hardest to define. From Hazar-enan it apparently runs southward along the edge of the desert before swinging westward to the Sea of Galilee (Sea of Chinnereth). From there it runs south along the Jordan River to the Dead Sea.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 34:16–29 The men who divide the land are the chiefs of the 10 tribes who will settle west of the Jordan. No chiefs of Reuben and Gad are listed because they are settling east of the Jordan.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 35:1–8 The Levites were excluded from inheriting land (26:52–62). They were to live among the people, instructing them in God’s ways. In return, they were to receive tithes from the other tribes in the form of livestock. Here, they are assigned 48 villages and the surrounding grazing land for their livestock. The grazing land was to extend for a thousand cubits (500 yards [457 m]) from the wall of each city.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 35:9–34 Canaan is the holy land because God dwells there. He is the holy one, and sin and death are in absolute opposition to him (see note on 5:1–6:27). If the land is made unclean by violent death, atonement must be made. Otherwise the Lord will not protect the land, and Israel will be exiled. The cities of refuge and the laws associated with them show how cases of homicide are to be handled. The Israelite legal system involved the injured person seeking justice in court. A manslayer is someone who kills any person without intent. The manslayer is protected from the victim’s angry relatives (the avenger of blood). He may flee to one of the cities of refuge. There, the judges will decide whether the killer deserves to be executed for his crime. The guidelines for these decisions are stated in 35:16–24.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 35:9–15 Six cities of refuge were chosen. The law of refuge applied not just to the Israelites but also to the stranger and the sojourner (compare 15:15; Lev. 18:26).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 35:16–21 These verses list examples of premeditated killings. The killer in these cases had with him a lethal weapon (an iron tool or a stone), or he was known to have hatred for his victim, or he was lying in wait for him. These killings all count as murder, and the killer may be executed.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 35:22–29 These verses list examples of killings that are the result of an accident or impulsive behavior (he pushed him suddenly without enmity). The killer in this case is punished by confinement in one of the cities of refuge. If the avenger of blood finds him outside the boundaries of the city, he may kill him. The manslayer must stay there until the high priest dies.

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 35:30–34 At least two witnesses are required for a murder conviction (see also Deut. 19:15–21). Ransom (monetary compensation) is not permitted for murder or less serious homicide (see also Gen. 9:5–6).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 36:1–13 The jubilee occurred every 50 years. During that time, land that had been sold was to return to its original owner (Lev. 25:10–28). This did not apply to land transferred through marriage. Normally when men married, there was no transfer of land; it stayed within the man’s own tribe. But if a land-owning daughter married, the land would be transferred to her husband’s family and tribe. To prevent tribal land being lost through intermarriage, Moses rules that Zelophehad’s daughters (see Num. 27:1–11) must marry men from their own tribe (36:6). In this way tribal lands will be preserved. This insistence that every one . . . shall hold on to his own inheritance can be seen as a promise that the tribes will always live in their God-given land (Gen. 17:8).

NUMBERS—NOTE ON 36:13 The book closes by reminding the reader that the LORD commanded its content through Moses. It is to Israel’s benefit to obey these instructions.

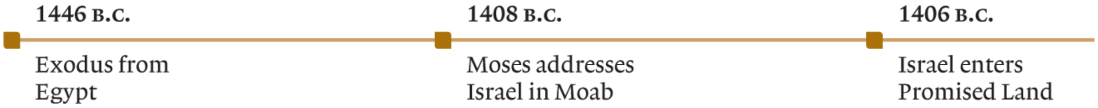
Introduction to Deuteronomy

Introduction to Deuteronomy

Timeline



Theme

Deuteronomy, the final book in the Pentateuch, contains Moses' last three sermons and two prophetic poems about Israel's future. Reflecting on the nation's past mistakes, Moses urges the people not to repeat those errors when they enter the Promised Land. Possessing Canaan will fulfill the promises made to the patriarchs, but if the people fall into idolatry or fail to keep the law, they will be exiled.

Purpose and Background

Deuteronomy is largely a sermon, or set of sermons, preached by Moses to all of Israel shortly before his death. It is a motivational sermon, urging Israel's faithful obedience to the covenant laws given 40 years previously at Sinai (Exodus 19–40).

The sermon is especially important because of Israel's earlier failure to conquer the land (see Deut. 1:19–46). Now that they are back at the eastern border of the Promised Land, Moses wants to ensure that the people will be obedient this time. The sermon encourages obedience by constantly reassuring them of God's faithfulness and his power to keep his promises. God is still faithful, despite Israel's persistent sin (e.g., 1:19–46; 9:1–29). He is merciful to his sinful people, for the sake of his promises to Abraham.

In Deuteronomy, Moses urges Israel to trust and obey, and to conquer the land. He highlights God's uniqueness (e.g., ch. 4), his power over other nations and armies (e.g., 2:1–23), and his grace and faithfulness. He reminds the people that God promised the land, that God's gift of the land is undeserved (9:4–6), and that the land is full of good things (e.g., 6:10–12).

Moses emphasizes the importance of God's law, given at Sinai (e.g., see 5:1–3). The large central section of Deuteronomy (12:1–26:19) recites the law and urges Israel to keep it. The law is wide-ranging, incorporating all areas of life (economics, family and sexual relationships, religious observance, leadership, justice, guidance, food, property, and warfare). The details of the laws expand upon the great command of 6:5, that Israel is to love the Lord with all its heart, soul, and strength. Chapters 12–16 show what such total love of God will look like and provide examples of what the Ten Commandments (ch. 5) mean in practice.

Key Themes

1. God's uniqueness (4:1–40).
2. Israel's election (4:5–9; 7:6; 10:14–15; 14:1–2, 21).
3. The land's goodness (1:25; 6:10–11; 8:7–13; 11:8–15).
4. God's faithful promise-keeping (1:8, 19–46; 7:1–26; 8:1–20; 9:1–10:11).
5. God's power to defeat the enemies in the land (2:1–3:11; 4:1–40; 7:1–26).
6. Exhortations to Israel to love, serve, fear, and obey God (6:5; 10:12–13; 13:4).
7. Warnings against idolatry and instruction for proper worship of God (4:9–31; 5:6–10; 7:1–5; 8:19–20; 12:1–32; 13:1–18).
8. The impact of God's laws (12:1–27:26).
9. Moses' imminent death (1:37; 3:26; 4:21; 32:51; 34:1–12).

Outline

I. Prologue (1:1–5)
II. Moses' First Speech: Historical Prologue (1:6–4:43)
III. Moses' Second Speech: General Covenant Stipulations (4:44–11:32)
IV. Moses' Second Speech: Specific Covenant Stipulations (12:1–26:19)
V. Moses' Third Speech: Blessings and Curses (27:1–28:68)
VI. Moses' Third Speech: Final Exhortation (29:1–30:20)
VII. Succession of Leadership (31:1–34:12)

The Setting of Deuteronomy

c. 1406 B.C.

The book of Deuteronomy records Moses’ words to the Israelites as they waited on the plains of Moab to enter Canaan. Moses begins by reviewing the events of Israel’s journey from Mount Sinai to the plains of Moab.

The Global Message of Deuteronomy

A New Generation and the Redemptive Story

The book of Deuteronomy takes place within the larger context of Numbers 22 to Joshua 2. The historical setting is that of Israel encamped on the plains of Moab, just outside of the Promised Land. For forty years, Israel wandered in the wilderness between Egypt and the Promised Land. During this time, the first generation perished except for Caleb, Joshua, and Moses. Deuteronomy is Moses' final address to second-generation Israel. Its purpose is to challenge and exhort this generation to total devotion to the Lord within a renewed covenant relationship, promising blessings for loyalty and threatening curses for rebellion.

Devotion to the King of Israel

Most of Deuteronomy is comprised of three speeches of Moses, each of which expresses Israel's covenant relationship with God. Deuteronomy is a covenant document, similar in many ways to the covenant agreements between kings and their subjects in the ancient Near Eastern world. Deuteronomy reveals that the Lord, Israel's king, established a covenantal relationship with Israel.

This relationship was based on loyalty, similar to a marriage relationship; it was not an impersonal contract based on regulations, as in a formal business arrangement. Deuteronomy is fundamentally about relationship, not rules. At the heart of the covenantal relationship is the one true living God and his demand for absolute devotion from his people. Deuteronomy 6:4–5 summarizes the life of faithfulness that the Lord required of his people: "Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God, the LORD is one. You shall love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might."

Such love for God is expressed through obedience to his commands. Faith always expresses itself in obedience (see John 14:15, 21; Gal. 5:6; James 2:14–26; 1 John 5:3). True faith in God is demonstrated by a life of faithfulness to God. Indeed, the Lord Jesus Christ taught that Deuteronomy 6:4–5 was the heart of the covenant and its greatest obligation; love for God must result in love for one's neighbor (Mark 12:28–31).

A Heart of Sin and the Coming Promise

Deuteronomy must be viewed within the larger framework of redemptive history. The golden calf rebellion narrated in the book of Exodus had already revealed that Israel was a part of the problem that she had been set apart to solve. Israel was "set on evil" as a stiff-necked people (Ex. 32:9–10, 22; 33:5; 34:9). Like all people everywhere, Israel had inherited from Adam an evil heart (see the "Global Message" essays on Genesis and Exodus). Deuteronomy develops this theme, describing Israel's "stiff-necked" condition as uncircumcision of the heart (Deut. 9:6, 13–14; 10:16). Although Moses gives the people the choice of either covenant blessing or curse, he knows that they will deserve cursing rather than blessing, since their hearts are full of rebellion (31:21, 27; 32:5, 20). In the mysterious counsel of his sovereign will, the Lord had not yet given Israel a new heart (29:4).

Moses promises, however, that in their eventual exile the Lord himself will circumcise Israel's heart, so that they can be loyal to God and thus inherit the blessings (Deut. 30:6). The covenant Lord will provide what he demands; he will perform the miraculous "heart surgery" required to recreate his people so that, released from the slavery to sin inherited from Adam, they might be completely devoted to their God. Enabled by sovereign grace, the people of God will inherit the covenantal blessings of the paradise-kingdom begun in Eden (28:1–14; 30:1–10). Centuries of sinful history (as recorded in Joshua through the books of Kings and Chronicles) will pass before Israel finds herself in exile under the threatened Mosaic covenant curses. And five more centuries will come and go before the promised circumcision of the heart finally arrives, in the person and work of Jesus Christ (Rom. 2:28–29; Phil. 3:3; Col. 2:11). In his cross and resurrection, the Lord recreates a people who fulfill the law by the enabling power of the Spirit (Rom. 8:1–4).

Universal Themes in Deuteronomy

What God requires of everyone. While the cultures of the world are diverse, the essence of what God requires from his covenant people is the same for all people everywhere. God demands a life of total devotion. Deuteronomy regulated all of life for Israel, teaching them that everything must be subject to the Lord. All of life is worship to be offered to God.

The Mosaic covenant of Deuteronomy is not the church's covenant; the church lives in relationship with God under the new covenant (Jer. 31:31–34; Luke 22:20; 2 Cor. 3:6; Heb. 8:6–13). Nevertheless, both covenants govern every area of life; it is only the way in which loyalty to God is expressed that has changed. In every era of redemptive history, God calls people to yield all that they are to his goodness and lordship.

The letter and the spirit of the law. Deuteronomy's commandments were not intended to be exhaustive, covering every possible circumstance. Instead, they established a standard by offering examples. They set out in broad outline what loyalty to the Lord should look like within the Mosaic covenant and offered guidelines that enabled judges and priests to render judgments upon matters not explicitly covered by the Mosaic law.

In a similar way, the New Testament does not attempt to cover every possible situation. With Spirit-led wisdom, believers around the world must discern the Lord's will in difficult matters not specifically addressed in Scripture (Rom. 12:2; Eph. 5:10, 17; Col. 1:9–10). As we walk in love, we know we are doing that which pleases God and expresses the spirit of the law (Rom. 13:8–10).

The Global Message of Deuteronomy for Today

Physical health and material wealth? Deuteronomy teaches that the Lord blesses his people for faithfulness and curses them for rebellion. Some segments of the global church, however, have twisted this into a "prosperity" gospel which promises physical health and material wealth to believers in this life if they will only have enough faith. This teaching, however, fails to account for the clear instruction of the New Testament. It is true that God does ultimately bless the righteous and condemn the wicked, but the material expression of this spiritual reality awaits Christ's final and triumphant return.

Suffering and trials. Prosperity teaching fails to grasp the "already–not yet" situation of the church. While the new age has dawned in Christ's first coming, it will not be completed until his return. Therefore, while the blessings of the age to come have begun, they will not be poured out in fullness upon the church until Christ returns and completes the work of salvation. In fact, the New Testament teaches that the normal experience of the church in this present evil age will be suffering and trials, following the pattern of her crucified Lord (Matt. 10:25; 1 Pet. 2:21; 4:12–13). There will be no crown without a cross. The global church must come to terms with the truth that glory is promised but its visible manifestation is still to come (2 Cor. 4:17–18). The church is still "in the wilderness" and has not yet arrived at the ultimate Promised Land.

The Command to Leave Horeb

DEUTERONOMY 1 [†]These are the words that Moses spoke to all Israel beyond the Jordan in the wilderness, in [a]the Arabah opposite [b]Suph, between [c]Paran and Tophel, Laban, Hazeroth, and Dizahab. [2][†]It is eleven days' journey from Horeb by the way of Mount Seir to [d]Kadesh-barnea. [3][e]In the fortieth year, on the first day of the eleventh month, Moses spoke to the people of Israel according to all that the LORD had given him in commandment to them, [4]after [f]he had defeated Sihon the king of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon, and [g]Og the king of Bashan, who lived in Ashtaroth and in [h]Edrei. [5][†]Beyond the Jordan, [i]in the land of Moab, Moses undertook to explain this law, saying, [6][†]"The LORD our God said to us in Horeb, [j]'You have stayed long enough at this mountain. [7][†]Turn and take your journey, and go to [k]the hill country of the Amorites and to all their neighbors in [a]the Arabah, [l]in the hill country and in the lowland and in the Negeb and [l]by the seacoast, the land of the Canaanites, and Lebanon, as far as the great river, the river Euphrates. [8][†]See, I have set the land before you. Go in and take possession of the land that the LORD swore to your fathers, [m]to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give to them and to their offspring after them.'

Leaders Appointed

[9]"At that time [n]I said to you, 'I am not able to bear you by myself. [10][†]The LORD your God has multiplied you, and behold, [o]you are today as numerous as the stars of heaven. [11][p]May the LORD, the God of your fathers, make you a thousand times as many as you are and bless you, [q]as he has promised you! [12][r]How can I bear by myself the weight and burden of you and your strife? [13][†][s]Choose for your tribes wise, understanding, and experienced men, and I will appoint them as your heads.' [14]And you answered me, 'The thing that you have spoken is good for us to do.' [15]So I took the heads of your tribes, wise and experienced men, [t]and set them as heads over you, commanders of thousands, commanders of hundreds, commanders of fifties, commanders of tens, and officers, throughout your tribes. 16[†]And I charged your judges at that time, ‘Hear the cases between your brothers, and [u]judge righteously between a man and his brother or the alien who is with him. 17[v]You shall not be partial in judgment. You shall hear the small and the great alike. You shall not be intimidated by anyone, for [w]the judgment is God’s. And the case that is too hard for you, you shall [x]bring to me, and I will hear it.’ 18And I commanded you at that time all the things that you should do.

Israel’s Refusal to Enter the Land

19“Then we set out from Horeb and [y]went through all that great and terrifying wilderness that you saw, on the way to the hill country of the Amorites, as the LORD our God commanded us. And [z]we came to Kadesh-barnea. 20[†]And I said to you, ‘You have come to the hill country of the Amorites, which the LORD our God is giving us. 21See, the LORD your God has set the land before you. Go up, take possession, as the LORD, the God of your fathers, has told you. [a]Do not fear or be dismayed.’ 22Then all of you came near me and said, ‘Let us send men before us, that they may explore the land for us and bring us word again of the way by which we must go up and the cities into which we shall come.’ 23[†]The thing seemed good to me, and [b]I took twelve men from you, one man from each tribe. 24And [c]they turned and went up into the hill country, and came to the Valley of Eshcol and spied it out. 25And they took in their hands some of the fruit of the land and brought it down to us, and brought us word again and said, ‘It is a good land that the LORD our God is giving us.’

26“Yet you would not go up, but rebelled against the command of the LORD your God. 27And [d]you murmured in your tents and said, ‘Because the LORD [e]hated us he has brought us out of the land of Egypt, [f]to give us into the hand of the Amorites, to destroy us. 28[†]Where are we going up? [g]Our brothers have made our hearts melt, saying, [h]“The people are greater and taller than we. The cities are great and fortified up to heaven. And besides, we have seen [i]the sons of the Anakim there.”’ 29[†]Then I said to you, ‘Do not be in dread or afraid of them. 30The LORD your God who goes before you [j]will himself fight for you, just as he did for you in Egypt before your eyes, 31and in the wilderness, where you have seen how the LORD your God

[k] carried you, as a man carries his son, all the way that you went until you came to this place.' [32][†]Yet in spite of this word [l] you did not believe the LORD your God, [33] [m] who went before you in the way [n] to seek you out a place to pitch your tents, in fire by night and in the cloud by day, to show you by what way you should go.

The Penalty for Israel's Rebellion

[34]"And the LORD heard your words and was angered, and he swore, [35] [o] 'Not one of these men of this evil generation shall see the good land that I swore to give to your fathers, [36][†] [p] except Caleb the son of Jephunneh. He shall see it, and to him and to his children I will give the land on which he has trodden, because he has wholly followed the LORD!' [37][†]Even with me [q] the LORD was angry on your account and said, 'You also shall not go in there. [38] [r] Joshua the son of Nun, [r] who stands before you, he shall enter. [s] Encourage him, for he shall cause Israel to inherit it. [39][†]And as for [t] your little ones, who you said would become a prey, and your children, who today [u] have no knowledge of good or evil, they shall go in there. And to them I will give it, and they shall possess it. [40]But as for you, [v] turn, and journey into the wilderness in the direction of the Red Sea.'

[41]"Then you answered me, [w] 'We have sinned against the LORD. We ourselves will go up and fight, just as the LORD our God commanded us.' And every one of you fastened on his weapons of war and thought it easy to go up into the hill country. [42][†]And the LORD said to me, [x] 'Say to them, Do not go up or fight, [y] for I am not in your midst, lest you be defeated before your enemies.' [43]So I spoke to you, and you would not listen; but you rebelled against the command of the LORD and [z] presumptuously went up into the hill country. [44] [a] Then the Amorites who lived in that hill country came out against you and chased you [b] as bees do and beat you down in Seir as far as [c] Hormah. [45]And you returned and wept before the LORD, but the LORD did not listen to your voice or give ear to you. [46]So [d] you remained at Kadesh many days, the days that you remained there.

The Wilderness Years

DEUTERONOMY 2 [†]“Then we turned and journeyed into the wilderness in the direction of the Red Sea, [e]as the LORD told me. And for many days we traveled around Mount Seir. [2][†]Then the LORD said to me, [3]‘You have been traveling around this mountain country [f]long enough. Turn northward [4]and command the people, “You are about to pass through the territory of [g]your brothers, the people of Esau, [h]who live in Seir; and [i]they will be afraid of you. So be very careful. [5][†]Do not contend with them, for I will not give you any of their land, no, not so much as for the sole of the foot to tread on, because [h]I have given Mount Seir to Esau as a possession. [6][†][j]You shall purchase food from them with money, that you may eat, and you shall also buy water from them with money, that you may drink. [7]For the LORD your God has blessed you in all the work of your hands. [k]He knows your going through this great wilderness. [l]These forty years the LORD your God has been with you. You have lacked nothing.”’ [8][†]So [m]we went on, away from our brothers, the people of Esau, who live in Seir, away from [n]the Arabah road from [o]Elath and [p]Ezion-geber.

“And we turned and went in the direction of the wilderness of Moab. [9][†]And the LORD said to me, [q]‘Do not harass Moab or contend with them in battle, for I will not give you any of their land for a possession, because I have given [r]Ar to [s]the people of Lot for a possession.’ [10][†]([t]The Emim formerly lived there, [u]a people great and many, and tall [v]as the Anakim. [11]Like the Anakim they are also counted as [w]Rephaim, but the Moabites call them Emim. [12][x]The Horites also lived in Seir formerly, but the people of Esau dispossessed them and destroyed them from before them and settled in their place, [y]as Israel did to the land of their possession, which the LORD gave to them.) [13][†]‘Now rise up and go over [z]the brook Zered.’ So we went over [z]the brook Zered. [14]And the time from our leaving [a]Kadesh-barnea until we crossed [b]the brook Zered was thirty-eight years, [c]until the entire generation, that is, the men of war, had perished from the camp, as the LORD had sworn to them. [15]For indeed the hand of the LORD was against them, to destroy them from the camp, until they had perished.

[16]“So as soon as all the men of war had perished and were dead from among the people, [17]the LORD said to me, [18]‘Today you are to cross the border of Moab at Ar. [19]And when you approach the territory of the people of Ammon, [d] do not harass them or contend with them, for I will not give you any of the land of the people of Ammon as a possession, because I have given it to [e] the sons of Lot for a possession.' [20](It is also counted as a land of [f] Rephaim. Rephaim formerly lived there—but the Ammonites call them Zamzummim— [21] [g] a people great and many, and tall as the Anakim; but the LORD destroyed them before the Ammonites, [1] and they dispossessed them and settled in their place, [22]as he did for the people of Esau, who live in Seir, when he destroyed [h] the Horites before them and they dispossessed them and settled in their place even to this day. [23]As for [i] the Avvim, who lived in villages as far as [j] Gaza, [k] the Caphtorim, who came from Caphtor, destroyed them and settled in their place.) [24][†]'Rise up, set out on your journey and [l] go over the Valley of the Arnon. Behold, I have given into your hand Sihon the Amorite, king of [m] Heshbon, and his land. Begin to take possession, and [n] contend with him in battle. [25]This day I will begin to put [o] the dread and fear of you on the peoples who are under the whole heaven, who shall hear the report of you and shall tremble and be in anguish because of you.'

The Defeat of King Sihon

[26][†]"So I sent messengers from the wilderness of [p] Kedemoth to Sihon the king of [m] Heshbon, [q] with words of peace, saying, [27] [r] 'Let me pass through your land. I will go only by the road; I will turn aside neither to the right nor to the left. [28] [s] You shall sell me food for money, that I may eat, and give me water for money, that I may drink. Only let me pass through on foot, [29] [t] as the sons of Esau who live in Seir and the Moabites who live in Ar did for me, until I go over the Jordan into the land that the LORD our God is giving to us.' [30][†]But [u] Sihon the king of [m] Heshbon would not let us pass by him, for the LORD your God [v] hardened his spirit and made his heart obstinate, that he might give him into your hand, as he is this day. [31]And the LORD said to me, 'Behold, I have begun to give Sihon and his land over to you. Begin to take possession, that you may occupy his land.' [32][†]Then [w] Sihon came out against us, he and all his people, to battle at Jahaz. [33]And [x] the LORD our God gave him over to us, and [y] we defeated him and his sons and all his people. [34][†]And we captured all his cities at that time and devoted to destruction [2] every [z]city, men, women, and children. We left no survivors. [35]Only the livestock we took as spoil for ourselves, with the plunder of the cities that we captured. [36] [a]From Aroer, which is on the edge of the Valley of the Arnon, and from [b]the city that is in the valley, as far as Gilead, there was not a city too high for us. [c]The LORD our God gave all into our hands. [37]Only to the land of the sons of Ammon you did not draw near, that is, to all the banks of the river [d]Jabbok and the cities of the hill country, whatever the LORD our God had forbidden us.

The Defeat of King Og

DEUTERONOMY 3 [†]“Then we turned and went up the way to Bashan. And [e]Og the king of Bashan came out against us, he and all his people, to battle at [f]Edrei. [2]But the LORD said to me, ‘Do not fear him, for I have given him and all his people and his land into your hand. And you shall do to him as you did to [g]Sihon the king of the Amorites, who lived at Heshbon.’ [3]So the LORD our God gave into our hand Og also, the king of Bashan, and all his people, [h]and we struck him down until he had no survivor left. [4]And we took all his cities at that time—there was not a city that we did not take from them—sixty cities, [i]the whole region of Argob, the kingdom of Og in Bashan. [5][†]All these were cities fortified with high walls, gates, and bars, besides very many unwalled villages. [6]And [j]we devoted them to destruction, [1] as we did to Sihon the king of Heshbon, devoting to destruction every [k]city, men, women, and children. [7]But all the livestock and the spoil of the cities we took as our plunder. [8][†]So we took the land at that time out of the hand of the two kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan, from the Valley of the Arnon to Mount Hermon [9](the Sidonians call [l]Hermon [m]Sirion, while the Amorites call it [n]Senir), [10]all the cities of the [o]tableland and all Gilead and all Bashan, as far as [p]Salecah and Edrei, cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan. [11][†](For [q]only Og the king of Bashan was left of the remnant of [r]the Rephaim. Behold, his bed was a bed of iron. Is it not in [s]Rabbah of the Ammonites? Nine cubits [2] was its length, and four cubits its breadth, according to the [t]common cubit. [3]) [12]“When we took possession of this land at that time, I gave to the Reubenites and the Gadites the territory beginning [u]at Aroer, which is on the edge of the Valley of the Arnon, and half the hill country of Gilead with [v]its cities. [13][w]The rest of Gilead, and all Bashan, the kingdom of Og, that is, [x]all the region of Argob, I gave to the half-tribe of Manasseh. (All that portion of Bashan is called the land of [r]Rephaim. [14][y]Jair the Manassite took all the region of Argob, that is, Bashan, as far as the border of [z]the Geshurites and the Maacathites, and called the villages [a]after his own name, Havvoth-jair, as it is to this day.) [15][†]To Machir [b]I gave Gilead, [16]and to the Reubenites [c]and the Gadites I gave the territory from Gilead as far as the Valley of the Arnon, with the middle of the valley as a border, as far over as the river Jabbok, [d]the border of the Ammonites; [17][†]the Arabah also, with the Jordan as the border, from [e]Chinnereth as far as [f]the Sea of the Arabah, [g]the Salt Sea, under [h]the slopes of Pisgah on the east.

[18][†]“And I commanded you at that time, saying, ‘The LORD your God has given you this land to possess. [i]All your men of valor shall cross over armed before your brothers, the people of Israel. [19]Only your wives, your little ones, and your livestock [j](I know that you have much livestock) shall remain in the cities that I have given you, [20][†][k]until the LORD gives rest to your brothers, as to you, and they also occupy the land that the LORD your God gives them beyond the Jordan. Then each of you may return to his possession which I have given you.’ [21]And I commanded [l]Joshua at that time, ‘Your eyes have seen all that the LORD your God has done to these two kings. So will the LORD do to all the kingdoms into which you are crossing. [22]You shall not fear them, for it is [m]the LORD your God who fights for you.’

Moses Forbidden to Enter the Land

[23]“And I pleaded with the LORD at that time, saying, [24][†]‘O Lord GOD, you have only begun to show your servant [n]your greatness and your mighty hand. For [o]what god is there in heaven or on earth who can do such works and mighty acts as yours? [25]Please let me go over and see [p]the good land beyond the Jordan, that good hill country and [q]Lebanon.’ [26][†]But [r]the LORD was angry with me because of you and would not listen to me. And the Lord said to me, [s]‘Enough from you; do not speak to me of this matter again. [27] [t]Go up to the top of Pisgah and lift up your eyes westward and northward and southward and eastward, and look at it with your eyes, for you shall not go over this Jordan. [28]But [u]charge Joshua, and encourage and strengthen him, for he shall go over at the head of this people, and he shall put them in possession of the land that you shall see.’ [29][†]So we remained in [v]the valley opposite Beth-peor.

Moses Commands Obedience

DEUTERONOMY 4 [†]“And now, O Israel, listen to [w]the statutes and the rules [1] that I am teaching you, and do them, [x]that you may live, and go in and take possession of the land that the Lord, the God of your fathers, is giving you. [2][†] [y]You shall not add to the word that I command you, nor take from it, that you may keep the commandments of the Lord your God that I command you. [3][†]Your eyes have seen what the Lord did [z]at Baal-peor, for the Lord your God destroyed from among you all the men who followed the Baal of Peor. [4]But you who held fast to the Lord your God are all alive today. [5]See, I have taught you statutes and rules, as the Lord my God commanded me, that you should do them in the land that you are entering to take possession of it. [6][†] [a]Keep them and do them, for [b]that will be your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the peoples, who, when they hear all these statutes, will say, ‘Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people.’ [7][†]For [c]what great nation is there that has [d]a god so near to it as the Lord our God is to us, whenever we call upon him? [8]And what great nation is there, that has statutes and rules so [e]righteous as all this law that I set before you today?

[9][†] [f]“Only take care, and [g]keep your soul diligently, lest you forget the things that your eyes have seen, and lest they depart from your heart all the days of your life. [h]Make them known to your children and your children’s children— [10][†]how on [i]the day that you stood before the Lord your God at Horeb, the Lord said to me, [j]‘Gather the people to me, that I may let them hear my words, [k]so that they may learn to fear [l]me all the days that they live on the earth, and that they may teach their children so.’ [11]And [m]you came near and stood at the foot of the mountain, while [n]the mountain burned with fire to the heart of heaven, wrapped in darkness, cloud, and gloom. [12]Then [o] the LORD spoke to you out of the midst of the fire. You heard the sound of words, [p] but saw no form; [q] there was only a voice. [13][†] [r] And he declared to you his covenant, which he commanded you to perform, that is, [s] the Ten Commandments, [2] [t] and he wrote them on two tablets of stone. [14]And [u] the LORD commanded me at that time to teach you statutes and rules, that you might do them in the land that you are going over to possess.

Idolatry Forbidden

[15][†] [v] “Therefore watch yourselves very carefully. Since [w] you saw no form on the day that the LORD spoke to you at Horeb out of the midst of the fire, [16]beware [x] lest you act corruptly [y] by making a carved image for yourselves, in the form of any figure, [z] the likeness of male or female, [17]the likeness of any animal that is on the earth, the likeness of any winged bird that flies in the air, [18]the likeness of anything that creeps on the ground, the likeness of any fish that is in the water under the earth. [19]And beware lest you raise your eyes to heaven, and when you see [a] the sun and the moon and the stars, [b] all the host of heaven, you be drawn away and bow down to them and serve them, things that the LORD your God has allotted to all the peoples under the whole heaven. [20][†]But the LORD has taken you and [c] brought you out of the iron furnace, out of Egypt, [d] to be a people of his own inheritance, as you are this day. [21][†]Furthermore, [e] the LORD was angry with me because of you, and he swore that I should not cross the Jordan, and that I should not enter the good land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance. [22]For I must die in this land; [f] I must not go over the Jordan. But you shall go over and take possession of [g] that good land. [23][†] [h] Take care, lest you forget the covenant of the LORD your God, which he made with you, and [i] make a carved image, the form of anything that the LORD your God has forbidden you. [24]For [j] the LORD your God is a consuming fire, [k] a jealous God.

[25]“When you father children and children’s children, and have grown old in the land, [l] if you act corruptly by making a carved image in the form of anything, and [m] by doing what is evil in the sight of the LORD your God, so as to provoke him to anger, [26]I [n] call heaven and earth to witness against you today, that you will soon utterly perish from the land that you are going over the Jordan to possess. You will not live long in it, but will be utterly destroyed. [27][†]And the LORD [o] will scatter you among the peoples, [p] and you will be left few in number among the nations where the LORD will drive you. [28]And [q] there you will serve gods of wood and stone, the work of human hands, [r] that neither see, nor hear, nor eat, nor smell. [29][†] [s] But from there you will seek the LORD your God and you will find him, if you search after him with all your heart and with all your soul. [30]When you are in tribulation, and all these things come upon you [t] in the latter days, you will return to the LORD your God and obey his voice. [31][†]For the LORD your God is [u] a merciful God. [v] He will not leave you or destroy you or forget the covenant with your fathers that he swore to them.

The LORD Alone Is God

[32][†]"For [w] ask now of the days that are past, which were before you, since the day that God created man on the earth, and ask from one end of heaven to the other, whether such a great thing as this has ever happened or was ever heard of. [33] [x] Did any people ever hear the voice of a god speaking out of the midst of the fire, as you have heard, and still live? [34]Or has any god ever attempted to go and take a nation for himself from the midst of another nation, by trials, [y] by signs, by wonders, and [z] by war, [a] by a mighty hand and [b] an outstretched arm, and by great deeds of terror, all of which the LORD your God did for you in Egypt before your eyes? [35][†]To you it was shown, [c] that you might know that the LORD is God; [d] there is no other besides him. [36] [e] Out of heaven he let you hear his voice, that he might discipline you. And on earth he let you see his great fire, and [x] you heard his words out of the midst of the fire. [37][†]And because [f] he loved your fathers and chose their offspring after them [3] and brought you out of Egypt [g] with his own presence, by his great power, [38] [h] driving out before you nations greater and mightier than you, to bring you in, to give you their land for an inheritance, as it is this day, [39]know therefore today, and lay it to your heart, that [i] the LORD is God in heaven above and on the earth beneath; [j] there is no other. [40] [k] Therefore you shall keep his statutes and his commandments, which I command you today, [l] that it may go well with you and with your children after you, and that you may prolong your days in the land that the LORD your God is giving you for all time."

Cities of Refuge

41[†]Then Moses [m] set apart three cities in the east beyond the Jordan, 42that [n] the manslayer might flee there, anyone who kills his neighbor unintentionally, without being at enmity with him in time past; he may flee to one of these cities and save his life: 43 [o] Bezer in the wilderness on the [p] tableland for the Reubenites, Ramoth in Gilead for the Gadites, and Golan in Bashan for the Manassites.

Introduction to the Law

44[†]This is the law that Moses set before the people of Israel. 45These are the testimonies, the statutes, and the rules, which Moses spoke to the people of Israel when they came out of Egypt, 46beyond the Jordan [q] in the valley opposite Beth-peor, in the land of Sihon the king of the Amorites, who lived at Heshbon, [r] whom Moses and the people of Israel defeated when they came out of Egypt. 47And they took possession of his land and the land [s] of Og, the king of Bashan, the two kings of the Amorites, who lived to the east beyond the Jordan; 48 [t] from Aroer, which is on the edge of the Valley of the Arnon, as far as Mount [u] Sirion [4] (that is, [v] Hermon), 49together with all the Arabah on the east side of the Jordan as far as [w] the Sea of the Arabah, under the slopes of Pisgah.

The Ten Commandments

DEUTERONOMY 5 [†]And Moses summoned all Israel and said to them, "Hear, O Israel, the statutes and the rules that I speak in your hearing today, and you shall learn them and be careful to do them. 2 [x] The LORD our God made a covenant with us in Horeb. 3[†] [y] Not with our fathers did the LORD make this covenant, but with us, who are all of us here alive today. 4The LORD spoke with you [z] face to face at the mountain, out of the midst of the fire, 5[†] [a] while I stood between the LORD and you at that time, to declare to you the word of the LORD. For [b]you were afraid because of the fire, and you did not go up into the mountain. He said:

6[†][c]“‘I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery.

7[†]“‘You shall have no other gods before [1] me.

8[†]“‘You shall not make for yourself a carved image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is on the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. 9[†]You shall not bow down to them or serve them; for I the LORD your God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children to the third and fourth generation of those who hate me, 10but showing steadfast love to [d]thousands [2] of those who love me and keep my commandments.

11[†]“‘You shall not take the name of the LORD your God in vain, for the LORD will not hold him guiltless who takes his name in vain.

12[†]“‘Observe the Sabbath day, to keep it holy, as the LORD your God commanded you. 13Six days you shall labor and do all your work, 14but [e]the seventh day is a Sabbath to the LORD your God. On it you shall not do any work, you or your son or your daughter or your male servant or your female servant, or your ox or your donkey or any of your livestock, or the sojourner who is within your gates, [f]that your male servant and your female servant may rest as well as you. 15[†][g]You shall remember that you were a slave [3] in the land of Egypt, and the LORD your God brought you out from there [h]with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm. Therefore the LORD your God commanded you to keep the Sabbath day.

16[†]“‘Honor your father and your mother, as the LORD your God commanded you, [i]that your days may be long, and that it may go well with you in the land that the LORD your God is giving you.

17[†][j]“‘You shall not murder. [4]

18[†][j]“‘And you shall not commit adultery.

19“‘And you shall not steal.

20[†]“‘And you shall not bear false witness against your neighbor.

21“‘And you shall not covet your neighbor’s wife. And you shall not desire your neighbor’s house, his field, or his male servant, or his female servant, his ox, or his donkey, or anything that is your neighbor’s.’

[22]“These words the LORD spoke to all your assembly [k] at the mountain out of the midst of the fire, the cloud, and the thick darkness, with a loud voice; and he added no more. And [l] he wrote them on two tablets of stone and gave them to me. [23]And [m] as soon as you heard the voice out of the midst of the darkness, while the mountain was burning with fire, you came near to me, all the heads of your tribes, and your elders. [24]And you said, ‘Behold, the LORD our God has shown us his glory and [n] greatness, and [o] we have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire. This day we have seen God speak with man, and man [p] still live. [25]Now therefore why should we die? For this great fire will consume us. [q] If we hear the voice of the LORD our God any more, we shall die. [26] [p] For who is there of all flesh, that has heard the voice of the living God speaking out of the midst of fire as we have, and has still lived? [27]Go near and hear all that the LORD our God will say, and [r] speak to us all that the LORD our God will speak to you, and we will hear and do it.’

[28]“And the LORD heard your words, when you spoke to me. And the LORD said to me, ‘I have heard the words of this people, which they have spoken to you. [s] They are right in all that they have spoken. [29] [t] Oh that they had such a heart as this always, to fear me and to keep all my commandments, [u] that it might go well with them and with their descendants [5] forever! [30]Go and say to them, “Return to your tents.” [31]But you, stand here by me, and [v] I will tell you the whole commandment and the statutes and the rules that you shall teach them, that they may do them in the land that I am giving them to possess.’ [32][†]You shall be careful therefore to do as the LORD your God has commanded you. [w] You shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. [33] [x] You shall walk in all the way that the LORD your God has commanded you, that you may live, and [y] that it may go well with you, and that you may live long in the land that you shall possess.

The Greatest Commandment

DEUTERONOMY 6 “Now this is [z] the commandment—the statutes and the rules [1]—that the LORD your God commanded me to teach you, that you may do them in the land to which you are going over, to possess it, [2]that

[a] you may fear the Lord your God, you and your son and your son’s son, by keeping all his statutes and his commandments, which I command you, all the days of your life, and [b] that your days may be long. [3][†]Hear therefore, O Israel, and be careful to do them, that it may go well with you, and that you may multiply greatly, [c] as the Lord, the God of your fathers, has promised you, in a land flowing with milk and honey.

[4][†]“Hear, O Israel: [d] The Lord our God, the Lord is one. [2] [5][†]You [e] shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might. [6]And [f] these words that I command you today shall be on your heart. [7][†] [g] You shall teach them diligently to your children, and shall talk of them when you sit in your house, and when you walk by the way, and when you lie down, and when you rise. [8] [h] You shall bind them as a sign on your hand, and they shall be as frontlets between your eyes. [9] [i] You shall write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates.

[10]“And when the Lord your God brings you into the land that he swore to your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give you—with great and good cities [j] that you did not build, [11]and houses full of all good things that you did not fill, and cisterns that you did not dig, and vineyards and olive trees that you did not plant—and when you eat and are full, [12][†] [k] then take care lest you forget the Lord, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery. [13][†]It is [l] the Lord your God you shall fear. Him you shall serve and [m] by his name you shall swear. [14][†]You shall not [n] go after other gods, [o] the gods of the peoples who are around you— [15]for [p] the Lord your God in your midst [q] is a jealous God— [r] lest the anger of the Lord your God be kindled against you, and he destroy you from off the face of the earth.

[16][†] [s] “You shall not put the Lord your God to the test, [t] as you tested him at Massah. [17]You shall [u] diligently keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and his testimonies and his statutes, which he has commanded you. [18] [v] And you shall do what is right and good in the sight of the Lord, that it may go well with you, and that you may go in and take possession of the good land that the Lord swore to give to your fathers [19] [w] by thrusting out all your enemies from before you, as the Lord has promised.

[20][†] [x]“When your son asks you in time to come, ‘What is the meaning of the testimonies and the statutes and the rules that the LORD our God has commanded you?’ [21]then you shall say to your son, [y]‘We were Pharaoh’s slaves in Egypt. And the LORD brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand. [22]And [z]the LORD showed signs and wonders, great and grievous, against Egypt and against Pharaoh and all his household, before our eyes. [23]And he brought us out from there, that he might bring us in and give us the land that he swore to give to our fathers. [24]And the LORD commanded us to do all these statutes, [a]to fear the LORD our God, [b]for our good always, that [c]he might preserve us alive, as we are this day. [25][†]And [d]it will be righteousness for us, if we are careful to do all this commandment before the LORD our God, as he has commanded us.’

A Chosen People

DEUTERONOMY 7 [†]“When the [e] LORD your God brings you into the land that you are entering to take possession of it, and clears away many nations before you, [f] the Hittites, the Girgashites, the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, seven nations [g] more numerous and mightier than you, [2] [h] and when the LORD your God gives them over to you, and you defeat them, then you must [i] devote them to complete destruction. [1] [j] You shall make no covenant with them and show no mercy to them. [3][†] [k] You shall not intermarry with them, giving your daughters to their sons or taking their daughters for your sons, [4]for they would turn away your sons from following me, to serve other gods. [l] Then the anger of the LORD would be kindled against you, and he would destroy you [m] quickly. [5][†]But thus shall you deal with them: [n] you shall break down their altars and dash in pieces their [n] pillars and chop down their [n] Asherim and [o] burn their carved images with fire.

[6][†]“For [p] you are a people holy to the LORD your God. The LORD your God has chosen you to be [p] a people for his treasured possession, out of all the peoples who are on the face of the earth. [7]It was not because you were more in number than any other people that the LORD set his love on you and chose you, for you were the fewest of all peoples, [8]but [q] it is because the LORD loves you and is keeping [r] the oath that he swore to your fathers, that the LORD has brought you out with a mighty hand and redeemed you from the house of slavery, from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt. [9]Know therefore that the LORD your God is God, [s] the faithful God [t] who keeps covenant and steadfast love with those who love him and keep his commandments, to a thousand generations, [10]and [u] repays to their face those who hate him, by destroying them. [v] He will not be slack with one who hates him. He will repay him to his face. [11] [w] You shall therefore be careful to do the commandment and the statutes and the rules that I command you today.

[12][†] [x] “And because you listen to these rules and keep and do them, the LORD your God will keep with you [y] the covenant and the steadfast love that he swore to your fathers. [13]He will [z]love you, bless you, and multiply you. [a]He will also bless the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground, your grain and your wine and your oil, the increase of your herds and the young of your flock, in the land that he swore to your fathers to give you. [14]You shall be blessed above all peoples. [b]There shall not be male or female barren among you or among your livestock. [15]And the LORD will take away from you all sickness, and none of the evil [c]diseases of Egypt, which you knew, will he inflict on you, but he will lay them on all who hate you. [16]And [d]you shall consume all the peoples that the LORD your God will give over to you. [e]Your eye shall not pity them, neither shall you serve their gods, for that would be [f]a snare to you.

[17][†]“If you say in your heart, ‘These nations are greater than I. How can I dispossess them?’ [18][g]you shall not be afraid of them but you shall [h]remember what the LORD your God did to Pharaoh and to all Egypt, [19]the great trials that your eyes saw, [i]the signs, the wonders, the mighty hand, and the outstretched arm, by which the LORD your God brought you out. So will the LORD your God do to all the peoples of whom you are afraid. [20][†]Moreover, [j]the LORD your God will send hornets among them, until those who are left and hide themselves from you are destroyed. [21]You shall not be in dread of them, for the LORD your God is [k]in your midst, [l]a great and awesome God. [22][m]The LORD your God will clear away these nations before you little by little. You may not make an end of them at once, [2] lest the wild beasts grow too numerous for you. [23][n]But the LORD your God will give them over to you and throw them into great confusion, until they are destroyed. [24]And [o]he will give their kings into your hand, and you shall [p]make their name perish from under heaven. [q]No one shall be able to stand against you until you have destroyed them. [25][†]The carved images of their gods [r]you shall burn with fire. You [s]shall not covet the silver or the gold that is on them or take it for yourselves, lest you be [t]ensnared by it, for it is an abomination to the LORD your God. [26]And you shall not bring an abominable thing into your house and become devoted to destruction [3] like it. You shall utterly detest and abhor it, [u]for it is devoted to destruction.

Remember the LORD Your God

DEUTERONOMY 8 “The whole commandment that I command you today [v] you shall be careful to do, that you may live and multiply, and go in and possess the land that the LORD swore to give to your fathers. [2][†]And you shall remember the whole way that the LORD your God has led you [w] these forty years in the wilderness, that he might humble you, [x] testing you [y] to know what was in your heart, [z] whether you would keep his commandments or not. [3]And he humbled you and [a] let you hunger and [b] fed you with manna, which you did not know, nor did your fathers know, that he might make you know that [c] man does not live by bread alone, but man lives by every word [1] that comes from the mouth of the LORD. [4][†] [d] Your clothing did not wear out on you and your foot did not swell these forty years. [5][†]Know then in your heart that, [e] as a man disciplines his son, the LORD your God disciplines you. [6]So you shall keep the commandments of the LORD your God by walking in his ways and by fearing him. [7]For the LORD your God is bringing you into a good land, [f] a land of brooks of water, of fountains and springs, flowing out in the valleys and hills, [8]a land of wheat and barley, [g] of vines and fig trees and pomegranates, a land of olive trees and honey, [9]a land in which you will eat bread without scarcity, in which you will lack nothing, a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills you can dig copper. [10]And you shall eat and be full, and you shall bless the LORD your God for the good land he has given you.

[11]“Take care lest you forget the LORD your God by not keeping his commandments and his rules and his statutes, which I command you today, [12] [h] lest, when you have eaten and are full and have built good houses and live in them, [13]and when your herds and flocks multiply and your silver and gold is multiplied and all that you have is multiplied, [14][†] [i] then your heart be lifted up, and you [j] forget the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery, [15][†]who [k] led you through the great and terrifying wilderness, [l] with its fiery serpents and scorpions [m] and thirsty ground where there was no water, [n] who brought you water out of the flinty rock, [16]who fed you in the wilderness with [o] manna that your fathers did not know, that he might humble you and test you, [p] to do you good in the end. [17][†]Beware [q] lest you say in your heart, ‘My power and the might of my hand have gotten me this wealth.’ [18]You shall remember the LORD your God, for [r]it is he who gives you power to get wealth, [s]that he may confirm his covenant that he swore to your fathers, as it is this day. [19][†]And if you forget the LORD your God and go after other gods and serve them and worship them, [t]I solemnly warn you today that you shall surely perish. [20]Like the nations that the LORD makes to perish before you, [u]so shall you perish, because you would not obey the voice of the LORD your God.

Not Because of Righteousness

DEUTERONOMY 9 [†]“Hear, O Israel: you are [v]to cross over the Jordan today, to go in to dispossess nations [w]greater and mightier than you, cities great and fortified up to heaven, [2][†]a people great and tall, [x]the sons of the Anakim, [y]whom you know, and of whom you have heard it said, ‘Who can stand before the sons of Anak?’ [3][†]Know therefore today that he who [z]goes over before you [a]as a consuming fire is the LORD your God. He will destroy them and subdue them before you. [b]So you shall drive them out and make them perish quickly, as the LORD has promised you.

[4][†][c]“Do not say in your heart, after the LORD your God has thrust them out before you, ‘It is because of my righteousness that the LORD has brought me in to possess this land,’ whereas it is [d]because of the wickedness of these nations that the LORD is driving them out before you. [5][e]Not because of your righteousness or the uprightness of your heart are you going in to possess their land, but because of the wickedness of these nations the LORD your God is driving them out from before you, and that he may confirm [f]the word that the LORD swore to your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob.

[6]“Know, therefore, that the LORD your God is not giving you this good land to possess because of your righteousness, for you are [g]a stubborn people. [7][†]Remember and do not forget how you provoked the LORD your God to wrath in the wilderness. [h]From the day you came out of the land of Egypt until you came to this place, you have been rebellious against the LORD. [8][†]Even [i]at Horeb you provoked the LORD to wrath, and the LORD was so angry with you that he was ready to destroy you. [9][†][j]When I went up the mountain to receive the tablets of stone, the tablets of the covenant that the LORD made with you, I remained on the mountain [k]forty days and forty nights. I neither ate bread nor drank water. [10]And [l]the LORD gave me the two tablets of stone written with the finger of God, and on them were all the words that the LORD had spoken with you on the mountain out of the midst of the fire [m]on the day of the assembly. [11]And at the end of forty days and forty nights the LORD gave me the two tablets of stone, the tablets of the covenant. [12][†]Then the LORD said to me, [n]'Arise, go down quickly from here, for your people whom you have brought from Egypt have acted corruptly. They have [o]turned aside quickly out of the way that I commanded them; they have made themselves a metal image.'

The Golden Calf

[13][p]"Furthermore, the LORD said to me, 'I have seen this people, and behold, it is [g]a stubborn people. [14][q]Let me alone, that I may destroy them and [r]blot out their name from under heaven. And [s]I will make of you a nation mightier and greater than they.' [15][t]So I turned and came down from the mountain, and [u]the mountain was burning with fire. And the two tablets of the covenant were in my two hands. [16]And [v]I looked, and behold, you had sinned against the LORD your God. You had made yourselves a golden [1] calf. [w]You had turned aside quickly from the way that the LORD had commanded you. [17][†]So I took hold of the two tablets and threw them out of my two hands and broke them before your eyes. [18][†]Then I [x]lay prostrate before the LORD [y]as before, forty days and forty nights. I neither ate bread nor drank water, because of all the sin that you had committed, [z]in doing what was evil in the sight of the LORD to provoke him to anger. [19]For I was afraid of the anger and hot displeasure that the LORD bore against you, so that he was ready to destroy you. [a]But the LORD listened to me that time also. [20]And the LORD was so angry with Aaron that he was ready to destroy him. And I prayed for Aaron also at the same time. [21][†]Then [b]I took the sinful thing, the calf that you had made, and burned it with fire and crushed it, grinding it very small, until it was as fine as dust. And I threw the dust of it into the brook that ran down from the mountain.

[22]“At [c] Taberah also, and at [d] Massah and at [e] Kibroth-hattaavah you provoked the LORD to wrath. [23]And [f] when the LORD sent you from Kadesh-barnea, saying, ‘Go up and take possession of the land that I have given you,’ then you rebelled against the commandment of the LORD your God and [g] did not believe him or obey his voice. [24] [h] You have been rebellious against the LORD from the day that I knew you.

[25][†] [x] “So I lay prostrate before the LORD for these forty days and forty nights, because the LORD had said he would destroy you. [26] [i] And I prayed to the LORD, ‘O Lord GOD, do not destroy your people and your heritage, whom you have redeemed through your greatness, whom you have brought out of Egypt with a mighty hand. [27]Remember your servants, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Do not regard the stubbornness of this people, or their wickedness or their sin, [28]lest the land from which you brought us say, [j] “Because the LORD was not able to bring them into the land that he promised them, and because he hated them, he has brought them out to put them to death in the wilderness.” [29] [k] For they are your people and your heritage, whom you brought out by your great power and by your outstretched arm.’

New Tablets of Stone

DEUTERONOMY 10 [†]“At that time the LORD said to me, [l] ‘Cut for yourself two tablets of stone like the first, and come up to me on the mountain and [m] make an ark of wood. [2]And I will write on the tablets the words that were on the first tablets that you broke, and [n] you shall put them in the ark.’ [3]So I made an ark [o] of acacia wood, and [p] cut two tablets of stone like the first, and went up the mountain with the two tablets in my hand. [4]And [q] he wrote on the tablets, in the same writing as before, the Ten Commandments [1] [r] that the LORD had spoken to you on the mountain out of the midst of the fire [s] on the day of the assembly. And the LORD gave them to me. [5]Then I turned and [t] came down from the mountain and [u] put the tablets in the ark that I had made. [v] And there they are, as the LORD commanded me.”

[6][†](The people of Israel [w] journeyed from Beeroth Bene-jaakan [2] to Moserah. [x] There Aaron died, and there he was buried. And his son Eleazar ministered as priest in his place. [7] [y] From there they journeyed to Gudgodah, and from Gudgodah to Jotbathah, a land with brooks of water. [8]At that time [z]the LORD set apart the tribe of Levi [a]to carry the ark of the covenant of the LORD [b]to stand before the LORD to minister to him and [c]to bless in his name, to this day. [9][d]Therefore Levi has no portion or inheritance with his brothers. The LORD is his inheritance, as the LORD your God said to him.)

[10][e]"I myself stayed on the mountain, as at the first time, forty days and forty nights, [f]and the LORD listened to me that time also. The LORD was unwilling to destroy you. [11][†][g]And the LORD said to me, 'Arise, go on your journey at the head of the people, so that they may go in and possess the land, which I swore to their fathers to give them.'

Circumcise Your Heart

[12][†]"And now, Israel, [h]what does the LORD your God require of you, but [i]to fear the LORD your God, [j]to walk in all his ways, [k]to love him, to serve the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, [13]and [l]to keep the commandments and statutes of the LORD, which I am commanding you today [m]for your good? [14][†]Behold, [n]to the LORD your God belong heaven and the heaven of heavens, [o]the earth with all that is in it. [15]Yet [p]the LORD set his heart in love on your fathers and chose their offspring after them, you above all peoples, as you are this day. [16][†]Circumcise therefore [q]the foreskin of your heart, and be no longer [r]stubborn. [17][†]For the LORD your God is [s]God of gods and [t]Lord of lords, [u]the great, the mighty, and the awesome God, who is [v]not partial and takes no bribe. [18][w]He executes justice for the fatherless and the widow, and loves the sojourner, giving him food and clothing. [19][x]Love the sojourner, therefore, for you were sojourners in the land of Egypt. [20][†][i]You shall fear the LORD your God. You shall serve him and [y]hold fast to him, and [z]by his name you shall swear. [21][a]He is your praise. He is your God, [b]who has done for you these great and terrifying things that your eyes have seen. [22][†]Your fathers went down to Egypt [c]seventy persons, and now the LORD your God has made you [d]as numerous as the stars of heaven.

Love and Serve the LORD

DEUTERONOMY 11 [†] [e]“You shall therefore love the LORD your God and [f]keep his charge, his statutes, his rules, and his commandments always. [2][†]And consider today (since I am not speaking to [g]your children who have not known or seen it), consider the discipline [1] of the LORD your God, [h]his greatness, [i]his mighty hand and his outstretched arm, [3][j]his signs and his deeds that he did in Egypt to Pharaoh the king of Egypt and to all his land, [4]and what he did to the army of Egypt, to their horses and to their chariots, [k]how he made the water of the Red Sea flow over them as they pursued after you, and how the LORD has destroyed them to this day, [5]and [l]what he did to you in the wilderness, until you came to this place, [6][†]and [m]what he did to Dathan and Abiram the sons of Eliab, son of Reuben, how the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them up, with their households, their tents, and every living thing that followed them, in the midst of all Israel. [7][†]For your eyes have seen [n]all the great work of the LORD that he did.

[8]“You shall therefore keep the whole commandment that I command you today, that you may [o]be strong, and go in and take possession of the land that you are going over to possess, [9]and [p]that you may live long in the land [q]that the LORD swore to your fathers to give to them and to their offspring, [r]a land flowing with milk and honey. [10]For the land that you are entering to take possession of it is not like the land of Egypt, from which you have come, where you sowed your seed and irrigated it, [2] like a garden of vegetables. [11][s]But the land that you are going over to possess is a land of hills and valleys, which drinks water by the rain from heaven, [12]a land that the LORD your God cares for. [t]The eyes of the LORD your God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year to the end of the year.

[13]“And if you will indeed obey my commandments that I command you today, [u]to love the LORD your God, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul, [14][†][v]he [3] will give the rain for your land in its season, [w]the early rain and the later rain, that you may gather in your grain and your wine and your oil. [15][x]And he will give grass in your fields for your livestock, and [y]you shall eat and be full. [16][†]Take care [z]lest your heart be deceived, and you turn aside and [a]serve other gods and worship them;

[17]then [b]the anger of the LORD will be kindled against you, and he [c]will shut up the heavens, so that there will be no rain, and the land will yield no fruit, and [d]you will perish quickly off the good land that the LORD is giving you.

[18][†] [e]“You shall therefore lay up these words of mine in your heart and in your soul, and [f]you shall bind them as a sign on your hand, and they shall be as frontlets between your eyes. [19]You shall teach them to your children, talking of them when you are sitting in your house, and when you are walking by the way, and when you lie down, and when you rise. [20] [g]You shall write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates, [21] [h]that your days and the days of your children may be multiplied in the land that the LORD swore to your fathers to give them, [i]as long as the heavens are above the earth. [22]For if [j]you will be careful to do all this commandment that I command you to do, loving the LORD your God, walking in all his ways, and [k]holding fast to him, [23]then the LORD [l]will drive out all these nations before you, and you will [m]dispossess nations greater and mightier than you. [24] [n]Every place on which the sole of your foot treads shall be yours. Your territory shall be [o]from the wilderness to [4] the Lebanon and from the River, the river Euphrates, to the western sea. [25] [p]No one shall be able to stand against you. The LORD your God will lay [q]the fear of you and the dread of you on all the land that you shall tread, [r]as he promised you.

[26][†] [s]“See, I am setting before you today a blessing and a curse: [27] [t]the blessing, if you obey the commandments of the LORD your God, which I command you today, [28][†]and [u]the curse, if you do not obey the commandments of the LORD your God, but turn aside from the way that I am commanding you today, [v]to go after other gods that you have not known. [29][†]And when the LORD your God brings you into the land that you are entering to take possession of it, you shall set [w]the blessing on Mount Gerizim and the curse on Mount Ebal. [30][†]Are they not beyond the Jordan, west of the road, toward the going down of the sun, in the land of the Canaanites who live in the [x]Arabah, opposite Gilgal, beside [y]the oak [5] of Moreh? [31]For you are [z]to cross over the Jordan to go in to take possession of the land that the LORD your God is giving you. And when you possess it and live in it, [32]you shall be careful [a]to do all the statutes and the rules that I am setting before you today.

The LORD's Chosen Place of Worship

DEUTERONOMY 12 [†] [b]“These are the statutes and rules that you shall be careful to do in the land that the LORD, the God of your fathers, has given you to possess, [c]all the days that you live on the earth. [2][†] [d]You shall surely destroy all the places where the nations whom you shall dispossess served their gods, [e]on the high mountains and on the hills and under every green tree. [3]You shall tear down their altars and dash in pieces [f]their pillars and burn their [g]Asherim with fire. You shall chop down the carved images of their gods and [h]destroy their name out of that place. [4][†] [i]You shall not worship the LORD your God in that way. [5][†]But you shall seek [j]the place that the LORD your God will choose out of all your tribes to put his name and make his habitation [1] there. There you shall go, [6]and there you shall bring your burnt offerings and your sacrifices, [k]your tithes and the contribution that you present, your vow offerings, your freewill offerings, and the [l]firstborn of your herd and of your flock. [7][†]And [m]there you shall eat before the LORD your God, and [n]you shall rejoice, you and your households, in all that you undertake, in which the LORD your God has blessed you.

[8][†]“You shall not do according to all that we are doing here today, [o]everyone doing whatever is right in his own eyes, [9]for you have not as yet come to [p]the rest and to the inheritance that the LORD your God is giving you. [10]But when [q]you go over the Jordan and live in the land that the LORD your God is giving you to inherit, [r]and when he gives you rest from all your enemies around, so that you live in safety, [11]then to [j]the place that the LORD your God will choose, to make his name dwell there, there you shall bring all that I command you: your burnt offerings and your sacrifices, [k]your tithes and the contribution that you present, and all your finest vow offerings that you vow to the LORD. [12][†]And [n]you shall rejoice before the LORD your God, you and your sons and your daughters, your male servants and your female servants, and the Levite that is within your towns, since [s]he has no portion or inheritance with you. [13][†] [t]Take care that you do not offer your burnt offerings at any place that you see, [14]but at [j]the place that the LORD will choose in one of your tribes, there you shall offer your burnt offerings, and there you shall do all that I am commanding you.

[15][†]“However, you may slaughter and eat meat within any of your towns, as much as you desire, [u]according to the blessing of the LORD your God that he has given you. [v]The unclean and the clean may eat of it, as of the gazelle and as of the deer. [16][†] [w]Only you shall not eat the blood; you shall pour it out on the earth like water. [17][†]You may not eat within your towns [k]the tithe of your grain or of your wine or of your oil, or the firstborn of your herd or of your flock, or any of your vow offerings that you vow, or your freewill offerings or the contribution that you present, [18]but [m]you shall eat them before the LORD your God in [j]the place that the LORD your God will choose, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, and the Levite who is within your towns. And [n]you shall rejoice before the LORD your God in all that you undertake. [19] [x]Take care that you do not neglect the Levite as long as you live in your land.

[20]“When the LORD your God [y]enlarges your territory, [z]as he has promised you, and you say, ‘I will eat meat,’ because you crave meat, you may eat meat whenever you desire. [21]If [a]the place that the LORD your God will choose to put his name there is too far from you, [b]then you may kill any of your herd or your flock, which the LORD has given you, as I have commanded you, and you may eat within your towns whenever you desire. [22]Just [c]as the gazelle or the deer is eaten, so you may eat of it. [c]The unclean and the clean alike may eat of it. [23] [d]Only be sure that you do not eat the blood, [e]for the blood is the life, and you shall not eat the life with the flesh. [24]You shall not eat it; you shall pour it out on the earth like water. [25]You shall not eat it, [f]that all may go well with you and with your children after you, [g]when you do what is right in the sight of the LORD. [26][†]But the [h]holy things that are due from you, and [i]your vow offerings, you shall take, and you shall go to [a]the place that the LORD will choose, [27]and [j]offer your burnt offerings, the flesh and the blood, on the altar of the LORD your God. The blood of your sacrifices shall be poured out on the altar of the LORD your God, but the flesh you may eat. [28]Be careful to obey all these words that I command you, [f]that it may go well with you and with your children after you forever, when you do what is good and right in the sight of the LORD your God.

Warning Against Idolatry

[29]“When [k]the LORD your God cuts off before you the nations whom you go in to dispossess, and you dispossess them and dwell in their land, [30][†]take care [l]that you be not ensnared to follow them, after they have been destroyed before you, and that you do not inquire about their gods, saying, ‘How did these nations serve their gods?—that I also may do the same.’ [31][†] [m]You shall not worship the LORD your God in that way, for every [n]abominable thing that the LORD hates they have done for their gods, for [o]they even burn their sons and their daughters in the fire to their gods.

[32][†] [2] “Everything that I command you, you shall be careful to do. [p]You shall not add to it or take from it.

DEUTERONOMY 13 [†]“If a prophet or [q]a dreamer of dreams arises among you and gives you a sign or a wonder, [2][†]and [r]the sign or wonder that he tells you comes to pass, and if he says, ‘Let us go after other gods,’ which you have not known, ‘and let us serve them,’ [3][†]you shall not listen to the words of that prophet or that dreamer of dreams. For the LORD your God [s]is testing you, to know whether you love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul. [4][†]You shall [t]walk after the LORD your God and fear him and keep his commandments and obey his voice, and you shall serve him and [u]hold fast to him. [5][†]But [v]that prophet or that dreamer of dreams shall be put to death, because he has taught rebellion against the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt and redeemed you out of the house of slavery, to make you leave the way in which the LORD your God commanded you to walk. [w]So you shall purge the evil [1] from your midst.

[6][†] [x]“If your brother, the son of your mother, or your son or your daughter or [y]the wife you embrace [2] or your friend [z]who is as your own soul entices you secretly, saying, ‘Let us go and serve other gods,’ [a]which neither you nor your fathers have known, [7]some [b]of the gods of the peoples who are around you, whether near you or far off from you, from the one end of the earth to the other, 8[†]you shall [c] not yield to him or listen to him, nor [d] shall your eye pity him, nor shall you spare him, nor shall you conceal him. 9But you shall kill him. [e] Your hand shall be first against him to put him to death, and afterward the hand of all the people. 10[f] You shall stone him to death with stones, because he sought to draw you away from the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery. 11[†]And [g] all Israel shall hear and fear and never again do any such wickedness as this among you.

12[†]“If you hear in one of your cities, which the LORD your God is giving you to dwell there, 13that certain [h] worthless fellows have gone out among you and have drawn away the inhabitants of their city, saying, ‘Let us go and serve other gods,’ which you have not known, 14then you shall inquire and make search and ask [i] diligently. And behold, if it be true and certain that such an abomination has been done among you, 15you shall surely put the inhabitants of that city to the sword, devoting it to destruction, [3] all who are in it and its cattle, with the edge of the sword. 16You shall gather all its spoil into the midst of its open square and [j] burn the city and all its spoil with fire, as a whole burnt offering to the LORD your God. It shall be a [k] heap forever. It shall not be built again. 17[l] None of the devoted things shall stick to your hand, [m] that the LORD may turn from the fierceness of his anger and show you mercy and have compassion on you and multiply you, [n] as he swore to your fathers, 18if you obey the voice of the LORD your God, [o] keeping all his commandments that I am commanding you today, and doing what is right in the sight of the LORD your God.

Clean and Unclean Food

DEUTERONOMY 14 [†]“You are [p] the sons of the LORD your God. [q] You shall not cut yourselves or make any [r] baldness on your foreheads for the dead. 2For [s] you are a people holy to the LORD your God, and the LORD has chosen you to be a people for his treasured possession, out of all the peoples who are on the face of the earth.

3[†] [t] “You shall not eat any abomination. 4[†] [u] These are the animals you may eat: the ox, the sheep, the goat, 5the deer, the gazelle, the roebuck, the wild goat, the ibex, [1] the antelope, and the mountain sheep. [6]Every animal that parts the hoof and has the hoof cloven in two and chews the cud, among the animals, you may eat. [7]Yet of those that chew the cud or have the hoof cloven you shall not eat these: the camel, the hare, and the [v]rock badger, because they chew the cud but do not part the hoof, are unclean for you. [8]And the pig, because it parts the hoof but does not chew the cud, is unclean for you. Their flesh you shall not eat, and [w]their carcasses you shall not touch.

[9]"Of all that are in the waters you may eat these: whatever has fins and scales you may eat. [10]And whatever does not have fins and scales you shall not eat; it is unclean for you.

[11][†]"You may eat all clean birds. [12]But these are the ones that you shall not eat: the eagle, [2] the bearded vulture, the black vulture, [13]the kite, the falcon of any kind; [14]every raven of any kind; [15]the ostrich, the nighthawk, the sea gull, the hawk of any kind; [16]the little owl and the short-eared owl, the barn owl [17]and the tawny owl, the carrion vulture and the cormorant, [18]the stork, the heron of any kind; the hoopoe and the bat. [19]And all winged insects are unclean for you; they shall not be eaten. [20]All clean winged things you may eat.

[21][†] [x]"You shall not eat anything that has died naturally. You may give it to the sojourner who is within your towns, that he may eat it, or you may sell it to a foreigner. For [y]you are a people holy to the LORD your God.

[z]"You shall not boil a young goat in its mother's milk.

Tithes

[22][†] [a]"You shall tithe all the yield of your seed that comes from the field year by year. [23][†]And before the LORD your God, in the place that he will choose, to make his name dwell there, [b]you shall eat the tithe of your grain, of your wine, and of your oil, [c]and the firstborn of your herd and flock, [d]that you may learn to fear the LORD your God always. [24][†]And if the way is too long for you, so that you are not able to carry the tithe, when the LORD your God blesses you, because [e]the place is too far from you, which the LORD your God chooses, to set his name there, [25]then you shall turn it into money and bind up the money in your hand and go to the place that the LORD your God chooses [26]and spend the money for whatever you desire—oxen or sheep or wine or strong drink, whatever your appetite craves. And [b]you shall eat there before the LORD your God and rejoice, you and your household. [27][†]And you shall not neglect [f]the Levite who is within your towns, for [g]he has no portion or inheritance with you.

[28][†] [h]"At the end of every three years you shall bring out all the tithe of your produce in the same year and lay it up within your towns. [29]And the Levite, because [g]he has no portion or inheritance with you, and the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, who are within your towns, shall come and eat and be filled, that [i]the LORD your God may bless you in all the work of your hands that you do.

The Sabbatical Year

DEUTERONOMY 15 [†]“At the end of [j] every seven years you shall grant a release. [2]And this is the manner of the release: every creditor shall release what he has lent to his neighbor. He shall not exact it of his neighbor, his brother, because the LORD’s release has been proclaimed. [3] [k] Of a foreigner you may exact it, but whatever of yours is with your brother your hand shall release. [4][†] [l] But there will be no poor among you; [m] for the LORD will bless you in the land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance to possess— [5] [n] if only you will strictly obey the voice of the LORD your God, being careful to do all this commandment that I command you today. [6]For the LORD your God will bless you, [o] as he promised you, and [p] you shall lend to many nations, but you shall not borrow, and [q] you shall rule over many nations, but they shall not rule over you.

[7][†]“If among you, one of your brothers should become poor, in any of your towns within your land that the LORD your God is giving you, [r] you shall not harden your heart or shut your hand against your poor brother, [8]but [s] you shall open your hand to him and lend him sufficient for his need, whatever it may be. [9][†]Take care lest there be an unworthy thought in your heart and you say, ‘The seventh year, the year of release is near,’ and your [t] eye look grudgingly [1] on your poor brother, and you give him nothing, and he [u] cry to the LORD against you, and [v] you be guilty of sin. [10]You shall give to him freely, and [w] your heart shall not be grudging when you give to him, because [x] for this the LORD your God will bless you in all your work and in all that you undertake. [11]For [y] there will never cease to be poor in the land. Therefore I command you, [s] ‘You shall open wide your hand to your brother, to the needy and to the poor, in your land.’

[12][†] [z] “If your brother, a Hebrew man or a Hebrew woman, is sold [2] to you, he shall serve you six years, and in the seventh year you shall let him go free from you. [13][†]And when you let him go free from you, you shall not let him go empty-handed. [14]You shall furnish him liberally out of your flock, out of your threshing floor, and out of your winepress. [a] As the LORD your God has blessed you, you shall give to him. [15] [b] You shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, and the LORD your God redeemed you; therefore I command you this today. 16[†]But [c] if he says to you, ‘I will not go out from you,’ because he loves you and your household, since he is well-off with you, 17then you shall take an awl, and put it through his ear into the door, and he shall be your slave [3] forever. And to your female slave [4] you shall do the same. 18[†]It shall not seem hard to you when you let him go free from you, for at half the cost of a hired worker he has served you six years. So the LORD your God will bless you in all that you do.

19[†] [d] “All the firstborn males that are born of your herd and flock you shall dedicate to the LORD your God. You shall do no work with the firstborn of your herd, nor shear the firstborn of your flock. 20 [e] You shall eat it, you and your household, before the LORD your God year by year at the place that the LORD will choose. 21 [f] But if it has any blemish, if it is lame or blind or has any serious blemish whatever, you shall not sacrifice it to the LORD your God. 22You shall eat it within your towns. [g] The unclean and the clean alike may eat it, as though it were a gazelle or a deer. 23 [h] Only you shall not eat its blood; you shall pour it out on the ground like water.

Passover

DEUTERONOMY 16 [†]“Observe the [i] month of Abib and keep the Passover to the LORD your God, for [j] in the month of Abib the LORD your God brought you out of Egypt by night. 2[†]And you shall offer the Passover sacrifice to the LORD your God, from the flock or [k] the herd, [l] at the place that the LORD will choose, to make his name dwell there. 3[†]You shall eat no leavened bread with it. [m] Seven days you shall eat it with unleavened bread, the bread of affliction—for you came out of the land of Egypt [n] in haste—that all the days of your life you may remember the day when you came out of the land of Egypt. 4 [o] No leaven shall be seen with you in all your territory for seven days, [p] nor shall any of the flesh that you sacrifice on the evening of the first day remain all night until morning. 5[†]You may not offer the Passover sacrifice within any of your towns that the LORD your God is giving you, 6but at the place that the LORD your God will choose, to make his name dwell in it, there you shall offer the Passover sacrifice, in the evening at sunset, at the time you came out of Egypt. 7[†]And you shall cook it and eat it at the place that the LORD your God will choose. And in the morning you shall turn and go to your tents. [8]For [q] six days you shall eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day there shall be [r] a solemn assembly to the LORD your God. You shall do no work on it.

The Feast of Weeks

[9][†] [s] “You shall count seven weeks. Begin to count the seven weeks from the time the sickle is first put to the standing grain. [10]Then you shall keep [t] the Feast of Weeks to the LORD your God with [u] the tribute of a freewill offering from your hand, which you shall give [v] as the LORD your God blesses you. [11]And [w] you shall rejoice before the LORD your God, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, the Levite who is within your towns, the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow who are among you, at the place that the LORD your God will choose, to make his name dwell there. [12] [x] You shall remember that you were a slave in Egypt; and you shall be careful to observe these statutes.

The Feast of Booths

[13][†] [y] “You shall keep the Feast of Booths seven days, when you have gathered in the produce from your threshing floor and your winepress.
[14] [z] You shall rejoice in your feast, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, the Levite, the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow who are within your towns. [15]For [a] seven days you shall keep the feast to the LORD your God at the place that the LORD will choose, because the LORD your God will bless you in all your produce and in all the work of your hands, so that you will be altogether joyful.

[16][†] [b] “Three times a year all your males shall appear before the LORD your God at the place that he will choose: at the Feast of Unleavened Bread, at the Feast of Weeks, and at the Feast of Booths. [c] They shall not appear before the LORD empty-handed. [17]Every man [d] shall give as he is able, [v] according to the blessing of the LORD your God that he has given you.

Justice

[18][†]“You shall appoint [e]judges and officers in all your towns that the LORD your God is giving you, according to your tribes, and they shall judge the people with righteous judgment. [19][†][f]You shall not pervert justice. [g]You shall not show partiality, [h]and you shall not accept a bribe, for a bribe blinds the eyes of the wise and subverts the cause of the righteous. [20]Justice, and only justice, you shall follow, that you may live and inherit the land that the LORD your God is giving you.

Forbidden Forms of Worship

[21][†]“You shall not plant any tree as [i]an Asherah beside the altar of the LORD your God that you shall make. [22]And you shall not set up a pillar, which the LORD your God hates.

DEUTERONOMY 17 [†][j]“You shall not sacrifice to the LORD your God an ox or a sheep in which is a blemish, any defect whatever, for that is an abomination to the LORD your God.

[2][†][k]“If there is found among you, within any of your towns that the LORD your God is giving you, a man or woman who does what is evil in the sight of the LORD your God, [l]in transgressing his covenant, [3]and has gone and served other gods and worshiped them, or [m]the sun or the moon or any of the host of heaven, [n]which I have forbidden, [4][†]and it is told you and you hear of it, then you shall inquire [o]diligently, and if it is true and certain that such an abomination has been done in Israel, [5]then you shall bring out to your gates that man or woman who has done this evil thing, and you [p]shall stone that man or woman to death with stones. [6][†][q]On the evidence of two witnesses or of three witnesses the one who is to die shall be put to death; a person shall not be put to death on the evidence of one witness. [7][r]The hand of the witnesses shall be first against him to put him to death, and afterward the hand of all the people. So [s]you shall purge [1] the evil [2] from your midst.

Legal Decisions by Priests and Judges

[8][†]“If any case arises requiring decision between one kind of homicide and another, one kind of legal right and another, or one kind of assault and another, any case within your towns that is too difficult for you, then you shall arise and go up to [t] the place that the LORD your God will choose. [9] [u] And you shall come to the Levitical priests and to the judge who is in office in those days, and you shall consult them, and [v] they shall declare to you the decision. [10][†]Then you shall do according to what they declare to you from that place that the LORD will choose. And you shall be careful to do according to all that they direct you. [11]According to the instructions that they give you, and according to the decision which they pronounce to you, you shall do. You shall not turn aside from the verdict that they declare to you, either to the right hand or to the left. [12]The man who [w] acts presumptuously by not obeying the priest [x] who stands to minister there before the LORD your God, or the judge, that man shall die. So [s] you shall purge the evil from Israel. [13]And all the people [y] shall hear and fear and not act presumptuously again.

Laws Concerning Israel's Kings

[14][†]"When you come to the land that the LORD your God is giving you, and you possess it and dwell in it and then say, [z] 'I will set a king over me, like all the nations that are around me,' [15]you may indeed set a king over you [a] whom the LORD your God will choose. One [b] from among your brothers you shall set as king over you. You may not put a foreigner over you, who is not your brother. [16][†]Only he must not acquire many [c] horses for himself or cause the people [d] to return to Egypt in order to acquire many horses, since the LORD has said to you, [e] 'You shall never return that way again.' [17]And he [f] shall not acquire many wives for himself, lest his heart turn away, [g] nor shall he acquire for himself excessive silver and gold.

[18][†]"And when he sits on the throne of his kingdom, [h] he shall write for himself in a book a copy of this law, [i] approved by [3] the Levitical priests. [19]And [j] it shall be with him, and he shall read in it all the days of his life, [k] that he may learn to fear the LORD his God by keeping all the words of this law and these statutes, and doing them, [20]that his heart may not be lifted up above his brothers, and that he [l] may not turn aside from the commandment, either to the right hand or to the left, [m] so that he may continue long in his kingdom, he and his children, in Israel.

Provision for Priests and Levites

DEUTERONOMY 18 [†]“The Levitical priests, all the tribe of Levi, [n] shall have no portion or inheritance with Israel. They [o] shall eat the LORD’s food offerings [1] as their [2] inheritance. 2They shall have no inheritance among their brothers; the LORD is their inheritance, as he promised them. 3[†]And this shall be the priests’ due from the people, from those offering a sacrifice, whether an ox or a sheep: [p] they shall give to the priest the shoulder and the two cheeks and the stomach. 4 [q] The firstfruits of your grain, of your wine and of your oil, and the first fleece of your sheep, you shall give him. 5For the LORD your God has chosen him out of all your tribes [r] to stand and minister in the name of the LORD, him and his sons for all time.

6[†]“And if a Levite comes from any of your towns out of all Israel, [s] where he lives—and he may come when he desires [3]—[t] to the place that the LORD will choose, 7and ministers in the name of the LORD his God, [u] like all his fellow Levites who stand to minister there before the LORD, 8then he may have equal [v] portions to eat, besides what he receives from the sale of his patrimony. [4]

Abominable Practices

9[†]“When you come into the land that the LORD your God is giving you, [w] you shall not learn to follow the abominable practices of those nations. 10There shall not be found among you anyone [x] who burns his son or his daughter as an offering, [5] anyone who [y] practices divination or [z] tells fortunes or interprets omens, or [a] a sorcerer 11or a charmer or [b] a medium or a necromancer or [c] one who inquires of the dead, 12[†] [d] for whoever does these things is an abomination to the LORD. And [e] because of these abominations the LORD your God is driving them out before you. 13You shall be blameless before the LORD your God, 14for these nations, which you are about to dispossess, listen to fortune-tellers and to diviners. But as for you, the LORD your God has not allowed you to do this.

A New Prophet like Moses

[15][†][f]“The LORD your God will raise up for you a prophet like me from among you, from your brothers—it is to him you shall listen— [16]just as you desired of the LORD your God at Horeb [g] on the day of the assembly, when you said, [h] ‘Let me not hear again the voice of the LORD my God or see this great fire any more, lest I die.’ [17]And the LORD said to me, [i] ‘They are right in what they have spoken. [18][f]I will raise up for them a prophet like you from among their brothers. [j] And I will put my words in his mouth, and [k] he shall speak to them all that I command him. [19] [l] And whoever will [m] not listen to my words that he shall speak in my name, I myself will require it of him. [20][†] [n] But the prophet who presumes to speak a word in my name that I have not commanded him to speak, or [6] who speaks in the name of other gods, that same prophet shall die.’ [21]And if you say in your heart, ‘How may we know the word that the LORD has not spoken?’— [22] [o] when a prophet speaks in the name of the LORD, if the word does not come to pass or come true, that is a word that the LORD has not spoken; [n] the prophet has spoken it presumptuously. You need not be afraid of him.

Laws Concerning Cities of Refuge

DEUTERONOMY 19 [†]“When [p] the LORD your God cuts off the nations whose land the LORD your God is giving you, and you dispossess them and dwell in their cities and in their houses, [2] [q] you shall set apart three cities for yourselves in the land that the LORD your God is giving you to possess. [3]You shall measure the distances [1] and divide into three parts the area of the land that the LORD your God gives you as a possession, so that any manslayer can flee to them.

[4][†]“This is the provision for [r] the manslayer, who by fleeing there may save his life. If anyone kills his neighbor unintentionally without having hated him in the past— [5]as when someone goes into the forest with his neighbor to cut wood, and his hand swings the axe to cut down a tree, and the head slips from the handle and strikes his neighbor so that he dies—he may flee to one of these cities and live, [6]lest [s] the avenger of blood in hot anger pursue the manslayer and overtake him, because the way is long, and strike him fatally, though the man did not deserve to die, since he had not hated his neighbor in the past. [7]Therefore I command you, You shall set apart three cities. [8][†] [t]And if the LORD your God enlarges your territory, [u]as he has sworn to your fathers, and [v]gives you all the land that he promised to give to your fathers— [9]provided you are careful to keep all this commandment, which I command you today, by loving the LORD your God and by walking ever in his ways—[w]then you shall add three other cities to these three, [10]lest innocent blood be shed in your land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance, and so the guilt of bloodshed be upon you.

[11]"But if anyone hates his neighbor and lies in wait for him and attacks him [x]and strikes him fatally so that he dies, and he flees into one of these cities, [12]then the elders of his city shall send and take him from there, and hand him over to the avenger of blood, so that he may die. [13][†] [y]Your eye shall not pity him, [z]but you shall purge the guilt of innocent blood [2] from Israel, so that it may be well with you.

Property Boundaries

[14][†] [a]"You shall not move your neighbor's landmark, which the men of old have set, in the inheritance that you will hold in the land that the LORD your God is giving you to possess.

Laws Concerning Witnesses

[15][†]"A single witness shall not suffice against a person for any crime or for any wrong in connection with any offense that he has committed. [b]Only on the evidence of two witnesses or of three witnesses shall a charge be established. [16][†]If [c]a malicious witness arises to accuse a person of wrongdoing, [17]then both parties to the dispute shall appear before the LORD, [d]before the priests and the judges who are in office in those days. [18]The judges shall [e]inquire diligently, and if the witness is a false witness and has accused his brother falsely, [19][f]then you shall do to him as he had meant to do to his brother. So you shall purge the evil [3] from your midst. [20]And the rest [g]shall hear and fear, and shall never again commit any such evil among

you. 21[†] [y]Your eye shall not pity. [h]It shall be life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

Laws Concerning Warfare

DEUTERONOMY 20 [†]“When you go out to war against your enemies, and see [i]horses and chariots and an army larger than your own, you shall not be afraid of them, for the LORD your God is [j]with you, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt. 2And when you draw near to the battle, [k]the priest shall come forward and speak to the people 3and shall say to them, ‘Hear, O Israel, today you are drawing near for battle against your enemies: let not your heart faint. Do not fear or panic or be in dread of them, 4for the LORD your God is he who goes with you [l]to fight for you against your enemies, to give you the victory.’ 5[†]Then the officers shall speak to the people, saying, ‘Is there any man who has built a new house and has not dedicated it? Let him go back to his house, lest he die in the battle and another man dedicate it. 6And is there any man who has planted a vineyard and has not [m]enjoyed its fruit? Let him go back to his house, lest he die in the battle and another man enjoy its fruit. 7 [n]And is there any man who has betrothed a wife and has not taken her? Let him go back to his house, lest he die in the battle and another man take her.’ 8[†]And the officers shall speak further to the people, and say, [o]‘Is there any man who is fearful and fainthearted? Let him go back to his house, lest he make the heart of his fellows melt like his own.’ 9And when the officers have finished speaking to the people, then commanders shall be appointed at the head of the people.

10[†]“When you draw near to a city to fight against it, [p]offer terms of peace to it. 11And if it responds to you peaceably and it opens to you, then all the people who are found in it shall do forced labor for you and shall serve you. 12But if it makes no peace with you, but makes war against you, then you shall besiege it. 13And when the LORD your God gives it into your hand, [q]you shall put all its males to the sword, 14 [r]but the women and the little ones, the livestock, and everything else in the city, all its spoil, you [s]shall take as plunder for yourselves. And [t]you shall enjoy the spoil of your enemies, which the LORD your God has given you. 15Thus you shall do to all the cities that are very far from you, which are not cities of the nations here. 16[†]But [u] in the cities of these peoples that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance, you shall save alive nothing that breathes, 17but [v] you shall devote them to complete destruction, [1] the Hittites and the Amorites, the Canaanites and the Perizzites, the Hivites and the Jebusites, as the LORD your God has commanded, 18that [w] they may not teach you to do according to all their abominable practices that they have done for their gods, and so you [x] sin against the LORD your God.

19[†]“When you besiege a city for a long time, making war against it in order to take it, [y] you shall not destroy its trees by wielding an axe against them. You may eat from them, but you shall not cut them down. Are the trees in the field human, that they should be besieged by you? 20Only the trees that you know are not trees for food you may destroy and cut down, that you may build siegeworks against the city that makes war with you, until it falls.

Atonement for Unsolved Murders

DEUTERONOMY 21 [†]“If in the land that the LORD your God is giving you to possess someone is found slain, lying in the open country, and it is not known who killed him, 2then your elders and your judges shall come out, and they shall measure the distance to the surrounding cities. 3And the elders of the city that is nearest to the slain man shall take a heifer [z] that has never been worked and that has not pulled in a yoke. 4[†]And the elders of that city shall bring the heifer down to a valley with running water, which is neither plowed nor sown, and shall break the heifer’s neck there in the valley. 5Then the priests, the sons of Levi, shall come forward, for the LORD your God has chosen [a] them to minister to him and to bless in the name of the LORD, and [b] by their word every dispute and every assault shall be settled. 6And all the elders of that city nearest to the slain man [c] shall wash their hands over the heifer whose neck was broken in the valley, 7and they shall testify, ‘Our hands did not shed this blood, nor did our eyes see it shed. 8Accept atonement, O LORD, for your people Israel, whom you have redeemed, and [d] do not set the guilt of innocent blood in the midst of your people Israel, so that their blood guilt be atoned for.’ 9[†]So [e] you shall purge the guilt of innocent blood from your midst, when you do what is right in the sight of the LORD.

Marrying Female Captives

[10][†]“When you go out to war against your enemies, and the LORD your God gives them into your hand and you take them captive, [11]and you see among the captives a beautiful woman, and you desire to take her to be your wife, [12][†]and you bring her home to your house, she shall shave her head and pare her nails. [13]And she shall take off the clothes in which she was captured and shall remain in your house and [f]lament her father and her mother a full month. After that you may go in to her and be her husband, and she shall be your wife. [14]But if you no longer delight in her, you shall [g]let her go where she wants. But you shall not sell her for money, nor shall you [h]treat her as a slave, since you have humiliated her.

Inheritance Rights of the Firstborn

[15][†]“If a man has two wives, [i]the one loved and the other unloved, and both the loved and the unloved have borne him children, and if the firstborn son belongs to the unloved, [1] [16]then on the day when [j]he assigns his possessions as an inheritance to his sons, he may not treat the son of the loved as the firstborn in preference to the son of the unloved, who is the firstborn, [17]but he shall acknowledge the firstborn, the son of the unloved, by giving him a double portion of all that he has, for he is [k]the firstfruits of his strength. [l]The right of the firstborn is his.

A Rebellious Son

[18][†]“If a man has a stubborn and rebellious son who will not obey the voice of his father or the voice of his mother, and, though they discipline him, will not listen to them, [19]then his father and his mother shall take hold of him and bring him out to the elders of his city at the gate of the place where he lives, [20]and they shall say to the elders of his city, ‘This our son is stubborn and rebellious; he will not obey our voice; he is a glutton and a drunkard.’ [21] [m]Then all the men of the city shall stone him to death with stones. [n] So you shall purge the evil from your midst, [o] and all Israel shall hear, and fear.

A Man Hanged on a Tree Is Cursed

[22] "And if a man has committed a crime punishable by death and he is put to death, and you hang him on a tree, [23] [p] his body shall not remain all night on the tree, but you shall bury him the same day, for [q] a hanged man is cursed by God. [r] You shall not defile your land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance.

Various Laws

DEUTERONOMY 22 “You [s] shall not see your brother’s ox or his sheep going astray and ignore them. You shall take them back to your brother. [2]And if he does not live near you and you do not know who he is, you shall bring it home to your house, and it shall stay with you until your brother seeks it. Then you shall restore it to him. [3]And you shall do the same with his donkey or with his garment, or with any lost thing of your brother’s, which he loses and you find; you may not ignore it. [4] [t] You shall not see your brother’s donkey or his ox fallen down by the way and ignore them. You shall help him to lift them up again.

[5]“A woman shall not wear a man’s garment, nor shall a man put on a woman’s cloak, [u] for whoever does these things is an abomination to the Lord your God.

[6][†]“If you come across a bird’s nest in any tree or on the ground, with young ones or eggs and the mother sitting on the young or on the eggs, [v] you shall not take the mother with the young. [7]You shall let the mother go, but the young you may take for yourself, [w] that it may go well with you, and that you may live long.

[8][†]“When you build a new house, you shall make a parapet for your roof, that you may not bring the guilt of blood upon your house, if anyone should fall from it.

[9][†] [x] “You shall not sow your vineyard with two kinds of seed, lest the whole yield be forfeited, [1] the crop that you have sown and the yield of the vineyard. [10]You shall not plow with an ox and a donkey together. [11]You shall not wear cloth of wool and linen mixed together.

[12][†] [y] “You shall make yourself tassels on the four corners of the garment with which you cover yourself.

Laws Concerning Sexual Immorality

[13]“If any man takes a wife and [z] goes in to her and then hates her [14][†]and accuses her of misconduct and brings a bad name upon her, saying, ‘I took this woman, and when I came near her, I did not find in her evidence of virginity,’ [15]then the father of the young woman and her mother shall take and bring out the evidence of her virginity to the elders of the city in the gate. [16]And the father of the young woman shall say to the elders, ‘I gave my daughter to this man to marry, and he hates her; [17]and behold, he has accused her of misconduct, saying, “I did not find in your daughter evidence of virginity.” And yet this is the evidence of my daughter’s virginity.’ And they shall spread the cloak before the elders of the city. [18]Then the elders of that city shall take the man and whip [2] him, [19][†]and they shall fine him a hundred shekels [3] of silver and give them to the father of the young woman, because he has brought a bad name upon a virgin [4] of Israel. And she shall be his wife. [a]He may not divorce her all his days. [20]But if the thing is true, that evidence of virginity was not found in the young woman, [21][†]then they shall bring out the young woman to the door of her father’s house, and [b]the men of her city shall stone her to death with stones, because she has [c]done an outrageous thing in Israel by whoring in her father’s house. [d]So you shall purge the evil from your midst.

[22][†] [e]“If a man is found lying with the wife of another man, both of them shall die, the man who lay with the woman, and the woman. [d]So you shall purge the evil from Israel.

[23][†]“If there is a [f]betrothed virgin, and a man meets her in the city and lies with her, [24]then you shall bring them both out to the gate of that city, and you shall stone them to death with stones, the young woman because she did not cry for help though she was in the city, and the man because he violated his neighbor’s wife. [d]So you shall purge the evil from your midst.

[25]“But if in the open country a man meets a young woman who is betrothed, and the man seizes her and lies with her, then only the man who lay with her shall die. [26]But you shall do nothing to the young woman; she has committed no offense punishable by death. For this case is like that of a man attacking and murdering his neighbor, [27]because he met her in the open country, and though the betrothed young woman cried for help there was no one to rescue her.

[28] [g]“If a man meets a virgin who is not betrothed, and seizes her and lies with her, and they are found, [29][†]then the man who lay with her shall give to the father of the young woman fifty shekels of silver, and she shall be his wife, because he has violated her. He may not divorce her all his days.

[30][†] [5] [h]“A man shall not take his father’s wife, so that he does not
[i]uncover his father’s nakedness. [6]

Those Excluded from the Assembly

DEUTERONOMY 23 [†]“No one whose testicles are crushed or whose male organ is cut off shall enter the assembly of the LORD.
[2][†][j]“No one born of a forbidden union may enter the assembly of the LORD. Even to the tenth generation, none of his descendants may enter the assembly of the LORD.
[3] [k]“No Ammonite or Moabite may enter the assembly of the LORD. Even to the tenth generation, none of them may enter the assembly of the LORD forever, [4] [l]because they did not meet you with bread and with water on the way, when you came out of Egypt, and because they [m]hired against you Balaam the son of Beor from Pethor of [n]Mesopotamia, to curse you. [5]But the LORD your God would not listen to Balaam; instead the LORD your God turned [o]the curse into a blessing for you, because the LORD your God loved you. [6]You [p]shall not seek their peace or their prosperity all your days forever.
[7][†]“You shall not abhor an Edomite, for [q]he is your brother. You shall not abhor an Egyptian, because [r]you were a sojourner in his land.
[8]Children born to them in the third generation may enter the assembly of the LORD.

Uncleanness in the Camp

[9][†]“When you are encamped against your enemies, then you shall keep yourself from every evil thing.
[10]“If any man among you becomes [s]unclean because of a nocturnal emission, then he shall go outside the camp. He shall not come inside the camp, [11]but when evening comes, he shall [t]bathe himself in water, and as the sun sets, he may come inside the camp.
[12]“You shall have a place outside the camp, and you shall go out to it.
[13]And you shall have a trowel with your tools, and when you sit down outside, you shall dig a hole with it and turn back and cover up your excrement. [14]Because [u]the LORD your God walks in the midst of your camp, to deliver you and to give up your enemies before you, therefore your camp must be holy, so that he may not see anything indecent among you and turn away from you.

Miscellaneous Laws

15[†] [v]"You shall not give up to his master a slave [1] who has escaped from his master to you. 16He shall dwell with you, in your midst, in the place that he shall choose within one of your towns, wherever it suits him. You shall not wrong him.

17[†]"None of the [w]daughters of Israel shall be a cult prostitute, and none [x]of the sons of Israel shall be a cult prostitute. 18You shall not bring the fee of a prostitute or the wages of a dog [2] into the house of the LORD your God in payment for any vow, for both of these are an abomination to the LORD your God.

19[†] [y]"You shall not charge interest on loans to your brother, [z]interest on money, interest on food, interest on anything that is lent for interest. 20 [a]You may charge a foreigner interest, but you may not charge your brother interest, [b]that the LORD your God may bless you in all that you undertake in the land that you are entering to take possession of it.

21[†] [c]"If you make a vow to the LORD your God, you shall not delay fulfilling it, for the LORD your God will surely require it of you, and you will be guilty of sin. 22But if you refrain from vowing, you will not be guilty of sin. 23You shall be careful to do what has passed your lips, for you have voluntarily vowed to the LORD your God what you have promised with your mouth.

24[†]"If you go into your neighbor's vineyard, you may eat your fill of grapes, as many as you wish, but you shall not put any in your bag. 25If you go into your neighbor's standing grain, [d]you may pluck the ears with your hand, but you shall not put a sickle to your neighbor's standing grain.

Laws Concerning Divorce

DEUTERONOMY 24 [†]"When a man takes a wife and marries her, if then she finds no favor in his eyes because he has found some indecency in her, and [e]he writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out of his house, and she departs out of his house, [2]and if she goes and becomes another man’s wife, [3]and the latter man hates her and writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out of his house, or if the latter man dies, who took her to be his wife, [4]then [f]her former husband, who sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife, after she has been defiled, for that is an abomination before the LORD. And you shall not bring sin upon the land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance.

Miscellaneous Laws

[5][†] [g]“When a man is newly married, he shall not go out with the army or be liable for any other public duty. He shall be free at home one year [h]to be happy with his wife whom he has taken.

[6][†]“No one shall take a mill or an upper millstone in pledge, for that would be taking a life in pledge.

[7][†] [i]“If a man is found stealing one of his brothers of the people of Israel, and if he [j]treats him as a slave or sells him, then that thief shall die. [k]So you shall purge the evil from your midst.

[8][†]“Take care, in [l]a case of leprous [1] disease, to be very careful to do according to all that the Levitical priests shall direct you. As I commanded them, so you shall be careful to do. [9]Remember what the LORD your God did to [m]Miriam [n]on the way as you came out of Egypt.

[10][†]“When you make your neighbor a loan of any sort, you shall not go into his house to collect his pledge. [11]You shall stand outside, and the man to whom you make the loan shall bring the pledge out to you. [12][†]And if he is a poor man, you shall not sleep in his pledge. [13] [o]You shall restore to him the pledge as the sun sets, that he may sleep in his cloak and [p]bless you. And [q]it shall be righteousness for you before the LORD your God.

[14]“You shall not [r]oppress a hired worker who is poor and needy, whether he is one of your brothers or one of the sojourners who are in your land within your towns. [15] [s]You shall give him his wages on the same day, before the sun sets (for he is poor and counts on it), [t]lest he cry against you to the LORD, and you be guilty of sin.

16 [u] “Fathers shall not be put to death because of their children, nor shall children be put to death because of their fathers. Each one shall be put to death for his own sin.

17 [v] “You shall not pervert the justice due to the sojourner or to the fatherless, [w] or take a widow’s garment in pledge, 18 but [x] you shall remember that you were a slave in Egypt and the LORD your God redeemed you from there; therefore I command you to do this.

19 [†] [y] “When you reap your harvest in your field and forget a sheaf in the field, you shall not go back to get it. It shall be for the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, [z] that the LORD your God may bless you in all the work of your hands. 20 When you beat your olive trees, you shall not go over them again. It shall be for the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow. 21 When you gather the grapes of your vineyard, you shall not strip it afterward. It shall be for the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow. 22 [x] You shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt; therefore I command you to do this.

DEUTERONOMY 25 [†]“If there is a [a] dispute between men and they come into court and the judges decide between them, [b] acquitting the innocent and condemning the guilty, 2 then if the guilty man deserves to be beaten, the judge shall cause him to lie down and be beaten in his presence with a number of stripes in proportion to his offense. 3 [†] [c] Forty stripes may be given him, but not more, lest, if one should go on to beat him with more stripes than these, your brother be degraded in your sight.

4 [†] [d] “You shall not muzzle an ox when it is treading out the grain.

Laws Concerning Levirate Marriage

5 [†] [e] “If brothers dwell together, and one of them dies and has no son, the wife of the dead man shall not be married outside the family to a stranger. Her [f] husband’s brother shall go in to her and take her as his wife and perform the duty of a husband’s brother to her. 6 And the first son whom she bears shall succeed to the name of his dead brother, that [g] his name may not be blotted out of Israel. 7 [†] And if the man does not wish to take his brother’s wife, then his brother’s wife shall [h] go up to the gate to the elders and say, ‘My husband’s brother refuses to perpetuate his brother’s name in Israel; he will not perform the duty of a husband’s brother to me.’ [8]Then the elders of his city shall call him and speak to him, and if he persists, saying, [i] ‘I do not wish to take her,’ [9][†]then his brother’s wife shall go up to him in the presence of the elders and [j] pull his sandal off his foot and [k] spit in his face. And she shall answer and say, ‘So shall it be done to the man who does not [l] build up his brother’s house.’ [10]And the name of his house [1] shall be called in Israel, ‘The house of him who had his sandal pulled off.’

Miscellaneous Laws

[11]“When men fight with one another and the wife of the one draws near to rescue her husband from the hand of him who is beating him and puts out her hand and seizes him by the private parts, [12]then you shall cut off her hand. [m] Your eye shall have no pity.

[13][†]“You [n] shall not have in your bag two kinds of weights, a large and a small. [14]You shall not have in your house two kinds of measures, a large and a small. [15]A full and fair [2] weight you shall have, a full and fair measure you shall have, [o] that your days may be long in the land that the LORD your God is giving you. [16]For [p] all who do such things, all who act dishonestly, [q] are an abomination to the LORD your God.

[17][†] [r] “Remember what Amalek did to you [s] on the way as you came out of Egypt, [18]how he attacked you on the way when you were faint and weary, and [t] cut off your tail, those who were lagging behind you, and he did not fear God. [19]Therefore [u] when the LORD your God has given you rest from all your enemies around you, in the land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance to possess, you shall [v] blot out the memory of Amalek from under heaven; you shall not forget.

Offerings of Firstfruits and Tithes

DEUTERONOMY 26 [†]“When you come into the land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance and have taken possession of it and live in it, [2][†] [w] you shall take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground, which you harvest from your land that the LORD your God is giving you, and you shall put it in a basket, and you shall [x] go to the place that the LORD your God will choose, to make his name to dwell there. [3]And you shall go to the priest who is in office at that time and say to him, ‘I declare today to the LORD your God that I have come into the land [y]that the LORD swore to our fathers to give us.’ [4][†]Then the priest shall take the basket from your hand and set it down before the altar of the LORD your God.

[5][†]“And you shall make response before the LORD your God, ‘A [z]wandering Aramean was my father. And he went down into Egypt and sojourned there, [a]few in number, and there he became a nation, great, mighty, and populous. [6]And [b]the Egyptians treated us harshly and humiliated us and laid on us hard labor. [7]Then [c]we cried to the LORD, the God of our fathers, and the LORD heard our voice and saw our affliction, our toil, and our oppression. [8]And [d]the LORD brought us out of Egypt [e]with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm, with great deeds of terror, [1] with signs and wonders. [9]And he brought us into this place and gave us this land, [f]a land flowing with milk and honey. [10]And behold, now I bring the first of the fruit of the ground, which you, O LORD, have given me.’ And you shall set it down before the LORD your God and worship before the LORD your God. [11]And [g]you shall rejoice in all the good that the LORD your God has given to you and to your house, you, and the Levite, and the sojourner who is among you.

[12][†]“When you have finished paying all [h]the tithe of your produce in the third year, which is [i]the year of tithing, giving it to the Levite, the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, so that they may eat within your towns and be filled, [13]then you shall say before the LORD your God, ‘I have removed the sacred portion out of my house, and moreover, I have given it to the Levite, the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow, according to all your commandment that you have commanded me. I have not transgressed any of your commandments, [j]nor have I forgotten them. [14][†][k]I have not eaten of the tithe while I was mourning, or removed any of it while I was unclean, or offered any of it [l]to the dead. I have obeyed the voice of the LORD my God. I have done according to all that you have commanded me.
[15][†][m]Look down from your holy habitation, from heaven, and bless your people Israel and the ground that you have given us, as you swore to our fathers, a land flowing with milk and honey.’

[16][†]“This day the LORD your God commands you to do these statutes and rules. You shall therefore be careful to do them with all your heart and with all your soul. [17] [n] You have declared today that the LORD is your God, and that you will walk in his ways, and keep his statutes and his commandments and his rules, and will obey his voice. [18][†]And the LORD has declared today that you are [o] a people for his treasured possession, as he has promised you, and that you are to keep all his commandments, [19]and that he will set you in praise and in fame and in honor [p] high above all nations [q] that he has made, and that you shall be [r] a people holy to the LORD your God, as he promised.”

The Altar on Mount Ebal

DEUTERONOMY 27 [†]Now Moses and the elders of Israel commanded the people, saying, “Keep the whole commandment that I command you today. [2][†]And on the day [s] you cross over the Jordan to the land that the LORD your God is giving you, you shall set up large stones and plaster them with plaster. [3] [t] And you shall write on them all the words of this law, when you cross over to enter the land that the LORD your God is giving you, [u] a land flowing with milk and honey, as the LORD, the God of your fathers, has promised you. [4][†]And when you have crossed over the Jordan, you shall set up these stones, concerning which I command you today, [v] on Mount Ebal, and you shall plaster them with plaster. [5]And there you shall build an altar to the LORD your God, an altar of stones. [w] You shall wield no iron tool on them; [6][†]you shall build an altar to the LORD your God of uncut [1] stones. And you shall offer burnt offerings on it to the LORD your God, [7]and you shall sacrifice peace offerings and [x] shall eat there, and you [x] shall rejoice before the LORD your God. [8]And [y] you shall write on the stones all the words of this law very plainly.”

Curses from Mount Ebal

[9][†]Then Moses and the Levitical priests said to all Israel, “Keep silence and hear, O Israel: [z] this day you have become the people of the LORD your God. [10]You shall therefore obey the voice of the LORD your God, keeping his commandments and his statutes, which I command you today.”

[11]That day Moses charged the people, saying, [12][†]“When you have crossed over the Jordan, [a]these shall stand on Mount Gerizim to bless the people: Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Joseph, and Benjamin. [13]And these shall stand on Mount Ebal for the curse: Reuben, Gad, Asher, Zebulun, Dan, and Naphtali. [14][†]And [b]the Levites shall declare to all the men of Israel in a loud voice:

[15][†][c]“‘Cursed be the man who makes a carved or cast metal image, an abomination to the LORD, a thing made by the hands of a craftsman, and sets it up in secret.’ [d]And all the people shall answer and say, ‘Amen.’

[16][†][e]“‘Cursed be anyone who dishonors his father or his mother.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

[17][†][f]“‘Cursed be anyone who moves his neighbor’s landmark.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

[18][†][g]“‘Cursed be anyone who misleads a blind man on the road.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

[19][†][h]“‘Cursed be anyone who perverts the justice due to the sojourner, the fatherless, and the widow.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

[20][†][i]“‘Cursed be anyone who lies with his father’s wife, because he has [j]uncovered his father’s nakedness.’ [2] And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

[21] [k]“‘Cursed be anyone who lies with any kind of animal.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

[22] [l]“‘Cursed be anyone who lies with his sister, whether the daughter of his father or the daughter of his mother.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

[23] [m]“‘Cursed be anyone who lies with his mother-in-law.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

[24][†][n]“‘Cursed be anyone who strikes down his neighbor in secret.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

[25][†][o]“‘Cursed be anyone who takes a bribe to shed innocent blood.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

[26][†][p]“‘Cursed be anyone who does not confirm the words of this law by doing them.’ And all the people shall say, ‘Amen.’

Blessings for Obedience

DEUTERONOMY 28 [†]“And [q] if you faithfully obey the voice of the LORD your God, being careful to do all his commandments that I command you today, the LORD your God will set you [r] high above all the nations of the earth. [2]And all these blessings shall come upon you and [s] overtake you, if you obey the voice of the LORD your God. [3][†]Blessed shall you be in the city, and [t] blessed shall you be in the field. [4]Blessed shall be [u] the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground and the fruit of your cattle, the increase of your herds and the young of your flock. [5]Blessed shall be your basket and your [v] kneading bowl. [6]Blessed shall you be [w] when you come in, and blessed shall you be when you go out.

[7][†]“The LORD [x] will cause your enemies who rise against you to be defeated before you. They shall come out against you one way and flee before you seven ways. [8]The LORD [y] will command the blessing on you in your barns and [z] in all that you undertake. [a] And he will bless you in the land that the LORD your God is giving you. [9][†] [b] The LORD will establish you as a people holy to himself, as he has sworn to you, if you keep the commandments of the LORD your God and walk in his ways. [10]And [c] all the peoples of the earth shall see that you are [d] called by the name of the LORD, and they shall be [e] afraid of you. [11]And [f] the LORD will make you abound in prosperity, in [u] the fruit of your womb and in the fruit of your livestock and in the fruit of your ground, within the land that the LORD swore to your fathers to give you. [12]The LORD will open to you his good treasury, the heavens, [g] to give the rain to your land in its season and [h] to bless all the work of your hands. And [i] you shall lend to many nations, but you shall not borrow. [13]And the LORD will make you [j] the head and not the tail, and you shall only go up and not down, if you obey the commandments of the LORD your God, which I command you today, being careful to do them, [14] [k] and if you do not turn aside from any of the words that I command you today, to the right hand or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them.

Curses for Disobedience

[15]“But [l] if you will not obey the voice of the LORD your God or be careful to do all his commandments and his statutes that I command you today, then all these curses shall come upon you and [m] overtake you. [16]Cursed shall you be [n] in the city, and cursed shall you be in the field. [17]Cursed shall be your basket and your kneading bowl. [18]Cursed shall be the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground, the increase of your herds and the young of your flock. [19]Cursed shall you be when you come in, and cursed shall you be when you go out.

[20]"The LORD [o] will send on you curses, confusion, and [p] frustration in all that you undertake to do, [q] until you are destroyed and perish quickly on account of the evil of your deeds, because you have forsaken me. [21]The LORD will make [r] the pestilence stick to you until he has consumed you off the land that you are entering to take possession of it. [22] [s] The LORD will strike you with wasting disease and with fever, inflammation and fiery heat, and with drought [1] and with [t] blight and with mildew. They shall pursue you until you perish. [23][†]And [u] the heavens over your head shall be bronze, and the earth under you shall be iron. [24]The LORD will make the rain of your land powder. From heaven dust shall come down on you until you are destroyed.

[25] [v] "The LORD will cause you to be defeated before your enemies. You shall go out one way against them and flee seven ways before them. And you [w] shall be a horror to all the kingdoms of the earth. [26]And [x] your dead body shall be food for all birds of the air and for the beasts of the earth, and [y] there shall be no one to frighten them away. [27]The LORD will strike you [z] with the boils of Egypt, and with tumors and [a] scabs and itch, of which you cannot be healed. [28]The LORD will strike you with [b] madness and blindness and confusion of mind, [29]and you shall [c] grope at noonday, as the blind grope in darkness, and you shall not prosper in your ways. [2] And you shall be only oppressed and robbed continually, and there shall be no one to help you. [30][†] [d] You shall betroth a wife, but another man shall ravish her. [e] You shall build a house, but you shall not dwell in it. [f] You shall plant a vineyard, but you shall not enjoy its fruit. [31]Your ox shall be slaughtered before your eyes, but you shall not eat any of it. Your donkey shall be seized before your face, but shall not be restored to you. Your sheep shall be given to your enemies, but there shall be no one to help you. [32] [g] Your sons and your daughters shall be given to another people, while your eyes look on and fail with longing for them all day long, [h]but you shall be helpless.

[33]A nation that you have not known shall eat up the fruit of your ground and of all your labors, and you shall be only oppressed and crushed continually, [34]so that you are driven mad [i]by the sights that your eyes see. [35]The LORD will strike you on the knees and on the legs [j]with grievous boils of which you cannot be healed, from the sole of your foot to the crown of your head.

[36]"The LORD will [k]bring you and your king whom you set over you to a nation that neither you [l]nor your fathers have known. And [m]there you shall serve other gods of wood and stone. [37]And you shall become [n]a horror, a proverb, and a byword among all the peoples where the LORD will lead you away. [38][o]You shall carry much seed into the field and shall gather in little, for [p]the locust shall consume it. [39][q]You shall plant vineyards and dress them, but you shall neither drink of the wine nor gather the grapes, for the worm shall eat them. [40]You shall have olive trees throughout all your territory, but you [r]shall not anoint yourself with the oil, for your olives shall drop off. [41]You shall father sons and daughters, but they shall not be yours, for [s]they shall go into captivity. [42][p]The cricket [3] shall possess all your trees and the fruit of your ground. [43][t]The sojourner who is among you shall rise higher and higher above you, and you shall come down lower and lower. [44][†] [u]He shall lend to you, and you shall not lend to him. [t]He shall be the head, and you shall be the tail.

[45][v]"All these curses shall come upon you and pursue you and overtake you till you are destroyed, because you did not obey the voice of the LORD your God, to keep his commandments and his statutes that he commanded you. [46][†]They shall be [w]a sign and a wonder against you and your offspring forever. [47][x]Because you did not serve the LORD your God with joyfulness and gladness of heart, because of the abundance of all things, [48][†]therefore you shall serve your enemies whom the LORD will send against you, in hunger and thirst, in nakedness, and lacking everything. And he [y]will put a yoke of iron on your neck until he has destroyed you. [49][z]The LORD will bring a nation against you from far away, from the end of the earth, [a]swooping down like the eagle, a nation [b]whose language you do not understand, [50]a hard-faced nation [c]who shall not respect the old or show mercy to the young. [51]It shall [d]eat the offspring of your cattle and the fruit of your ground, until you are destroyed; it also shall not leave you grain, wine, or oil, the increase of your herds or the young of your flock, until they have caused you to perish.

[52]“They shall [e]besiege you in all your towns, until your high and fortified walls, in which you trusted, come down throughout all your land. And they shall besiege you in all your towns throughout all your land, which the LORD your God has given you. [53][†]And [f]you shall eat the fruit of your womb, the flesh of your sons and daughters, whom the LORD your God has given you, [g]in the siege and in the distress with which your enemies shall distress you. [54]The man who is the most tender and refined among you will [h]begrudge food to his brother, to [i]the wife he embraces, [4] and to the last of the children whom he has left, [55]so that he will not give to any of them any of the flesh of his children whom he is eating, because he has nothing else left, [j]in the siege and in the distress with which your enemy shall distress you in all your towns. [56][k]The most tender and refined woman among you, who would not venture to set the sole of her foot on the ground because she is so delicate and tender, will begrudge to the husband she embraces, [5] to her son and to her daughter, [57]her afterbirth that comes out from between her feet and her children whom she bears, because lacking everything she will eat them secretly, [j]in the siege and in the distress with which your enemy shall distress you in your towns.

[58][†]“If you are not careful to do all the words of this law that are written in this book, that you may fear this glorious and awesome name, [l]the LORD your God, [59]then the LORD will bring on you and your offspring extraordinary afflictions, afflictions severe and lasting, and sicknesses grievous and lasting. [60][†]And he will bring upon you again all [m]the diseases of Egypt, of which you were afraid, and they shall cling to you. [61][†]Every sickness also and every affliction that is not recorded in the book of this law, the LORD will bring upon you, until you are destroyed. [62][†]Whereas [n]you were as numerous [o]as the stars of heaven, you shall be left few in number, because you did not obey the voice of the LORD your God. [63]And as the LORD [p]took delight in doing you good and multiplying you, so the LORD will [q]take delight in bringing ruin upon you and destroying you. And you shall be plucked off the land that you are entering to take possession of it.

[64][†]“And the LORD [r]will scatter you among all peoples, from one end of the earth to the other, and [s]there you shall serve other gods [t]of wood and stone, [u]which neither you nor your fathers have known. [65]And [v]among these nations you shall find no respite, and there shall be no resting place for the sole of your foot, but [w]the LORD will give you there a trembling heart and failing eyes and [x]a languishing soul. [66]Your life shall hang in doubt before you. Night and day you shall be in dread and have no assurance of your life. [67][y]In the morning you shall say, ‘If only it were evening!’ and at evening you shall say, ‘If only it were morning!’ because of the dread that your heart shall feel, and [z]the sights that your eyes shall see. [68]And the LORD [a]will bring you back in ships to Egypt, a journey that I promised that [b]you should never make again; and there you shall offer yourselves for sale to your enemies as male and female slaves, but there will be no buyer.”

The Covenant Renewed in Moab

DEUTERONOMY 29 [†] [1] These are the words of the covenant that the LORD commanded Moses to make with the people of Israel [c] in the land of Moab, besides [d] the covenant that he had made with them at Horeb.

2[†] [2] And Moses summoned all Israel and said to them: [e] “You have seen all that the LORD did before your eyes in the land of Egypt, to Pharaoh and to all his servants and to all his land, 3the great [f] trials that your eyes saw, the signs, and those great wonders. 4[†]But to this day [g] the LORD has not given you a heart to understand or eyes to see or ears to hear. 5[†] [h] I have led you forty years in the wilderness. Your clothes have not worn out on you, and your sandals have not worn off your feet. 6 [i] You have not eaten bread, and you have not drunk wine or strong drink, that you may know that I am the LORD your God. 7And when you came to this place, [j] Sihon the king of Heshbon and Og the king of Bashan came out against us to battle, but we defeated them. 8We took their land and [k] gave it for an inheritance to the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of the Manassites. 9 [l] Therefore keep the words of this covenant and do them, that you may prosper [3] in all that you do.

10“You are standing today all of you before the LORD your God: the heads of your tribes, [4] your elders, and your officers, all the men of Israel, 11your little ones, your wives, and the [m] sojourner who is in your camp, from [n] the one who chops your wood to the one who draws your water, 12so that you may enter into the [o] sworn covenant of the LORD your God, which the LORD your God is making with you today, 13[†]that he may [p] establish you today as his people, and that [q] he may be your God, as he promised you, and [r] as he swore to your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. 14It is not with you alone [s] that I am making this sworn covenant, 15[†]but with whoever is standing here with us today before the LORD our God, [t] and with whoever is not here with us today.

16“You know how we lived in the land of Egypt, and how we came through the midst of the nations through which you passed. 17And you have seen their detestable things, their idols of wood and stone, of silver and gold, which were among them. [18][†]Beware lest there be among you a man or woman or clan or tribe whose heart is turning away today from the LORD our God to go and serve the gods of those nations. Beware lest there be among you [u]a root bearing poisonous and bitter fruit, [19][†]one who, when he hears the words of this sworn covenant, blesses himself in his heart, saying, ‘I shall be safe, though I walk in the stubbornness of my heart.’ This will lead to the sweeping away of moist and dry alike. [20][†]The LORD will not be willing to forgive him, but rather [v]the anger of the LORD and [w]his jealousy will smoke against that man, and the curses written in this book will settle upon him, and the LORD [x]will blot out his name from under heaven. [21]And the LORD will single him out from all the tribes of Israel for calamity, in accordance with all the curses of the covenant written in this Book of the Law. [22]And the next generation, your children who rise up after you, and the foreigner who comes from a far land, [y]will say, when they see the afflictions of that land and the sicknesses with which the LORD has made it sick— [23][†]the whole land burned out with brimstone and [z]salt, nothing sown and nothing growing, where no plant can sprout, [a]an overthrow like that of Sodom and Gomorrah, [b]Admah, and Zeboiim, which the LORD overthrew in his anger and wrath— [24][†]all the nations [c]will say, [d]‘Why has the LORD done thus to this land? What caused the heat of this great anger?’ [25]Then people will say, ‘It is because they abandoned the covenant of the LORD, the God of their fathers, which he made with them when he brought them out of the land of Egypt, [26]and went and served other gods and worshiped them, gods whom they had not known and whom he had not allotted to them. [27]Therefore the anger of the LORD was kindled against this land, [e]bringing upon it all the curses written in this book, [28]and the LORD [f]uprooted them from their land in anger and fury and great wrath, and [g]cast them into another land, as they are this day.’

[29][†]“The secret things belong to the LORD our God, but the things that are revealed belong to us and to our children forever, that we may do all the words of this law.

Repentance and Forgiveness

DEUTERONOMY 30 [†] [h]“And [i]when all these things come upon you, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before you, and [j]you call them to mind among all the nations where the LORD your God has driven you, [2]and [k]return to the LORD your God, you and your children, and obey his voice in all that I command you today, with all your heart and with all your soul, [3]then the LORD your God [l]will restore your fortunes and have mercy on you, and he will [m]gather you again from all the peoples where the LORD your God has scattered you. [4] [n]If your outcasts are in the uttermost parts of heaven, from there the LORD your God will gather you, and from there he will take you. [5]And the LORD your God will bring you into the land that your fathers possessed, that you may possess it. [o]And he will make you more prosperous and numerous than your fathers. [6][†]And [p]the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your offspring, [q]so that you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live. [7]And the LORD your God will put all these curses on your foes and enemies who persecuted you. [8]And you shall again obey the voice of the LORD and keep all his commandments that I command you today. [9][†] [r]The LORD your God will make you abundantly prosperous in all the work of your hand, in the fruit of your womb and in the fruit of your cattle and in the fruit of your ground. [s]For the LORD will again take delight in prospering you, as he took delight in your fathers, [10]when you obey the voice of the LORD your God, to keep his commandments and his statutes that are written in this Book of the Law, when you turn to the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul.

The Choice of Life and Death

[11][†]“For this commandment that I command you today [t]is not too hard for you, neither is it far off. [12] [u]It is not in heaven, that you should say, ‘Who will ascend to heaven for us and bring it to us, that we may hear it and do it?’ [13]Neither is it beyond the sea, that you should say, ‘Who will go over the sea for us and bring it to us, that we may hear it and do it?’ [14]But the word is very near you. It is in your mouth and in your heart, so that you can do it.

[15][†]“See, [v] I have set before you today life and good, death and evil. [16]If you obey the commandments of the LORD your God [1] that I command you today, [w] by loving the LORD your God, by walking in his ways, and by keeping his commandments and his statutes and his rules, [2] then you shall live and multiply, and the LORD your God will bless you in the land that you are entering to take possession of it. [17]But if [x] your heart turns away, and you will not hear, but are drawn away to worship other gods and serve them, [18] [y] I declare to you today, that you shall surely perish. You shall not live long in the land that you are going over the Jordan to enter and possess. [19][†]I call heaven and earth to witness against you today, that I have set before you life and death, [z] blessing and curse. Therefore choose life, that you and your offspring may live, [20]loving the LORD your God, obeying his voice [a] and holding fast to him, for [b] he is your life and length of days, that you may dwell in [c] the land that the LORD swore to your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give them.”

Joshua to Succeed Moses

DEUTERONOMY 31 [†]So Moses continued to speak these words to all Israel. [2][†]And he said to them, “I am [d] 120 years old today. I am no longer able to [e] go out and come in. The LORD has said to me, [f] ‘You shall not go over this Jordan.’ [3]The LORD your God [g] himself will go over before you. He will destroy these nations before you, so that you shall dispossess them, and Joshua will go over at your head, [h] as the LORD has spoken. [4][†]And the LORD will do to them [i] as he did to Sihon [j] and Og, the kings of the Amorites, and to their land, when he destroyed them. [5]And the LORD will give them over to you, and you shall do to them [k] according to the whole commandment that I have commanded you. [6][†] [l] Be strong and courageous. Do not fear or be in dread of them, [m] for it is the LORD your God who goes with you. [n] He will not leave you or forsake you.”

[7][†]Then [o] Moses summoned Joshua and said to him in the sight of all Israel, [l] “Be strong and courageous, for you shall go with this people into the land that the LORD has sworn to their fathers to give them, and you shall put them in possession of it. [8]It is the LORD [p] who goes before you. He will be with you; [n]he will not leave you or forsake you. [q]Do not fear or be dismayed.”

The Reading of the Law

[9][†]Then Moses [r]wrote this law and gave it to the priests, the sons of Levi, [s]who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and to all the elders of Israel. [10][†]And Moses commanded them, [t]“At the end of every seven years, at the set time in the year of release, at [u]the Feast of Booths, [11]when all Israel comes [v]to appear before the LORD your God at the place that he will choose, [w]you shall read this law before all Israel in their hearing. [12][†][x]Assemble the people, men, women, and little ones, and the sojourner within your towns, that they may hear and learn to fear the LORD your God, and be careful to do all the words of this law, [13]and that their children, [y]who have not known it, [z]may hear and learn to fear the LORD your God, [a]as long as you live in the land that you are going over the Jordan to possess.”

Joshua Commissioned to Lead Israel

[14][†]And the LORD said to Moses, [b]“Behold, the days approach when you must die. Call Joshua and present yourselves in the tent of meeting, that [c]I may commission him.” And Moses and Joshua went and presented themselves in the tent of meeting. [15]And [d]the LORD appeared in the tent in a pillar of cloud. And the pillar of cloud stood over the entrance of the tent.

[16][†]And the LORD said to Moses, [b]“Behold, you are about to lie down with your fathers. Then this people will rise and [e]whore after the foreign gods among them in the land that they are entering, and they will [f]forsake me and [g]break my covenant that I have made with them. [17]Then my anger will be kindled against them in that day, and [h]I will forsake them and [i]hide my face from them, and they will be devoured. And many evils and troubles will come upon them, so that they will say in that day, [j]‘Have not these evils come upon us because [k]our God is not among us?’ [18]And I will surely hide my face in that day because of all the evil that they have done, because [l]they have turned to other gods.

[19]“Now therefore write [m] this song and [n] teach it to the people of Israel. Put it in their mouths, that this song may be [o] a witness for me against the people of Israel. [20]For when I have brought them into the land [p] flowing with milk and honey, which I swore to give to their fathers, and they have eaten and are full and [q] grown fat, [r] they will turn to other gods and serve them, and [s] despise me and [g] break my covenant. [21]And when many evils and troubles have come upon them, this song shall confront them as [t] a witness (for it will live unforgotten in the mouths of their offspring). For [u] I know what they are inclined to do even today, before I have brought them into the land that I swore to give.” [22]So Moses wrote this song the same day and taught it to the people of Israel.

[23][†] [v] And the LORD [1] commissioned Joshua the son of Nun and said, [w] “Be strong and courageous, for you shall bring the people of Israel into the land that I swore to give them. [x] I will be with you.”

[24][†]When Moses had finished [y] writing the words of this law in a book to the very end, [25]Moses commanded [z] the Levites who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD, [26][†]“Take this Book of the Law [a] and put it by the side of the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God, that it may be there for [b] a witness against you. [27]For I know how rebellious and [c] stubborn you are. Behold, even today while I am yet alive with you, [d] you have been rebellious against the LORD. How much more after my death! [28][†]Assemble to me all the elders of your tribes and your officers, that I may speak [e] these words in their ears and [f] call heaven and earth to witness against them. [29][†]For I know that after my death [g] you will surely act corruptly and turn aside from the way that I have commanded you. And [h] in the days to come [i] evil will befall you, because you will do what is evil in the sight of the LORD, [j] provoking him to anger through the work of your hands.”

The Song of Moses

[30][†]Then Moses spoke the words of this song until they were finished, in the ears of all the assembly of Israel:

DEUTERONOMY 32 “Give ear, [k] O heavens, and I will speak, and let [l] the earth hear the words of my mouth.

2 May [m] my teaching drop as the rain, my speech distill as the dew,
like gentle rain upon the tender grass, and [n] like showers upon the herb.
3 For I will proclaim the name of the LORD;
ascribe [o] greatness to our God!

4[†] [p] “The Rock, [q] his work is perfect, for [r] all his ways are justice.
A God of faithfulness and [s] without iniquity, just and upright is he.
5[†] They have dealt corruptly with him;
they are no longer his children [t] because they are blemished;
they are [u] a crooked and twisted generation.
6[†] Do you thus repay the LORD,
you foolish and senseless people?
Is not he [v] your father, who [w] created you,
who [x] made you and established you?
7[†] [y] Remember the days of old;
consider the years of many generations; [z] ask your father, and he will show you, your elders, and they will tell you.
8[†] When the Most High [a] gave to the nations their inheritance, when he [b] divided mankind, he fixed the borders [1] of the peoples
according to the number of the sons of God. [2] 9 But the LORD’s portion is his people,
Jacob his allotted heritage.

10 “He found him [c] in a desert land, and in the howling waste of the wilderness;
he [d] encircled him, he cared for him, he [e] kept him as the apple of his eye.

11 [f]Like an eagle that stirs up its nest, that flutters over its young,
spreading out its wings, catching them, bearing them on its pinions, 12 [g]the LORD alone guided him,
[h]no foreign god was with him.
13 [i]He made him ride on the high places of the land, and he ate the produce of the field, and he suckled him with [j]honey out of the rock,
and [k]oil out of [l]the flinty rock.
14[†] Curds from the herd, and milk from the flock, with fat [3] of lambs,
rams of Bashan and goats, with the very finest [4] of the wheat—and you drank foaming wine made from [m]the blood of the grape.

15[†] "But [n]Jeshurun grew fat, and [o]kicked;
[p]you grew fat, stout, and sleek;
[q]then he forsook God [r]who made him and scoffed at [s]the Rock of his salvation.
16 [t]They stirred him to jealousy with strange gods;
with abominations they provoked him to anger.
17 [u]They sacrificed to demons that were no gods, to gods they had never known,
to [v]new gods that had come recently, whom your fathers had never dreaded.
18 You were unmindful of [w]the Rock that bore [5] you, and you [x]forgot the God who gave you birth.

19 [y]"The LORD saw it and spurned them, because of the provocation of [z]his sons and his daughters.
20[†] And he said, [a]'I will hide my face from them;
I will see what their end will be,
for they are a perverse generation, children in whom is no faithfulness.

21 [b] They have made me jealous with what is no god;
they have provoked me to anger [c] with their idols.
So [d] I will make them jealous with those who are no people;
I will provoke them to anger with [e] a foolish nation.
22[†] For [f] a fire is kindled by my anger, and it burns to [g] the depths of Sheol, devours the earth and its increase,
and sets on fire the foundations of the mountains.

23 “‘And I will heap disasters upon them;
[h] I will spend my arrows on them;
24 they shall be wasted with hunger, and devoured by plague and poisonous pestilence;
I will send [i] the teeth of beasts against them, with the venom of [j] things that crawl in the dust.
25 [k] Outdoors the sword shall bereave, and indoors terror,
for young man and woman alike,
the nursing child with the man of gray hairs.
26 [l] I would have said, “I will cut them to pieces;
[m] I will wipe them from human memory,” 27[†] had I not feared provocation by the enemy, lest their adversaries should misunderstand, lest they should say, [n] “Our hand is triumphant, it was not the LORD who did all this.”’

28[†] “For they are a nation void of counsel, and there is [o] no understanding in them.
29 [p] If they were wise, they would understand this;
they would [q] discern their latter end!
30[†] How could [r] one have chased a thousand,
and two have put ten thousand to flight, unless their Rock [s] had sold them, and the LORD had given them up?

31 For [t] their rock is not as our Rock;
[u] our enemies are by themselves.
32 For their vine [v] comes from the vine of Sodom and from the fields of Gomorrah; their grapes are grapes of [w] poison;
their clusters are bitter; 33 their wine is the poison of [x] serpents and the cruel venom of asps.

34 "'Is not this laid up in store with me, [y] sealed up in my treasuries?
35[†] [z] Vengeance is mine, and recompense,[6]
[a] for the time when their foot shall slip;
for [b] the day of their calamity is at hand, and their doom comes swiftly.'
36 For [c] the LORD will vindicate[7] his people [d] and have compassion on his servants, when he sees that their power is gone and there is none remaining, [e] bond or free.
37 Then he will say, [f] 'Where are their gods,
[g] the rock in which they took refuge, 38 who ate the fat of their sacrifices and drank the wine of their drink offering?
Let them rise up and help you;
let them be your protection!

39[†] "'See now that [h] I, even I, am he,
and there is no god beside me;
[i] I kill and I make alive;
[j] I wound and I heal;
and there is none that can deliver out of my hand.
40 For [k] I lift up my hand to heaven and swear, As I live forever, 41 if I [l] sharpen my flashing sword[8] and my hand takes hold on judgment,

I will take vengeance on my adversaries and will repay those who hate me.
42 I will make my arrows drunk with blood, and [m] my sword shall devour flesh—with the blood of the slain and the captives, from the [n] long-haired heads of the enemy.'

43[†] [o] "Rejoice with him, O heavens; [9] bow down to him, all gods, [10] for he [p] avenges the blood of his children [11] and takes vengeance on his adversaries.
He repays those who hate him [12] and cleanses [13] his people's land." [14]

44Moses came and recited all the words of this song in the hearing of the people, he and [q] Joshua [15] the son of Nun. 45And when Moses had finished speaking all these words to all Israel, 46[†]he said to them, [r] "Take to heart all the words by which I am warning you today, [s] that you may command them to your children, that they may be careful to do all the words of this law. 47For it is no empty word for you, [t] but your very life, and by this word you shall live long in the land that you are going over the Jordan to possess."

Moses' Death Foretold

48[†]That very day the LORD spoke to Moses, 49[†]"Go up [u] this mountain of the Abarim, Mount Nebo, which is in the land of Moab, opposite Jericho, and view the land of Canaan, which I am giving to the people of Israel for a possession. 50And die on the mountain which you go up, and be gathered to your people, as [v] Aaron your brother died in Mount Hor and was gathered to his people, 51 [w] because you broke faith with me in the midst of the people of Israel at the waters of Meribah-kadesh, in the wilderness of Zin, and because you did not treat me as holy in the midst of the people of Israel. 52For [x] you shall see the land before you, but you shall not go there, into the land that I am giving to the people of Israel."

Moses’ Final Blessing on Israel

DEUTERONOMY 33 [†]This is the blessing with which Moses [y]the man of God blessed the people of Israel before his death. 2[†]He said,

[z]“The LORD came from Sinai and dawned from Seir upon us; [1]
he shone forth from Mount Paran;
he came [a]from the ten thousands of holy ones, with flaming fire [2] at his right hand.
3 Yes, [b]he loved his people, [3]
[c]all his holy ones were in his [4] hand;
[d]so they followed [5] in your steps, receiving direction from you, 4 when [e]Moses commanded us a law,
as a possession for the assembly of Jacob.
5[†] Thus the LORD [6] [f]became king in [g]Jeshurun, when the heads of the people were gathered,
all the tribes of Israel together.

6[†] [h]“Let Reuben live, and not die, but let his men be few.”

7And this he said of Judah:

“Hear, O LORD, the voice of Judah, and bring him in to his people.
With your hands contend [7] for him, and be a help against his adversaries.”

8[†]And [i]of Levi he said,

“Give to Levi [8] [j]your Thummim, and your Urim to your godly one, [k]whom you tested at Massah, with whom you quarreled at the waters of Meribah; 9 who said of his father and mother,

'I regard them not';
[l] he disowned his brothers and ignored his children.
For [m] they observed your word and kept your covenant.
10[†] [n] They shall teach Jacob your rules and Israel your law;
[o] they shall put incense before you and [p] whole burnt offerings on your altar.
11 Bless, O LORD, his substance, and [q] accept the work of his hands;
crush the loins of his adversaries, of those who hate him, that they rise not again."

12 [r] Of Benjamin he said,

"The beloved of the LORD dwells in safety.
The High God [9] surrounds him all day long, and dwells between his shoulders."

13[†]And [s] of Joseph he said,

[t] "Blessed by the LORD be his land, with the choicest gifts of heaven [u] above, [10]
and of the deep that crouches beneath, 14 with the choicest fruits of the sun and the rich yield of the months, 15[†] with the finest produce of the ancient mountains and the abundance of [v] the everlasting hills, 16 with the best gifts of the earth and [w] its fullness and the favor of [x] him who dwells in the bush.
May these rest on the head of Joseph, on the pate of him who is prince among his brothers.
17 [y] A firstborn bull [11]—he has majesty, and his horns are the horns of a [z] wild ox;

with them [a]he shall gore the peoples,
all of them, to the ends of the earth;
[b]they are the ten thousands of Ephraim, and they are the thousands of Manasseh.”

[18]And of Zebulun he said,

[c]“Rejoice, Zebulun, in your going out, and Issachar, in your tents.
[19] They shall call peoples [d]to their mountain;
there they offer [e]right sacrifices;
for they draw from the abundance of the seas and the hidden treasures of the sand.”

[20]And [f]of Gad he said,

“Blessed be he who enlarges Gad!
Gad crouches [g]like a lion;
he tears off arm and scalp.
[21][†] [h]He chose the best of the land for himself, for there a commander’s portion was reserved;
and [i]he came with the heads of the people, with Israel he executed the justice of the Lord, and his judgments for Israel.”

[22][†]And [j]of Dan he said,

[k]“Dan is a lion’s cub [l]that leaps from Bashan.”

[23][†]And [m]of Naphtali he said,

“O Naphtali, sated with favor, and full of the blessing of the Lord, [n]possess the lake [12] and the south.”

24[†]And [o] of Asher he said,

“Most blessed of sons be Asher;
let him be the favorite of his brothers, and let him [p] dip his foot in oil.
25 Your bars shall be iron and bronze, and as your days, so shall your strength be.

26[†] [q] “There is none like God, O [r] Jeshurun, [s] who rides through the heavens to your help, through the skies in his majesty.
27 The eternal God is your [t] dwelling place, [13] and underneath are the everlasting arms. [14]
And he thrust out the enemy before you and said, ‘Destroy.’
28 So Israel lived in safety, [u] Jacob lived [v] alone, [15]
in a land of grain and wine, whose heavens drop down dew.
29 Happy are you, O Israel! [w] Who is like you, a people [x] saved by the LORD, [y] the shield of your help, and the sword of your triumph!
Your enemies shall come fawning to you, and you shall tread upon their backs.”

The Death of Moses

DEUTERONOMY 34 [†]Then Moses went up from the plains of Moab [a] to Mount Nebo, to the top of Pisgah, which is opposite Jericho. And the LORD showed him all the land, Gilead as far as Dan, 2all Naphtali, the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, all the land of Judah [b] as far as the western sea, 3 [c] the Negeb, and [d] the Plain, that is, the Valley of Jericho [e] the city of palm trees, as far as [f] Zoar. 4[†]And the LORD said to him, [g] “This is the land of which I swore to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, ‘I will give it to your offspring.’ [h] I have let you see it with your eyes, but [i] you shall not go over there.” [5]So Moses the servant of the LORD died there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the LORD, [6][†]and he buried him in the valley in the land of Moab opposite Beth-peor; but [j]no one knows the place of his burial to this day. [7] [k]Moses was 120 years old when he died. [l]His eye was undimmed, and his vigor unabated. [8]And the people of Israel [m]wept for Moses in the plains of Moab thirty days. Then the days of weeping and mourning for Moses were ended.

[9][†]And Joshua the son of Nun was full of [n]the spirit of wisdom, for [o]Moses had laid his hands on him. So [p]the people of Israel obeyed him and did as the LORD had commanded Moses. [10][†]And there has not [q]arisen a prophet since in Israel like Moses, [r]whom the LORD knew face to face, [11]none like him for all [s]the signs and the wonders that the LORD sent him to do in the land of Egypt, to Pharaoh and to all his servants and to all his land, [12]and for all the mighty power and all the great deeds of terror that Moses did in the sight of all Israel.

Study Notes for Deuteronomy

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:1–5 Prologue. Beginning with this prologue, there are a number of similarities between the structure of Deuteronomy and ancient treaty documents (see chart).

Ancient Treaty Structures and Deuteronomy

Ancient Treaty Structure	Deuteronomy
Preamble	1:1–5
Historical Prologue	1:6–4:49
General Stipulations	5:1–11:32
Specific Stipulations	12:1–26:19
Blessings and Curses	27:1–28:68
Document Clause	31:9–29
Witnesses	32:1–47

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:1 In the Hebrew Bible, the name for the book of Deuteronomy is taken from the opening phrase, These are the words. Most of Deuteronomy, through ch. 30, is the spoken words of Moses. Moses has been Israel's leader since he was called by God (Exodus 3). Deuteronomy is Moses' final speech before his death. beyond the Jordan. That is, east of the Jordan River, on the north end of the Dead Sea. Since leaving Egypt and crossing the Red Sea (Exodus 14–15), Israel has been in the wilderness for 40 years. Arabah. The low Jordan Valley and area surrounding the Dead Sea.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:2–4 These verses emphasize that it was only an eleven days' journey from Mount Sinai to the Promised Land, and yet it had taken the Israelites 40 years to get there (fortieth year). The long delay was God's punishment for Israel's initial failure to trust him to bring them into the land (Num. 14:26–35). according to all that the LORD had given him. Deuteronomy rarely distinguishes between God's words and Moses' words. defeated Sihon . . . and Og. See Num. 21:21–35.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:2 Horeb is the name Deuteronomy uses for Mount Sinai (except at 33:2). This is where Israel received the commandments (Ex. 19:1–Num. 10:12). Kadesh-barnea. A town on the southern border of the Promised Land where Israel camped (Num. 13:26).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:5 Moab is east of the Jordan River. Israel had not fought against Moab on the way to the Promised Land. This law refers to the entire law given to Israel at Sinai (Ex. 19:1–Num. 10:12). Moses' task is not simply to repeat that law but to explain it.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:6–4:43 Moses' First Speech: Historical Prologue. Moses' first speech reviews Israel's past failure at Kadesh; its passing through Edom, Moab, and Ammon without fighting; its successes over Heshbon and Bashan; and the distribution of those two lands. The purpose of chs. 1–3 is not simply to retell history but to use history to persuade Israel to trust God so that they can conquer the land. Chapter 4 is a transition from the history in chs. 1–3 to the repetition of the Ten Commandments in ch. 5.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:6–8 Moses' first sermon begins by focusing on the land.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:6 Deuteronomy typically names God as the LORD our (or your) God. "LORD" is Yahweh, the personal and covenantal name for God revealed to Moses (Ex. 3:13–15; see note on Gen. 2:4).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:7 Turn and take your journey. Israel began their journey from Sinai in Num. 10:11. At this time in history, the terms Amorites and Canaanites essentially referred to the same people, the occupants of Canaan.

FACT

The Arabah (1:7) refers to the rugged and extremely dry region surrounding and south of the Dead Sea. The Israelites' travels took them through this area.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:8 See. From the plains of Moab, Israel can now survey the land before it. The promise of land was made first to Abraham (Gen. 12:7; 15:18–21), repeated to Isaac (Gen. 26:4), and then to Jacob (Gen. 28:13; 35:12), including land for their offspring after them.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:10 The people should believe God's promise to bring them into the land of Canaan, because he has already fulfilled his promise that Abraham's descendants would be as numerous as the stars of heaven (see Gen. 15:5).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:13 The people had nominated the judges and Moses confirmed them. Exodus 18:25 says simply that Moses chose them.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:16–17 alien. Aliens were non-Israelites who resided in the land and accepted Israelite rule and law. They did not own land and so were vulnerable to oppression.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:20–21 And I said to you. Almost all of those who were adults when they came out of Egypt had died by this time because of their earlier refusal to enter the land (see Num. 14:26–35). Yet when Moses describes those earlier failures, he addresses his current audience as "you," as if they themselves were responsible for those failures. The current generation assumes responsibility for their parents' sin. Do not fear. God alone is to be feared (Deut. 10:12; 13:4).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:23–25 twelve men. See Num. 13:4–16. The Valley of Eshcol is close to Hebron and is still renowned for its fruit.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:28 Anakim were reputed to be giants (Num. 13:33; compare Deut. 9:2).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:29–31 before your eyes . . . you have seen. Moses addresses his audience as though they were there with the previous generation (see note on vv. 20–21). carried you, as a man carries his son. The image is tender and loving, disproving the false claim of v. 27.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:32–33 you did not believe. Their rebellion (v. 26) was a result of their unbelief. in fire by night and in the cloud by day. See Ex. 13:21.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:36 Caleb was one of the 12 spies (Num. 13:30). He encouraged the people to enter the land. wholly followed. See Num. 14:24.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:37–38 Even with me. Moses' failure occurred when he disobeyed the Lord's instructions at Meribah (see Num. 20:2–13 and note). on your account. Moses says that his own sin was provoked by Israel. See also Deut. 3:26; 4:21; 32:51. Joshua the son of Nun was Moses' assistant (Ex. 24:13) and one of the 12 spies (Num. 13:8). With Caleb, he encouraged the people to enter the land (Num. 14:6–9). Joshua became Israel's leader after Moses (Num. 27:18–23; Deut. 31:3).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:39 Who today have no knowledge of good or evil probably refers to young children not old enough to know right and wrong. They would not have been part of the earlier rebellion.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 1:42–44 If God did not fight for Israel, defeat was certain (compare v. 30). chased you as bees do. Compare Ex. 23:28. Instead of fighting for Israel, God fought against it.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:1–23 Moses recalls a time near the end of the 40-year wilderness period when Israel peacefully passed through three nations distantly related to it (see Num. 20:14–21:20).

FACT

Was Deuteronomy a treaty? There are many similarities between the book of Deuteronomy and various ancient Near Eastern treaties that date from the time of Moses. When a nation made a treaty with a less powerful nation, the document began with the past relationship between the countries. Next, the treaty stated the laws that would govern the relationship from that point on. Finally, the treaty concluded with a list of blessings and punishments for obedience or disobedience.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:1 Red Sea probably includes the Gulf of Aqaba, the northeastern arm of the Red Sea. Mount Seir is south of the Dead Sea, in the land of Edom (see 1:2).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:2–4 the LORD said to me. This expression highlights Moses' role as God's official spokesman. long enough. See also 1:6. This formally announces the end of the 40-year wilderness wandering. your brothers. The nation of Edom descended from Jacob's twin brother, Esau (Gen. 25:30; 32:3; 36:1). Deuteronomy refers to Edom as Seir, Mount Seir, or Esau, perhaps to emphasize the blood relationship.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:5 as a possession. This expression also occurs in vv. 9, 19 with respect to Moab and Ammon (and in v. 12 with respect to Israel's own territory). Apparently God forbids Israel to take land from these nations because they are related to Israel (the Edomites through Esau; the Moabites and Ammonites through Lot).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:6–7 Israel is not to be indebted to anyone other than God.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:8 Elath and Ezion-geber were seaports on the Red Sea at the Gulf of Aqaba (see v. 1). The Arabah road ran from these towns northward to the Dead Sea.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:9 Moab, like Ammon (v. 19), was descended from Lot, Abraham's nephew (Gen. 19:36–37).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:10–12 The people whom God had removed to give Moab its land included the very people Israel now feared (see 1:28). Israel should trust God instead of fearing these people. Rephaim, like Anakim, were so tall that the people of Israel thought of them as "giants" (see 2:20–21; 3:11, 13). Edom's success is a model to encourage Israel. The land of their possession may refer only to the Transjordanian land Israel already possessed (2:24–3:17). Horites. See Gen. 14:6; 36:20–30.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:13–15 The brook Zered was actually a "wadi," which means it usually flowed only after rain. It was the border between Edom and Moab. thirty-eight years. The adults who earlier refused to enter Canaan have now all died in the wilderness, just as God had said they would (see Num. 14:22–23, 35).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:24–25 The wadi Arnon (see note on vv. 13–15) flowed into the Dead Sea and marked the border between Moab to the south and Amorite territory and Ammon to the north. Sihon the Amorite. See Num. 21:21–30. According to Gen. 15:16, the land would be given to Israel when the wickedness of the Amorites was complete, and now that time has come. The defeat of various nations represents God's punishment for their sin (Deut. 18:12; see note on Josh. 6:17–18).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:26 Heshbon was a fertile land north of Moab and Ammon, east of the Jordan River. The offer of words of peace does not seem to match the instruction to fight in v. 24.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:30 God hardened his spirit and made his heart obstinate just as with Pharaoh during the plagues (Ex. 9:12; 10:1–2; etc.). On hardening, see note on Ex. 4:21.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:32 Jahaz is mentioned in Josh. 13:18 and 21:36–37.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 2:34–35 devoted to destruction. Since God is the victor, the spoils of battle belong to him. God orders Sihon's destruction (see notes on Lev. 27:28–29; Deut. 20:16–18). Destroying the city is an act of devotion to God.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:1–11 This section recounts Israel's second Transjordanian victory (see Num. 21:31–35). Like Sihon, Og was an Amorite (Deut. 3:8).

FACT

Nations fought for control of Gilead (2:36) because an international trade route, known as the King's Highway, passed through it. The region was also an important area for agriculture. It was especially famous for the "balm of Gilead," a resin used as medicine (Jer. 8:22).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:1 Bashan is the area northeast of the Sea of Galilee. Edrei was a town on its southern border.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:5–7 In remembering these victories, Moses tries to persuade Israel to cross the Jordan, trusting in God's power. devoted them to destruction. See note on 2:34–35.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:8–10 Mount Hermon (9,232 feet/2,814 m) is a snowcapped mountain at the northern border of Israel.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:11 Rephaim. See note on 2:10–12. Rabbah, capital of Ammon (2 Sam. 11:1; Amos 1:13–14), is modern-day Amman, Jordan. The "giant" Rephaim have been killed, so Israel should no longer fear them (see Deut. 1:28).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:15 Machir was the son of Manasseh (Gen. 50:23). Here it refers to his descendants (see also Josh. 17:1).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:17 Chinnereth is another name for the Sea of Galilee. Pisgah is the peak of Mount Nebo, overlooking Jericho and the north end of the Dead Sea. It is the place where Moses will die (v. 27; 34:1–4).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:18–22 Two and a half tribes already possess their land east of the Jordan, but they are commanded to join the remaining tribes to conquer the land west of the Jordan. Only then can they return to inhabit their Transjordanian land. The wives and children of all the tribes are to stay in Transjordan and await the completed conquest.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:18 men of valor. A military term, meaning soldiers.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:20 The word rest here conveys the idea of peace after warfare, but it also describes the well-being of God's people, living in God's chosen place, under his rule.

FACT

The Jordan River begins in the foothills of Mount Hermon and empties into the Dead Sea. The Jordan is more than 200 miles (322 km) long—the longest river in Palestine.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:24 O Lord GOD is a standard form for beginning a prayer (compare 9:26).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:26–28 because of you. See note on 1:37–38. Pisgah. See 3:17 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 3:29 Beth-peor. See "Baal of Peor" (Num. 25:1–5).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:1 And now. After summarizing Israel's history, Moses begins to encourage the people. Listen means "pay attention and obey." that you may . . . take possession. Possession of the Promised Land is linked to obeying the statutes and the rules that govern life.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:2 not add . . . nor take from. Israel is to submit to God's entire word (see also 12:32).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:3–4 Your eyes have seen. See also 3:21. Baal-peor. See Num. 25:1–5. Held fast describes faithfulness to a covenant, as in marriage (Gen. 2:24).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:6 Israel's obedience to God will show other nations their wisdom and understanding. It will draw attention to Israel's God.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:7–8 God is so near to his people, especially in answering their prayers (whenever we call upon him). God is also "very near" them through his word (30:14).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:9 Make them known. Each generation is responsible to instruct the next generation in the faith.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:10 To fear the Lord means to respect, obey, and worship him.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:13–14 The Ten Commandments (literally, "Ten Words") are a concise summary of the Sinai covenant (Ex. 20:1, 18–19; 24:12). The statutes and rules are the other laws given at Sinai. God spoke these laws to Moses and told him to teach them to Israel (Exodus 21–Leviticus 27).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:15–19 Because God does not have a visible form, the worship of idols and images is prohibited (see the second commandment, 5:8–9).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:20 The people should worship the Lord because he saved them from slavery in Egypt (iron furnace; see also 1 Kings 8:51; Jer. 11:4). his own inheritance. Israel enjoys the privilege of being God's special family (see Deut. 9:26, 29).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:21–22 because of you. See note on 1:37–38. good land. Compare 1:25, 35. The repeated emphasis encourages Israel to enter the land.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:23–24 Take care suggests how easy it is to fall into idolatry (see v. 19). consuming fire (compare 5:25; 9:3). God is jealous for his people's faithfulness.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:27–28 scatter. See 28:64–68. few in number. See 28:62. The punishment for idolatry is exile to a pagan land.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:29–30 Exile is not the end. There remains hope of repentance and return (see 30:1–10). with all your heart and . . . soul. See note on 6:5.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:31 merciful. God's mercy does not contradict his jealous anger (v. 24; compare 5:9–10; Ex. 34:6–7). God is merciful because of his covenant with Abraham (Deut. 4:23; 9:27; 30:5, 20; compare Rom. 3:3–4). He will maintain his covenant, even if Israel forgets it.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:32–34 The Lord's approach to Israel at Sinai was unique. By a mighty hand and an outstretched arm represents God's power (see 7:19; 11:2; 26:8; Ex. 3:19–20).

FACT

A book of sermons? Deuteronomy consists of at least three addresses or sermons from Moses to Israel. Moses encourages Israel to obey all the commandments of God.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:35–36 there is no other. The Bible clearly teaches monotheism, that is, belief in only one true God (compare Mark 12:32).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:37–39 loved. A key theme of Deuteronomy is God's love for the patriarchs (compare 10:15) and for his people in general (5:10; 7:9; 23:5).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:41–43 Three cities of refuge are set apart in the east beyond the Jordan. A person guilty of unpremeditated murder could flee to one of these cities to escape revenge from the dead person's family. In 19:1–13, three cities west of the Jordan are set apart for the same purpose. Compare Num. 35:9–28.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 4:44–11:32 Moses' Second Speech: General Covenant Stipulations. The first part of Moses' second speech consists mostly of general conditions of God's covenant with Israel. More specific terms follow in the second part of that speech, chs. 12–16.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:1–21 These verses restate the Ten Commandments (Ex. 20:1–17). The detailed laws recorded later, in Deuteronomy 12–26, follow the general pattern of these ten laws. This suggests that they are a summary of God's requirements for his people. All but the Sabbath commandment (5:12–15) and the commandment against carved images (vv. 8–10) are explicitly reinforced in the NT.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:1 Statutes and the rules covers all the ethical teaching of Deuteronomy.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:3 Not with our fathers . . . but with us. God made his covenant at Horeb (Exodus 19–24) with the previous generation of Israel. However, it applies to the current generation just as it did to their parents. See notes on Deut. 1:20–21 and 1:29–31.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:5 you were afraid. See vv. 22–27.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:6 The Ten Commandments begin by taking note of Israel's preexisting relationship with the Lord (your God). Obedience to the laws does not earn the relationship but is in response to it.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:7 no other gods. Exclusive worship of the Lord is the logical response to the fact that there is no other god like him (4:35, 39; Isa. 46:9).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:8 God's people shall not worship any carved image of him (see 4:12, 15–19, 23). At Horeb, God's revelation of himself was audible but not visible.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:9–10 jealous. See 4:24 and note on 4:23–24. visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the children to the . . . fourth generation. This punishment is not for those who follow the Lord but for those who hate him. Such people may suffer the effects of their ancestors' sins or even continue in the same sins. See also Ex. 34:6–7. For those who love God, his steadfast love far outlasts the effects of sin on future generations.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:11 To take the name of the Lord is to utter it, as in an oath. In vain means "for a worthless purpose." For example, one should not use God's name when making a vow or an oath that he or she does not intend to fulfill. The commandment also prohibits assigning the wrong character or motive to God (such as in 1:27).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:12–14 Sabbath rest also applies to domestic animals and to the sojourner who is within your gates. These were foreigners who became permanent residents in Israel and followed its rules but who could not own land (see note on 1:16–17). The work prohibited on the Sabbath is not defined here, but see Ex. 34:21; 35:3; Num. 15:32–36.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:15 In Ex. 20:11, Israel is told to keep the Sabbath as an imitation of God's rest after the creation (see Gen. 2:1–3; compare Ex. 31:17). Here, the motivation for keeping the Sabbath is Israel's liberation from slavery.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:16 that your days may be long. See also 4:40; 6:2. This does not mean merely a long life, but a life filled with God's presence and favor: that it may go well with you.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:17 You shall not murder. The verb used here includes both intentional and accidental killing (compare 19:4–6; Num. 35:22–25). However, this verb is never used in the OT to describe killing in war.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:18 you shall not commit adultery. This specific law forbids having sexual relations with a person married to someone else. A later section (21:10–23:14) gives more detailed laws about other kinds of sexual sin.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:20 you shall not bear false witness. The term "bear witness" suggests a legal trial in which false testimony could lead to unfair punishment for the neighbor. For detailed laws concerning false witness, see 19:16–21; 25:1–16. For the importance of telling the truth, see Lev. 19:11.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 5:32–33 not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. God's way is a straight path. See also 17:11; 28:14. walk in all the way. See also 10:12; 30:16.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 6:3 milk and honey. This description of the land is an added incentive to obedience. See also 11:9; 26:15.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 6:4 Hear, O Israel. This verse is called the Shema, from the Hebrew word for "hear." The LORD our God, the LORD is one. See ESV footnote. The Lord alone is Israel's God. It is a statement of exclusivity. Compare ch. 4; and 5:6–7.

FACT

Deuteronomy 6:4 is called the Shema, from the Hebrew word for “hear.” Today many people of the Jewish faith fulfill the commands of 6:8–9 literally: They write Bible verses on pieces of paper, place them in small boxes, and then they either tie the boxes to their arm or their forehead, or attach them to the doorposts of their home.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 6:5 love. See 4:37. all. Because the Lord alone is Israel’s God, they should give him their exclusive and total devotion. Israelites are to love the Lord with all their heart, soul, and might. Jesus called this the “great and first commandment” (Matt. 22:38). In quoting the commandment, Jesus added “with all your mind” (Matt. 22:37). In early Hebrew, “heart” included what today is called the “mind.”

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 6:7–9 The two pairs of opposites—sit/walk and lie down/rise—suggest that the teaching is to take place at any and all opportunities. bind them . . . write them. Many Jews have fulfilled these commands literally, placing the text of vv. 4–5 and other Scripture verses in boxes bound on the arm and forehead (v. 8) or attached to doorposts (v. 9). See also 11:18–20.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 6:12 To forget the LORD is a moral problem, parallel to disobedience (8:11).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 6:13 fear. See 4:10. Jesus quotes this verse to Satan in the wilderness (Matt. 4:10).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 6:14–15 other gods. As seen elsewhere in Deuteronomy, the greatest tragedy for Israel would be unfaithfulness to God (compare 4:16–19; 8:11–20). jealous. See 4:24 and note on 4:23–24.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 6:16 You shall not put the LORD your God to the test. Testing God is an act of disobedience and shows a lack of trust in him. Jesus quoted this verse during his wilderness temptations (Matt. 4:7).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 6:20–24 What is the meaning . . . ? When future Israelite children ask their parents the reason for any law, the parents should explain how the law relates to their being freed from slavery in Egypt. See also 5:6; Ex. 12:26.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 6:25 Righteousness for us does not mean righteousness as a means of salvation. In this context, it means simply that keeping the Passover is the right thing to do. See also 24:13.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 7:1–2 devote them to complete destruction. See 2:34–35; 20:10–18; and notes. no mercy. The nations listed in 7:1 inhabit the land God promised to Israel. They are being punished for their sins (Gen. 15:16), and God is using Israel to do this. Showing any mercy would make it more likely that Israel would follow their evil ways (Deut. 7:16).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 7:3–4 The order for "complete destruction" of the Canaanites (vv. 1–2) was not a case of genocide but was to judge those peoples for their sin (Gen. 15:16) and to prevent the Israelites from intermarrying with them (Deut. 7:3–4). The prohibition against intermarriage was not to forbid interracial marriage but was so that Israel would not turn away from the one true God (compare 20:18). Such apostasy would be much more likely than the conversion of their non-Israelite spouses (compare 2 Cor. 6:14–15).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 7:5 All the objects used in Canaanite religion are to be totally destroyed so that they will not be a trap for Israel (see v. 16 and note on 12:2–3). The pillars were made of stone. Asherim were wooden poles decorated with female fertility symbols (see note on Judg. 6:25–26).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 7:6 holy to the LORD. Holiness means being exclusively separated to God. Israel must have no association with pagan religion. chosen. See 10:15; 14:2. treasured possession. See Ex. 19:5; Deut. 26:18.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 7:12–15 Obedience to the covenant leads to blessings for Israel (see 28:1–14). Evil diseases may refer to the plagues against Egypt (Exodus 7–14), or to more common diseases there.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 7:17–18 Israel is warned three times (see also 8:17; 9:4) not to say in your heart certain things that express fear (7:17) or pride (8:17; 9:4). The cure for unnecessary fear is to remember what the LORD your God did.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 7:20 Hornets may be a literal reference to the winged insect. Or it may describe people who flee in panic as if being chased by hornets. See Ex. 23:28; and note on Josh. 24:12. Compare “bees”; Deut. 1:44.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 7:25–26 burn. See note on v. 5. Abomination refers to a significant sin with which God is especially angry. devoted to destruction. See note on 2:34–35.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 8:2–3 In Deuteronomy, Israel is frequently urged to remember their slavery in Egypt as a reason to keep the law (e.g., 15:15; 16:12). Remembrance should lead to obedience (e.g., 9:7; 16:3). Manna literally means “What is it?” (Ex. 16:15).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 8:4 clothing . . . foot. Compare 29:5.

FACT

Jesus quoted from the book of Deuteronomy more than any other OT book. He quoted 8:3 when tempted by Satan (Matt. 4:4).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 8:5 disciplines. See Prov. 3:11–12; Heb. 12:5–11.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 8:14 heart . . . lifted up. Pride comes from forgetting life in the wilderness (vv. 14–16) and failing to apply its lessons to the new life in Canaan.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 8:15 water out of the flinty rock. See Ex. 17:6 and Num. 20:8, 11.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 8:17 say in your heart. This verse puts into words the pride described in v. 14.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 8:19–20 Forgetfulness also leads to idolatry and perishing.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 9:1–10:11 Continuing the theme of Israel's "heart" problem, this section gives examples of Israel's stubbornness.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 9:2 Anakim. See 1:28 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 9:3 Quickly contrasts with "little by little" in 7:22. Compared with their long settlement in the land, the Canaanites will disappear quickly, but Israel's conquest of the land will take a long time.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 9:4–5 Do not say in your heart (see 7:17–18 and note). While victory in the Promised Land is God's punishment of the nations' wickedness, that does not imply Israel's righteousness. Israel's possession of the land is due solely to God's faithfulness to his promises.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 9:7–21 The golden calf incident is retold at length to demonstrate Israel's stubbornness.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 9:8 Even at Horeb, where they heard God's voice directly, Israel misbehaved (compare Exodus 32–34).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 9:9–10 all the words . . . spoken with you. That is, the Ten Commandments (see 5:22).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 9:12–13 God distances himself from Israel. Your people whom you have brought and this people contrasts with God's earlier description of them as "my people" (Ex. 6:7).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 9:17 broke them. Moses' breaking the tablets symbolized the deliberate ending of Israel's covenant relationship with God. It was an impulsive gesture of fury and despair following God's words recalled in vv. 12–14.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 9:18–20 This is the second period of forty days and forty nights (see vv. 9–11). The LORD listened to me refers to Moses' intercession for the people (see vv. 25–29). Aaron was Moses' brother, the first high priest of Israel.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 9:21 No mention is made here of forcing Israel to drink the water containing the ground-up golden calf (compare Ex. 32:20).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 9:25 forty days and forty nights. Considering its placement in Ex. 32:11–14, it is unclear if this is the same period as in Deut. 9:18. It may have occurred earlier (see vv. 9–11), as the following prayer implies.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 10:1 The ark was constructed (Ex. 37:1–9) soon after the writing of the replacement tablets (Ex. 34:1–4).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 10:6–9 Since the tribe of Levi owned no land (18:1–2), the other tribes provided for them (e.g., 12:12, 18; 14:27).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 10:11 The command to arise and go on your journey indicates that, with the tablets replaced and the ark of the covenant built, Moses' intercession for Israel has been answered fully.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 10:12–13 And now marks a transition from the retelling of history to encouragement. what does the LORD your God require of you. Compare Mic. 6:8. Five commands follow. for your good. Obedience to the Lord always benefits those who obey.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 10:14–15 set his heart in love on your fathers. See 4:37 and 7:7–8; note on 4:37–39; compare 10:12.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 10:16 Circumcise . . . your heart. Here, circumcision symbolizes removing the stubbornness that prevents the heart from loving God. Compare Ex. 6:12, where "uncircumcised lips" are lips that do not speak well; and Jer. 6:10, where "uncircumcised ears" are ears that do not hear clearly. This kind of circumcision can happen only with the Lord's help (Deut. 30:6).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 10:17 The fact that Israel has been chosen by God (v. 15) does not mean that he will ignore their sin, for he is not partial.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 10:20 fear the LORD your God. Compare vv. 12–13. hold fast. See 4:4 and note on 4:3–4.

FACT

A sojourner was a person from another country who was living and working in Israel. The Israelites were taught to love and respect the sojourners living among them, for they themselves had been sojourners in Egypt (10:19).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 10:22 down to Egypt seventy persons. See Gen. 46:27 and Ex. 1:5. Part of God's promise to Abraham has been fulfilled (Gen. 15:5). See Deut. 1:10 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 11:1 Because God rescued Israel from Egypt (10:21–22), therefore they should love him.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 11:2 Moses addresses the adults of Israel as if all of them had experienced the exodus and wilderness events, even though the adults who left Egypt had died in the wilderness. See 1:20–21 and note. discipline. See 8:5.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 11:6 Dathan and Abiram, along with Korah, rebelled against Moses' leadership in the wilderness (Num. 16:1–35).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 11:7 your eyes have seen. See note on v. 2.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 11:14 early rain and the later rain. Both the rains that come in October/November and those that come in March/April are needed for good crops.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 11:16–17 Take care lest your heart be deceived, and you . . . serve other gods. In light of vv. 14–15, Moses is probably warning them not to believe that the Canaanite fertility gods are the source of rain, crops, and animals.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 11:18–21 On teaching these words to the next generation, see note on 6:7–9. as long as the heavens are above the earth. That is, forever.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 11:26 I am setting before you today. This expression, repeated in v. 32, emphasizes the importance of making the right decision.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 11:28 Since the people are in a covenant relationship with the LORD your God, it would be foolish for them to worship the Canaanite Baals, with whom they have had no such relationship (that you have not known).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 11:29 See 27:1–14 for details on this ceremony and the two mountains.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 11:30 Arabah. See 1:1 and note; 1:7. Gilgal. See Josh. 4:19. The oak of Moreh is where the Lord first promised to give Abraham the land of Canaan (Gen. 12:6).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:1–26:19 Moses' Second Speech: Specific Covenant Stipulations. In this second part of Moses' second speech, he discusses in more detail the things he discussed in the first part of the speech (chs. 5–11). This second part of the speech seems to follow the order of the Ten Commandments.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:1–32 Chapter 12 deals with proper worship. It builds on the first commandment, about having no other gods besides the Lord.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:2–3 When the Israelites enter Canaan, they are to destroy all the existing worship centers. Canaanite religion focused on fertility. It set up its shrines on mountains, hills, and under trees. Asherim. See note on 7:5.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:4 They should not use Canaanite religious places and objects to worship the Lord.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:5–6 Moses looked to the day when the Lord would put his name and make his habitation in a permanent place, though God is not limited to just one place. It is a single place, in contrast to the "places" in vv. 2, 13–14. This place is not named here, though centuries later it was clearly identified with Jerusalem. Until then, the “place” was wherever the tabernacle was located. This was often at Shiloh (Josh. 18:1).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:7 eat. The peace offering sacrifices were not totally burned up on the altar. Part of the animal was to be eaten by the offerer, the offerer’s household, and the priests. before the LORD your God. That is, in his presence (also vv. 12, 18).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:8–9 You shall not do according to all that we are doing here today. Once the people enter the land, the laws of worship, especially regarding the place where it is to occur, will be stricter. rest. See 3:20 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:12 Levites served in various towns. They owned no land (portion or inheritance) and relied on offerings for survival (v. 19; Num. 26:62).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:13–14 While in one of your tribes could mean one place per tribal territory, v. 5 has already specified one place for the entire nation.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:15 you may . . . eat meat within any of your towns. Apparently the people had been told that, ordinarily, they could eat only sacrificial meat (Lev. 17:1–7). Now, partly because of the distances that people would be from the central place for sacrifice (Deut. 12:20–21), they are allowed to eat non-sacrificial meat. Unclean and the clean is a ceremonial distinction, not a moral one. Leviticus 12–15 defines certain people as unclean. They are forbidden to eat sacrificial meat, but this would not apply to meat from non-sacrificial animals.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:16 you shall not eat the blood. See Gen. 9:4 and Lev. 3:17. The blood is the life (Deut. 12:23–24) and is therefore linked to atonement for sin (Lev. 17:10–12). See also Acts 15:20.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:17–19 tithe . . . offerings. See v. 11. servant . . . and the Levite. See note on v. 12.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:26–27 Holy things are things set apart for God: sacrifices, offerings, tithes, objects of vows. See vv. 17–18. The blood of your sacrifices shall be poured out on the altar. E.g., Lev. 1:5.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:30 take care that you be not ensnared. See 7:2; and note on 7:5.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:31 You shall not worship . . . in that way (see v. 4). Canaanite worship is not only wrong, it is accompanied by abominable moral practices (see 7:25), among which is child sacrifice. See 2 Kings 16:3; Jer. 32:35.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 12:32 not add to it or take from it. See note on 4:2.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 13:1–18 Much of OT law is “case law,” which explains the correct legal response to specific situations. Here, each situation is introduced with if (vv. 1, 6, 12).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 13:2 sign or wonder. The Bible records miracles from sources other than the Lord, e.g., the Egyptian magicians (Ex. 7:22; etc.) and Simon the Sorcerer (Acts 8:9).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 13:3 For the LORD your God is testing you. The Lord uses false prophets to test his people’s faithfulness. Signs and wonders, when accompanied by false teaching, are not from the Lord. love. See 4:37–39 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 13:4 walk . . . fear. See 10:12–13, 20 and notes. hold fast. See note on 4:3–4.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 13:5 Even though the prophet or dreamer of dreams is used by God to test Israel, that person is not innocent. purge the evil from your midst. See 17:7; 21:21 (the death penalty is implied in these cases). Israel is commanded not to allow any unbelieving Israelites to live among them (compare 1 Cor. 5:13).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 13:6 Faithfulness to the Lord takes priority even over close personal relations (compare Luke 14:26–33).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 13:8 Even if a beloved friend tries to lead a person astray, you shall not yield to him.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 13:11 Besides punishing the offender, capital punishment serves as a warning to others (see note on v. 5).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 13:12–17 Rumors of apostasy must be checked carefully (inquire and make search and ask diligently) to ensure that they are true and certain. If the rumors prove to be true, then not just the worthless fellows who led the apostasy but also all the inhabitants of that city must die, because they allowed the apostasy to go unchecked. devoting it to destruction. See 2:34–35 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 14:1–21 Israel's diet was to be distinctive, showing how the nation itself was different from all other nations (compare Leviticus 11).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 14:1–2 You are the sons of . . . God. While the NT often refers to individual believers as "sons" or "children" of God, this is fairly rare in the OT (see 1:31; 8:5; Isa. 1:2). The nation as a whole is called God's "son" in Ex. 4:22–23 and Hos. 11:1. cut yourselves or make any baldness on your foreheads for the dead. Probably both of these activities were part of pagan worship (Lev. 19:27–28; see also 1 Kings 18:28). Compare Lev. 21:5–6.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 14:3 Unclean animals are regarded as an abomination (see Leviticus 11; Deut. 7:25–26 and note). Clean and unclean animals are kept separate to illustrate the separation of Israel from other nations (14:2).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 14:4–8 Clean animals have a cloven hoof and chew the cud. Cleanness cannot be based on the animals' vegetarian diet, since unclean animals such as the camel, hare, and rock badger are vegetarian.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 14:11–20 Unclean birds seem to be birds of prey. These eat dead creatures and blood, which are forbidden to Israelites (v. 21).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 14:21 Israelites cannot eat anything that has died naturally, probably because the blood is still in the animal (see note on 12:16). holy to the Lord. See 7:6; 14:2. You shall not boil a young goat in its mother's milk. To do so would be an insult to God's creative design (compare Ex. 23:19 and note; Deut. 22:6–7).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 14:22–29 People practiced tithing (giving 10 percent) as early as the days of Abram (Gen. 14:20). For laws about tithing, see Lev. 27:30–33; Num. 18:8–32.

FACT

Death penalty for apostasy? Anyone who urged a fellow Israelite to "go and serve other gods" was to be put to death (13:6–11). While the NT does not prescribe death for such an offense, it gives serious warning to anyone who leads another person into sin (Matt. 18:6).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 14:23 in the place that he will choose. See 12:5–6 and note. you shall eat. Deuteronomy's emphasis on festive celebration of the land's blessing is seen here with an annual "tithe party." The whole household (14:26) plus the Levites (v. 27) are to be included. The person who truly learns to fear the Lord will also learn to trust that the 90 percent remaining after the tithe will be enough.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 14:24–26 when . . . God blesses you. A blessing is clearly expected. wine or strong drink. The Bible condemns drunkenness (Prov. 23:29–35; Gal. 5:21) and forbids priests to drink while in the sanctuary (Lev. 10:9), but it expects that drinking will sometimes take place at celebratory occasions such as weddings (John 2:1–10). rejoice. See Deut. 12:7.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 14:27 you shall not neglect the Levite. See notes on 10:6–9 and 12:12.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 14:28–29 An additional tithe is to be given every third year for those who own no land and therefore may be poor.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 15:1–18 The laws in these verses relate to the sabbatical year. See Ex. 23:10–11 and Lev. 25:1–7.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 15:1–3 All debts between Israelites, however large, were to be cancelled at the end of every seventh year. Debts owed by foreigners were not cancelled (compare 14:21).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 15:4–6 There will be no poor among you is in effect a command to be generous: "Let there be no poor among you." Since the land will be sufficiently blessed by God (v. 6), if the laws are followed (v. 5), there should be no poor. But see v. 11 and note on vv. 9–11.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 15:7–8 If . . . one of your brothers. The law of vv. 7–8 does not apply to the poor outside of Israel. should become poor . . . lend . . . for his need. The cause of the fellow Israelite's poverty is not the issue, even if it involves wastefulness or foolishness. you shall not harden your heart or shut your hand. It may be costly to the Israelite to give what is needed, but he must be willing to do so.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 15:9–11 If the sabbatical year is close, loans are less likely to be repaid, but the one asked to lend should have no such unworthy thought in his heart. Verse 4 expressed an ideal situation (see note on vv. 4–6), but the reality is that Israel will never perfectly keep the law, so there will never cease to be poor people among them. There will always be a need for generosity. Compare Matt. 26:11.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 15:12 When a wealthier Israelite allowed a debtor to become his "slave," it was considered an act of mercy (Gen. 47:21–25). Indebted people sometimes chose to remain slaves permanently, because of the security it provided (see Deut. 15:16–17). This type of slavery was very different from the kind of slavery usually seen today, which involves kidnapping and forced labor.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 15:13–15 When a slave ends his term of service, his former owner is to give him supplies and not let him go empty-handed, to help ensure that he won't have to return to slavery. The Israelites should desire to treat their slaves kindly as they remember (1) God's blessings (As the LORD . . . has blessed you) and (2) their own long years of slavery in Egypt (remember that you were a slave; see 8:2–3 and note).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 15:16–17 Piercing with an awl marks permanent ownership. See Ex. 21:5–6; and note on Deut. 15:12.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 15:18 A warning against greed.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 15:19–23 Giving the firstborn is an expression of thanks and trust that more animals are to come. The animal is to be eaten in the central place before the LORD.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 16:1–17 These verses deal with the three main Israelite feasts (see Ex. 23:14–17). If Deuteronomy's detailed laws are arranged in the order of the Ten Commandments, this section corresponds to the Sabbath law in Deut. 5:12. On Passover, see Ex. 12:2–39; Num. 28:16–25. On the Feast of Weeks, see Lev. 23:15–22; Num. 28:26–31. On the Feast of Booths, see Lev. 23:33–43; Num. 29:12–40. All the feasts occur at the central place of worship. For those who lived outside Jerusalem, attendance required several days of travel (compare Luke 2:41–52).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 16:1 Abib. The first month (Ex. 12:2; Lev. 23:5), corresponding to March/April.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 16:2 flock or the herd. In Deuteronomy, the Passover sacrifice does not need to be a lamb (compare Ex. 12:3, 21).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 16:3 eat no leavened bread. Unleavened Bread is the name of the seven-day feast after Passover (Ex. 23:15; compare Ex. 12:15–20). remember. Remembrance leads to obedience (see Deut. 8:2–3 and note).

FACT

What is unleavened bread? Leaven is another name for yeast. Because bread made without yeast does not rise, unleavened bread is flat. During the exodus, the Israelites left Egypt so quickly that there was no time for their bread to rise. Unleavened bread was therefore used in Passover celebrations.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 16:5–6 You may not offer the Passover sacrifice within any of your towns. During their wilderness journeys, the Israelites could celebrate the Passover in their tents (see Ex. 12:21–24). Deuteronomy, however, gives instructions for the time when they will be settled in the Promised Land.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 16:7 Cook means roast, not boil (Ex. 12:8–9).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 16:9–10 The Feast of Weeks is called the Feast of Harvest in Ex. 23:16. The seven weeks are counted from the time the sickle is first put to the standing grain, marking the end of the grain harvest. The Greek name for this festival is Pentecost, meaning 50 days (see Acts 2:1). A freewill offering expresses thankfulness for the harvest.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 16:13 The Feast of Booths or Tabernacles is called the Feast of Ingathering in Ex. 23:16 and 34:22. It occurred in September/October and marked the harvest of summer fruits such as dates, grapes, and olives. The law was to be read every seventh year during this feast (Deut. 31:9–13).

FACT

Threshing is the process of separating kernels of grain (such as barley and wheat) from their stalks. This was done by beating the stalks or by using an ox or a donkey to pull a weighted sled over the harvest. Often large, flat rocks were used as threshing floors (16:13).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 16:16–17 all your males. Presumably females were free to attend the feast (vv. 11, 14), but only males were required to attend. The repeated mention of blessing encourages Israel to enter the land.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 16:18–18:22 Most of these laws are about the various leaders for Israel. Leaders, like parents, exercise God’s authority toward those under them. This section recalls the fifth commandment: “Honor your father and your mother” (5:16).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 16:19 You shall not . . . Justice comes from God’s character. See 1:17 and note on 1:16–17; 10:17; Ex. 23:6–8.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 16:21–22 tree as an Asherah . . . pillar. See note on 7:5. Canaanite worship items were to be destroyed (7:5; 12:3). This law prohibits bringing pagan religious practices into the central place of worship. Compare 2 Kings 21:7.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 17:1 sacrifice . . . blemish. See Lev. 22:17–25; Mal. 1:6–8; and note on Deut. 15:19–23. abomination. See note on 7:25–26.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 17:2–3 does what is evil. More specifically, commits idolatry. See 4:19.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 17:4–5 Because idolatry breaks the first commandment, it is a capital offense. out to your gates. Capital punishment was usually outside the walls or camp (Lev. 24:14; Num. 15:35).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 17:6–7 On the evidence of . . . witnesses. The standard biblical requirement for finding someone guilty of a capital offense is two witnesses (Num. 35:30). See Deut. 19:16–21 on penalties for false witnesses. Insisting that the hand of the witnesses shall be first to stone the guilty helps prevent false testimony and adds seriousness to their testimony (compare 13:9). purge the evil. See 13:5 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 17:8–9 Straightforward judicial cases should be decided in local courts. Difficult cases are to be tried in the central sanctuary. Worship and justice are tied together.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 17:10–13 The decision of the central sanctuary court is final. that man shall die. Refusal to follow the ruling of the court is itself a capital offense, for it is a rejection of God's justice and rule. purge the evil. See 13:5 and note. not act presumptuously again. See 13:11.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 17:14–15 I will set a king over me, like all the nations. See 1 Sam. 8:5, 20. Even though it will be several centuries before Israel has a king, Deuteronomy provides legislation for when that happens. God will choose their king.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 17:16–17 Governmental leaders would constantly face temptation to abuse their power for personal gain. Since the Lord had just rescued Israel from slavery in Egypt, kings would be forbidden to turn to Egypt for help (e.g., Isa. 31:1; compare Deut. 28:68).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 17:18–20 A copy of this law probably refers to chs. 1–30 (see 31:9). Reading and obeying the word of God trains people to fear the LORD (see note on 4:10). to the right hand or to the left. See Josh. 1:7 and note on Deut. 5:32–33.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 18:1–2 shall have no portion or inheritance. See 12:12 and note. the LORD is their inheritance. See Num. 18:20. It was a privilege to serve the Lord in the central sanctuary. The priests received a blessing being near the Lord's presence.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 18:3–4 Parts of the sacrifices and firstfruits are for the Levites. Compare Lev. 7:28–34 and Num. 18:9–24, where the portions for the priests are slightly different.

FACT

Sheep are mentioned more than any other animal in the Bible. Sheep are dependent on shepherds to protect and care for them.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 18:6–8 Levites who minister in the country are allowed to minister in the central sanctuary occasionally. sale of his patrimony. Apart from their share of offerings, Levites may also make money from their personal property.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 18:9–11 abominable practices of those nations. See note on 12:2–3. burns his son or his daughter as an offering. See 12:31 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 18:12 because of these abominations the LORD your God is driving them out. The destruction of the Canaanites was not an attack on innocent people. It was God's judgment against serious sin (Gen. 15:16; see notes on Deut. 7:1–2; Josh. 6:17).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 18:15–19 On the voice of the LORD, see 5:23–28. a prophet like you. In the first century A.D., Jews expected a final prophet, whom NT writers identified as Jesus (Acts 3:22–24; 7:37; compare John 1:21).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 18:20–22 False prophets, whether speaking in God's name or the name of other gods, are to be put to death (13:1–5). However, if a prophet's words do come true, this does not automatically mean that person is God's prophet (see 13:5 and note).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 19:1–21:14 This section corresponds to the sixth commandment: "You shall not murder" (5:17).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 19:1–3 dwell in their cities and in their houses. See 6:10–11. The three cities of refuge are to be located for reasonable access. See Num. 35:9–34 and notes. Joshua 20:1–9 names these three cities.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 19:4–6 The cities of refuge are to ensure justice for a manslayer who unintentionally kills someone. Otherwise, he might be killed by the avenger of blood, someone from the victim's family seeking revenge. The law clearly distinguishes between manslaughter (which is unpremeditated) and murder. The death penalty does not apply for manslaughter.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 19:8–10 The law assumes that Israel's territory will grow (see 12:20) and that they will need more cities of refuge. That these additional three cities of refuge were never appointed indicates Israel's lack of faith. innocent blood. A manslayer is innocent of murder.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 19:13 purge the guilt. Compare v. 19; 13:5 (and note), where the expression is "purge the evil."

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 19:14 Moving the landmark, or boundary stone, of a neighbor is essentially theft of land (see also 27:17). The law emphasizes keeping land in families, since inheritance rights are basic to Israel's life in the land.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 19:15 On witnesses, see Num. 35:30; Deut. 17:6 and note on 17:6–7.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 19:16–18 In disputed legal cases, the issue is taken to the central sanctuary, before the LORD (17:8–9).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 19:21 eye shall not pity. See 13:8. life for life. Punishment is to be appropriate for the crime. See Ex. 21:23–25 and Matt. 5:38.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 20:1–20 These laws on warfare (especially vv. 16–18) may seem to be at odds with the teachings of the NT. But three things should be kept in mind: (1) they applied specifically to securing the Promised Land; (2) the Israelite armies were to offer terms of peace before attacking a city (see v. 10); (3) assuming the rightfulness of Israel's cause, these laws actually helped to limit the loss of life in warfare. See notes on 7:1–2; 18:12.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 20:5–7 Three situations would exempt a man from military service. Compare 28:30. God desired that his people enjoy the blessings of housing, crops, and marriage. He could bring victory in battle, even with these three groups of men exempted from service.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 20:8 Fear could be contagious, so those who were fearful were also exempted.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 20:10–15 Verses 10–15 apply to cities outside the boundaries of the Promised Land (see v. 15). If the city rejects the terms of peace, God assures victory over it.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 20:16–18 Only the cities within the Promised Land are to be devoted to complete destruction. The mandate for complete destruction does not apply to cities outside Canaan (see vv. 10–15). God is the victor, and the spoils of war belong to him (see 2:34–35; 7:2). This kind of destruction is a sign of final judgment. See note on Josh. 6:17–18.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 20:19–20 Israel is to inherit trees that it did not plant (see 6:11).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 21:1 in the land. These laws will keep the Promised Land free from being unclean.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 21:4 The heifer's death atones for sin committed by an unknown person.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 21:9 purge the guilt. Compare 13:5.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 21:10 This law must apply to conquests of cities far away (20:10–15), otherwise the women would have been destroyed (20:17).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 21:12–13 shave her head and pare her nails . . . take off the clothes. These actions indicate a change from her former life, including its religious practices.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 21:15–23:14 Many of the laws in this section address the sexual faithfulness of God's people, corresponding to the seventh commandment: "You shall not commit adultery" (5:18).

FACT

Inheritance rights. In Israel, the firstborn son received a double share of the inheritance. The firstborn also had more responsibility for the family than other children. The law protected the special rights of the firstborn (21:15–17).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 21:15–17 This law assumes that polygamy exists but does not condone it. (The ethical ideal for marriage comes from Gen. 2:24. On polygamy, see note on 1 Tim. 3:2–3.) double portion. The OT, in line with ancient Near Eastern practice, gave a double share of inheritance to the oldest son.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 21:18–21 Breaking the fifth commandment (5:16) brought the death penalty. Parents were to report their own rebellious children to the authorities. purge the evil. See 13:5.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 22:6–7 Like the treatment of trees in 20:19–20, this law preserves life. It requires wise, respectful use of the creation.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 22:8 Builders and homeowners must take adequate safety measures. Flat roofs were used for various household activities, including sleeping in hot weather.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 22:9–11 These laws prohibit mixing various items, reflecting God's ordering of creation "according to its kind" (e.g., Gen. 1:25).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 22:12 tassels. See Num. 15:38–41.

FACT

Why did the Israelites sew tassels on their garments? In the ancient world, tassels were worn by nobles and other high-class people. In Israel they were worn by everyone as a mark of their special status and responsibilities as God's chosen people (22:12; Num. 15:37–41).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 22:14–15 evidence of virginity. This may be a garment stained with menstrual blood (v. 17), which demonstrates that she is not pregnant, or a stain of hymenal blood, showing that the girl's first intercourse took place on her wedding night. The gate was where legal matters were heard and resolved.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 22:19 A hundred shekels is a very large fine. Workers in OT times earned half a shekel per month. This law discouraged men from making false accusations and seeking an easy divorce.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 22:21 purge the evil. See 13:5.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 22:22 Adultery was a capital offense throughout the ancient world. To be convicted, the couple must be caught in the act (found lying). They were both punished equally.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 22:23–24 betrothed . . . wife. Betrothal was much more binding than modern engagement. The woman is called "wife" in v. 24.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 22:29 Fifty shekels appears to be the bride-price (see Ex. 22:16). The law protects the woman, who is less likely to be married because she has been raped.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 22:30 uncover his father's nakedness. See ESV footnote; also 27:20. It probably means to bring dishonor to the father. The father's wife would presumably be a woman other than the man's mother.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 23:1 In Deuteronomy, assembly usually refers to Israel gathered at Horeb/Sinai. In this chapter, it looks forward to Israel gathered for worship in the Promised Land. Testicles are crushed probably refers to men made eunuchs in the context of pagan worship.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 23:2–4 Tenth generation may mean forever (see v. 6). no Ammonite or Moabite. The story of Ruth indicates that there were exceptions (see note on Ruth 1:4). Balaam. See Numbers 22–24.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 23:7–8 You shall not abhor an Edomite. Edom is descended from Esau, Jacob's twin (Gen. 25:19–26). Both Edomites and Egyptians may enter the assembly of the LORD. With God, faith is the issue, not race.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 23:9–14 When Israel's army was fighting the enemy, it was considered a religious gathering. Laws of cleanness applied.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 23:15–24:22 These laws address property offenses related to the eighth commandment: "You shall not steal" (5:19).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 23:15 The refugee slave is most likely a foreigner, not an Israelite slave.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 23:17 cult prostitute. Cultic prostitution was a part of Canaanite fertility rites. It was strictly prohibited for Israel.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 23:19–20 To seek a loan in ancient times was an act of desperation, often caused by crop failure. The prohibition against charging interest among Israelites (Ex. 22:25) protected the poor. may bless you. Wealth is to come as a gift from God, not from selfish hoarding.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 23:21–23 Vows were voluntary, but once a vow was made, it was binding. God keeps his promises and desires that his people do so as well.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 23:24–25 you may eat your fill. These laws benefit the poor and are not an excuse for theft (see notes on 15:4–6; 15:7–8).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 24:1–4 By charging his wife with some indecency, the first husband acquired her dowry—her father's marriage present to her—when he divorced her. If she then remarried, she would have received a second dowry. If her second marriage ended, through either death or divorce, she would have been able to keep her second dowry. The first husband is forbidden to exploit her by remarrying her in order to acquire her second dowry. This is the only OT law about divorce. Elsewhere it is assumed that divorce will sometimes occur (e.g., Lev. 21:7, 14; Num. 30:9). See Jesus' comments on Deut. 24:1–4 in Matt. 5:31–32. In Matt. 19:7, Pharisees use this law to defend their position on divorce. Jesus, however, refers all the way back to creation (Gen. 1:27; 2:24) to show God's ideal plan for marriage. Deuteronomy 24:1–4 recognizes that people have hard hearts and will sometimes fall short of God's ideal. It preserves a minimum level of civility in cases of divorce.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 24:5 The military exemption of one year gives the couple time to have at least one child and develop their relationship. Compare note on 20:5–7.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 24:6 mill or an upper millstone. If these items were taken as security for a loan, it could deprive a poor person of the ability to earn a living.

FACT

What was an upper millstone? Israelite women ground their grain in mills made of two circular stones. The grain was placed on the flat lower stone and then crushed as the upper millstone rolled over it. To deprive the miller of either stone would make her work impossible (24:6).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 24:7 that thief shall die. Kidnapping is regarded as theft. It is the only kind of theft that is punishable by death. purge the evil. See 13:5.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 24:8–9 Since a leprous disease makes a person unclean, a priest must make the official diagnosis. See Leviticus 13 and note on Lev. 13:1–59.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 24:10 not go into his house to collect his pledge. This law protects the dignity of the poor person who is forced into asking for a loan.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 24:12 not sleep in his pledge. A person's cloak could not be taken as security for a loan because it probably also served as the person's blanket (see v. 13; Amos 2:8).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 24:19–22 The blessings of the land are for the people as a whole to share. Compare 23:24–25, and see Lev. 19:9–10. See also this law in practice in Ruth 2.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 25:1–16 The laws in this section relate to things like administering justice, providing for widows, and being honest in business. They relate to the ninth commandment: "You shall not bear false witness" (5:20; compare 25:1, 13–15).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 25:3 The limit of forty stripes was to prevent the guilty person from being degraded or permanently harmed. For fear of miscounting and going beyond 40, later Jews limited flogging to 39, as in the case of Paul (2 Cor. 11:24).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 25:4 Paul applied this law to the work of Christian leaders: If even an ox deserves to be fed, how much more do gospel workers deserve support (1 Cor. 9:9; 1 Tim. 5:18).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 25:5 Her husband's brother shall . . . take her as his wife. This was called "levirate marriage" (from the Latin word levir, meaning "brother-in-law"). It was to protect the widow and provide descendants for the deceased man. It was a case where polygamy was allowed (the brother-in-law may already be married). See also Gen. 38:8–10; Ruth 4:1–12.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 25:7 gate. See 22:15 and note on 22:14–15.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 25:9 pull his sandal off his foot and spit in his face. This public event shames the brother-in-law (Num. 12:14). He is not, however, forced into marrying the widow. This protects her from being mistreated by a reluctant husband.

FACT

Shoes and sandals were considered the most humble articles of clothing. They were removed at the doorway before entering a home. People also removed their shoes during periods of mourning. Going barefoot was a sign of poverty and shame (25:9–10).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 25:13–16 two kinds of weights . . . two kinds of measures. A dishonest person might use one set of weights or measures for selling and another for buying. See Lev. 19:35–36. See also Prov. 11:1. days may be long. See Deut. 5:16 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 25:17–19 See Ex. 17:8–16 for the account of the Amalekites’ opposition to Israel.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 26:1–19 The final section of specific laws deals with the offering of firstfruits and tithes in the land.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 26:2 first of all the fruit. This law acknowledges the faithfulness of God and the goodness of the land (v. 3). place that the LORD your God will choose. See 12:5 and note on 12:5–6.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 26:4 the priest shall take. See note on 18:3–4.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 26:5–10 These verses could be seen as a statement of faith, used in Israel’s worship to remember God’s faithfulness. Aramean refers to Jacob, who married the daughters of his uncle Laban, an Aramean (Gen. 28:5). down into Egypt. See Ex. 1:1–7. treated us harshly. See Exodus 1–2. cried to the LORD. See Ex. 2:23–24. signs and wonders. The plagues of Egypt (Ex. 7:14–12:32). milk and honey. See Deut. 6:3.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 26:12 in the third year, which is the year of tithing. See 14:28–29 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 26:14 Offered . . . to the dead describes a forbidden pagan practice.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 26:15 Look down from your holy habitation. God dwells in heaven, though on earth his name and presence also dwell in the central place of worship. See 4:36 and note on 12:5–6; compare 1 Kings 8:27–30.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 26:16 with all your heart. See 4:29; 6:5 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 26:18–19 treasured possession . . . holy to the LORD. See 7:6.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:1–28:68 Moses' Third Speech: Blessings and Curses. Ancient covenant treaties included blessings for keeping the treaty conditions and curses for not keeping them (see chart). These chapters describe the blessings and curses Israel will face for either keeping or failing to keep its covenant with the Lord.

FACT

At more than 3,000 feet (914 m) high, Mount Ebal is one of the highest points in Samaria.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:1–8 Moses looks ahead to a covenant ceremony after arriving in the land.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:2–3 on the day. Not necessarily the precise day but simply "when." plaster them with plaster. White plaster provides a backdrop for the writing. write on them all the words of this law. This is in addition to the permanent written record (31:24–26).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:4–5 today. See note on vv. 2–3. Mount Ebal is north of Shechem (see 11:29). wield no iron tool. Israel's altars were to be of unhewn stone (Ex. 20:25).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:6–7 Burnt offerings were the basic sacrifices dealing with sin (Leviticus 1). After sins are atoned for, peace offerings celebrate fellowship with God (Leviticus 3).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:9 you have become the people of the LORD. Compare Ex. 19:5–6; Deut. 7:6; 14:2. The covenant of Horeb is renewed here in Moab (29:1). After the conquest, it will be renewed again at Shechem (Joshua 24).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:12–13 Mount Gerizim is south of Shechem. Shechem is on the shoulder of the two mountains, Gerizim and Ebal (see 11:29 and note on 27:4–5). These verses describe a ceremony in which Israel hears blessings and curses concerning the law. In this chapter, however, there are only curses read by the Levites. See Josh. 8:30–35 for the carrying out of these instructions (compare Joshua 24).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:14 Levites must refer to the Levitical priests, since the rest of the tribe of Levi are on Mount Gerizim (see v. 12).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:15 On image, see 5:8–10. “Amen.” All the people express their acceptance of God’s justice and judgment.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:16 On dishonoring father and mother, see 5:16.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:17 On neighbor’s landmark, see 19:14.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:18 On misleading the blind, see Lev. 19:14.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:19 On perverting justice, see 24:17–18.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:20–22 On uncovering one’s father’s nakedness, see 22:30; Lev. 18:8. On lying with an animal, see Lev. 18:23. On lying with one’s sister, see Lev. 18:9.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:24 On striking down one’s neighbor, see 19:11.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:25 On taking a bribe, see 16:19.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 27:26 The list of 12 curses is merely a sample of the law. It is not meant to include all situations. Paul quotes this verse in Gal. 3:10 to show that no human can perfectly obey God's law, and that therefore all need his grace.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:1–68 The focus shifts from specific sins that warrant curses to the content of the curses (vv. 15–68), preceded by a shorter list of blessings (vv. 1–14).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:3–6 For parallel curses, see vv. 16–19. city . . . field . . . come in . . . go out. The pairing of opposites indicates a blessing in all areas of life. fruit. The emphasis on fertility challenges the Canaanite view that Baal was the fertility god.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:7 your enemies . . . to be defeated. Compare v. 25.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:9 a people holy. See 7:6 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:23 heavens . . . shall be bronze. Unable to bring rain. earth . . . shall be iron. Unable to produce food.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:30 betroth a wife. Compare 24:5. build a house . . . plant a vineyard. Compare 20:5–7.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:44 lend . . . head . . . tail. Compare vv. 12–13.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:46 a sign and a wonder. Signs and wonders usually refer to Israel's salvation from slavery (e.g., 4:34; 7:19; 26:8); the use of the terms here is highly ironic.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:48 Yoke of iron suggests a return to slavery (see also v. 68).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:53 eat the fruit of your womb. The siege from the future enemy will be so dire that Israelites will resort to eating their children to stay alive. See 2 Kings 6:28–29; Lam. 4:10.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:58 glorious and awesome name, the LORD your God. The name is YHWH (Yahweh), revealed to Moses at the burning bush (see Ex. 3:14 and note).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:60 all the diseases of Egypt. See 7:15 and note on 7:12–15.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:61 The book of this law (compare v. 58) refers to chs. 1–30. See 31:9, 24, 26.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:62 Numerous . . . few threatens a reversal of the promises to Abraham. See 1:10 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 28:64–66 scatter. See 4:27. Because the people will continue in their disobedience and will not repent, they will receive the consequences. The curse of exile will come for the northern kingdom from Assyria (2 Kings 17) and for the southern kingdom from Babylon (2 Kings 25).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:1–30:20 Moses' Third Speech: Final Exhortation. These chapters represent the climax of Moses' preaching. He pleads with Israel to accept the covenant.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:1 The covenant in the land of Moab restates the covenant at Horeb (Sinai).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:2–3 You have seen . . . before your eyes . . . your eyes saw. See 1:30–31 and note on 1:29–31.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:4 not given you a heart to understand or eyes to see or ears to hear. Israel needs God to correct its lack of obedient heart, eyes, and ears. See 30:6 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:5–8 clothes . . . feet. See 8:4. that you may know. See 8:3. Sihon . . . Og. See 2:24–3:17.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:13 establish you today as his people. See 27:9 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:15 Whoever is not here with us today refers to future generations.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:18 root bearing poisonous and bitter fruit. If one Israelite begins to practice idolatry, the sin will be contagious, infecting other Israelites (v. 19).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:19 blesses himself in his heart. An expression of pride (compare 8:17 and note on 7:17–18).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:20–21 jealousy. See 4:24 and note on 4:23–24. Book of the Law. See 28:61 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:23 The destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah (Gen. 19:24–25) is used several times in the Bible as an example of God's judgment (e.g., Amos 4:11; Matt. 10:14; 2 Pet. 2:6). Admah, and Zeboiim. See Gen. 10:19.

FACT

Brimstone most likely refers to sulfur. It is a bright yellow, highly combustible mineral that puts out a terrible odor when it burns. Brimstone is abundant in the area around the Dead Sea. During earthquakes hot gases are released from inside the earth, which can cause the brimstone deposits to burst into flame (29:23).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:24–28 These verses anticipate future idolatry and God's curses.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 29:29 secret things belong to the LORD our God. Not everything that is true of God has been revealed. The things that have been revealed enable God's people to obey him (that we may do); that there are still secret things means they must trust and be humble before him, and never imagine they know all the answers.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 30:1–2 This verse anticipates that the exiles (29:28) will return to God, or repent. all your heart . . . soul. Compare 30:6, 10. See 6:5 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 30:6 the LORD . . . will circumcise your heart. See note on 10:16. so that you will love. God's changing of the heart makes obedience possible (6:5).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 30:9 The blessings promised in 28:1–14 will now happen.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 30:11–14 not too hard. When the heart is circumcised (see note on v. 6), keeping the law is possible. the word . . . is in your mouth and in your heart. This is the result of the changed heart that enables obedience.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 30:15 I have set before you. See also v. 19. Moses ends his sermon by seeking a commitment from Israel to obey God's commands.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 30:19–20 To choose life is to choose God himself. It is to trust in God's grace and the changes he makes in a person's heart. holding fast. See 4:4 and note on 4:3–4.

FACT

Walk this way! The Bible often describes godly living as "walking" with the Lord (30:16; Ps. 23:4; Eph. 4:1).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:1–34:12 Succession of Leadership. In these final chapters, leadership passes from Moses to Joshua and the covenant is written down.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:2 No longer able to go out and come in refers to Moses' old age. You shall not go over this Jordan. Moses' exclusion from the Promised Land was due to his sin (4:21–22; 32:51–52).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:4 Sihon and Og. See 2:24–3:11.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:6 Be strong and courageous. This command to all Israel is also made directly to Joshua (vv. 7, 23; Josh. 1:6, 7, 9). Do not fear. See Deut. 1:28. He will not leave you or forsake you. Compare 1 Chron. 28:20.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:7–8 Moses commissions Joshua. God repeats this charge in v. 23.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:9 wrote this law. See Ex. 24:4; 34:27; Num. 33:2. The writing and preservation of Deuteronomy 1–30 by Moses indicates that God's law remains valid for future generations.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:10–11 end of every seven years, at the set time in the year of release. See 15:1. Feast of Booths. See 16:13–15. This passage gives one of the clearest examples of how people were taught the law. The priests had responsibility to read this law aloud to the people at the great fall festival. at the place. See 12:5.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:12 men, women, and little ones, and the sojourner. According to 16:16, only the men were required to attend the feast each ordinary year. However in the seventh year, when the law was read, everyone was required to attend.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:14–15 tent of meeting. See Ex. 33:7–11 and Num. 1:1. I may commission him. See Deut. 31:23. pillar of cloud. See Ex. 33:9.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:16–18 whore. The OT often uses the language of prostitution and adultery to describe idolatry (e.g., Ezekiel 16).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:23 Be strong and courageous. See v. 6. I will be with you. God made the same promise to Moses in Ex. 3:12.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:24 the words of this law in a book. See v. 9 and note.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:26–27 Book of the Law. That is, chs. 1–30. See 31:9 and note. by the side of the ark of the covenant. The tablets of the Ten Commandments were placed inside the ark. The Book of the Law was to be alongside the ark in the Most Holy Place of the tabernacle.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:28 The three witnesses of Israel's faithlessness are the song (v. 19), the Book of the Law (v. 26), and heaven and earth.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:29 the work of your hands. That is, the making of idols.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 31:30–32:47 In addition to the writing of the law and its recital every seven years (31:9–13), the Song of Moses (31:30–32:47) will be a witness against Israel if they fail to keep the law.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:4 On God as the Rock, see vv. 15, 18, 30–31; also Ps. 18:2.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:5 no longer his children. See note on 14:1–2. Compare Hos. 1:9. crooked and twisted generation. See Phil. 2:15.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:6 your father. See v. 5. The notion of God as father of his people is rare in the OT. Compare note on 14:1–2.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:7 Remember. See note on 8:2–3.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:8–9 gave to the nations their inheritance. For example, Edom, Moab, and Ammon in 2:1–23, as well as Israel throughout the book. the LORD's portion. A term of special affection. See note on 4:20.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:14 Bashan was a particularly fertile area, where Og had been king (3:1–11).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:15–17 Jeshurun means "the upright one." It was a poetic name for Israel (see Isa. 44:2) but is used sarcastically here. jealousy with strange gods. See Deut. 4:24 and note on 4:23–24. Throughout Deuteronomy, idolatry is seen as the most serious sin and the greatest threat to the nation (see also 32:21). God, the Rock, has redeemed Israel; idols or false gods have no real existence (v. 17).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:20 hide my face. Often, God's punishment of sin is his withdrawal from the sinner (v. 18).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:22 depths of Sheol. The place of the dead.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:27 God will not punish his people forever, lest their adversaries should misunderstand, and think that he is unable to save his people. Compare 9:28.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:28–29 If they were wise, they would understand. Israel would fall far short of the ideal of demonstrating a godly wisdom that is admired by other nations (as described in 4:6–8).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:30–31 Israel's Rock is God. The rock of the enemies refers to the so-called gods of other nations, who are nothing. Hence the enemies are by themselves.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:35–36 Vengeance is mine, and recompense. God will judge the wicked. For the LORD will vindicate his people. Beyond defeat and exile, God will restore his people (30:1–3).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:39 I, even I, am he. The repetition of "I" emphasizes God's sovereignty (compare Ex. 3:14). no god beside me. See Deut. 4:35; 5:7; and note on 4:35–36.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:43 The song ends in triumph. In spite of Israel's sin and exile, God will ultimately restore them.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:46–47 it is . . . your very life. Compare "he is your life"; 30:19–20.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:48–33:29 Like a patriarch, Moses blesses Israel before his death.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 32:49–51 Abarim, Mount Nebo. See 34:1. Aaron your brother died in Mount Hor. See 10:6 and Num. 20:24–28. you broke faith with me. See Num. 20:11–13.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:1–29 There is no mention of Simeon in the list of tribes, perhaps because the tribe was going to be scattered (Gen. 49:7) and absorbed by Judah.

FACT

Genesis through Deuteronomy are the foundation of the Bible. They introduce the key promises that show God’s purposes in history and prepare for the coming of Jesus Christ.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:1 man of God. Moses was held in high esteem.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:2 Sinai was the mountain where God gave Israel the law. This is the only place in Deuteronomy where Mount Sinai is called by that name. Everywhere else, it is called “Horeb.” Seir is another name for Edom, where Sinai was situated (see Judg. 5:4–5). Mount Paran was in the same area (Deut. 1:1–2). holy ones. Angels or heavenly beings.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:5 The real king of Israel was God. Jeshurun. See v. 26 and 32:15. When the heads of the people were gathered refers to the covenant renewal in Moab, as recorded in Deuteronomy.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:6 Reuben was the eldest son of Jacob, and so is listed first (as in Gen. 49:3).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:8 Thummim, Urim. See note on 1 Sam. 14:41–42. Massah. See Ex. 17:7. The blessing of Levi (Deut. 33:8–11) acknowledges the tribe’s faithfulness during the golden calf incident (Ex. 32:26–29).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:10 The two main roles of the priestly tribe of Levi were to teach the law (31:11) and to oversee the offering of sacrifices.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:13 Joseph here includes the two tribes of Manasseh and Ephraim, the sons of Joseph (see v. 17).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:15–16 Compare the blessing by Jacob on Joseph in Gen. 49:26. who dwells in the bush. See Ex. 3:1–6.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:21 chose the best of the land for himself. See Num. 32:1–5, where Gad and Reuben request land across the Jordan that is ideal for cattle.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:22 Bashan. This blessing seems to predict Dan’s migration to the north (see Judges 18).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:23 the lake. Naphtali’s land bordered the Sea of Galilee.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:24 let him dip his foot in oil. Olive oil was a symbol of wealth.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 33:26 There is none like God. Compare 4:35. Jeshurun. See note on 32:15–17.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 34:1–12 Moses dies and is buried on Mount Nebo, overlooking the Promised Land.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 34:1–3 Mount Nebo, to the top of Pisgah. See 3:17, 27. Gilead. See 2:36. Dan. See 33:22 and note. western sea. The Mediterranean. the Negeb. The arid land across southern Canaan (see 1:7).

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 34:4 the land of which I swore. See 1:7–8. Deuteronomy begins and ends with the theme of the land promised by God. I have let you see it with your eyes, but you shall not go over there. See Num. 27:12–14.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 34:6–7 he buried him. Moses is buried by God himself outside Canaan. Beth-peor. See “Baal of Peor” (Num. 25:1–5). vigor unabated. Compare Deut. 31:2.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 34:9 On the commissioning of Joshua, see 31:7–8, 14, 23. wisdom. See 1:13.

DEUTERONOMY—NOTE ON 34:10 there has not arisen a prophet since. See 18:15–19 for the expectation that God will raise up a prophet like Moses (that is, Jesus; see John 1:21; Acts 3:22–24). face to face. See Ex. 33:11.

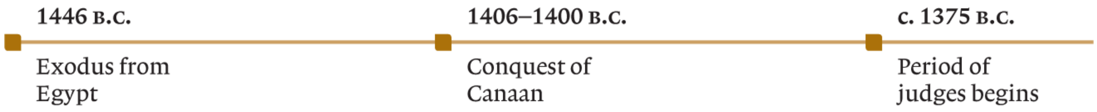
Introduction to Joshua

Introduction to Joshua

Timeline



Author and Date

While this book mentions Joshua writing (8:32; 24:26), it does not claim he wrote the book. The repeated references to something existing “to this day” (see 4:9; 5:9; 6:25; etc.) seem to suggest that there was a significant lapse of time between the events recorded in the book and the time when the writing of the book was completed. The final writing may have taken place in the time of the exile (post-587 B.C.), but the writing probably began much earlier.

Theme

Joshua records part two of God’s grandest work of redemption in the OT period. In part one (the Pentateuch), the Lord redeemed his people out of slavery in Egypt and formalized his covenantal love for them at Sinai. Moses led the people during that time. Now in part two, under the leadership of Joshua, the Lord brings his people into the Land of Promise and gives them rest.

Purpose and Background

The book of Joshua seeks to explain God’s purpose in the events surrounding Israel’s capture of and settlement in Canaan. Those events are seen as the fulfillment of God’s promises to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Such an account would have been relevant to ancient Israel from its earliest arrival in Canaan, and to every generation of God's people to the present day.

Joshua comes immediately after the Pentateuch and in many ways completes its story. The theme of the first five books of the Bible is the progressive fulfillment of the "patriarchal promise," made first to Abraham (Gen. 12:1–3) and repeated to his son Isaac (Gen. 26:2–4) and his grandson Jacob (Gen. 28:13–15; etc.). The Lord promised Abraham and his descendants that they would be blessed and would become a blessing to others, that they would grow to become a great nation, and that they would be given a land of their own—and that these blessings would be enjoyed within a close covenant relationship with God.

By the end of the Pentateuch, Israel has been brought into a covenant relationship with the Lord and has become a great people. But they remain outside the Land of Promise, on the plains of Moab. Forty years before, the Lord had chosen Moses to lead his people out of slavery in Egypt and to bring them to the land he had promised (Ex. 3:6–8; 6:2–8). Now, after so many years of wandering, Joshua, the "new Moses" (Josh. 1:1–9), is to lead God's people into the land, take it, and divide it among them as their inheritance from the Lord.

Key Themes

1. The Lord's continuing presence as the key to strength and courage (e.g., 1:5, 9).
2. The importance of the Lord's instructions for succeeding in one's mission and acting with wisdom (1:7–8).
3. The ability of the Lord to save the "outsider" (Rahab), and the danger of the "insider" falling away (Achan; see chs. 2 and 7).
4. The Lord as divine Warrior and the reality of judgment (e.g., 10:42; 11:19–20).
5. The danger of failing to ask the Lord (e.g., 9:14).
6. The Lord as Protector of the covenant (e.g., 10:1–15, especially v. 11).
7. The unity of the people of God (18:1–10; 22:34).
8. The sovereignty of God in giving his people a place and rest (1:13; 11:23; 21:43–45).

9. The faithfulness of God in fulfilling all his good promises (1:2; 21:43–45).
10. The necessity of removing false gods and worshiping God alone (ch. 24).

Outline

I. Crossing into the Land (1:1–5:15)
II. Taking the Land (6:1–12:24)
III. Dividing the Land (13:1–21:45)
IV. Serving the Lord in the Land (22:1–24:33)

The Setting of Joshua

c. 1406 B.C.

The book of Joshua recounts Israel's conquest of the land of Canaan under Joshua's command. The book opens with Joshua being commissioned by the Lord as the leader of the Israelites. It tells of his victories over the Canaanite kings and how he allotted the land of Canaan among the tribes of Israel. The book ends with Joshua encouraging the people to remain faithful to the Lord.

The Global Message of Joshua

The Beginnings of a New Era

With the book of Joshua, one era of redemptive history comes to an end and a new one begins. Moses, leader of first-generation Israel and mediator of the Sinai covenant, has died (Josh. 1:1; see Deut. 34:1–12). The Lord appoints Joshua to take Moses' place and lead second-generation Israel into the Promised Land (Josh. 1:1–16). The original purpose of the book of Joshua was to document for Israel how the Lord fulfilled his promise to Abraham, to bring his descendants into the Promised Land (1:6; 21:43–45; see Gen. 12:1–7; 13:14–15; 15:7–21).

The Return of the Creator-King

In the Lord's conquest of Canaan through his people Israel, the Creator-King has returned to reclaim a portion of a world that is rightfully his but that has been usurped by Satan (see "The Global Message of Genesis"). Israel's settlement in the land begins a significant new stage in the history of redemption.

The book of Joshua can be seen as a pattern and a platform. First, by settling his people in a place under his protection to take pleasure in his presence, God recreates Eden. This pattern is repeated throughout the Bible, giving ever-increasing clarity as to how the ultimate new creation will look when all is accomplished, when creation is liberated from its bondage to sin and renewed in Christ. Second, however, the land functions as a platform. The Lord establishes his holy dominion in the land, to use it as a base of operations from which he will advance his original intentions for creation, including the promise to bless all the nations of the world (see Gen. 12:3).

The Righteous Judge of All the Earth

With its documentation of a divinely sanctioned holy war, the book of Joshua tends to make Christians uncomfortable. Yet the church must understand, first, that the conquest under Joshua is a unique event within redemptive history and provides no basis for the church—or any other faith community—to take up similar military campaigns. Second, the Canaanites were not innocent people. We learn, for example, that one of the main reasons for their destruction was that they burned their own children in sacrifices to their gods (Lev. 18:21; Deut. 12:31; 18:9–12). In light of their brutal practices, and because no international organization was available to intervene, the righteous Judge of all the earth invaded history and rendered judgment (see Gen. 15:16). Third, on the last day of history the world's rightful King will return to lead his heavenly armies into the ultimate holy war (Rev. 19:11–21), the pattern for which we see in the book of Joshua.

Universal Themes in Joshua

The Lord as covenant-keeper. The book of Joshua presents the Lord as a covenant-keeping God. The Lord made a promise more than four hundred years earlier to Abraham, to give his descendants the Promised Land and to bless all nations through them. Joshua shows how the Lord brought the twelve tribes of Israel into possession of the land, fulfilling his promise (Gen. 15:13; Ex. 12:40; Josh. 21:43–45).

The true people of God. Joshua chapters 2–7 tells the stories of two vastly different characters and invites the reader to contemplate the significance of their unexpected role reversal. The first character is Rahab, an inhabitant of Jericho, a Canaanite city bound for destruction (Josh. 2:1–3). Rahab is a pagan. She is also female, the unprivileged gender of her patriarchal world, as well as a prostitute, the lowest and most dishonorable of professions (2:1). Rahab is a person of no importance, and one would expect her to be swept away with the rest of her city. The second character, Achan, is quite different. He is an Israelite, from the favored tribe of Judah, and is of a noble clan and a wealthy family (Josh. 7:18, 24). Achan is male, the privileged gender of his patriarchal world, and he is a select warrior, chosen as one of only three thousand soldiers for a special military operation against the city of Ai (7:2–4). In summary, Achan is an honored Israelite, bound for a life of prosperity in the land "flowing with milk and honey."

In a stunning reversal, however, Rahab becomes a full member of the people of God and Achan is executed as if he were a pagan Canaanite (Josh. 6:25; 7:11–12, 15, 24–26). Why did such a role reversal occur? The answer revolves around faith. Rahab, by faith, hid the Israelite spies out of reverent fear of the God of Israel (2:8–13; see Heb. 11:31). Achan’s unbelief, however, became clear to all when he coveted and stole treasures devoted to the Lord, breaking two of the Ten Commandments (Josh. 7:21; see Deut. 5:19, 21). A Gentile becomes a full member of the people of God, while an Israelite forfeits this inheritance through unbelief.

The New Testament is not the first instance of Gentile inclusion within the people of God on the basis of faith alone! Rahab’s faith functions as an example for how every person of the global community—both Jew and Gentile—must respond to the one true God as revealed in the gospel (Rom. 1:16–18).

The Global Message of Joshua for Today

The global problem of religious violence. A crucial theme of Joshua for global Christians today is that of the relationship between religion and violence. Religion and war have a long history of collaboration, and the past century has witnessed some of its most lethal results. Ideologically inspired assaults will come to mind for people in all parts of the world. European Jews will recall how the racist doctrines of Nazism fueled a “holy war” against them. In Sudan and Nigeria, atrocities committed by an Islamic north against a Christian south come to mind. U.S. citizens will immediately think of “9/11” and Al Qaeda’s attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. In India, militant Hindu fundamentalism in recent times has stirred up its adherents to hostility against Muslims and Christians, who are viewed as unwelcome propagators of foreign religions. And the Christian church is not innocent in this matter. The bloody medieval crusades against Muslims occupying the Holy Land were church-sanctioned holy wars. They remain a blight upon the church’s history.

The way of the cross versus the way of the crusade. The book of Joshua tells of God using his people on a single mission as his agents in judgment on corrupt societies in the Promised Land. It offers no encouragement whatsoever for any modern community to take up arms against another in the name of its ideology. Rather it instructs us concerning God’s faithfulness to keep his promises and to destroy evil from the face of the earth. Meanwhile, we remember that Jesus took the way of a cross, not a crusade, and calls his disciples to do likewise (Matt. 16:24). The gospel is spread not by causing others to suffer, but by our glad suffering.

God Commissions Joshua

JOSHUA 1 [†]After the death of Moses the [a]servant of the LORD, the LORD said to Joshua the son of Nun, Moses’ [b]assistant, [2][†]“Moses my servant is dead. Now therefore arise, go over this Jordan, you and all this people, into the land that I am giving to them, to the people of Israel. [3][†][c]Every place that the sole of your foot will tread upon I have given to you, just as I promised to Moses. [4][†][d]From the wilderness and this Lebanon as far as the great river, the river Euphrates, all the land of the Hittites to the Great Sea toward the going down of the sun shall be your territory. [5][†][e]No man shall be able to stand before you all the days of your life. Just [f]as I was with Moses, so [g]I will be with you. [h]I will not leave you or forsake you. [6][i]Be strong and courageous, for you shall cause this people to inherit the land that I swore to their fathers to give them. [7]Only be strong and [j]very courageous, being careful to do according to all the law [k]that Moses my servant commanded you. [l]Do not turn from it to the right hand or to the left, that you may have good success [1] wherever you go. [8]This Book of the Law shall not depart from your mouth, but [m]you shall meditate on it day and night, so that you may be careful to do according to all that is written in it. For then you will make your way prosperous, and then you will have good success. [9]Have I not commanded you? [n]Be strong and courageous. [o]Do not be frightened, and do not be dismayed, for the LORD your God is with you wherever you go.”

Joshua Assumes Command

[10]And Joshua commanded the [p]officers of the people, [11]“Pass through the midst of the camp and command the people, ‘Prepare your provisions, for [q]within three days [r]you are to pass over this Jordan to go in to take possession of the land that the LORD your God is giving you to possess.’”

[12][†]And to the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh Joshua said, [13][†]“Remember the word that [s]Moses the servant of the LORD commanded you, saying, ‘The LORD your God is providing you a place of rest and will give you this land.’ [14][†]Your wives, your little ones, and your livestock shall remain in the land that Moses gave you beyond the Jordan, but all the men of valor among you shall pass over armed before your brothers and shall help them, [15] [t]until the LORD gives rest to your brothers as he has to you, and they also take possession of the land that the LORD your God is giving them. [u]Then you shall return to the land of your possession and shall possess it, the land that Moses the servant of the LORD gave you beyond the Jordan toward the sunrise.”

[16]And they answered Joshua, “All that you have commanded us we will do, and wherever you send us we will go. [17]Just as we obeyed Moses in all things, so we will obey you. Only may the LORD your God [v]be with you, as he was with Moses! [18]Whoever rebels against your commandment and disobeys your words, whatever you command him, shall be put to death. [w]Only be strong and courageous.”

Rahab Hides the Spies

JOSHUA 2 [†]And Joshua the son of Nun [x]sent [1] two men secretly from Shittim as spies, saying, “Go, view the land, especially Jericho.” And they went and came into the house of [y]a prostitute whose name was [z]Rahab and lodged there. [2][†]And it was told to the king of Jericho, “Behold, men of Israel have come here tonight to search out the land.” [3]Then the king of Jericho sent to Rahab, saying, “Bring out the men who have come to you, who entered your house, for they have come to search out all the land.” [4][†]But the woman had taken the two men and hidden them. And she said, “True, the men came to me, but I did not know where they were from. [5]And when the gate was about to be closed at dark, the men went out. I do not know where the men went. Pursue them quickly, for you will overtake them.” [6][†]But she had brought them up to the roof and hid them with the stalks of flax that she had laid in order on the roof. [7][†]So the men pursued after them on the way to the Jordan [a]as far as the fords. And the gate was shut as soon as the pursuers had gone out.

[8]Before the men [2] lay down, she came up to them on the roof [9][†]and said to the men, “I know that the LORD has given you the land, [b]and that the fear of you has fallen upon us, and that all the inhabitants of the land [c]melt away before you. [10][†]For we have heard how the LORD [d]dried up the water of the Red Sea before you when you came out of Egypt, and [e] what you did to the two kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan, to [f] Sihon and Og, whom you devoted to destruction. [3] 11[†]And [g] as soon as we heard it, [h] our hearts melted, and there was no spirit left in any man because of you, for [i] the LORD your God, he is God in the heavens above and on the earth beneath. 12[†]Now then, please swear to me by the LORD that, as I have dealt kindly with you, you also will deal kindly with my father's house, and [j] give me a sure sign 13that you will save alive my father and mother, my brothers and sisters, and all who belong to them, and deliver our lives from death." 14And the men said to her, "Our life for yours even to death! If you do not tell this business of ours, then when the LORD gives us the land [k] we will deal kindly and faithfully with you."

15Then she [l] let them down by a rope through the window, for her house was built into the city wall, so that she lived in the wall. 16And she said [4] to them, "Go into the hills, or the pursuers will encounter you, and hide there three days until the pursuers have returned. Then afterward you may go your way." 17The men said to her, "We will be guiltless with respect to this oath of yours that you have made us swear. 18 [m] Behold, when we come into the land, you shall tie this scarlet cord in the window through which you let us down, [n] and you shall gather into your house your father and mother, your brothers, and all your father's household. 19Then if anyone goes out of the doors of your house into the street, [o] his blood shall be on his own head, and we shall be guiltless. But if a hand is laid on anyone who is with you in the house, his blood shall be on our head. 20But if you [p] tell this business of ours, then we shall be guiltless with respect to your oath that you have made us swear." 21And she said, "According to your words, so be it." Then she sent them away, and they departed. And she tied the scarlet cord in the window.

22They departed and went into the hills and remained there three days until the pursuers returned, and the pursuers searched all along the way and found nothing. 23Then the two men returned. They came down from the hills and [q] passed over and came to Joshua the son of Nun, and they told him all that had happened to them. 24[†]And they said to Joshua, "Truly

[r] the LORD has given all the land into our hands. And also, all the inhabitants of the land [s] melt away because of us.”

Israel Crosses the Jordan

JOSHUA 3 [†]Then Joshua rose early in the morning and they set out [t] from Shittim. And they came to the Jordan, he and all the people of Israel, and lodged there before they passed over. [2] [u] At the end of three days the officers went through the camp [3][†]and commanded the people, “As soon as you see the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God being carried by [v] the Levitical priests, then you shall set out from your place and follow it. [4][†] [w] Yet there shall be a distance between you and it, about 2,000 cubits [1] in length. Do not come near it, in order that you may know the way you shall go, for you have not passed this way before.” [5][†]Then Joshua said to the people, [x] “Consecrate yourselves, for tomorrow the LORD will do wonders among you.” [6]And Joshua said to the priests, [y] “Take up the ark of the covenant and pass on before the people.” So they took up the ark of the covenant and went before the people.

[7][†]The LORD said to Joshua, “Today I will begin to [z] exalt you in the sight of all Israel, that they may know that, [a] as I was with Moses, so I will be with you. [8]And as for you, command [b] the priests who bear the ark of the covenant, ‘When you come to the brink of the waters of the Jordan, [c] you shall stand still in the Jordan.’” [9]And Joshua said to the people of Israel, “Come here and listen to the words of the LORD your God.” [10][†]And Joshua said, “Here is how you shall know that [d] the living God is among you and that he will without fail [e] drive out from before you the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Hivites, the Perizzites, the Girgashites, the Amorites, and the Jebusites. [11]Behold, the ark of the covenant of [f] the Lord of all the earth [2] [g] is passing over before you into the Jordan. [12]Now therefore [h] take twelve men from the tribes of Israel, [i] from each tribe a man. [13]And [j] when the soles of the feet of the priests bearing the ark of the LORD, [f] the Lord of all the earth, shall rest in the waters of the Jordan, the waters of the Jordan shall be cut off from flowing, and the waters coming down from above shall [k] stand in one heap.”

[14]So when the people set out from their tents to pass over the Jordan with the priests bearing [l]the ark of the covenant before the people, [15][†]and as soon as those bearing the ark had come as far as the Jordan, and [m]the feet of the priests bearing the ark were dipped in the brink of the water (now [n]the Jordan overflows all its banks [o]throughout the time of harvest), [16][†]the waters coming down from above stood and rose up in a heap very far away, at Adam, the city that is beside [p]Zarethan, and those flowing down toward the Sea of [q]the Arabah, [r]the Salt Sea, were completely cut off. And the people passed over opposite Jericho. [17][†]Now the priests bearing the ark of the covenant of the LORD stood firmly on dry ground in the midst of the Jordan, [s]and all Israel was passing over on dry ground until all the nation finished passing over the Jordan.

Twelve Memorial Stones from the Jordan

JOSHUA 4 When all the nation had finished passing [t]over the Jordan, the LORD said to Joshua, [2][†] [u]“Take twelve men from the people, from each tribe a man, [3]and command them, saying, ‘Take [v]twelve stones from here out of the midst of the Jordan, from the very place [w]where the priests’ feet stood firmly, and bring them over with you and lay them down in [x]the place where you lodge tonight.’” [4]Then Joshua called the twelve men from the people of Israel, whom he had appointed, a man from each tribe. [5]And Joshua said to them, “Pass on before the ark of the LORD your God into the midst of the Jordan, and take up each of you a stone upon his shoulder, according to the number of the tribes of the people of Israel, [6]that this may be a sign among you. [y]When your children ask in time to come, ‘What do those stones mean to you?’ [7]then you shall tell them that [z]the waters of the Jordan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of the LORD. When it passed over the Jordan, the waters of the Jordan were cut off. So these stones shall be to the people of Israel [a]a memorial forever.”

[8]And the people of Israel did just as Joshua commanded and took up twelve stones out of the midst of the Jordan, according to the number of the tribes of the people of Israel, just as the LORD told Joshua. And they carried them over with them to the place where they lodged and laid them down [1] there. [9][†]And Joshua set up [2] twelve stones in the midst of the Jordan, [b]in the place where the feet of the priests bearing the ark of the covenant had stood; and they are there to this day. [10]For the priests bearing the ark stood in the midst of the Jordan until everything was finished that the LORD commanded Joshua to tell the people, according to all that Moses had commanded Joshua.

The people passed over in haste. [11]And when all the people had finished passing over, the ark of the LORD and the priests passed over before the people. [12]The sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh [c]passed over armed before the people of Israel, as Moses had told them. [13][†]About 40,000 ready for war passed over before the LORD for battle, to the plains of Jericho. [14][†]On that day the LORD [d]exalted Joshua in the sight of all Israel, and they stood in awe of him just as they had stood in awe of Moses, all the days of his life.

[15]And the LORD said to Joshua, [16]"Command the priests bearing [e]the ark of the testimony to come up out of the Jordan." [17]So Joshua commanded the priests, "Come up out of the Jordan." [18]And when the priests bearing the ark of the covenant of the LORD came up from the midst of the Jordan, and the soles of the priests' feet were lifted up on dry ground, the waters of the Jordan returned to their place and overflowed all its banks, [f]as before.

[19]The people came up out of the Jordan on the tenth day of the first month, and they encamped at [g]Gilgal on the east border of Jericho. [20][†]And [h]those twelve stones, which they took out of the Jordan, Joshua set up at Gilgal. [21][†]And he said to the people of Israel, [i]"When your children ask their fathers in times to come, 'What do these stones mean?' [22]then you shall let your children know, [j]'Israel passed over this Jordan on dry ground.' [23]For the LORD your God dried up the waters of the Jordan for you until you passed over, as the LORD your God did to the Red Sea, [k]which he dried up for us until we passed over, [24][l]so that all the peoples of the earth may know that the hand of the LORD is [m]mighty, that you may [n]fear the LORD your God forever." [3]

The New Generation Circumcised

JOSHUA 5 [†]As soon as all the kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan to the west, and all the kings of the Canaanites [o]who were by the sea, [p] heard that the LORD had dried up the waters of the Jordan for the people of Israel until they had crossed over, their hearts [q] melted and [r] there was no longer any spirit in them because of the people of Israel.

[2][†]At that time the LORD said to Joshua, "Make [s] flint knives and circumcise the sons of Israel a second time." [3]So Joshua made flint knives and circumcised the sons of Israel at Gibeath-haaraloth. [1] [4]And this is the reason why Joshua circumcised them: [t] all the males of the people who came out of Egypt, all the men of war, had died in the wilderness on the way after they had come out of Egypt. [5]Though all the people who came out had been circumcised, yet all the people who were born on the way in the wilderness after they had come out of Egypt had not been circumcised. [6][†]For the people of Israel walked [u] forty years in the wilderness, until all the nation, the men of war who came out of Egypt, perished, because they did not obey the voice of the LORD; the LORD [v] swore to them that he would not let them see the land that the LORD had sworn to their fathers to give to us, [w] a land flowing with milk and honey. [7]So it was [x] their children, whom he raised up in their place, that Joshua circumcised. For they were uncircumcised, because they had not been circumcised on the way.

[8]When the circumcising of the whole nation was finished, they remained in their places in the camp until they were healed. [9][†]And the LORD said to Joshua, "Today I have rolled away the [y] reproach of Egypt from you." And so the name of that place is called [z] Gilgal [2] to this day.

First Passover in Canaan

[10][†]While the people of Israel were encamped at Gilgal, they kept the Passover [a] on the fourteenth day of the month in the evening on the plains of Jericho. [11]And the day after the Passover, on that very day, they ate of the produce of the land, unleavened cakes and parched grain. [12][†]And [b] the manna ceased the day after they ate of the produce of the land. And there was no longer manna for the people of Israel, but they ate of the fruit of the land of Canaan that year.

The Commander of the LORD’s Army

[13][†]When Joshua was by Jericho, he lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold, [c]a man was standing before him [d]with his drawn sword in his hand. And Joshua went to him and said to him, “Are you for us, or for our adversaries?” [14]And he said, “No; but I am the commander of the army of the LORD. Now I have come.” And Joshua [e]fell on his face to the earth and worshiped and said to him, “What does my lord say to his servant?” [15]And the commander of the LORD’s army said to Joshua, [f]“Take off your sandals from your feet, for the place where you are standing is holy.” And Joshua did so.

The Fall of Jericho

JOSHUA 6 [†]Now Jericho was shut up inside and outside because of the people of Israel. None went out, and none came in. [2]And the LORD said to Joshua, “See, [g]I have given Jericho into your hand, with its king and mighty men of valor. [3]You shall march around the city, all the men of war going around the city once. Thus shall you do for six days. [4][†]Seven priests shall bear seven [h]trumpets of [i]rams’ horns before the ark. On the seventh day you shall march around the city seven times, and [j]the priests shall blow the trumpets. [5][†]And when they make a long blast with the ram’s horn, when you hear the sound of the trumpet, then all the people shall shout with a great shout, and the wall of the city will fall down flat,[1] and the people shall go up, everyone straight before him.” [6]So Joshua the son of Nun called the priests and said to them, “Take up the ark of the covenant and let seven priests bear seven trumpets of rams’ horns before the ark of the LORD.” [7]And he said to the people, “Go forward. March around the city and let [k]the armed men pass on before the ark of the LORD.”

[8]And just as Joshua had commanded the people, the seven priests bearing the seven trumpets of rams’ horns before the LORD went forward, blowing the trumpets, with the ark of the covenant of the LORD following them. [9]The armed men were walking before the priests who were blowing the trumpets, and the [l]rear guard was walking after the ark, while the trumpets blew continually. [10]But Joshua commanded the people, “You shall not shout or make your voice heard, neither shall any word go out of your mouth, until the day I tell you to shout. Then you shall shout.” [11]So he caused the ark of the Lord to circle the city, going about it once. And they came into the camp and spent the night in the camp.

[12]Then Joshua rose early in the morning, and [m]the priests took up the ark of the Lord. [13]And the seven priests bearing the seven trumpets of rams’ horns before the ark of the Lord walked on, and they blew the trumpets continually. And the armed men were walking before them, and the rear guard was walking after the ark of the Lord, while the trumpets blew continually. [14]And the second day they marched around the city once, and returned into the camp. So they did for six days.

[15]On the seventh day they rose early, at the dawn of day, and marched around the city in the same manner seven times. It was only on that day that they marched around the city seven times. [16]And at the seventh time, when the priests had blown the trumpets, Joshua said to the people, “Shout, for the Lord has given you the city. [17][†]And the city and all that is within it shall be [n]devoted to the Lord for destruction. [2] Only Rahab the prostitute and all who are with her in her house shall live, because she [o]hid the messengers whom we sent. [18]But you, keep yourselves from the things devoted to destruction, lest when you have devoted them you take any of the devoted things and make the camp of Israel [p]a thing for destruction and [q]bring trouble upon it. [19]But all silver and gold, and every vessel of bronze and iron, are holy to the Lord; they shall go into the treasury of the Lord.” [20][†]So the people shouted, and the trumpets were blown. As soon as the people heard the sound of the trumpet, the people shouted a great shout, and [r]the wall fell down flat, so that the people went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they captured the city. [21][†]Then they [s]devoted all in the city to destruction, both men and women, young and old, oxen, sheep, and donkeys, with the edge of the sword.

[22]But to the two men who had spied out the land, Joshua said, “Go into the prostitute’s house and bring out from there the woman and all who belong to her, [t]as you swore to her.” [23][†]So the young men who had been spies went in and brought out Rahab and [u]her father and mother and brothers and all who belonged to her. And they brought all her relatives and put them outside the camp of Israel. [24]And they burned the city with fire, and everything in it. [v]Only the silver and gold, and the vessels of bronze and of iron, they put into the treasury of the house of the LORD. [25]But Rahab the prostitute and her father's household and all who belonged to her, Joshua saved alive. And [w]she has lived in Israel to this day, because she hid the messengers whom Joshua sent to spy out Jericho.

[26][†]Joshua laid an oath on them at that time, saying, [x]"Cursed before the LORD be the man who rises up and rebuilds this city, Jericho.

"At the cost of his firstborn shall he lay its foundation, and at the cost of his youngest son shall he set up its gates."

[27][y]So the LORD was with Joshua, and [z]his fame was in all the land.

Israel Defeated at Ai

JOSHUA 7 [†]But the people of Israel broke faith in regard to the devoted things, for [a]Achan the son of Carmi, son of Zabdi, son of Zerah, of the tribe of Judah, took some of the devoted things. And the anger of the LORD burned against the people of Israel.

[2][†]Joshua sent men from Jericho to Ai, which is near [b]Beth-aven, east of Bethel, and said to them, "Go up and spy out the land." And the men went up and spied out Ai. [3]And they returned to Joshua and said to him, "Do not have all the people go up, but let about two or three thousand men go up and attack Ai. Do not make the whole people toil up there, for they are few." [4]So about three thousand men went up there from the people. And [c]they fled before the men of Ai, [5]and the men of Ai killed about thirty-six of their men and chased them before the gate as far as Shebarim and struck them at the descent. And the hearts of the people [d]melted and became as water.

[6][†]Then Joshua [e]tore his clothes and [f]fell to the earth on his face before the ark of the LORD until the evening, he and the elders of Israel. And they put [g]dust on their heads. [7]And Joshua said, "Alas, O Lord GOD, [h]why have you brought this people over the Jordan at all, to give us into the hands of the Amorites, to destroy us? Would that we had been content to dwell beyond the Jordan! [8]O Lord, what can I say, when Israel has turned their backs before their enemies! [9]For the Canaanites and all the inhabitants of the land will hear of it and will surround us and [i]cut off our name from the earth. And what will you do for your great name?”

The Sin of Achan

[10][†]The LORD said to Joshua, “Get up! Why have you fallen on your face? [11]Israel has sinned; they have [j]transgressed my covenant that I commanded them; they have taken some of the [k]devoted things; they have stolen and lied and put them among their own belongings. [12] [l]Therefore the people of Israel cannot stand before their enemies. They [m]turn their backs before their enemies, because they have become [n]devoted for destruction. [1] I will be with you no more, unless you destroy [o]the devoted things from among you. [13][†]Get up! Consecrate the people and say, [p]‘Consecrate yourselves for tomorrow; for thus says the LORD, God of Israel, “There are devoted things in your midst, O Israel. You cannot stand before your enemies until you take away the devoted things from among you.” [14][†]In the morning therefore you shall be brought near [q]by your tribes. And the tribe that the LORD takes by lot shall come near by clans. And the clan that the LORD takes shall come near by households. And the household that the LORD takes shall come near man by man. [15][†] [r]And he who is taken with the devoted things shall be burned with fire, he and all that he has, because he has [s]transgressed the covenant of the LORD, and because he has done [t]an outrageous thing in Israel.’”

[16]So Joshua rose early in the morning and brought Israel near tribe by tribe, and the tribe of Judah was taken. [17]And he brought near the clans of Judah, and the clan of the [u]Zerahites was taken. And he brought near the clan of the Zerahites man by man, and Zabdi was taken. [18]And he brought near his household man by man, and Achan the son of Carmi, son of Zabdi, son of Zerah, of the tribe of Judah, was taken. [19][†]Then Joshua said to Achan, “My son, [v]give glory to the LORD God of Israel and [w]give praise [2] to him. And [x]tell me now what you have done; do not hide it from me.” [20]And Achan answered Joshua, “Truly [y]I have sinned against the LORD God of Israel, and this is what I did: [21][†]when I saw among the spoil a beautiful cloak from Shinar, and 200 shekels of silver, and a bar of gold weighing 50 shekels, [3] then I coveted them and took them. And see, they are hidden in the earth inside my tent, with the silver underneath.”

[22]So Joshua sent messengers, and they ran to the tent; and behold, it was hidden in his tent with the silver underneath. [23]And they took them out of the tent and brought them to Joshua and to all the people of Israel. And they laid them down before the LORD. [24][†]And Joshua and all Israel with him took Achan the son of Zerah, and the silver and the cloak and the bar of gold, and his sons and daughters and his oxen and donkeys and sheep and his tent and all that he had. And they brought them up to the [z] Valley of Achor. [25]And Joshua said, “Why did you [a] bring trouble on us? The LORD brings trouble on you today.” And all Israel [b] stoned him with stones. [c] They burned them with fire and stoned them with stones. [26]And they raised over him [d] a great heap of stones that remains to this day. Then [e] the LORD turned from his burning anger. Therefore, to this day the name of that place is called the Valley of Achor. [4]

The Fall of Ai

JOSHUA 8 [†]And the LORD said to Joshua, [f]“Do not fear and do not be dismayed. Take all the fighting men with you, and arise, go up to Ai. See, [g] I have given into your hand the king of Ai, and his people, his city, and his land. [2][†]And you shall do to Ai and its king as you did [h] to Jericho and its king. Only [i] its spoil and its livestock you shall take as plunder for yourselves. Lay an ambush against the city, behind it.”

[3][†]So Joshua and all the fighting men arose to go up to Ai. And Joshua chose 30,000 mighty men of valor and sent them out by night. [4]And he commanded them, “Behold, [j] you shall lie in ambush against the city, behind it. Do not go very far from the city, but all of you remain ready. [5]And I and all the people who are with me will approach the city. And when they come out against us [k] just as before, we shall flee before them. [6]And they will come out after us, until we have [l] drawn them away from the city. For they will say, ‘They are fleeing from us, just as before.’ So we will flee before them. [7]Then you shall rise up from the ambush and seize the city, for the LORD your God will give it into your hand. [8][†]And as soon as you have taken the city, you shall set the city on fire. You shall do according to the word of the LORD. [m] See, I have commanded you." [9]So Joshua sent them out. And they went to the place of ambush and lay between Bethel and Ai, to the west of Ai, but Joshua spent that night among the people.

[10]Joshua arose early in the morning and mustered the people and went up, he and the elders of Israel, before the people to Ai. [11]And [n] all the fighting men who were with him went up and drew near before the city and encamped on the north side of Ai, with a ravine between them and Ai. [12][†]He took about 5,000 men and set them in ambush between Bethel and Ai, to the west of the city. [13]So they stationed the forces, the main encampment that was north of the city and its rear guard west of the city. But Joshua spent that night in the valley. [14]And as soon as the king of Ai saw this, he and all his people, the men of the city, hurried and went out early to the appointed place [1] toward [o] the Arabah to meet Israel in battle. [p] But he did not know that there was an ambush against him behind the city. [15]And Joshua and all Israel [q] pretended to be beaten before them and fled in the direction of the wilderness. [16]So all the people who were in the city were called together to pursue them, and as they pursued Joshua they [r] were drawn away from the city. [17]Not a man was left in Ai or Bethel who did not go out after Israel. They left the city open and pursued Israel.

[18][†]Then the LORD said to Joshua, [s] "Stretch out the javelin that is in your hand toward Ai, for I will give it into your hand." And Joshua stretched out the javelin that was in his hand toward the city. [19]And the men in the ambush rose quickly out of their place, and as soon as he had stretched out his hand, they ran and entered the city and captured it. And they hurried to set the city on fire. [20]So when the men of Ai looked back, behold, the smoke of the city went up to heaven, and they had no power to flee this way or that, for the people who fled to the wilderness turned back against the pursuers. [21]And when Joshua and all Israel saw that the ambush had captured the city, and that the smoke of the city went up, then they turned back and struck down the men of Ai. [22]And the others came out from the city against them, so they were in the midst of Israel, some on this side, and some on that side. And Israel struck them down, until there was [t] left none that survived or escaped. [23]But the king of Ai they took alive, and brought him near to Joshua.

24When Israel had finished killing all the inhabitants of Ai in the open wilderness where they pursued them, and all of them to the very last had fallen by the edge of the sword, all Israel returned to Ai and struck it down with the edge of the sword. 25And all who fell that day, both men and women, were 12,000, all the people of Ai. 26But Joshua did not draw back his hand with which he [u]stretched out the javelin until he had devoted all the inhabitants of Ai to destruction.[2] 27Only the livestock and the spoil of that city Israel took as their plunder, according to the word of the LORD that he [v]commanded Joshua. 28[†]So Joshua burned Ai and made it forever a [w]heap of ruins, as it is to this day. 29[x]And he hanged the king of Ai on a tree until evening. [y]And at sunset Joshua commanded, and they took his body down from the tree and threw it at the entrance of the gate of the city and [z]raised over it a great heap of stones, which stands there to this day.

Joshua Renews the Covenant

30[†]At that time Joshua built an altar to the LORD, the God of Israel, [a]on Mount Ebal, 31just as Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded the people of Israel, as it is written in the Book of the Law of Moses, “an altar of uncut stones, upon which no man has wielded an iron tool.” And they offered on it burnt offerings to the LORD and sacrificed peace offerings. 32[†]And there, in the presence of the people of Israel, he wrote on [b]the stones a copy of the law of Moses, which he had written. 33And all Israel, [c]sojourner as well as native born, with their elders and officers and their judges, stood on opposite sides of the ark before the Levitical priests [d]who carried the ark of the covenant of the LORD, half of them in front of Mount Gerizim and half of them in front of Mount Ebal, [e]just as Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded at the first, to bless the people of Israel. 34[†]And afterward [f]he read all the words of the law, [g]the blessing and the curse, according to all that is written in the Book of the Law. 35There was not a word of all that Moses commanded that Joshua did not read before all the assembly of Israel, [h]and the women, and the little ones, and [i]the sojourners who lived[3] among them.

The Gibeonite Deception

JOSHUA 9 [†]As soon as all the kings who were beyond the Jordan [j]in the hill country and in the lowland all along the coast [k]of the Great Sea toward Lebanon, [l]the Hittites, the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, heard of this, [2]they gathered together as one to fight against Joshua and Israel.

[3][†]But when the inhabitants of [m]Gibeon heard what Joshua had done [n]to Jericho and [o]to Ai, [4][†]they on their part acted with cunning and went and made ready provisions and took worn-out sacks for their donkeys, and wineskins, worn-out and torn and mended, [5]with worn-out, patched sandals on their feet, and worn-out clothes. And all their provisions were dry and crumbly. [6][†]And they went to Joshua in [p]the camp at Gilgal and said to him and to the men of Israel, “We have come from a distant country, so now make a covenant with us.” [7][†]But the men of Israel said to [q]the Hivites, “Perhaps you live among us; then [r]how can we make a covenant with you?” [8]They said to Joshua, [s]“We are your servants.” And Joshua said to them, “Who are you? And where do you come from?” [9]They said to him, [t]“From a very distant country your servants have come, because of the name of the LORD your God. [u]For we have heard a report of him, and all that he did in Egypt, [10] [v]and all that he did to the two kings of the Amorites who were beyond the Jordan, to Sihon the king of Heshbon, and to Og king of Bashan, who lived in [w]Ashtaroth. [11]So our elders and all the inhabitants of our country said to us, ‘Take provisions in your hand for the journey and go to meet them and say to them, “We are your servants. Come now, make a covenant with us.”’ [12]Here is our bread. It was still warm when we took it from our houses as our food for the journey on the day we set out to come to you, but now, behold, it is dry and crumbly. [13]These wineskins were new when we filled them, and behold, they have burst. And these garments and sandals of ours are worn out from the very long journey.” [14][†]So the men took some of their provisions, but [x]did not ask counsel from the LORD. [15]And Joshua [y]made peace with them and made a covenant with them, to let them live, and the leaders of the congregation swore to them.

[16]At the end of three days after they had made a covenant with them, they heard that they were their neighbors [z]and that they lived among them.
[17]And the people of Israel set out and reached their cities on the third day.
[a]Now their cities were Gibeon, Chephirah, Beeroth, and Kiriath-jearim.
[18][†]But the people of Israel did not attack them, because the leaders of the congregation had sworn to them by the LORD, the God of Israel. Then all the congregation murmured against the leaders. [19]But all the leaders said to all the congregation, “We have sworn to them by the LORD, the God of Israel, and now we may not touch them. [20]This we will do to them: let them live, lest [b]wrath be upon us, [c]because of the oath that we swore to them.” [21]And the leaders said to them, “Let them live.” So they became [d]cutters of wood and drawers of water for all the congregation, just as the leaders [e]had said of them.

[22]Joshua summoned them, and he said to them, “Why did you deceive us, saying, [f]‘We are very far from you,’ when [g]you dwell among us? [23][†]Now therefore you are cursed, and some of you shall never be anything but servants, [h]cutters of wood and drawers of water for the house of my God.” [24]They answered Joshua, “Because it was told to your servants for a certainty that the LORD your God had [i]commanded his servant Moses to give you all the land and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land from before you—so [j]we feared greatly for our lives because of you and did this thing. [25]And now, behold, we are in your hand. Whatever seems good and right in your sight to do to us, do it.” [26]So he did this to them and delivered them out of the hand of the people of Israel, and they did not kill them.
[27][†]But Joshua made them that day [k]cutters of wood and drawers of water for the congregation and for the altar of the LORD, to this day, [l]in the place that he should choose.

The Sun Stands Still

JOSHUA 10 [†]As soon as Adoni-zedek, king of Jerusalem, heard how Joshua had captured Ai and had devoted it to destruction, [1] [m]doing to Ai and its king [n]as he had done to Jericho and its king, and [o]how the inhabitants of Gibeon had made peace with Israel and were among them, [2][†][p]he [2] feared greatly, because Gibeon was a great city, like one of the royal cities, and because it was greater than Ai, and all its men were warriors. [3]So Adoni-zedek king of Jerusalem sent to Hoham king of Hebron, to Piram king of Jarmuth, to Japhia king of Lachish, and to Debir king of Eglon, saying, [4]“Come up to me and help me, and let us strike Gibeon. For [q] it has made peace with Joshua and with the people of Israel.” [5][†]Then the five kings of the Amorites, the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, and the king of Eglon, [r] gathered their forces and went up with all their armies and encamped against Gibeon and made war against it.

[6]And the men of Gibeon sent to Joshua [s] at the camp in Gilgal, saying, “Do not relax your hand from your servants. Come up to us quickly and save us and help us, for all the kings of the Amorites who dwell in the hill country are gathered against us.” [7]So Joshua went up from Gilgal, he and [t] all the people of war with him, and all the mighty men of valor. [8][†]And the LORD said to Joshua, [u] “Do not fear them, for I have given them into your hands. [v] Not a man of them shall stand before you.” [9][†]So Joshua came upon them suddenly, having marched up all night from Gilgal. [10][†] [w] And the LORD threw them into a panic before Israel, who [3] struck them with a great blow at Gibeon and chased them by the way of [x] the ascent of Beth-horon and struck them as far as Azekah and Makkedah. [11][†]And as they fled before Israel, while they were [x] going down the ascent of Beth-horon, [y] the LORD threw down large stones from heaven on them as far as Azekah, and they died. There were more who died because of the hailstones than the sons of Israel killed with the sword.

[12][†]At that time Joshua spoke to the LORD in the day when the LORD gave the Amorites over to the sons of Israel, and he said in the sight of Israel, [z] “Sun, stand still at Gibeon, and moon, in the Valley of Aijalon.” [13] And the sun stood still, and the moon stopped, until the nation took vengeance on their enemies.

Is this not written in the Book of Jashar? The sun stopped in the midst of heaven and did not hurry to set for about a whole day. [14] [a] There has been no day like it before or since, when the LORD heeded the voice of a man, for [b] the LORD fought for Israel.

15[†]So [c] Joshua returned, and all Israel with him, to the camp at Gilgal.

Five Amorite Kings Executed

16These five kings fled and hid themselves in the cave at [d] Makkedah. 17And it was told to Joshua, "The five kings have been found, hidden in the cave at Makkedah." 18And Joshua said, "Roll large stones against the mouth of the cave and set men by it to guard them, 19but do not stay there yourselves. Pursue your enemies; [e] attack their rear guard. Do not let them enter their cities, for the LORD your God has given them into your hand." 20When Joshua and the sons of Israel had finished striking them with a great blow [f] until they were wiped out, and when the remnant that remained of them had entered into the fortified cities, 21then all the people returned safe to Joshua in the camp at Makkedah. [g] Not a man moved his tongue against any of the people of Israel.

22Then Joshua said, "Open the mouth of the cave and bring those five kings out to me from the cave." 23And they did so, and brought those five kings out to him from the cave, the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, and the king of Eglon. 24[†]And when they brought those kings out to Joshua, Joshua summoned all the men of Israel and said to the chiefs of the men of war who had gone with him, "Come near; put your feet on the necks of these kings." Then they came near and put their feet on their necks. 25And Joshua said to them, [h] "Do not be afraid or dismayed; be strong and courageous. [i] For thus the LORD will do to all your enemies against whom you fight." 26[†]And afterward Joshua struck them and put them to death, and he hanged them on five trees. And [j] they hung on the trees until evening. 27[†]But at the time of the going down of the sun, Joshua commanded, and [k] they took them down from the trees and threw them into the cave where they had hidden themselves, and they set large stones against the mouth of the cave, which remain to this very day.

28[†]As for [l] Makkedah, Joshua captured it on that day and struck it, and its king, with the edge of the sword. He devoted to destruction every person in it; he left none remaining. And he did to the king of Makkedah [m] just as he had done to the king of Jericho.

Conquest of Southern Canaan

[29]Then Joshua and all Israel with him passed on from Makkedah to [n] Libnah and fought against Libnah. [30]And the LORD gave it also and its king into the hand of Israel. And he struck it with the edge of the sword, and every person in it; he left none remaining in it. And he did to its king [m] as he had done to the king of Jericho.

[31]Then Joshua and all Israel with him passed on from Libnah to [o] Lachish and laid siege to it and fought against it. [32]And the LORD gave Lachish into the hand of Israel, and he captured it on the second day and struck it with the edge of the sword, and every person in it, as he had done to Libnah.

[33]Then Horam king of [p] Gezer came up to help Lachish. And Joshua struck him and his people, until he left none remaining.

[34]Then Joshua and all Israel with him passed on from Lachish to [q] Eglon. And they laid siege to it and fought against it. [35]And they captured it on that day, and struck it with the edge of the sword. And he devoted every person in it to destruction that day, as he had done to Lachish.

[36]Then Joshua and all Israel with him went up from Eglon to [r] Hebron. And they fought against it [37]and captured it and struck it with the edge of the sword, and its king and its towns, and every person in it. He left none remaining, as he had done to Eglon, and devoted it to destruction and every person in it.

[38]Then Joshua and all Israel with him turned back to [s] Debir and fought against it [39]and he captured it with its king and all its towns. And they struck them with the edge of the sword and devoted to destruction every person in it; he left none remaining. Just as he had done to Hebron and to Libnah and its king, so he did to Debir and to its king.

[40][†]So Joshua struck the whole land, the hill country and the Negeb and the lowland [t] and the slopes, and all their kings. He left none remaining, [u] but devoted to destruction all that breathed, just as the LORD God of Israel commanded. [41]And Joshua struck them from [v] Kadesh-barnea as far as Gaza, and all the country of [w]Goshen, as far as Gibeon. [42]And Joshua captured all these kings and their land at one time, [x]because the LORD God of Israel fought for Israel. [43][†][y]Then Joshua returned, and all Israel with him, to the camp at Gilgal.

Conquests in Northern Canaan

JOSHUA 11 [†]When Jabin, king of Hazor, heard of this, he [z]sent to Jobab king of Madon, and to the king of Shimron, and to the king of Achshaph, [2]and to the kings who were in the northern hill country, and in the [a]Arabah south of [b]Chinneroth, and in the lowland, and [c]in Naphoth-dor on the [d]west, [3]to the Canaanites in the east and the west, the Amorites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, and the [e]Jebusites in the hill country, and the [f]Hivites under [g]Hermon in the land of [h]Mizpah. [4][†]And they came out with all their troops, a great horde, in number [i]like the sand that is on the seashore, with very many horses and chariots. [5][†]And all these kings joined their forces and came and encamped together at the waters of Merom to fight against Israel.

[6][†]And the LORD said to Joshua, [j]“Do not be afraid of them, for tomorrow at this time I will give over all of them, slain, to Israel. You shall [k]hamstring their horses and burn their [l]chariots with fire.” [7]So Joshua and all his warriors came [m]suddenly against them by the waters of Merom and fell upon them. [8]And the LORD gave them into the hand of Israel, who struck them and chased them as far as [n]Great Sidon and [o]Misrephoth-maim, and eastward as far as the Valley of [p]Mizpeh. And they struck them until he left none remaining. [9]And Joshua did to them [q]just as the LORD said to him: he hamstrung their horses and burned their chariots with fire.

[10][†]And Joshua turned back at that time and captured [r]Hazor and struck its king with the sword, for Hazor formerly was the head of all those kingdoms. [11]And they struck with the sword all who were in it, devoting them to destruction; [1] [s]there was none left that breathed. And he burned Hazor with fire. [12]And all the cities of those kings, and all their kings, Joshua captured, and struck them with the edge of the sword, devoting them to destruction, [t]just as Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded. [13]But none of the cities that stood on mounds did Israel burn, except Hazor alone; that Joshua burned. [14]And all the spoil of these cities and the livestock, the people of Israel took for their plunder. But every person they struck with the edge of the sword until they had destroyed them, and they did not leave any who breathed. [15] [u]Just as the LORD had commanded Moses his servant, [v]so Moses commanded Joshua, [w]and so Joshua did. He left nothing undone of all that the LORD had commanded Moses.

[16][†]So Joshua took all that land, [x]the hill country and all the Negeb and [y]all the land of Goshen [z]and the lowland [z]and the Arabah [a]and the hill country of Israel and its lowland [17] [b]from Mount Halak, which rises toward Seir, as far as [c]Baal-gad in the Valley of Lebanon below [d]Mount Hermon. And he captured [e]all their kings and struck them and put them to death. [18]Joshua made war [f]a long time with all those kings. [19]There was not a city that made peace with the people of Israel except [g]the Hivites, the inhabitants of Gibeon. They took them all in battle. [20]For it was the LORD's doing [h]to harden their hearts that they should come against Israel in battle, in order that they should be devoted to destruction and should receive no mercy but be destroyed, [i]just as the LORD commanded Moses.

[21][†]And Joshua came at that time and cut off [j]the Anakim from the hill country, from Hebron, from Debir, from Anab, and from all the hill country of Judah, and from all the hill country of Israel. Joshua devoted them to destruction with their cities. [22]There was none of the Anakim left in the land of the people of Israel. Only in Gaza, [k]in Gath, and in Ashdod did some remain. [23][†]So Joshua took the whole land, [l]according to all that the LORD had spoken to Moses. [m]And Joshua gave it for an inheritance to Israel [n]according to their tribal allotments. And the land had rest from war.

Kings Defeated by Moses

JOSHUA 12 [†]Now these are the kings of the land whom the people of Israel defeated and took possession of their land beyond the Jordan toward the sunrise, from [o]the Valley of the Arnon to Mount Hermon, with all [p]the Arabah eastward: [2] [q]Sihon king of the Amorites who lived at Heshbon and ruled from Aroer, which is on the edge of the Valley of the Arnon, and [r]from the middle of the valley as far as the [s]river Jabbok, the boundary of the Ammonites, that is, half of Gilead, [3]and [p]the Arabah [t]to the Sea of Chinneroth eastward, and in the direction of Beth-jeshimoth, to the Sea of the Arabah, the Salt Sea, southward to the foot of [u]the slopes of Pisgah; [4]and [v]Og [1] king of Bashan, one of the remnant of [w]the Rephaim, [x]who lived at Ashtaroth and at Edrei [5]and ruled over [y]Mount Hermon and [z]Salecah and all Bashan [a]to the boundary of the Geshurites and the Maacathites, and over half of Gilead to the boundary of Sihon king of Heshbon. [6][b]Moses, the servant of the Lord, and the people of Israel defeated them. And Moses the servant of the Lord [c]gave their land for a possession to the Reubenites and the Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh.

Kings Defeated by Joshua

[7]And these are the kings of the land whom Joshua and the people of Israel defeated on the west side of the Jordan, from Baal-gad in the Valley of Lebanon to [d]Mount Halak, that rises toward Seir (and Joshua gave their land to the tribes of Israel as a possession [e]according to their allotments, [8][f]in the hill country, in the lowland, in the Arabah, in the slopes, in the wilderness, and in the Negeb, the land of [g]the Hittites, the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites): [9][†] [h]the king of Jericho, one; [i]the king of Ai, which is beside Bethel, one; [10][j]the king of Jerusalem, one; [j]the king of Hebron, one; [11][j]the king of Jarmuth, one; [j]the king of Lachish, one; [12][j]the king of Eglon, one; [k]the king of Gezer, one; [13][l]the king of Debir, one; the king of Geder, one; [14]the king of Hormah, one; the king of Arad, one; [15][m]the king of Libnah, one; the king of Adullam, one; [16][n]the king of Makkedah, one; [o]the king of Bethel, one; [17]the king of Tappuah, one; the king of Hepher, one; [18]the king of Aphek, one; the king of Lasharon, one; [19][p]the king of Madon, one; [q]the king of Hazor, one; [20][p]the king of Shimron-meron, one; [p]the king of Achshaph, one; [21][r]the king of Taanach, one; [r]the king of Megiddo, one; [22]the king of Kedesh, one; the king of Jokneam in Carmel, one; [23][r]the king of Dor in [s]Naphath-dor, one; the king of Goiim in Galilee, [2] one; [24][†]the king of Tirzah, one: in all, thirty-one kings.

Land Still to Be Conquered

JOSHUA 13 [†]Now Joshua [t] was old and advanced in years, and the LORD said to him, “You are old and advanced in years, and there remains yet very much land [u] to possess. 2 [v] This is the land that yet remains: all the [w] regions of the Philistines, and all those of the Geshurites 3(from the [x] Shihor, which is east of Egypt, northward to the boundary of Ekron, it is counted as Canaanite; [y] there are five rulers of the Philistines, those of Gaza, Ashdod, Ashkelon, Gath, and Ekron), and those of [z] the Avvim, 4in the south, all the land of the Canaanites, and Mearah that belongs to the Sidonians, to Aphek, to the boundary of [a] the Amorites, 5and the land of the [b] Gebalites, and all Lebanon, toward the sunrise, from [c] Baal-gad below Mount Hermon to [d] Lebo-hamath, 6all the inhabitants of the hill country from Lebanon to [e] Misrephoth-maim, even all the Sidonians. I myself will drive [f] them out from before the people of Israel. Only [g] allot the land to Israel [h] for an inheritance, as I have commanded you. 7Now therefore [i] divide this land for an inheritance to the nine tribes and half the tribe of Manasseh.”

The Inheritance East of the Jordan

8With the other half of the tribe of Manasseh [1] the Reubenites and the Gadites received their inheritance, [j] which Moses gave them, beyond the Jordan eastward, as Moses the servant of the LORD gave them: 9 [k] from Aroer, which is on the edge of the Valley of the Arnon, and the city that is in the middle of the valley, and [l] all the tableland of Medeba as far as Dibon; 10 [m] and all the cities of Sihon king of the Amorites, who reigned in Heshbon, as far as the boundary of the Ammonites; 11[†]and Gilead, and the [n] region of the Geshurites and Maacathites, and all Mount Hermon, and [n] all Bashan to Salecah; 12 [n] all the kingdom of Og in Bashan, who reigned in Ashtaroth and in Edrei (he alone was left of [n] the remnant of the Rephaim); [o] these Moses had struck and driven out. 13[†] [p] Yet the people of Israel did not drive out the Geshurites or the Maacathites, but Geshur and Maacath dwell in the midst of Israel to this day.

14[†] [q] To the tribe of Levi alone Moses gave no inheritance. The offerings by fire to the LORD God of Israel are their inheritance, as he said to him.

[15]And Moses gave an inheritance to the tribe of the people of Reuben according to their clans. [16]So their territory was from Aroer, [r] which is on the edge of the Valley of the Arnon, and the city that is in the middle of the valley, and all the tableland by [s] Medeba; [17]with Heshbon, and all its cities that are in the tableland; [s] Dibon, and Bamoth-baal, and Beth-baal-meon, [18] [t] and Jahaz, and Kedemoth, and Mephaath, [19]and [u] Kiriathaim, and [u] Sibmah, and Zereth-shahar on the hill of the valley, [20]and [v] Beth-peor, and [w] the slopes of Pisgah, and [w] Beth-jeshimoth, [21]that is, [x] all the cities of the tableland, and all the kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites, who reigned in Heshbon, [y] whom Moses defeated with [z] the leaders of Midian, Evi and Rekem and Zur and Hur and Reba, the princes of Sihon, who lived in the land. [22][†] [z] Balaam also, the son of Beor, the one who practiced divination, was killed with the sword by the people of Israel among the rest of their slain. [23]And the border of the people of Reuben was the Jordan as a boundary. This was the inheritance of the people of Reuben, according to their clans with their cities and villages.

[24]Moses gave an inheritance also to the tribe of Gad, to the people of Gad, according to their clans. [25] [a] Their territory was Jazer, and all the cities of Gilead, and half the land of the Ammonites, to Aroer, which is east of [b] Rabbah, [26]and from Heshbon to Ramath-mizpeh and Betonim, and from [c] Mahanaim to the territory of Debir, [2] [27]and in the valley Beth-haram, Beth-nimrah, [d] Succoth, and Zaphon, the rest of the kingdom of Sihon king of Heshbon, having the Jordan as a boundary, to the lower end of the Sea of [e] Chinnereth, eastward beyond the Jordan. [28]This is the inheritance of the people of Gad according to their clans, with their cities and villages.

[29]And Moses gave an inheritance to the half-tribe of Manasseh. It was allotted to the half-tribe of the people of Manasseh according to their clans. [30]Their region extended from [f] Mahanaim, through all Bashan, the whole kingdom of Og king of Bashan, and all [g] the towns of Jair, which are in Bashan, sixty cities, [31]and half Gilead, and [h] Ashtaroth, and Edrei, the cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan. These were allotted to the people of [i] Machir the son of Manasseh for the half of the people of Machir according to their clans.

32These are the inheritances that Moses distributed [j] in the plains of Moab, beyond the Jordan east of Jericho. 33 [k] But to the tribe of Levi Moses gave no inheritance; the LORD God of Israel is their inheritance, [k] just as he said to them.

The Inheritance West of the Jordan

JOSHUA 14 [†]These are the inheritances that the people of Israel received in the land of Canaan, which [l] Eleazar the priest and Joshua the son of Nun and the heads of the fathers' houses of the tribes of the people of Israel gave them to inherit. 2[†]Their inheritance was [m] by lot, just as the LORD had commanded by the hand of Moses for the nine and one-half tribes. 3[†] [n] For Moses had given an inheritance to the two and one-half tribes beyond the Jordan, [o] but to the Levites he gave no inheritance among them. 4For [p] the people of Joseph were two tribes, Manasseh and Ephraim. And no portion was given to the Levites in the land, but only cities to dwell in, with their pasturelands for their livestock and their substance. 5The people of Israel did [q] as the LORD commanded Moses; they allotted the land.

Caleb's Request and Inheritance

6[†]Then the people of Judah came to Joshua at Gilgal. And Caleb the son of Jephunneh the [r] Kenizzite said to him, "You know [s] what the LORD said to Moses the man of God in Kadesh-barnea concerning you and me. 7I was forty years old when Moses the servant of the LORD [t] sent me from Kadesh-barnea to spy out the land, and I brought him word again as it was in my heart. 8[†]But [u] my brothers who went up with me made the heart of the people melt; yet I wholly followed the LORD my God. 9And Moses swore on that day, saying, [v] 'Surely the land [w] on which your foot has trodden shall be an inheritance for you and your children forever, because you have wholly followed the LORD my God.' 10And now, behold, the LORD has kept me alive, [x] just as he said, these [y] forty-five years since the time that the LORD spoke this word to Moses, while Israel walked in the wilderness. And now, behold, I am this day [y] eighty-five years old. 11 [z] I am still as strong today as I was in the day that Moses sent me; my strength now is as my strength was then, for war and [a] for going and coming. [12]So now give me this hill country of which the LORD spoke on that day, for you heard on that day how the [b] Anakim were there, with great fortified cities. It may be that the LORD will be with me, and I shall drive them out just as the LORD said.”

[13]Then Joshua [c] blessed him, and he gave [d] Hebron to Caleb the son of Jephunneh for an inheritance. [14]Therefore Hebron became the inheritance of Caleb the son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite to this day, [e] because he wholly followed the LORD, the God of Israel. [15][f] Now the name of Hebron formerly was Kiriath-arba. [1] (Arba [2] was the greatest man among the Anakim.) [g] And the land had rest from war.

The Allotment for Judah

JOSHUA 15 [†]The allotment for the tribe of the people of Judah according to their clans reached southward [h] to the boundary of Edom, to [i] the wilderness of Zin at the farthest south. [2]And their south boundary ran from the end of the [h] Salt Sea, from the bay that faces southward. [3]It goes out southward of [j] the ascent of Akrabbim, passes along to Zin, and goes up south of Kadesh-barnea, along by Hezron, up to Addar, turns about to Karka, [4]passes along to Azmon, goes out by [k] the Brook of Egypt, and comes to its end at the sea. This shall be your south boundary. [5]And the east boundary is the [h] Salt Sea, to the mouth of the Jordan. And the boundary on the north side runs from the bay of the sea at the mouth of the Jordan. [6]And the boundary goes up to [l] Beth-hoglah and passes along north of [m] Beth-arabah. And the boundary goes up to [n] the stone of Bohan the son of Reuben. [7]And the boundary goes up to Debir from [o] the Valley of Achor, and so northward, turning toward Gilgal, which is opposite [p] the ascent of Adummim, which is on the south side of the valley. And the boundary passes along to the waters of [p] En-shemesh and ends at [q] En-rogel. [8][†]Then the boundary goes up by [r] the Valley of the Son of Hinnom at the southern shoulder of the Jebusite ([s] that is, Jerusalem). And the boundary goes up to the top of the mountain that lies over against the Valley of Hinnom, on the west, at the northern end of the Valley [t] of Rephaim. [9]Then the boundary extends from the top of the mountain [u] to the spring of the waters of Nephtoah, and from there to the cities of Mount Ephron. Then the boundary bends around to Baalah ([v]that is, Kiriath-jearim). [10]And the boundary circles west of Baalah to Mount Seir, passes along to the northern shoulder of Mount Jearim (that is, Chesalon), and goes down to [w]Beth-shemesh and passes along by [x]Timnah. [11]The boundary goes out [y]to the shoulder of the hill north of Ekron, then the boundary bends around to Shikkeron and passes along to Mount [z]Baalah and goes out to Jabneel. Then the boundary comes to an end at the sea. [12]And the west boundary was [a]the Great Sea with its coastline. This is the boundary around the people of Judah according to their clans.

[13][†]According to the commandment of the LORD to Joshua, he gave to Caleb the son of Jephunneh a portion among the people of Judah, [b]Kiriath-arba, that is, [b]Hebron (Arba was the father of Anak). [14]And Caleb drove out from there the three sons of Anak, [c]Sheshai and Ahiman and Talmai, the descendants of Anak. [15]And he went up from there against the inhabitants of Debir. [d]Now the name of Debir formerly was Kiriath-sepher. [16]And Caleb said, “Whoever strikes Kiriath-sepher and captures it, to him will I give Achsah my daughter as wife.” [17][e]And Othniel the son of Kenaz, [f]the brother of Caleb, captured it. And he gave him Achsah his daughter as wife. [18]When she came to him, she urged him to ask her father for a field. And she got off her donkey, and Caleb said to her, “What do you want?” [19]She said to him, “Give me a blessing. Since you have given me the land of the Negeb, give me also springs of water.” And he gave her the upper springs and the lower springs.

[20]This is the inheritance of the tribe of the people of Judah according to their clans. [21]The cities belonging to the tribe of the people of Judah in the extreme south, toward the boundary of Edom, were Kabzeel, [g]Eder, Jagur, [22]Kinah, Dimonah, Adadah, [23]Kedesh, Hazor, Ithnan, [24][h]Ziph, Telem, Bealoth, [25]Hazor-hadattah, Kerioth-hezron (that is, Hazor), [26]Amam, Shema, Moladah, [27]Hazar-gaddah, Heshmon, Beth-pelet, [28]Hazar-shual, [i]Beersheba, Biziothiah, [29]Baalah, Iim, Ezem, [30]Eltolad, Chesil, Hormah, [31][j]Ziklag, Madmannah, Sansannah, [32]Lebaoth, Shilhim, Ain, and Rimmon: in all, twenty-nine cities with their villages.

33 And in the lowland, [k] Eshtaol, Zorah, Ashnah, 34 Zanoah, En-gannim, Tappuah, Enam, 35 [l] Jarmuth, [m] Adullam, [n] Socoh, [n] Azekah, 36 Shaaraim, Adithaim, Gederah, Gederothaim: fourteen cities with their villages.

37 Zenan, Hadashah, Migdal-gad, 38 Dilean, Mizpeh, Joktheel, 39 [o] Lachish, Bozkath, [p] Eglon, 40 Cabbon, Lahmam, Chitlish, 41 Gederoth, Beth-dagon, Naamah, and [q] Makkedah: sixteen cities with their villages.

42 [r] Libnah, Ether, Ashan, 43 Iphtah, Ashnah, Nezib, 44 [s] Keilah, Achzib, and Mareshah: nine cities with their villages.

45 [t] Ekron, with its towns and its villages; 46 from Ekron to the sea, all that were by the side of Ashdod, with their villages.

47 [t] Ashdod, its towns and its villages; [t] Gaza, its towns and its villages; to [u] the Brook of Egypt, and [v] the Great Sea with its coastline.

48 And in the hill country, Shamir, Jattir, Socoh, 49 Dannah, Kiriath-sannah ([w] that is, Debir), 50 Anab, Eshtemoh, Anim, 51 [x] Goshen, Holon, and [y] Giloh: eleven cities with their villages.

52 Arab, Dumah, Eshan, 53 Janim, Beth-tappuah, Aphekah, 54 Humtah, [z] Kiriath-arba (that is, [z] Hebron), and Zior: nine cities with their villages.

55 [a] Maon, [a] Carmel, [b] Ziph, Juttah, 56 Jezreel, Jokdeam, Zanoah, 57 Kain, Gibeah, and [c] Timnah: ten cities with their villages.

58 Halhul, Beth-zur, Gedor, 59 Maarath, Beth-anoth, and Eltekon: six cities with their villages.

60 [d] Kiriath-baal (that is, Kiriath-jearim), and Rabbah: two cities with their villages.

61 In the wilderness, [e] Beth-arabah, Middin, Secacah, 62 Nibshan, the City of Salt, and [f] Engedi: six cities with their villages.

63 [†] But the [g] Jebusites, the inhabitants of Jerusalem, [h] the people of Judah could not drive out, [h] so the Jebusites dwell with the people of Judah at Jerusalem to this day.

The Allotment for Ephraim and Manasseh

JOSHUA 16 [†]The allotment of the people of Joseph went from the Jordan by Jericho, east of the waters of Jericho, [i] into the wilderness, going up from Jericho into the hill country to Bethel. [2]Then [j] going from Bethel to Luz, it passes along to Ataroth, the territory of the Archites. [3]Then it goes down westward to the territory of the Japhletites, as far as the territory of Lower [k] Beth-horon, then to [l] Gezer, and it ends at the sea.

[4] [m] The people of Joseph, Manasseh and Ephraim, received their inheritance.

[5]The territory of the people of Ephraim by their clans was as follows: the boundary of their inheritance on the east was [n] Ataroth-addar as far as Upper Beth-horon, [6]and the boundary goes from there to the sea. On the north is [o] Michmethath. Then on the east the boundary turns around toward Taanath-shiloh and passes along beyond it on the east to Janoah, [7]then it goes down from Janoah to Ataroth and [p] to Naarah, and touches Jericho, ending at the Jordan. [8]From [q] Tappuah the boundary goes westward to the brook Kanah and ends at the sea. Such is the inheritance of the tribe of the people of Ephraim by their clans, [9]together with [q] the towns that were set apart for the people of Ephraim within the inheritance of the Manassites, all those towns with their villages. [10][†]However, [r] they did not drive out the Canaanites who lived in Gezer, so the Canaanites have lived in the midst of Ephraim to this day but have been made [s] to do forced labor.

JOSHUA 17 Then allotment was made to the people of Manasseh, for he was [t] the firstborn of Joseph. To [u] Machir the firstborn of Manasseh, the father of Gilead, [v] were allotted Gilead and Bashan, because he was a man of war. [2]And allotments were made [w] to the rest of the people of Manasseh by their clans, Abiezer, Helek, Asriel, Shechem, Hepher, and Shemida. These were the male descendants of Manasseh the son of Joseph, by their clans.

[3][†]Now [x] Zelophehad the son of Hepher, son of Gilead, son of Machir, son of Manasseh, had no sons, but only daughters, and these are the names of his daughters: [x] Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah. [4]They approached [y] Eleazar the priest and Joshua the son of Nun and the leaders and said, [z]“The LORD commanded Moses to give us an inheritance along with our brothers.” So according to the mouth of the LORD he gave them an inheritance among the brothers of their father. [5]Thus there fell to Manasseh ten portions, besides [a]the land of Gilead and Bashan, which is on the other side of the Jordan, [6]because the daughters of Manasseh received an inheritance along with his sons. The land of Gilead was allotted to the rest of the people of Manasseh.

[7]The territory of Manasseh reached from Asher to [b]Michmethath, which is east of Shechem. Then the boundary goes along southward to the inhabitants of En-tappuah. [8]The land of [c]Tappuah belonged to Manasseh, but the town of Tappuah on the boundary of Manasseh belonged to the people of Ephraim. [9][c]Then the boundary went down to the brook Kanah. These cities, to the south of the brook, among the cities of Manasseh, belong to Ephraim. Then the boundary of Manasseh goes on the north side of the brook and ends at the sea, [10]the land to the south being Ephraim’s and that to the north being Manasseh’s, with the sea forming its boundary. On the north Asher is reached, and on the east Issachar. [11]Also in Issachar and in Asher [d]Manasseh had Beth-shean and its villages, and Ibleam and its villages, and the inhabitants of [d]Dor and its villages, and the inhabitants of En-dor and its villages, and the inhabitants of [d]Taanach and its villages, and the inhabitants of [d]Megiddo and its villages; [e]the third is Naphath. [1] [12][†][f]Yet the people of Manasseh could not take possession of those cities, but the Canaanites persisted in dwelling in that land. [13]Now when the people of Israel grew strong, they put the Canaanites [g]to forced labor, but did not utterly drive them out.

[14]Then [h]the people of Joseph spoke to Joshua, saying, “Why have you given me but [i]one lot and one portion as an inheritance, although I am [j]a numerous people, since all along the LORD has blessed me?” [15]And Joshua said to them, “If you are a numerous people, go up by yourselves to the forest, and there clear ground for yourselves in the land of the Perizzites and [k]the Rephaim, since [l]the hill country of Ephraim is too narrow for you.” [16][†]The people of Joseph said, “The hill country is not enough for us. Yet all the Canaanites who dwell in the plain have [m]chariots of iron, both those in Beth-shean and its villages and those in [n]the Valley of Jezreel.” [17]Then Joshua said to the house of Joseph, to Ephraim and Manasseh, “You are a numerous people and have great power. You shall not have one allotment only, [18]but the hill country shall be yours, for though it is a forest, you shall clear it and possess it to its farthest borders. For you shall drive out the Canaanites, [o]though they have chariots of iron, and though they are strong.”

Allotment of the Remaining Land

JOSHUA 18 [†]Then the whole congregation of the people of Israel assembled at [p]Shiloh and set up [q]the tent of meeting there. The land lay subdued before them.

[2]There remained among the people of Israel seven tribes whose inheritance had not yet been apportioned. [3]So Joshua said to the people of Israel, [r]“How long will you put off going in to take possession of the land, which the LORD, the God of your fathers, has given you? [4]Provide three men from each tribe, and I will send them out that they may set out and go up and down the land. They shall write a description of it with a view to their inheritances, and then come to me. [5]They shall divide it into seven portions. [s]Judah shall continue in his territory on the south, [t]and the house of Joseph shall continue in their territory on the north. [6]And you shall describe the land in seven divisions and bring the description here to me. [u]And I will cast lots for you here before the LORD our God. [7][†] [v]The Levites have no portion among you, for the priesthood of the LORD is their heritage. [w]And Gad and Reuben and half the tribe of Manasseh have received their inheritance beyond the Jordan eastward, which Moses the servant of the LORD gave them.”

[8]So the men arose and went, and Joshua charged those who went to write the description of the land, saying, “Go up and down in the land and write a description and return to me. And I will cast lots for you here before the LORD in Shiloh.” [9][†]So the men went and passed up and down in the land and wrote in a book a description of it by towns in seven divisions. Then they came to Joshua to the camp at Shiloh, [10]and Joshua [x]cast lots for them in Shiloh before the LORD. And there Joshua apportioned the land to the people of Israel, [y]to each his portion.

The Inheritance for Benjamin

[11][†]The lot of the tribe of the people of Benjamin according to its clans came up, and the territory allotted to it fell between the people of Judah and the people of Joseph. [12] [z]On the north side their boundary began at the Jordan. [a]Then the boundary goes up to the shoulder north of Jericho, then up through the hill country westward, and it ends at the wilderness of [b]Beth-aven. [13]From there the boundary passes along southward in the direction of Luz, to the shoulder of [c]Luz (that is, Bethel), then the boundary goes down to [d]Ataroth-addar, on the mountain that lies south of Lower [e]Beth-horon. [14]Then the boundary goes in another direction, turning on the [f]western side southward from the mountain that lies to the south, opposite Beth-horon, and it ends at Kiriath-baal ([g]that is, Kiriath-jearim), a city belonging to the people of Judah. This forms the western side. [15]And the southern side begins at the outskirts of Kiriath-jearim. And the boundary goes from there to Ephron, [1] [g]to the spring of the waters of Nephtoah. [16]Then the boundary goes down to the border of the mountain that overlooks [h]the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, which is at the north end of the Valley of [i]Rephaim. And it then goes down the [h]Valley of Hinnom, south of the shoulder of the Jebusites, and downward to [j]En-rogel. [17]Then it bends in a northerly direction going on to En-shemesh, and from there goes to Geliloth, which is opposite the ascent of Adummim. Then it goes down to [k]the stone of Bohan the son of Reuben, [18]and passing on to the north of [l]the shoulder of Beth-arabah [2] it goes down to [l]the Arabah. [19]Then the boundary passes on to the north of the shoulder of [k]Beth-hoglah. And the boundary ends at the northern bay of [m]the Salt Sea, at the south end of the Jordan: this is the southern border. [20]The Jordan forms its boundary on the eastern side. This is the inheritance of the people of Benjamin, according to their clans, boundary by boundary all around.

[21]Now the cities of the tribe of the people of Benjamin according to their clans were [n]Jericho, Beth-hoglah, Emek-keziz, [22]Beth-arabah, Zemaraim, Bethel, [23]Avvim, Parah, Ophrah, [24]Chephar-ammoni, Ophni, Geba—twelve cities with their villages: [25]Gibeon, Ramah, Beeroth, [26]Mizpeh, Chephirah, Mozah, [27]Rekem, Irpeel, Taralah, [28]Zela, Haeleph, [o]Jebus [3] (that is, Jerusalem), Gibeah [4] and Kiriath-jearim [5]—fourteen cities with their villages. This is the inheritance of the people of Benjamin according to its clans.

The Inheritance for Simeon

JOSHUA 19 [†]The second lot came out for Simeon, for the tribe of the people of Simeon, according to their clans, [p]and their inheritance was in the midst of the inheritance of the people of Judah. 2 [q]And they had for their inheritance Beersheba, Sheba, Moladah, 3Hazar-shual, Balah, Ezem, 4Eltolad, Bethul, Hormah, 5Ziklag, Beth-marcaboth, Hazar-susah, 6Beth-lebaoth, and Sharuhen—thirteen cities with their villages; 7Ain, Rimmon, Ether, and Ashan—four cities with their villages, 8together with all the villages around these cities as far as Baalath-beer, Ramah of the Negeb. This was the inheritance of the tribe of the people of Simeon according to their clans. 9 [r]The inheritance of the people of Simeon formed part of the territory of the people of Judah. Because the portion of the people of Judah was too large for them, the people of Simeon obtained an inheritance in the midst of their inheritance.

The Inheritance for Zebulun

10The third lot came up for the people of Zebulun, according to their clans. And the territory of their inheritance reached as far as Sarid. 11Then their boundary goes up [s]westward and on to Mareal and touches Dabbesheth, then the brook that is east of [t]Jokneam. 12From Sarid it goes in the other direction eastward toward the sunrise to the boundary of Chisloth-tabor. From there it goes to Daberath, then up to Japhia. 13From there it passes along on the east toward the sunrise to Gath-hepher, to Eth-kazin, and going on to Rimmon it bends toward Neah, 14then on the north the boundary turns about to Hannathon, and it ends at the Valley of Iphtahel; 15[†]and Kattath, Nahalal, [u]Shimron, Idalah, and Bethlehem—twelve cities with their villages. 16This is the inheritance of the people of Zebulun, according to their clans—these cities with their villages.

The Inheritance for Issachar

17The fourth lot came out for Issachar, for the people of Issachar, according to their clans. 18Their territory included Jezreel, Chesulloth, [v] Shunem, 19Hapharaim, Shion, Anaharath, 20Rabbith, Kishion, Ebez, 21Remeth, En-gannim, En-haddah, Beth-pazzez. 22The boundary also touches Tabor, Shahazumah, and Beth-shemesh, and its boundary ends at the Jordan—sixteen cities with their villages. 23This is the inheritance of the tribe of the people of Issachar, according to their clans—the cities with their villages.

The Inheritance for Asher

24The fifth lot came out for the tribe of the people of Asher according to their clans. 25Their territory included Helkath, Hali, Beten, Achshaph, 26Allammelech, Amad, and Mishal. On the west it touches [w] Carmel and Shihor-libnath, 27then it turns eastward, it goes to Beth-dagon, and touches Zebulun and the Valley of Iphtahel northward to Beth-emek and Neiel. Then it continues in the north to [x] Cabul, 28Ebron, Rehob, Hammon, Kanah, as far as [y] Sidon the Great. 29Then the boundary turns to Ramah, reaching to the fortified city of Tyre. Then the boundary turns to Hosah, and it ends at the sea; Mahalab, [1] Achzib, 30Ummah, Aphek and Rehob—twenty-two cities with their villages. 31This is the inheritance of the tribe of the people of Asher according to their clans—these cities with their villages.

The Inheritance for Naphtali

32The sixth lot came out for the people of Naphtali, for the people of Naphtali, according to their clans. 33And their boundary ran from Heleph, from [z] the oak in Zaanannim, and Adami-nekeb, and Jabneel, as far as Lakkum, and it ended at the Jordan. 34Then the boundary turns [a] westward to Aznoth-tabor and goes from there to Hukkok, touching Zebulun at the south and Asher on the west and Judah on the east at the Jordan. 35The fortified cities are Ziddim, Zer, Hammath, Rakkath, [b] Chinnereth, 36Adamah, Ramah, [c] Hazor, 37Kedesh, Edrei, En-hazor, 38Yiron, Migdal-el, Horem, Beth-anath, and Beth-shemesh—nineteen cities with their villages.

[39]This is the inheritance of the tribe of the people of Naphtali according to their clans—the cities with their villages.

The Inheritance for Dan

[40]The seventh lot came out for the tribe of the people of Dan, according to their clans. [41]And the territory of its inheritance included Zorah, Eshtaol, Irshemesh, [42] [d] Shaalabbin, [d] Aijalon, Ithlah, [43]Elon, Timnah, Ekron, [44]Eltekeh, Gibbethon, Baalath, [45]Jehud, Bene-berak, Gath-rimmon, [46]and Me-jarkon and Rakkon with the territory over against [e] Joppa. [47][†]When [f] the territory of the people of Dan was lost to them, the people of Dan went up and fought against Leshem, and after capturing it and striking it with the sword they took possession of it and settled in it, calling Leshem, Dan, after the name of Dan their ancestor. [48]This is the inheritance of the tribe of the people of Dan, according to their clans—these cities with their villages.

The Inheritance for Joshua

[49][†]When they had finished distributing the several territories of the land as inheritances, the people of Israel gave an inheritance among them to Joshua the son of Nun. [50]By command of the LORD they gave him the city that he asked, [g] Timnath-serah in the hill country of Ephraim. And he rebuilt the city and settled in it.

[51][†] [h] These are the inheritances that Eleazar the priest and Joshua the son of Nun and the heads of the fathers' houses of the tribes of the people of Israel distributed by lot [i] at Shiloh before the LORD, at the entrance of the tent of meeting. So they finished dividing the land.

The Cities of Refuge

JOSHUA 20 [†]Then the LORD said to Joshua, [2]"Say to the people of Israel, [j] 'Appoint the cities of refuge, of which I spoke to you through Moses, [3][†]that the manslayer who strikes any person without intent or unknowingly may flee there. They shall be for you a refuge from the avenger of blood. [4]He shall flee to one of these cities and shall stand [k] at the entrance of the gate of the city and explain his case to the elders of that city.

Then they shall take him into the city and give him a place, and he shall remain with them. [5]And if the avenger of blood pursues him, they shall not give up the manslayer into his hand, because he struck his neighbor unknowingly, and did not hate him in the past. [6][†]And he shall remain in that city [l] until he has stood before the congregation for judgment, until the death of him who is high priest at the time. Then the manslayer may return to his own town and his own home, to the town from which he fled.'"

[7]So they set apart [m] Kedesh in Galilee in the hill country of Naphtali, and [n] Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim, and [o] Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron) [p] in the hill country of Judah. [8]And beyond the Jordan east of Jericho, they appointed [q] Bezer in the wilderness on the tableland, from the tribe of Reuben, and [r] Ramoth in Gilead, from the tribe of Gad, and [s] Golan in Bashan, from the tribe of Manasseh. [9]These were the cities designated for all the people of Israel and [t] for the stranger sojourning among them, that anyone who killed a person without intent could flee there, so that he might not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, till he stood before the congregation.

Cities and Pasturelands Allotted to Levi

JOSHUA 21 [†]Then the heads of the fathers' houses of the Levites came [u] to Eleazar the priest and to Joshua the son of Nun and to the heads of the fathers' houses of the tribes of the people of Israel. [2]And they said to them [v] at Shiloh in the land of Canaan, [w] "The LORD commanded through Moses that we be given cities to dwell in, along with their pasturelands for our livestock." [3]So by command of the LORD the people of Israel gave to the Levites the following cities and pasturelands out of their inheritance.

[4]The lot came out for the clans of the Kohathites. So those Levites who were descendants of Aaron the priest [x] received by lot from the tribes of Judah, Simeon, and Benjamin, thirteen cities.

[5]And the rest of the Kohathites received by lot [y] from the clans of the tribe of Ephraim, from the tribe of Dan and the half-tribe of Manasseh, ten cities.

[6]The [z] Gershonites received by lot from the clans of the tribe of Issachar, from the tribe of Asher, from the tribe of Naphtali, and from the half-tribe of Manasseh in Bashan, thirteen cities.

7The [a]Merarites according to their clans received from the tribe of Reuben, the tribe of Gad, and the tribe of Zebulun, twelve cities.

8These cities and their pasturelands the people of Israel [b]gave by lot to the Levites, [c]as the LORD had commanded through Moses.

13And to the descendants of Aaron the priest they gave Hebron, [h]the city of refuge for the manslayer, with its pasturelands, [i]Libnah with its pasturelands, 14Jattir with its pasturelands, Eshtemoa with its pasturelands, 15Holon with its pasturelands, Debir with its pasturelands, 16Ain with its pasturelands, Juttah with its pasturelands, Beth-shemesh with its pasturelands—nine cities out of these two tribes; 17then out of the tribe of Benjamin, [j]Gibeon with its pasturelands, Geba with its pasturelands, 18Anathoth with its pasturelands, and Almon with its pasturelands—four cities. 19The cities of the descendants of Aaron, the priests, were in all thirteen cities with their pasturelands.

20 [k]As to the rest of the Kohathites belonging to the Kohathite clans of the Levites, the cities allotted to them were out of the tribe of Ephraim. 21To them were given Shechem, [l]the city of refuge for the manslayer, with its pasturelands in the hill country of Ephraim, Gezer with its pasturelands, 22Kibzaim with its pasturelands, Beth-horon with its pasturelands—four cities; 23and out of the tribe of Dan, Elteke with its pasturelands, Gibbethon with its pasturelands, 24Aijalon with its pasturelands, Gath-rimmon with its pasturelands—four cities; 25and out of the half-tribe of Manasseh, Taanach with its pasturelands, and Gath-rimmon with its pasturelands—two cities. 26The cities of the clans of the rest of the Kohathites were ten in all with their pasturelands.

27 [m] And to the Gershonites, one of the clans of the Levites, were given out of the half-tribe of Manasseh, Golan in Bashan with its pasturelands, [l] the city of refuge for the manslayer, and Beeshterah with its pasturelands—two cities; 28 and out of the tribe of Issachar, Kishion with its pasturelands, Daberath with its pasturelands, 29 Jarmuth with its pasturelands, En-gannim with its pasturelands—four cities; 30 and out of the tribe of Asher, Mishal with its pasturelands, Abdon with its pasturelands, 31 Helkath with its pasturelands, and Rehob with its pasturelands—four cities; 32 and out of the tribe of Naphtali, Kedesh in Galilee with its pasturelands, [l] the city of refuge for the manslayer, Hammoth-dor with its pasturelands, and Kartan with its pasturelands—three cities. 33 The cities of the several clans of the Gershonites were in all thirteen cities with their pasturelands.

34 [n] And to the rest of the Levites, the Merarite clans, were given out of the tribe of Zebulun, Jokneam with its pasturelands, Kartah with its pasturelands, 35 Dimnah with its pasturelands, Nahalal with its pasturelands—four cities; 36 and out of the tribe of Reuben, [o] Bezer with its pasturelands, Jahaz with its pasturelands, 37 Kedemoth with its pasturelands, and Mephaath with its pasturelands—four cities; 38 and out of the tribe of Gad, [o] Ramoth in Gilead with its pasturelands, the city of refuge for the manslayer, [p] Mahanaim with its pasturelands, 39 [p] Heshbon with its pasturelands, Jazer with its pasturelands—four cities in all. 40 As for the cities of the several Merarite clans, that is, the remainder of the clans of the Levites, those allotted to them were in all twelve cities.

41 [q] The cities of the Levites in the midst of the possession of the people of Israel were in all forty-eight cities with their pasturelands. 42 These cities each had its pasturelands around it. So it was with all these cities.

43 [†] [r] Thus the Lord gave to Israel all the land that he swore to give to their fathers. And they took possession of it, and they settled there. 44 [s] And the Lord gave them rest on every side just as he had sworn to their fathers. [t] Not one of all their enemies had withstood them, for [u] the Lord had given all their enemies into their hands. 45 [v] Not one word of all the good promises that the Lord had made to the house of Israel had failed; all came to pass.

The Eastern Tribes Return Home

JOSHUA 22 [†]At that time Joshua summoned the Reubenites and the Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh, [2]and said to them, “You have kept [w]all that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded you [x]and have obeyed my voice in all that I have commanded you. [3]You have not forsaken your brothers these many days, down to this day, but have been careful to keep the charge of the LORD your God. [4][y]And now the LORD your God has given rest to your brothers, as he promised them. Therefore turn and go to your tents in the land where your possession lies, [z]which Moses the servant of the LORD gave you on the other side of the Jordan. [5][a]Only be very careful to observe the commandment and the law that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded you, [b]to love the LORD your God, and to walk in all his ways and to keep his commandments and to cling to him and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.” [6]So Joshua [c]blessed them and sent them away, and they went to their tents.

[7]Now to the one half of the tribe of Manasseh Moses had given a possession in Bashan, [d]but to the other half Joshua had given a possession beside their brothers in the land west of the Jordan. And when Joshua sent them away to their homes and blessed them, [8][†]he said to them, “Go back to your tents with much wealth and with very much livestock, with silver, gold, bronze, and iron, and with much clothing. [e]Divide the spoil of your enemies with your brothers.” [9]So the people of Reuben and the people of Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh returned home, parting from the people of Israel at Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan, to go [f]to the land of Gilead, their own land of which they had possessed themselves by command of the LORD through Moses.

The Eastern Tribes’ Altar of Witness

[10][†]And when they came to the region of the Jordan that is in the land of Canaan, the people of Reuben and the people of Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh built there an altar by the Jordan, an altar of imposing size. [11]And the people of Israel [g]heard it said, “Behold, the people of Reuben and the people of Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh have built the altar at the frontier of the land of Canaan, in the region about the Jordan, on the side that belongs to the people of Israel." [12]And when the people of Israel heard of it, [h]the whole assembly of the people of Israel gathered at Shiloh to make war against them.

[13][†]Then the people of Israel sent to the people of Reuben and the people of Gad and the half-tribe of Manasseh, in the land of Gilead, [i]Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest, [14]and with him ten chiefs, one from each of the tribal families of Israel, [j]every one of them the head of a family among the clans of Israel. [15]And they came to the people of Reuben, the people of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, in the land of Gilead, and they said to them, [16]"Thus says the whole congregation of the LORD, 'What is this breach of faith that you have committed against the God of Israel in turning away this day from following the LORD by building yourselves an altar this day [k]in rebellion against the LORD? [17]Have we not had enough of [l]the sin at Peor from which even yet we have not cleansed ourselves, and for which there came a plague upon the congregation of the LORD, [18]that you too must turn away this day from following the LORD? And if [k]you too rebel against the LORD today then tomorrow [m]he will be angry with the whole congregation of Israel. [19]But now, if the land of your possession is unclean, pass over into the LORD's land [n]where the LORD's tabernacle stands, and take for yourselves a possession among us. [o]Only do not rebel against the LORD or make us as rebels by building for yourselves an altar other than the altar of the LORD our God. [20][p]Did not Achan the son of Zerah break faith in the matter of the devoted things, and [m]wrath fell upon all the congregation of Israel? And he did not perish alone for his iniquity.'"

[21][†]Then the people of Reuben, the people of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh said in answer to the heads of the families of Israel, [22]"The Mighty One, [q]God, the LORD! The Mighty One, God, the LORD! [r]He knows; and let Israel itself know! If it was in rebellion or in breach of faith against the LORD, do not spare us today [23]for building an altar to turn away from following the LORD. Or if we did so to offer burnt offerings or grain offerings or peace offerings on it, may the LORD himself [s]take vengeance. [24]No, but we did it from fear that [t]in time to come your children might say to our children, 'What have you to do with the LORD, the God of Israel? [25]For the LORD has made the Jordan a boundary between us and you, you people of Reuben and people of Gad. You have no portion in the LORD.’ So your children might make our children cease to worship the LORD.

[26]Therefore we said, ‘Let us now build an altar, not for burnt offering, nor for sacrifice, [27]but to be [u]a witness between us and you, and between our generations after us, that we [v]do perform the service of the LORD in his presence with our burnt offerings and sacrifices and peace offerings, so your children will not say to our children in time to come, “You have no portion in the LORD.”’ [28]And we thought, ‘If this should be said to us or to our descendants in time to come, we should say, “Behold, the copy of the altar of the LORD, which our fathers made, not for burnt offerings, nor for sacrifice, but to be [u]a witness between us and you.”’ [29]Far be it from us that we should [w]rebel against the LORD and turn away this day from following the LORD [w]by building an altar for burnt offering, grain offering, or sacrifice, other than the altar of the LORD our God that stands before his tabernacle!”

[30]When [x]Phinehas the priest and the chiefs of the congregation, the heads of the families of Israel who were with him, heard the words that the people of Reuben and the people of Gad and the people of Manasseh spoke, [y]it was good in their eyes. [31]And Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest said to the people of Reuben and the people of Gad and the people of Manasseh, “Today we know that [z]the LORD is in our midst, because you have not committed this breach of faith against the LORD. Now you have delivered the people of Israel from the hand of the LORD.”

[32]Then Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest, and the chiefs, returned from the people of Reuben and the people of Gad [a]in the land of Gilead to the land of Canaan, to the people of Israel, and brought back word to them.
[33]And the report [b]was good in the eyes of the people of Israel. And the people of Israel [c]blessed God and spoke no more of making war against them to destroy the land where the people of Reuben and the people of Gad were settled. [34][†]The people of Reuben and the people of Gad called the altar Witness, “For,” they said, [d]“it is a witness between us that the LORD is God.”

Joshua’s Charge to Israel’s Leaders

JOSHUA 23 [†]A long time afterward, when the LORD had given [e] rest to Israel from all their surrounding enemies, and Joshua [f] was old and well advanced in years, [2]Joshua [g] summoned all Israel, its elders and heads, its judges and officers, and said to them, “I am now old and well advanced in years. [3]And you have seen all that the LORD your God has done to all these nations for your sake, [h] for it is the LORD your God who has fought for you. [4][†]Behold, [i] I have allotted to you as an inheritance for your tribes those nations that remain, along with all the nations that I have already cut off, from the Jordan to the Great Sea in the west. [5]The LORD your God [j] will push them back before you and drive them out of your sight. And you shall possess their land, [k] just as the LORD your God promised you. [6]Therefore, [l] be very strong to keep and to do all that is written in the Book of the Law of Moses, [m] turning aside from it neither to the right hand nor to the left, [7][†] [n] that you may not mix with these nations remaining among you [o] or make mention of the names of their gods [p] or swear by them or serve them or bow down to them, [8] [q] but you shall cling to the LORD your God just as you have done to this day. [9] [r] For the LORD has driven out before you great and strong nations. And as for you, [s] no man has been able to stand before you to this day. [10] [t] One man of you puts to flight a thousand, since it is the LORD your God [u] who fights for you, just as he promised you. [11] [v] Be very careful, therefore, to love the LORD your God. [12]For if you turn back and cling to the remnant of these nations remaining among you [w] and make marriages with them, so that you associate with them and they with you, [13]know for certain that [x] the LORD your God will no longer drive out these nations before you, [y] but they shall be a snare and a trap for you, a whip on your sides and thorns in your eyes, until you perish from off this good ground that the LORD your God has given you.

[14]“And now [z] I am about to go the way of all the earth, and you know in your hearts and souls, all of you, that [a] not one word has failed of all the good things [1] that the LORD your God promised concerning you. All have come to pass for you; not one of them has failed. [15][†]But just as all the good things that the LORD your God promised concerning you have been fulfilled for you, so the LORD will bring upon you [b] all the evil things, until he has destroyed you from off this good land that the LORD your God has given you, [16]if you transgress the covenant of the LORD your God, which he commanded you, and go and serve other gods and bow down to them. Then the anger of the LORD will be kindled against you, and you shall perish quickly from off the good land that he has given to you."

The Covenant Renewal at Shechem

JOSHUA 24 [†]Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel [c] to Shechem and [d] summoned the elders, the heads, the judges, and the officers of Israel. And [e] they presented themselves before God. [2][†]And Joshua said to all the people, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, 'Long ago, [f] your fathers lived beyond the Euphrates, [1] Terah, the father of Abraham and of Nahor; and [g] they served other gods. [3] [h] Then I took your father Abraham from beyond the River and [i] led him through all the land of Canaan, and made his offspring many. [j] I gave him Isaac. [4]And to Isaac I gave [k] Jacob and Esau. [l] And I gave Esau the hill country of Seir to possess, [m] but Jacob and his children went down to Egypt. [5] [n] And I sent Moses and Aaron, [o] and I plagued Egypt with what I did in the midst of it, and [p] afterward I brought you out.

[6]"'Then [p] I brought your fathers out of Egypt, and [q] you came to the sea. [r] And the Egyptians pursued your fathers with chariots and horsemen to the Red Sea. [7] [s] And when they cried to the LORD, [t] he put darkness between you and the Egyptians [u] and made the sea come upon them and cover them; [v] and your eyes saw what I did in Egypt. [w] And you lived in the wilderness a long time. [8]Then I brought you to the land of the Amorites, who lived on the other side of the Jordan. [x] They fought with you, and I gave them into your hand, and you took possession of their land, and I destroyed them before you. [9] [y] Then Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab, arose and fought against Israel. [z] And he sent and invited Balaam the son of Beor to curse you, [10] [a] but I would not listen to Balaam. [a] Indeed, he blessed you. So I delivered you out of his hand. [11] [b] And you went over the Jordan and came to Jericho, [c] and the leaders of Jericho fought against you, and also [c] the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Girgashites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites. And I gave them into your hand. [12][†]And I sent [d]the hornet before you, which drove them out before you, the two kings of the Amorites; it was [e]not by your sword or by your bow. [13]I gave you a land on which you had not labored [f]and cities that you had not built, and you dwell in them. You eat the fruit of vineyards and olive orchards that you did not plant.’

Choose Whom You Will Serve

[14][†][g]“Now therefore fear the LORD and serve him in sincerity and in faithfulness. [h]Put away the gods that your fathers served beyond the River and in Egypt, and serve the LORD. [15][†][i]And if it is evil in your eyes to serve the LORD, [j]choose this day whom you will serve, whether [h]the gods your fathers served in the region beyond the River, or [k]the gods of the Amorites in whose land you dwell. [l]But as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD.”

[16]Then the people answered, “Far be it from us that we should forsake the LORD to serve other gods, [17]for it is the LORD our God who brought us and our fathers up from the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery, and who did those great signs in our sight and preserved us in all the way that we went, and among all the peoples through whom we passed. [18]And the LORD drove out before us all the peoples, the Amorites who lived in the land. Therefore we also will serve the LORD, for he is our God.”

[19][†]But Joshua said to the people, “You are not able to serve the LORD, for he is [m]a holy God. He is [n]a jealous God; [o]he will not forgive your transgressions or your sins. [20][p]If you forsake the LORD and serve foreign gods, then [q]he will turn and do you harm and consume you, after having done you good.” [21]And the people said to Joshua, “No, but we will serve the LORD.” [22]Then Joshua said to the people, “You are witnesses against yourselves that [r]you have chosen the LORD, to serve him.” And they said, “We are witnesses.” [23][†]He said, “Then [s]put away the foreign gods that are among you, and incline your heart to the LORD, the God of Israel.” [24]And the people said to Joshua, “The LORD our God we will serve, and his voice we will obey.” [25]So Joshua [t]made a covenant with the people that day, and put in place [u]statutes and rules for them at Shechem. [26][†]And Joshua [v] wrote these words in the Book of the Law of God. And [w] he took a large stone and set it up there [x] under the terebinth that was by the sanctuary of the LORD. 27And Joshua said to all the people, "Behold, [y] this stone shall be a witness against us, for [z] it has heard all the words of the LORD that he spoke to us. Therefore it shall be a witness against you, lest you deal falsely with your God." 28So Joshua [a] sent the people away, every man to his inheritance.

Joshua's Death and Burial

29[†] [b] After these things Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of the LORD, died, being 110 years old. 30And they buried him in his own inheritance at [c] Timnath-serah, which is in the hill country of Ephraim, north of the mountain of Gaash.

31[†] [d] Israel served the LORD all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders who outlived Joshua [e] and had known all the work that the LORD did for Israel.

32[†] [f] As for the bones of Joseph, which the people of Israel brought up from Egypt, they buried them at Shechem, in the piece of land [g] that Jacob bought from the sons of Hamor the father of Shechem for a hundred pieces of money. [2] It became an inheritance of the descendants of Joseph.

33[†]And Eleazar the son of Aaron died, and they buried him at Gibeah, the town of [h] Phinehas his son, which had been given him in [i] the hill country of Ephraim.

Study Notes for Joshua

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 1:1–5:15 Crossing into the Land. Leadership of Israel passes from Moses to Joshua, who has been chosen (see Deut. 31:1–8) to lead the people to their inheritance in Canaan, the Land of Promise.

FACT

The Historical Books. Joshua begins the section of the Bible known as the Historical Books. There are 12 Historical Books: Joshua, Judges, Ruth, 1–2 Samuel, 1–2 Kings, 1–2 Chronicles, Ezra, Nehemiah, and Esther.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 1:1 After the death of Moses links the book of Joshua to the preceding "five books of Moses" (the Pentateuch), the last of which ends with Moses' death (Deuteronomy 34). Similarly, the book of Joshua will end and the book of Judges will begin with references to Joshua's death (Josh. 24:29; Judg. 1:1; 2:8). These notices link the books together and show that the Lord continues to deal with his people Israel through key leaders. That Joshua, the son of Nun, was an Ephraimite is clear from Num. 13:8, but little else is known of his father, Nun. Joshua himself is mentioned some 30 times in the Pentateuch, three times under his original name Hoshea ("salvation") and the remainder as Joshua ("Yahweh saves"), the name Moses gave him (Num. 13:16). His first appearance is as a military commander, fighting the Amalekites shortly after Israel's exodus from Egypt (Ex. 17:8–13). As Moses' assistant, Joshua accompanied him at least partway up Mount Sinai (Ex. 24:13; 32:17). He also assisted Moses at the tent of meeting, where the Lord would "speak to Moses face to face" (Ex. 33:11). Joshua was among the 12 men sent to explore the land of Canaan (Num. 13:8). He joined Caleb in encouraging the people to trust God for victory (Num. 14:6–9). Because of this act of faith, he and Caleb were the only ones from their generation allowed to enter the Promised Land. Near the time of Moses' death, when Moses requested that a new leader be appointed, the Lord instructed him to choose Joshua (Num. 27:18–19). Joshua was to lead Israel into the Promised Land (Deut. 1:38; 3:28; 31:23) and divide it among the tribes (Num. 34:17).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 1:2 the land that I am giving to them. The promise first given to Abraham (Gen. 12:1–3) included three key elements: family (Abraham’s descendants would become a great nation); blessing (Abraham’s descendants would enjoy the blessings of covenant relationship with the Lord and would in turn be a blessing to the nations); and land (Gen. 12:1, 5–7; 15:18). The dominant theme of the book of Joshua is the Lord’s faithfulness in fulfilling all his “good promises” (Josh. 21:45), especially the promise of land (1:6; 21:43).

Joshua 1:1–9 as a “Table of Contents” for the Rest of the Book

“Table of Contents” Item:	Corresponds To:

“you shall cause this people to inherit the land” (1:6)	Israel’s inheritance distributed (chs. 13–21)
“be strong and very courageous, being careful to do according to all the law . . .” (1:7–9)	Covenant renewal (chs. 22–24)

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 1:3 Every place that the sole of your foot will tread upon. Even though the Lord is giving Israel the land, they still have to step out in faith and take it (see vv. 9, 18).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 1:4 This description recalls Num. 34:1–12, where the Lord provides Moses more detailed boundaries of the land Israel will have in Canaan (see also Gen. 10:19; 15:18; Num. 13:17–22; Deut. 1:7).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 1:5–9 Be strong and courageous (see Deut. 31:6–8, 23). Joshua will need strength and courage to accept his task (you shall cause this people to inherit the land); to obey the Torah (Book of the Law); and to resist being terrified (do not be frightened, and do not be dismayed).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 1:12 For Moses’ instructions to the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, see Num. 32:6–28.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 1:13 Like the OT notion of shalom (“peace, well-being”), rest suggests freedom from threat, the enjoyment of one’s inheritance, security within the borders of the land, and a state of all-around well-being.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 1:14 Only the men were expected to participate in combat (see note on Jer. 50:37).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 2:1 Shittim was east of the Jordan River, though its exact location is unknown (see Num. 25:1–3). into the house of a prostitute. There is no suggestion of a sexual relationship between the spies and Rahab. Her house most likely was a kind of inn or way station and a logical place to gather information. Although a prostitute, Rahab was saved by God's mercy. She is remembered as an ancestor of Christ (Matt. 1:5), and for her faith (Heb. 11:31) and good works (James 2:25).

FACT

Double walls. Like several other ancient cities, Jericho was most likely protected by a double wall. Poorer citizens of the city often built their homes between the inner and outer walls.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 2:2 it was told to the king of Jericho. Canaan was made up of various city-states. Each had a central city surrounded by villages and farmland and its own "king." Many of the cities were walled.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 2:4 I did not know. The author does not pass judgment on Rahab's deceptive response (compare note on 1 Sam. 19:14).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 2:6 Flax is the plant from which linen is made. The flat rooftops of houses were convenient places for drying the stalks.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 2:7 The Jordan River was generally impassable except by swimming or wading at shallow areas (or fords). One of the few places where the Jordan could be crossed was near Jericho (on Jericho, see note on 6:1–2). The king's men probably hoped to catch the fleeing spies there.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 2:9 I know that the LORD has given you the land. Rahab shows remarkable awareness of Israel's history (see 1:2). The fact that she later "lived in Israel" (6:25) suggests that Rahab experienced a genuine spiritual conversion.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 2:10 In Genesis 15 the Lord promised Abraham that his descendants would inherit the land of Canaan after the wickedness of the Amorites was complete. The term "Amorite" describes the inhabitants of Canaan generally, and the inhabitants of the hill country specifically. Sihon and Og. See Numbers 21; Deuteronomy 3.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 2:11 as soon as we heard . . . our hearts melted. Compare Ex. 15:14–15. On Rahab's apparent faith, see note on Josh. 2:9.

RAHAB

Rahab was a Gentile prostitute who lived in Jericho. When Joshua sent two spies to gather information about the city, she hid the men from the king. She also deceived the men who came looking for the spies. She convinced them to leave the city in pursuit of the spies, who were actually hidden on her roof. She demonstrated a remarkable awareness of Israel's history and of the Lord's intention to give Israel the land of Canaan. In response to her kindness, Joshua spared Rahab and her household when Israel destroyed Jericho. Rahab was Boaz's mother and is one of four women listed in the genealogy of Jesus. She is commended in the NT for her faith and for her good works. (Joshua 2:10–11)

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 2:12–14 we will deal kindly and faithfully with you. The spies' response reflects the gracious character of Israel's God. The distinction between Israel and Canaan was not based on race but on loyalty to the Lord. The general instruction to destroy the Canaanites (see Deut. 7:1–2; and note on Josh. 6:17–18) did not apply to people who came to genuine faith in Israel's God.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 2:24 The spies' report echoes what Rahab herself said (v. 9). The good report of the two spies contrasts starkly with the bad report of the 10 spies 40 years earlier (Num. 13:25–33).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 3:1–4:24 Chapters 3 and 4 form a unit, with the common theme of crossing the Jordan.

FACT

The Jordan River. In Hebrew, Jordan means "descending" or "downward." From Galilee to the Dead Sea the river drops 600 feet (185 m) in 65 miles (105 km). The spring rains and snowmelt from Mount Hermon in the north flood the river, causing it to overflow its banks (3:15).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 3:1 Shittim. See note on 2:1.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 3:3 On the construction of the ark of the covenant and its significance, see Ex. 25:10–22. It was normally kept in the Most Holy Place of the tabernacle (and later in the temple).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 3:4 Two thousand cubits is just over half a mile (0.8 km). From that distance, more people would have been able to see the ark and follow its path. The holiness of the ark may also have prompted this safe distance.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 3:5 Consecrate yourselves. Sanctifying, or “separating,” oneself included washing one’s clothes and temporarily refraining from sexual relations (see Ex. 19:10–15).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 3:7 Today I will begin to exalt you. The Lord acted through Joshua so that the people “stood in awe of him just as they had stood in awe of Moses” (4:14).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 3:10–11 These seven people groups are described in Deut. 7:1 as “seven nations more numerous and mightier than yourselves.” the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth. The literal Hebrew (see ESV footnote) strongly connects the Lord to his ark (see Josh. 3:13) and highlights his presence with his people.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 3:15 The Jordan overflows all its banks—caused by spring rains and snowmelt from the Mount Hermon region and the Jordan’s headwaters—throughout the time of harvest, that is, the grain harvest of March–April. Normally the Jordan has a 3- to 10-foot (0.9- to 3.0-m) depth and 90- to 100-foot (27- to 31-m) width. It would have been much more difficult to cross with the added water.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 3:16 Apparently the water was stopped as far upriver as Adam, identified with modern Damiya, east of the Jordan and just south of where the Jordan and the Jabbok River join (about 18 miles [29 km] north of the fords of the Jordan). It is a place where mudslides have occasionally completely blocked the Jordan’s southward flow. the waters coming down from above stood and rose up in a heap. The waters could have been held back by mudslides, or through no visible natural means. Either way the event was miraculous, as it occurred just as the priests stepped into the water (v. 15).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 3:17 all Israel . . . the nation. In Egypt and in the wilderness, Israel was referred to as a “people.” Now that they have entered the Promised Land, they begin to be called a “nation.”

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 4:2 twelve men. Each of the 12 tribes is represented, showing the importance of the Jordan crossing for all Israel (see 3:12).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 4:9 Joshua set up twelve stones in the midst of the Jordan. It is unclear whether this is a separate group of stones from those set up in Gilgal (vv. 8, 20). The Hebrew text could suggest a second memorial, but the larger context suggests only one set of stones. to this day. The "day" in question is the day either of the author of Joshua or of the historical sources he used (compare 2 Chron. 5:9).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 4:13 plains of Jericho. The troops passed over a broad plain between Jericho and the Jordan River, some 5 miles (8 km) east of Jericho.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 4:14 exalted. See 3:7.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 4:20 The twelve stones that Joshua set up at Gilgal represent the first of seven stone memorials described in Joshua (see 7:26; 8:28–29; 8:32; 10:27; 22:34; 24:26–27).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 4:21–23 These stones will help teach future generations to respect and obey the all-powerful God.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 5:1–15 A new generation is circumcised to remind them of their privileged covenant relationship with God. The Passover celebration reminds them that God released them from slavery.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 5:1 There was no longer any spirit in them explains why Israel is able to exist unopposed in enemy territory long enough for the events of ch. 5 to take place.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 5:2 Make flint knives . . . circumcise . . . a second time. Circumcision was a reminder of God's lasting covenant with Israel (Gen. 17:10–14). All males were circumcised when they were eight days old. Flint, or obsidian, was easily available and was particularly well suited for use in circumcisions.

FACT

Circumcision was widely practiced in the ancient Near East, though not by every people group. In Egypt, it was considered a rite of passage. For the people of Israel, however, it was a sign of the nation's covenant with God. Flint or obsidian knives were generally used to perform circumcision.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 5:6 Scripture frequently describes Canaan as a land flowing with milk and honey (see Ex. 13:5; Lev. 20:24; Num. 13:27; etc.).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 5:9 The reproach of Egypt may have been the insults the Egyptians would have made if the Lord had not brought Israel into the Promised Land (Ex. 32:12; Num. 14:13–16; Deut. 9:28). It could also represent the disobedient generation that has now died (see Josh. 5:4–6).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 5:10 For the background of the Passover, see Exodus 12; on the timing of the Passover, see Ex. 12:18; Lev. 23:5.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 5:12 manna ceased. See Ex. 16:35. They no longer need the food that God gave them in the desert. They now enjoy the fruit of the land of Canaan.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 5:13–14 a man was standing before him. Joshua seems to wonder if this man is an Israelite or an enemy solider. The commander of the army of the LORD answers "No," that is, "Neither." Joshua's reaction to the man shows that Joshua believes this being possesses divine authority. The expression with his drawn sword in his hand appears in Num. 22:23, 31 and 1 Chron. 21:16, where it refers to the angel of the Lord. The "army of the LORD" is the force God commands when judging (Isa. 13:4) or protecting (1 Kings 22:19). Worshiped could be translated "bowed down." Joshua possibly believed he was in God's presence. In Ex. 23:20–33 God promises his angel to guide Israel to victory.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 6:1–12:24 Taking the Land. Although the Promised Land is God's gift to the Israelites (6:2), now that they are in the land they must conquer it.

FACT

Jericho is one of the oldest cities in the world. At about 750 feet (229 m) below sea level, it is also one of the lowest cities in the world. Jericho receives only a few inches of rainfall each year, and yet it was an oasis for travelers because of its abundant supply of spring water. Jericho is often referred to as the "city of palms" (see Deut. 34:3).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 6:1–27 As the first city to be taken in Canaan, Jericho was to be completely dedicated to the Lord, as a kind of symbolic "firstfruits" (compare Lev. 23:10). The people of Israel were to take no goods and were to leave no survivors. See note on Josh. 6:17–18.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 6:1–2 Jericho is one of the oldest known fortified cities in the ancient Near East. It is about 750 feet (229 m) below sea level. Well supplied with spring water, Jericho was an oasis and was sometimes referred to as the "city of palms" (Judg. 1:16). The name "Jericho" sounds like the Hebrew word for "moon," so Canaanite Jericho may have been a center of moon worship. If so, the Lord's destruction of Jericho would have suggested victory over the false gods of Canaan.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 6:4 the ark. The visible symbol of the Lord's presence emphasizes that the conquest of the land of Canaan was the Lord's doing. See also v. 8.

The City of Jericho

Jericho (Tell es-Sultan) is perhaps the oldest city on earth, and it is the lowest city on the surface of the planet (c. 750 feet /229 m below sea level). Jericho has undergone massive excavation work; major digs were led by Ernst Sellin and Carl Watzinger (1907–1909, 1911), John Garstang (1930–1936), and Kathleen Kenyon (1952–1958). Many important finds have been made at the site, one of the most notable being a city wall, some 4.5 feet (1.5 m) wide, attached to a monumental round stone tower. These are some of the earliest fortifications known to mankind. The diagram below portrays some of the remains from the excavations at Jericho from various periods of her history. Thus, the outer city wall comes from the Late Middle Bronze Age (2000–1550 B.C.) whereas the inner city wall dates to the Early Bronze Age (3200–2200 B.C.). Jericho was the first city west of the Jordan captured by the Israelites under the command of Joshua (Joshua 6). Whether or not there exist archaeological remains from that destruction is a hotly debated issue among archaeologists. Following the Israelite destruction, Jericho was abandoned for centuries until a new settlement was established by Hiel the Bethelite in the ninth century B.C. (1 Kings 16:34).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 6:5 and the wall of the city will fall down flat. Archaeologists have explored the site of Jericho for many years. Many aspects of their findings seemed to fit the biblical description of the city's destruction, but there are differences of opinion about the age of the ruins. Even so, the various proposed dates for Jericho's fall are all within the range of possible dates for Israel's exodus from Egypt and conquest of Canaan (see note on 1 Kings 6:1).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 6:17–18 devoted to the LORD for destruction. See notes on Lev. 27:28–29; Deut. 2:34–35; 20:16–18. This order to destroy every living thing was not a license to kill indiscriminately in other warfare situations, because cities outside the Land of Promise were to be treated more leniently (Deut. 20:10–15). Rather, this was a specific order intended to punish the Canaanites, whose wickedness had become complete (Gen. 15:16; Lev. 18:1–3). The decree of destruction was also to protect the Israelites from worshiping other gods because of Canaanite influence (Deut. 7:1–6). Jericho's destruction was not a general guideline for the conduct of war. Instead, it is a picture of what will happen in the final judgment to all who continue to rebel against God. Nor can the destruction of Jericho or of the Canaanites in general be seen as a case of ethnic cleansing, for the Lord warns that if Israel does not totally destroy Jericho, the camp of Israel itself will become a thing for destruction. Furthermore, Canaanites such as Rahab (Joshua 2) and the Gibeonites (ch. 9) who devote themselves to the Lord are spared, while Israelites who defy the Lord, such as Achan (ch. 7), are killed.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 6:20 So the people shouted. Hebrews 11:30 commends the people's faith: they believed the promise of Josh. 6:2–5 and showed their faith by obeying the instructions.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 6:21 devoted . . . to destruction. See note on vv. 17–18.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 6:23 Rahab . . . and all who belonged to her are spared, in keeping with the promise in 2:14, 17–20. Their placement outside the camp of Israel is apparently temporary (see 6:25).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 6:26 Jericho's ruins are to serve as a warning to Israel. Any attempt to rebuild the city, therefore, will defy the Lord's rule. For the fulfillment of Joshua's curse, see 1 Kings 16:34.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 7:1–26 Chapter 7 tells how Joshua launches an unsuccessful attack on the city of Ai. There is no mention either of a divine order to do so or of anyone inquiring of the Lord about the proposed action.

FACT

How did the people of Israel consecrate themselves? The people of Israel were often instructed to consecrate themselves in preparation to meet with God. Sanctifying, or “separating” oneself included washing one’s clothes and temporarily abstaining from sexual relations (3:5; Ex. 19:14–15).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 7:1 But the people of Israel broke faith. See note on 1 Chron. 2:3–8. While Achan is the actual sinner, Israel as a covenant community is held responsible for sin in its midst. The anger of the LORD leads to Israel’s first defeat in Canaan. Despite his fine Israelite pedigree (of the tribe of Judah), Achan’s sin harms his family and his people.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 7:2–5 For a second time (see 2:1) Joshua sent men to spy out the land. But this spying mission proves disastrous, and in the battle thirty-six of their men die. As a result, the hearts of the people melted and became as water. This recalls earlier descriptions of Canaanite morale when they heard news of the approaching Israelites (2:11; 5:1).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 7:6–9 After tearing his clothes (a sign of distress and mourning; see Gen. 37:29, 34), Joshua challenges God: If God’s promises fail, Joshua insists, it will damage your great name. On the issue of Israel’s fate and the Lord’s reputation, see Num. 14:13–16; Deut. 9:26–29.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 7:10–12 Get up! . . . Israel has sinned. The Lord focuses on the real reason for Israel’s defeat. They have transgressed my covenant. They have taken some of the devoted things (see note on 6:17–18), stolen, lied, and put them among their own belongings. All of these things are explicitly forbidden in the Law of Moses (Deut. 7:25–26). When God assured Joshua of victory in Canaan (Josh. 1:7–8), he made it clear that the people needed to follow his law for this to happen.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 7:13 Consecrate yourselves. See note on 3:5.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 7:14 takes by lot. It is likely that God indicated his choice by lot (or by Urim and Thummim; see note on 1 Sam. 14:41–42).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 7:15 The sinful one makes himself and all that he has liable to the same treatment that the devoted things would receive. The “devoted things” are “all that is within” Jericho, which was to be “devoted” to the Lord for “destruction” (see 6:17–18 and note).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 7:19 Joshua’s demand that Achan give glory to the LORD God and give praise to him is probably not commanding worship but preparing Achan to tell me now what you have done. The word “praise” can imply confession as well as adoration.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 7:21 The five pounds of silver and a pound and a quarter of gold that Achan saw among the spoil is worth about what an average worker would have earned in a lifetime.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 7:24–26 The word them (vv. 24, 25) might well include Achan’s children, but this is uncertain. Verse 15 only says “all that he has” and this could be what “them” refers to. all Israel stoned him. This execution involved the entire community because everyone had been defiled and needed to be purified. It also freed any individual from acting as sole executioner. The heap of stones over Achan will remind Israel of its potential for unfaithfulness and of the dire consequences of such apostasy.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 8:1–35 Having been defeated in Ai (ch. 7), Israel now follows God’s instructions and is successful.

FACT

Ambush. Battles were sometimes won by deceptive military strategy rather than by brute strength. If an army had smaller numbers or was unfamiliar with the territory, an ambush (8:2) was a great way to “even the odds.”

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 8:1 do not be dismayed. Despite their unfaithfulness (7:1), Israel is now restored and given a second chance.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 8:2 its spoil and its livestock you shall take as plunder. God has the right to determine the nature and extent of destruction in any given instance. For example, in Deuteronomy 20 the treatment of cities outside the land of Canaan is less severe than that of cities within the land.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 8:3–4 Thirty thousand men may seem to be a large number to lie in ambush. Possibly the Hebrew word “thousand” should be understood in the alternative sense of "military unit." And, the 30 "thousands" or "units" may not all have been involved in the ambush (see v. 12).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 8:8 In contrast to the first attack on Ai, this time everything is done according to the word of the LORD (also v. 27).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 8:12 Perhaps the 5,000 men (or 5 units) set in ambush represent a section of the force mentioned in vv. 3–4, and the other 25,000 men (or 25 units) make up the main attack force. If so, this may help to explain why the king of Ai falls for the deception. Israel appears to be attempting the same direct approach of ch. 7, but with more than eight times as many troops.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 8:18–20 Stretch out the javelin . . . toward Ai. Perhaps this served as a signal to the men in the ambush to attack the city. This action symbolizes the Lord's giving the city into Joshua's hand.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 8:28–29 heap of ruins. . . . heap of stones. Both "heaps" remain to this day—that is, to the time the text was written.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 8:30–35 For Moses' instructions regarding the event recorded here, see Deut. 27:1–8. Joshua carefully complies with these directions.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 8:30–33 Mount Ebal, along with its counterpart Mount Gerizim (see Deut. 11:29), is some 20 miles (32 km) north of Ai, near Shechem. Israel's ancestors had ties to Shechem beginning with Abraham (Gen. 12:6–7; also Jacob, in Gen. 33:18–20; 34:1–31). These associations may help explain how Israel is able to hold a covenant renewal there, apparently without having to capture it first.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 8:32 Joshua wrote on the stones a copy of the law of Moses, creating a fourth stone monument in the land (see note on 4:20). This was a reminder to Israel to obey God's law (see 1:7–8).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 8:34 For the blessing and the curse, see Deuteronomy 28.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 9:1–27 Having failed to consult the Lord, Israel is tricked into making a peace covenant with the Gibeonites. The Gibeonites claimed to be from a "distant country" (v. 6) but were actually Canaanites, with whom the Israelites were forbidden to make treaties (Deut. 7:1–2). The Gibeonites express belief in the power and supremacy of the Lord, which eases the tension created by their being allowed to remain in the land.

FACT

Wineskins used for storing and pouring wine (9:13) were made from the skin of a goat or other animal. Jesus uses wineskins as a metaphor to contrast the outdated religious rules of the Pharisees and the new life that he brings (Matt. 9:17).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 9:3 Archaeologists have confirmed that Gibeon was 6 miles (9.7 km) northwest of Jerusalem.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 9:4 Cunning implies cleverness and calculation.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 9:6 The Gibeonites claimed that they came from a distant country. This suggests they were aware that the Israelites were to be more lenient toward cities outside the Land of Promise, while destroying cities within the land (Deut. 20:10–18).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 9:7 The Hivites are included in the lists of Deut. 20:17 (those to be devoted "to complete destruction") and Josh. 9:1–2 (those determined to "fight against Joshua and Israel"). The Gibeonites may have been a subgroup of a larger Hivite population in Canaan.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 9:14 The notice that Israel did not ask counsel from the LORD helps explain how Israel was deceived. Israel's leaders trusted their impressions instead of seeking direction from the Lord.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 9:18 the leaders . . . had sworn. Oaths that establish a covenant relationship must be kept (compare Gen. 26:26–31; 2 Sam. 21:7; Ezek. 16:59–60).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 9:23 The Gibeonite deceivers are declared to be cursed, to be cutters of wood and drawers of water. Yet Joshua assigns them to the house of my God. Supplying wood and water for the sacrificial system in Israel would indeed be hard work, but to be closely associated with the house of God would have been considered a blessing (Ps. 84:10).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 9:27 in the place that he should choose. See Deut. 12:5. Shiloh appears to have served as Israel's central sanctuary from the time of Joshua (see Josh. 18:1) until the fall of Shiloh just prior to the monarchy (1 Sam. 4:3; compare Ps. 78:60; Jer. 7:12).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:1–43 Because the events of ch. 10 are brought on by Canaanite aggression, Israel's defeat of the south can be viewed as defensive.

FACT

Royal humiliation. In the ancient Near East, victors would often put their feet on the necks of defeated foes (10:24). This was usually done to people in positions of leadership. The act was meant to show dominance over the defeated foe.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:1 The name Adoni-zedek sounds like "lord of righteousness."

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:2–4 Gibeon was a great city. A royal city would have had its own "king" and would likely have controlled a larger district.

The Conquest of Canaan: The Southern Campaign

c. 1400 B.C.

Upon hearing that the Gibeonites signed a peace treaty with the Israelites, five Amorite cities attacked Gibeon. Joshua's forces came up from Gilgal to defend the Gibeonites, and they chased the Amorites as far as Azekah and Makkedah. Joshua's forces continued their attack until they had captured Libnah, Lachish, Makkedah, Eglon, Debir, Hebron, and most likely Jarmuth.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:5 Amorites. See 2:10 and note.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:8 I have given them into your hands. The Lord assures Joshua that he will be with him in defending the Gibeonites against the Jerusalem coalition. The past tense “have given” is significant. God has decided on the outcome, but Israel must still do some hard fighting (see 1:3 and note; compare 2:9, 24; 6:2, 16; 8:1; 10:19).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:9 marched up all night from Gilgal. While the precise location of Gilgal is not known, according to 4:19 it was “on the east border of Jericho.” From the vicinity of Jericho in the Jordan Valley to Gibeon in the hill country would have been an uphill journey of 15 miles (24 km).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:10 The battle spread west and then southwestward, covering more than 30 miles (48 km). This gave Israel a foothold in central Canaan, controlling the major east-west corridor from the Jordan through the central hills to the coast. It also opened the way for Joshua’s southern campaign (vv. 29–43).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:11 Large stones from heaven refers to the hailstones with which the Lord destroyed the fleeing Amorite troops.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:12–14 Sun, stand still suggests a cosmic miracle, in which the earth ceased rotating for a time. While scholars have proposed many other explanations for this amazing event, each one has difficulties. Each also fails to do justice to the claim that there has been no day like it before or since. The author’s emphasis is on the extraordinary answer that God gave to Joshua’s prayer: the LORD heeded the voice of a man. The Book of Jashar is also mentioned in 2 Sam. 1:18. It may have contained poetic accounts or songs of the deeds of heroes, but there are no surviving copies.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:15 The notice that Joshua returned . . . to the camp at Gilgal anticipates the conclusion of the entire southern campaign (see v. 43).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:24 In the ancient Near East, victors would often put their feet on the necks of defeated enemies, symbolizing supremacy.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:26 hanged them on five trees. A sign of curse (Deut. 21:22–23; compare the treatment of the king of Ai in Josh. 8:28–29).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:27 The large stones set against the mouth of the cave containing the bodies of the slain Amorite kings serve as a fifth monument in the land (see note on 4:20). This monument recalls God's gracious action in defending Israel's covenant with a Canaanite city (even though they acted recklessly in making it). to this very day. See note on 4:9.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:28–39 Joshua next conquers the important towns in the southern part of the land, establishing Israel's hold on it.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:40–42 This summary of the conquest credits Joshua with acting obediently by taking no prisoners. It is very clear that the ultimate cause of Israel's success is that the LORD God of Israel fought for Israel.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 10:43 Joshua's return to the camp at Gilgal (anticipated already in v. 15) marks the successful conclusion of the central and southern campaigns.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 11:1–12:24 The northern campaign takes shape as an effort to defend the Israelites against the coalition of northern kings gathered around Jabin of Hazor.

The Conquest of Canaan: The Northern Campaign

c. 1400 B.C.

After Joshua’s forces defeated several Amorite kings in the south, the king of Hazor assembled the northern Canaanite kings to battle the Israelites. Joshua and his men defeated the Canaanites at the waters of Merom and pursued them to Great Sidon and the Valley of Mizpeh. Then Joshua turned back and captured the city of Hazor.

FACT

How long did it take to conquer Canaan? Though the brevity of Joshua's account may make it seem like a swift military campaign, the conquest of Canaan probably took about seven years.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 11:1 Jabin, king of Hazor is not the Jabin mentioned in Judg. 4:2. Hazor was probably the largest city in Syria-Palestine in its day. It was located about 10 miles (16 km) north of the Sea of Galilee and covered an area of over 200 acres.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 11:4 The great horde gathered by the northern city-kings had chariots of light construction, with four-spoked wheels, drawn by two horses (contrast the "chariots of iron" of 17:16–18).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 11:5 Merom may be another name for Madon (v. 1). It was probably 5 miles (8 km) west of the Sea of Galilee.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 11:6 In keeping with the prohibition against placing confidence in military strength (see Deut. 17:16), Joshua is told to hamstring their horses and burn their chariots. Hamstringing would have involved cutting the horses' equivalent of the Achilles tendon, which would make the animal unfit for military use (see also 2 Sam. 8:4).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 11:10–15 Joshua burned Hazor with fire (v. 11). He struck the other coalition cities as well, devoting them to destruction (v. 12; see note on 6:17–18). None of these other cities was burned except Hazor alone (11:13). Only three sites (Jericho in 6:24, Ai in 8:28, and Hazor) are explicitly said to have been burned.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 11:16–20 Joshua's conquest of Canaan took a long time, perhaps seven years. it was the LORD's doing to harden their hearts. On human responsibility vs. divine sovereignty, compare the hardening of Pharaoh's heart (Ex. 4:21–14:31 and notes).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 11:21–22 Joshua cut off the Anakim. This was the race of giants amid whom the terrified Israelite spies had felt like "grasshoppers" (Num. 13:33). Joshua has now largely destroyed this threat (see Josh. 14:6–15).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 11:23 This verse begins the transition from the conquest phase (Joshua took the whole land) to the occupation phase (Joshua gave it for an inheritance to Israel; see chs. 13–19). rest from war. There will be more fighting when the Israelites try to occupy the conquered territories, but the land is in their control (see 18:1).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 12:1–24 Before the land is divided and assigned to the tribes, the conquest is summarized. Verses 1–6 describe the land beyond the Jordan (that is, east of the Jordan) that Israel had conquered under Moses (Num. 21:21–35). Joshua 12:7–24 lists the kings whom Joshua and the people of Israel defeated on the west side of the Jordan.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 12:1 took possession of their land. It now falls to Israel to prove faithful in occupying the territories.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 12:9 The list of defeated kings generally follows the route of the preceding narrative: the central, southern, and northern campaigns. Some kings who were not mentioned during the narrative of the conquest are included in this list. This reminds readers that this is not a complete report of Israel’s history.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 12:24 This list of thirty-one kings suggests Israel’s overall success in gaining the upper hand in Canaan and in conquering the leaders who fought against them. It does not necessarily mean that all the cities formerly ruled by these kings were destroyed.

The Allotment of the Land

c. 1400 B.C.

During the conquest of Canaan, Joshua allotted the land to the tribes of Israel. These boundaries, however, do not necessarily reflect the land each tribe actually inhabited by the end of the conquest. Several tribes, such as Dan, were unable to drive out the Canaanites that lived in much of their allotted territory (19:47), while other tribes controlled portions of land that were not originally allotted to them (e.g., 17:11).

13:1–21:45 Dividing the Land. In this third major section the Lord instructs Joshua in dividing and assigning the land. It is packed with geographical details.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 13:1–7 there remains yet very much land to possess. These verses speak of enemies whose land Israel has yet to possess. The Lord pledges to continue to drive them out. He instructs Joshua to go ahead and allot the land.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 13:11 Geshurites and Maacathites. Geshur and Maacah were two small kingdoms north and east of the Sea of Galilee. This Geshur is not to be confused with the Geshur mentioned in v. 2, which lay far to the south on the Philistine coast.

FACT

Mount Hermon (13:5) represented the northern boundary of the Promised Land. At over 9,000 feet (2,743 m), its snowy peak and thick forests were home to leopards and lions.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 13:13 the people of Israel did not drive out . . . dwell in the midst of Israel to this day. See note on 15:63.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 13:14 The notice that the tribe of Levi receives no inheritance (repeated in v. 33, explained in 14:3–4, and recalled in 18:7) anticipates the designation of Levitical cities in ch. 21; see Deut. 10:9 and note on Num. 18:21–24.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 13:22 Balaam . . . the son of Beor. See Numbers 22–24; 31:8.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 14:1–19:51 These chapters describe the tribal assignments west of the Jordan.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 14:1 Eleazar the priest was Aaron’s son and Israel’s second high priest (Num. 20:25; Deut. 10:6). Moses had directed that Eleazar, along with Joshua, would be in charge of dividing the land (Num. 34:17). heads. See Num. 34:18–29.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 14:2 That the inheritance was by lot guaranteed divine oversight and protected Israel's leaders from any suspicion of favoritism. See Num. 26:52–56; 33:50–54; 34:1–15.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 14:3 Levites. See note on 13:14.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 14:6–15 Caleb receives his inheritance of Hebron, which Moses swore to give him many years before (v. 9; Deut. 1:36). Caleb was 40 years old when Moses sent him as a spy (Josh. 14:7). From that time to the entry into the land of Canaan was another 38 years (Deut. 2:14), making Caleb 78 years old at the beginning of the conquest. Caleb receives his territory at age 85, seven years after the start of the conquest (Josh. 14:10). Caleb maintains that he will be able to drive out from Hebron the formidable Anakim, provided that the LORD will be with him (v. 12). Joshua was already credited with cutting off the Anakim from Hebron (11:21). Either the Anakim have strengthened their position in Hebron (11:22 mentions some survivors) or, more likely, as commander-in-chief Joshua supported and received general credit for Caleb's eventual defeat of the Anakim (14:12–14; 15:14).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 14:8–9 Those who wholly followed the LORD will be able to enjoy their inheritance (see also v. 14).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 15:1–63 As the distribution of western lands begins, the important tribe of Judah receives its land first. The tribal boundaries are described (vv. 1–12), followed by listings of cities according to region (vv. 20–62).

FACT

Anakim were apparently a race of very tall people, descended from Anak. After the Israelites conquered Canaan, many of the Anakim took up residence with the Philistines. Because of this, many assume that Goliath was descended from the Anakim.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 15:8 Jerusalem was not fully conquered until the time of David (2 Sam. 5:6–10). For other attempts to conquer Jerusalem, see Judg. 1:8, 21.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 15:13–19 he gave to Caleb . . . Caleb drove out. See note on 14:6–15. Othniel (15:17) reappears as a judge-deliverer in Judg. 3:7–11.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 15:63 How is it that the people of Judah could not drive out their enemies? In 17:12 the Manassites are unable to occupy certain towns because “the Canaanites persisted in dwelling in that land.” In 17:16 the Ephraimites cite Canaanite possession of “chariots of iron” as preventing them from taking the plains. These statements seem to contrast with the dominant theological conviction of the book of Joshua that “the hand of the LORD is mighty” (4:24). Perhaps statements of what Israel “could not” do are to be read as early evidence of spiritual decline, which will become increasingly evident in the book of Judges. The note that the Canaanites dwell with the people of Judah at Jerusalem to this day recalls Moses’ repeated warnings against allowing the Canaanites to survive and live among the Israelites (see note on 6:17–18).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 16:1 Chapters 16–17 describe the allotment of the people of Joseph, that is, of Ephraim (16:5–10) and of Manasseh (17:1–13).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 16:10 did not drive out. See note on 15:63.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 17:3–6 The daughters of Zelophehad receive their inheritance, as the LORD commanded Moses (see Num. 27:1–11; 36:1–13).

FACT

Megiddo was the site of many important OT battles. It was a walled city that guarded the main road that linked Egypt and Syria. Its setting made Megiddo a strategic military stronghold. In John’s visions in Revelation, Megiddo represents the global combat zone where the final battle between Christ and Satan will be fought. The word Armageddon means “Mount Megiddo” (Zech. 12:11; Rev. 16:16).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 17:12 could not take possession. See note on 15:63.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 17:16–18 chariots of iron. Intimidating as such military machinery must have been (see also Judg. 1:19), Joshua insisted, you shall drive out the Canaanites (see note on Josh. 15:63).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 18:1–10 That the assembly gathers before the tent of meeting, or tabernacle (see Ex. 27:21; 40:2), recalls Israel’s history under Moses. Shiloh serves as the central sanctuary that Israel was to establish in the land (Deut. 12:10–11). Shiloh was likely destroyed following the battle of Ebenezer (1 Samuel 4; Jer. 26:6); it was replaced as central sanctuary by Jerusalem in King David’s time. Mention of the God of your fathers evokes God’s promise of land to the patriarchs (see note on Josh. 1:2). The Lord has fulfilled all his “good promises” (21:45).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 18:7 The Levites have no portion among you. See note on 13:14. This verse prepares for assigning Levitical cities throughout the territories in ch. 21.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 18:9 wrote in a book. Or on a scroll, or some other writing material (the term does not specify).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 18:11 Though one of the smaller tribes, Benjamin would be significant as the tribe of Israel’s first king, Saul (1 Sam. 9:21).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 19:1–9 The allotment for Simeon fell in the midst . . . of Judah (v. 1; see note on Gen. 49:5–7). Because of this, no boundary description is given for Simeon, only a list of cities.

FACT

Bethlehem? There are actually two places called Bethlehem in the Bible. The town where Ruth lived and where Jesus was born was about 5 miles (8 km) south of Jerusalem. The one mentioned in 19:15 was about 7 miles (11 km) northwest of Nazareth, the town where Jesus spent his childhood years.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 19:15 Bethlehem is a northerly village, not the more famous Bethlehem in Judah.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 19:47 On how Dan’s territory was lost to them, see Judg. 1:34. The story of how Dan went up and fought against Leshem is told in Judges 18.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 19:49–50 By command of the LORD, Joshua is given Timnath-serah (called Timnath-heres in the notice of Joshua’s death in Judg. 2:6–10). The site is in southwest Ephraim. Joshua receives his inheritance only after all others have received theirs. This speaks well of him as a leader.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 19:51 Eleazar the priest. See note on 14:1.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 20:1–21:45 The designation of six cities of refuge (ch. 20) and 48 Levitical cities (21:1–42) demonstrates the Lord's concern that the land be a place where justice prevails and true worship is encouraged.

FACT

A manslayer was a person who unintentionally took another person's life. Such a person could flee to a "city of refuge" (20:1–6) for safety until his case was heard. The term "manslayer" corresponds to the modern use of the term "manslaughter" for unintentional killing.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 20:1–2 The fullest description of how the cities of refuge are to function appears in Num. 35:6–34, where the Lord expands his initial instructions to Moses in Ex. 21:12–14. There are to be six sites chosen from the Levitical cities, with three on each side of the Jordan (Num. 35:13–14). They are to provide security and access to fair trials for anyone accused of manslaughter (Num. 35:15). In Deut. 4:41–43 Moses designates the three cities of refuge in the newly conquered territory east of the Jordan, one in each tribal area. In Deut. 19:1–10, he instructs Israel about the cities that will be designated west of the Jordan once the land is conquered. The three cities west of the Jordan are finally named in Josh. 20:7. Should God enlarge Israel's territory, an additional three cities can be designated (Deut. 19:8–9). That the additional three are not mentioned in Joshua may mean that Israel was not entirely successful in taking over all the land.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 20:3 A manslayer was a person who unintentionally or without premeditation took another's life. The avenger of blood was responsible for seeing that the murderer was punished (see Num. 35:16–19).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 20:6 until the death of him who is high priest at the time. This verse condenses the fuller instructions in Numbers 35.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 21:1–41 In Num. 35:1–8, the LORD commanded through Moses that 48 cities (including the six cities of refuge) be assigned to the Levites. Taking cities and their pasturelands from each of the tribes would scatter the Levites throughout the whole of Israel (see Gen. 49:7) so that they could fulfill their duties of teaching the Israelites. They were grouped by their relation to one of Levi's three sons (see Gen. 46:11). The Kohathites (Josh. 21:4), from whom Aaron and his line descended (Ex. 6:16–20), received cities in the center and the south. The Gershonites (Josh. 21:6) and Merarites (v. 7) received cities in the north and east.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 21:43–45 These verses should be understood as a summary statement emphasizing the Lord's decisive action on behalf of Israel. They are not saying that all of Israel's enemies had been removed from the land. Although Israel had taken possession of the land and settled there, much work remained to be done (see 23:5). Still, the Lord has been utterly true to his good promises.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 22:1–24:33 Serving the Lord in the Land. In this final section, with the Lord having fulfilled all his "good promises" (21:45), it is now Israel's turn to respond. In his old age, Joshua charges the people to unite and serve the Lord alone.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 22:1–34 The tribes of Reuben, Gad, and the eastern half of Manasseh are released to return to their homes east of the Jordan River. They have fulfilled their duties to their fellow Israelites west of the Jordan (see Numbers 32).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 22:8 Divide the spoil . . . with your brothers. The spoils of victory are regarded as gifts from the Lord. They are to be shared with allies, or covenant partners, regardless of their actual role in the conflict (see Num. 31:25–31; 1 Sam. 30:24).

FACT

Dividing the spoils after a war or battle was a very common practice. Livestock, precious metals, clothing, and even people could be taken as spoils. These things were considered gifts from the victor's gods. In the case of the Israelites, they were considered gifts from the Lord. All gifts were to be shared with allies no matter how much or how little they helped in winning the victory.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 22:10–11 As they returned to their homes east of the Jordan, the eastern tribes built an altar of imposing size, apparently on the western shore of the Jordan (on the side that belongs to the people of Israel) but large enough to be seen from either side.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 22:13–20 Fearing that the altar means the eastern tribes have strayed from following God, the tribes west of the Jordan send a group to confront them. Phinehas the son of Eleazar. See Num. 25:1–9. Given its communal responsibility, all Israel can suffer for the sins of a few or even just one. The group rightly fears that the Lord may become angry with the whole congregation of Israel (Josh. 22:18).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 22:21–31 The group from the western tribes is relieved that the altar built by the eastern tribes is only a copy of the altar of the LORD (v. 28). It is not intended to rival the altar at Shiloh. It is only to serve as a witness (v. 28), a visible monument to counter any suggestion (now or in the future) that the eastern tribes have no portion in the LORD (v. 25).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 22:34 called the altar Witness. This sixth monument in the land (see note on 4:20) bears witness to the unity of the Israelite tribes on both sides of the Jordan.

Seven Stone Memorials in the Land

4:20	Gilgal	a reminder of God's faithfulness in bringing Israel safely across the Jordan into the Promised Land
7:26	over Achan	a reminder of Israel's potential for unfaithfulness and of the dire consequences that result
8:28–29	over the king of Ai	a monument to Israel's second chance and restoration
8:30–32	Joshua engraves a copy of the law	a reminder of Israel's duty to live in obedience to the divine "Torah," or "instruction"
10:27	over Amorite kings at Gibeon	a reminder of God's gracious action in defending Israel's covenant with a Canaanite city
22:34	peace in the land of Gilead	a witness to the unity of the Transjordanian tribes with Israel west of the Jordan
24:26–27	covenant renewal at Shechem	a reminder of Israel's duty to serve the Lord, who fulfilled every promise in bringing them into the land

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 23:1–16 The next generation of leaders is charged in terms echoing the charge to Joshua in ch. 1.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 23:1 A long time afterward. Probably more than 25 years has elapsed since Israel first crossed the Jordan into the land.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 23:4–5 I have allotted . . . those nations that remain. Joshua reminds Israel's leaders of the Lord's promise to drive . . . out the remaining peoples and their own responsibility to possess their land (see 13:1).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 23:7–8 Allegiance to the gods of other nations continued to be the primary threat Israel faced while living among (mix with) the nations (compare Ps. 106:34–39).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 23:15–16 Key Mosaic descriptions of blessings and curses are in Lev. 26:14–46 and Deut. 28:15–68.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:1–33 Joshua again called for an assembly at Shechem for a ceremony of covenant renewal (compare 8:30–35; Deut. 11:26–30; 27:1–28:68).

FACT

Shechem was an important center of pagan worship before and during the time of Joshua. It also became important for Israel as the place where they renewed their covenant with the Lord.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:1 Shechem. See 8:30–33 and Judges 9.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:2 Thus says the Lord. Joshua relays the Lord's word, just as Moses did (Deut. 5:27; 18:15–19).

The Covenant Renewal Ceremony at Shechem (Josh. 24:2–27) Compared with Other Ancient Treaties

Element	Function	Verses
preamble	introduces the suzerain (i.e., the sovereign)	v. 2
historical prologue	recounts the suzerain's past gracious dealings with the vassal (i.e., the subordinate)	vv. 2–13
stipulations	outlines the vassal's consequent responsibilities in respect to the suzerain	vv. 14–24
written record	preserves the covenant agreement	v. 26
witnesses	named	vv. 26–27; see v. 22
blessings and curses	considered	implicit throughout, esp. in v. 20

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:12 It seems best to take the hornet as a symbol for the sting of fear that the Lord inflicts on his enemies. See Ex. 23:27–28, where "hornet" parallels "my terror." Compare also Deut. 7:20. The focus in all three contexts where "hornet" appears is on the Lord's driving out Israel's enemies.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:14 Having seen the Lord's faithfulness, Israel is called to fear the Lord—implying reverence and true devotion—and serve him.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:15 choose this day whom you will serve. Joshua has urged the people to serve the Lord alone, and to put away the false gods (v. 14). Now he makes his admonition even sharper: if it is evil in their eyes to serve the LORD, then they must choose between two different categories of false gods: (1) their ancestral gods from Mesopotamia (beyond the River), or (2) the gods worshiped by the peoples they have dispossessed in Canaan.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:19–21 You are not able to serve the LORD. Joshua is not saying that it is impossible to truly serve the Lord. Rather, he is saying it cannot be done casually or without divine assistance. It is troubling that the people simply reassert their claim—No, but we will serve the LORD—rather than ask for further instruction or prayer. Joshua's warning that he will not forgive your transgressions or your sins is not to suggest that God is unforgiving but that he cannot allow unfaithfulness to go uncorrected.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:23 The mention of foreign gods . . . among you makes the reader wonder how these idols could have been tolerated up to this point. Perhaps, as in vv. 14–15, Joshua is referring to the inner attitudes of the people's hearts.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:26–27 The title Book of the Law of God occurs elsewhere only in Neh. 8:18, where it is explicitly identified with the "Book of the Law of Moses" (Neh. 8:1) and "Book of the Law" (Neh. 8:3). Those same titles are also found in Joshua (see "Book of the Law" [Josh. 1:8] and note on 1:5–9, and "Book of the Law of Moses" [8:31] and note on 8:32). It is likely that "Book of the Law of God" in Joshua refers to the particular covenant enacted by Joshua with the people in 24:25. This writing has not survived, except as mentioned here. a large stone . . . a witness. This seventh monument in the land (see note on 4:20) reminds Israel to serve the Lord, who fulfilled every promise in bringing them into the land.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:29 Now at the end of his life, and for the first time, Joshua is called the servant of the LORD like Moses (see note on 1:1).

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:31 Israel served the LORD all the days of Joshua, and . . . elders. But what will happen in the next generation? See Judg. 2:6–15.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:32 Burying the bones of Joseph . . . at Shechem brings the book of Joshua (and the patriarchal history) to a fitting close. Joseph's final wish is granted (Gen. 50:25; Ex. 13:19). All three aspects of God's promise to the patriarchs are, at least in part, fulfilled. Israel has become a great nation*;* it stands in a blessed relationship to the Lord; and it has a land of its own.

JOSHUA—NOTE ON 24:33 Eleazar the son of Aaron died. Given Eleazar's importance (see note on 14:1) both in the Pentateuch and in Joshua, his death is one more sign of an era ending.

Author and Date

Nowhere in Scripture is an author of this book named. The events in Judges took place in the period between Joshua’s death and the rise of Samuel and Saul. Most of the book was likely written by David’s time (1010–970 B.C.).

Theme

The theme of Judges is the downward spiral of Israel’s national and spiritual life into chaos and rebellion against God, showing the need for a godly king (17:6; 21:25).

Purpose and Pattern

The book of Judges was written to show the consequences of religious unfaithfulness and to point the way to a king who, if righteous, would lead the people to God. In the book of Joshua, the people of Israel seemed to want to follow the Lord and obey his commands. The book of Judges reveals, however, that the people had been rebelling even in Joshua’s time. This disobedience continued and grew more serious throughout the period of the judges. As summarized in Judges 2:16–23, time and again Israel turned its back on God and embraced the gods and ways of the Canaanites. Israel’s history unfolds in a repetitive way, with each cycle taking Israel further away from God. By the end of the book, Israel had violated its covenant with God in almost every way imaginable.

Key Themes

1. Israel’s existence in the land, which had been promised by God, was threatened by its continuing rebellion. Israel had not conquered the land completely (ch. 1), because of its unfaithfulness (2:1–3, 20–22). Therefore, the day would come when the nation would be taken captive, away from the land (18:30).
2. The oppressions, chaos, and generally negative picture in the book are due to Israel’s repeated sin. Time and again the Israelites broke the covenant, turning to the Canaanite gods and “doing evil” (2:3, 11–13, 17, 19; 3:6, 7, 12; 4:1; 6:1, 10; 8:24–27, 33; 10:6; 13:1; 17:6; 21:25), and they repeatedly suffered the consequences.
3. Despite Israel’s repeated falling away, God in his faithfulness continually delivered them. This was not due to Israel’s merits or its repentance. Instead it was because of God’s compassion and pity (2:16, 18) and his faithfulness to his promises to Abraham (Deut. 6:10–11; compare Gen. 12:7; 15:7, 18–21; 26:2–3; 35:12).
4. The judges were not able to stop the peoples’ unfaithfulness. If anything, they made it worse. Major judges such as Gideon (8:24–27), Jephthah (11:30–31, 34–40), and Samson (chs. 14–16) were guilty of significant sin. The shining exception was Deborah (chs. 4–5).
5. Israel needed a godly king to lead it in doing right in the Lord’s eyes rather than a leader who “did what was right in his own eyes” (compare 17:6; 21:25). God had promised from the beginning that there would be kings (Gen. 17:6, 16; 35:11; 49:10), and had explained what a godly king would look like (Deut. 17:14–20). The book of Judges shows the depths to which the people of Israel descended in the absence of a godly king.

The Setting of Judges

c. 1375 B.C.

The book of Joshua told the story of Israel’s conquest of the Promised Land. But the conquest was not complete. The book of Judges tells of the various leaders raised up to deliver Israel from the enemies remaining in the land.

The Global Message of Judges

Who Will Lead Israel?

The book of Judges continues the redemptive history narrated in the book of Joshua. Judges begins with, “After the death of Joshua . . . ,” just as the book of Joshua began with, “After the death of Moses . . .” (Josh. 1:1). The reader therefore might expect that God will appoint a Moses-like leader for Israel upon Joshua’s death, just as he had appointed Joshua as a second Moses (see Josh. 1:1–5, 16–18; 3:7; 4:14). While the tribe of Judah is confirmed in its role of leading the twelve tribes in battle, nevertheless no “Moses figure” emerges for Israel after Joshua (Judg. 1:1–2; 2:8–10). Still, the mention of Judah is perhaps significant, for the ancient prophecy had foretold that from Judah a messianic world-king would arise. Perhaps God was now setting the tribe in its leadership role to keep this promise in view before all Israel (Gen. 49:9–10; see Num. 2:9; Judg. 1:1–2; 20:18).

This expectation of an ultimate king from Judah, and the presentation of evidence of Israel’s acute need for such a king, quietly shapes the rest of the book of Judges.

The Need for Righteous Leadership

In Judges, the second generation passes away and a leaderless third generation, “who did not know the LORD or the work that he had done for Israel,” takes over (Judg. 2:10). This generation quickly abandons the Lord and serves other gods (2:11–15). Under the leadership of Joshua, Israel had remained faithful to the Lord (see Josh. 24:31). Likewise in Judges, after a judge delivers Israel, the people return to the Lord and remain faithful all the days of that judge’s rule. It becomes clear that Israel must have divinely chosen and righteous leadership in place in order to flourish, for such leadership restrains her inclination to idolatry and keeps her faithful to her covenant Lord.

Crisis

"In those days there was no king in Israel. Everyone did what was right in his own eyes" (Judg. 17:6; 21:25; compare 18:1; 19:1). This ominous statement frames the final section of the book—noteworthy for its lack of any divinely-appointed leader—and provides the reason for Israel's meltdown in the final chapters. There was no king in Israel. God raises the judges up in response to Israel's cries for help, after Israel has already fallen into distress. The judges therefore are thrown into a crisis already in progress. A king would offer leadership of a more permanent nature and could prevent such crisis situations.

The original purpose of the book of Judges was therefore to demonstrate that Israel needed a divinely chosen and righteous king. The king must implement the Lord's rule over Israel and restrain her inclination toward idolatry lest she forfeit her life in the Promised Land. Israel's wayward heart also jeopardizes the global mission of God, for if Israel does not faithfully trust God in the Promised Land, she will not be able to fulfill her calling to be a light to the nations of the world (Gen 12:1–3; note also Isa. 49:6).

Judges shows that death poses a serious dilemma for leadership continuity. For in the gap left by the death of a leader, Israel is left without a restraint against her inclination toward idolatry. Whether it was Joshua or one of the judges who died, Israel always strayed (Judg. 2:6–19; compare Deut. 31:27). Israel's deepest need is for a divinely chosen and righteous king from Judah who would live forever to rule over the people of God. Sensing this, a later psalmist asked the Lord for just this kind of king (Psalm 72). In Christ, this need is finally met.

Universal Themes in Judges

The true global Judge and King. Global Christians learn from the book of Judges that the Lord—and none other—is Judge and King of all the world. God's purpose in his mission of redemption is to fulfill his original intentions for creation. The Creator-King's goal is the restoration of righteous human rule over the world, under God as ultimate King. The book of Judges supports this goal by reaffirming two realities. First, the people of God need a divinely chosen and righteous human king if they are to flourish. This human king would not rule apart from God but would implement the rule of God over the people of God. Second and more fundamentally, however, God is the true Judge and King (Judg. 8:22–23; 11:27). While God rules through human leaders, he will always remain his people's ultimate King. He alone is worthy of their exclusive allegiance, devotion, and worship (Ps. 96:9). The foundation of his throne is justice and righteousness, and his kingdom is everlasting (Ps. 89:14; 145:13).

Longing for the righteous ruler of all creation. When we turn to the New Testament, the global mission takes a climactic step forward in Jesus of Nazareth. The Creator-King's mission to restore human rule over the world finds its fulfillment in Jesus Christ. Jesus is the ultimate human judge, for whom Samson and the other judges provided a prophetic pattern. Barak, for example, delivered Israel from Jabin, king of Canaan, but Christ delivers the people of God from Satan (Col. 1:13–14). Gideon secured rest in the land for forty years; Christ secures the ultimate rest of a new and everlasting creation (Heb. 4:8–16). The longing for an ultimate, divinely chosen, and righteous king from Judah is fulfilled in Christ (Rev. 5:5). He embodies perfect human ruling as the crucified, resurrected, and enthroned Lord of the world, and he brings many sons and daughters to glory in order that they might share in his rule (Heb. 1:1–13; 2:5–11).

Jesus is Lord. All Christians around the world, whatever their cultural or ethnic background, bow to God, the Lord of heaven and earth, and to his Son, Jesus Christ. And one day, every tongue and every people will confess that Jesus is Lord (Phil. 2:10–11).

The Global Message of Judges for Today

Urgent need for godly leadership. A primary lesson from Judges for Christians around the world concerns the need for consistent, godly leadership. The story of the church in the twentieth century was its unprecedented growth in the non-Western world. The church is no longer merely a faith of the West but has emerged as a global reality, with some 2.2 billion people affiliated and with adherents in virtually every nation. Although this global growth is cause for celebration, it has also created new issues. One urgent concern is that the explosive growth has outstripped the global church's ability to provide trained leadership for its churches. In Ethiopia, for example, one single pastor may be called upon to provide oversight to five or six rural churches.

Not a leadership manual. However, in its urgent quest to develop healthy leaders, the global church must not turn to the book of Judges as if it were a leadership manual. It wasn't written merely to offer practical advice. Instead, the book of Judges—together with all the other narrative books of the Old Testament—functions primarily to tell its part of redemptive history and to document the unstoppable progress of God's global program of new creation. In and through and despite sinful people, God's mission advances to heal the wounds caused by rebellious humanity and their destructive "leadership" decisions. The Bible does, however, provide much wisdom and guidance concerning what church leaders should be and what they should do. The reader is encouraged to turn to the letters of the apostle Paul—especially his letters to Timothy and Titus—for help in this regard.

The Continuing Conquest of Canaan

JUDGES 1 [†]After the death of Joshua, the people of Israel [a] inquired of the LORD, [b] “Who shall go up first for us against the Canaanites, to fight against them?” [2][†]The LORD said, “Judah shall go up; behold, I have given the land into his hand.” [3]And Judah said to Simeon his brother, “Come up with me into the territory allotted to me, that we may fight against the Canaanites. [c] And I likewise will go with you into the territory allotted to you.” So Simeon went with him. [4]Then Judah went up and the LORD gave the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their hand, and they defeated 10,000 of them at Bezek. [5][†]They found Adoni-bezek at Bezek and fought against him and defeated the Canaanites and the Perizzites. [6]Adoni-bezek fled, but they pursued him and caught him and cut off his thumbs and his big toes. [7]And Adoni-bezek said, “Seventy kings with their thumbs and their big toes cut off [d] used to pick up scraps under my table. [e] As I have done, so God has repaid me.” And they brought him to Jerusalem, and he died there.

[8][†][f] And the men of Judah fought against Jerusalem and captured it and struck it with the edge of the sword and set the city on fire. [9]And afterward the men of Judah went down to fight against the Canaanites who lived in [g] the hill country, in the Negeb, and in [g] the lowland. [10][†] [h] And Judah went against the Canaanites who lived in Hebron [i] (now the name of Hebron was formerly Kiriath-arba), and they defeated [j] Sheshai and Ahiman and Talmai.

[11]From there they went against the inhabitants of Debir. The name of Debir was formerly Kiriath-sepher. [12]And Caleb said, “He who attacks Kiriath-sepher and captures it, I will give him Achsah my daughter for a wife.” [13]And Othniel the son of Kenaz, [k] Caleb’s younger brother, captured it. And he gave him Achsah his daughter for a wife. [14]When she came to him, she urged him to ask her father for a field. And she dismounted from her donkey, and Caleb said to her, “What do you want?” [15]She said to him, “Give me a blessing. Since you have set me in the land of the Negeb, give me also springs of water.” And Caleb gave her the upper springs and the lower springs.

[16][†]And the descendants of the [l] Kenite, Moses’ father-in-law, went up with the people of Judah [m] from the city of palms into the wilderness of Judah, which lies in the Negeb near [n] Arad, [o] and they went and settled with the people. [17] [p] And Judah went with Simeon his brother, and they defeated the Canaanites who inhabited Zephath and devoted it to destruction. So the name of the city was called [q] Hormah. [1] [18][†]Judah also [r] captured Gaza with its territory, and Ashkelon with its territory, and Ekron with its territory. [19][†] [p] And the LORD was with Judah, and he took possession of the [s] hill country, but he could not drive out the inhabitants of the plain because they had [t] chariots of iron. [20] [u] And Hebron was given to Caleb, as Moses had said. And he drove out from it [v] the three sons of Anak. [21]But the people of Benjamin did not drive out the Jebusites who lived in Jerusalem, [w] so the Jebusites have lived with the people of Benjamin in Jerusalem to this day.

[22][†]The house of Joseph also went up against Bethel, [x] and the LORD was with them. [23]And the house of Joseph scouted out Bethel. ([y] Now the name of the city was formerly Luz.) [24]And the spies saw a man coming out of the city, and they said to him, “Please show us the way into the city, [z] and we will deal kindly with you.” [25]And he showed them the way into the city. And they struck the city with the edge of the sword, but they let the man and all his family go. [26]And the man went to [a] the land of the Hittites and built a city and called its name Luz. That is its name to this day.

Failure to Complete the Conquest

[27] [b] Manasseh did not drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shean and its villages, or Taanach and its villages, or the inhabitants of Dor and its villages, or the inhabitants of Ibleam and its villages, or the inhabitants of Megiddo and its villages, for the Canaanites persisted in dwelling in that land. [28]When Israel grew strong, they put the Canaanites to forced labor, but did not drive them out completely.

[29] [c] And Ephraim did not drive out the Canaanites who lived in Gezer, so the Canaanites lived in Gezer among them.

[30]Zebulun did not drive out the inhabitants of Kitron, or the inhabitants of [d] Nahalol, so the Canaanites lived among them, but became subject to forced labor.

31 [e] Asher did not drive out the inhabitants of Acco, or the inhabitants of Sidon or of Ahlab or of Achzib or of Helbah or of Aphik or of Rehob, 32 so the Asherites lived among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land, for they did not drive them out.

33 Naphtali did not drive out the inhabitants of [f] Beth-shemesh, or the inhabitants of Beth-anath, so they lived among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land. Nevertheless, the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh and of Beth-anath became subject to forced labor for them.

34 [†] [g] The Amorites pressed the people of Dan back into the hill country, for they did not allow them to come down to the plain. 35 The Amorites persisted in dwelling in Mount Heres, [h] in Aijalon, and in Shaalbim, but the hand of the house of Joseph rested heavily on them, and they became subject to forced labor. 36 And the border of the Amorites ran from [i] the ascent of Akrabbim, from Sela and upward.

Israel’s Disobedience

JUDGES 2 [†]Now the angel of the LORD went up from Gilgal to [j] Bochim. And he said, “I brought you up from Egypt and brought you into the land that I swore to give to your fathers. I said, [k] ‘I will never break my covenant with you, 2 [†] [l] and you shall make no covenant with the inhabitants of this land; [m] you shall break down their altars.’ But you have not obeyed my voice. What is this you have done? 3 So now I say, [n] I will not drive them out before you, but they shall become [o] thorns in your sides, and their gods shall be a snare to you.” 4 As soon as the angel of the LORD spoke these words to all the people of Israel, the people lifted up their voices and wept. 5 [†]And they called the name of that place Bochim. [1] And they sacrificed there to the LORD.

The Death of Joshua

6 [†]When Joshua dismissed the people, the people of Israel went each to his inheritance to take possession of the land. 7 [p] And the people served the LORD all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders who outlived Joshua, who had seen all the great work that the LORD had done for Israel. 8 And Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of the LORD, died at the age of 110 years. [9]And they buried him within the boundaries of [q]his inheritance in Timnath-heres, [r]in the hill country of Ephraim, north of the mountain of Gaash. [10]And all that generation also were gathered to their fathers. And there arose another generation after them who did not know the LORD or the work that he had done for Israel.

Israel’s Unfaithfulness

[11][†] [s]And the people of Israel did what was evil in the sight of the LORD and served the Baals. [12] [t]And they abandoned the LORD, the God of their fathers, who had brought them out of the land of Egypt. [u]They went after other gods, from among the gods of the peoples who were around them, and [v]bowed down to them. [w]And they provoked the LORD to anger. [13][†]They abandoned the LORD [x]and served the Baals and the Ashtaroth. [14] [y]So the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he [z]gave them over to plunderers, who plundered them. [a]And he sold them into the hand of their surrounding enemies, [b]so that they could no longer withstand their enemies. [15][†]Whenever they marched out, the hand of the LORD was against them for harm, as the LORD had warned, [c]and as the LORD had sworn to them. And they were in terrible distress.

The LORD Raises Up Judges

[16][†] [d]Then the LORD raised up judges, [e]who saved them out of the hand of those who plundered them. [17][†]Yet they did not listen to their judges, for [f]they whored after other gods and bowed down to them. [g]They soon turned aside from the way in which their fathers had walked, who had obeyed the commandments of the LORD, and they did not do so. [18][†]Whenever the LORD raised up judges for them, [h]the LORD was with the judge, and he saved them from the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge. [i]For the LORD was moved to pity by [j]their groaning because of those who afflicted and oppressed them. [19]But [k]whenever the judge died, they turned back and were more corrupt than their fathers, going after other gods, serving them and bowing down to them. They did not drop any of their practices or their stubborn ways. [20][†] [l]So the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he said, “Because this people [m] have transgressed my covenant that I commanded their fathers and have not obeyed my voice, [21] [n] I will no longer drive out before them any of the nations that Joshua left when he died, [22]in order [o] to test Israel by them, whether they will take care to walk in the way of the LORD as their fathers did, or not.” [23]So the LORD left those nations, not driving them out quickly, and he did not give them into the hand of Joshua.

JUDGES 3 [†] [p] Now these are the nations that the LORD left, to test Israel by them, that is, all in Israel who had not experienced all the wars in Canaan. [2]It was only in order that the generations of the people of Israel might know war, to teach war to those who had not known it before. [3][†]These are the nations: [q] the five lords of the Philistines and all the Canaanites and the Sidonians and the Hivites who lived on Mount Lebanon, from Mount Baal-hermon as far as Lebo-hamath. [4]They were for [r] the testing of Israel, to know whether Israel would obey the commandments of the LORD, which he commanded their fathers by the hand of Moses. [5]So the people of Israel lived [s] among the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites. [6] [t] And their daughters they took to themselves for wives, and their own daughters they gave to their sons, and they served their gods.

Othniel

[7][†] [u] And the people of Israel did what was evil in the sight of the LORD. They forgot the LORD their God and served the Baals and [v] the Asheroth. [8]Therefore the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, [w] and he sold them into the hand of [x] Cushan-rishathaim king of Mesopotamia. And the people of Israel served Cushan-rishathaim eight years. [9][†]But when the people of Israel [y] cried out to the LORD, the LORD raised up a [z] deliverer for the people of Israel, who saved them, [a] Othniel the son of Kenaz, Caleb’s younger brother. [10] [b] The Spirit of the LORD was upon him, and he judged Israel. He went out to war, and the LORD gave Cushan-rishathaim king of Mesopotamia into his hand. And his hand prevailed over Cushan-rishathaim. [11] [c] So the land had rest forty years. Then Othniel the son of Kenaz died.

Ehud

12[†] [d] And the people of Israel again did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, and the LORD strengthened Eglon [e] the king of Moab against Israel, because they had done what was evil in the sight of the LORD. 13He gathered to himself the Ammonites and the [f] Amalekites, and went and defeated Israel. And they took possession of [g] the city of palms. 14And the people of Israel served Eglon the king of Moab eighteen years.

15Then the people of Israel [h] cried out to the LORD, and the LORD raised up for them [h] a deliverer, Ehud, the son of Gera, the Benjaminite, [i] a left-handed man. The people of Israel sent tribute by him to Eglon the king of Moab. 16And Ehud made for himself a sword with two edges, a cubit [1] in length, and he bound it on his right thigh under his clothes. 17And he presented the tribute to Eglon king of Moab. Now Eglon was a very fat man. 18And when Ehud had finished presenting the tribute, he sent away the people who carried the tribute. 19But he himself turned back [j] at the idols near Gilgal and said, “I have a secret message for you, O king.” And he commanded, “Silence.” And all his attendants went out from his presence. 20[†]And Ehud came to him as he was sitting alone in his [k] cool roof chamber. [l] And Ehud said, “I have a message from God for you.” And he arose from his seat. 21And Ehud reached with his left hand, took the sword from his right thigh, and thrust it into his belly. 22And the hilt also went in after the blade, and the fat closed over the blade, for he did not pull the sword out of his belly; and the dung came out. 23Then Ehud went out into the porch [2] and closed the doors of the roof chamber behind him [m] and locked them.

24When he had gone, the servants came, and when they saw that the doors of the roof chamber were locked, they thought, [n] “Surely he is relieving himself in the closet of the cool chamber.” 25And they waited till they were embarrassed. But when he still did not open the doors of the roof chamber, they took the key and opened them, and there lay their lord dead on the floor.

26Ehud escaped while they delayed, and he passed beyond [o] the idols and escaped to Seirah. 27When he arrived, [p] he sounded the trumpet in [q] the hill country of Ephraim. Then the people of Israel went down with him from the hill country, and he was their leader. [28]And he said to them, “Follow after me, [r] for the LORD has given your enemies the Moabites into your hand.” So they went down after him and seized [s] the fords of the Jordan against the Moabites and did not allow anyone to pass over. [29]And they killed at that time about 10,000 of the Moabites, all strong, able-bodied men; not a man escaped. [30]So Moab was subdued that day under the hand of Israel. [t] And the land had rest for eighty years.

Shamgar

[31][†]After him was [u] Shamgar the son of Anath, who killed 600 of the Philistines [v] with an oxgoad, and he also [w] saved Israel.

Deborah and Barak

JUDGES 4 [†] [x] And the people of Israel again did what was evil in the sight of the LORD after Ehud died. [2]And the LORD [y] sold them into the hand of [z] Jabin king of Canaan, who reigned in [z] Hazor. The commander of his army was [a] Sisera, who lived in [b] Harosheth-hagoyim. [3]Then the people of Israel [c] cried out to the LORD for help, for he had [d] 900 chariots of iron and he oppressed the people of Israel cruelly for twenty years.

[4][†]Now Deborah, a prophetess, the wife of Lappidoth, was judging Israel at that time. [5]She used to sit under the palm of Deborah between Ramah and Bethel in [e] the hill country of Ephraim, and the people of Israel came up to her for judgment. [6][†]She sent and summoned [f] Barak the son of Abinoam from [g] Kedesh-naphtali and said to him, “Has not the LORD, the God of Israel, commanded you, ‘Go, gather your men at Mount [h] Tabor, taking 10,000 from the people of Naphtali and the people of Zebulun. [7]And I will draw out Sisera, the general of Jabin’s army, to meet you by [i] the river Kishon with his chariots and his troops, [j] and I will give him into your hand’?” [8]Barak said to her, “If you will go with me, I will go, but if you will not go with me, I will not go.” [9]And she said, “I will surely go with you. Nevertheless, the road on which you are going will not lead to your glory, for the LORD will [k] sell Sisera into the hand of a woman.” Then Deborah arose and went with Barak to Kedesh. [10]And Barak called out

[l]Zebulun and Naphtali to Kedesh. And 10,000 men went up at his heels, and Deborah went up with him.

[11][†]Now Heber [m]the Kenite had separated from the Kenites, the descendants of [n]Hobab the father-in-law of Moses, and had pitched his tent as far away as the oak in [o]Zaanannim, which is near Kedesh.

[12]When Sisera was told that Barak the son of Abinoam had gone up to Mount Tabor, [13][†]Sisera called out all his chariots, [p]900 chariots of iron, and all the men who were with him, from Harosheth-hagoyim to the river Kishon. [14]And Deborah said to Barak, “Up! For this is the day in which [q]the LORD has given Sisera into your hand. [r]Does not the LORD go out before you?” So Barak went down from Mount Tabor with 10,000 men following him. [15][s]And the LORD routed Sisera and all his chariots and all his army before Barak by the edge of the sword. And Sisera got down from his chariot and fled away on foot. [16]And Barak pursued the chariots and the army to Harosheth-hagoyim, and all the army of Sisera fell by the edge of the sword; not a man was left.

[17][†]But Sisera fled away on foot to the tent of Jael, the wife of Heber the Kenite, for there was peace between Jabin the king of Hazor and the house of Heber the Kenite. [18]And Jael came out to meet Sisera and said to him, “Turn aside, my lord; turn aside to me; do not be afraid.” So he turned aside to her into the tent, and she covered him with a rug. [19]And he said to her, “Please give me a little water to drink, for I am thirsty.” So she opened [t]a skin of milk and gave him a drink and covered him. [20]And he said to her, “Stand at the opening of the tent, and if any man comes and asks you, ‘Is anyone here?’ say, ‘No.’” [21]But Jael the wife of Heber took a tent peg, and took a hammer in her hand. Then she went softly to him and drove the peg into his temple until it went down into the ground while he was lying fast asleep from weariness. So he died. [22]And behold, as Barak was pursuing Sisera, Jael went out to meet him and said to him, “Come, and I will show you the man whom you are seeking.” So he went in to her tent, and there lay Sisera dead, with the tent peg in his temple.

[23][u]So on that day God subdued Jabin the king of Canaan before the people of Israel. [24]And the hand of the people of Israel pressed harder and harder against Jabin the king of Canaan, until they destroyed Jabin king of Canaan.

The Song of Deborah and Barak

JUDGES 5 [†] [v]Then sang Deborah and Barak the son of Abinoam on that day:

2 “That the leaders took the lead in Israel, that [w]the people offered themselves willingly, bless the LORD!

3 “Hear, O kings; give ear, O princes;
to the LORD I will sing;
I will make melody to the LORD, the God of Israel.

4[†] “LORD, [x]when you went out from Seir, when you marched from the region of Edom, [y]the earth trembled and the heavens dropped,
yes, the clouds dropped water.
5 The mountains [z]quaked before the LORD,
[a]even Sinai before the LORD, the God of Israel.

6[†] “In the days of [b]Shamgar, son of Anath, in the days of [c]Jael, [d]the highways were abandoned, and travelers kept to the byways.
7 The villagers ceased in Israel;
they ceased to be until I arose;
I, Deborah, arose as a mother in Israel.
8 [e]When new gods were chosen, then war was in the gates.
[f]Was shield or spear to be seen among forty thousand in Israel?
9 My heart goes out to the commanders of Israel who [g]offered themselves willingly among the people.
Bless the LORD.

10[†] “Tell of it, [h]you who ride on white donkeys, you who sit on rich carpets [1] and you who walk by the way.

11 To the sound of musicians [2] at the watering places, there they repeat the righteous triumphs of the LORD,
the righteous triumphs of his villagers in Israel.

“Then down to the gates marched the people of the LORD.

12 [i] “Awake, awake, Deborah!
Awake, awake, break out in a song!
Arise, Barak, [j] lead away your captives,
O son of Abinoam.
13 [†] Then down marched the remnant of the noble;
the people of the LORD marched down for me against the mighty.
14 From [k] Ephraim their root [l] they marched down into the valley, [3] following you, Benjamin, with your kinsmen; from [m] Machir marched down the commanders, and from Zebulun those who bear the lieutenant’s [4] staff; 15 the princes of Issachar came with Deborah, and Issachar faithful to [n] Barak;
into the valley they rushed at his heels.
Among the clans of Reuben
there were great searchings of heart.
16 Why did you sit still [o] among the sheepfolds, to hear the whistling for the flocks?
Among the clans of Reuben
there were great searchings of heart.
17 [p] Gilead stayed beyond the Jordan;
[q] and Dan, why did he stay with the ships?
[r] Asher sat still [s] at the coast of the sea, staying by his landings.
18 [t] Zebulun is a people who risked their lives to the death;
[t] Naphtali, too, on the heights of the field.

19 [†] “The kings came, they fought;
then fought the kings of Canaan, at [u]Taanach, by the waters of [v]Megiddo;

[w]they got no spoils of silver.
20 [x]From heaven the stars fought, from their courses they fought against Sisera.
21 [y]The torrent Kishon swept them away, the ancient torrent, the torrent Kishon.
March on, my soul, with might!

22 “Then loud beat the horses’ hoofs with the galloping, galloping of his steeds.

23 “Curse Meroz, says the angel of the Lord, curse its inhabitants thoroughly, [z]because they did not come to the help of the Lord, to the help of the Lord against the mighty.

24[†] “Most blessed of women be [a]Jael, the wife of Heber the Kenite, of tent-dwelling women most blessed.
25 [b]He asked for water and she gave him milk;
she brought him curds in a noble’s bowl.
26 [c]She sent her hand to the tent peg and her right hand to the workmen’s mallet;
she struck Sisera;
she crushed his head;
she shattered and pierced his temple.
27 Between her feet
he sank, he fell, he lay still;
between her feet
he sank, he fell;
where he sank,
there he fell—dead.

28[†] [d]“Out of the window she peered,
the mother of Sisera wailed through [e]the lattice:
‘Why is his chariot so long in coming?

Why tarry the hoofbeats of his chariots?’
[29] Her wisest princesses answer, indeed, she answers herself,
[30] ‘Have they not found and [f] divided the spoil?—
A womb or two for every man;
spoil of dyed materials for Sisera, spoil of dyed materials embroidered, two pieces of dyed work embroidered for the neck as spoil?’

[31] [g] “So may all your enemies perish, O LORD!
But your friends be [h] like the sun [i] as he rises in his might.”

[j] And the land had rest for forty years.

Midian Oppresses Israel

JUDGES 6 [†] [k] The people of Israel did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, and the LORD gave them into the hand of [l] Midian seven years. [2][†]And the hand of Midian overpowered Israel, and because of Midian the people of Israel made for themselves the dens that are in the mountains and [m] the caves and the strongholds. [3]For whenever the Israelites planted crops, the Midianites and [n] the Amalekites and [o] the people of the East would come up against them. [4]They would encamp against them [p] and devour the produce of the land, as far as Gaza, and leave no sustenance in Israel and no sheep or ox or donkey. [5]For they would come up with their livestock and their tents; they would come [q] like locusts in number—both they and their camels could not be counted—so that they laid waste the land as they came in. [6]And Israel was brought very low because of Midian. And the people of Israel [r] cried out for help to the LORD.

[7][†]When the people of Israel cried out to the LORD on account of the Midianites, [8]the LORD sent a prophet to the people of Israel. And he said to them, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: [s] I led you up from Egypt and brought you out of the house of slavery. [9]And I delivered you from the hand of the Egyptians and from the hand of all who oppressed you, and [t] drove them out before you and gave you their land. [10]And I said to you, ‘I am the LORD your God; [u] you shall not fear the gods of the Amorites in whose land you dwell.' But you have not obeyed my voice."

The Call of Gideon

[11][†]Now the angel of the LORD came and sat under the terebinth at Ophrah, which belonged to Joash [v] the Abiezrite, while his son [w] Gideon was beating out wheat in the winepress to hide it from the Midianites. [12]And [x] the angel of the LORD appeared to him and said to him, [y] "The LORD is with you, O mighty man of valor." [13]And Gideon said to him, "Please, sir, [1] if the LORD is with us, why then has all this happened to us? And where are [z] all his wonderful deeds [a] that our fathers recounted to us, saying, 'Did not the LORD bring us up from Egypt?' But now the LORD has forsaken us and given us into the hand of Midian." [14]And the LORD [2] turned to him and said, "Go in this might of yours and save Israel from the hand of Midian; [b] do not I send you?" [15]And he said to him, [c] "Please, Lord, how can I save Israel? Behold, [d] my clan is the weakest in Manasseh, and I am the least in my father's house." [16]And the LORD said to him, [e] "But I will be with you, and you shall strike the Midianites as one man." [17]And he said to him, [f] "If now I have found favor in your eyes, then [g] show me a sign that it is you who speak with me. [18]Please [h] do not depart from here until I come to you and bring out my present and set it before you." And he said, "I will stay till you return."

[19]So Gideon went into his house [i] and prepared a young goat and unleavened cakes from an ephah [3] of flour. The meat he put in a basket, and the broth he put in a pot, and brought them to him under the terebinth and presented them. [20]And the angel of God said to him, "Take the meat and the unleavened cakes, and put them [j] on this rock, and [k] pour the broth over them." And he did so. [21]Then the angel of the LORD reached out the tip of the staff that was in his hand and touched the meat and the unleavened cakes. [l] And fire sprang up from the rock and consumed the meat and the unleavened cakes. And the angel of the LORD vanished from his sight. [22][†]Then Gideon perceived that he was the angel of the LORD. And Gideon said, [m] "Alas, O Lord GOD! For now I have seen the angel of the LORD face to face." [23]But the LORD said to him, [n] "Peace be to you. Do not fear; you shall not die.” [24][†]Then Gideon built an altar there to the LORD and called it, [o]The LORD Is Peace. To this day it still stands at [p]Ophrah, which belongs to the Abiezrites.

[25][†]That night the LORD said to him, “Take your father’s bull, and the second bull seven years old, and pull down the altar of Baal that your father has, and cut down [q]the Asherah that is beside it [26]and build an altar to the LORD your God on the top of the [r]stronghold here, with stones laid in due order. Then take the second bull and offer it as a burnt offering with the wood of the Asherah that you shall cut down.” [27]So Gideon took ten men of his servants and did as the LORD had told him. But because he was too afraid of his family and the men of the town to do it by day, he did it by night.

Gideon Destroys the Altar of Baal

[28]When the men of the town rose early in the morning, behold, the altar of Baal was broken down, and the Asherah beside it was cut down, and the second bull was offered on the altar that had been built. [29]And they said to one another, “Who has done this thing?” And after they had searched and inquired, they said, “Gideon the son of Joash has done this thing.” [30]Then the men of the town said to Joash, “Bring out your son, that he may die, for he has broken down the altar of Baal and cut down the Asherah beside it.” [31]But Joash said to all who stood against him, “Will you contend for Baal? Or will you save him? Whoever contends for him shall be put to death by morning. If he is a god, let him contend for himself, because his altar has been broken down.” [32][†]Therefore on that day Gideon [4] was called [s]Jerubbaal, that is to say, “Let Baal contend against him,” because he broke down his altar.

[33]Now [t]all the Midianites and the Amalekites and the people of the East came together, and they crossed the Jordan and encamped in [u]the Valley of Jezreel. [34][†]But [v]the Spirit of the LORD clothed Gideon, [w]and he sounded the trumpet, and the Abiezrites were called out to follow him. [35][x]And he sent messengers throughout all Manasseh, and they too were called out to follow him. [x]And he sent messengers to Asher, Zebulun, and Naphtali, and they went up to meet them.

The Sign of the Fleece

[36][†][y] Then Gideon said to God, “If you will save Israel by my hand, as you have said, [37]behold, I am laying a fleece of wool on the threshing floor. If there is dew on the fleece alone, and it is dry on all the ground, then I shall know that you will save Israel by my hand, as you have said.” [38]And it was so. When he rose early next morning and squeezed the fleece, he wrung enough dew from the fleece to fill a bowl with water. [39]Then Gideon said to God, [z]“Let not your anger burn against me; let me speak just once more. Please let me test just once more with the fleece. Please let it be dry on the fleece only, and on all the ground let there be dew.” [40]And God did so that night; and it was dry on the fleece only, and on all the ground there was dew.

Gideon’s Three Hundred Men

JUDGES 7 Then [a]Jerubbaal (that is, Gideon) and all the people who were with him rose early and encamped beside [b]the spring of Harod. And the camp of Midian was north of them, [c]by the hill of Moreh, in the valley.

[2][†]The LORD said to Gideon, “The people with you are too many for me to give the Midianites into their hand, [d]lest Israel boast over me, saying, ‘My own hand has saved me.’ [3][†]Now therefore proclaim in the ears of the people, saying, [e]‘Whoever is fearful and trembling, let him return home and hurry away from Mount Gilead.’” Then 22,000 of the people returned, and 10,000 remained.

[4][†]And the LORD said to Gideon, “The people are still too many. Take them down to the water, and I will test them for you there, and anyone of whom I say to you, ‘This one shall go with you,’ shall go with you, and anyone of whom I say to you, ‘This one shall not go with you,’ shall not go.” [5]So he brought the people down to the water. And the LORD said to Gideon, “Every one who laps the water with his tongue, as a dog laps, you shall set by himself. Likewise, every one who kneels down to drink.” [6]And the number of those who lapped, putting their hands to their mouths, was 300 men, but all the rest of the people knelt down to drink water. [7]And the LORD said to Gideon, [f]“With the 300 men who lapped I will save you and give the Midianites into your hand, and let all the others go every man to his home.” [8]So the people took provisions in their hands, and their trumpets. And he sent all the rest of Israel every man to his tent, but retained the 300 men. And the camp of Midian was below him [g] in the valley.

[9]That same [h] night the LORD said to him, “Arise, go down against the camp, [i] for I have given it into your hand. [10][†]But if you are afraid to go down, go down to the camp with Purah your servant. [11][j] And you shall hear what they say, and afterward your hands shall be strengthened to go down against the camp.” [k] Then he went down with Purah his servant to the outposts of the armed men who were in the camp. [12]And the Midianites and the Amalekites and [l] all the people of the East lay along the valley like locusts in abundance, and their camels were without number, [m] as the sand that is on the seashore in abundance. [13][†]When Gideon came, behold, a man was telling a dream to his comrade. And he said, “Behold, I dreamed a dream, and behold, a cake of barley bread tumbled into the camp of Midian and came to the tent and struck it so that it fell and turned it upside down, so that the tent lay flat.” [14]And his comrade answered, “This is no other than the sword of Gideon the son of Joash, a man of Israel; God has given into his hand Midian and all the camp.”

[15]As soon as Gideon heard the telling of the dream and its interpretation, he worshiped. And he returned to the camp of Israel and said, “Arise, for the LORD has given the host of Midian into your hand.” [16]And he divided the 300 men into three companies and put trumpets into the hands of all of them and empty jars, with [n] torches inside the jars. [17]And he said to them, “Look at me, and do likewise. When I come to the outskirts of the camp, do as I do. [18][†]When I blow the trumpet, I and all who are with me, then blow the trumpets also on every side of all the camp and shout, [o] ‘For the LORD and for Gideon.’”

Gideon Defeats Midian

[19][†]So Gideon and the hundred men who were with him came to the outskirts of the camp at the beginning of the middle watch, when they had just set the watch. And they blew the trumpets and smashed the jars that were in their hands. [20][†]Then the three companies blew the trumpets and broke the jars. They held in their left hands the torches, and in their right hands the trumpets to blow. [o] And they cried out, “A sword for the LORD and for Gideon!” [21]Every man stood in his place around the camp, [p] and all the army ran. They cried out and fled. [22][†] [q] When they blew the 300 trumpets, [r] the LORD set [s] every man’s sword against his comrade and against all the army. And the army fled as far as Beth-shittah toward Zererah, [1] as far as the border of Abel-meholah, by Tabbath. [23]And the men of Israel were called out from Naphtali and from Asher and from all Manasseh, and they pursued after Midian.

[24] [t] Gideon sent messengers throughout [u] all the hill country of Ephraim, saying, “Come down against the Midianites and capture the waters against them, as far as [v] Beth-barah, and also the Jordan.” So all the men of Ephraim were called out, and they captured the waters as far as Beth-barah, and also the Jordan. [25]And they captured [w] the two princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb. They killed Oreb [x] at the rock of Oreb, and Zeeb they killed at the winepress of Zeeb. Then they pursued Midian, and they brought the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon [y] across the Jordan.

Gideon Defeats Zebah and Zalmunna

JUDGES 8 [†] [z]Then the men of Ephraim said to him, “What is this that you have done to us, not to call us when you went to fight against Midian?” And they accused him fiercely. 2And he said to them, “What have I done now in comparison with you? Is not [a]the gleaning of the grapes of Ephraim better than the grape harvest of Abiezer? 3 [b]God has given into your hands the princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb. What have I been able to do in comparison with you?” [c]Then their anger [1] against him subsided when he said this.

4And Gideon came to the Jordan and crossed over, he and [d]the 300 men who were with him, exhausted yet pursuing. 5So he said to the men of [e]Succoth, “Please give loaves of bread to the people who follow me, for they are exhausted, and I am pursuing after Zebah and Zalmunna, the kings of Midian.” 6And the officials of Succoth said, [f]“Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna already in your hand, [g]that we should give bread to your army?” 7So Gideon said, “Well then, when the LORD has given Zebah and Zalmunna into my hand, [h]I will flail your flesh with the thorns of the wilderness and with briers.” 8And from there he went up to [i]Penuel, and spoke to them in the same way, and the men of Penuel answered him as the men of Succoth had answered. 9And he said to the men of Penuel, [j]“When I come again in peace, [k]I will break down this tower.”

10Now Zebah and Zalmunna were in Karkor with their army, about 15,000 men, all who were left of all the army of [l]the people of the East, for there had fallen 120,000 men [m]who drew the sword. 11And Gideon went up by the way of the tent dwellers east of [n]Nobah and Jogbehah and attacked the army, for the army felt [o]secure. 12And Zebah and Zalmunna fled, and he pursued them [p]and captured the two kings of Midian, Zebah and Zalmunna, and he threw all the army into a panic.

13Then Gideon the son of Joash returned from the battle by the ascent of Heres. 14And he captured a young man of Succoth and questioned him. And he wrote down for him the officials and elders of Succoth, seventy-seven men. 15And he came to the men of Succoth and said, “Behold Zebah and Zalmunna, about whom you taunted me, saying, [q] 'Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna already in your hand, that we should give bread to your men who are exhausted?'" [16][†]And he took the elders of the city, and he took thorns of the wilderness and briers and with them taught the men of Succoth a lesson. [17] [r] And he broke down the tower of Penuel and killed the men of the city.

[18]Then he said to Zebah and Zalmunna, "Where are the men whom you killed at [s] Tabor?" They answered, "As you are, so were they. Every one of them resembled the son of a king." [19]And he said, "They were my brothers, the sons of my mother. [t] As the LORD lives, if you had saved them alive, I would not kill you." [20]So he said to Jether his firstborn, "Rise and kill them!" But the young man did not draw his sword, for he was afraid, because he was still a young man. [21]Then Zebah and Zalmunna said, "Rise yourself and fall upon us, for as the man is, so is his strength." And Gideon arose and [u] killed Zebah and Zalmunna, and he took [v] the crescent ornaments that were on the necks of their camels.

Gideon's Ephod

[22][†]Then the men of Israel said to Gideon, "Rule over us, you and your son and your grandson also, for you have saved us from the hand of Midian." [23]Gideon said to them, "I will not rule over you, and my son will not rule over you; [w] the LORD will rule over you." [24]And Gideon said to them, "Let me make a request of you: every one of you give me the earrings from his spoil." (For they had golden earrings, [x] because they were Ishmaelites.) [25]And they answered, "We will willingly give them." And they spread a cloak, and every man threw in it the earrings of his spoil. [26]And the weight of the golden earrings that he requested was 1,700 shekels [2] of gold, besides [y] the crescent ornaments and [z] the pendants and the purple garments worn by the kings of Midian, and besides the collars that were around the necks of their camels. [27][†]And Gideon [a] made an ephod of it and put it in his city, [b] in Ophrah. And all Israel [c] whored after it there, and it became a [d] snare to Gideon and to his family. [28]So Midian was subdued before the people of Israel, and they raised their heads no more. [e] And the land had rest forty years in the days of Gideon.

The Death of Gideon

[29][†][f]Jerubbaal the son of Joash went and lived in his own house. [30]Now Gideon had [g]seventy sons, his own offspring, [3] for he had many wives. [31]And his concubine [h]who was in Shechem also bore him a son, and he called his name Abimelech. [32]And Gideon the son of Joash died [i]in a good old age and was buried in the tomb of Joash his father, [j]at Ophrah of the Abiezrites.

[33][†][k]As soon as Gideon died, the people of Israel turned again and [l]whored after the Baals and made [m]Baal-berith their god. [34]And the people of Israel [n]did not remember the LORD their God, who had delivered them from the hand of all their enemies on every side, [35][o]and they did not show steadfast love to the family of Jerubbaal (that is, Gideon) in return for all the good that he had done to Israel.

Abimelech’s Conspiracy

JUDGES 9 [†]Now Abimelech the son of Jerubbaal went to Shechem to [p]his mother’s relatives and said to them and to the whole clan of his mother’s family, [2]“Say in the ears of all the leaders of Shechem, ‘Which is better for you, that all [q]seventy of the sons of Jerubbaal rule over you, or that one rule over you?’ Remember also that [p]I am [r]your bone and your flesh.”

[3]And his mother’s relatives spoke all these words on his behalf in the ears of all the leaders of Shechem, and their hearts inclined to follow Abimelech, for they said, [s]“He is our brother.” [4]And they gave him seventy pieces of silver out of the house of [t]Baal-berith with which Abimelech hired [u]worthless and reckless fellows, who followed him. [5]And he went to his father’s house at [v]Ophrah [w]and killed his brothers the sons of Jerubbaal, seventy men, on one stone. But Jotham the youngest son of Jerubbaal was left, for he hid himself. [6]And all the leaders of Shechem came together, and all [x]Beth-millo, and they went and made Abimelech king, by the oak of the pillar at Shechem.

[7][†]When it was told to Jotham, he went and stood on top of [y]Mount Gerizim and cried aloud and said to them, “Listen to me, you leaders of Shechem, that God may listen to you. [8][z]The trees once went out to anoint a king over them, and they said to the olive tree, [a]‘Reign over us.’ [9]But the olive tree said to them, ‘Shall I leave my abundance, by which gods and men are honored, and go hold sway over the trees?’ [10]And the trees said to the fig tree, ‘You come and reign over us.’ [11]But the fig tree said to them, ‘Shall I leave my sweetness and my good fruit and go hold sway over the trees?’ [12]And the trees said to the vine, ‘You come and reign over us.’ [13]But the vine said to them, ‘Shall I leave my wine that [b]cheers God and men and go hold sway over the trees?’ [14]Then all the trees said to the bramble, ‘You come and reign over us.’ [15]And the bramble said to the trees, ‘If in good faith you are anointing me king over you, then come and [c]take refuge in my shade, but if not, [d]let fire come out of the bramble and devour [e]the cedars of Lebanon.’

[16]“Now therefore, if you acted in good faith and integrity when you made Abimelech king, and if you have dealt well with [f]Jerubbaal and his house and have done to him [g]as his deeds deserved— [17]for my father fought for you and risked his life and delivered you from the hand of Midian, [18]and you have risen up against my father’s house this day [h]and have killed his sons, seventy men on one stone, and have made [i]Abimelech, the son of his female servant, king over the leaders of Shechem, [j]because he is your relative— [19]if you then have acted in good faith and integrity with Jerubbaal and with his house this day, then [k]rejoice in Abimelech, and let him also rejoice in you. [20][†]But if not, [l]let fire come out from Abimelech and devour the leaders of Shechem and Beth-millo; and let fire come out from the leaders of Shechem and from Beth-millo and devour Abimelech.” [21]And Jotham ran away and fled and went to [m]Beer and lived there, because of Abimelech his brother.

The Downfall of Abimelech

[22][†]Abimelech ruled over Israel three years. [23][†][n]And God sent an evil spirit between Abimelech and the leaders of Shechem, and the leaders of Shechem [o]dealt treacherously with Abimelech, [24][p]that the violence done to the seventy sons of Jerubbaal might come, and their blood be laid on Abimelech their brother, who killed them, and on the men of Shechem, who strengthened his hands to kill his brothers. [25]And the leaders of Shechem put men in ambush against him on the mountaintops, and they robbed all who passed by them along that way. And it was told to Abimelech.

[26]And Gaal the son of Ebed moved into Shechem with his relatives, and the leaders of Shechem put confidence in him. [27]And they went out into the field and gathered the grapes from their vineyards and trod them and held a festival; and they went into [q] the house of their god and ate and drank and reviled Abimelech. [28]And Gaal the son of Ebed said, [r] “Who is Abimelech, and who are we of Shechem, that we should serve him? Is he not the son of Jerubbaal, and is not Zebul his officer? Serve the men of [s] Hamor the father of Shechem; but why should we serve him? [29]Would that this people were under my hand! Then I would remove Abimelech. I would say [1] to Abimelech, ‘Increase your army, and come out.’”

[30]When Zebul the ruler of the city heard the words of Gaal the son of Ebed, his anger was kindled. [31]And he sent messengers to Abimelech secretly, [2] saying, “Behold, Gaal the son of Ebed and his relatives have come to Shechem, and they are stirring up [3] the city against you. [32]Now therefore, go by night, you and the people who are with you, and set an ambush in the field. [33]Then in the morning, as soon as the sun is up, rise early and rush upon the city. And when he and the people who are with him come out against you, you may do to them [t] as your hand finds to do.”

[34]So Abimelech and all the men who were with him rose up by night and set an ambush against Shechem in four companies. [35]And Gaal the son of Ebed went out and stood in the entrance of the gate of the city, and Abimelech and the people who were with him rose from the ambush. [36]And when Gaal saw the people, he said to Zebul, “Look, people are coming down from [u] the mountaintops!” And Zebul said to him, “You mistake [4] the shadow of the mountains for men.” [37]Gaal spoke again and said, “Look, people are coming down from the center of the land, and one company is coming from the direction of the Diviners’ Oak.” [38]Then Zebul said to him, “Where is your mouth now, you who said, [v] ‘Who is Abimelech, that we should serve him?’ Are not these the people whom you despised? Go out now and fight with them.” [39]And Gaal went out at the head of the leaders of Shechem and fought with Abimelech. [40]And Abimelech chased him, and he fled before him. And many fell wounded, up to the entrance of the gate.

[41]And Abimelech lived at Arumah, and Zebul drove out Gaal and his relatives, so that they could not dwell at Shechem.

[42]On the following day, the people went out into the field, and Abimelech was told. [43]He took his people and divided them into three companies and set an ambush in the fields. And he looked and saw the people coming out of the city. So he rose against them and killed them. [44]Abimelech and the company that was with him [w]rushed forward and stood at the entrance of the gate of the city, while the two companies rushed upon all who were in the field and killed them. [45][†]And Abimelech fought against the city all that day. He captured the city and killed the people who were in it, and [x]he razed the city and [y]sowed it with salt.

[46]When all the leaders of the Tower of Shechem heard of it, they entered [z]the stronghold of the house of [a]El-berith. [47]Abimelech was told that all the leaders of the Tower of Shechem were gathered together. [48]And Abimelech went up to Mount [b]Zalmon, he and all the people who were with him. And Abimelech took an axe in his hand and cut down a bundle of brushwood and took it up and laid it on his shoulder. And he said to the men who were with him, “What you have seen me do, hurry and do as I have done.” [49]So every one of the people cut down his bundle and following Abimelech put it against [c]the stronghold, and they set the stronghold on fire over them, so that all the people of the Tower of Shechem also died, about 1,000 men and women.

[50]Then Abimelech went to Thebez and encamped against Thebez and captured it. [51]But there was a strong tower within the city, and all the men and women and all the leaders of the city fled to it and shut themselves in, and they went up to the roof of the tower. [52]And Abimelech came to the tower and fought against it and drew near to the door of the tower to burn it with fire. [53][d]And a certain woman threw an upper millstone on Abimelech’s head and crushed his skull. [54][†][e]Then he called quickly to the young man his armor-bearer and said to him, “Draw your sword and kill me, lest they say of me, ‘A woman killed him.’” And his young man thrust him through, and he died. [55]And when the men of Israel saw that Abimelech was dead, everyone departed to his home. [56][f]Thus God returned the evil of Abimelech, which he committed against his father in killing his seventy brothers. [57]And God also made all the evil of the men of Shechem return on their heads, and upon them came [g]the curse of Jotham the son of Jerubbaal.

Tola and Jair

JUDGES 10 [†]After Abimelech there arose to [h]save Israel Tola the son of Puah, son of Dodo, a man of Issachar, and he lived at Shamir in [i]the hill country of Ephraim. [2]And he judged Israel twenty-three years. Then he died and was buried at Shamir.

[3][†]After him arose Jair the Gileadite, who judged Israel twenty-two years. [4]And he had thirty sons who [j]rode on thirty donkeys, and they had thirty cities, called Havvoth-jair to this day, [k]which are in the land of Gilead. [5]And Jair died and was buried in Kamon.

Further Disobedience and Oppression

[6][†][l]The people of Israel again did what was evil in the sight of the LORD [m]and served the Baals and the Ashtaroth, the gods of Syria, [n]the gods of Sidon, the gods of Moab, the gods of the Ammonites, and the gods of the Philistines. And they [o]forsook the LORD and did not serve him. [7]So the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and [p]he sold them into the hand of the Philistines and into the hand of the Ammonites, [8]and they crushed and oppressed the people of Israel that year. For eighteen years they oppressed all the people of Israel who were beyond the Jordan in the land of the Amorites, which is in Gilead. [9]And the Ammonites crossed the Jordan to fight also against Judah and against Benjamin and against the house of Ephraim, so that Israel was severely distressed.

[10]And the people of Israel [q]cried out to the LORD, saying, “We have sinned against you, because [r]we have forsaken our God and have served the Baals.” [11]And the LORD said to the people of Israel, “Did I not save you [s]from the Egyptians and [t]from the Amorites, [u]from the Ammonites and [v]from the Philistines? [12]The Sidonians also, and [w]the Amalekites and the Maonites oppressed you, and you cried out to me, and I [x]saved you out of their hand. [13]Yet you have [y]forsaken me and served other gods; therefore I will save you no more. [14][†]Go and cry out [z]to the gods whom you have chosen; let them save you in the time of your distress.” [15]And the people of Israel said to the Lord, “We have sinned; do to us whatever seems good to you. Only please deliver us this day.” [16][†]So they put away the foreign gods from among them and served the Lord, and [a]he became impatient over the misery of Israel.

[17]Then the Ammonites were called to arms, and they encamped in Gilead. And the people of Israel came together, and they encamped at [b]Mizpah. [18]And the people, the leaders of Gilead, said one to another, “Who is the man who will begin to fight against the Ammonites? [c]He shall be head over all the inhabitants of Gilead.”

Jephthah Delivers Israel

JUDGES 11 [†]Now [d]Jephthah the Gileadite was [e]a mighty warrior, but he was the son of a prostitute. Gilead was the father of Jephthah. [2]And Gilead’s wife also bore him sons. And when his wife’s sons grew up, they drove Jephthah out and said to him, “You shall not have an inheritance in our father’s house, for you are the son of another woman.” [3]Then Jephthah fled from his brothers and lived in the land of [f]Tob, and [g]worthless fellows collected around Jephthah and went out with him.

[4]After a time the Ammonites made war against Israel. [5]And when the Ammonites made war against Israel, the elders of Gilead went to bring Jephthah from the land of [f]Tob. [6][†]And they said to Jephthah, “Come and be our leader, that we may fight against the Ammonites.” [7]But Jephthah said to the elders of Gilead, “Did you not hate me and drive me out of my father’s house? Why have you come to me now when you are in distress?” [8][†]And the elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, “That is why we have turned to you now, that you may go with us and fight against the Ammonites and [h]be our head over all the inhabitants of Gilead.” [9]Jephthah said to the elders of Gilead, “If you bring me home again to fight against the Ammonites, and the Lord gives them over to me, I will be your head.” [10]And the elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, [i]“The Lord will be witness between us, if we do not do as you say.” [11][†]So Jephthah went with the elders of Gilead, and the people [j]made him head and leader over them. And Jephthah spoke all his words [k]before the Lord at [l]Mizpah.

[12][†]Then Jephthah sent messengers to the king of the Ammonites and said, “What do you have against me, that you have come to me to fight against my land?” [13]And the king of the Ammonites answered the messengers of Jephthah, [m]“Because Israel on coming up from Egypt took away my land, from the [n]Arnon to the [o]Jabbok and to the Jordan; now therefore restore it peaceably.” [14]Jephthah again sent messengers to the king of the Ammonites [15]and said to him, “Thus says Jephthah: [p]Israel did not take away the land of Moab or the land of the Ammonites, [16]but when they came up from Egypt, Israel went through the wilderness [q]to the Red Sea and [r]came to Kadesh. [17][†] [s]Israel then sent messengers to the king of Edom, saying, ‘Please let us pass through your land,’ [t]but the king of Edom would not listen. And they sent also to the king of Moab, but he would not consent. So Israel [u]remained at Kadesh.

[18]“Then they journeyed through the wilderness and [v]went around the land of Edom and the land of Moab and [w]arrived on the east side of the land of Moab and [x]camped on the other side of the Arnon. But they did not enter the territory of Moab, for the Arnon was the boundary of Moab. [19] [y]Israel then sent messengers to Sihon king of the Amorites, king of Heshbon, and Israel said to him, ‘Please let us pass through your land to our country,’ [20]but Sihon did not trust Israel to pass through his territory, so Sihon gathered all his people together and encamped at Jahaz and fought with Israel. [21]And the Lord, the God of Israel, gave Sihon and all his people into the hand of Israel, and they defeated them. So Israel took possession of all the land of the Amorites, who inhabited that country. [22]And they took possession of all the territory of the Amorites from the Arnon to the Jabbok and from the wilderness to the Jordan. [23]So then the Lord, the God of Israel, dispossessed the Amorites from before his people Israel; and are you to take possession of them? [24][†]Will you not possess what [z]Chemosh your god gives you to possess? [a]And all that the Lord our God has dispossessed before us, we will possess. [25]Now are you any better than [b]Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab? Did he ever contend against Israel, or did he ever go to war with them? [26]While Israel lived [c]in Heshbon and its villages, and [d]in Aroer and its villages, and in all the cities that are on the banks of the Arnon, 300 years, why did you not deliver them within that time? 27 I therefore have not sinned against you, and you do me wrong by making war on me. [e] The LORD, the Judge, decide this day between the people of Israel and the people of Ammon." 28 But the king of the Ammonites did not listen to the words of Jephthah that he sent to him.

Jephthah's Tragic Vow

29 [†] [f] Then the Spirit of the LORD was upon Jephthah, and he passed through Gilead and Manasseh and passed on to Mizpah of Gilead, and from Mizpah of Gilead he passed on to the Ammonites. 30 And Jephthah [g] made a vow to the LORD and said, "If you will give the Ammonites into my hand, 31 [†] then whatever [1] comes out from the doors of my house to meet me when I return in peace from the Ammonites [h] shall be the LORD's, and [i] I will offer it [2] up for a burnt offering." 32 So Jephthah crossed over to the Ammonites to fight against them, and the LORD gave them into his hand. 33 And he struck them from Aroer to the neighborhood of [j] Minnith, twenty cities, and as far as Abel-keramim, with a great blow. So the Ammonites were subdued before the people of Israel.

34 Then Jephthah came to his home at [k] Mizpah. And behold, his daughter came out to meet him [l] with tambourines and with dances. She was his only child; besides her he had neither son nor daughter. 35 [†] And as soon as he saw her, he tore his clothes and said, "Alas, my daughter! You have brought me very low, and you have become the cause of great trouble to me. For I have opened my mouth to the LORD, [m] and I cannot take back my vow." 36 And she said to him, "My father, you have opened your mouth to the LORD; do to me according to what has gone out of your mouth, now that the LORD has avenged you on your enemies, on the Ammonites." 37 So she said to her father, "Let this thing be done for me: leave me alone two months, that I may go up and down on the mountains and weep for my virginity, I and my companions." 38 So he said, "Go." Then he sent her away for two months, and she departed, she and her companions, and wept for her virginity on the mountains. 39 [†] And at the end of two months, she returned to her father, [n] who did with her according to his vow that he had made. She had never known a man, and it became a custom in Israel 40 that the daughters of Israel went year by year to lament the daughter of Jephthah the Gileadite four days in the year.

Jephthah’s Conflict with Ephraim

JUDGES 12 [†] [o] The men of Ephraim were called to arms, and they crossed to Zaphon and said to Jephthah, “Why did you cross over to fight against the Ammonites and did not call us to go with you? We will burn your house over you with fire.” [2] And Jephthah said to them, “I and my people had a great dispute with the Ammonites, and when I called you, you did not save me from their hand. [3] And when I saw that you would not save me, [p] I took my life in my hand and crossed over against the Ammonites, and the LORD gave them into my hand. Why then have you come up to me this day to fight against me?” [4] Then Jephthah gathered all the men of Gilead and fought with Ephraim. And the men of Gilead struck Ephraim, because they said, [q] “You are fugitives of Ephraim, you Gileadites, in the midst of Ephraim and Manasseh.” [5] And the Gileadites captured [r] the fords of the Jordan against the Ephraimites. And when any of the fugitives of Ephraim said, “Let me go over,” the men of Gilead said to him, “Are you an Ephraimite?” When he said, “No,” [6] [†] they said to him, “Then say Shibboleth,” and he said, “Sibboleth,” for he could not pronounce it right. Then they seized him and slaughtered him at [r] the fords of the Jordan. At that time 42,000 of the Ephraimites fell.

[7] Jephthah judged Israel six years. Then Jephthah the Gileadite died and was buried in his city in Gilead. [1]

Ibzan, Elon, and Abdon

[8] [†] After him Ibzan of Bethlehem judged Israel. [9] He had thirty sons, and thirty daughters he gave in marriage outside his clan, and thirty daughters he brought in from outside for his sons. And he judged Israel seven years. [10] Then Ibzan died and was buried at Bethlehem.

[11] [†] After him Elon the Zebulunite judged Israel, and he judged Israel ten years. [12] Then Elon the Zebulunite died and was buried at Aijalon in the land of Zebulun.

[13][†]After him Abdon the son of Hillel the Pirathonite judged Israel. [14]He had forty [s]sons and thirty grandsons, who [t]rode on seventy donkeys, and he judged Israel eight years. [15]Then Abdon the son of Hillel the Pirathonite died and was buried at Pirathon in the land of Ephraim, in the hill country of the Amalekites.

The Birth of Samson

JUDGES 13 [†]And the people of Israel again [u]did what was evil in the sight of the LORD, so the LORD gave them [v]into the hand of the Philistines for forty years.

[2]There was a certain man of [w]Zorah, of the tribe of the Danites, whose name was Manoah. [x]And his wife was barren and had no children. [3][†][y]And the angel of the LORD appeared to the woman and said to her, "Behold, you are barren and have not borne children, but you shall conceive and bear a son. [4]Therefore be careful [z]and drink no wine or strong drink, and eat nothing unclean, [5][†]for behold, you shall conceive and bear a son. [a]No razor shall come upon his head, for the child shall be [z]a Nazirite to God from the womb, and he shall [b]begin to save Israel from the hand of the Philistines." [6][†]Then the woman came and told her husband, [c]"A man of God came to me, and his appearance was like the appearance of the angel of God, very awesome. [d]I did not ask him where he was from, and he did not tell me his name, [7]but he said to me, [e]'Behold, you shall conceive and bear a son. So then drink no wine or strong drink, and eat nothing unclean, for the child shall be a Nazirite to God from the womb to the day of his death.'"

[8]Then Manoah prayed to the LORD and said, "O Lord, please let the man of God whom you sent come again to us and teach us what we are to do with the child who will be born." [9]And God listened to the voice of Manoah, and the angel of God came again to the woman as she sat in the field. But Manoah her husband was not with her. [10]So the woman ran quickly and told her husband, "Behold, the man who came to me the other day has appeared to me." [11]And Manoah arose and went after his wife and came to the man and said to him, "Are you the man who spoke to this woman?" And he said, "I am." [12]And Manoah said, "Now when your words come true, [f]what is to be the child's manner of life, and what is his mission?” [13]And the angel of the LORD said to Manoah, “Of all that I said to the woman let her be careful. [14]She may not eat of anything that comes from the vine, [g]neither let her drink wine or strong drink, or eat any unclean thing. All that I commanded her let her observe.”

[15]Manoah said to the angel of the LORD, “Please let us detain you and [h]prepare a young goat for you.” [16]And the angel of the LORD said to Manoah, “If you detain me, I will not eat of your food. But if you prepare a burnt offering, then offer it to the LORD.” (For Manoah did not know that he was the angel of the LORD.) [17]And Manoah said to the angel of the LORD, [i]“What is your name, so that, when your words come true, we may honor you?” [18][†]And the angel of the LORD said to him, [j]“Why do you ask my name, seeing [k]it is wonderful?” [19]So [l]Manoah took the young goat with the grain offering, and offered it on the rock to the LORD, to the one who works [1] wonders, and Manoah and his wife were watching. [20]And when the flame went up toward heaven from the altar, the angel of the LORD went up in the flame of the altar. Now Manoah and his wife were watching, [m]and they fell on their faces to the ground.

[21]The angel of the LORD appeared no more to Manoah and to his wife. [n]Then Manoah knew that he was the angel of the LORD. [22][†]And Manoah said to his wife, [n]“We shall surely die, for we have seen God.” [23]But his wife said to him, “If the LORD had meant to kill us, he would not have accepted a burnt offering and a grain offering at our hands, or shown us all these things, or now announced to us such things as these.” [24]And the woman bore a son and called his name Samson. [o]And the young man grew, and the LORD blessed him. [25][†][p]And the Spirit of the LORD began to stir him in Mahaneh-dan, between [q]Zorah and Eshtaol.

Samson’s Marriage

JUDGES 14 [†][r]Samson went down to [s]Timnah, and at Timnah he saw one of the daughters of the Philistines. [2][†]Then he came up and told his father and mother, “I saw one of the daughters of the Philistines at Timnah. [t]Now get her for me as my wife.” [3]But his father and mother said to him, “Is there not a woman among the daughters [u]of your relatives, or among all our people, that you must go to take a wife from the [v]uncircumcised Philistines?” But Samson said to his father, “Get her for me, for she is right in my eyes.”

[4] [†]His father and mother did not know that it was [w] from the LORD, for he was seeking an opportunity against the Philistines. [x] At that time the Philistines ruled over Israel.

[5] Then Samson went down with his father and mother to Timnah, and they came to the vineyards of Timnah. And behold, a young lion came toward him roaring. [6] [†] [y] Then the Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him, and although he had nothing in his hand, he tore the lion in pieces as one tears a young goat. But he did not tell his father or his mother what he had done. [7] Then he went down and talked with the woman, and she was right in Samson’s eyes.

[8] [†]After some days he returned to take her. And he turned aside to see the carcass of the lion, and behold, there was a swarm of bees in the body of the lion, and honey. [9] He scraped it out into his hands and went on, eating as he went. And he came to his father and mother and gave some to them, and they ate. But he did not tell them that he had scraped the honey from the carcass of the lion.

[10] [†]His father went down to the woman, and Samson prepared a feast there, for so the young men used to do. [11] As soon as the people saw him, they brought thirty companions to be with him. [12] And Samson said to them, [z] “Let me now put a riddle to you. If you can tell me what it is, within [a] the seven days of the feast, and find it out, then I will give you thirty linen garments and thirty [b] changes of clothes, [13] but if you cannot tell me what it is, then you shall give me thirty linen garments and thirty changes of clothes.” And they said to him, “Put your riddle, that we may hear it.” [14] And he said to them,

“Out of the eater came something to eat.
Out of the strong came something sweet.”

And in three days they could not solve the riddle.

[15] [†]On the fourth [1] day they said to Samson’s wife, [c] “Entice your husband to tell us what the riddle is, [d] lest we burn you and your father’s house with fire. Have you invited us here to impoverish us?” [16] And Samson's wife wept over him and said, [e]"You only hate me; you do not love me. You have put a riddle to my people, and you have not told me what it is." And he said to her, "Behold, I have not told my father nor my mother, and shall I tell you?" [17]She wept before him the seven days that their feast lasted, and on the seventh day he told her, because [f]she pressed him hard. Then she told the riddle to her people. [18][†]And the men of the city said to him on the seventh day before the sun went down,

"What is sweeter than honey?
What is stronger than a lion?"

And he said to them,

"If you had not plowed with my heifer, you would not have found out my riddle."

[19][g]And the Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him, and he went down to [h]Ashkelon and struck down thirty men of the town and took their spoil and gave the garments to those who had told the riddle. In hot anger he went back to his father's house. [20]And Samson's wife was given to [i]his companion, [j]who had been his best man.

Samson Defeats the Philistines

JUDGES 15 After some days, at the time of wheat harvest, Samson went to visit his wife with [k] a young goat. And he said, “I will go in to my wife in the chamber.” But her father would not allow him to go in. [2]And her father said, “I really thought that you utterly hated her, [l] so I gave her to your companion. Is not her younger sister more beautiful than she? Please take her instead.” [3]And Samson said to them, “This time I shall be innocent in regard to the Philistines, when I do them harm.” [4][†]So Samson went and caught 300 foxes and took torches. And he turned them tail to tail and put a torch between each pair of tails. [5]And when he had set fire to the torches, he let the foxes go into the standing grain of the Philistines and set fire to the stacked grain and the standing grain, as well as the olive orchards. [6]Then the Philistines said, “Who has done this?” And they said, “Samson, the son-in-law of the Timnite, because he has taken his wife [m] and given her to his companion.” And the Philistines came up and [n] burned her and her father with fire. [7]And Samson said to them, “If this is what you do, I swear I will be avenged on you, and after that I will quit.” [8][†]And he struck them hip and thigh with a great blow, and he went down and stayed in the [o] cleft of the rock of Etam.

[9]Then the Philistines came up and encamped in Judah and [p] made a raid on [q] Lehi. [10]And the men of Judah said, “Why have you come up against us?” They said, “We have come up to bind Samson, to do to him as he did to us.” [11]Then 3,000 men of Judah went down to the cleft of the rock of Etam, and said to Samson, “Do you not know that [r] the Philistines are rulers over us? What then is this that you have done to us?” And he said to them, “As they did to me, so have I done to them.” [12]And they said to him, “We have come down to bind you, that we may give you into the hands of the Philistines.” And Samson said to them, “Swear to me that you will not attack me yourselves.” [13]They said to him, “No; we will only bind you and give you into their hands. We will surely not kill you.” So they bound him with two [s] new ropes and brought him up from the rock.

[14][†]When he came to Lehi, the Philistines came shouting to meet him. [t] Then the Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him, and the ropes that were on his arms became as flax that has caught fire, and his bonds melted off his hands. 15And he found a fresh jawbone of a donkey, and put out his hand and took it, [u]and with it he struck 1,000 men. 16And Samson said,

“With the jawbone of a donkey,
  heaps upon heaps,
with the jawbone of a donkey
  have I struck down a thousand men.”

17As soon as he had finished speaking, he threw away the jawbone out of his hand. And that place [v]was called Ramath-lehi. [1]

18[†]And he was very thirsty, and he called upon the LORD and said, [w]“You have granted this great salvation by the hand of your servant, and shall I now die of thirst and fall into the hands of the uncircumcised?” 19And God split open the hollow place that is [v]at Lehi, and water came out from it. And when he drank, [x]his spirit returned, and he revived. Therefore the name of it was called En-hakkore; [2] it is at Lehi to this day. 20And he judged Israel [y]in the days of the Philistines twenty years.

Samson and Delilah

JUDGES 16 [†]Samson went to [z]Gaza, and there he saw a prostitute, and he went in to her. 2[†]The Gazites were told, “Samson has come here.” And they [a]surrounded the place and set an ambush for him all night at the gate of the city. They kept quiet all night, saying, “Let us wait till the light of the morning; then we will kill him.” 3But Samson lay till midnight, and at midnight he arose and took hold of the doors of the gate of the city and the two posts, and pulled them up, bar and all, and put them on his shoulders and carried them to the top of the hill that is in front of Hebron.

4[†]After this he loved a woman in the Valley of Sorek, whose name was Delilah. 5And [b]the lords of the Philistines came up to her and said to her, [c]“Seduce him, and see where his great strength lies, and by what means we may overpower him, that we may bind him to [d]humble him. And we will each give you 1,100 pieces of silver.” 6So Delilah said to Samson, “Please tell me where your great strength lies, and how you might be bound, that one could [d] subdue you.”

[7][†]Samson said to her, “If they bind me with seven fresh bowstrings that have not been dried, [e] then I shall become weak and be like any other man.” [8]Then the lords of the Philistines brought up to her seven fresh bowstrings that had not been dried, and she bound him with them. [9]Now she had men lying in ambush in an inner chamber. And she said to him, “The Philistines are upon you, Samson!” But he snapped the bowstrings, as a thread of flax snaps when it touches the fire. So the secret of his strength was not known.

[10]Then Delilah said to Samson, “Behold, you have mocked me and told me lies. Please tell me how you might be bound.” [11][†]And he said to her, “If they bind me with [f] new ropes that have not been used, then I shall become weak and be like any other man.” [12]So Delilah took new ropes and bound him with them and said to him, “The Philistines are upon you, Samson!” And the men lying in ambush were in an inner chamber. But he snapped the ropes off his arms like a thread.

[13][†]Then Delilah said to Samson, “Until now you have mocked me and told me lies. Tell me how you might be bound.” And he said to her, “If you weave the seven locks of my head with the web and fasten it tight with the pin, then I shall become weak and be like any other man.” [14]So while he slept, Delilah took the seven locks of his head and wove them into the web. [1] And she made them tight with the pin and said to him, “The Philistines are upon you, Samson!” But he awoke from his sleep and pulled away the pin, the loom, and the web.

[15]And she said to him, [g] “How can you say, ‘I love you,’ when your heart is not with me? You have mocked me these three times, and you have not told me where your great strength lies.” [16][†]And [h] when she pressed him hard with her words day after day, and urged him, his soul was vexed to death. [17]And he told her all his heart, and said to her, [i] “A razor has never come upon my head, for I have been a Nazirite to God from my mother’s womb. If my head is shaved, then my strength will leave me, and I shall become weak and be like any other man.”

[18][†]When Delilah saw that he had told her all his heart, she sent and called the lords of the Philistines, saying, “Come up again, for he has told me all his heart.” Then the lords of the Philistines came up to her and brought [j] the money in their hands. [19]She made him sleep on her knees. And she called a man and had him shave off the seven locks of his head. Then she began [k] to torment him, and his strength left him. [20][†]And she said, “The Philistines are upon you, Samson!” And he awoke from his sleep and said, “I will go out as at other times and shake myself free.” But he did not know that [l] the LORD had left him. [21]And the Philistines seized him and gouged out his eyes and brought him down to Gaza and bound him with bronze shackles. [m] And he ground at the mill in the prison. [22][†]But the hair of his head began to grow again after it had been shaved.

The Death of Samson

[23]Now the lords of the Philistines gathered to offer a great sacrifice to [n] Dagon their god and to rejoice, and they said, “Our god has given Samson our enemy into our hand.” [24]And when the people saw him, [o] they praised their god. For they said, “Our god has given our enemy into our hand, the ravager of our country, who has killed many of us.” [2] [25]And [p] when their hearts were merry, they said, “Call Samson, that he may entertain us.” So they called Samson out of the prison, and he entertained them. They made him stand between the pillars. [26]And Samson said to the young man who held him by the hand, “Let me feel the pillars on which the house rests, that I may lean against them.” [27]Now the house was full of men and women. All the lords of the Philistines were there, and [q] on the roof there were about 3,000 men and women, who looked on while Samson entertained.

[28][†]Then Samson called to the LORD and said, “O Lord GOD, [r] please remember me and please strengthen me only this once, O God, that I may be avenged on the Philistines for my two eyes.” [29]And Samson grasped the two middle pillars on which the house rested, and he leaned his weight against them, his right hand on the one and his left hand on the other. [30]And Samson said, “Let me die with the Philistines.” Then he bowed with all his strength, and the house fell upon the lords and upon all the people who were in it. So the dead whom he killed at his death were more than those whom he had killed during his life. [31][†]Then his brothers and all his family came down and took him and brought him up and buried him [s] between Zorah and Eshtaol in the tomb of Manoah his father. He had judged Israel twenty years.

Micah and the Levite

JUDGES 17 [†]There was a man of [t] the hill country of Ephraim, whose name was Micah. 2And he said to his mother, “The 1,100 pieces of silver that were taken from you, about which you uttered a curse, and also spoke it in my ears, behold, the silver is with me; I took it.” And his mother said, [u] “Blessed be my son by the LORD.” 3[†]And he restored the 1,100 pieces of silver to his mother. And his mother said, “I dedicate the silver to the LORD from my hand for my son, to make [v] a carved image and [w] a metal image. Now therefore I will restore it to you.” 4So when he restored the money to his mother, his mother [x] took 200 pieces of silver and gave it to the silversmith, who made it into a carved image and a metal image. And it was in the house of Micah. 5[†]And the man Micah had a shrine, and he made [y] an ephod and [z] household gods, and [a] ordained [1] one of his sons, who became his priest. 6[†] [b] In those days there was no king in Israel. [c] Everyone did what was right in his own eyes.

7Now there was a young man of [d] Bethlehem in Judah, of the family of Judah, who was a Levite, and he sojourned there. 8And the man departed from the town of Bethlehem in Judah to sojourn where he could find a place. And as he journeyed, he came to [e] the hill country of Ephraim to the house of Micah. 9[†]And Micah said to him, “Where do you come from?” And he said to him, “I am a Levite of Bethlehem in Judah, and I am going to sojourn where I may find a place.” 10And Micah said to him, “Stay with me, and be to me [f] a father and a priest, and I will give you ten pieces of silver a year and a suit of clothes and your living.” And the Levite went in. 11And the Levite [g] was content to dwell with the man, and the young man became to him like one of his sons. 12And Micah [h] ordained the Levite, and the young man [i] became his priest, and was in the house of Micah. 13Then Micah said, “Now I know that the LORD will prosper me, because I have a Levite as priest.”

Danites Take the Levite and the Idol

JUDGES 18 [†][j] In those days there was no king in Israel. And in those days [k] the tribe of the people of Dan was seeking for itself an inheritance to dwell in, for until then no inheritance among the tribes of Israel had fallen to them. [2][†]So the people of Dan sent five able men from the whole number of their tribe, [l]from Zorah and from Eshtaol, [m]to spy out the land and to explore it. And they said to them, “Go and explore the land.” And they came [n]to the hill country of Ephraim, to the house of Micah, and lodged there. [3]When they were by the house of Micah, they recognized the voice of the young Levite. And they turned aside and said to him, “Who brought you here? What are you doing in this place? What is your business here?” [4]And he said to them, “This is how Micah dealt with me: [o]he has hired me, and I have become his priest.” [5][†]And they said to him, [p]“Inquire of God, please, that we may know whether the journey on which we are setting out will succeed.” [6]And the priest said to them, [q]“Go in peace. The journey on which you go is under the eye of the LORD.”

[7][†]Then the five men departed and came to [r]Laish and saw the people who were there, how they lived in security, after the manner of the Sidonians, [s]quiet and unsuspecting, lacking [1] nothing that is in the earth and possessing wealth, and how [t]they were far from the Sidonians and had no dealings with anyone. [8]And when they came to their brothers at [u]Zorah and Eshtaol, their brothers said to them, “What do you report?” [9]They said, [v]“Arise, and let us go up against them, for we have seen the land, and behold, it is very good. [w]And will you do nothing? [x]Do not be slow to go, to enter in and possess the land. [10]As soon as you go, you will come to an [y]unsuspecting people. The land is spacious, for God has given it into your hands, [z]a place where there is no lack of anything that is in the earth.”

[11]So 600 men of the tribe of Dan, [a]armed with weapons of war, set out from Zorah and Eshtaol, [12][†]and went up and encamped at Kiriath-jearim in Judah. On this account that place is called [b]Mahaneh-dan [2] to this day; behold, it is west of [c]Kiriath-jearim. [13]And they passed on from there to [d]the hill country of Ephraim, and came to the house of Micah.

[14][†]Then the five men who had gone to scout out the country of Laish said to their brothers, “Do you know that [e]in these houses there are an ephod, household gods, a carved image, and a metal image? Now therefore consider what you will do.” [15]And they turned aside there and came to the house of the young Levite, at the home of Micah, and [f]asked him about his welfare. [16]Now the 600 men of the Danites, [g]armed with their weapons of war, stood by the entrance of the gate. [17]And [h]the five men who had gone to scout out the land went up and entered and took [i]the carved image, the ephod, the household gods, and the metal image, while the priest stood by the entrance of the gate with the 600 men armed with weapons of war. [18]And when these went into Micah’s house and took [i]the carved image, the ephod, the household gods, and the metal image, the priest said to them, “What are you doing?” [19]And they said to him, “Keep quiet; [j]put your hand on your mouth and come with us and be to us [k]a father and a priest. Is it better for you to be priest to the house of one man, or to be priest to a tribe and clan in Israel?” [20]And the priest’s heart was glad. He took the ephod and the household gods and the carved image and went along with the people.

[21][†]So they turned and departed, putting the little ones and the livestock and [l]the goods in front of them. [22]When they had gone a distance from the home of Micah, the men who were in the houses near Micah’s house were called out, and they overtook the people of Dan. [23]And they shouted to the people of Dan, who turned around and said to Micah, “What is the matter with you, that you come with such a company?” [24]And he said, [m]“You take my gods that I made and the priest, and go away, and what have I left? How then do you ask me, ‘What is the matter with you?’” [25]And the people of Dan said to him, “Do not let your voice be heard among us, lest angry fellows fall upon you, and you lose your life with the lives of your household.” [26]Then the people of Dan went their way. And when Micah saw that they were too strong for him, he turned and went back to his home.

[27]But the people of Dan took what Micah had made, and the priest who belonged to him, and they came to Laish, to a people [n]quiet and unsuspecting, and [o]struck them with the edge of the sword and burned the city with fire. [28]And there was no deliverer because it was [p]far from Sidon, and they had no dealings with anyone. It was in the valley that belongs to [q]Beth-rehob. Then they rebuilt the city and lived in it. [29]And they named the city [r]Dan, after the name of Dan their ancestor, who was born to Israel; but [s]the name of the city was Laish at the first. [30][†]And the people of Dan set up the carved image for themselves, and Jonathan the son of Gershom, [t]son of Moses, [3] [u]and his sons were priests to the tribe of the Danites until the day [v] of the captivity of the land. [31]So they set up Micah’s carved image that he made, [w] as long as the house of God was at Shiloh.

A Levite and His Concubine

JUDGES 19 [†]In those days, [x] when there was no king in Israel, a certain Levite was sojourning in the remote parts of [y] the hill country of Ephraim, who took to himself a concubine from [z] Bethlehem in Judah. [2]And his concubine was unfaithful to [1] him, and she went away from him to her father’s house at Bethlehem in Judah, and was there some four months. [3][†]Then her husband arose and went after her, to speak kindly to her and bring her back. He had with him his servant and a couple of donkeys. And she brought him into her father’s house. And when the girl’s father saw him, he came with joy to meet him. [4]And his father-in-law, the girl’s father, made him stay, and he remained with him three days. So they ate and drank and spent the night there. [5]And on the fourth day they arose early in the morning, and he prepared to go, but the girl’s father said to his son-in-law, [a] “Strengthen your heart with a morsel of bread, and after that you may go.” [6]So the two of them sat and ate and drank together. And the girl’s father said to the man, “Be pleased to spend the night, and [b] let your heart be merry.” [7]And when the man rose up to go, his father-in-law pressed him, till he spent the night there again. [8]And on the fifth day he arose early in the morning to depart. And the girl’s father said, [c] “Strengthen your heart and wait until the day declines.” So they ate, both of them. [9]And when the man and his concubine and his servant rose up to depart, his father-in-law, the girl’s father, said to him, “Behold, now the day has waned toward evening. Please, spend the night. Behold, the day draws to its close. Lodge here and let your heart be merry, and tomorrow you shall arise early in the morning for your journey, and go home.”

[10][†]But the man would not spend the night. He rose up and departed and arrived opposite [d] Jebus (that is, Jerusalem). He had with him a couple of saddled donkeys, and his concubine was with him. [11]When they were near Jebus, the day was nearly over, and the servant said to his master, “Come now, let us turn aside to this city of the Jebusites and spend the night in it.” [12]And his master said to him, “We will not turn aside into the city of foreigners, who do not belong to the people of Israel, but we will pass on to [e]Gibeah.” [13]And he said to his young man, “Come and let us draw near to one of these places and spend the night at Gibeah or at [f]Ramah.” [14]So they passed on and went their way. And the sun went down on them near Gibeah, which belongs to Benjamin, [15]and they turned aside there, to go in and spend the night at Gibeah. And he went in and sat down in the open square of the city, [g]for no one took them into his house to spend the night.

[16][†]And behold, an old man was coming from his work in the field at evening. The man was from [h]the hill country of Ephraim, and he was sojourning in Gibeah. [i]The men of the place were Benjaminites. [17]And he lifted up his eyes and saw the traveler in the open square of the city. And the old man said, “Where are you going? And where do you come from?” [18]And he said to him, “We are passing from Bethlehem in Judah to the remote parts of the hill country of Ephraim, from which I come. I went to Bethlehem in Judah, and I am going [j]to the house of the Lord,[2] [g]but no one has taken me into his house. [19]We have straw and feed for our donkeys, with bread and wine for me and your female servant and the young man with your servants. [k]There is no lack of anything.” [20]And the old man said, [l]“Peace be to you; I will care for all your wants. [m]Only, do not spend the night in the square.” [21]So he brought him into his house and gave the donkeys feed. [n]And they washed their feet, and ate and drank.

Gibeah’s Crime

[22][†]As they were [o]making their hearts merry, behold, the men of the city, worthless fellows, [p]surrounded the house, beating on the door. And they said to the old man, the master of the house, “Bring out the man who came into your house, that we may know him.” [23]And the man, the master of the house, went out to them and said to them, “No, my brothers, [q]do not act so wickedly; since this man has come into my house, [r]do not do this vile thing. [24][s]Behold, here are my virgin daughter and his concubine. Let me bring them out now. [t]Violate them and do with them what seems good to you, but against this man [r]do not do this outrageous thing.” [25]But the men would not listen to him. So the man seized his concubine and made her go out to them. And they knew her and abused her all night until the morning.

And as the dawn began to break, they let her go. [26]And as morning appeared, the woman came and fell down at the door of the man’s house where her master was, until it was light.

[27][†]And her master rose up in the morning, and when he opened the doors of the house and went out to go on his way, behold, there was his concubine lying at the door of the house, with her hands on the threshold. [28]He said to her, “Get up, let us be going.” [u]But there was no answer. Then he put her on the donkey, and the man rose up and went away to his home. [29]And when he entered his house, he took a knife, and taking hold of his concubine he [v]divided her, limb by limb, into twelve pieces, and sent her throughout all the territory of Israel. [30][w]And all who saw it said, “Such a thing has never happened or been seen from the day that the people of Israel came up out of the land of Egypt until this day; [x]consider it, take counsel, and speak.”

Israel’s War with the Tribe of Benjamin

JUDGES 20 [†]Then [y]all the people of Israel came out, [z]from Dan to Beersheba, including the land of Gilead, and the congregation assembled as one man to the LORD at [a]Mizpah. [2]And the [b]chiefs of all the people, of all the tribes of Israel, presented themselves in the assembly of the people of God, 400,000 men on foot [c]that drew the sword. [3](Now the people of Benjamin heard that the people of Israel had gone up to Mizpah.) And the people of Israel said, “Tell us, how did this evil happen?” [4]And the Levite, the husband of the woman who was murdered, answered and said, [d]“I came to Gibeah that belongs to Benjamin, I and my concubine, to spend the night. [5][e]And the leaders of Gibeah rose against me and surrounded the house against me by night. They meant to kill me, and they violated my concubine, and she is dead. [6][f]So I took hold of my concubine and cut her in pieces and sent her throughout all the country of the inheritance of Israel, for they have committed abomination and [g]outrage in Israel. [7]Behold, you people of Israel, all of you, [h]give your advice and counsel here.”

[8]And all the people arose as one man, saying, “None of us will go to his tent, and none of us will return to his house. [9][†]But now this is what we will do to Gibeah: we will go up against it by lot, [10]and we will take ten men of a hundred throughout all the tribes of Israel, and a hundred of a thousand, and a thousand of ten thousand, to bring provisions for the people, that when they come they may repay Gibeah of Benjamin, for all the outrage that they have committed in Israel.” [11]So all the men of Israel gathered against the city, united as one man.

[12][†] [i] And the tribes of Israel sent men through all the tribe of Benjamin, saying, “What evil is this that has taken place among you? [13]Now therefore give up the men, [j] the worthless fellows in Gibeah, that we may put them to death [k] and purge evil from Israel.” But the Benjaminites would not listen to the voice of their brothers, the people of Israel. [14]Then the people of Benjamin came together out of the cities to Gibeah to go out to battle against the people of Israel. [15][†]And the people of Benjamin mustered out of their cities on that day [l] 26,000 men [m] who drew the sword, besides the inhabitants of Gibeah, who mustered 700 chosen men. [16]Among all these were 700 chosen men who were [n] left-handed; every one could sling a stone at a hair and not miss. [17]And the men of Israel, apart from Benjamin, mustered [m] 400,000 men who drew the sword; all these were men of war.

[18][†]The people of Israel arose and went up to [o] Bethel and inquired of God, [p] “Who shall go up first for us to fight against the people of Benjamin?” And the Lord said, [p] “Judah shall go up first.”

[19]Then the people of Israel rose in the morning and encamped against Gibeah. [20]And the men of Israel went out to fight against Benjamin, and the men of Israel drew up the battle line against them at Gibeah. [21] [q] The people of Benjamin came out of Gibeah and destroyed on that day 22,000 men of the Israelites. [22]But the people, the men of Israel, took courage, and again formed the battle line in the same place where they had formed it on the first day. [23] [r] And the people of Israel went up and wept before the Lord until the evening. And they inquired of the Lord, “Shall we again draw near to fight against our brothers, the people of Benjamin?” And the Lord said, “Go up against them.”

[24]So the people of Israel came near against the people of Benjamin the second day. [25][†]And Benjamin [s] went against them out of Gibeah the second day, and destroyed 18,000 men of the people of Israel. All these were men who [t] drew the sword. [26]Then all the people of Israel, the whole army, went up and came to [u]Bethel and wept. They sat there before the Lord and fasted that day until evening, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the Lord. [27]And the people of Israel inquired of the Lord [v](for the ark of the covenant of God was there in those days, [28][†]and [w]Phinehas the son of Eleazar, son of Aaron, [x]ministered before it in those days), saying, “Shall we go out once more to battle against our brothers, the people of Benjamin, or shall we cease?” And the Lord said, “Go up, for tomorrow I will give them into your hand.”

[29] [y]So Israel set men in ambush around Gibeah. [30]And the people of Israel went up against the people of Benjamin on the third day and set themselves in array against Gibeah, as at other times. [31]And the people of Benjamin went out against the people and were drawn away from the city. And as at other times they began to strike and kill some of the people in the highways, [z]one of which goes up to [a]Bethel and the other to Gibeah, and in the open country, about thirty men of Israel. [32]And the people of Benjamin said, [b]“They are routed before us, as at the first.” But the people of Israel said, “Let us flee and draw them away from the city to the highways.” [33]And all the men of Israel rose up out of their place and set themselves in array at Baal-tamar, and the men of Israel who were in ambush rushed out of their place from Maareh-geba. [1] [34]And there came against Gibeah 10,000 chosen men out of all Israel, and the battle was hard, [c]but the Benjaminites did not know that disaster was close upon them. [35]And the Lord defeated Benjamin before Israel, and the people of Israel destroyed 25,100 men of Benjamin that day. All these were men who [d]drew the sword. [36]So the people of Benjamin saw that they were defeated.

The men of Israel gave ground to Benjamin, because they trusted the men in ambush whom they had set against Gibeah. [37] [e]Then the men in ambush hurried and rushed against Gibeah; the men in ambush moved out and struck all the city with the edge of the sword. [38]Now the appointed signal between the men of Israel and the men in the main ambush was that when they made a great cloud of smoke rise up out of the city [39]the men of Israel should turn in battle. Now Benjamin had begun to strike and kill about thirty men of Israel. They said, [f]“Surely they are defeated before us, as in the first battle.” [40]But when the signal began to rise out of the city in a column of smoke, the Benjaminites looked behind them, and behold, [g]the whole of the city went up in smoke to heaven. [41]Then the men of Israel turned, and the men of Benjamin were dismayed, [h] for they saw that disaster was close upon them. [42]Therefore they turned their backs before the men of Israel in [i] the direction of the wilderness, but the battle overtook them. And those who came out of the cities were destroying them in their midst. [43]Surrounding the Benjaminites, they pursued them and trod them down from Nohah [2] as far as opposite Gibeah on the east. [44]Eighteen thousand men of Benjamin fell, all of them men of valor. [45]And they turned [i] and fled toward the wilderness to the rock of [j] Rimmon. Five thousand men of them were cut down in the highways. And they were pursued hard to Gidom, and 2,000 men of them were struck down. [46]So all who fell that day of Benjamin were 25,000 men who drew the sword, all of them men of valor. [47][†]But 600 men turned and [i] fled toward the wilderness to the rock of [j] Rimmon and remained at the rock of Rimmon four months. [48]And the men of Israel turned back against the people of Benjamin and struck them with the edge of the sword, the city, men and beasts and all that they found. And all the towns that they found they set on fire.

Wives Provided for the Tribe of Benjamin

JUDGES 21 [†]Now the men of Israel had sworn [k] at Mizpah, “No one of us shall give his daughter in marriage to Benjamin.” [2]And the people came to [l] Bethel and sat there till evening before God, and they lifted up their voices and wept bitterly. [3]And they said, “O LORD, the God of Israel, why has this happened in Israel, that today there should be one tribe lacking in Israel?” [4]And the next day the people rose early and [m] built there an altar and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. [5]And the people of Israel said, “Which of all the tribes of Israel did not come up in the assembly to the LORD?” [n] For they had taken a great oath concerning him who did not come up to the LORD to Mizpah, saying, “He shall surely be put to death.” [6]And the people of Israel [o] had compassion for Benjamin their brother and said, “One tribe is cut off from Israel this day. [7][p] What shall we do for wives for those who are left, since we have sworn by the LORD that we will not give them any of our daughters for wives?”

[8]And they said, “What one is there of the tribes of Israel that did not come up to the LORD to Mizpah?” And behold, no one had come to the camp from [q]Jabesh-gilead, to the assembly. [9]For when the people were mustered, behold, not one of the inhabitants of [q]Jabesh-gilead was there. [10][†]So the congregation sent 12,000 of their bravest men there and commanded them, [r]“Go and strike the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead with the edge of the sword; also the women and the little ones. [11]This is what you shall do: [s]every male and every woman that has lain with a male you shall devote to destruction.” [12]And they found among the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead 400 young virgins who had not known a man by lying with him, and they brought them to the camp at [t]Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan.

[13]Then the whole congregation sent word to the people of Benjamin who were at the [u]rock of Rimmon and [v]proclaimed peace to them. [14]And Benjamin returned at that time. And they gave them the women whom they had saved alive of the women of Jabesh-gilead, but they were not enough for them. [15]And the people [w]had compassion on Benjamin because the LORD had made a breach in the tribes of Israel.

[16]Then the elders of the congregation said, [x]“What shall we do for wives for those who are left, since the women are destroyed out of Benjamin?” [17]And they said, “There must be an inheritance for the survivors of Benjamin, that a tribe not be blotted out from Israel. [18]Yet we cannot give them wives from our daughters.” [y]For the people of Israel had sworn, “Cursed be he who gives a wife to Benjamin.” [19]So they said, “Behold, there is the yearly feast of the LORD at Shiloh, which is north of Bethel, on the east of [z]the highway that goes up from Bethel to Shechem, and south of Lebonah.” [20]And they commanded the people of Benjamin, saying, “Go and lie in ambush in the vineyards [21]and watch. If the daughters of Shiloh come out to [a]dance in the dances, then come out of the vineyards and snatch each man his wife from the daughters of Shiloh, and go to the land of Benjamin. [22]And when their fathers or their brothers come to complain to us, we will say to them, ‘Grant them graciously to us, because we did not take for each man of them his wife in battle, neither did you give them to them, else you would now be guilty.’” [23]And the people of Benjamin did so and took their wives, according to their number, from the dancers whom they carried off. Then they went and returned to their inheritance [b] and rebuilt the towns and lived in them. 24And the people of Israel departed from there at that time, every man to his tribe and family, and they went out from there every man to his inheritance.

25[†] [c] In those days there was no king in Israel. Everyone did what was right in his own eyes.

Study Notes for Judges

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:1–3:6 The Roots of Israel's Unfaithfulness. This introduction identifies the root causes and effects of Israel's wickedness. The pattern established here repeats throughout the book (3:7–16:31).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:1–2:5 Canaan was not completely conquered during Joshua's day, so military action continued (1:1–26). Several tribes had conquered only parts of their land (1:27–36).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:1 After the death of Joshua a new era begins, but no new leader is appointed. This will lead to disorder and wickedness.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:2–3 Judah shall go up. Judah had been destined for leadership in Israel since receiving Jacob's blessing (Gen. 49:8–12). Judah and Simeon were closely linked because both had the same mother (Gen. 29:33, 35). Simeon had inherited land in Judah's territory (see notes on Gen. 49:5–7; Josh. 19:1–9).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:5–7 Each city and town in Canaan had its own "king," such as Adoni-bezek, whose name means "Lord of Bezek." cut off his thumbs and his big toes. This would prevent him from ever engaging in battle again.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:8 Jerusalem lay between Judah and Benjamin. Neither tribe drove out its inhabitants completely (Josh. 15:63; Judg. 1:21).

FACT

Toes and Thumbs. Victors in ancient battles would often cut off the thumbs and toes of their foes (1:6–7). This would allow their enemies to live but would prevent them from ever participating in another battle.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:10–15 This passage (almost identical to Josh. 15:13–19) is probably a "flashback" to the earlier capture of Hebron and Debir.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:16 The Kenite, Moses' father-in-law was Jethro (Ex. 3:1). The Israelites and Kenites had been friendly during Israel's wilderness wanderings (Num. 10:29–32). city of palms. Another name for Jericho (2 Chron. 28:15).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:18 Gaza . . . Ashkelon . . . Ekron. Judah captured three of the major Philistine cities (Josh. 13:2–3). Later the cities returned to Philistine control (Judg. 14:19; 16:1; 1 Sam. 5:10).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:19 he could not drive out. The Israelites failed to drive out the Canaanites completely, as God had instructed (Josh. 6:17; 11:14). This was a main cause of Israel’s unfaithfulness (Judg. 2:11–3:6).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:22–36 After an initial success at Bethel (vv. 22–26), six tribes failed to drive out the Canaanites from their territories (vv. 27–36). This area included almost the entire northern two-thirds of the Promised Land. The Israelites were apparently satisfied with a comfortable home in a productive land. They were not eager to achieve God’s full purpose there.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:22 The house of Joseph. There was no tribe of Joseph. His inheritance had been split between his two sons, Ephraim and Manasseh (Gen. 48:5–6). Bethel means “the house of God.”

JUDGES—NOTE ON 1:34 Amorites were Canaanite peoples (see Josh. 3:10) living in the central hill country. They eventually forced the tribe of Dan to move northward (Josh. 19:47; Judg. 18:1).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:1 The angel of the LORD was God’s representative, speaking authoritatively to the people about their unfaithfulness (see note on Gen. 16:7). This angel may be the same one promised to Moses in Ex. 23:20–23, or it may have been an appearance of the Lord himself. I will never break my covenant. See Lev. 26:44; Ps. 89:34.

The Judges

Judge	Reference	Tribe	Oppressor	Period of Oppression	Period of Rest	Total Length of Time*
Othniel	3:7–11	Judah	Mesopotamians	8 years (3:8)	40 years (3:11)	48 years
Ehud	3:12–30	Benjamin	Moabites	18 years (3:14)	80 years (3:30)	98 years
Shamgar	3:31		Philistines
Deborah	chs. 4–5	Ephraim	Canaanites	20 years (4:3)	40 years (5:31)	60 years
Gideon	chs. 6–8	Manasseh	Midianites	7 years (6:1)	40 years (8:28)	47 years

Samson	chs. 13–16	Dan	Philistines	40 years (13:1)	20 years (15:20; 16:31)	60 years

*Added together, the dates in this column total about 410 years. However, many of the episodes in Judges overlap each other, unfolding in different parts of the land.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:2–3 Israel had disobeyed God’s commands. See Ex. 23:32; 34:12–13; Deut. 12:3. So these nations would be a snare to them (e.g., by pagan rituals; Judg. 8:27), just as God had warned (Ex. 23:33; Num. 33:55; Josh. 23:13).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:5 they sacrificed there. The Israelites were apparently upset by God’s threats (v. 4), and they responded by offering a sacrifice. If they were truly repenting of their sin, their repentance did not last long (see vv. 11–15).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:6–3:6 The recurring downward cycle of history presented in 2:16–23 is such that “whenever the judge died, they turned back and were more corrupt than their fathers” (2:19).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:6–10 Joshua had already died (1:1), but the repetition of information about Joshua introduces the rebellion to follow.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:11 the people of Israel did . . . evil. This clear statement about Israel’s wickedness recurs throughout the book (e.g., 3:7; 6:1; 13:1). It is also repeated many times in 1–2 Kings, regarding the kings of Israel and Judah (e.g., 1 Kings 15:26, 34; 2 Kings 21:2). Israel’s tendency throughout its history was to turn away from the Lord. Only God’s grace and the leadership of a few godly individuals kept Israel from complete paganism. served the Baals. See note on Judg. 3:7.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:13 Ashtaroth is the plural of Ashtoreth, a goddess of fertility, love, and war closely associated with Baal (10:6; 1 Sam. 12:10). Ashtoreth is also known by her Greek name Astarte and in Mesopotamian texts as Ishtar. She should not be confused with Asherah (plural Asheroth; see notes on Judg. 3:7; 6:25–26).

FACT

Ashtoreth was the goddess of fertility, love, and war in Canaanite culture. Canaanite legends portray her as Baal's wife or sister. She is also known by her Greek name, Astarte, and in Mesopotamian texts as Ishtar.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:15 as the LORD had sworn. See Deut. 28:25; Josh. 23:13.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:16 the LORD raised up judges. The judges' primary (though temporary) function was military. They were provided by the grace of God.

The Judges of Israel

c. 1375–1050/1210–1050 B.C.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:17 whored. Israel is described as committing adultery against God by following other gods (compare Ezekiel 16; 23; Hosea 1–3).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:18 moved to pity. Compare 1 Sam. 15:29, “have regret”; Jonah 3:10, “relented.” God graciously changed his course concerning the Israelites because of his compassion for their suffering (see Judg. 10:16).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 2:20 The term this people is normally reserved for pagans (e.g., vv. 21, 23; 3:1). Its use here shows the disgust God feels toward his people, whom he now regards as being just like the other nations.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:1 to test Israel. To see if Israel would truly follow the Lord (2:22; 3:4).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:3 Philistines belonged to the mercenary sea peoples, mentioned in Egyptian texts as early as the fourteenth century B.C.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:7–16:31 The Downward Spiral of Israel’s Unfaithfulness. The main part of the book of Judges shows how Israel fell increasingly into sin. It includes the stories of 12 judges raised up to deliver Israel from successive crises brought on by its unfaithfulness.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:7–11 This main section of the book begins by repeating much of 2:11–14.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:7 the Baals and the Asheroth. Baal was the most powerful god of the Canaanites. Asherah was a Canaanite goddess, a companion of El, the head of the Canaanite gods (see notes on 2:13; 6:25–26). At some point Baal may have replaced El as the most powerful Canaanite god. The use of the plural forms (Baals and Asheroth) shows that each was worshiped in multiple places.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:9–10 Othniel of Judah had captured the city of Kiriath-sepher and had become Caleb’s son-in-law (see 1:13). The Spirit of the Lord was upon him. See note on 14:6.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:12–30 The story of Ehud killing Eglon is graphic, highlighting the rough nature of this period and many of its “heroes.”

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:20 his cool roof chamber. In ancient cities, the coolest place in the house was on the roof.

FACT

Cool breezes were rare in the arid climate of ancient Israel. Usually the best place to feel a nice breeze was on the roof of the house. Roofs served many purposes. They provided a place to dry grain and fruit and to store the harvest. They were also a good place to sleep on hot summer nights.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 3:31 Shamgar, mentioned only here and in 5:6, is apparently Hurrian, not Israelite. His designation as "son of Anath" probably refers to the Canaanite warrior goddess Anath.

EHUD

The story of Ehud begins by saying that he was "a left-handed man" (3:15), and in fact the Lord used Ehud's left-handedness to defeat Israel's enemy. Ehud led a delegation to pay tribute to Eglon, king of Moab, who was ruling over Israel. Because he was left-handed, Ehud was able to conceal a sword on his right thigh, where it would not be expected. He then pretended to have a secret message for the king. While he was alone with King Eglon, Ehud killed him, then managed to escape before the king's servants realized what had happened. The graphic details in this account show the rough nature of this time in Israel's history and the earthy character of many of its "heroes." (Judges 3:28)

JUDGES—NOTE ON 4:1–5:31 The fourth judge, Deborah, distinguishes herself as the most godly of all the judges. Her actions and words consistently pointed to God, not away from him.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 4:1–3 Israel again did . . . evil. Compare 3:7–8, 12–14.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 4:4–5 Deborah is called a prophetess, one of five such women in the OT (compare Miriam [Ex. 15:20]; Huldah [2 Kings 22:14]; Isaiah's wife [Isa. 8:3]; and Noadiah [a false prophetess; Neh. 6:14]). Deborah functioned as a civil leader (Judg. 4:6–10; 5:7) and as a judge of legal cases (4:4–5).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 4:6–9 Has not the LORD, the God of Israel, commanded you? A woman would not normally be a military leader in Israel, so Barak summoned the tribes of Israel and led the army (see vv. 10, 14, 15, 16, 22). At least six tribes participated, the nearest thing in Judges to an “all-Israelite” coalition.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 4:11 The introduction of Heber, Jael’s husband, anticipates vv. 17–22. The Kenites were distantly related to the Israelites (see note on 1:16).

DEBORAH

When the Canaanite king Jabin, with his 900 chariots of iron, oppressed Israel, the Lord raised up a woman to save them. Deborah, a prophetess, was called to lead the nation as a judge and deliverer. Since women did not usually go into battle, Deborah called upon Barak to lead the army against Jabin, but then Barak insisted that Deborah go into battle with him. Following the victory, Deborah and Barak sang a song of praise to the Lord. The defeat of Jabin ushered in a period of 40 years of peace for the people of Israel. Although many of the judges made poor choices during their rule, Deborah’s actions and words consistently pointed to God. (Judges 4:4–7)

JUDGES—NOTE ON 4:13 900 chariots of iron. Chariots were swift and easily maneuverable, the ancient equivalent of tanks. However, the chariots got mired in the river Kishon (see 5:19–22).

FACT

Chariots of iron. Iron chariots were the equivalent of tanks in the ancient Near East. They were greatly feared by enemy foot soldiers. Charioteers could run over them, and archers riding in the chariots could hit them from a distance. The only real problem with chariots was that their wheels could get mired in mud.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 4:17–24 The story of Sisera’s death by the hand of Jael is told in great detail, similar to the story of Ehud’s killing of Eglon (3:12–30). God himself is credited with subduing Jabin.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:1–31 The victory song of Deborah and Barak praises God for his triumph over the Canaanites on Israel's behalf (compare the Song of Moses and Miriam in Ex. 15:1–21).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:1 Sang is feminine singular ("she sang"), emphasizing Deborah's prominence over Barak (see 4:8–9).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:4–5 The Lord's marching from Seir and Edom may suggest the time following Israel's exodus from Egypt (compare Num. 10:12; 20:22).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:6–8 Before Deborah arose as a deliverer, life as it had been had ceased when Israel submitted to its enemies. a mother in Israel. A title of honor and respect. new gods. See 10:14.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:10–11 All classes of society were to testify to the mighty acts of God, from the ruling classes (those riding on white donkeys) to the lowest classes (those who walk by the way, that is, along the road). Watering places were public places where the entire community gathered.

FACT

Donkeys played many roles in the ancient Near East. They provided much of the heavy labor in agriculture and provided personal transportation. The number of donkeys a man possessed often determined his wealth. White donkeys were highly prized (5:10) because they were rare.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:13–18 Five of the tribes (plus the western part of Manasseh, here called Machir) are mentioned favorably because they responded to Deborah and Barak's call to arms. Four tribes (and the other part of Manasseh) did not respond to the order. Judah and Simeon are not mentioned. Dan's connection with ships (v. 17) probably reflects the tribe's original inheritance along the south-central coastal plain, with access to the sea (Josh. 19:40–46).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:19–23 The imagery suggests that the forces of nature fought on God's side (and the Canaanite deities, who supposedly ruled over nature, were powerless to help against the true God). The frantic pounding of the horses' hoofs suggests the disorder caused by the waters of the Kishon (vv. 21–22; see 4:7).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:24–27 Most blessed of women. Jael is a heroine for killing Sisera (see 4:17–22).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 5:28–30 The mother of Sisera is a pitiable figure, but these verses highlight Jael’s achievement. Rather than bringing stolen goods to impress his women, Sisera lay dead at another woman’s feet. A womb or two. A crude reference to captured women.

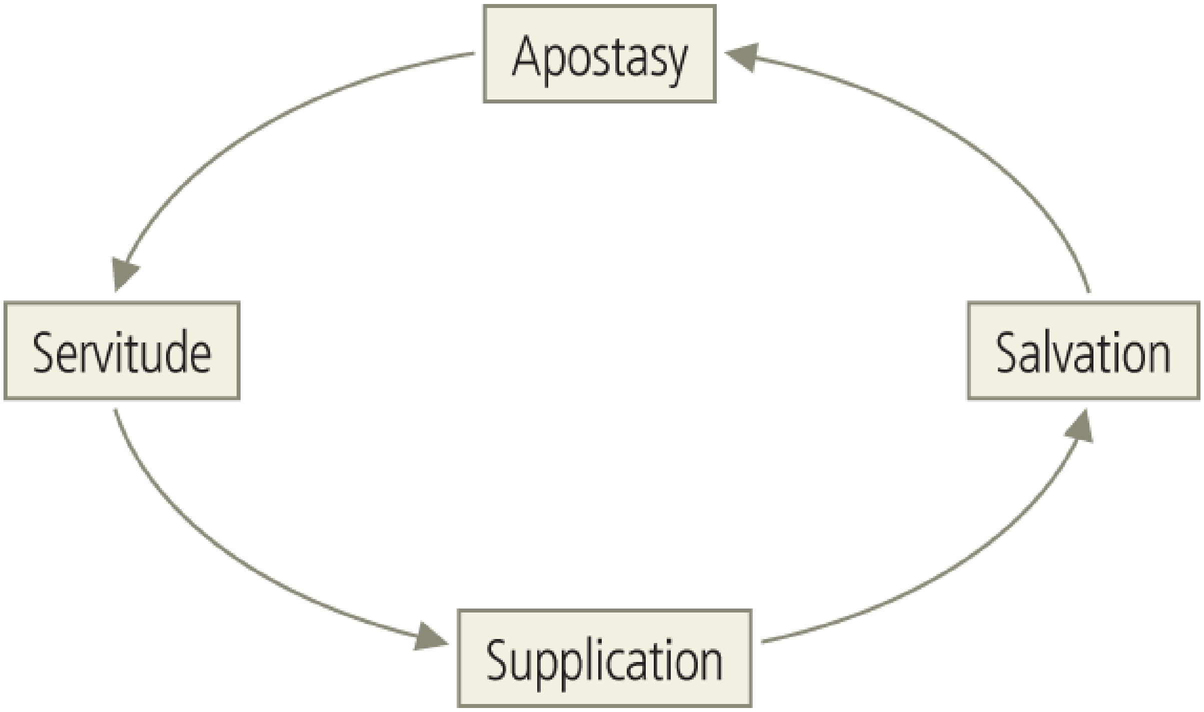
JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:1–8:35 The fifth judge was Gideon, who fought the Midianites twice. The first time he followed God’s instructions (7:1–8:3); the second time he did not (8:4–21).

Common Cycle for Each Judge

God’s sending of judges to Israel repeatedly followed a fourfold cycle:

1. apostasy: the Israelites do what is evil in the sight of the Lord;
2. servitude: God allows the nation to be conquered and oppressed by a neighboring nation;
3. supplication: the people cry out to God; and
4. salvation: God sends a judge to deliver the Israelites.

The cycle then repeats after the judge dies.



JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:2–4 The Midianites oppressed the Israelites so greatly that they were forced to live in dens and caves, and they couldn't harvest their crops.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:7–10 The message of the unnamed prophet represents the first time God rebuked the people when they called upon him.

FACT

Camels at war? The Midianites were among the first to use camels in warfare (6:5). Their camels were most likely the single-humped dromedary, which could travel more than 150 miles (240 km) in one day. The two-humped Bactrian camel was slower but could carry more weight than the dromedary. It was therefore ideal for trade caravans. Camels could be dangerous and unpredictable. If they became angry, they could wreck an entire campsite.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:11 the angel of the LORD. See note on 2:1. beating out wheat in the winepress. Wheat was usually threshed on open threshing floors, where the wind could carry away the chaff—and Gideon had access to such a place (see 6:37). The fact that he was doing his threshing within the confines of a winepress and was doing it secretly, to hide it from the Midianites, shows the extent to which they were oppressing Israel.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:22 Gideon feared for his life because he had encountered God's angel face to face (compare Gen. 32:30; Ex. 33:20).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:24 To this day. See note on Josh. 4:9. The Abiezrites were part of the tribe of Manasseh that settled west of the Jordan River (Josh. 17:1–2).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:25–26 Asherah is sometimes the name of a pagan goddess. Here, it refers to the wooden poles at places where she was worshiped.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:32 Gideon's new name, Jerubbaal, meant "Let Baal contend," echoing Joash's mockery of those who trusted in Baal (v. 31). With this name, Gideon became a living reminder of Baal's powerlessness.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:34 Spirit of the LORD clothed. See 1 Chron. 12:18; 2 Chron. 24:20. Other terms for the Spirit's activity in Judges include "was upon" (Judg. 3:10; 11:29) and "rushed upon" (14:6, 19; 15:14). See note on 14:6.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 6:36–40 laying a fleece. Gideon's desire to test God directly violated Mosaic law (Deut. 6:16). Let not your anger burn against me. Gideon knew that he was doing something unwise, if not sinful. He already knew God's will (see Judg. 6:14–16, 36). His requests reveal his weak faith.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:2 lest Israel boast. God made it clear that the glory for this victory was to be all his.

GIDEON

Gideon was called by God to free the Israelites from oppression by the Midianites. After destroying an altar of Baal, he was given the name Jerubbaal, which means, "let Baal contend." The name was a mocking challenge to this powerless false god. The God of Israel proved his own power by leading Gideon to choose his army in a very unusual way, reducing it from 32,000 to only 300 men. Those 300 men defeated the Midianites, not with the sword but with trumpets, torches, and pitchers! Gideon was viewed as a hero, and the people tried to make him king. He refused their request, rightly declaring that "the Lord will rule over you" (8:23). Sadly, however, Gideon went on to do things that suggested a heart filled with pride rather than humility. (Judges 6:36–40)

Gideon Defeats the Midianites

Gideon's small army of 300 men camped by the spring of Harod while the vast Midianite army spread out in the Jezreel Valley by the hill of Moreh. When Gideon's men encircled and surprised the Midianites during the night, the Midianites fled. Gideon's men chased them to Abel-meholah and beyond, passing through Succoth and Penuel on their way to Karkor, where they captured the leaders of the Midianite army.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:3 The Mosaic laws allowed military exemptions for several classes of people, including those who were fearful (Deut. 20:5–8) since they might cause others to fear.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:4–5 Every one who laps . . . as a dog laps. The second test for reducing Gideon’s forces took into account how men drank water from a brook. Neither way of drinking is singled out as the “right” way, so this may be simply a means of reducing the number of men rather than a critique of either form of drinking.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:10–14 God gave Gideon a preview of the coming victory by allowing him to enter the Midianite camp and overhear a Midianite’s dream about Israel’s triumph.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:13–15 Tumbled literally means “turned itself over.” The loaf in the dream, symbolizing the sword of Gideon, “overturned” the Midianite camp. The dream provided the confirmation that Gideon needed, in light of his earlier fear (v. 10).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:18 For the LORD and for Gideon is a war cry.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:19 middle watch. Jewish tradition divides the night into three segments, or “watches.” The later division into four watches (Matt. 14:25) seems to have been influenced by Roman practice.

FACT

The night watch. Watchmen were an important part of life in Bible times. They provided night-time protection both for soldiers in their tents and for ordinary people in their homes.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:20 A sword for the LORD and for Gideon! Ironically, no Israelite swords were used at all, only torches, trumpets, and jars.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 7:22–25 The victory was clearly God’s. He turned the Midianites’ own swords against them (v. 22) and they fled.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:1–3 The Ephraimites complained that they had been called upon too late to take part in the battle, but Gideon’s flattering response soothed them.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:16–17 Gideon's actions here fulfill his pledges in vv. 7 and 9.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:22–28 Despite God's faithfulness to Gideon, he leads the people into improper worship practices.

FACT

Crescents. Midianite kings often decorated their camels with gold or silver pendants in the shape of a crescent moon (8:21). They may have believed the crescents were magic, since many of Israel's neighbors worshiped the moon. Crescents are mentioned in Isaiah 3:16–18 as part of the "finery" that the Lord will take away from the "daughters of Zion."

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:22–23 Rule over us. It was God (not any human being) who delivered his people (see note on 7:2). the LORD will rule over you. The Hebrew word order might be paraphrased as, "It is the Lord, and no other, who shall rule over you!" While Gideon's words were theologically correct, his later actions show either that he was only pretending or that he was self-deceived. He appears eventually to have been seduced by the power of being a king (8:24–28, 31).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:27 The original ephod was an ornate ceremonial garment worn by the high priest (Exodus 28; 39). According to the Mosaic law, there was to be only one ephod in Israel (Ex. 28:15–30). It was used to inquire of God (see 1 Sam. 14:3; 23:9; 30:7). The ephod Gideon set up in his own city ultimately became a snare to him and his family, echoing Judg. 2:3. whored. See note on 2:17.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:29–32 for he had many wives. On polygamy, see note on Gen. 16:3. Gideon had insisted that he should not be king (see note on Judg. 8:22–23), but he ended up functioning as king, and he named one of his sons Abimelech, which means "my father is king." Abimelech's impact on the nation will be seen in ch. 9.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 8:33–35 The steady downward cycle of Israel's unfaithfulness continued. Though he had accomplished some good things, Gideon contributed significantly to this downward slide. whored. See note on 2:17. Baal-berith means “Baal of the covenant.” Israel made its covenant with one of the Baals, not with its own covenant-keeping God (see 9:46). Jerubbaal (that is, Gideon). See note on 6:32.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:1–6 Abimelech rose to power by ruthlessly killing his own brothers, with the help of the Shechemites. He was then “made king” at Shechem (v. 6). Jerubbaal. That is, Gideon (see 8:35 and note on 6:32). worthless and reckless fellows. Abimelech’s character can be judged by the company that he kept.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:7–21 Jotham, the only brother of Abimelech to survive his murderous rampage, tells a fable criticizing Abimelech’s actions. In the fable, the noble trees of the forest each reject the offer of kingship. Finally, the dishonorable bramble bush accepts the call and becomes king. The fable is an indictment of the Shechemites (who have chosen a king of such low character) and of Abimelech himself.

ABIMELECH

Gideon’s son Abimelech became king over the city of Shechem thanks to his family’s successful campaign to influence the city’s leaders. He then removed his strongest competition for leadership by ruthlessly killing 70 of his own brothers. Abimelech’s youngest brother Jotham, who alone had escaped the murderous rampage, courageously condemned Abimelech and the leaders. He told a fable that predicted the judgment that would fall on Abimelech and the leaders for the deaths of Gideon’s sons. When the people of Shechem later turned against Abimelech, he successfully resisted their rebellion by killing many people and destroying their city. But then, as he tried to capture a nearby city, a woman dropped a millstone on his head, crushing his skull. This episode in Israel’s history shows some of the consequences of Israel’s unfaithfulness to the Lord (8:33–34). (Judges 9:5–6)

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:7 Mount Gerizim. See Deut. 11:26–32; Josh. 8:30–35.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:20 let fire come out. Jotham’s challenge was prophetic (see vv. 49, 54).

FACT

Mount Gerizim and Mount Ebal make up the sides of the east-west pass into the Valley of Shechem. When Joshua conquered central Israel, he used these mountains as symbols, pronouncing blessings from Mount Gerizim and punishments from Mount Ebal (Josh. 8:30–35). Perhaps because of its historical importance, Jotham chose Mount Gerizim as the place to tell his prophetic story about the trees and the bramble bush (Judg. 9:7–21).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:22–55 The Shechemites, who had made Abimelech their king (vv. 1–6), eventually rebelled against him (vv. 26–33). Abimelech was able to stop the revolt, and he burned Shechem and its defenses (vv. 34–39). Abimelech himself was then killed while trying to destroy neighboring Thebez (vv. 50–55).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:22 The Hebrew word for ruled suggests that Abimelech had only the power of a secondary commander, not of a true king.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:23 God sent an evil spirit between. "Evil spirit" probably means a "spirit of ill will" or a "harmful spirit" between the parties. Thus God himself brought about the split between the two sides.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:45 sowed it with salt. This physical and also symbolic action turned Shechem into a barren, uninhabitable desert (compare Deut. 29:23; Ps. 107:34). It was later rebuilt by Jeroboam (1 Kings 12:25).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 9:54 kill me. Being killed by a woman was a disgrace to a warrior.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 10:1–2 Tola was the sixth judge, the second "minor" judge. Little is recorded about him. He judged 23 years. He arose to save Israel after Abimelech's damaging rule.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 10:3–5 Jair, the seventh judge and third minor judge, judged 22 years. He was rather wealthy (v. 4) and lived in Gilead.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 10:6–12:7 Jephthah was the eighth judge and, like Jair, was from Gilead. He is the third judge (after Deborah and Gideon) whose story is told in great detail.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 10:6 The references to seven groupings of foreign gods (compare the seven nations in vv. 11–12) shows the wide scope of Israel's unfaithfulness. Not only did they worship the major Canaanite deities (Baal, Asherah, Ashtoreth; see notes on 2:13; 3:7; 6:25–26), but apparently they worshiped the gods of any people with whom they came into contact.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 10:14 gods whom you have chosen. See v. 6. The Israelites had also "chosen" new gods in Deborah's time (5:8).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 10:16 he became impatient over the misery of Israel. This phrase may be saying that God was moved to mercy by Israel's misery and repentance (see 2:18). Another interpretation is that Israel's unfaithfulness, which causes their misery, is making God impatient. This would indicate that Israel's "repentance" was only superficial.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:1–3 Jephthah was a mighty warrior, but his illegitimacy caused his half brothers to force him out of his father's house. He attracted worthless fellows (v. 3; compare 2 Chron. 13:7), which indicates a weak personal character.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:6 Come and be our leader. God did not "raise up" Jephthah, as he had previous judges (3:9, 15; 4:6; 6:14). The people appointed a leader without seeking God's approval—another sign of their increasing rebellion.

JEPHTHAH

Jephthah, one of the judges of Israel, was a mighty warrior from Gilead. Because he was the son of a prostitute, his half brothers rejected him. He fled to another town, where he associated with "worthless fellows" (11:3). This was probably a reflection on his own character as well. When enemies began oppressing the Israelites, they appointed Jephthah as their leader without seeking God's approval. Before going into battle with the Ammonites, Jephthah made a foolish vow: that if he were victorious, he would sacrifice to the Lord the first thing to emerge from his house upon his return. When he did return victorious, he was greeted at the door by his daughter, his only child. Jephthah followed through on his irresponsible vow, even though the Mosaic law did not require him to do so. (Judges 11:5)

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:8 that you may go with us and fight. Compare the language later used by the Israelites to ask Samuel for a king: “that our king may . . . go out before us and fight” (1 Sam. 8:20). In both cases, even though God granted it, the request was inappropriate. God, not any judge or any king, was to be Israel’s commander in war.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:11 Jephthah spoke all his words before the LORD. Jephthah displayed a strange mixture of faith and foolishness. While he acknowledged God (see vv. 21, 23, 27, 30–31; 12:3), overall his foolishness seemed to outweigh his faith (see note on 11:31).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:12–28 In an impressive speech, Jephthah answered the Ammonite charge (v. 13) that Israel had unlawfully seized the disputed territory. Jephthah asserted that “the LORD, the God of Israel” was himself the one who had displaced these peoples (vv. 21, 23, 24). Israel was not an aggressor (v. 15) but merely a recipient of the Lord’s generosity. Sihon, king of the Amorites, had taken some of the Ammonite territory, and then Israel had taken Sihon’s territory (see Num. 21:25–26). And the Ammonites never really had claim to the land to begin with; rather, it was the land of the Amorites (Judg. 11:19–22). Finally, it was a little late to be challenging Israel’s claim to the land in any case, since 300 years had passed since the events in question (v. 26). Jephthah ended by appealing to God to judge between the two sides.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:17–22 The review of the past refers to events in the wilderness described in Num. 20:14–21. All the territory refers to the limits of the Amorites’ land, precisely what the Ammonites claimed was theirs in Judg. 11:13 (compare Num. 21:24).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:24 Chemosh was the Moabites’ god (1 Kings 11:7, 33); elsewhere, the Ammonites’ god was Molech (1 Kings 11:7) or Milcom (1 Kings 11:5, 33). However, Ammon and Moab were closely associated, as both were descended from Lot (Gen. 19:37, 38). The two nations likely shared cultural and religious heritages, and Chemosh may have been considered stronger than Molech/Milcom.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:29 the Spirit of the LORD was upon. See note on 14:6.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:31 whatever comes out. The wording here would indicate that Jephthah intended to offer some animal as a burnt offering.

However, the grammar also allows for “whoever” (see ESV footnote), in which case Jephthah would have intended to offer a human sacrifice all along. If so, what surprised him was not that he had to sacrifice a person, but that it was his daughter. Human sacrifice was strictly forbidden in Israel (Lev. 18:21; 20:2; Deut. 12:31; Ezek. 20:30–31). Yet, Jephthah’s foolishness drove him to make such a vow (see note on Judg. 11:39).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:35 I cannot take back my vow. Vows were solemn affairs, made only to God. People were not forced to take them, but, if they did, they had to be kept, under normal circumstances (Deut. 23:21–23; Eccles. 5:4–5). But any vow that would result in sin was not binding (Lev. 5:4–6). The law did not require Jephthah to follow through with killing his daughter.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 11:39 who did with her according to his vow. Most likely this means Jephthah literally sacrificed his daughter as a burnt offering. Another interpretation is that Jephthah dedicated his daughter to permanent virginity, as a figurative sacrifice (see references to her uniqueness [v. 34] and virginity [vv. 37–40]). This would be a tragedy for her, as she would bear no children, and also for Jephthah, whose family line would come to an end. Some support for this comes from Jephthah’s speech in vv. 12–28, which shows enough knowledge of Israel’s history to imply that he might have stopped short of literally sacrificing his own child.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 12:1–7 This episode recalls Ephraim’s earlier challenge to Gideon (8:1–3). While Gideon was able to pacify Ephraim, Jephthah was not, and a civil war erupted. The Ephraimites were defeated, and they never again played any important role in Israel’s history.

FACT

Is it “Shibboleth” or “Sibboleth”? The Gileadites came up with a clever test to distinguish between their friends and their enemies (12:1–6). Knowing that the rival Ephraimites spoke a slightly different dialect, they asked them to say the word “Shibboleth.” The Ephraimites pronounced the word with an “s” rather than a “sh” sound, thus making them easy to spot. Today, a “shibboleth” is a word or expression of belief that “insiders” use to determine who is an “outsider.” Thus, if a person doesn’t express his beliefs using just the right words, he may be rejected by a particular group.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 12:6 Shibboleth . . . Sibboleth. The Gileadites devised a test to catch the Ephraimites using a word that was difficult for outsiders to pronounce correctly. Modern English uses the term “shibboleth” to refer to words, expressions, ideas, or beliefs used by “insiders” to differentiate themselves from “outsiders.” Tragically, Israel is again turning upon itself in internal strife (see 8:17).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 12:8–10 Ibzan, the ninth judge, was known for marrying his 30 sons and 30 daughters to outsiders (v. 9).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 12:11–12 Elon was the tenth judge. Nothing is reported about him other than the length of his rule (ten years).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 12:13–15 Abdon, the eleventh judge, was wealthy and had many children.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:1–16:31 Samson was the twelfth and last judge. He lived around the beginning of the eleventh century B.C., about 50 years before Saul became king. His physical strength was unparalleled. Rather than lead an army, he battled the Philistines by himself. He was, however, a deeply flawed hero. While God used him to deliver the Israelites, and while he even called upon God on occasion to help him (15:18; 16:28, 30), his life was one of continued unfaithfulness, just like the nation he judged.

Samson's Exploits

The Philistines ruled over Israel during Samson's lifetime, and Samson was raised up by God to begin to deliver Israel from them. Samson's marriage to a Philistine woman in Timnah led to a number of encounters with the Philistines, often resulting in their harm at Samson's hand.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:3 the angel of the LORD. See note on 2:1. The angel's identity was not revealed (13:6, 17–18).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:5–7 Any man or woman could take a vow to become a Nazirite, to separate himself or herself to God (see Numbers 6). It was to be voluntary (Num. 6:2) and for a limited time (Num. 6:5, 13). It involved: (1) abstinence from wine, strong drink, or anything associated with the vine (Num. 6:3–4); (2) no cutting of the hair (Num. 6:5); and (3) no contact with the dead (Num. 6:6–8). Three things are unusual concerning Samson and this Nazirite vow: (1) it was not voluntary—God ordered it from the womb; (2) it was to last to the day of his death (compare 1 Sam. 1:11; Luke 1:15 for similar situations); and (3) he broke every one of its stipulations.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:5 begin to save Israel. Samson's successes were short-lived, since the Philistines would still be active enemies of Israel in the days of Samuel, Saul, and David.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:6 A man of God describes prophets elsewhere in the OT (e.g., Deut. 33:1; 1 Sam. 2:27; 1 Kings 17:18). At first, Samson's mother may have thought she was dealing with a prophet, but she quickly realized this was someone greater.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:18 wonderful. Or "incomprehensible."

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:22 we have seen God. Manoah's fears echo those of Gideon upon encountering the angel of the Lord (see 6:22; compare Gen. 32:30; Ex. 33:20).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 13:25 the Spirit of the LORD began to stir him. God's Spirit was pushing Samson toward the work that God wanted him to do (see 14:4). See note on 14:6.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:1 Timnah was approximately 20 miles (32 km) west of Jerusalem. Archaeologists believe it was a thriving city during the time of the judges.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:2–3 uncircumcised Philistines. Israelites were forbidden to marry unbelieving foreigners (Ex. 34:16; Deut. 7:3). Also, Samson's demand for a wife (Judg. 14:2–3) was against the tradition of marriages being arranged by the parents (Gen. 24:1–4; 38:6). she is right in my eyes (see Judg. 14:7). This self-centered demand contrasts with being "right in the Lord's eyes" (compare Deut. 6:18; 12:25). In fact, Samson's attitude describes the entire era of the judges, when everyone did what was right in their own eyes (Judg. 17:6; 18:1; 19:1; 21:25).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:4 it was from the LORD. Despite Israel's unfaithfulness and Samson's selfish life, God would use Samson for his own purposes.

Samson's Ten Feats of Strength and Heroism

Part 1: Three mentions of the "Spirit of the LORD"
1. The killing of the lion	14:5–9	"The Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him" (14:6).
2. The killing of 30 Philistines	14:19	"The Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him" (14:19).
3. The burning of the fields	15:4–6
4. Another slaughter of the Philistines	15:7–8
5. Escape from ropes and killing of 1,000 Philistines	15:14–17	"The Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him" (15:14).
Part 2: No mention of the "Spirit of the LORD"
6. The Gaza-gate incident	16:3
7. Escape from the bowstrings	16:9
8. Escape from the new ropes	16:12
9. Escape from the loom	16:14
10. Final destruction of 3,000 Philistines	16:28–30

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:6 the Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him. The OT speaks many times of God's Spirit acting upon individuals, usually to empower them for some service for the people of God.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:8–9 carcass of the lion. Samson's contact with the dead lion violated his Nazirite vow (see 13:5).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:10 The Hebrew word for feast implies a dinner that includes alcohol, another violation of Samson's Nazirite vow (see 13:5).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:15 fourth day. The Hebrew text has "seventh day" (compare v. 18); the ESV reading is based on Greek and Syriac versions (see ESV footnote). The difference is only one letter in Hebrew, which could easily have been miscopied by a scribe in an early manuscript. "Fourth" fits better with the immediate context (v. 14 mentions three days of futile guessing about the riddle).

FACT

Riddles were as popular in ancient Near Eastern cultures as they are around the world today. Samson's riddle about the lion and the honey (14:5–18) is the best example of a riddle in Scripture.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 14:18 If you had not plowed with my heifer. This may have been a saying in Samson's time (heifers were occasionally used for plowing; see Deut. 21:3). Here it is a coarse reference to their use of Samson's wife.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 15:4 Possibly, the animals were not foxes but jackals, which were more common in Palestine. The two animals look similar, and the same Hebrew word is used for both. Whereas foxes are solitary, jackals travel in packs, and thus 300 of them could be caught more easily. Both animals have long tails that could be tied together.

FACT

Were the “foxes” actually jackals? The same Hebrew word can mean either “fox” or “jackal.” While foxes usually travel alone, jackals can often be seen roaming in small packs around nightfall. They can be instantly recognized by their wailing, even if they are not seen. It would have been easier for Samson to round up 300 jackals than to catch 300 foxes (15:4), though neither task would have been easy!

JUDGES—NOTE ON 15:8 he struck them hip and thigh. The exact meaning of this idiom is obscure. Perhaps it means Samson left his enemies lying on the ground in a tangled jumble of legs and thighs.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 15:14–15 Spirit of the Lord. See note on 14:6. fresh jawbone. Presumably it would not have been dry and brittle, so there was no danger of its breaking.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 15:18–19 to this day. See note on Josh. 4:9.

SAMSON

Samson was the twelfth and final judge of Israel. God raised him up to deliver Israel from the Philistines. Possessing great strength, he often battled the Philistines single-handedly. Samson was a life-long Nazirite, but he broke every one of his vows. He made particularly bad decisions regarding his relationships with women. This is most evident in his relationship with Delilah, to whom he revealed the secret of his strength. Paid by the Philistines to seduce Samson, Delilah cut off his hair while he slept. He was attacked and blinded by a group of Philistines lying in wait, and taken as their prisoner. His final feat of strength was to bring down a Philistine temple, killing about 3,000 Philistines along with himself. Despite Samson’s sinful life and continued unfaithfulness, God used him to save Israel. (Judges 15:14–17)

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:1 prostitute. Hebrew has two words for prostitutes. One refers to prostitutes associated with pagan worship (Gen. 38:21–22; Deut. 23:17; 1 Kings 14:24). The other (used here) signifies prostitution with no such religious connection (compare Gen. 38:15).

FACT

City gates in Bible times were often very elaborate. Many of them were two stories high or even higher. The actual opening would be narrow, with guardrooms on each side. The gateposts were anchored deep in the ground to support the doors. City gates would often have multiple doors and entrances as well as sharp turns. These were designed to slow down enemies if they tried to get through the gate. They were also the place where business transactions and judicial decisions were made.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:2–3 at the gate. Gates from the Early Iron Age were elaborate complexes, at least two stories high, with guardrooms on each side of a narrow opening. The two posts were set deep in the ground to support the doors.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:4–5 Delilah was the third Philistine woman with whom Samson had a relationship (see 14:1; 16:1).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:7–9 In the first test of Samson’s strength, the seven fresh bowstrings, made of animal gut, were weaker than dried and aged strings.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:11 new ropes. In the second test, Samson toyed with the Philistines, suggesting that they use the same bonds that the men of Judah had previously found to be worthless (see 15:13).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:13–14 Made them tight with the pin translates the same Hebrew phrase that was used when Jael drove a tent peg into Sisera’s head (4:21). The exact situation here is unclear, but Samson obviously had no trouble escaping once more.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:16 she pressed him. Delilah did precisely what Samson’s wife had done earlier (14:17). Samson’s weak character shows through again. He did not learn from his previous mistake, but revealed the information in both cases.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:18 told her all his heart. Delilah knew that Samson was finally telling the truth.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:20–21 the LORD had left him. Samson broke the final Nazirite stipulation when his hair was cut. The power the Lord had given him was now gone (see note on 14:6) and he was captured.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:22 the hair of his head began to grow again. There was no magical power in Samson's hair, for his strength came only from the Lord (14:6, 19; 15:14; 16:20). But the growth of his hair indicates that God was renewing his previous power (compare vv. 17, 19–20). Samson may also have begun to renew his faith (see v. 28).

FACT

Blinding a prisoner and forcing him to grind grain at a mill (16:21) was a common form of punishment in the ancient Near East. This is one more example of how the Bible presents an accurate record of the events of its day.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:28–30 Samson demonstrated faith by calling upon God and believing that God would help him (see Heb. 11:32–34). However, Samson seems to have desired God's help more for personal revenge than for the protection of God's people. two middle pillars. A Philistine temple discovered from the period of the judges had two central pillars to support the roof of the entire structure. Canaanite and Israelite temples did not use that design.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 16:31 The main body of the book of Judges now ends. Despite the generally ungodly character of the judges themselves, God had worked to deliver Israel and to protect his own name and reputation.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 17:1–21:25 The Depths of Israel's Unfaithfulness. Whereas chs. 2–16 describe external threats to Israel, chs. 17–21 describe internal threats. The most sordid and tragic stories in the book are found here.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 17:3–4 a carved image. (See Ex. 20:4.) These were normally carved from wood or chiseled out of rock but sometimes were made from a mold (compare Isa. 40:19). a metal image. Compare 2 Kings 17:16. Micah's mother approved of his making these images. This shows how God's people sometimes are tempted to mix elements of true worship with practices unacceptable to God. It is another consequence of Israel's lack of good leadership. The house of Micah was a group of housing units for travelers and relatives (see Judg. 18:2).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 17:5 a shrine. Literally, "a house of God." This was a perversion of the true sanctuary where worship was to take place (compare "the house of God" at Shiloh in 18:31). Micah also made an ephod (compare 8:27) and various household gods (compare Gen. 31:19); these are later condemned as idolatry (1 Sam. 15:23). Micah further violated the Mosaic law by appointing his own son as his private priest, an office meant for serving all of Israel. Furthermore, Micah's son was not descended from Aaron (as the priests were supposed to be), nor was he even a Levite (see Ex. 28:1; Num. 16:39–40; 17:8).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 17:6 no king in Israel. Compare 18:1; 19:1; 21:25. right in his own eyes (see 21:25). In the nation's rebellion, people were doing whatever they wanted, rather than seeking the Lord (see 14:3).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 17:9 Levite of Bethlehem. This Levite had been living as a sojourner, a resident alien, in Judah. The Levites did not have their own tribal territory, but they had 48 cities scattered among the other tribes (Joshua 21). However, Bethlehem was not one of those designated cities, and this Levite was only too happy to settle in Micah's household as his private priest, displacing Micah's son (Judg. 17:10–11; see note on v. 5).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:1 no king in Israel. Compare 17:6; 19:1; 21:25. Dan was seeking . . . an inheritance. The Danites had been unable to settle in their allotted territory (Josh. 19:40–47) because they had failed to capture it (Judg. 1:34–35).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:2–4 Zorah . . . Eshtaol. These towns were in the Judean lowlands approximately 15 miles (24 km) west of Jerusalem.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:5–6 Considering the highly negative tone of chs. 17–21 and future events in this particular narrative (18:30), it is difficult to take seriously the spies' desire to inquire of God concerning their journey. The statement under the eye of the LORD suggests that the priest's response was vague. It does not mean that God approved of what the Danites were going to do.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:7 Laish was about 25 miles (40 km) north of the Sea of Galilee, making the Danites’ trip from Zorah and Eshtaol to Laish about a hundred miles (161 km). Laish was renamed Dan (v. 29; see note on 20:1–2).

FACT

Laish was about 25 miles (40 km) north of the Sea of Galilee. The Danites would have traveled about a hundred miles (161 km) to reach the city (18:7). After they invaded and destroyed Laish, the city was renamed Dan (18:29). For many years thereafter, this city would be considered the northern border of Israel. The nation was often described as extending “from Dan to Beersheba” (20:1).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:12 Kiriath-jearim, a chief city of the Gibeonites (Josh. 9:17), was approximately 8 miles (13 km) northwest of Jerusalem. Its precise location is debated.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:14–20 ephod, household gods, a carved image, and a metal image (v. 14). Rather than condemning Micah’s collection of pagan religious objects (see 17:3–5), the Danites took them for themselves. a father and a priest. The Danites’ offer of more money and prestige, and the Levite’s acceptance, further show the period’s rebellion. Their stealing from another tribe (18:18, 21) fulfills Jacob’s prediction that Dan would deal viciously with others (Gen. 49:17).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:21 As the Danites fled, they placed what they had stolen in front of them, with the warriors behind, as protection against pursuit from Micah’s household or neighbors.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 18:30–31 The Levite’s name is revealed (Jonathan), as well as his lineage. Even those in the family of Moses are rebelling against God. Captivity of the land could refer to the Babylonian captivity (587 B.C.). Or, since Dan is in the north, it could refer to the Assyrian captivity of 722 (or even earlier, when Dan passed into Assyrian control). In any case, the Danites’ priest and his descendants served in that role for centuries, and only the fall of the nation ended the arrangement. Shiloh was destroyed at the end of the period of the judges, c. 1050 B.C. (see Ps. 78:60; Jer. 7:12, 14).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:1–30 In one of the most sordid stories in the Bible, rape, murder, and cruelty lead to the death of an innocent woman and, eventually, to civil war.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:1 no king in Israel. Compare 17:6; 18:1; 21:25. concubine. See note on Gen. 25:5–6.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:3–9 An elaborate ritual of hospitality takes place, in sharp contrast to what follows.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:10–12 Jebus (that is, Jerusalem). Jerusalem was then in the hands of the Jebusites and therefore is referred to as a city of foreigners (see note on 1:8). Gibeah was about 4 miles (6 km) north of Jerusalem. The Levite considered Gibeah a safer place to spend the night than Jerusalem, because Gibeah was a Benjaminite city (19:14, 16).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:16–21 old man . . . sojourning in Gibeah. The Levite had thought it would be safer to stay in Gibeah than in Jerusalem (see note on vv. 10–12). Yet in Gibeah he found hospitality from an outsider rather than from the residents of the city—a striking commentary on the deplorable state of affairs in Israel. hill country of Ephraim. See v. 1.

FACT

Jebus (19:11) was the name of Jerusalem during this time because it was still under the control of the Jebusites. It would stay in the hands of the Jebusites until David conquered it and claimed it for Israel (2 Sam. 5:6–10).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:22–26 The “hospitality” offered by Gibeah was like that of Sodom (compare Genesis 19). It is likely the author patterned this text after the Genesis account, as if to say, “Things are as bad now as in the days of Sodom!”

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:22 that we may know him. The word “know” was the normal Hebrew euphemism for sexual relations (compare Gen. 4:1). The same expression appears in Gen. 19:5, where the men of Sodom wanted to have homosexual relations with Lot’s guests.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 19:27–30 The Levite’s reaction to his concubine’s death illustrates his heartlessness. His gruesome response was intended to rally the 12 tribes against Gibeah. has never happened or been seen. It is unclear what was being referred to here—the outrageous actions of the men of Gibeah or the cutting up of the concubine—but it is more likely the former (see 20:10).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:1–48 Gibeah was a Benjaminite city, and so an assembly of all Israel came together at Mizpah to take action against Benjamin (vv. 1–11). The Benjaminites, who apparently were not at the assembly (v. 3), refused to deliver the inhabitants of Gibeah to them, Instead, they prepared for battle (vv. 12–17). It was a grim measure of Israel's rebellion that such destruction was directed against fellow Israelites.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:1–2 From Dan to Beersheba was a phrase commonly used to describe the entire land of Israel, from north to south (compare 1 Sam. 3:20; 2 Sam. 24:2; 1 Kings 4:25). assembly. The Hebrew word indicates a specially called gathering, usually for a religious (Num. 16:3; 1 Chron. 28:8) or military purpose (Num. 22:4, "horde"; 1 Sam. 17:47).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:9 The tribes agreed to send a tenth of their men (v. 10), chosen by lot.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:12–14 purge evil from Israel (compare Deut. 13:5; 17:7; etc.). This evil deed pollutes the whole people. Benjamin's decision to protect the evildoers sets the stage for further horrors.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:15–16 26,000 men. The Benjaminite force, large as it was, equaled only a small fraction of the Israelite coalition (400,000 men; v. 17). left-handed. The left-handedness of the 700 expert slingers was an advantage, since their shots would come from an unexpected angle.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:18 Judah . . . first. As before (1:1–2), Judah took the lead.

FACT

Slings (20:16) were weapons made of two long straps, usually either leather or cloth. These were attached to a wider pocket in the middle, where the thrower would place a rock or some other object. The sling was then swung above the head until one of the straps was let go, releasing the rock. Slings were designed to incapacitate the enemy. A fellow soldier with a sword or spear could then deliver the fatal blow.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:25–26 The fasting and sacrificing of the Israelites is very rare in this period. See note on 2:5.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:28 Phinehas. See Num. 25:6–11.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 20:47 Despite the defeat, 600 men of Benjamin survived to become the core of the renewed tribe (21:13–15).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 21:1–9 The other tribes had sworn at Mizpah that no one of us shall give his daughter in marriage to Benjamin (see 20:1). Now, regretting that their oath could result in the loss of an entire tribe, they recalled that they had taken a second oath (great oath; 21:5) that any city that didn't join in the fight against Benjamin should surely be put to death (v. 5). That oath now provided the justification for raiding Jabesh-gilead to provide wives for the Benjaminites.

JUDGES—NOTE ON 21:10–11 devote to destruction. This phrase is found throughout Joshua describing the Israelites' destruction of the Canaanites (e.g., Josh. 6:17–18; 10:28; see note on Josh. 6:17–18). Here, the total destruction was directed against an Israelite city, Jabesh-gilead, to punish it for not joining the battle against Benjamin. In doing this the Israelites acted on their own, without seeking the Lord's will. Two hundred more wives were kidnapped at Shiloh, justified on questionable grounds (Judg. 21:16–24).

JUDGES—NOTE ON 21:25 The final editorial comment echoes earlier ones (17:6; 18:1; 19:1). Israel's wickedness had reached a low point.

Birth of David, descendant of Ruth

Author and Date

The story of Ruth takes place in the time of the judges (after the conquest of Canaan and before c. 1050 B.C.). No author is named, but the mention of David and his genealogy (4:17–22) places the writing sometime after David became king (2 Samuel 2) in c. 1010 B.C.

Theme

Ruth shows how God's people can experience his sovereignty, wisdom, and covenant kindness. These often come in hard circumstances and are expressed through the kindness of others.

Key Themes

1. Kindness. Ruth shows kindness to her mother-in-law, Naomi, by leaving her homeland to care for her (1:16–17; 2:11, 18, 23). Boaz shows kindness to Ruth as he welcomes her to Israel, acts as her kinsman-redeemer (4:9–10), and marries her (4:13). Human kindness reflects the Lord's kindness toward his people (see Ex. 15:13; Deut. 7:8–9; Psalm 136).
2. Redemption. Redemption is linked to kindness and is at the heart of the story (2:20). The book of Ruth describes two legal practices combined into one: property redemption by a near kinsman, and levirate marriage. Property redemption by a relative assured that land would not remain outside the family (see Lev. 25:23–25). Levirate marriage involved a > childless widow marrying her husband's brother to provide an heir for the deceased husband (Deut. 25:5–6). Boaz, a close relative of Ruth, redeemed the family property for her (Ruth 4:9), married her (4:10, 13), and fathered Obed (4:13, 17), who became heir to the property of Ruth's deceased first husband.

Ruth and Naomi's desperate conditions changed for the better (4:13–17) when Boaz agreed to be their kinsman-redeemer (4:9–10). This resulted in blessing for Ruth (marriage and motherhood; 4:13) and for Naomi (happiness in her old age; 4:14–15). Redemption also brought blessing to the community (4:11–12) and, through David, to the nation (4:14, 17). Ultimate redemption would finally come through David's "son," Jesus the Christ. In him, redeemed people of all nations, no longer strangers and aliens, become fellow citizens in God's household (Eph. 2:11–22).

The Setting of Ruth

A famine in Judah forces Naomi and her husband to leave Israel and move to Moab, where their sons marry Moabite women. When Naomi's husband and sons die, she decides to return to her home in Israel, and her daughter-in-law Ruth chooses to go with her. Ruth lived during the time of the judges.

The Global Message of Ruth

Ruth and the Redeemer

The book of Ruth is set within the larger historical context of the "days when the judges ruled" (Ruth 1:1) and provides a vivid picture of the decline taking place during this period of Israel's history. This book also, however, plays its role in preparing for a final redeemer of God's people.

The Lord Intervenes

The book of Judges, then, provides the setting for Ruth. The basic purpose of the book of Ruth is to show how the Lord intervened to protect Naomi's family line from extinction, in order that her great-great-grandson David—the future, divinely chosen king of Israel and ancestor of the Messiah—might be born (Ruth 4:17–22). The book is ultimately the world's miracle story. It recounts how close the world came to having its hope of cosmic restoration cut off forever, but how the Lord intervened to preserve Naomi's line to ensure that God's mission to rescue the world through the Messiah, the Son of David, stayed on course (see Matt. 1:1–6). Ruth is thus good news for global Christians.

The Significance of Ruth's Identity

To understand just how miraculous it was that David was born, the reader must understand the massive yet largely unstated significance behind Ruth's identity as a Moabite. The Moabite nation was the result of the incestuous relationship between Abraham's nephew Lot and Lot's older daughter (Gen. 19:30–37). The Moabite people were therefore related to Israel. This is why, as Israel prepared to enter the Promised Land, the Lord commanded them not to go to battle with Moab. He was not going to give any of the land of Moab to Israel, for he had given it to the descendants of Lot (Deut. 2:9). Although the Moabites refused to show the hospitality due to members of their extended family, they did permit Israel to cross through their territory on the way to the Promised Land (Deut. 2:26–29). Before it was all over, however, Moab decided to hire Balaam, a diviner, to curse Israel, having determined that Israel was their enemy (Numbers 22–24). When that failed, Moabite women seduced Israelite men into immorality and idolatry (Numbers 25).

The Lord thus excluded Moabites from the temple, and Israel was not to seek Moab's peace or prosperity (Deut. 23:3–6). Consequently, Ruth's ethnic identity is what makes Boaz's redemption of Ruth—and, more significantly, the Lord's redemption of Ruth—so amazing. Ruth was a Moabite who worshiped Moabite gods.

The Redemption of Ruth and the Coming Messiah

What accounts, then, for the redemption of Ruth, and thus for the rescue of Naomi's property, family name, and lineage? By the grace of God, this redemption flows from Ruth's unexpected decision not to abandon Naomi. Ruth commits tenaciously to Naomi with an oath of loyalty, declaring her commitment to become as an Israelite daughter to her and to worship Israel's God. Ruth thus abandons her Moabite identity and gods. Boaz then accepts Ruth, otherwise a "foreigner" (Ruth 2:10), because of this loyalty (2:11). Ruth embodies the Lord's loyalty to Naomi (1:8; 2:20; 3:10). And because Ruth has taken refuge under the wings of the Lord, Boaz takes her under his wing, redeeming her (compare 2:12 with 3:9). Boaz embodies the Lord's redemption of Ruth in his own redemption of her.

The book narrates how Moabite Ruth becomes a daughter of Israel, better "than seven sons" to Naomi (Ruth 4:15). By her faith, Ruth becomes a deeply significant woman in Israel's history, on a par with Leah and Rachel, who built up the twelve tribes, and like Tamar, who built up the line of Judah (4:11–12). Because of the Lord's faithfulness to Ruth and Boaz, the world would be given the Messiah.

The Universal Significance of Ruth

The dominant theme in Ruth for global Christianity is Gentile inclusion into the people of God. Ruth is a classic example within the Old Testament of how an individual outside the covenant community becomes a member of the people of God by faith alone (see Rom. 3:29–30). Ruth is a foreigner and part of a despised people who had treated Israel with inhospitality and hostility. Nevertheless, through her faith, the Lord welcomes Ruth into his covenant community as a full member. In fact, by her unswerving loyalty to Naomi, Ruth matches the great matriarchs of ancient Israel. Ruth is one of only five women to be mentioned in the genealogy of Jesus (Matt. 1:1–16).

The Global Message of Ruth for Today

The book of Ruth has much to teach us today regarding relationships with foreigners and the ultimate healing of ethnic strife. Paul's letter to the Galatians, with its clear call to unity and to welcoming the outsider, calls the global church to offer equal treatment to those whom the broader community has despised and treated as outsiders.

The global message of Ruth applies wherever ethnic strife exists—whether in the despiteful treatment of the Dalit people in India; or the brutal genocide in nations such as Rwanda and Sudan; or the atrocities in Croatia, Serbia, and Bosnia; or the occasional antagonism against immigrants in North America.

The gospel of Jesus Christ is the only ultimate cure for ethnic strife, but its teaching that in Christ all are equal, accepted, and loved must penetrate to the depths of the heart and soul of the global church. The book of Ruth shows that the Lord delights to accept ethnic outsiders into his community if, through faith in Christ, they are willing to come. The faithful town of Bethlehem likewise understood that this was the way of the Lord, when its community embraced Ruth (Ruth 4:11–12, 14–15; compare Gal. 3:28; Col. 3:11).

Naomi Widowed

RUTH 1 [†]In the days [a]when the judges ruled there was [b]a famine in the land, and a man of [c]Bethlehem in Judah went to sojourn in the country of Moab, he and his wife and his two sons. [2][†]The name of the man was Elimelech and the name of his wife Naomi, and the names of his two sons were Mahlon and Chilion. They were [d]Ephrathites from Bethlehem in Judah. They went into the country of Moab and remained there. [3]But Elimelech, the husband of Naomi, died, and she was left with her two sons. [4][†]These took Moabite wives; the name of the one was Orpah and the name of the other Ruth. They lived there about ten years, [5][†]and both Mahlon and Chilion died, so that the woman was left without her two sons and her husband.

Ruth’s Loyalty to Naomi

[6][†]Then she arose with her daughters-in-law to return from the country of Moab, for she had heard in the fields of Moab that [e]the LORD had visited his people and [f]given them food. [7][†]So she set out from the place where she was with her two daughters-in-law, and they went on the way to return to the land of Judah. [8][†]But Naomi said to her two daughters-in-law, “Go, return each of you to her mother’s house. May the LORD [g]deal kindly with you, as you have dealt with [h]the dead and with me. [9]The LORD grant that you may find [i]rest, each of you in the house of her husband!” Then she kissed them, and they lifted up their voices and wept. [10]And they said to her, “No, we will return with you to your people.” [11][†]But Naomi said, “Turn back, my daughters; why will you go with me? Have I yet sons in my womb [j]that they may become your husbands? [12]Turn back, my daughters; go your way, for I am too old to have a husband. If I should say I have hope, even if I should have a husband this night and should bear sons, [13]would you therefore wait till they were grown? Would you therefore refrain from marrying? No, my daughters, for it is exceedingly bitter to me for your sake that [k]the hand of the LORD has gone out against me.”

[14][†]Then they lifted up their voices and wept again. And Orpah kissed her mother-in-law, but Ruth clung to her.

[15][†]And she said, “See, your sister-in-law has gone back to her people and to [l]her gods; return after your sister-in-law.” [16][†]But Ruth said, “Do not urge me to leave you or to return from following you. For where you go I will go, and where you lodge I will lodge. [m]Your people shall be my people, and your God my God. [17][†]Where you die I will die, and there will I be buried. [n]May the LORD do so to me and more also if anything but death parts me from you.” [18] [o]And when Naomi saw that she was determined to go with her, she said no more.

Naomi and Ruth Return

[19][†]So the two of them went on until they came to Bethlehem. And when they came to Bethlehem, [p]the whole town was stirred because of them. And the women said, “Is this Naomi?” [20][†]She said to them, “Do not call me Naomi; [1] call me [q]Mara, [2] for the Almighty has dealt very bitterly with me. [21] [r]I went away full, and the LORD has brought me back empty. Why call me Naomi, when the LORD has testified against me and the Almighty has brought calamity upon me?”

[22][†]So Naomi returned, and Ruth the Moabite her daughter-in-law with her, who returned from the country of Moab. And they came to Bethlehem [s]at the beginning of barley harvest.

Ruth Meets Boaz

RUTH 2 [†]Now Naomi had [t]a relative of her husband’s, a worthy man of the clan of Elimelech, whose name was [u]Boaz. [2][†]And Ruth the Moabite said to Naomi, “Let me go to the field and [v]glean among the ears of grain after him [w]in whose sight I shall find favor.” And she said to her, “Go, my daughter.” [3][†]So she set out and went and gleaned in the field after the reapers, and she happened to come to the part of the field belonging to Boaz, who was of the clan of Elimelech. [4]And behold, Boaz came from Bethlehem. And he said to the reapers, [x]“The LORD be with you!” And they answered, “The LORD bless you.” [5]Then Boaz said to his young man who was in charge of the reapers, “Whose young woman is this?” [6]And the servant who was in charge of the reapers answered, “She is the young Moabite woman, [y] who came back with Naomi from the country of Moab. [7]She said, ‘Please let me glean and gather among the sheaves after the reapers.’ So she came, and she has continued from early morning until now, except for a short rest.” [1]

[8][†]Then Boaz said to Ruth, “Now, listen, my daughter, do not go to glean in another field or leave this one, but keep close to my young women. [9]Let your eyes be on the field that they are reaping, and go after them. Have I not charged the young men not to touch you? And when you are thirsty, go to the vessels and drink what the young men have drawn.” [10][†]Then [z] she fell on her face, bowing to the ground, and said to him, “Why have I found favor in your eyes, that you should [a] take notice of me, since I am a foreigner?” [11]But Boaz answered her, [b] “All that you have done for your mother-in-law since the death of your husband has been fully told to me, and how you left your father and mother and your native land and came to a people that you did not know before. [12][†] [c] The LORD repay you for what you have done, and a full reward be given you by the LORD, the God of Israel, under whose wings you have come to take refuge!” [13]Then she said, [d] “I have found favor in your eyes, my lord, for you have comforted me and spoken kindly to your servant, though I am not one of your servants.”

[14]And at mealtime Boaz said to her, “Come here and eat some bread and dip your morsel in the wine.” So she sat beside the reapers, and he passed to her roasted grain. And she ate until [e] she was satisfied, and she had some left over. [15]When she rose to glean, Boaz instructed his young men, saying, “Let her glean even among the sheaves, and do not reproach her. [16]And also pull out some from the bundles for her and leave it for her to glean, and do not rebuke her.”

[17][†]So she gleaned in the field until evening. Then she beat out what she had gleaned, and it was about an ephah [2] of barley. [18]And she took it up and went into the city. Her mother-in-law saw what she had gleaned. She also brought out and gave her what food she had left over [f] after being satisfied. [19]And her mother-in-law said to her, “Where did you glean today? And where have you worked? Blessed be the man [g] who took notice of you.” So she told her mother-in-law with whom she had worked and said,

“The man’s name with whom I worked today is Boaz.” [20][†]And Naomi said to her daughter-in-law, [h]“May he be blessed by the LORD, whose kindness has not forsaken [i]the living or the dead!” Naomi also said to her, “The man is a close relative of ours, one of [j]our redeemers.” [21][†]And Ruth the Moabite said, “Besides, he said to me, ‘You shall keep close by my young men until they have finished all my harvest.’” [22]And Naomi said to Ruth, her daughter-in-law, “It is good, my daughter, that you go out with his young women, lest in another field you be assaulted.” [23][†]So she kept close to the young women of Boaz, gleaning until the end of the barley and wheat harvests. And she lived with her mother-in-law.

Ruth and Boaz at the Threshing Floor

RUTH 3 [†]Then Naomi her mother-in-law said to her, “My daughter, should I not seek [k]rest for you, that it may be well with you? [2][†]Is not Boaz [l]our relative, [m]with whose young women you were? See, he is winnowing barley tonight at the threshing floor. [3][†] [n]Wash therefore and anoint yourself, and put on your cloak and go down to the threshing floor, but do not make yourself known to the man until he has finished eating and drinking. [4][†]But when he lies down, observe the place where he lies. Then go and uncover his feet and lie down, and he will tell you what to do.” [5]And she replied, “All that you say I will do.”

[6]So she went down to the threshing floor and did just as her mother-in-law had commanded her. [7]And when Boaz had eaten and drunk, and [o]his heart was merry, he went to lie down at the end of the heap of grain. Then she came softly and uncovered his feet and lay down. [8]At midnight the man was startled and turned over, and behold, a woman lay at his feet! [9][†]He said, “Who are you?” And she answered, “I am Ruth, your servant. [p]Spread your wings [1] over your servant, for you are [q]a redeemer.” [10][†]And he said, [r]“May you be blessed by the LORD, my daughter. You have made this last kindness greater than [s]the first in that you have not gone after young men, whether poor or rich. [11][†]And now, my daughter, do not fear. I will do for you all that you ask, for all my fellow townsmen know that you are [t]a worthy woman. [12][†]And now it is true that I am [u]a redeemer. Yet there is a redeemer nearer than I. [13]Remain tonight, and in the morning, if he will

[v]redeem you, good; let him do it. But if he is not willing to redeem you, then, [w]as the LORD lives, I will redeem you. Lie down until the morning."

[14][†]So she lay at his feet until the morning, but arose before one could recognize another. And he said, "Let it not be known that the woman came to the threshing floor." [15][†]And he said, "Bring the garment you are wearing and hold it out." So she held it, and he measured out six measures of barley and put it on her. Then she went into the city. [16]And when she came to her mother-in-law, she said, "How did you fare, my daughter?" Then she told her all that the man had done for her, [17]saying, "These six measures of barley he gave to me, for he said to me, 'You must not go back empty-handed to your mother-in-law.'" [18]She replied, "Wait, my daughter, until you learn how the matter turns out, for the man will not rest but will settle the matter today."

Boaz Redeems Ruth

RUTH 4 [†]Now Boaz had gone up to [x]the gate and sat down there. And behold, [y]the redeemer, of whom Boaz had spoken, came by. So Boaz said, "Turn aside, friend; sit down here." And he turned aside and sat down. [2]And he took ten men [z]of the elders of the city and said, "Sit down here." So they sat down. [3][†]Then he said to the redeemer, "Naomi, who has come back from the country of Moab, is selling the parcel of land that belonged to our relative Elimelech. [4]So I thought I would tell you of it and say, [a]'Buy it in the presence of those sitting here and in the presence of the elders of my people.' If you will redeem it, redeem it. But if you [1] will not, tell me, that I may know, for there is no one besides you to redeem it, and I come after you." And he said, "I will redeem it." [5]Then Boaz said, "The day you buy the field from the hand of Naomi, you also acquire Ruth [2] the Moabite, the widow of the dead, in order [b]to perpetuate the name of the dead in his inheritance." [6][c]Then the redeemer said, "I cannot redeem it for myself, lest I impair my own inheritance. Take my right of redemption yourself, for I cannot redeem it."

[7][†][d]Now this was the custom in former times in Israel concerning redeeming and exchanging: to confirm a transaction, the one drew off his sandal and gave it to the other, and this was the manner of attesting in Israel. [8]So when the redeemer said to Boaz, “Buy it for yourself,” he drew off his sandal. [9]Then Boaz said to the elders and all the people, “You are witnesses this day that I have bought from the hand of Naomi all that belonged to Elimelech and all that belonged to [e]Chilion and to Mahlon. [10][†]Also Ruth the Moabite, the widow of Mahlon, I have bought to be my wife, [f]to perpetuate the name of the dead in his inheritance, that the name of the dead may not be cut off from among his brothers and from the gate of his native place. You are witnesses this day.” [11][†]Then all the people who were [g]at the gate and the elders said, “We are witnesses. May the LORD make the woman, who is coming into your house, like Rachel and Leah, [h]who together [i]built up the house of Israel. May you act worthily in [j]Ephrathah and [k]be renowned in Bethlehem, [12][†]and may your house be like the house of Perez, [l]whom Tamar bore to Judah, because [m]of the offspring that the LORD will give you by this young woman.”

Ruth and Boaz Marry

[13][†]So Boaz took Ruth, and she became his wife. And he went in to her, [n]and the LORD gave her conception, and she bore a son. [14][†][o]Then the women said to Naomi, “Blessed be the LORD, who has not left you this day without [p]a redeemer, and may his name [q]be renowned in Israel! [15][†]He shall be to you a restorer of life and a nourisher of your old age, for your daughter-in-law who loves you, [r]who is more to you than seven sons, has given birth to him.” [16]Then Naomi took the child and laid him on her lap and became his nurse. [17][†][s]And the women of the neighborhood gave him a name, saying, “A son has been born to Naomi.” They named him Obed. He was the father of Jesse, the father of David.

The Genealogy of David

[18][†]Now these are the generations of Perez: [t]Perez fathered Hezron, [19]Hezron fathered Ram, Ram fathered Amminadab, [20][†][u]Amminadab fathered Nahshon, Nahshon fathered Salmon, [21][†]Salmon fathered Boaz, Boaz fathered Obed, [22][†]Obed fathered Jesse, and Jesse fathered David.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:1 days when the judges ruled. (See Judg. 2:6–3:6.) A famine was sometimes a divine punishment (Deut. 11:14; 32:24; compare Lev. 26:3–4), but it could also advance God's purposes, as it did for Israel in Joseph's time (Gen. 45:5–8; Ps. 105:16–45). Bethlehem (which means "house of bread") was in a fertile region. to sojourn. To be a resident alien (Deut. 24:17). Moab. A country across the Dead Sea from Judah, and one of Israel's enemies.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:2 This verse lists the clan (Ephrathites), city (Bethlehem), and tribal territory (Judah) of the family (see note on 4:11; see 1 Sam. 17:12).

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:4 Moabite wives. While Israelites were strictly forbidden to marry Canaanites (Deut. 7:1–4), there was no specific prohibition against their marrying Moabites. However, all intermarriage was discouraged because of the commitment of other nations to other gods (such as Molech).

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:5 Elimelech had no living brothers. A childless widow such as Naomi would have faced an uncertain future, including the lack of financial support.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:6–22 Scene 1: Naomi Returns to Bethlehem with Ruth. This first scene relates Ruth's kindness in returning with Naomi to Bethlehem.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:6 the LORD had visited. God had sent rain to Bethlehem; now, in the springtime, there would be food.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:7 The repeated mentions of daughters-in-law (vv. 6, 7, 8) and "my daughters" (vv. 11, 12, 13) show Naomi's love for them.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:8–9 return each of you to her mother's house. Naomi hopes that both Ruth and Orpah will remarry and have children. find rest . . . in the house of her husband. She hopes they will find security and stability in raising a family (compare 3:1).

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:11–13 sons in my womb . . . your husbands. Naomi's question assumes that the widows could marry their dead husbands' brothers (levirate marriage, Deut. 25:5–10). Even if it had been possible for Naomi to have another son, however, he would not be able to give Orpah or Ruth a child for many years. This is not a solution to their problem. the hand of the LORD . . . against me. Naomi wrongly thinks her hard circumstances come from God's anger toward her.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:14 Ruth clung to Naomi, an expression of loyalty and devotion (compare Gen. 2:24, "hold fast").

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:15 Orpah's returning to her people meant returning to her gods (see Judg. 10:6).

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:16 Your people shall be my people, and your God my God. Ruth understood that her decision would mean accepting Naomi's God, since gods and territory went together (compare 2:12).

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:17 May the LORD do so to me. Ruth swears this oath in the name of Yahweh (compare 1 Sam. 3:17; 1 Kings 2:23), thereby claiming him as her God.

RUTH

Naomi, along with her husband and two sons, moved from Israel to Moab to seek relief from a famine. In Moab, one of her sons married Ruth, a Moabite. When Naomi's husband and sons died, she decided to return to her home in Bethlehem. Naomi urged Ruth to stay behind in her native land, but out of love for her mother-in-law, Ruth chose to return with her to Bethlehem and to serve the Lord. Following her mother-in-law's daring plan, Ruth took courageous steps to provide a new family for herself and Naomi. She married Boaz, and they had a son, Obed, who became the grandfather of King David. This means that Ruth was included in the lineage of Jesus Christ. Ruth's expression of love for her mother-in-law (1:16–17) has set a high standard for godly relationships down through the ages. (Ruth 1:16–17)

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:19 the whole town was stirred. This may mean the people of Bethlehem were excited about the arrival of Ruth. More likely, it means they were concerned to see Naomi returning from Moab without her husband and sons.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:20–21 the LORD has testified against me. Naomi thinks her suffering means that God is punishing her for some unknown sin.

RUTH—NOTE ON 1:22 Ruth is often referred to as the Moabite. This helps to emphasize how God's kindness extends through the Israelites to other nations (2:20) and also how God can choose to bless Israel through the kindness of people from other nations (3:10; 4:13–22). barley harvest. In April/May, a few weeks before the wheat harvest (see 2:23).

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:1–23 Scene 2: Ruth Gleans in Boaz's Field. This encounter between Ruth and Boaz in the harvest field is one of their two crucial meetings.

FACT

Gleaning was the Hebrew practice of allowing the poor to follow behind those harvesting crops to gather any food or grain left by the harvesters. Gleaners often worked from morning to evening, to gather enough to sustain themselves and their families. After sundown they would take the gathered grain and thresh it to separate the edible portion from the husk.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:1 Boaz is described as worthy, which can refer to one's character, wealth, social standing, or strength. The same word is used to describe Ruth (3:11).

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:2 glean. The poor, sojourners, widows, and orphans were allowed to gather standing grain in corners or borders of fields, as well as stalks or sheaves that had been left behind by workers (Lev. 19:9–10; Deut. 24:19). in whose sight I shall find favor. See note on Ruth 2:10.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:3 From a human point of view, Ruth just happened to be in the right place. But in fact she was there through God's mysterious providence.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:8–9 Boaz has charged the young men working in his field (see vv. 15, 21, 22) not to touch Ruth, to ensure her safety.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:10 found favor. Ruth wonders why Boaz would act so kindly toward her. Ruth calls herself a foreigner, but because of her loyalty to Naomi and to the Lord she has become a sojourner, who can enjoy many of the rights of an Israelite (Lev. 24:22; Num. 9:14; 15:14–16; Ezek. 47:22–23).

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:12 wings . . . refuge. Compare Ps. 36:7; 57:1; Matt. 23:37.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:17–18 Gleaning went from early morning (v. 7) to evening, that is, before sundown. After sundown was the time to beat out or winnow what had been gathered (see note on 3:2). An ephah of barley is about 5.5 gallons (22 liters)—at least a two-week supply for the two women.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:20 Whose kindness could refer to both the kindness of Boaz and the kindness of the Lord. Naomi foresees that this kindness will be shown to the living (Ruth) in marriage (Deut. 25:5–6; Ruth 4:10a, 13) and also to Naomi's dead husband and sons (1:8) by continuing their name through the birth of children to Ruth (4:5, 10; Lev. 25:23, 25). close relative . . . one of our redeemers. Boaz is neither the closest relative to Naomi nor the only one (see note on Ruth 3:12–13). This situation combines two Israelite customs: the redemption of family land and levirate marriage (see Introduction: Key Themes; "Redemption").

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:21 Moabite. See note on 1:22. close by my young men. See note on 2:8–9.

RUTH—NOTE ON 2:23 The barley harvest was in April/May, and the wheat harvest was a few weeks later (see 1:22).

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:1–18 Scene 3: Ruth, at the Threshing Floor, Asks Boaz to Marry Her. This is the second crucial encounter between Ruth and Boaz.

FACT

Threshing floors were places where grain was separated from the chaff. The floor was usually packed clay soil that had been worn smooth. Sheaves of grain were spread out on the floor and trampled upon, ideally by oxen. The oxen would also drag notched wooden sleds which would help pull the grain from the sheaves. Thieves would often try to steal grain during harvest time. Thus, it was not uncommon for the workers to sleep at the threshing floor.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:1 rest. See note on 1:8–9. be well with you. By having children (see Deut. 6:3).

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:2 winnowing . . . tonight. The winnowing took place during the breezes that begin after sundown (see note on 2:17–18). The threshing floor would have been east of the city so that the westerly wind would carry the chaff away from the city.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:3 Wash . . . anoint . . . put on. She must make herself attractive and meet Boaz at the right time.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:4 To uncover his feet and lie down there (vv. 8, 14) will demonstrate Ruth's dependence on Boaz in view of her bold marriage proposal (v. 9). Some scholars believe that "uncover his feet" implies sexual contact, but there is no evidence for this, and it would be out of place in this story.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:9 Ruth, your servant. A maidservant was considered a full member of an Israelite household (e.g., Ex. 20:10) and could give birth to an heir (see Gen. 30:3–4, 9). In Ruth 2:12, Boaz had expressed his hope that Ruth would find the refuge she was looking for, under the Lord's "wings." Now, Ruth invites Boaz to spread his wings (that is, the edge of his garment; see ESV footnote) over her in order to claim her in marriage. redeemer. See note on 3:12–13.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:10 this last kindness. That is, Ruth claiming Boaz as her redeemer (v. 9). Boaz was impressed that Ruth was not merely seeking marriage with eligible young men. Ruth's first act of kindness was her earlier acts of kindness to Naomi (2:11). "This last kindness" was greater than Ruth's earlier kindnesses to Naomi, because of all the people who would be affected by her thus continuing the family line.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:11 worthy woman. See note on 2:1; compare Prov. 31:10, "excellent wife," using the same Hebrew expression.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:12–13 redeemer nearer. The order of these relations is: brother, uncle, cousin, or other close relative (Lev. 25:48–49; Num. 27:11; see Introduction: Key Themes; "Redemption"). as the LORD lives. A solemn oath (compare Judg. 8:19; 1 Kings 2:24).

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:14 Let it not be known. Boaz is concerned for propriety and for his and Ruth's good reputation.

RUTH—NOTE ON 3:15 six measures of barley. Boaz's ample supply would also confirm his intentions to Naomi (v. 17).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:1–12 Scene 4: Boaz Arranges Redemption at the Gate. Both verb and noun forms of "redeem" occur throughout this scene (compare 2:20; 3:9, 12, 13; 4:14).

FACT

Redemption is a key theme in the book of Ruth. The words "redeem," "redeemer," and "redemption" appear 23 times.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:1–2 The city gate served as a combined town hall and courthouse (compare 2 Sam. 15:2; Job 29:7–17; Prov. 22:22; 31:23; Amos 5:10). Elders witnessed transactions (Ruth 4:4, 9–11; see Deut. 25:7) and decided legal cases (see Deut. 21:19; 22:15).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:3–6 Redemption is referred to here in terms of buying and selling (vv. 4, 5, 8, 9, 10; Ps. 74:2; Jer. 32:7). When the "redeemer nearer" learns that Ruth will become his wife as part of the transaction, he changes his mind. Apparently he was concerned that any son born to him and Ruth would share the inheritance already planned for his present children.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:7–8 in former times. The practice must be explained since the readers of the book of Ruth no longer do this. exchanging. Transferring the right of redemption (v. 6). sandal. A symbol of this exchange (compare Ps. 60:8; Amos 2:6; 8:6).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:10 Moabite (see note on 1:22). To preserve the family property, Ruth was bought (redeemed) to be Boaz's wife (see 4:13; Deut. 25:5). not be cut off from among his brothers. That is, from his clan relatives (Ruth 4:3). from the gate. Men of this family may have held prominent positions in the gate. His . . . place refers to his social standing.

BOAZ

When Naomi and her Moabite daughter-in-law Ruth came to Bethlehem as childless widows to start a new life, they encountered Boaz, a relative of Naomi's deceased husband. He was a good man who allowed the poor to glean in his field, as God commanded in the Law. The report of Ruth's loyalty to Naomi and to the Lord impressed him, and he protected Ruth while she worked in his field. By Israelite tradition, Boaz was among those who could rescue Naomi and Ruth from poverty. He could do so by redeeming Naomi's ancestral land and by marrying Ruth, thus providing heirs for Naomi's and Ruth's deceased husbands. After Ruth revealed her interest in Boaz, he agreed to do all of this. As he and Ruth moved toward marriage, Boaz was very careful to make sure that everything was done in an orderly and honorable way. Boaz and Ruth became the parents of Obed, who became King David's grandfather. (Ruth 4:9–10)

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:11 Rachel and Leah. Through childbearing they built up the house of Israel, that is, established and continued Jacob's family (Deut. 25:9; Ps. 127:1, 3). Through Boaz's offspring, David's family, or "house," was built (2 Sam. 7:11, 26). David's selection as king was the pride of Ephrathah and Bethlehem (see note on Ruth 1:2; see 1 Sam. 17:12).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:12 Perez. Ancestor of the preeminent Judean Perezite clan (Num. 26:20–21) and of prominent leaders (1 Chron. 9:4; 27:2–3; Neh. 11:4–6; Matt. 1:3). Tamar, Judah. See Gen. 38:6–8. offspring. See Ruth 4:17; Ps. 89:4, 29.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:13–17 Conclusion: Naomi Blessed with a New Family. The conclusion serves as the reversal of the introduction. The Lord, through Ruth's love, restores Naomi's life.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:13 The word son sounds like "built up" (v. 11). The son is the one through whom the house (1:9; 4:11, 12) is built.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:14 Calling the heir a redeemer indicates that he is the one in whom redemption is realized.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:15 Naomi had complained that the Lord had “brought me back empty” (1:21). But now, he will be a restorer of life for her. who loves you. Ruth’s love for Naomi has been steadfast throughout the book (see 1:16–17). The number seven expresses completion, or fullness; this is the answer to Naomi’s complaint against God (see note on 1:20–21).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:17 son . . . to Naomi. Elimelech’s heir (v. 9). The Lord, through Ruth, also rewards Naomi (2:12) and gives her rest (1:9; 3:1). The childless widow became the grandmother of Obed, who was the grandfather of David.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:18–22 Genealogy: Extended Blessing. Looking backward and forward, this genealogy (compare 1 Chron. 2:5–15) shows how the Lord repaid and rewarded Ruth, as Boaz desired (Ruth 2:12). The Lord brought about a new family line which became, through David, the greatest in all Israel. Jesus’ genealogy includes three foreign women—Tamar, Rahab, and Ruth (Matt. 1:3, 5).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:18 Perez. See notes on v. 12 and Matt. 1:3. In a genealogy, the word “fathered” can mean fathered a later descendant; thus biblical genealogies, including this one, may skip generations.

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:20 Nahshon, Aaron’s brother-in-law, was a leader among the Judean clans (Ex. 6:23; Num. 1:7; 10:14).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:21 Salmon fathered Boaz by Rahab (Matt. 1:5; see Josh. 6:25).

RUTH—NOTE ON 4:22 Boaz and Ruth’s family eventually includes David. From David will come the Messiah.

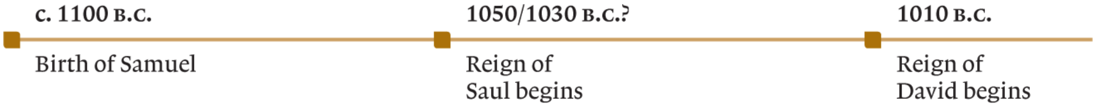
Introduction to 1–2 Samuel

Introduction to 1–2 Samuel

Timeline



Author and Date

The author or authors of 1 and 2 Samuel are not known. These books recount the stories of Samuel, Saul, and David. Saul's reign began between 1050–1030 B.C. and ended in 1010. David then reigned until 971. The books were probably written soon after the end of his reign.

Theme

The central theme of the books of Samuel is how the Lord (1) established a dynasty ("house") in Israel for David rather than Saul and (2) how he chose Jerusalem as the place where David's successor would establish the temple ("house") for the worship of the divine King Yahweh.

Purpose

The purpose of 1 Samuel is to highlight two major events: the establishment of the monarchy in Israel (chs. 8–12); and the rise of David to be king after Saul (chs. 16–31). After ruling for a while, Saul was rejected by the Lord in favor of David (chs. 15–16), though Saul stayed on the throne until his death at Mount Gilboa (ch. 31). Later, in 2 Samuel 7, God promises David and his house an eternal dynasty. The book of 1 Samuel establishes the principle that obedience to the word of God is the necessary condition for a king to be acceptable to the God of Israel.

First and Second Samuel deal with a transitional period in the history of ancient Israel. There is a transition of leadership first from the priest Eli to the judge Samuel, then from the judge Samuel to the king Saul, and then from Saul to David. Samuel thus is the link between the judgeship and the kingship in Israel. He is the prophet God uses to anoint both Saul and David. The kingdom of Saul was also transitional. Under Saul, Israel was more than a loose confederation that gathered together whenever there was a common threat, but there was no strong central rule such as existed later. The story of the rise of David in the second half of 1 Samuel prepares for the full-scale kingship of David in 2 Samuel.

1 Samuel Key Themes

1. God's kingship. God is King of the universe and always has been. No human king can assume kingship except as a deputy of the divine King.
2. God's providential guidance. God providentially and individually guided the lives of chosen people such as Hannah, Samuel, and David. Even the life of Saul was in God's providential care (see 1 Sam. 9:16). God's timing is always perfect (see 1 Samuel 9 and the end of 1 Samuel 23), for he is the Lord of history.
3. God's sovereign will and power. God chooses or rejects people according to his absolute sovereign will and purpose. He may change his way of dealing with individuals according to his plan and purpose, but his decision is always just and right. At the same time, he is merciful and gracious.

Therefore, obedience to God's word is of prime importance. Only God's grace allows sinful human beings to be in relationship with the holy God. Only the God-given way of approaching him through sacrifice can prepare humans to come closer to God. Believers can only wait on God, who will do his will according to his own purpose. What is impossible for humans is possible for God. This should encourage believers to put their faith in the one who is sovereign over the entire creation.

2 Samuel Key Themes

The themes of 1 Samuel are related to the themes of 2 Samuel: the sovereign God, who has guided David's life, chooses David as the ruler of God's people. God pledges to David an eternal covenant. David thus becomes the prototype of the future Messiah, Jesus Christ.

1. Davidic covenant. See 2 Samuel 7.

2. Messianic promise. Second Samuel 7 is a turning point in the history of salvation. God chose David to be the beginning of an enduring dynasty, from which the ultimate Ruler, Jesus, would come. God used David to fulfill his eternal plan of salvation, not because he was perfect from a human viewpoint, but because the Lord was "with him" and showed grace to him.

The Setting of 1 Samuel

c. 1050 B.C.

The book of 1 Samuel is set in Israel during the transition between the period of the judges and the period of the monarchy. It opens with Samuel's birth and then describes his role as judge over Israel. When the people ask for a king, the Lord instructs Samuel to anoint Saul as Israel's first king.

The book of 2 Samuel recounts David’s reign over Israel and his battles to establish Israel as the dominant power in Syria and Palestine. David expanded Israel’s borders from Saul’s smaller territory. By the end of his reign, David controlled all of Israel, Edom, Moab, Ammon, Syria, and Zobah. Other kingdoms, such as Tyre and Hamath, established treaties with him.

The Global Message of 1 Samuel

First Samuel in Redemptive History

God's purpose in setting apart Abraham and his descendants, the Israelites, was to bless the nations of the world. The way we see this purpose move forward in 1 Samuel is through the beginning of the kingship in Israel. While on one level it was an act of faithlessness when Israel clamored to have a king like all the other nations of the world (1 Sam. 8:4–22), God used their wayward request to begin a succession of kings that would ultimately be fulfilled in the true and final king, Jesus himself.

In this way 1 Samuel demonstrates God's continued care for his people, raising up for them a king who would be Israel's champion, representative, and example. Saul, the first king, was outwardly impressive but failed to trust God truly. He proved himself to be a flawed, headstrong, and unworthy king. David, however, in spite of his profound moral failures, was God's choice to be the start of a dynasty that will never end. Indeed, while this dynasty proved to produce one failed king after another, these failures served to heighten the longing for a true king who would not fail but would prove himself the ultimate champion, representative, and example for God's people.

In God's miraculous mercy, in the fullness of time, this dynasty did indeed bring forth a Ruler to lead God's people in bringing blessing to all the nations of the earth.

The Folly of Superstition

Superstition today. The book of 1 Samuel provides the most systematic teaching in the Old Testament about the phenomenon of superstition. Though some might define superstition narrowly as social taboos or irrational beliefs, superstition is not limited to these things. At the heart of superstition is simply fear of the unknown. Any attempt to manipulate an unknown deity or the powers that supposedly control the world counts as a form of superstition. Understood in this broader sense, it becomes evident that superstition is still found around the world today, even among those with a Christian background. Believers sometimes think that daily Bible reading and prayer will bring predictable blessings, or that God may be bargained with through giving a bigger offering, or that wearing Christian symbols brings protection from harm. All this is superstition.

Superstition in 1 Samuel. In 1 Samuel 4–7, the story of the ark of the covenant (which represented God's presence; see Ex. 25:10–22) demonstrates how a missionary God responds to superstitious people. In a battle against the Philistines, the Israelites believe that the presence of the ark can guarantee victory in battle: "Let us bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD here from Shiloh, that it may come among us and save us from the power of our enemies" (1 Sam. 4:3). But the presence of the ark among them makes no difference. Not only is Israel defeated by the Philistines, but two tragedies follow: "The ark of God was captured, and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, died" (4:11). Here is the greatest crisis so far in Israel's history. The ark, which symbolized God's presence and accompanied Israel into the Promised Land, has been taken. And the priest's two sons, the future leaders of Israel, are both dead. To the Israelites, these setbacks mean nothing less than the collapse of their nation. Their divine leadership and their human leadership have both been lost.

God's Grace to Israel and to the World

God's greater purposes. The rest of 1 Samuel 4–7 reveals, however, that God often allows the superstitions of his people to fail so that they might learn that he remains sovereign even in defeat. Israel has given up hope because their false reliance on the ark has failed. But the battle over superstition is just getting started—the Philistines will soon see how a missionary God also defeats their superstition about the ark. They do what victorious armies in the ancient world typically did, moving the symbol of their enemy's god into the temple of their own god: "Then the Philistines took the ark of God and brought it into the house of Dagon and set it up beside Dagon" (1 Sam. 5:2).

To the Philistines it is clear that Dagon, their god of fertility, is stronger than the God of Israel, because Israel lost the battle. On this point the Israelites would perhaps have agreed. But the next morning, the Philistines wake up to find Dagon flat on his face before the ark of the Lord. The Philistines wonder if perhaps Dagon was positioned improperly on his throne, so they return Dagon to his place. Once more, however, they find Dagon lying prostrate, this time with his head and hands cut off (1 Sam. 5:4).

Drawing all people to himself. Israel is defeated, but the God of Israel certainly is not. He has allowed the ark to be taken by the Philistines because of the superstition of the Israelites, but now the ark defeats the superstition of the Philistines! This account shows that when God's people are faithless and attempt to manipulate God through their superstitions, he may allow their superstitions to succeed before then using his power to humble them. The humbled Philistines show more respect to the ark than the Israelites had done: "What shall we do with the ark of the God of Israel?" (1 Sam. 5:8; compare 4:3). God has hidden his power in Israel but reveals his power in Philistia—the Israelites give up on their God because superstition has led to defeat, yet due to the same superstition and its effects in Philistia, the Philistines give up on Dagon and acknowledge the God of Israel. Thus the superstitious world of both the Israelites and Philistines has been turned upside down by a missionary God who is creatively drawing all peoples to himself.

The Global Message of 1 Samuel for Today

Rejecting superstition. The God of the Bible, the one true God, is not a fickle tribal deity. He cannot be manipulated. When God's people are superstitious, they show a lack of heartfelt faith in the God who orders all things according to his infinite wisdom. We can pray and act in confidence, not in the fear that drives superstition. Like the mobile ark in 1 Samuel 4–7, the sovereign God of the world is not captive to any particular place or human agenda or superstition.

God's wisdom through human folly. God is at work not only in victory but also in defeat. His redemptive purposes are accomplished despite, and even through, human weakness and sinfulness. The supreme example of this is the cross of Christ. The world thought that it was defeating God by nailing his Son Jesus to a Roman cross, yet in that moment God was accomplishing his greatest victory (1 Cor. 1:18–2:16). As we confess our sinfulness and place our trust in Jesus alone, the missionary God who has overcome the powers of this world exchanges our sins and superstitions for the righteousness of Christ himself (2 Cor. 5:21) and the abiding presence of his Spirit, who never leaves us (John 14:16–17).

The Birth of Samuel

1 SAMUEL 1 [†]There was a certain man of [a]Ramathaim-zophim of [b]the hill country of Ephraim whose name was Elkanah the son of Jeroham, son of Elihu, son of Tohu, son of Zuph, [c]an Ephrathite. [2][†]He had two wives. The name of the one was Hannah, and the name of the other, Peninnah. And Peninnah had children, but Hannah had no children.

[3][†]Now this man used to go up [d]year by year from his city [e]to worship and to sacrifice to the LORD of hosts [f]at Shiloh, where the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were priests of the LORD. [4][†]On the day when Elkanah sacrificed, [g]he would give portions to Peninnah his wife and to all her sons and daughters. [5]But to Hannah he gave a double portion, because he loved her, though the LORD had closed her womb. [1] [6]And her rival used to provoke her grievously to irritate her, because the LORD had closed her womb. [7][†]So it went on year by year. As often as she went up to the house of the LORD, she used to provoke her. Therefore Hannah wept and would not eat. [8][†]And Elkanah, her husband, said to her, “Hannah, why do you weep? And why do you not eat? And why is your heart sad? [h]Am I not more to you than ten sons?”

[9][†]After they had eaten and drunk in Shiloh, Hannah rose. Now Eli the priest was sitting on the seat beside the doorpost of [i]the temple of the LORD. [10]She was [j]deeply distressed and prayed to the LORD and wept bitterly. [11][†]And she [k]vowed a vow and said, “O LORD of hosts, if you will indeed [l]look on the affliction of your servant and [m]remember me and not forget your servant, but will give to your servant a son, then I will give him to the LORD all the days of his life, [n]and no razor shall touch his head.”

[12][†]As she continued praying before the LORD, Eli observed her mouth. [13]Hannah was speaking in her heart; only her lips moved, and her voice was not heard. Therefore Eli took her to be a drunken woman. [14]And Eli said to her, “How long will you go on being drunk? Put your wine away from you.” [15]But Hannah answered, “No, my lord, I am a woman troubled in spirit. I have drunk neither wine nor strong drink, but [o]I have been pouring out my soul before the LORD. [16]Do not regard your servant as [p]a worthless woman, for all along I have been speaking out of my great anxiety and vexation.” 17Then Eli answered, [q]“Go in peace, and the God of Israel [r]grant your petition that you have made to him.” 18And she said, [s]“Let your servant find favor in your eyes.” Then the woman [t]went her way and ate, and her face was no longer sad.

19They rose early in the morning and worshiped before the LORD; then they went back to their house at [u]Ramah. And Elkanah knew Hannah his wife, and the LORD [v]remembered her. 20[†]And in due time Hannah conceived and bore a son, and she called his name Samuel, for she said, “I have asked for him from the LORD.”[2]

Samuel Given to the LORD

21The man Elkanah and all his house [w]went up to offer to the LORD the yearly sacrifice and to pay his vow. 22But Hannah did not go up, for she said to her husband, “As soon as the child is weaned, I will bring him, so that he may appear in the presence of the LORD [x]and dwell there forever.” 23[y]Elkanah her husband said to her, “Do what seems best to you; wait until you have weaned him; [z]only, may the LORD establish his word.” So the woman remained and nursed her son until she weaned him. 24[†]And when she had weaned him, [a]she took him up with her, along with a three-year-old bull,[3] an ephah[4] of flour, and a skin of wine, and she brought him to [b]the house of the LORD at Shiloh. And the child was young. 25Then they slaughtered the bull, and they brought the child to Eli. 26[†]And she said, “Oh, my lord! [c]As you live, my lord, I am the woman who was standing here in your presence, praying to the LORD. 27[†]For this child I prayed, [d]and the LORD has granted me my petition that I made to him. 28Therefore I have lent him to the LORD. As long as he lives, he is lent to the LORD.”

[e]And he worshiped the LORD there.

Hannah’s Prayer

1 SAMUEL 2 [†]And Hannah prayed and said,

[f]“My heart exults in the LORD;
  [g]my horn is exalted in the LORD.

My mouth derides my enemies, because [h]I rejoice in your salvation.

2[†] [i]“There is none holy like the LORD:
for there is none besides you;
there is [j]no rock like our God.
3[†] Talk no more so very proudly, let not arrogance come from your mouth;
for the LORD is a God of knowledge, and by him actions are weighed.
4 [k]The bows of the mighty are broken, but the feeble bind on strength.
5[†] Those who were full have hired themselves out for bread, but those who were hungry have ceased to hunger.
[l]The barren has borne seven,
[m]but she who has many children is forlorn.
6[†] [n]The LORD kills and brings to life;
he brings down to Sheol and raises up.
7 [o]The LORD makes poor and makes rich;
[p]he brings low and he exalts.
8[†] [q]He raises up the poor from the dust;
he lifts the needy from the ash heap [r]to make them sit with princes and inherit a seat of honor.
[s]For the pillars of the earth are the LORD’s, and on them he has set the world.

9 [t]“He will guard the feet of his faithful ones, but the wicked shall be cut off in darkness, for not by might shall a man prevail.
10[†] [u]The adversaries of the LORD shall be broken to pieces;
[v]against them he will thunder in heaven.
[w]The LORD will judge the ends of the earth;
he will give strength to his king [x]and exalt the horn of his anointed.”

[11][†]Then Elkanah went home [y]to Ramah. [z]And the boy [1] was ministering to the LORD in the presence of Eli the priest.

Eli's Worthless Sons

[12][†]Now the sons of Eli were [a]worthless men. [b]They did not know the LORD. [13][†]The custom of the priests with the people was that when any man offered sacrifice, the priest's servant would come, while the meat was boiling, with a three-pronged fork in his hand, [14]and he would thrust it into the pan or kettle or cauldron or pot. All that the fork brought up the priest would take for himself. This is what they did at Shiloh to all the Israelites who came there. [15][†]Moreover, [c]before the fat was burned, the priest's servant would come and say to the man who was sacrificing, "Give meat for the priest to roast, for he will not accept boiled meat from you but only raw." [16]And if the man said to him, "Let them burn the fat first, and then take as much as you wish," he would say, "No, you must give it now, and if not, I will take it by force." [17]Thus the sin of the young men was very great [d]in the sight of the LORD, [e]for the men treated the offering of the LORD with contempt.

[18][†][f]Samuel was ministering before the LORD, a boy [g]clothed with a linen ephod. [19]And his mother used to make for him a little robe and take it to him each year [h]when she went up with her husband to offer the yearly sacrifice. [20]Then Eli would bless Elkanah and his wife, and say, "May the LORD give you children by this woman [i]for the petition she asked of the LORD." So then they would return to their home.

[21][j]Indeed the LORD visited Hannah, and she conceived and bore three sons and two daughters. [k]And the boy Samuel grew in the presence of the LORD.

Eli Rebukes His Sons

[22][†]Now Eli was very old, and he kept hearing all that his sons were doing to all Israel, and how they lay with the women who [l]were serving at the entrance to the tent of meeting. [23]And he said to them, "Why do you do such things? For I hear of your evil dealings from all these people. [24]No, my sons; it is no good report that I hear the people of the LORD spreading abroad. 25[†]If someone sins against a man, God will mediate for him, but if someone sins against the LORD, who can intercede for him?" But they would not listen to the voice of their father, [m] for it was the will of the LORD to put them to death.

26[†]Now the boy Samuel [n] continued to grow both in stature and in favor with the LORD and also with man.

The LORD Rejects Eli's Household

27[†]And there came [o] a man of God to Eli and said to him, "Thus says the LORD, [p] 'Did I indeed reveal myself to the house of your father when they were in Egypt subject to the house of Pharaoh? 28 [q] Did I choose him out of all the tribes of Israel to be my priest, to go up to my altar, to burn incense, [r] to wear an ephod before me? [s] I gave to the house of your father all my offerings by fire from the people of Israel. 29Why then do you [t] scorn [2] my sacrifices and my offerings that I commanded for my dwelling, and honor your sons above me by fattening yourselves on the choicest parts of every offering of my people Israel?' 30[†]Therefore the LORD, the God of Israel, declares: [v] 'I promised that your house and the house of your father should go in and out before me forever,' [w] but now the LORD declares: 'Far be it from me, for those who honor me I will honor, and those who despise me shall be lightly esteemed. 31[†]Behold, [x] the days are coming when I will cut off your strength and the strength of your father's house, so that there will not be an old man in your house. 32Then [y] in distress you will look with envious eye on all the prosperity that shall be bestowed on Israel, [z] and there shall not be an old man in your house forever. 33The only one of you whom I shall not cut off from my altar shall be spared to weep his [3] eyes out to grieve his heart, and all the descendants [4] of your house shall die by the sword of men. [5] 34 [a] And this that shall come upon your two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, shall be the sign to you: both of them shall die [b] on the same day. 35[†] [c] And I will raise up for myself a faithful priest, who shall do according to what is in my heart and in my mind. [d] And I will build him a sure house, and he shall go in and out before [e] my anointed forever. 36And everyone who is left in your house shall come to implore him for a piece of silver or a loaf of bread and shall say, “Please put me in one of the priests’ places, that I may eat a morsel of bread.”’”

The Lord Calls Samuel

1 SAMUEL 3 [†] [f] Now the boy Samuel was ministering to the LORD in the presence of Eli. [g] And the word of the LORD was rare in those days; there was no frequent vision.

[2]At that time Eli, [h] whose eyesight had begun to grow dim so that he could not see, was lying down in his own place. [3][†] [i] The lamp of God had not yet gone out, and Samuel was lying down [j] in the temple of the LORD, where the ark of God was.

[4]Then the LORD called Samuel, and he said, “Here I am!” [5]and ran to Eli and said, “Here I am, for you called me.” But he said, “I did not call; lie down again.” So he went and lay down.

[6]And the LORD called again, “Samuel!” and Samuel arose and went to Eli and said, “Here I am, for you called me.” But he said, “I did not call, my son; lie down again.” [7][†]Now Samuel did not yet know the LORD, and the word of the LORD had not yet been revealed to him.

[8]And the LORD called Samuel again the third time. And he arose and went to Eli and said, “Here I am, for you called me.” Then Eli perceived that the LORD was calling the boy. [9]Therefore Eli said to Samuel, “Go, lie down, and if he calls you, you shall say, ‘Speak, LORD, for your servant hears.’” So Samuel went and lay down in his place.

[10][†]And the LORD came and stood, calling as at other times, “Samuel! Samuel!” And Samuel said, “Speak, for your servant hears.” [11]Then the LORD said to Samuel, “Behold, I am about to do a thing in Israel [k] at which the two ears of everyone who hears it will tingle. [12][†]On that day I will fulfill against Eli [l] all that I have spoken concerning his house, from beginning to end. [13] [l] And I declare to him that I am about to punish his house forever, for the iniquity that he knew, [m] because his sons were blaspheming God, [1] [n] and he did not restrain them. [14][†]Therefore I swear to the house of Eli [o] that the iniquity of Eli’s house shall not be atoned for by sacrifice or offering forever.”

[15]Samuel lay until morning; then he opened the doors of the house of the LORD. And Samuel was afraid to tell the vision to Eli. [16]But Eli called Samuel and said, “Samuel, my son.” And he said, “Here I am.” [17][†]And Eli said, “What was it that he told you? Do not hide it from me. [p]May God do so to you and more also if you hide anything from me of all that he told you.” [18][†]So Samuel told him everything and hid nothing from him. And he said, [q]“It is the LORD. Let him do what seems good to him.”

[19][†] [r]And Samuel grew, and the LORD was with him [s]and let none of his words fall to the ground. [20][†]And all Israel [t]from Dan to Beersheba knew that Samuel was established as a prophet of the LORD. [21]And the LORD appeared again at Shiloh, for the LORD revealed himself to Samuel [u]at Shiloh [v]by the word of the LORD.

The Philistines Capture the Ark

1 SAMUEL 4 [†]And the word of Samuel came to all Israel.

Now Israel went out to battle against the Philistines. They encamped at [w]Ebenezer, and the Philistines encamped at [x]Aphek. [2]The Philistines drew up in line against Israel, and when the battle spread, Israel was defeated before the Philistines, who killed about four thousand men on the field of battle. [3][†]And when the people came to the camp, the elders of Israel said, “Why has the LORD defeated us today before the Philistines? Let us bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD here [y]from Shiloh, that it [1] may come among us and save us from the power of our enemies.” [4]So the people sent to Shiloh and brought from there the ark of the covenant of the LORD of hosts, [z]who is enthroned on the cherubim. And the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were there with the ark of the covenant of God.

[5][†]As soon as the ark of the covenant of the LORD came into the camp, all Israel [a]gave a mighty shout, so that the earth resounded. [6][†]And when the Philistines heard the noise of the shouting, they said, “What does this great shouting in the camp of the Hebrews mean?” And when they learned that the ark of the LORD had come to the camp, [7][†]the Philistines were afraid, for they said, “A god has come into the camp.” And they said, “Woe to us! For nothing like this has happened before. [8]Woe to us! Who can deliver us from the power of these mighty gods? These are the gods who struck the Egyptians with every sort of plague in the wilderness. [9] [b] Take courage, and be men, O Philistines, lest you become slaves to the Hebrews [c] as they have been to you; be men and fight.”

[10][†]So the Philistines fought, [d] and Israel was defeated, [e] and they fled, every man to his home. And there was a very great slaughter, for thirty thousand foot soldiers of Israel fell. [11] [f] And the ark of God was captured, [g] and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, died.

The Death of Eli

[12]A man of Benjamin ran from the battle line and came to Shiloh the same day, [h] with his clothes torn and with dirt on his head. [13]When he arrived, [i] Eli was sitting on his seat by the road watching, for his heart trembled for the ark of God. And when the man came into the city and told the news, all the city cried out. [14]When Eli heard the sound of the outcry, he said, “What is this uproar?” Then the man hurried and came and told Eli. [15]Now Eli was ninety-eight years old [j] and his eyes were set so that he could not see. [16]And the man said to Eli, “I am he who has come from the battle; I fled from the battle today.” And he said, [k] “How did it go, my son?” [17][†]He who brought the news answered and said, “Israel has fled before the Philistines, and there has also been a great defeat among the people. Your two sons also, Hophni and Phinehas, are dead, and the ark of God has been captured.” [18][†]As soon as he mentioned the ark of God, Eli fell over backward [l] from his seat by the side of the gate, and his neck was broken and he died, for the man was old and heavy. He had judged Israel forty years.

[19]Now his daughter-in-law, the wife of Phinehas, was pregnant, about to give birth. And when she heard the news that the ark of God was captured, and that her father-in-law and her husband were dead, she bowed and gave birth, for her pains came upon her. [20]And about the time of her death the women attending her said to her, [m] “Do not be afraid, for you have borne a son.” But she did not answer or pay attention. [21][†]And she named the child [n] Ichabod, saying, [o] “The glory has departed [2] from Israel!” because [p] the ark of God had been captured and because of her father-in-law and her husband. [22]And she said, “The glory has departed from Israel, [p] for the ark of God has been captured.”

The Philistines and the Ark

1 SAMUEL 5 When the Philistines captured the ark of God, they brought it from [q] Ebenezer to [r] Ashdod. [2][†]Then the Philistines took the ark of God and brought it into the house of Dagon and set it up beside [s] Dagon. [3]And when the people of Ashdod rose early the next day, behold, [t] Dagon had fallen face downward on the ground before the ark of the LORD. So they took Dagon and put him back in his place. [4]But when they rose early on the next morning, behold, Dagon had fallen face downward on the ground before the ark of the LORD, [u] and the head of Dagon and both his hands were lying cut off on the threshold. Only the trunk of Dagon was left to him. [5]This is why the priests of Dagon and all who enter the house of Dagon [v] do not tread on the threshold of Dagon in Ashdod to this day.

[6][†] [w] The hand of the LORD was heavy against the people of Ashdod, and he terrified and afflicted them with [x] tumors, both Ashdod and its territory. [7]And when the men of Ashdod saw how things were, they said, “The ark of the God of Israel must not remain with us, for his hand is hard against us and against Dagon our god.” [8][†]So they sent and gathered together all [y] the lords of the Philistines and said, “What shall we do with the ark of the God of Israel?” They answered, “Let the ark of the God of Israel be brought around to Gath.” So they brought the ark of the God of Israel there. [9]But after they had brought it around, [z] the hand of the LORD was against the city, causing a very great panic, and he afflicted the men of the city, both young and old, so that [x] tumors broke out on them. [10]So they sent the ark of God to Ekron. But as soon as the ark of God came to Ekron, the people of Ekron cried out, “They have brought around to us the ark of the God of Israel to kill us and our people.” [11] [y] They sent therefore and gathered together all the lords of the Philistines and said, “Send away the ark of the God of Israel, and let it return to its own place, that it may not kill us and our people.” For there was a deathly panic throughout the whole city. [w] The hand of God was very heavy there. [12]The men who did not die were struck with [x] tumors, and the cry of the city went up to heaven.

The Ark Returned to Israel

1 SAMUEL 6 The ark of the LORD was in the country of the Philistines seven months. [2]And the Philistines called for the priests and [a]the diviners and said, “What shall we do with the ark of the LORD? Tell us with what we shall send it to its place.” [3][†]They said, “If you send away the ark of the God of Israel, do not send it empty, but by all means return him [b]a guilt offering. Then you will be healed, and it will be known to you why [c]his hand does not turn away from you.” [4]And they said, “What is the guilt offering that we shall return to him?” They answered, “Five golden [d]tumors and five golden mice, [e]according to the number of the lords of the Philistines, for the same plague was on all of you and on your lords. [5][†]So you must make images of your [d]tumors and images of your mice that ravage the land, [f]and give glory to the God of Israel. Perhaps [g]he will lighten his hand from off you [h]and your gods and your land. [6][†]Why should you harden your hearts as [i]the Egyptians and [j]Pharaoh hardened their hearts? After he had dealt severely with them, [k]did they not send the people away, and they departed? [7][†]Now then, take and prepare [l]a new cart and two milk cows [m]on which there has never come a yoke, and yoke the cows to the cart, but take their calves home, away from them. [8]And take the ark of the LORD and place it on the cart and put in a box at its side [n]the figures of gold, which you are returning to him as [b]a guilt offering. Then send it off and let it go its way [9]and watch. If it goes up on the way to its own land, to [o]Beth-shemesh, then it is he who has done us this great harm, but if not, then we shall know that it is not [p]his hand that struck us; it happened to us by coincidence.”

[10]The men did so, and took two milk cows and yoked them to the cart and shut up their calves at home. [11]And they put the ark of the LORD on the cart and the box with the golden mice and the images of their tumors.
[12][†]And the cows went straight in the direction of [q]Beth-shemesh along [r]one highway, lowing as they went. They turned neither to the right nor to the left, and the lords of the Philistines went after them as far as the border of [q]Beth-shemesh. [13]Now the people of [q]Beth-shemesh were reaping their wheat harvest in the valley. And when they lifted up their eyes and saw the ark, they rejoiced to see it. [14]The cart came into the field of Joshua of Bethshemesh and stopped there. [s]A great stone was there. And they split up the wood of the cart and offered the cows as a burnt offering to the LORD. [15]And the Levites took down the ark of the LORD and the box that was beside it, in which were the golden figures, and set them upon [s]the great stone. And the men of [q]Beth-shemesh offered burnt offerings and sacrificed sacrifices on that day to the LORD. [16]And when [t]the five lords of the Philistines saw it, they returned that day to Ekron.

[17][†]These are the golden tumors that the Philistines returned as a [u]guilt offering to the LORD: one for Ashdod, one for Gaza, one for Ashkelon, one for Gath, one for Ekron, [18]and the golden mice, according to the number of all the cities of the Philistines belonging to the five lords, [v]both fortified cities and unwalled villages. [w]The great stone beside which they set down the ark of the LORD is a witness to this day in the field of Joshua of Beth-shemesh.

[19][†][x]And he struck some of the men of Beth-shemesh, because they looked upon the ark of the LORD. He struck seventy men of them, [1] and the people mourned because the LORD had struck the people with a great blow. [20][†]Then the men of Beth-shemesh said, [y]"Who is able to stand before the LORD, this holy God? And to whom shall he go up away from us?" [21][†]So they sent messengers to the inhabitants of [z]Kiriath-jearim, saying, "The Philistines have returned the ark of the LORD. Come down and take it up to you."

1 SAMUEL 7 [†]And the men of Kiriath-jearim came and took up the ark of the LORD and brought it to the house of [a]Abinadab on the hill. And they consecrated his son Eleazar to have charge of the ark of the LORD. [2][†]From the day that the ark was lodged at Kiriath-jearim, a long time passed, some twenty years, and all the house of Israel lamented after the LORD.

Samuel Judges Israel

[3][†]And Samuel said to all the house of Israel, [b]"If you are returning to the LORD with all your heart, then [c]put away the foreign gods and the [d]Ashtaroth from among you and [e]direct your heart to the LORD [f]and serve him only, and he will deliver you out of the hand of the Philistines." [4]So the people of Israel put away the Baals and the Ashtaroth, and they served the LORD only.

5[†]Then Samuel said, “Gather all Israel at [g] Mizpah, and I will pray to the LORD for you.” 6So they gathered at [g] Mizpah [h] and drew water and poured it out before the LORD [i] and fasted on that day and said there, [j] “We have sinned against the LORD.” And Samuel judged the people of Israel at Mizpah. 7Now when the Philistines heard that the people of Israel had gathered at Mizpah, the lords of the Philistines went up against Israel. And when the people of Israel heard of it, they were afraid of the Philistines. 8And the people of Israel said to Samuel, “Do not cease to cry out to the LORD our God for us, that he may save us from the hand of the Philistines.” 9[†]So Samuel took a nursing lamb and offered it as a whole burnt offering to the LORD. And [k] Samuel cried out to the LORD for Israel, and the LORD answered him. 10[†]As Samuel was offering up the burnt offering, the Philistines drew near to attack Israel. [l] But the LORD thundered with a mighty sound that day against the Philistines and threw them into confusion, and they were defeated before Israel. 11And the men of Israel went out from Mizpah and pursued the Philistines and struck them, as far as below Beth-car.

12Then Samuel [m] took a stone and set it up between Mizpah and Shen [1] and called its name Ebenezer; [2] for he said, “Till now the LORD has helped us.” 13[†] [n] So the Philistines were subdued and did not again enter the territory of Israel. And the hand of the LORD was against the Philistines all the days of Samuel. 14[†]The cities that the Philistines had taken from Israel were restored to Israel, from Ekron to Gath, and Israel delivered their territory from the hand of the Philistines. There was peace also between Israel and the Amorites.

15[†] [o] Samuel judged Israel all the days of his life. 16And he went on a circuit year by year to Bethel, Gilgal, and Mizpah. And he judged Israel in all these places. 17Then he would return to [p] Ramah, for his home was there, and there also he judged Israel. [q] And he built there an altar to the LORD.

Israel Demands a King

1 SAMUEL 8 [†]When Samuel became old, [r]he made his sons judges over Israel. [2][†]The name of his firstborn son was Joel, and the name of his second, Abijah; they were judges in Beersheba. [3][†]Yet his sons did not walk in his ways [s]but turned aside after gain. [t]They took bribes and perverted justice.

[4][†]Then all the elders of Israel gathered together and came to Samuel at [p]Ramah [5]and said to him, “Behold, you are old and your sons do not walk in your ways. [u]Now appoint for us a king to judge us like all the nations.” [6][†]But the thing displeased Samuel when they said, “Give us a king to judge us.” And Samuel prayed to the LORD. [7]And the LORD said to Samuel, “Obey the voice of the people in all that they say to you, [v]for they have not rejected you, [w]but they have rejected me from being king over them. [8]According to all the deeds that they have done, from the day I brought them up out of Egypt even to this day, forsaking me and serving other gods, so they are also doing to you. [9][†]Now then, obey their voice; only you shall solemnly warn them [x]and show them the ways of the king who shall reign over them.”

Samuel’s Warning Against Kings

[10]So Samuel told all the words of the LORD to the people who were asking for a king from him. [11][†]He said, [y]“These will be the ways of the king who will reign over you: [z]he will take your sons and appoint them to his chariots and to be his horsemen and to run before his chariots. [12][†]And he will appoint for himself commanders of thousands and commanders of fifties, and some [a]to plow his ground and to reap his harvest, and to make his implements of war and the equipment of his chariots. [13]He will take your daughters to be perfumers and cooks and bakers. [14][†] [b]He will take the best of your fields and vineyards and olive orchards and give them to his servants. [15]He will take the tenth of your grain and of your vineyards and give it to his officers and to his servants. [16]He will take your male servants and female servants and the best of your young men [1] and your donkeys, and put them to his work. [17][†]He will take the tenth of your flocks, and you shall be his slaves. [18]And in that day you will cry out because of your king, whom you have chosen for yourselves, [c]but the Lord will not answer you in that day.”

The Lord Grants Israel’s Request

[19][†]But the people refused to obey the voice of Samuel. And they said, “No! But there shall be a king over us, [20][d]that we also may be like all the nations, and that our king may judge us and go out before us and fight our battles.” [21]And when Samuel had heard all the words of the people, he repeated them in the ears of the Lord. [22][†]And the Lord said to Samuel, [e]“Obey their voice and make them a king.” Samuel then said to the men of Israel, “Go every man to his city.”

Saul Chosen to Be King

1 SAMUEL 9 [†]There was a man of Benjamin whose name was [f]Kish, the son of Abiel, son of Zeror, son of Becorath, son of Aphiah, a Benjaminite, a man of wealth. [2][†]And he had a son whose name was Saul, [g]a handsome young man. There was not a man among the people of Israel more handsome than he. [h]From his shoulders upward he was taller than any of the people.

[3][†]Now the donkeys of Kish, Saul's father, were lost. So Kish said to Saul his son, "Take one of the young men with you, and arise, go and look for the donkeys." [4]And he passed through [i]the hill country of Ephraim and passed through the land of [j]Shalishah, but they did not find them. And they passed through the land of Shaalim, but they were not there. Then they passed through the land of Benjamin, but did not find them.

[5]When they came to the land of Zuph, Saul said to his servant [1] who was with him, "Come, let us go back, [k]lest my father cease to care about the donkeys and become anxious about us." [6]But he said to him, "Behold, there is [l]a man of God in this city, and he is a man who is held in honor; [m]all that he says comes true. So now let us go there. Perhaps he can tell us the way we should go." [7]Then Saul said to his servant, "But if we go, [n]what can we bring the man? For the bread in our sacks is gone, and there is no present to bring to the man of God. What do we have?" [8]The servant answered Saul again, "Here, I have with me a quarter of a shekel [2] of silver, and I will give it to the man of God to tell us our way." [9][†](Formerly in Israel, when a man [o]went to inquire of God, he said, "Come, let us go to the seer," for today's "prophet" was formerly called a seer.) [10]And Saul said to his servant, "Well said; come, let us go." So they went to the city where the man of God was.

[11]As they went up the hill to the city, [p]they met young women coming out to draw water and said to them, "Is the seer here?" [12][†]They answered, "He is; behold, he is just ahead of you. Hurry. He has come just now to the city, because the people [q]have a sacrifice today on [r]the high place. [13]As soon as you enter the city you will find him, before he goes up to the high place to eat. For the people will not eat till he comes, since he must bless the sacrifice; afterward those who are invited will eat. Now go up, for you will meet him immediately.” [14]So they went up to the city. As they were entering the city, they saw Samuel coming out toward them on his way up to the high place.

[15]Now the day before Saul came, [s]the LORD had [t]revealed to Samuel: [16][†]“Tomorrow about this time I will send to you a man from the land of Benjamin, [u]and you shall anoint him to be prince [3] over my people Israel. He shall save my people from the hand of the Philistines. [v]For I have seen [4] my people, because their cry has come to me.” [17]When Samuel saw Saul, the LORD told him, [w]“Here is the man of whom I spoke to you! He it is who shall restrain my people.” [18]Then Saul approached Samuel in the gate and said, “Tell me where is the house of the seer?” [19]Samuel answered Saul, “I am the seer. Go up before me to the high place, for today you shall eat with me, and in the morning I will let you go and will tell you all that is on your mind. [20][†][x]As for your donkeys that were lost three days ago, do not set your mind on them, for they have been found. And for whom is all that is desirable in Israel? Is it not for you and for all your father’s house?” [21]Saul answered, “Am I not a Benjaminite, [y]from the least of the tribes of Israel? [z]And is not my clan the humblest of all the clans of the tribe of Benjamin? Why then have you spoken to me in this way?”

[22]Then Samuel took Saul and his young man and brought them into the hall and gave them a place at the head of those who had been invited, who were about thirty persons. [23]And Samuel said to the cook, “Bring the portion I gave you, of which I said to you, ‘Put it aside.’” [24][†]So the cook took up [a]the leg and what was on it and set them before Saul. And Samuel said, “See, what was kept is set before you. Eat, because it was kept for you until the hour appointed, that you might eat with the guests.” [5]

So Saul ate with Samuel that day. [25]And when they came down from the high place into the city, a bed was spread for Saul [6] [b]on the roof, and he lay down to sleep. [26]Then at the break of dawn [7] Samuel called to Saul on the roof, “Up, that I may send you on your way.” So Saul arose, and both he and Samuel went out into the street.

[27]As they were going down to the outskirts of the city, Samuel said to Saul, “Tell the servant to pass on before us, and when he has passed on, stop here yourself for a while, that I may make known to you the word of God.”

Saul Anointed King

1 SAMUEL 10 [†] [c] Then Samuel took a flask of oil and poured it on his head [d] and kissed him and said, “Has not the LORD anointed you to be prince [1] over [e] his people Israel? And you shall reign over the people of the LORD and you will save them from the hand of their surrounding enemies. And this shall be the sign to you that the LORD has anointed you to be prince [2] over his heritage. [2]When you depart from me today, you will meet two men by [f] Rachel’s tomb in the territory of Benjamin at Zelzah, and they will say to you, [g] ‘The donkeys that you went to seek are found, and now [h] your father has ceased to care about the donkeys and is anxious about you, saying, “What shall I do about my son?”’ [3]Then you shall go on from there farther and come to the [i] oak of Tabor. Three men [j] going up [k] to God at Bethel will meet you there, one carrying three young goats, another carrying three loaves of bread, and another carrying a skin of wine. [4][†]And they will greet you and give you two loaves of bread, which you shall accept from their hand. [5]After that you shall come to [l] Gibeath-elohim, [3] [m] where there is a garrison of the Philistines. And there, as soon as you come to the city, you will meet a group of prophets coming down [n] from the high place with harp, tambourine, flute, and lyre before them, prophesying. [6][†] [o] Then the Spirit of the LORD will rush upon you, [p] and you will prophesy with them and be turned into another man. [7]Now when [q] these signs meet you, do what your hand finds to do, [r] for God is with you. [8]Then go down before me [s] to Gilgal. And behold, I am coming down to you to offer burnt offerings and [t] to sacrifice peace offerings. [u] Seven days you shall wait, until I come to you and show you what you shall do.”

[9][†]When he turned his back to leave Samuel, God gave him another heart. And all these signs came to pass that day. [10]When they came to [v] Gibeah, [4] behold, a group of prophets met him, [o] and the Spirit of God rushed upon him, and he prophesied among them. [11][†]And when all who knew him previously saw how he prophesied with the prophets, the people said to one another, “What has come over the son of Kish? [w] Is Saul also among the prophets?” [12][†]And a man of the place answered, [x] “And who is their father?” Therefore it became a proverb, [w] “Is Saul also among the prophets?” [13]When he had finished prophesying, he came to the high place.

[14][†] [y]Saul's uncle said to him and to his servant, "Where did you go?" And he said, [z]"To seek the donkeys. And when we saw they were not to be found, we went to Samuel." [15]And Saul's uncle said, "Please tell me what Samuel said to you." [16]And Saul said to his uncle, [a]"He told us plainly that the donkeys had been found." But about the matter of the kingdom, of which Samuel had spoken, he did not tell him anything.

Saul Proclaimed King

[17]Now Samuel called the people together [b]to the LORD [c]at Mizpah. [18]And he said to the people of Israel, [d]"Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, 'I brought up Israel out of Egypt, and I delivered you from the hand of the Egyptians and from the hand of all the kingdoms that were oppressing you.' [19] [e]But today you have rejected your God, who saves you from all your calamities and your distresses, and you have said to him, 'Set a king over us.' Now therefore [f]present yourselves before the LORD by your tribes and by your thousands."

[20]Then Samuel [g]brought all the tribes of Israel near, and the tribe of Benjamin was taken by lot. [21]He brought the tribe of Benjamin near by its clans, and the clan of the Matrites was taken by lot; [5] and Saul the son of Kish was taken by lot. But when they sought him, he could not be found. [22][†] [h]So they inquired again of the LORD, "Is there a man still to come?" and the LORD said, "Behold, he has hidden himself among the baggage." [23]Then they ran and took him from there. And when he stood among the people, [i]he was taller than any of the people from his shoulders upward. [24][†]And Samuel said to all the people, "Do you see him [j]whom the LORD has chosen? There is none like him among all the people." And all the people shouted, [k]"Long live the king!"

[25][†]Then Samuel told the people [l]the rights and duties of the kingship, and he wrote them in a book and laid it up before the LORD. Then Samuel sent all the people away, each one to his home. [26][†]Saul also went to his home [m]at Gibeah, and with him went men of valor whose hearts God had touched. [27]But some [n]worthless fellows said, "How can this man save us?" And they despised him and brought him no present. But he held his peace.

Saul Defeats the Ammonites

1 SAMUEL 11 [†] [o]Then Nahash the Ammonite went up and besieged [p]Jabesh-gilead, and all the men of Jabesh said to Nahash, [q]"Make a treaty with us, and we will serve you." [2][†]But Nahash the Ammonite said to them, "On this condition I will make a treaty with you, [r]that I gouge out all your right eyes, and thus [s]bring disgrace on all Israel." [3][†]The elders of Jabesh said to him, "Give us seven days' respite that we may send messengers through all the territory of Israel. Then, if there is no one to save us, we will give ourselves up to you." [4][†]When the messengers came to [t]Gibeah of Saul, they reported the matter in the ears of the people, [u]and all the people wept aloud.

[5]Now, behold, Saul was coming from the field behind the oxen. And Saul said, "What is wrong with the people, that they are weeping?" So they told him the news of the men of Jabesh. [6][†] [v]And the Spirit of God rushed upon Saul when he heard these words, and his anger was greatly kindled. [7]He took a yoke of oxen [w]and cut them in pieces and sent them throughout all the territory of Israel by the hand of the messengers, saying, [x]"Whoever does not come out after Saul and Samuel, so shall it be done to his oxen!" Then the dread of the LORD fell upon the people, and they came out [y]as one man. [8][†]When he mustered them at [z]Bezek, [a]the people of Israel were three hundred thousand, and the men of Judah thirty thousand. [9]And they said to the messengers who had come, "Thus shall you say to the men of Jabesh-gilead: 'Tomorrow, by the time the sun is hot, you shall have [b]salvation.'" When the messengers came and told the men of Jabesh, they were glad. [10][†]Therefore the men of Jabesh said, [c]"Tomorrow we will give ourselves up to you, and you may do to us whatever seems good to you." [11] [d]And the next day Saul put the people [e]in three companies. And they came into the midst of the camp in the morning watch and struck down the Ammonites until the heat of the day. And those who survived were scattered, so that no two of them were left together.

The Kingdom Is Renewed

[12][†]Then the people said to Samuel, [f]"Who is it that said, 'Shall Saul reign over us?' [g]Bring the men, that we may put them to death." [13]But Saul said, [h] “Not a man shall be put to death this day, for today [i] the Lord has worked [j] salvation in Israel.” [14]Then Samuel said to the people, “Come, let us go to Gilgal and there renew the kingdom.” [15]So all the people went to [k] Gilgal, and there they made Saul king [l] before the Lord in Gilgal. There [m] they sacrificed peace offerings before the Lord, and there Saul and all the men of Israel rejoiced greatly.

Samuel’s Farewell Address

1 SAMUEL 12 [†]And Samuel said to all Israel, “Behold, I have obeyed [n] your voice in all that you have said to me [o] and have made a king over you. [2]And now, behold, the king [p] walks before you, [q] and I am old and gray; and behold, my sons are with you. I have walked before you from my youth until this day. [3][†]Here I am; testify against me before the Lord and before [r] his anointed. [s] Whose ox have I taken? Or whose donkey have I taken? Or whom have I defrauded? Whom have I oppressed? Or from whose hand have I taken a bribe to blind my eyes with it? Testify against me [1] and I will restore it to you.” [4]They said, “You have not defrauded us or oppressed us or taken anything from any man’s hand.” [5]And he said to them, “The Lord is witness against you, and [r] his anointed is witness this day, that you have not found anything [t] in my hand.” And they said, “He is witness.”

[6]And Samuel said to the people, [u] “The Lord is witness, [2] who appointed Moses and Aaron and brought your fathers up out of the land of Egypt. [7]Now therefore stand still that I may plead with you before the Lord concerning all the righteous deeds of the Lord that he performed for you and for your fathers. [8] [v] When Jacob went into Egypt, and the Egyptians oppressed them, [3] [w] then your fathers cried out to the Lord and [x] the Lord sent Moses and Aaron, [y] who brought your fathers out of Egypt and made them dwell in this place. [9]But [z] they forgot the Lord their God. [a] And he sold them into the hand of Sisera, commander of the army of Hazor, [4] [b] and into the hand of the Philistines, [c] and into the hand of the king of Moab. And they fought against them. [10][†] [d] And they cried out to the Lord and said, ‘We have sinned, because we have forsaken the Lord [e] and have served the Baals and the Ashtaroth. But now [f] deliver us out of the hand of our enemies, that we may serve you.’ [11]And the Lord sent [g] Jerubbaal [h] and Barak [5] [i] and Jephthah and [j] Samuel and delivered you out of the hand of your enemies on every side, and you lived in safety. [12]And when you saw that [k] Nahash the king of the Ammonites came against you, [l] you said to me, ‘No, but a king shall reign over us,’ [m] when the Lord your God was your king. [13]And now [n] behold the king whom you have chosen, for whom you have asked; behold, [o] the Lord has set a king over you. [14][†]If you will [p] fear the Lord and serve him and obey his voice and not rebel against the commandment of the Lord, and if both you and the king who reigns over you will follow the Lord your God, it will be well. [15]But [q] if you will not obey the voice of the Lord, but rebel against the commandment of the Lord, then [r] the hand of the Lord will be against you and [s] your king. [6] [16]Now therefore [t] stand still and see this great thing that the Lord will do before your eyes. [17] [u] Is it not wheat harvest today? [v] I will call upon the Lord, that he may send thunder and rain. And you shall know and see that [w] your wickedness is great, which you have done in the sight of the Lord, in asking for yourselves a king.” [18]So Samuel called upon the Lord, and the Lord sent thunder and rain that day, [x] and all the people greatly feared the Lord and Samuel.

[19]And all the people said to Samuel, [y] “Pray for your servants to the Lord your God, that we may not die, for we have added to all our sins this evil, to ask for ourselves a king.” [20]And Samuel said to the people, “Do not be afraid; you have done all this evil. Yet [z] do not turn aside from following the Lord, but serve the Lord with all your heart. [21][†]And [z] do not turn aside after [a] empty things that cannot profit or deliver, for they are empty. [22] [b] For the Lord will not forsake his people, [c] for his great name’s sake, because [d] it has pleased the Lord to make you a people for himself. [23][†]Moreover, as for me, far be it from me that I should sin against the Lord by ceasing [e] to pray for you, [f] and I will instruct you in the good and the right way. [24] [g] Only fear the Lord and serve him faithfully with all your heart. For consider [h] what great things he has done for you. [25][†]But if you still do wickedly, [i] you shall be swept away, [j] both you and your king.”

Saul Fights the Philistines

1 SAMUEL 13 [†]Saul lived for one year and then became king, and when he had reigned for two years over Israel, [1] 2[†]Saul chose three thousand men of Israel. Two thousand were with Saul in [k]Michmash and the hill country of Bethel, and a thousand were with Jonathan in [l]Gibeah of Benjamin. The rest of the people he sent home, every man to his tent. 3Jonathan defeated [m]the garrison of the Philistines that was [n]at Geba, and the Philistines heard of it. And Saul [o]blew the trumpet throughout all the land, saying, "Let the Hebrews hear." 4And all Israel heard it said that Saul had defeated the garrison of the Philistines, and also that Israel had become a stench to the Philistines. And the people were called out to join Saul at Gilgal.

5[†]And the Philistines mustered to fight with Israel, thirty thousand chariots and six thousand horsemen and troops [p]like the sand on the seashore in multitude. They came up and encamped in Michmash, to the east of [q]Beth-aven. 6When the men of Israel saw that they were in trouble (for the people were hard pressed), the people hid themselves [r]in caves and in holes and in rocks and in tombs and in cisterns, 7[†]and some Hebrews crossed the fords of the Jordan to the land of Gad and Gilead. Saul was still at Gilgal, and all the people followed him trembling.

Saul's Unlawful Sacrifice

8[†] [s]He waited seven days, the time appointed by Samuel. But Samuel did not come to Gilgal, and the people were scattering from him. 9So Saul said, "Bring the burnt offering here to me, and the peace offerings." And he offered the burnt offering. 10As soon as he had finished offering the burnt offering, behold, Samuel came. And Saul went out to meet him and greet him. 11Samuel said, "What have you done?" And Saul said, "When I saw that the people were scattering from me, and that you did not come within the days appointed, and that the Philistines had mustered at Michmash, 12I said, 'Now the Philistines will come down against me at Gilgal, and I have not sought the favor of the LORD.' So I forced myself, and offered the burnt offering." 13[†]And Samuel said to Saul, [t]"You have done foolishly. [u]You have not kept the command of the LORD your God, with which he commanded you. For then the LORD would have established your kingdom over Israel forever. [14]But now [v]your kingdom shall not continue. The LORD has sought out a man [w]after his own heart, and the LORD has commanded him to be prince [2] over his people, because you have not kept what the LORD commanded you.” [15]And Samuel arose and went up from Gilgal. The rest of the people went up after Saul to meet the army; they went up from Gilgal [3] to [x]Gibeah of Benjamin.

And Saul numbered the people who were present with him, [y]about six hundred men. [16][†]And Saul and Jonathan his son and the people who were present with them stayed in [z]Geba of Benjamin, but the Philistines encamped in Michmash. [17]And [a]raiders came out of the camp of the Philistines in three companies. One company turned toward Ophrah, to the land of Shual; [18]another company turned toward [b]Beth-horon; and another company turned toward the border that looks down on the Valley of [c]Zeboim toward the wilderness.

[19][†] [d]Now there was no blacksmith to be found throughout all the land of Israel, for the Philistines said, “Lest the Hebrews make themselves swords or spears.” [20]But every one of the Israelites went down to the Philistines to sharpen his plowshare, his mattock, his axe, or his sickle, [4] [21]and the charge was two-thirds of a shekel [5] for the plowshares and for the mattocks, and a third of a shekel [6] for sharpening the axes and for setting the goads. [7] [22]So on the day of the battle [e]there was neither sword nor spear found in the hand of any of the people with Saul and Jonathan, but Saul and Jonathan his son had them. [23]And [f]the garrison of the Philistines went out to the [g]pass of [h]Michmash.

Jonathan Defeats the Philistines

1 SAMUEL 14 [†]One day Jonathan the son of Saul said to the young man who carried his armor, “Come, let us go over to the Philistine garrison on the other side.” But he did not tell his father. [2][†]Saul was staying in the outskirts of Gibeah in the pomegranate cave [1] at [h]Migron. The people who were with him were about [i]six hundred men, [3]including [j]Ahijah the son of Ahitub, [k]Ichabod’s brother, son of Phinehas, son of Eli, the priest of the LORD [l]in Shiloh, [m]wearing an ephod. And the people did not know that Jonathan had gone. 4[†]Within [n] the passes, by which Jonathan sought to go over to the Philistine garrison, there was a rocky crag on the one side and a rocky crag on the other side. The name of the one was Bozez, and the name of the other Seneh. 5The one crag rose on the north in front of Michmash, and the other on the south in front of [o] Geba.

6[†]Jonathan said to the young man who carried his armor, “Come, let us go over to the garrison of these [p] uncircumcised. It may be that the LORD will work for us, [q] for nothing can hinder the LORD from saving by many or by few.” 7And his armor-bearer said to him, “Do all that is in your heart. Do as you wish. [2] Behold, I am with you heart and soul.” 8Then Jonathan said, “Behold, we will cross over to the men, and we will show ourselves to them. 9If they say to us, ‘Wait until we come to you,’ then we will stand still in our place, and we will not go up to them. 10[†]But if they say, ‘Come up to us,’ then we will go up, for the LORD has given them into our hand. And this shall be the sign to us.” 11So both of them showed themselves to the garrison of the Philistines. And the Philistines said, “Look, Hebrews are coming [r] out of the holes where they have hidden themselves.” 12And the men of the garrison hailed Jonathan and his armor-bearer and said, “Come up to us, and we will show you a thing.” And Jonathan said to his armor-bearer, “Come up after me, for the LORD has given them into the hand of Israel.” 13Then Jonathan climbed up on his hands and feet, and his armor-bearer after him. And they fell before Jonathan, and his armor-bearer killed them after him. 14[†]And that first strike, which Jonathan and his armor-bearer made, killed about twenty men within as it were half a furrow’s length in an acre [3] of land. 15[†]And there was a panic in the camp, in the field, and among all the people. The garrison and even [s] the raiders trembled, the earth quaked, and it became a very great panic. [4]

16[†]And the watchmen of Saul in Gibeah of Benjamin looked, and behold, the multitude [t] was dispersing here and there. [5] 17Then Saul said to the people who were with him, “Count and see who has gone from us.” And when they had counted, behold, Jonathan and his armor-bearer were not there. 18[†]So Saul said to Ahijah, “Bring the ark of God here.” For the ark of God went at that time with the people [6] of Israel. 19Now [u] while Saul was talking to the priest, the tumult in the camp of the Philistines increased more and more. So Saul said to the priest, “Withdraw your hand.” 20Then Saul and all the people who were with him rallied and went into the battle. And behold, [v]every Philistine’s sword was against his fellow, and there was very great confusion. [21][†]Now the Hebrews who had been with the Philistines before that time and who had gone up with them into the camp, [w]even they also turned to be with the Israelites who were with Saul and Jonathan. [22]Likewise, when all the men of Israel [x]who had hidden themselves [y]in the hill country of Ephraim heard that the Philistines were fleeing, they too followed hard after them in the battle. [23][†][z]So the LORD saved Israel that day. And the battle passed beyond [a]Beth-aven.

Saul’s Rash Vow

[24][†]And the men of Israel had been hard pressed that day, [b]so Saul had laid an oath on the people, saying, “Cursed be the man who eats food until it is evening and I am avenged on my enemies.” So none of the people had tasted food. [25]Now when all the people [7] came to the forest, behold, there was honey on the ground. [26]And when the people entered the forest, behold, the honey was dropping, but no one put his hand to his mouth, for the people feared the oath. [27][†]But Jonathan had not heard his father charge the people with the oath, [c]so he put out the tip of the staff that was in his hand and dipped it in the honeycomb and put his hand to his mouth, and his eyes became bright. [28][†]Then one of the people said, “Your father strictly charged the people with an oath, saying, ‘Cursed be the man who eats food this day.’” And the people were [d]faint. [29]Then Jonathan said, “My father has troubled the land. See how my eyes have become bright because I tasted a little of this honey. [30]How much better if the people had eaten freely today of the spoil of their enemies that they found. For now the defeat among the Philistines has not been great.”

[31]They struck down the Philistines that day from [e]Michmash to [f]Aijalon. And the people were very [d]faint. [32][†]The people [g]pounced on the spoil and took sheep and oxen and calves and slaughtered them on the ground. And the people ate them [h]with the blood. [33]Then they told Saul, “Behold, the people are sinning against the LORD by eating [h]with the blood.” And he said, “You have dealt treacherously; roll a great stone to me here.” [8] [34]And Saul said, “Disperse yourselves among the people and say to them, ‘Let every man bring his ox or his sheep and slaughter them here and eat, and do not sin against the LORD by eating with the blood.’” So every one of the people brought his ox with him that night and they slaughtered them there. [35]And Saul [i]built an altar to the LORD; it was the first altar that he built to the LORD.

[36]Then Saul said, “Let us go down after the Philistines by night and plunder them until the morning light; let us not leave a man of them.” And they said, “Do whatever seems good to you.” But [j]the priest said, “Let us draw near to God here.” [37]And Saul inquired of God, “Shall I go down after the Philistines? Will you give them into the hand of Israel?” [k]But he did not answer him that day. [38]And Saul said, “Come here, all you leaders of the people, and know and see how this sin has arisen today. [39][†]For [l]as the LORD lives who saves Israel, [m]though it be in Jonathan my son, he shall surely die.” But there was not a man among all the people who answered him. [40]Then he said to all Israel, “You shall be on one side, and I and Jonathan my son will be on the other side.” And the people said to Saul, “Do what seems good to you.” [41][†]Therefore Saul said, “O LORD God of Israel, why have you not answered your servant this day? If this guilt is in me or in Jonathan my son, O LORD, God of Israel, give Urim. But if this guilt is in your people Israel, give Thummim.”[9] [n]And Jonathan and Saul were taken, but the people escaped. [42]Then Saul said, [n]“Cast the lot between me and my son Jonathan.” And Jonathan was taken.

[43]Then Saul said to Jonathan, [o]“Tell me what you have done.” And Jonathan told him, [p]“I tasted a little honey with the tip of the staff that was in my hand. Here I am; I will die.” [44]And Saul said, [q]“God do so to me and more also; [r]you shall surely die, Jonathan.” [45][†]Then the people said to Saul, “Shall Jonathan die, who has worked this great salvation in Israel? Far from it! [l]As the LORD lives, [s]there shall not one hair of his head fall to the ground, for he has worked with God this day.” So the people ransomed Jonathan, so that he did not die. [46]Then Saul went up from pursuing the Philistines, and the Philistines went to their own place.

Saul Fights Israel's Enemies

[47]When Saul had taken the kingship over Israel, he fought against all his enemies on every side, against Moab, [t]against the Ammonites, against Edom, against the kings of [u]Zobah, and against the Philistines. Wherever he turned he routed them. [48]And he did valiantly [v]and struck the Amalekites and delivered Israel out of the hands of those who plundered them.

[49][†] [w]Now the sons of Saul were Jonathan, Ishvi, and Malchi-shua. And the names of his two daughters were these: the name of the firstborn was [x]Merab, and the name of the younger Michal. [50][†]And the name of Saul's wife was Ahinoam the daughter of Ahimaaz. [y]And the name of the commander of his army was Abner the son of Ner, [z]Saul's uncle. [51] [a]Kish was the father of Saul, and Ner the father of Abner was the son of [a]Abiel.

[52]There was hard fighting against the Philistines all the days of Saul. And when Saul saw any strong man, or any valiant man, [b]he attached him to himself.

The Lord Rejects Saul

1 SAMUEL 15 [†]And Samuel said to Saul, [c]"The Lord sent me to anoint you king over his people Israel; now therefore listen to the words of the Lord. [2][†]Thus says the Lord of hosts, 'I have noted what Amalek did to Israel [d]in opposing them on the way when they came up out of Egypt. [3][†]Now go and strike Amalek and [e]devote to destruction [1] all that they have. Do not spare them, [f]but kill both man and woman, child and infant, ox and sheep, camel and donkey.'"

[4][†]So Saul summoned the people and numbered them in Telaim, two hundred thousand men on foot, and ten thousand men of Judah. [5]And Saul came to the city of Amalek and lay in wait in the valley. [6][†]Then Saul said to [g]the Kenites, "Go, depart; go down from among the Amalekites, lest I destroy you with them. [h]For you showed kindness to all the people of Israel when they came up out of Egypt." So the Kenites departed from among the Amalekites. [7] [i]And Saul defeated the Amalekites from [j]Havilah as far as [k]Shur, which is east of Egypt. [8]And he took Agag the king of the Amalekites alive [l] and devoted to destruction all the people with the edge of the sword. [9][†] [m] But Saul and the people spared Agag and the best of the sheep and of the oxen and of the fattened calves [2] and the lambs, and all that was good, and would not utterly destroy them. All that was despised and worthless they devoted to destruction.

[10]The word of the LORD came to Samuel: [11][†] [n] “I regret [3] that I have made Saul king, for he has turned back from following me and [o] has not performed my commandments.” And Samuel was angry, and he cried to the LORD all night. [12][†]And Samuel rose early to meet Saul in the morning. And it was told Samuel, “Saul came to [p] Carmel, and behold, he set up a monument for himself and turned and passed on and went down to Gilgal.” [13]And Samuel came to Saul, and Saul said to him, [q] “Blessed be you to the LORD. I have performed the commandment of the LORD.” [14]And Samuel said, “What then is this bleating of the sheep in my ears and the lowing of the oxen that I hear?” [15][†]Saul said, “They have brought them from the Amalekites, [r] for the people spared the best of the sheep and of the oxen to sacrifice to the LORD your God, and the rest we have devoted to destruction.” [16]Then Samuel said to Saul, “Stop! I will tell you what the LORD said to me this night.” And he said to him, “Speak.”

[17][†]And Samuel said, [s] “Though you are little in your own eyes, are you not the head of the tribes of Israel? The LORD anointed you king over Israel. [18]And the LORD sent you on a mission and said, ‘Go, devote to destruction the sinners, the Amalekites, and fight against them until they are consumed.’ [19]Why then did you not obey the voice of the LORD? [t] Why did you pounce on the spoil and do what was evil in the sight of the LORD?” [20][†]And Saul said to Samuel, [u] “I have obeyed the voice of the LORD. I have gone on the mission on which the LORD sent me. I have brought Agag the king of Amalek, and I have devoted the Amalekites to destruction. [21] [v] But the people took of the spoil, sheep and oxen, the best of the things devoted to destruction, to sacrifice to the LORD your God in Gilgal.” [22][†]And Samuel said, [w] “Has the LORD as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the LORD?

Behold, [x] to obey is better than sacrifice, and to listen than the fat of rams.

23[†] For rebellion is as the sin of divination, and presumption is as iniquity and [y]idolatry.
Because [z]you have rejected the word of the Lord,
[a]he has also rejected you from being king."

24[†]Saul said to Samuel, [b]"I have sinned, for I have transgressed the commandment of the Lord and your words, because I feared the people and obeyed their voice. 25Now therefore, please pardon my sin and [c]return with me that I may bow before the Lord." 26And Samuel said to Saul, "I will not return with you. [d]For you have rejected the word of the Lord, [e]and the Lord has rejected you from being king over Israel." 27[†][f]As Samuel turned to go away, Saul seized the skirt of his robe, and it tore. 28[†]And Samuel said to him, [g]"The Lord has torn the kingdom of Israel from you this day and has given it to a neighbor of yours, who is better than you. 29[†]And also the Glory of Israel [h]will not lie or have regret, for he is not a man, that he should have regret." 30[†]Then he said, "I have sinned; yet [i]honor me now before the elders of my people and before Israel, [j]and return with me, that I may bow before the Lord your God." 31[†]So Samuel turned back after Saul, and Saul bowed before the Lord.

32[†]Then Samuel said, "Bring here to me Agag the king of the Amalekites." And Agag came to him cheerfully. [4] Agag said, "Surely the bitterness of death is past." 33And Samuel said, [k]"As your sword has made women childless, so shall your mother be childless among women." And Samuel hacked Agag to pieces before the Lord [l]in Gilgal.

34[†]Then Samuel went [m]to Ramah, and Saul went up to his house in [n]Gibeah of Saul. 35[†][o]And Samuel did not see Saul again until the day of his death, [p]but Samuel grieved over Saul. [q]And the Lord regretted that he had made Saul king over Israel.

David Anointed King

1 SAMUEL 16 [†]The Lord said to Samuel, [r]"How long will you grieve over Saul, since [s]I have rejected him from being king over Israel? [t]Fill your horn with oil, and go. I will send you to Jesse the Bethlehemite, [u]for I have provided for myself a king among his sons.” [2][†]And Samuel said, “How can I go? If Saul hears it, he will kill me.” And the LORD said, “Take a heifer with you and say, [v]‘I have come to sacrifice to the LORD.’ [3]And invite Jesse to the sacrifice, and I will show you what you shall do. [w]And you shall anoint for me him whom I declare to you.” [4]Samuel did what the LORD commanded and came to Bethlehem. The elders of the city [x]came to meet him trembling and said, [y]“Do you come peaceably?” [5][†]And he said, “Peaceably; I have come to sacrifice to the LORD. [z]Consecrate yourselves, and come with me to the sacrifice.” And he consecrated Jesse and his sons and invited them to the sacrifice.

[6]When they came, he looked on [a]Eliab and thought, “Surely the LORD’s anointed is before him.” [7][†]But the LORD said to Samuel, [b]“Do not look on his appearance or on the height of his stature, because I have rejected him. For the LORD sees not as man sees: man looks on the outward appearance, [c]but the LORD looks on the heart.” [8][†]Then Jesse called [d]Abinadab and made him pass before Samuel. And he said, “Neither has the LORD chosen this one.” [9]Then Jesse made [d]Shammah pass by. And he said, “Neither has the LORD chosen this one.” [10][†]And Jesse made seven of his sons pass before Samuel. And Samuel said to Jesse, “The LORD has not chosen these.” [11]Then Samuel said to Jesse, “Are all your sons here?” And he said, [e]“There remains yet the youngest, [1] but behold, he is keeping the sheep.” And Samuel said to Jesse, [f]“Send and get him, for we will not sit down till he comes here.” [12]And he sent and brought him in. Now he was [g]ruddy and had beautiful eyes and was handsome. And the LORD said, [h]“Arise, anoint him, for this is he.” [13][†]Then Samuel took [i]the horn of oil [j]and anointed him in the midst of his brothers. [k]And the Spirit of the LORD rushed upon David from that day forward. And Samuel rose up and went to Ramah.

David in Saul’s Service

[14][†] [l]Now the Spirit of the LORD departed from Saul, [m]and a harmful spirit from the LORD tormented him. [15]And Saul’s servants said to him, “Behold now, a harmful spirit from God is tormenting you. [16][†]Let our lord now command your servants [n]who are before you to seek out a man who is skillful in playing the lyre, and when the harmful spirit from God is upon you, he will [o]play it, and you will be well." [17]So Saul said to his servants, "Provide for me a man who can play well and bring him to me." [18]One of the young men answered, "Behold, I have seen a son of Jesse the Bethlehemite, who is skillful in playing, [p]a man of valor, a man of war, prudent in speech, and a man of good presence, [q]and the LORD is with him." [19]Therefore Saul sent messengers to Jesse and said, "Send me David your son, [r]who is with the sheep." [20][s]And Jesse took a donkey laden with bread and a skin of wine and a young goat and sent them by David his son to Saul. [21][†]And David came to Saul [t]and entered his service. And Saul loved him greatly, and he became his armor-bearer. [22][†]And Saul sent to Jesse, saying, "Let David remain in my service, for he has found favor in my sight." [23]And [u]whenever the harmful spirit from God was upon Saul, David took the lyre [o]and played it with his hand. So Saul was refreshed and was well, and the harmful spirit departed from him.

David and Goliath

1 SAMUEL 17 [†]Now the Philistines [v]gathered their armies for battle. And they were gathered at [w]Socoh, which belongs to Judah, and encamped between Socoh and [x]Azekah, in [y]Ephes-dammim. [2]And Saul and the men of Israel were gathered, and encamped in [z]the Valley of Elah, and drew up in line of battle against the Philistines. [3]And the Philistines stood on the mountain on the one side, and Israel stood on the mountain on the other side, with a valley between them. [4][†]And there came out from the camp of the Philistines a champion named [a]Goliath of [b]Gath, whose height was six [1] cubits [2] and a span. [5]He had a helmet of bronze on his head, and he was armed with a coat of mail, and the weight of the coat was five thousand shekels [3] of bronze. [6]And he had bronze armor on his legs, and a [c]javelin of bronze slung between his shoulders. [7]The shaft of his spear was like a weaver's beam, and his spear's head weighed six hundred shekels of iron. [d]And his shield-bearer went before him. [8]He stood and shouted to the ranks of Israel, "Why have you come out to draw up for battle? Am I not a Philistine, and [e]are you not servants of Saul? Choose a man for yourselves, and let him come down to me. [9]If he is able to fight with me and kill me, then we will be your servants. But if I prevail against him and kill him, then you shall be our servants [f]and serve us." [10]And the Philistine said, [g]"I defy the ranks of Israel this day. Give me a man, that we may fight together." [11][†]When Saul and all Israel heard these words of the Philistine, they were dismayed and greatly afraid.

[12][†]Now David was [h]the son of an [i]Ephrathite of Bethlehem in Judah, [j]named Jesse, [k]who had eight sons. In the days of Saul the man was already old and advanced in years. [4] [13]The three oldest sons of Jesse had followed Saul to the battle. And [l]the names of his three sons who went to the battle were Eliab the firstborn, and next to him Abinadab, and the third Shammah. [14] [m]David was the youngest. The three eldest followed Saul, [15]but David went back and forth from Saul [n]to feed his father's sheep at Bethlehem. [16]For forty days the Philistine came forward and took his stand, morning and evening.

[17]And Jesse said to David his son, “Take for your brothers an ephah [5] of this parched grain, and these ten loaves, and carry them quickly to the camp to your brothers. [18][†] [o] Also take these ten cheeses to the commander of their thousand. [p] See if your brothers are well, and bring some token from them.”

[19]Now Saul and they and all the men of Israel were in the Valley of Elah, fighting with the Philistines. [20]And David rose early in the morning and left the sheep with a keeper and took the provisions and went, as Jesse had commanded him. And he came to [q] the encampment as the host was going out to the battle line, shouting the war cry. [21]And Israel and the Philistines drew up for battle, army against army. [22]And David left the [r] things in charge of the keeper of the [r] baggage and ran to the ranks and went and greeted his brothers. [23]As he talked with them, behold, [s] the champion, the Philistine of Gath, Goliath by name, came up out of the ranks of the Philistines and spoke [t] the same words as before. And David heard him.

[24]All the men of Israel, when they saw the man, fled from him and were much afraid. [25][†]And the men of Israel said, “Have you seen this man who has come up? Surely he has come up to [u] defy Israel. And the king will enrich the man who kills him with great riches [v] and will give him his daughter and make his father’s house free in Israel.” [26]And David said to the men who stood by him, “What shall be done for the man who kills this Philistine and takes away [w] the reproach from Israel? For who is this [x] uncircumcised Philistine, that he should [u] defy the armies of [y] the living God?” [27]And the people answered him in the same way, [z] “So shall it be done to the man who kills him.”

[28]Now Eliab his eldest brother heard when he spoke to the men. And Eliab’s anger was kindled against David, and he said, “Why have you come down? And with whom have you left those few sheep in the wilderness? I know your presumption and the evil of your heart, for you have come down to see the battle.” [29]And David said, “What have I done now? Was it not but a word?” [30]And he turned away from him toward another, and spoke [b] in the same way, and the people answered him again as before.

[31]When the words that David spoke were heard, they repeated them before Saul, and he sent for him. [32]And David said to Saul, [c] “Let no man’s heart fail because of him. [d] Your servant will go and fight with this Philistine.” [33]And Saul said to David, “You are not able to go against this Philistine to fight with him, for you are but a youth, and he has been a man of war from his youth.” [34][†]But David said to Saul, “Your servant used to keep sheep for his father. And when there came a lion, or a bear, and took a lamb from the flock, [35]I went after him and struck him and delivered it out of his mouth. And if he arose against me, I caught him by his beard and struck him and killed him. [36]Your servant has struck down both lions and bears, and this uncircumcised Philistine shall be like one of them, [e] for he has defied the armies of the living God.” [37]And David said, [f]“The LORD who delivered me from the paw of the lion and from the paw of the bear will deliver me from the hand of this Philistine.” And Saul said to David, “Go, [g] and the LORD be with you!”

[38]Then Saul clothed David with his armor. He put a helmet of bronze on his head and clothed him with a coat of mail, [39]and David strapped his sword over his armor. And he tried in vain to go, for he had not tested them. Then David said to Saul, “I cannot go with these, for I have not tested them.” So David put them off. [40]Then he took his staff in his hand and chose five smooth stones from the brook and put them in his shepherd’s pouch. His sling was in his hand, and he approached the Philistine.

[41]And the Philistine moved forward and came near to David, [h] with his shield-bearer in front of him. [42]And when the Philistine looked and saw David, he disdained him, for he was but a youth, [i] ruddy and handsome in appearance. [43][†]And the Philistine said to David, “Am I [j] a dog, that you come to me with sticks?” And the Philistine cursed David by his gods. [44][†]The Philistine said to David, “Come to me, and I will give your flesh [k] to the birds of the air and to the beasts of the field.” [45]Then David said to the Philistine, “You come to me with a sword and with a spear and with [l] a javelin, but I come to you in the name of the LORD of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, [e] whom you have defied. [46]This day the LORD will deliver you into my hand, and I will strike you down and cut off your head. [m] And I will give the dead bodies of the host of the Philistines this day [n] to the birds of the air and to the wild beasts of the earth, [o] that all the earth may know that there is a God in Israel, [47]and that all this assembly may know that [p] the

LORD saves not with sword and spear. [q] For the battle is the LORD's, and he will give you into our hand."

[48]When the Philistine arose and came and drew near to meet David, David ran quickly toward the battle line to meet the Philistine. [49]And David put his hand in his bag and took out a stone and slung it and struck the Philistine on his forehead. The stone sank into his forehead, and he fell on his face to the ground.

[50]So David prevailed over the Philistine with a sling and with a stone, and struck the Philistine and killed him. There was no sword in the hand of David. [51]Then David ran and stood over the Philistine [r] and took his sword and drew it out of its sheath and killed him and cut off his head with it.
When the Philistines saw that their champion was dead, [s] they fled.
[52][†]And the men of Israel and Judah rose with a shout and pursued the Philistines as far as Gath [6] and the gates of [t] Ekron, so that the wounded Philistines fell on the way from [u] Shaaraim as far as [v] Gath and Ekron.
[53]And the people of Israel came back from chasing the Philistines, and they plundered their camp. [54][†]And David took [w] the head of the Philistine [x] and brought it to Jerusalem, but he put his armor in his tent.

[55][†]As soon as Saul saw David go out against the Philistine, he said to Abner, [y] the commander of the army, "Abner, [z] whose son is this youth?"
And Abner said, [a] "As your soul lives, O king, I do not know." [56]And the king said, "Inquire whose son the boy is." [57]And as soon as David returned from the striking down of the Philistine, Abner took him, and brought him before Saul [b] with the head of the Philistine in his hand. [58]And Saul said to him, "Whose son are you, young man?" And David answered, [c] "I am the son of your servant Jesse the Bethlehemite."

David and Jonathan's Friendship

1 SAMUEL 18 As soon as he had finished speaking to Saul, the soul of Jonathan was knit to the soul of David, and Jonathan [d] loved him as his own soul. [2][†]And Saul took him that day [e] and would not let him return to his father's house. [3][†]Then Jonathan made a covenant with David, because [d] he loved him as his own soul. [4]And Jonathan stripped himself of the robe that was on him and gave it to David, and his armor, and even his sword and his bow and his belt. [5]And David went out [f] and was successful wherever Saul sent him, so that Saul set him over the men of war. And this was good in the sight of all the people and also in the sight of Saul's servants.

Saul's Jealousy of David

[6][†]As they were coming home, when David returned from striking down the Philistine, [g] the women came out of all the cities of Israel, singing and dancing, to meet King Saul, with tambourines, with songs of joy, and with musical instruments. [1] [7][†]And the women [h] sang to one another as they celebrated,

[i] "Saul has struck down his thousands, and David his ten thousands."

[8]And Saul was very angry, and this saying displeased him. He said, "They have ascribed to David ten thousands, and to me they have ascribed thousands, and what more can he have but [j] the kingdom?" [9]And Saul eyed David from that day on.

[10]The next day [k] a harmful spirit from God rushed upon Saul, and [l] he raved within his house while David was [m] playing the lyre, as he did day by day. [n] Saul had his spear in his hand. [11]And Saul [o] hurled the spear, for he thought, "I will pin David to the wall." But David evaded him twice.

[12][p] Saul was afraid of David because [q] the LORD was with him [r] but had departed from Saul. [13]So Saul removed him from his presence and made him a commander of a thousand. [s] And he went out and came in before the people. [14]And David [t] had success in all his undertakings, [q] for the LORD was with him. [15]And when Saul saw that [t] he had great success, he stood in fearful awe of him. [16][u] But all Israel and Judah loved David, for he went out and came in before them.

David Marries Michal

[17][†]Then Saul said to David, "Here is [v] my elder daughter Merab. [w] I will give her to you for a wife. Only be valiant for me [x] and fight the LORD's battles.” For Saul thought, “Let not my hand be against him, [y]but let the hand of the Philistines be against him.” [18][†]And David said to Saul, [z]“Who am I, and who are my relatives, my father’s clan in Israel, that I should be son-in-law to the king?” [19]But at the time when Merab, Saul’s daughter, should have been given to David, she was given to [a]Adriel the [b]Meholathite for a wife.

[20][†]Now [v]Saul’s daughter Michal [c]loved David. And they told Saul, and the thing pleased him. [21]Saul thought, “Let me give her to him, that she may [d]be a snare for him [e]and that the hand of the Philistines may be against him.” Therefore Saul said to David a second time, [2] [f]“You shall now be my son-in-law.” [22]And Saul commanded his servants, “Speak to David in private and say, ‘Behold, the king has delight in you, and all his servants love you. Now then become the king’s son-in-law.’” [23]And Saul’s servants spoke those words in the ears of David. And David said, [g]“Does it seem to you a little thing to become the king’s son-in-law, since I am a poor man and have no reputation?” [24]And the servants of Saul told him, “Thus and so did David speak.” [25][†]Then Saul said, “Thus shall you say to David, ‘The king desires no [h]bride-price except a hundred foreskins of the Philistines, [i]that he may be avenged of the king’s enemies.’” [j]Now Saul thought to make David fall by the hand of the Philistines. [26]And when his servants told David these words, it pleased David well to be the king’s son-in-law. [k]Before the time had expired, [27]David arose and went, [l]along with his men, and killed two hundred of the Philistines. [m]And David brought their foreskins, which were given in full number to the king, that he might become the king’s son-in-law. And Saul gave him his daughter Michal for a wife. [28]But when Saul saw and knew that [n]the Lord was with David, [o]and that Michal, Saul’s daughter, loved him, [29]Saul was even more afraid of David. So Saul was David’s enemy continually.

[30][p]Then the commanders of the Philistines came out to battle, and as often as they came out [q]David had more success than all the servants of Saul, so that his name was highly esteemed.

Saul Tries to Kill David

1 SAMUEL 19 [†]And Saul spoke to Jonathan his son and to all his servants, that they should kill David. [r]But Jonathan, Saul’s son, delighted much in David. [2]And Jonathan told David, “Saul my father seeks to kill you. Therefore be on your guard in the morning. Stay in a secret place and hide yourself. [3]And I will go out and stand beside my father in the field where you are, and I will speak to my father about you. And if I learn anything I will tell you.” [4][†]And Jonathan spoke well of David to Saul his father and said to him, “Let not the king [s]sin against his servant David, because he has not sinned against you, and because his deeds have brought good to you. [5][†]For [t]he took his life in his hand [u]and he struck down the Philistine, [v]and the LORD worked a great salvation for all Israel. You saw it, and rejoiced. Why then will you sin against [w]innocent blood by killing David without cause?” [6]And Saul listened to the voice of Jonathan. Saul swore, [x]“As the LORD lives, he shall not be put to death.” [7]And Jonathan called David, and Jonathan reported to him all these things. And Jonathan brought David to Saul, and he was in his presence [y]as before.

[8]And there was war again. And David went out and fought with the Philistines and struck them with a great blow, so that they fled before him. [9][†][z]Then a harmful spirit from the LORD came upon Saul, as he sat in his house with his spear in his hand. [a]And David was playing the lyre. [10][†][b]And Saul sought to pin David to the wall with the spear, but he eluded Saul, so that he struck the spear into the wall. And David fled and escaped that night.

[11][c]Saul sent messengers to David’s house to watch him, that he might kill him in the morning. But Michal, David’s wife, told him, “If you do not escape with your life tonight, tomorrow you will be killed.” [12][d]So Michal let David down through the window, and he fled away and escaped. [13][†]Michal took [e]an image [1] and laid it on the bed and put a pillow of goats’ hair at its head and covered it with the clothes. [14][†]And when Saul sent messengers to take David, she said, “He is sick.” [15]Then Saul sent the messengers to see David, saying, “Bring him up to me in the bed, that I may kill him.” [16]And when the messengers came in, behold, [e]the image was in the bed, with the pillow of goats’ hair at its head. [17]Saul said to Michal,

“Why have you deceived me thus and let my enemy go, so that he has escaped?” And Michal answered Saul, “He said to me, ‘Let me go. [f]Why should I kill you?’”

[18]Now David fled and escaped, and he came to Samuel at [g]Ramah and told him all that Saul had done to him. And he and Samuel went and lived at Naioth. [19][†]And it was told Saul, “Behold, David is at Naioth in Ramah.” [20][†]Then Saul sent messengers to take David, and when they saw the company of the prophets prophesying, and Samuel standing as head over them, [h]the Spirit of God came upon the messengers of Saul, [i]and they also prophesied. [21]When it was told Saul, he sent other messengers, [i]and they also prophesied. And Saul sent messengers again the third time, [i]and they also prophesied. [22]Then he himself went to Ramah and came to the great well that is in Secu. And he asked, “Where are Samuel and David?” And one said, “Behold, they are at Naioth in [g]Ramah.” [23][†]And he went there to Naioth in Ramah. [j]And the Spirit of God came upon him also, and as he went he prophesied until he came to Naioth in Ramah. [24][k]And he too stripped off his clothes, and he too prophesied before Samuel and lay naked all that day and all that night. Thus it is said, [l]“Is Saul also among the prophets?”

Jonathan Warns David

1 SAMUEL 20 Then David fled from Naioth [m]in Ramah and came and said before Jonathan, “What have I done? What is my guilt? And what is my sin before your father, that he seeks my life?” [2]And he said to him, “Far from it! You shall not die. Behold, my father does nothing either great or small without disclosing it to me. And why should my father hide this from me? It is not so.” [3]But David vowed again, saying, “Your father knows well that [n]I have found favor in your eyes, and he thinks, ‘Do not let Jonathan know this, lest he be grieved.’ But truly, [o]as the LORD lives and [p]as your soul lives, there is but a step between me and death.” [4]Then Jonathan said to David, “Whatever you say, I will do for you.” [5][†]David said to Jonathan, “Behold, tomorrow is [q]the new moon, and I should not fail to sit at table with the king. But let me go, [r]that I may hide myself in the field till the third day at evening. [6][s]If your father misses me at all, then say, ‘David earnestly asked leave of me to run [t] to Bethlehem his city, for there is a yearly [u] sacrifice there for all the clan.’ [7]If he says, ‘Good!’ it will be well with your servant, but if he is angry, then know that [v] harm is determined by him. [8]Therefore deal kindly with your servant, [w] for you have brought your servant into a covenant of the LORD with you. [x] But if there is guilt in me, kill me yourself, for why should you bring me to your father?” [9]And Jonathan said, “Far be it from you! If I knew that [v] it was determined by my father that harm should come to you, would I not tell you?” [10]Then David said to Jonathan, “Who will tell me if your father answers you roughly?” [11]And Jonathan said to David, “Come, let us go out into the field.” So they both went out into the field.

[12]And Jonathan said to David, “The LORD, the God of Israel, be witness! [1] When I have sounded out my father, about this time tomorrow, or the third day, behold, if he is well disposed toward David, shall I not then send and disclose it to you? [13]But should it please my father to do you harm, [y] the LORD do so to Jonathan and more also if I do not disclose it to you and send you away, that you may go in safety. [z] May the LORD be with you, as he has been with my father. [14]If I am still alive, show me the steadfast love of the LORD, that I may not die; [15][†] [a] and do not cut off [2] your steadfast love from my house forever, when the LORD cuts off every one of the enemies of David from the face of the earth.” [16]And Jonathan made a covenant with the house of David, saying, [b] “May [3] the LORD take vengeance on David’s enemies.” [17]And Jonathan made David swear again by his love for him, [c] for he loved him as he loved his own soul.

[18]Then Jonathan said to him, [d] “Tomorrow is the new moon, and [e] you will be missed, because [f] your seat will be empty. [19]On the third day go down quickly to the place where you hid yourself when the matter was in hand, and remain beside the stone heap. [4] [20]And I will shoot three arrows to the side of it, as though I shot at a mark. [21]And behold, I will send the boy, saying, ‘Go, find the arrows.’ If I say to the boy, ‘Look, the arrows are on this side of you, take them,’ then you are to come, for, [g] as the LORD lives, it is safe for you and there is no danger. [22]But if I say to the youth, [h] ‘Look, the arrows are beyond you,’ then go, for the LORD has sent you away. 23 [i] And as for the matter of which you and I have spoken, behold, [j] the LORD is between you and me forever."

24So David hid himself in the field. And when the new moon came, the king sat down to eat food. 25The king sat on his seat, as at other times, on the seat by the wall. Jonathan sat opposite, [5] and Abner sat by Saul's side, [k] but David's place was empty.

26[†]Yet Saul did not say anything that day, for he thought, "Something has happened to him. [l] He is not clean; surely he is not clean." 27But on [m] the second day, the day after the new moon, [k] David's place was empty. And Saul said to Jonathan his son, "Why has not the son of Jesse come to the meal, either yesterday or today?" 28Jonathan answered Saul, [n] "David earnestly asked leave of me to go to Bethlehem. 29[†]He said, 'Let me go, for our clan holds a sacrifice in the city, and my brother has commanded me to be there. So now, if I have found favor in your eyes, let me get away and see my brothers.' For this reason he has not come to the king's table."

30Then Saul's anger was kindled against Jonathan, and he said to him, "You son of a perverse, rebellious woman, do I not know that you have chosen the son of Jesse to your own shame, and to the shame of your mother's nakedness? 31[†]For as long as the son of Jesse lives on the earth, neither you nor your kingdom shall be established. Therefore send and bring him to me, for he shall surely die." 32Then Jonathan answered Saul his father, [o] "Why should he be put to death? What has he done?" 33 [p] But Saul hurled his spear at him to strike him. So Jonathan knew [q] that his father was determined to put David to death. 34And Jonathan rose from the table in fierce anger and ate no food the second day of the month, for he was grieved for David, because his father had disgraced him.

35In the morning Jonathan went out into the field to the appointment with David, and with him a little boy. 36And he said to his boy, "Run and find the arrows that I shoot." As the boy ran, he shot an arrow beyond him. 37And when the boy came to the place of the arrow that Jonathan had shot, Jonathan called after the boy and said, [r] "Is not the arrow beyond you?" 38And Jonathan called after the boy, "Hurry! Be quick! Do not stay!" So Jonathan's boy gathered up the arrows and came to his master. 39But the boy knew nothing. Only Jonathan and David knew the matter. 40And

Jonathan gave his weapons to his boy and said to him, “Go and carry them to the city.” [41]And as soon as the boy had gone, David rose from beside the stone heap [6] and fell on his face to the ground and bowed three times. And they kissed one another and wept with one another, David weeping the most. [42]Then Jonathan said to David, [s]“Go in peace, because we have sworn both of us in the name of the LORD, saying, [t]‘The LORD shall be between me and you, [u]and between my offspring and your offspring, forever.’” And he rose and departed, and Jonathan went into the city.
